Based on preliminary reports made Thursday morning to R. C. Couch, county chairman of the Second War Loan Drive, Haskell county has oversubsrribed its quota of $263,000 in the current Tabulation made shortly before noon Thursday showed that total bond sales in the county stood at $268,484,25. Additional pledges yet to be written up during the remainder of the April drive will likely push the total considerably higher, it was believed.

Thursday morning's tabulation showed total bond sales in Haskell of $106,374.75. Of this amount, the Haskell National and Farmers & Merchants State Bank reported combined sales of $103,-881.00 and the Haskell postoffice reported $2,493.75.

The Weinert postofice reported sales of $5,000. Combined sales totalling $59,000 were reported Mr. and Mrs. Watson have been for Rule-Sagerton was $93,609.50 iffth, Floyd McGuire, Ed A. Mayor Leflar Asks Cooperation of All Citizens In Campaign

April 22 to April 30th has been designated as city-wide "Clean-Up week" for Haskell, Mayor J. E. Leflar proclaimed Monday in outlining one of the most intensive campaigns of this type held here in recent years.

Through the cooperation of the city and the citizens, an effort will be made to clean up and beautify all streets, alleys, private premises and vacant lots.
"The city will furnish labor and equipment to collect all cans and other rubbish from business and residential sections of the city," Mayor Leflar said.

"In order to do this, however, we will need the cooperation of everyone living here," the Mayor pointed out. All residents are requested to separate the combustible materials, such as paper, grass, tree In connection with Clean-Up Week and at the request of the Government, housewives are requested to save and turn in all tin cans after opening. Labels should be removed and the cans thoroughly washed, then Both ends should be cut out and the cans crushed flat. Cans should be kept sep-arate from other garbage and they will be picked up by the city truck.

limbs, etc., from the non-inflamabe rubbish, such as cans, wire ashes, etc. All trash and rubbish should be placed by alleys or streets or at such places where it can be easily picked up by trucks or wagons. All sections of the city will be covered to gather the rubush and care will be exercised in order that no part of town is overlooked. "In order to conserve rubber and gasoline, we ask that citizens gather their trash at once ace to our health, because they make possible the breeding of flies and mosquitoes, as well as being a fire bazard," he continued. Cooperating with the city in carrying out the drive are the various civic clubs and organizations of the city.

"City officials feel that the citizenship will enter into this drive enthusiastically, and that you will help us keep our city clean ater this drive is over," Mayor Leflar said.

Those long-awaited Band jack- Pan-American ets have finally arrived. They are made of gold gaberdine, with suede cloth lining. Each jacket has a large "H", with a gold lyre and service stripes on the letter. Other touches of black are given by a tab on the sleeve and short side belt to hold in the fullness.

They seem to be up to the students' expectations, even though some of them are a bit too big. Because of the large sizes, you can't tell if Jane Richey is wearing her own or some boy's jacket.

Mr. Pearsey by this time has gone to work on Room 7, with 5 and 6 already done.

Early in the period, Mr. Scott stopped by the library, checking with Miss Vick on the where abouts of somebody, and he was seen a bit later out on the drill ground. Now he seems to have moved on, though, so he may have gone back to the office, or maybe he has dropped in on the Annual Staff. Anyway, it's nearly the end of the period, for here they come from across the street from the band class and the Ag. Shop, the baseball field and the drill ground. There's a lot of talking and laughing, and there's a tone of satisfaction in it all. Good old four o'clock! Those girls who drilled really had a work-out today, for when Lieutenant T. R. gives an order—it's an order, and no feelin'.

Casual Comment

Didn't Tommy Harrell picture the submissive husband type just exactly, though? And don't you just wonder how he ever learned all his lines?. Strikes me there's something sporting in the way Mrs. Odell gets in and drills with the girls when her son issues the commands. It must seem novel to them both, for not every boy gets to give orders to his mother. That freshman boy walking down the hall with his arm around a girl is Curly Bird, letting his twin sister "talk him into lending her some money." But that's the way he told it. We still don't know whether Sis got the money.

The Juniors are working on another ticket-selling campaign, and that's to add to their banquet fund. This year food is rationed, and money is to buy stamps with but the Juniors want to give the Seniors one large good time. There's a committee already at work on plans.

The 2nd War Loan Drive Is On!

The Command Has Come-"ATTACK!"

The big push is on! This is the fateful summer that we have been waiting for. Hitler knows he must win before another winter rolls around, or face inevitable annihilation. And you can be sure that he will hurl everything he has - every gun, plane, soldier and tank-into the summer struggle that is even now rising in tempo on every front.

And when the command goes out to our fighting men to ATTACKyou can be sure they don't look for excuses. They don't hesitate. They strike fast and hard—as they did at Guadalcanal, in Tunisia and in the skies over Europe.

NOW the command has come on the home front to attack! To attack with the dollars that buy the weapons of war our boys must have to meet the last desperate assaults of Hitler. Your government asks you to lend it 13 billion dollars during this drive. And this historic 2nd War Loan Drive, which started April 12th, is the most urgent appeal America has ever made!

THE TIME IS SHORT—ACT NOW!

When you attack with War Bonds you don't suffer pain or anguish-you don't risk your limbs or your life as millions of our boys are doing every day. All you do is make an investment -the sarest in the world. You help to secure Victory now - and your own financial security.

During this drive if you are visited by a volunteer War Bond worker, welcome him. But don't wait for his call -go at once to your nearest bank or Post Office or place where they sell War Bonds. And answer the command to ATTACK by buying more War Bonds - and still more War

This lesson was very instructive and we learned many things in this great book, especialtressing times that are coming on us now and how God in sincerity comforts the faithful and sends Isaiah, the phophet said unto "Thus saith the Lord, set thine house in order — for thou shalt die and not live". Then he turned his face toward the wall and prayed unto the Lord and Frank. Hezekiah wept sore. Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah saying: "go say to him I have heard thy prayer and seen thy tears; behold I will add unto thy days fifteen years, and will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the King of Assyria and I will defend this city." So we have the same God today that will defend OUR CITIES by prayer and obedience to God and keeping the Sabbath day holy. and reading and studying our Bibles each day. We were dismissed ant. Surgical Dressing Room

The April quota of dressings will be finished the middle of this week. Many of the workers gave several afternoons and two evenings of extra work in order that the quota might be finished on time. The supervisors and monitors deeply appreciate this splendid effort on the part of the busy housewives and business women who made it possible to get out the quota only two days behind time.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., April 7—Life in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps began for Auxilary Aletha M. Pounds of Haskell, Tex., on March 8 when she arrived at the Second WAAC Training Center to begin her basic military training.

Her first three days were spent in "Tent City", a settlement of 80 canvas tops bordering the Hali-fax River. During this period she was given a physical examination issued her uniform and equipment and interviewed and classiment and interviewed and classified for her assignment to the army job that will release a soldier for combat duty.

Auxiliary Pounds was then transferred to the cantonment area, a 600-acre tract developed for the initial training of WAAC troops. Assigned to a training company which number 150 women, she is billeted in a pine harracks and is getting acoustomed to sleeping on a canvas army cot.

Not all the emphasis is on books, however; close orde drill and physical training have their places in the daily schedule. For most WAACs the high spots of the day come with mess call and mail call. Biggest thrill of the week is the formal review

Safe Methods of Canning

The Extension Service of A and M. College of Texas recommends two methods of canning as being grow in a salt solution of 10 persafe, preventing spoilage, and retaining the maximum amount of tables in such a solution you make food value, flavor, texture, and color. One method is to process meats and vegetables, except tomatoes and ripe pimientoes, in a PRESSURE COOKER. The other method is the WATER BATH for fruits, tomatoes, and ripe pim-Use Pressure Cooker for Canning

Vegetables and Meat

The steam pressure cooker is the safest way to can vegetables and meats, because it is the best way to destroy the resistant bacteria present in these foods. One of the most dangerous bacteria and the hardest to destroy is the bacillus botulinus. When these bacteria are not destroyed in the spore stage, they may grow later and produce a toxin or poison in served by drying, freezing, brinthe food. The worst part about ing, pickling, or curing. this poisoning is that usually one cannot smell it, taste it, or see it. You may not know it is there by and meats at least 10 minutes in any visible sign. One small bite could cause death or severe illness. Because these are such dangerous bacteria we must destroy them if ing this length of time. they are present. In fact, if we follow precautions to destroy the bacillus botulinus, we really do not need to worry about the other bacteria.

Bacillus botulinus is destroyed by processing under pressure at 240 to 250 degrees F. for a certain length of time, according to the product and the size of the container. In the water bath or over the temperature inside the jar never reaches higher than 212 degrees F. The only way to get liquid higher than 212 degrees is to have pressure. If the lid is sealed air-tight, you would get pressure, but in the oven the pressure would be inside the jar week, except Saturday, from 8 to and not around the jar. This would cause the jar to break. If tin cans were used in the oven ment Week. He will teach a the pressure formed inside would cause the seams to burst. In the pressure cooker there is pressure inside and around the jar or can. This balance of pressure prevents the jar from breaking or the cans from bursting when the temperature goes higher than 212 degress

Boiling canned six to nine hours in a water bath or oven usually destroys the bacillus botulnus and may keep food. Experiments show that even there are cases of richment Week" to be conduct- botulism poison present. This method, besides not being entirely safe, is unsatisfactory because the long processing destroys food value, texture, color, and flavor. It also takes so much time, and it is very expensive to use fuel for that long a period.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

How much easier our work would be if we put forth as much effort trying to improve the quality of it as most of us do trying to find excuses for not attending to it. -George W. Ballinger

Permanent Peace Is Possible

Future world peace depends to a large extent upon the United States-providing we do three things: First, keep our faith with the American capitalistic system by allowing individuals and businesses to survive with sufficient enrnings to maintain private jobs in free enterprise; Second, actively participate in world affairs; Third, lead the way in broadening the flow of international

The first is essential to peace because the alternative to free enterprise is state socialism, and state socialism leads to war. The dictators have proved that. The second is essential because our cooperation is necessary to enforce a just peace. The third is essential because nations tied together by trade are far less inclined to fight. Every effort must be made to awaken people to the fact that our leadership is sorely needed in the creation of a lasting peace and a new era of trade, just as every effort must be made to awaken the people to the fact that all of us have a common interest in the maintenance of the free enterprise

In pleading for such leadership, Clark H. Minor, chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council, says: "When we look over the economic record of the past and see the ravages caused by war . we must be convinced that the establishment of permanent peace would be so beneficial to every inhabitant of the world that there is hardly any immediate sacrifice which we could be called upon to make which would not be repaid a thousand-

He further declared: "That we and every country may enjoy the fruits of the particular aptitudes of other nations, of their particular natural resources, requires that no barriers shall be placed in the way of our access of such fruits. This means intelligent and courageous action with respect to tariffs, exchange regulations and all the . . unnecessary impediments which now restrict the flow of . being a leader toward freer world trade, With our total foreign business representing such a small percentage of our total trade, and with our resources of such great richness, we are surely the best situated to take the lead in a program benefitting not only ourselves directly, but all other civilized nations." As a step toward international leadership, the council has urged the renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. This act has opened the door to commerce and enduring peace. The door should not now be closed.

Peace, trade and free enterprise are dependent upon each other, and the freedom of mankind depends upon the maintenance of all three.

The Right Approach

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown deserves the wholehearted cooperation of all citizens. He speaks a language which our people understand and appreciate, instead of the "$10,000 fine and 10 years in jail" lingo.

When enlarging the rationing program, Mr. Brown said: "The necessities of war have once again compelled the government to ask the American people to forbear the burden of another rationing program. I should like to ask the forbearance of the public . . while the trade is adjusting itself to new demand and supply conditions."

That's the American way. Freedom-loving Americans should cooperate 100 per cent.

For Thirty Pieces of Silver?

A letter from members of the 750th Tank Battalion, Company A, at Fort Knox, Kentucky, to workers who recently struck in a war industry

"We feel deeply hurt to think you would le the boys overseas down. Just what do you think would happen to this country if the boys overseas would sit down, and quit fighting, because they just make $50 a month? We need more fighting equipment. What do you Americans want? More money now and slavery later, or less money and freedom? Just think how some of your sons and brothers over there would feel if they knew how you were selling them out, and that's what you are doing when you stop production."

There is a bible story of a sell-out for 30 pieces of silver. Read it.

To Hasten Victory

No American wants this war to go one minute beyond the time we can bring it to a victorious end. To hasten that victory—to save possibly the lives of millions of our boys on our far flung fronts-it is imperative that every American do his part in the Second War Loan. There is an investment to fit every purse. The most you can do is little enough compared with the sacrifice offered by our boys in service. They give their lives -you lend your money.

A father is fighting... So his boy may tinker with Electricity

Over 160 of our men (and one woman) are in the U.S. armed forces. Last week one of these men, a good electrician who had been with the company for many years and who is a veteran of World War I, came home on leave. (He's a volunteer in the Navy.)

With him when he dropped around to say "hello" and talk shop with the fellows was his 13-year-old son . . . wearing his Boy Scout uniform.

All the guys were darn glad to see him and know he has a swell Navy rating as an electrical technician. Naturally they asked a lot of questions and learned that Uncle Sam's Navy thinks mighty high of its men who come from America's electrical companies where they got their training and experience. They learned, too, that electric power is behind most of the Navy's great punch . . . building ships, guns, bombs, torpedoes and the like with which to win the victory. Finally someone asked: "Well,

Don, have you decided-just what are YOU fighting for?" He answered right off, pointing to his son. "Me-I'm fighting for this kid. He's a Boy Scout, see, and it teaches

'em to be independent and self-reliant. Well, dictators and bureaucrats don't like that-they want regimentation. So I'm fighting so he-and millions like him-will be free.

"Too, the kid's kinda like me. He has a knack for tinkering with electricity ... likes it, see. Well, the kid may not be another Edison. But I want him to have the same opportunities that Edison had-and a lot of other guys who helped make this country great.

"I want him to be free to tinker all he likes. And if anything comes of it, if his tinkering creates something useful to the world, like Edison's tinkering, I want him to share in the profits."

Out of this freedom of individual opportunity grew America's great industries that today are pouring out the weapons of war . . . as in peacetime they pour out the comforts and conveniences of everyday home life to give us the highest of all standards of living.

This freedom is worth fighting for. Free men and women, working out their own destinies with their own hands and minds . . . building, inventing, improving ... taking the risks and enjoying the rewards. And bettering the world as they better themselves!

FSA Clients Plan Record Increase of Farm Products

The Farm Security Adminisits 463,941 family-sized farmers in the United States are planning to surpass their outstanding 1942 production record by increases ranging from 20 to 72 percent. according to Robt. C. Pope, FSA supervisor of this city.

A survey of their 1943 production plans shows that they expect to turn out 20 percent more milk this year than last; 41 percent more eggs; 60 percent more chickensi 62 percent more pork; 36 percent more beef; 38 percent more dry beans; 62 percent more beans; 52 percent more flax; and 72 percent more peanuts.

To realize what gigantic increases the national percentages represent, it is necessary to recall the 1942 record of actual production, Mr. Pope points out. FSA farmers represent only 7.6 percent of all U. S. farmers; yet last the total American increase in total increase in dry beans, and in eggs, chickens and peanuts.
