Since we have already set class goals, an attempt to set a new one will not be made at this time, but it would be interesting to note if our school could reach that goal by Minute Man Day. Just to find out, a check-up will be made at the close of the time set to see if our school has ob-tained this amount. The time limit is March 1 to April 19, and we just have $756.55 to go; sum total for the first week March was $143.45. Martha Meadors and Sara Beth Arbuckle bought $25.00 bonds, and Leon Dodson bought a $50.00 one.

It will be interesting to find out whether our school could buy a jeep between now and April 21, but in the meantime let's not for-the situation. I was disturbed. I had reasonably important duties in a government office to per-form, but on the other hand I knew that to win this war, to obtain a satisfactory world afterward, we must have teachers in our schools. Every time I looked about me in Washington, I could see the pages of history unfold. I could see men like George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, and scores of others sweating and toiling to create a nation. I could see the value of human character in the upbuilding of our country.

As a teacher I had a part in the formation of that character. As an office worker, I was a cog in a machine. Every time I thought of my locked classroom, I knew that I had locked my heart behind the closed doors. I was merely a mechanical man, moving much like these same figures in the funny books I had seen my students pack around in their arms. Every time I stepped into the Library of Congress, or into the Smithsonian Institution, I saw omething which reminded me of my unfinished work in the

Moreover, I was learning every month that my higher salary was being spent to meet a more than much higher cost of living. I was doing a job another person could do, at no increase in my savings, and at a real loss in personal satisfaction. My place in Washington could be filled; my place in the Nebraska schools was still open. My decision gave me immense relief. I resigned my post in Washington. I came back to the Nebraska schools.

On March 5th the members of the Magazine Club observed Texas Day inviting guests for the program on "Pilgrimage of Poe-try". Mrs. Hill Oates as director offered a fitting tribute to poetry saying, "In a world of changing values, there are certain values that never change—those values of the spirit which alone give life meaning, direction, dignity, and grandeur. Poetry is one of these absolute values, for it has never failed the heavy laden, the frightened, the bereaved, and the desperate. Poetry has kept the

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Down in the Solomons and on the African coasts the Crocodile Boat or tank lighter played a most important role in landing our invasion armies. These self-propelled, light . . . fast boats haul tanks, artillery and other equipment from the big ships off-shore to the beach heads.

We need more and more of them, for they are essential to the successful operation of the war. They are made in several sizes from small fifty-footers, costing about $2,400 to the big 500-tonners costing around $37,000. Your purchase of War Bonds every payday will help pay for them. U. S. History of Senior Class of '43

When we first enrolled in chool August 31 we had seventeen members in our class. Emmye Lou Taylor came the next week to join us. The first to leave the fold was Frankie Davis, who withdrew and later married. Walter Dee Larned was the next to leave and get married. Annabell Ray moved to Rule after Christmas. Bertie Mae Brown came to us from Mattson just before mid term and Natalie Cagle moved to Haskell. Gene Mickler and W. R. Hager withdrew at mid-term leaving us with thirteen pupils. We hope to keep all of them untail after we have graduated. -Mary Annyce Brown

What the Seniors Study

During the first semester the only subject that we all took was English, taught by Mrs. Underwood. Other subjects were: Junior Business taught by Mr. Bigony Civics by Miss Warden, and Economics by Mr. Underwood. We have had two Senior girls to take Home Economics, taught by Mrs Ivy, then by Mrs. Foote. There are two boys taking Agriculture, taught by Mr. Martin. We have had several Seniors also taking Choral Singing, taught by Mrs. Underwood.

During the second semester Miss Warden took our Texas History Class and Mr. Underwood took charge of the Business Arithmetic class and Typing Two class. We all hope to pull through these subjects and graduate in May.

-Melba Campbell

Our Accomplishments

We are proud to say that three of our Seniors have made the honor roll each time. They are: Mary are: Emmye Lou Tayor, Laverne years. Lane, Joyce Nanny and Othella

We are proud of our two chapel programs that we have put on acting as Dr. I. Q. and his helpers were: Ray Perry, Carrell Toli-Mickler. The second program was in the form of a liar's contest. Of course Mr. Bigony won first place with Melba second and D. W.

We are proud of our boys that received letters in athletics. Theodore received a jacket, while Gene, W. R. and Carrol received Hanson.

Mary Annyce Brown received a scholarship from Draughon's Business College.

We are also proud of our Pirate more class. Log and hope that it is enjoyed instructions given by Mr. Underby us.

Our Year In Sports

We had a very successful season in football this year as we won four games out of six. We defeated Mattson twice, Sagerton twice and lost to Avoca and Knox City. The Seniors had a great hand in this by having four men on the starting line-up.

Our basketball season was not quite so successful, although we enjoyed playing just the same. We lost six games out of nine. We twice, Sunset and Mattson once and defeated Mattson twice and Haskell once.

We entered the tournament at Haskell and won second place. The Seniors had three men on the starting line-up. Since the baskefball season is over we are

Girls Athletic Activities

The girls had a volley ball team. Although we played only two games we enjoyed splitting the games with Mattson and would like to play the tie off. We had a pep squad during football season and three of our Senior girls were the leaders. They were: Joy Miller, Emmye Lou Taylor and Laverne Lane.

We have had physical education classes, which includes all kinds of exercises and rhythm games which we feel have helped us very much.

In the next three months we expect to have a Victory Corps led by Mrs. Foote. -LaVern Lane

Weekly Health Letter By Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State

Austin, Texas-Reporting on health conditions over the State of Texas, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer said today that epidemic dysentery, meningitis, and typhus fever have shown a sharp increase for the first two months of 1943. Reported cases of epidemic dysentery and diarrhea total eleven times the number shown for corresponding period in a seven-year average. Outbreaks of dysentery in several communities scattered over the State point to local failure to solve certain sanitation problems which could endanger the downward trend of typhus fever. Bombing For Invasion

Is the day-and-night hammering of Europe by British-American bombers the prelude to invasion? Surely it is but a prelude may last for some time. Actual landings may not come until the softening up process has gone considerably farther. Moreover, the pattern of the bombing immediately before invasion probably would take on a somewhat different shape from that of the last

The recent attacks upon ports might be useful in helping to free the Channel from small enemy craft of all kinds, but many harbors have been left untouched; the big attacks have been upon submarine bases. These attacks also might protect an invasion, but are almost as necessary now for one in July as for one in March. And some of the other bombing, as of Nuremberg, is difficult to understand as a help to immediate invasion. Unless the British had notice of some particular bottlenedk, or storage of especially valuable supplies there, bombs dropped on rail lines leading to an invasion port or on defensive airfields would appear more

Of course, there may be diversions to mislead the enemy. The landing points will hardly be disclosed by the pattern of bombing more than two days ahead of landing. But one of the main tasks in establishing a beachhead will be to destroy all communications and supplies which could be used in quick counterattacks. A semi-circular bembing barrage 30 to 100 miles inland would be the natural pattern. And there may be a full while the air forces are resting and munitioning for the big job of providing an air umbrella and air transport for the invasion.

Prelude? Yes, an indispensable one, a prelude that it may be wise to continue and which may rise in new crescendoes before the main show begins. Christian Science Monitor.

supply of civilian necessities.

Nothing is more essential to the successful conclusion of a war than an efficient distribution system to meet civilian needs. This country has such a system. Hundreds of thousands of retail merchants scattered throughout every county in the United States, are working day and night to have rood, clothes, and all commodities, always available for the civilian population. Through their various trade organizations, they are cooperating with government in all phases of the price stabilization and rationing problems. They are spending millions of advertising dollars explaining to consumers the need for regulatory measures and how to comply with them. Where gaps in the rules exist, the merchants often ask voluntary cooperation of customers to prevent hardship. Who has not seen the make-saift placards requesting consumers to limit their purchases of certain items? Government rulings cannot possibly cover every emergency, any more than they can materially soften the grim realities for the merchant, Consumers seldom see evidence of these realities. They don't stop to think that back of the cheerful exterior of the modern store are sleepless nights for managements that must cope with nightmares of complicated rules, restrictions, price squeezes, labor shortages, staggering taxes and other problems without preedent.

It is doubtful if the public, or most merchants fully realized the vital character of service which had the distribution industry was destined to render in a total war economy. But they are finding out now. And when the war is over, it would be surprising indeed if the old political issue of chain versus independent stores was resurrected. It has at last been proved more powerfully than words can express that both are needed by consumers.

There Is No Parity

From the quarter-pint-sized pamphlet Your War and Your Wages, published from the OWI and available on request to the Division of Public Inquiries, we quote.

There is no parity for a leg lost at Bataan, You can't bargain collectively with a torpedo coming broadside at a tanker. Equality of sacrifice is yardstick for us at home.'

The OWI did not add: Soldiers, sailors and marines have no 35-40hour week, and do not know the meaning of overtime wages. It would go hard with a fighting man who stayed home the morning after, to soak his liquor-addled head. Men don't have to pay initiation fees to fight in Faid Pass. There are no protest slowdowns or "vacations" for soldiers who do not like the next man in the ranks, or who think their officers are too tough, or who can't support their families on $50 a month,

The Disney amendment, which seems simple and effective, has not yet been adopted. Yet it amply guards against excess profits, with a minimum of interference with wartime production and at the same time providing escape from the new of non-essential payrollers which the original law threatened.

The ordinary man therefore concludes: Why not let the Internal Revenue tax man do the whole job at one sitting? Why not save the time of industrial management and employees for vital work? Why not use the established check on costs, and at the same time save the expense of extra payrollers?

Most of those payrollers could well be used in the armed service, or on farms, or in factories, or in some other productive kind of work, instead of occupying desks in Washington. They would then be doing something to help win the war.

aflutter British churches are over the question of Sunday shows or no Sunday shows for men and women in the military services. Actors seem to be about evenly divided on the matter. The Archbishop of Canterbury has stated that Christians should be ready to welcome Sunday shows for the troops, provided no commercial interests are involved. * * We've All Got a Job to Do..

Grow VICTORY GARDENS THIS SUMMER!

RAISE MORE FOOD—and Save All We Raise!

Here's the most important community job outside of our War Bond drive that we've undertaken since the war began. It's our big community Victory Garden program. We're all putting our shoulders to the wheel. Our goal is a Victory Garden for every family.

Everybody must cooperate in this vital work. Plan your gardens now. Make them as big as you can handle efficiently. If you had a Victory Garden last summer, have a bigger and better one this year. You'll be doing the patriotic thing and you'll cut your food bills too. You'll have fresh vegetables for your table all summer and food stored away for winter.

Victory Gardens mean Health, Economy, and practical PATRIOTISM. If you have any questions about vacant lots, size of garden, plowing of ground, what vegetables to plant, etc., see any of the local civic organizations. This year everybody will be gardening. We're all working together to produce enough food so nobody in this community will go hungry.

Have a Victory Garden, for your wour country.

4. Proper distribution and retation of salting places (Jan.-Dec.) There are guide sheets available for each of the above listed practices which thoroughly explain the practice as to why, how and AAA payment if any. These guide sheets are available at the county Agricultural conservation association office or they may be requested through your county Vocational agricultural agent, Agricultural teachers. Soil Contion Service, or U.S.D.A. War Board. With the approach of crop planting time we should begin to put some of these into use, particularly those of contour cultivation where applicable and stripping of peanut land as well as other erosion permitting crops where wind erosion especially is hazardous to open cropping methods.

Ask your community AAA Committeemen for more detailed information on the widespread soil conservation program during your farm signup.

Live! Listen! Look!

They were in a hurry-but they never got there.

Tire marks on the highway showed that the car skidded about 100 feet through the night.

The car carried a man, his son and his daughter to their deaths. In disregard of warning signals, the car was driven onto a grade crossing and into the path of a freight train. The pilot and piping on the engine were damaged, requiring replacement and causing a delay of one hour.

This deadly accident, illustrated here, is typical of what happens too frequently when a car is driven at too great a speed for existing circumstances. Apparently the driver saw the crossing, saw the signals - but not in time, and skidded onto the tracks.

The National Safety Council is conducting a special campaign to stop these accidents, which every day delay 38 trains a total of 22 hours-a big blow to the nation's wartime transportation effort.
