Men In Service Now Eligible For

Members of the Army and Navy were made eligible for recapped tires for passenger cars under certain restrictions of necessity, effective July 25, S. N. Reed, chairman of the Haskell County War Price and Rationing Board announced this week.

"This was done at the request of the War and Navy Departments," Mr. Reed explained, "and our instructions are to administer this new amendment to the rationing regulations strictly."

For instance, he said, it specified that no certificate for being remodelled this week and tires shall be issued unless in Brown, Sam Reed, Ben Hess. that the ap plication is for tires or tubes necessary for transportation between the Army or Navy man's residence and his post of duty, or where his car must be used on official military business, and there is no military vehicle avail-

"Military authorities are being asked to cooperate by organizing transportation committees at each Army or Navy post, if that has not been done already," Mr. Reed said, "in a manner similar to that used in forming such committees in war production plants. That is to assure that each vehicle carries as many passengers as its amendment to take all reasonable steps to insure that an applicant hicle to the purpose for which the application is made, except for a minimum of driving essential for the same as they were during the personal purposes other than pleasure driving.

Campaign Against O'Daniel Launched Tuesday Night at Abilene

James V. Allred, first candidate as Governor, and to vote as a unit with W. Lee O'Daniel since the U. S. Senator began his political career, launched his campaign for votes in the second primary in an address in Abilene. O'Daniel, who lacked less than 2 per cent of receiving a majority in the first primary, is Allred's opponent for the six-year term in the U. S. Senate.

In his Abilene address, Allred outlined a constructive program that pledged his energies to the urgency of "winning of the war and the writing of the peace." He promised support for President Roosevelt's war policies at the same time that he promised

"fight for Texas' rights." Judge Allred enumerated his stand on farm and ranch price parity, advocating "outlawry of vicious" labor practices, and promised fresh vision in dealing with the problems of the little business men whom he included our casualties of war." His platform, he set out in four point outline: To win the people's quickly as possible.

To provide for our boys in uniform while they are in, and when they come out of the service. To set up the machinery for readjustment at the present time, and rehabilitation after the war. To write and enforce an enduring peace that shall insure our children rgainst another war.

Clover Farm Will Feature Sale of US War Stamps

... and ELECTRIC POWER, too, has grown to Meet the Wartime Needs of 1942!

Plenty of Electricity on Hand

WASHINGTON, July 22. (P)—J. A. Krug, chief of the power branch of the War Production Board, expressed confidence today that war production would not be crippled by shortage of electric power.

"We have sufficient electric power," he said, "to meet all the requirements of war production and for essential civilian needs, if used wisely—as far as we can see ahead."

West Texas Utilities Combany

WAR DEPARTMENT figures show that today's average soldier is nearly an inch taller and ten pounds heavier than in 1917-a great gain for one generation and a real tribute to the men of science and the men of industry who helped build Bill's husky frame.

We're glad electric service had a hand in it.

Food experts discovered new vitamins and better diets for Bill; doctors developed new serums, drugs and healing techniques; and electric research worked out new and better ways to refrigerate . . . preserve . . . his food so it would be fresher, safer, cheaper,

Even before Bill was born, electric servants freed his mother of much household drudgery -so that she and her children might be healthier and happier.

At the same time that the electric industry was helping Bill to develop into a stronger, healthier man than his dad, it also was expanding to provide the power vitally n 1942. In back of Bill today is plenty of the ity for building tanks and planes, game ships . . . power to run the factories s weapons with which Bill will win the un

Pleasure is very seldom found where it is sought. Our brightest blazes of gladness are commonly kindled by unexpected sparks.

Solving The Rubber Problem

"The tightest grimmest war shortage facing the U. S. is rubber," says Time. "It need not have been For five months after Pearl Harbor the U. S. Government did practically nothing to fill the gap caused by Japan's conquests. That failure is the worst scandal in the U.S. war effort."

There has been an enormous waste of time in coming to grips with the rubber problem. There has been endless confusion, and excessive division of responsibility. At last, however, it looks as if something definite and constructive is about to be

On July 17, Donald Nelson announced that he had assumed personal direction of the government's rubber program. On the same day, the 4th Corps Area Quartermaster Headquarters said that times made of buna, a petroleum derivative, will be used as replacements on all army vehicles throughout the nation. And on July 15, President W. S. Farish of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, gave a House subcommittee some exceedingly interesting information on the progress that is being made.

New and faster processes, said Mr. Farish, will produce, before the end of 1943, 34,000,000 more automobile tires than were expected. Furthr, synthetic rubber will be better on the whole than natural rubber, and its cost will not be materially

This does not mean that any motorist can afford to "burn up" his rubber, on the theory that replacements will soon be available. Military needs will absorb most and perhaps all the synthetic rub-

Private industry is doing everything in its power to produce an adequate supply of synthetic rubber in the shortest possible time. There are, at last grounds for believing that the government rubber red-tape is cut, and that there can be action, not continued political talk, in dealing with the rubber problem.

The Seventh Column

During the first six months of this year, according to an announcement by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the national fire loss was somewhat larger in the same period in 1941. On a cold statistical basis, that could be expected, due to the war Industrial production and activity has teen much greater this year than last. But we can't afford to take comfort in that. For fire is the implacable enemy of the war effort. It is the servant and ally of our enemy.

Fire has been accurately described as 'seventh column." It utterly destroys some $350,-000,000 worth of property each year. And the magnitude of that loss cannot be expressed in money values alone. Some of the materials destroyed are irreplaceable at any cost-such as the stock of natural rubber which was burned in New England some months ago. Other materials are vitally needed in war production operations and if fire descroys them, there must be delays before new stocks can be produced and transported. To rebuild and repair aftre fire calls for labor which should be used for war needs Lastly, fire is a destroyer of the most precious and irreplaceable of all commodities-Time.

Great credit must be given to the groups which working to prevent fire twenty-four hours a every day in the year. But these groups can't do it all. No matter how they intensity their efforts, their work is subject to definite limitations. We cannot adequately defend ourselves against fire until every homeowner, every business manager, every workman, takes part. Fire hurts us all, Fire prevention is the responsibility of all.

No man is so busy that he hasn't time to periodically inspect his property and eliminate fire hazards. And every man must do that if he is to discharge his duty to his family, his community and his country. The fire loss figures are ominous. The toll must be reduced-and reduced now

Scott What You Buy With When the American Expeditionary Force landed in Ireland recently newspapers reported the citizenry remarked at the similarity of the steel helmets worn by our boys with those worn by German troops. These steel hats are protection from shrapnel fragments and other light missiles. We need thousands of them for they are a regular issue to every American soldier.

A smart strap fastens under the chin and they are padded for comfort. One steel helmet costs $5 so every time you fill a $5 stamp book you are buying protection for an American sidier. What You Buy With Gas masks which came into use in warfare for the first time when the Germans used poison and mustard gas in World War I, are much improved today over those used then. The Chemical Warfare Branch of the War Department issues these gas masks to every man in the service. We are taking no chances.

The type pictured here is the "can" and "elephant nose" mask and costs about $9.25 each. The headgear is transparent, made of material resembling cellophane and does not cloud with the breath. You can buy two of these gas masks with the purchase of an $18.75 War Bond. We need thousands of them. Don't fail to give at least ten percent of your income every pay day for War Bonds. Buy them at your bank or postoffice, regularly.
