SANITARY ORDINANCES TO BE ENFORCED, CITY OFFICIALS STATE

Effective immediately, an ordinance prohibiting the keeping of hogs within the City Limits, and another ordinance designating a sanitary district and prohibiting installation or use of outdoor privies within the confines of the sanitary zone, will be strictly enforced in the future, Mayor Courtney Hunt and other city officials announced Wednesday.

Both ordinances have been on municipal statute books for several years, but compliance has been on a voluntary basis, city officials explained.

Observance of the two ordinances has been increasingly lax and has resulted in numerous complaints to city officials, they declared.

The ordinances are designed to protect the health and improve sanitary conditions in the community, city officials pointed out, and on the basis of complaints that have been received they have no alternative but to enforce the ordinances.

Property owners or others who are subject to provisions of the two ordinances will be given a reasonable time for compliance, but those failing to comply will be liable to prosecution under terms of the statutes, city officials declared.

The keeping of hogs is prohibited anywhere within the city limits, regardless of location, and applies to all sections or areas of the city.

The sanitary district is defined as all territory within the city limits which is within 150 feet of any municipal sewer line. The use of outdoor privies within this zone is prohibited unless they are connected to the sewer. In all areas outside the sanitary district, outdoor privies must be screened and pitted, the ordinance sets out.

Lions Elect New Officers; Hear Talk on Grasses

Officers for the club year beginning in July were elected by members of the Lions Club at their weekly meeting Tuesday at noon in the Texas Cafe, when they also heard an informative talk on the value of native and imported grasses by Joe Tyson, Science teacher in Haskell High School.

In his talk, Tyson stressed the value of range grasses in building the fertility of land and preventing erosion aside from their forage value. He pointed out that some native grasses, particularly black gramma and buffalo grass, were disappearing from West Texas ranges due to overgrazing. He told of the introduction of a valuable new grass King Ranch bluestem, which has been proven adaptable to this section and highly profitable as a crop, while the extensive root system of the plant is a valuable ally against soil erosion. Tyson advocated re-seeding of depleted grasslands, and expressed the view that planting of K. R. bluestem could be made profitable on some cultivated lands.

Following the report of a nominating committee composed of Harold Spain, Olen Dotson and Dr. J. G. Vaughter, the following club officers were elected and will take office in July: Roy Adkins, president; Dr. Wm. J. Kemp, first vice president; Rev. Francis C. Nickerson, second vice president; George W. Fouts, third vice president; Horace Oneal, secretary-treasurer; Dr. R. K. McCall, lion tamer; Willard Warren, lion twister; Gaston Hattox and Wallace Stark, directors; Holdover directors are W. R. Johnson, Jetty V. Clare, Olen Dotson.

One visitor was present for the meeting, David Crockett of Sweetwater. He was guest of Lion Bill Richey.

Retail Stores Get 30-Day Extension On Pricing Charts

The government Tuesday granted retail stores another 30-day extension—until May 30—to put their new margin-type price control ceilings in effect.

In ordering the delay, Price Director D'Salle pointed out that until retailer files his pricing chart, his ceiling prices will be regulated under the general price freeze. This set price levels at the highest figure for which goods were sold during the base period last Dec. 19-Jan. 25.

After the new deadline of May 30, no retailer may lawfully sell any item covered by the margin-type price control order unless he has filed his pricing chart with an Office of Price Stabilization district office.

Ceiling price regulation 7, covering retailers, originally was issued Feb. 27. It included all of the items commonly sold in apparel and shoe stores, along with furniture, floor coverings and 75 per cent of the volume handled by department stores. The deadline for filing was set at March 29 but this later was extended to April 30.

Early this month OPS brought many additional items under the regulations. It was broadened to cover mystical instruments, radio and television sets, household goods, sporting goods and hundreds of other items.

OPS said retailers who sell goods covered in both orders want to file single pricing charts covering all of the items. Because of the limited time after the second order was issued, retailers have not had opportunity to re-price all their goods.

Haskell Invited To Attend Wichita Falls Festival

The people of the Haskell area are especially invited to attend the gigantic National Wheat Harvest Festival May 14-19, in Wichita Falls, J. Paul Montgomery, Festival Chairman, has announced.

Annual Singing Convention Sunday Attracts 1,500 Music Lovers of Area

An estimated 1,500 singers and music lovers including many from points as far distant as Lubbock and Dallas, gathered here Sunday for the annual program of the Haskell County Singing Convention despite a mild cold wave which prevailed in this section during the week end.

The all-day program, termed one of the best in recent years, was highlighted by special features by the Stamps Ozark Quartet of Wichita Falls, and the Tankersly Quartet from Knox City. Special numbers also were presented by visiting song leaders and groups on both morning and afternoon programs.

Attendance at the morning program, which began at 10 o'clock, was exceptionally large compared to previous years. Crowds during the afternoon filled the large auditorium of the American Legion building to overflowing during the program from 1 to 4 p. m. Hallie E. Chapman, president of the organization, was master of ceremonies for the day's program.

During the convention's business session, all officers were re-elected, including Chapman as president; Bailey Guess of Weisert, vice president; and Mrs. Troy Ash secretary. Date for the 1952 convention was set for the fourth Sunday in April, and it is proposed to hold all future annual gatherings in the American Legion Building if it can be arranged.

In addition to visitors and singers from neighboring towns and adjoining counties, others were present from Wichita Falls, Abilene, Lubbock, Dallas, Breckenridge, and other points.

Mrs. H. Hartsfield Receives Call From Husband In Japan

A telephone call from her soldier-husband in Japan to commemorate their second wedding anniversary was the pleasurable experience of Mrs. Hess Hartsfield of this city Tuesday morning.

The soldier, Pfc. Hess Hartsfield, who has been stationed in Japan since early this year, called his wife from Yokohama, where he is assigned to the 817th Ordnance Supply Company. Despite the distance, her husband's voice came through clearly, Mrs. Hartsfield declared, and the call was uninterrupted during their several minutes talk, she said.

Pfc. Hartsfield, a veteran of World War II was recalled to service from the inactive reserve in October, 1950, while employed in the Haskell post office. He sailed from Seattle, Wash., Jan. 16 and was stationed at Yokohama after his arrival in Japan.

Pfc. Hartsfield is the son of Mrs. Date Anderson, Mrs. Hartsfield is the former Dorothy Toliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Toliver. The couple married April 23, 1949.

County Agent and License Examiner Exchange Offices

In an exchange of office quarters in the court house, County Agent F. W. Martin is moving his office from the second floor to the space formerly occupied by the Driver's License Examiner on the ground floor in the west wing of the building.

License Examiner Oscie Renfrow will occupy the office formerly occupied by County Agent Martin as a result of the exchange. Examiner Renfrow is in Haskell two days each week, and he believes the new arrangement will be entirely adequate for his requirements except possibly during the Fall season.

Location of the County Agent's office on the ground floor will be a greater convenience for the many farmers and others having business with the office, which is open six days a week.

Pfc. Lonnie Walker Wounded in Action In Korea

A Haskell soldier, Pfc. Lonnie G. Walker, has been wounded in action in Korea, according to information received last week end by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Walker of this city.

They were not informed of the extent of his injuries, which were received on April 4th. The information indicated his wounds were not critical. The parents are hopeful that their son will be granted a furlough home when he is able to travel.

Pfc. Walker landed in Korea July 1, 1950, and has been in the combat zone a major part of the time since then.

For A More Attractive Community

Highly commendable and becoming more noticeable daily, are the results being achieved in the program undertaken last year by the City Council to make Haskell a more attractive community in which to live. The cooperation of civic organizations and individuals in furthering these community improvements is indication that Haskell's city officials have the endorsement and support of the citizenship in working for a cleaner, healthier, and more beautiful city.

A particularly noticeable achievement, and one that has elicited favorable comment from every visitor in recent months, is the ambitious paving program, recently completed. Visitors have commented, too, on the cleanliness of Haskell streets, and the well-kept appearance of public buildings and the hundreds of attractive homes. Unseen accomplishments which have contributed in a large measure to the present attractiveness of our town, are municipal projects which have made possible the extension of water and sewer facilities to newly developed sections of the city. This has been an important phase of the improvement program now being carried out by city officials.

Haskell citizens in all walks of life have benefited in considerable measure from the municipal improvement program. In return, they have the opportunity and a civic duty, to cooperate in the continuation of another phase of community activity—the improvement of public health, which calls for the stimulation of all unsanitary conditions in the community.

An admirable start toward this goal can be made through the whole-hearted cooperation of the entire citizenship during Clean-Up Week May 7-12.

May 7-12 Designated As City-Wide Clean Up, Paint Up Week

Rainfall of .71 Inch Brings Hope For Drouth's End

Hopes of area farmers for a break in the prolonged semidrouth which has prevailed since September were perceptibly brightened by a hard downpour which fell Friday afternoon, and the promise of additional rain forecast for this week.

During the hard downpour Friday, the driving rain caused a short circuit in a telephone cable, resulting in temporary disruption of service affecting approximately 200 telephones. The damage was quickly repaired, telephone officials reported.

Friday afternoon's rain was preceded by brisk winds which whipped up a light sandstorm. A hard downpour which began shortly after 2 p. m. was accompanied by light scattered hail for several minutes.

Hard showers continued at intervals throughout the afternoon to bring precipitation amounting to almost three-fourths of an inch at nightfall.

Rainfall was general over the county, with lighter moisture reported from the south section of the county while north of town precipitation was estimated about the same as that received here. Heavier downpours were reported in the northeast section of the county. Several miles northwest of Haskell, on the farm of Sam Herren, the rainfall was gauged at 1.08 inch, he reported.

Precipitation of .71 inch recorded here Friday brought to 2.08 inches the total moisture measured since January 1, 1951, at the Government recording station maintained by John B. Martin.

In sections of the county Friday's moisture was sufficient to encourage some farmers to begin spring planting. However, County Agent F. W. Martin expressed the belief that a large majority of farmers would hold up seeding their lands until additional moisture is received.

Mayor Designates Saturday Official Straw Hat Day

Saturday, April 28th has been officially designated by Mayor Courtney Hunt a "Straw Hat Day" in Haskell.

In his official civic capacity, Mayor Hunt urges observance of Straw Hat Day by every man and youth in the city, to mark the advent of a new season.

In connection with the officially designated day, a number of Haskell stores are featuring a variety of styles in new Spring straws for men during the week-end.

Thieves Get Seven Cases of Eggs From Produce Concern

Theft of seven cases of eggs from the Market Poultry & Egg Company in this city sometime Tuesday night or early Wednesday was reported to officers Wednesday morning.

Thirteen cases, each containing 30 dozen eggs, had a total market value of approximately $77, Manager A. T. Ballard of the local produce concern said. The eggs represented receipts of late Tuesday which had been crated and prepared for shipment the following morning.

The thieves broke a window on the east side of the building to gain entrance, and then opened a rear door from the inside through which the loot was removed.

An investigation by the Sheriff's department Wednesday resulted in the implication of four young men of Haskell, two of them minors, in the burglary of the produce firm.

Evidence against the four will be presented before the Grand Jury when that body reconvenes, officers said.

Work Program of C of C Attracts New Members

Wholehearted endorsement by Haskell merchants and business leaders of the 1951 work program of the Chamber of Commerce was indicated during the first few days of the organization's membership drive launched this week.

As the result of 28 calls made by the Membership Committee, 14 new members were added to the organization, and 13 members increased their dues payment for the ensuing twelve months. A. C. Pierson, director of the membership division reported.

More than 100 more prospective members are to be interviewed during the coming week, and the over-all drive contemplates contact and solicitation of every civic-minded citizen in the community.

Committees to carry out the 1951 program are being formed and new members are being given assignments in the activity project of their choice, Pierson said.

Some committees are already actively at work on the 1951 program, including the Water Resources group, three committees in the Agricultural Division, and several groups in the Civic Activity Division.

It is planned to complete the membership drive during May, and to have all committees actively at work by the end of the coming month.

Also being planned is a Community Breakfast early in June, at which time committee assignments of all new members will be announced.

J. E. Walling, Jr., Gets Post of Park Commissioner

J. E. Walling, Jr., new member of the City Council who was elected early in April, was appointed Commissioner of Parks and Municipal grounds at the regular meeting of the City Council Tuesday night. Mayor Courtney Hunt also announced the re-appointment of hold-over and re-elected Aldermen in their present commission posts for the current fiscal year of the city.

As Parks and Grounds commissioner, Walling succeeds Wallace H. Cox, retiring Alderman who held that post during the four years he served as a member of the City Council.

Alderman-elect Joe Thomson, who will be in Washington for several months, will be assigned the post of Health Commissioner when he assumes his place on the Council, Mayor Hunt said.

Other members of the Council and commission posts held are: A. M. Turner, Finance; Olen Dotson, Water and Police; Payne Hattox, Street Commissioner.

Germanic Philology Fellowship Awarded To John L. Guest

Friends here will learn with pleasure of the recent recognition given John L. Guest, a native of this city and son of the late Dr. and Mrs. O. M. Guest of Haskell.

Mr. Guest who is an instructor in New York University, has been awarded the Ottendarter Fellowship in Germanic Philology for 1951-52. He was elected unanimously by the committee making the award, and a regulation that the fellowship candidate not be over 25 was waived in his selection. The Ottendarter Fellowship will permit Guest to study in Germany for six months.

Guest received his M. A. Degree from Columbia University in 1950 and is now working on his Doctor's Degree.

Efficient Operation of Haskell's School Lunchrooms Praised by State Official

Haskell's three lunchrooms are being operated on an efficient basis, according to Miss Pauline Jarman, School Lunchroom Supervisor of the Texas Education Agency reported following her visit and inspection of the three units maintained and operated by the Haskell Public Schools on April 18.

In her report, Miss Jarman called particular attention to five outstanding features noted in the operation of the lunchrooms. She listed (1) Interesting menus; (2) Utilization of commodities and plentiful foods; (3) Food well prepared and seasoned; (4) Participation of pupils good; (5) Record keeping is commendable.

Participation in the program is evidenced by the fact that during March an average of 666 meals was served daily, for a total of 12,110 lunches served during the month. Largest number was served in the Primary School lunchroom, where 7,414 meals were prepared and served during 20 school days in March. The lunchroom operated for students in high school and junior high served 4,988 meals, and the colored school lunchroom 109 meals during the month. As an interesting sidelight, the report lists 13,062 half pints of milk served with the meals.

Efficiency in operation of the three lunchrooms is shown by the fact that the price of the meals has been held at the 20c level, despite considerable increase in cost of foodstuffs. This price is the same that has been charged for the past four years.

Many Persons Now Eligible for Social Security Benefits

Some persons in the Abilene area have already lost one month's benefit by not filing their claims before the end of March, according to Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene social security office.

Fisher explained that many persons became eligible for monthly old age and survivors insurance when the new social security law went into effect on September 1, 1950. Since the law permits retroactive payments for only six months prior to the month in which claim for benefits is filed, an eligible individual who did not file his claim before the end of March has already lost his payment for September. However, the loss can be held to one month by filing application this month, since a claim filed in April can be retroactive to October of last year.

Among those who became eligible for benefits last September are dependent children, widows, and parents of deceased veterans of World War II. Also, retired workers who have reached the age of 65 are eligible for benefits if they have worked at least 18 months under social security. If the worker is 75, it is not necessary for him to retire in order to qualify for payments.

Anyone who was made eligible by the new law should file a claim before the end of April to prevent further loss of benefits, Fisher said. Claims should be filed with the nearest office of the Social Security Administration. The Abilene office is at 308 Post Office Bldg., Abilene, Texas.

to make some comparison with the fire you saw in Houston, or some other city you may have once visited."

How to Help (?) When Fire Alarm Is Sounded

The following instructions, taken from an El Paso newspaper, are so completely the opposite of what members of the Haskell Fire Department want that they are calling them to the attention of those who delight in following fire trucks in answering alarms.

"As soon as the fire alarm starts sounding, jump into your car and get it started.

While you are backing out of the yard, have your wife look for smoke so you can know which way to go.

If you have two cars, have some other member of your family bring the other one with all possible speed. Thus, you can park one on each side of the street at the scene of the fire. This will enable your neighbor, who should be right behind you, to park in the middle.

Whatever you do, don't fail to get to the fire before the fire truck does if it is humanly possible. (This is imperative.)

In case you are late, and can't get right up to the fire, dash madly back and forth on the street in the vicinity.

In case you are the first one there, dash up to the house and break out all of the windows and open the doors, to let the smoke out. This will permit a draft and allow the fire to get going good.

In the event that you suddenly decide to leave and find yourself hemmed in by other cars, this is the procedure to follow:

Run your car madly ahead and back a few times until you finally run over the fire hose. This important move should be accompanied by continuously blowing your horn.

Don't pay any attention to the firemen. If they get in your way run over them. They are just there through curiosity while your presence is important; besides they don't know what they are doing.

At a recent fire there were nearly fifty automobiles assembled at the scene. A section of hose was ruined by one or more persons driving over it. That's the good old spirit!

And before you leave, don't fail

Grain Cereal Is 'Must' In Daily Food Diet

One whole grain cereal each day a "must" in the diet, according to Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent. Cereals help build strong bodies, she explains, but a more popular point in their favor is their economy.

Miss Wirges adds, however, that cereals are economical only if the homemaker buys wisely. Read labels, she cautions. All labels must have the brand, name of the product and ingredients, name of manufacturer, and the net contents. Additional information sometimes include the amount of niacin, riboflavin, calcium and other nutrients included. If the cereal has been enriched, this is usually indicated on the label.

Check yourself, says Miss Wirges, for quality and nutritive value of the whole grain cereal as well as the price. The weight of packaged cereals should be noted. The agent points out that cereals that need to be cooked are usually lower priced than prepared cereals, and if they are bought in large size containers even more saving can be realized.

It makes your dollars talk great good sense!

When you look at the times we live in... and then take a look at this new Chrysler Windsor... you might almost think we'd had advance information and special-built this car just to fit these times!

Certainly it treats your hard-earned and tight-stretched dollars with a respect that's hard to find in a good many things you buy!

To begin with, the Windsor line is the least-priced of the three lines of cars we build at Chrysler. To buy one gets you all the basic goodness Chrysler engineering means, at the very lowest cost. That's good sense in itself.

In powerplant, your Windsor brings you Chrysler Spitfire... one of the truly great engines in the whole bright history of America's motor cars. Time-proved and owner-beloved, it would be hard to put your money on a sounder friend than this to live and travel with you through the months ahead!

As to comfort, Windsor brings you the amazing travel bonus all Chrysler owners get this year... the revolutionary new Offlow shock absorber. With more than twice the shock-absorbing power of any other in the world, this amazing new device keeps wheels steady on the road, and riders steady in their seats.

As you can see, it is no idle claim that this car makes very special sense in these unusual times. But why not get the whole good story at first hand? Why not go see your Chrysler Dealer, very soon?

Most Farmland In Southwest Owned By Individuals

Who owns the farm lands in the Southwest? This question was the basis of a recent study conducted by John H. Southern, agricultural economist with the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics stationed at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The study covered five states—Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Oklahoma.

Southern found that most of the farm land is owned by individuals. They owned four farms out of five—83% of all farm lands. Corporations, primarily land and cattle companies, held nearly 11% of the land in 1948. Almost 16% of the farm land in Texas is held in corporate ownership.

Only 3.6% of the farm land was publicly owned, and this was confined almost entirely to Texas and Oklahoma.

Of the individual land owners, the farm owner operators account for nearly 50% of all the owners in the Southwest. However, they owned only 23% of the farm land, with an average of 192 acres each valued at $7,674.

Twenty-five percent of the owners in Texas held less than two percent of the land; on the other hand, 20% of the owners held 80% of the land.

This study is reported in S. W. R. B. No. 3, which was published by the Arkansas Agricultural Experiment Station for the Southwestern Land Tenure Research Committee. Copies of this bulletin are available from the Publication Office, Texas Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

Spring Tonic For Interiors Found In Gay Cotton Bags

Ready to make a refreshing change in your interior decorations for spring and summer? Cotton feed bags can come to your assistance, for the striking new prints this season prove that a cotton bag is just as much at home in the living room as it is in the feed bin.

Prints on display in the feed stores today run the gamut in fashionable designs, including florals, conversationals, plaids, stripes, checks, pastels, batiks and even modern abstract. Manufacturers are giving care to providing patterns which will be smart and appropriate for slip covers, curtains, bedspreads, dressing table covers, and other household furnishings.

Advance reports from bag textile designers reveal several new motifs certain to delight the homemaker. Colors are vivid and varied, in keeping with the astonishing range of tone to which Dame Fashion bows this year, both for stylish homes and wardrobes.

For example, don't be surprised to see feed bags appearing in exotic Hawaiian prints—large floral or marine designs in bold green, red, brown, yellow, chartreuse, orange, or blue. They are naturals as slip-cover materials, or draperies for living room or den. Donald Duck and Mickey Mouse prints will be available for nurseries and tiny tots' rooms. Polka dots and stripes will lend themselves to many unusual decorating ideas. And for kitchens and bedrooms where light colors are desirable in warm weather, many fresh pastel florals or prints with light background can be found.

Whether you're planning to redecorate only one room, or give the entire house a face-

Modern Equipment Helps to Eliminate Washday Drudgery

Ideal arrangements of the many modern conveniences available to housewives can do away with old fashioned washday drudgery Miss Thelma Wirges, county Home Demonstration Agent, says that laundry equipment and arrangement should be built around four convenient work centers.

First, the preparation center for sorting, stain removal and soaking should be located near the laundry entrance and next to the washer. Starching might be done in this center, too Miss Wirges adds. The work surface should be adequately lighted; there should be a sink to provide water, a hot plate for starch, bluing, soaps or other detergents, water softeners if needed, and supplies for removing stains.

The washing center, mentioned next is for washing and rinsing. If an automatic washer is used no tubs will be needed, but for other types of electric washers, the tubs should be set so that the washer need not be moved during washing.

Miss Wirges says that the drying center should be located in accordance with the type of drying done. If an electric clothes dryer is used, it should be placed next to the washing center. If the clothes are dried on lines in the yard, a laundry cart would be handy for transporting the wet clothes to the lines. The lines should be near the laundry.

The last but certainly not the least important center listed by Miss Wirges is that for ironing. She emphasizes adequate lighting with plenty of space. The equipment should include an ironer and a chair or a portable or built-in ironing board and iron. Some laundries might have both sets of equipment. Racks for ironed clothes should be included in this center. A portable table can be used to advantage when folding and sorting ironed clothes.

If the laundry is located near the kitchen, the specialist explains that many steps will be saved as well as economy in plumbing and wiring. Miss Wirges suggests also that a laundry located near the kitchen can be used as a food preservation center or a sewing center when needed.

Securing Quality Seed One of Several Problems Facing Texas Cotton Farmers

Cotton farmers in Texas face a critical condition this year in getting a good stand of cotton producing a large crop.

Normally the West Texas cotton farmer likes to start the season with an average of one plant every three inches in the row. He may want to thin this stand or leave it, depending on several factors.

A plant every three inches in the row provides some 60,000 plants per acre. To get this stand requires the planting of about 16 lbs. of the fuzzy seed with high germination. If the farmer plants one-half bushel of cotton seed with a germination of 60%, he will be putting into each acre some 38,400 seed which can be expected to produce plants. But he begins with about 40% less plants than he should have. Insects, weather and cultivation may further eliminate plants during the growing season so that the farmer cannot expect the maximum yield.

Area testing seed laboratories are finding that the majority of cotton seed samples submitted for germination tests are below the usual average viability consideration.

ed satisfactory. Good cotton seed should germinate above 80%, while much of the 1950 seed germinates below 60%.

Two major factors contributing to this situation are first, the trend toward machine harvesting, and second, the early 1950 freeze which killed the plants and prevented many seeds from maturing.

Machine harvesting results in a high percentage of immature seed of no value for planting. Proper cleaning and grading out of these undesirable seed is necessary for good planting seed.

Many of the seed of the 1950 crop which were frozen appear to be good but may not germinate. Under normal fall weather conditions many of these seed would have matured.

These factors have led to the present cotton seed problem. The large acreage of cotton expected to be planted in 1951 heightens the problem. Reports from the Texas Tech branch laboratory of the Lubbock Grain Exchange indicate that some 2,500 seed samples were tested since January 1, 1951.

The range in germination was from below 10% to over 90% with the average just under 60%.

The grain sorghums — hegari, kaffir, millet, cane and sudan grass seed—have generally shown a normal germination. Small grains, alfalfa, clover and grass seed tested by the laboratories have shown a normal germination percentage.

Farmers should heed the warning of these figures. The seed germination percentage should be known, and the amount of seed planted per acre must be increased. Otherwise, farmers can expect only a partial stand of cotton to start the season.

Every precaution should be taken by the farmer so that he can start the season with as nearly a perfect stand as possible.

Farmers can secure tests on their cotton seed by taking representative samples to the seed testing laboratory in room 116 of the Agriculture building at Texas Technological College where the branch laboratory is located, or the Lubbock Grain Exchange Laboratory in Lubbock.

The State Laboratory makes this test free, but due to the many samples, there is about a week's delay in getting the samples into the germinator.

The Lubbock Grain Exchange Laboratory makes a nominal charge for each test it operates on a commercial basis, but it can start the germination tests immediately. A minimum of 10 days is required to determine the percentage of germination of a sample after it has been placed in the germinator.

Local Farm Bureau Officers Attend Seymour Meeting

The following officers of the local organization attended the District Farm Bureau meeting last Friday at Seymour: H. D. Gammill, C. H. Herrin, R. C. Couch, Jr., H. H. Segro, Truett Alvis, C. A. Dunnam and Mrs. Gene Tonn.

J. Walter Hammond, president of Texas Farm Bureau, presented an interesting address to all on "Responsibility of Leadership" and Marvin Carter, organization director of the state office, spoke on "This Farm Bureau of Yours." Other addresses were made by A. A. Crownover, Insurance Service Manager, and Leon Lane, Field Representative from the Waco office. Mrs. Gene Tonn, from this office, was asked to lead the large group in singing and three young ladies from Throckmorton Farm Bureau entertained with songs that were much enjoyed.

Texas Farm Bureau is sponsoring a Community Chorus Festival and meetings are to be held in the near future in the various communities to explain in detail the rules and regulations that will govern this program. Community choruses will be encouraged to compete in the county and the winners will compete with other counties at the State Farm Bureau convention in Houston next November. Anyone interested in singing is urged to attend the community meetings which will be well advertised later.

Area Farmers and Ranchers Planning To Seed Grasses

Grass planting time has rolled around again and farmers and ranchers are making preparation for planting. Last year 90 acres of King Ranch bluestem grass was established on cultivated land as well as pasture land.

Eleven acres of Sand Lovegrass and Weeping Lovegrass were established in the sandy portions of the California Creek Soil Conservation District.

This year over 1000 pounds of King Ranch bluestem grass and 120 pounds of Bluestem mixture have been purchased by district cooperators for reseeding work. Some of this reseeding work is being done on sandy areas subject to severe wind erosion. By reseeding these areas district cooperators are keeping their valuable top soil from blowing away and are reaping cash benefits from the grazing. District cooperators are being assisted in their plantings by technicians from the Soil Conservation Service assisting the California Creek Soil Conservation District.

Farm Ponds Can Be Used To Supply Family With Fish

Farmers can grow fish by the acre of water just as they grow beef by the acre on grassland, according to F. W. Martin, County Agent.

300 to 500 pounds of fish to the acre have been produced annually in well-managed fish ponds. Many of the more than 100,000 farm and ranch ponds in Texas, which are maintained primarily for stock water, are suitable for growing fish.

Martin points out that an acre of water has a "carrying capacity" just as an acre of grazing land does. The amount of food produced in the water will depend upon the fertility of the land over which the water flows. Fertile land means a fertile pond of water.

Here are the County Agent's recommendations for fertilizing fish ponds:

As first choice, he suggests using a mixture of 400 pounds of cottonseed or soybean meal and 200 pounds of 30 percent superphosphate to the surface acre of water for one year Broadcast half this amount over the pond early in the spring, and apply the rest in 100 pound applications at four to six week intervals.

Second choice is 500-600 pounds any high grade fertilizer such as 4-12-4 or 5-10-5. Apply half of this early in the spring and follow with 100 pound applications at three or four week intervals until the amount for the year is broadcast in the pond.

Horse and cow manure also may be used as fishpond fertilizer. Apply 500 pounds to the acre at monthly applications, using two to three tons a season.

Weather-damaged alfalfa hay also makes a good fishpond fertilizer when applied at the rate of 500 pounds to the acre at monthly intervals.

Martin warns that the fertilization program should be completed before extremely hot weather arrives. A heavy application of fertilizer late in the season may cause the fish to suffocate by bringing about a rapid decay of submerged vegetation which uses up the free oxygen supply in the water.

He suggests that farmers contact his office for more information on fertilizing fishponds.

People who work in the sun are particularly susceptible to skin cancer on hands, face and neck. In Texas, where there is an abundance of sunlight, 140 out of 100,000 people develop skin cancer; in Michigan, which gets half as much sunlight as Texas, the rate is 24 per 100,000.

Paint which contains zinc oxide are best for painting farm buildings in areas that have warm, humid climates. Soft paints which contain a high percentage of white lead, are better for the areas with a dry climate.

Don't forget the supplemental pastures for summer grazing. The application of fertilizers, in most cases, will materially increase their production. Mixture of sudan and cowpeas makes a good summer pasture.

A "must" in the daily diet is one serving of some whole grain cereal. Cereals help build strong bodies and they are economical from the standpoint of costs.

Cotton farmers apply now, through groups, for the free market news service under the Smith-Connally Act.

Approximately the total acreage harvested in Texas irrigated, and from this acreage nearly 30 percent farm value of all produced.
