Young Co. Farmers Learn the Value Of Fertilizer

County Agent R. D. Dunkle reports that Young county farmers are learning the value of fertilizer. Today they are using four times as much commercial fertilizer as they did five years ago.

Ademonstration on the F. T. Littlejohn farm in the Red Top community, where an increase of 413 pounds of grain sorghum per acre was obtained last year with 50 pounds of 16-20-0, has been one of the reasons for the increased use of fertilizer. An application of 100 pounds of 16-20-0 per acre to Westar wheat on the Jack Nichols farm gave an increase of eight bushels per acre last year.

"Neighbors have seen the extra growth and increased yields and are thoroughly convinced that applying commercial fertilizer to wheat and grain sorghum pays a dividend of over 400 per cent," says Dunkle. "Increased yields per acre, earlier maturity, more efficient production and improved soils mean more income for the farmer."

Dunkle reports that Ed Steele of Henry Chapel and Roy Thompson and Barney Flowers of Graham have sent soil samples to the soil testing laboratory of Texas A&M College. They are planning to fertilize their crops according to recommendations from the laboratory.

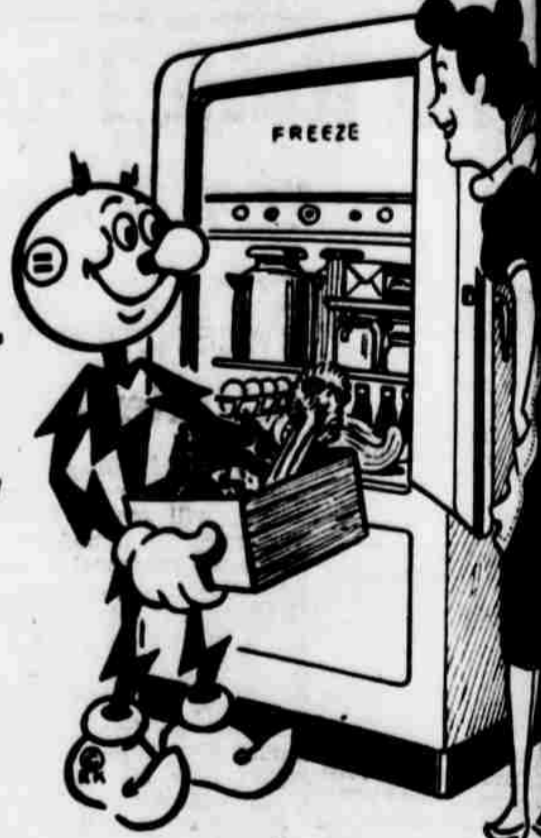

Farmers interested in having their soils tested should contact their county agents for information on taking the samples and mailing them to the laboratory. Soil samples are tested for one dollar each.

Conservation Steps Up Production; Protects the Land for the Future

Conservation farming is one of the most effective ways of stepping up production of our farms, says John W. Brock, chairman of the Haskell county PMA committee. It has the added advantage of protecting the land for the future.

To support this statement, he reports on the results of work done on 520 farms under the Tennessee Valley Authority:

While the total acreage on these farms increased 14 per cent in the 10-year period 1940-50, cropland acreage increased only 2 per cent.

The acreage of row crops on these farms dropped 26 per cent and the acreage in pasture increased 27 per cent. Corn acreage declined 21 per cent, cotton acreage 30 per cent.

Through better farming methods and conservation practices which include the application of lime and phosphate, the use of grass and legumes in rotation and pasture, contour farming and terracing where needed, yields were increased more than enough to offset the decreased crop acreage.

The yield of corn was stepped up from 26 bushels per acre to 42 bushels, an increase of more than 60 per cent. Cotton acreage yields increased 43 per cent.

Rodeo Excitement Added to the State Fair of Texas

The excitement of the rodeo has been added to horse show events at the 1951 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6-21, Ray Wilson, livestock manager of the fair, has announced.
 Cutting horse contests -- events that have become increasingly popular with rodeo fans in the past several years--will be featured as part of the biggest horse show in the history of the fair.
 There'll be cutting horse events for quarter horses as part of the Quarter Horse Show Oct. 12-14, and an open cutting horse contest the final week end of the fair Oct. 19-20-21. On the last day of the fair, a world championship matched cutting horse contest has been arranged.
 Cutting horses, Wilson explained, are stock-working horses with plenty of range know-how and "cow sense." They are valuable and intelligent animals that are absolutely essential on cattle ranches, he said.
 The particular talent a cutting horse must have is the ability to barge into herd of cattle, cut an animal out of the herd for shipment to market, doctoring or moving to another pasture, and prevent the animal from returning to the herd, Wilson said.
 All horse show events this year will be held in the fair's new $125,000 Livestock Judging Pavilion. The pavilion has an arena 90 by 180 feet and seats of 3,200. And all events are free.
 Premiums totaling $3,440 and eleven silver and bronze trophies to be awarded by the American Quarter Horse Association will be offered in the Quarter Horse Show.
 Many of the best cutting horses in the nation are expected to compete for $2,000 in prize money offered for the open cutting horse contest. In addition, the National Cutting Horse Association is offering a trophy.
 First go-round in the contest is Friday night, Oct. 19 and the second go-round is Saturday afternoon Oct. 20. Finals of the rodeo-type contest will be Sunday afternoon, Oct. 21, with a world's championship matched cutting horse contest to follow. Details of the world's championship contest will be announced later, Wilson said.
 American Saddle Horses will be shown on the first Sunday of the fair, Oct. 7, with premiums by the American Saddle Horse Breeders Futurity of Texas.

1951-52 Goals Adopted By Texas Educators

AUSTIN, July 25.—A six-point "priority" list of 1951-52 goals was adopted by Texas educators at a recent state planning conference at the University of Texas.
 The list of "firsts" includes:
 A state-wide campaign for improvement in the teaching of reading.
 Thorough reorganization of school accreditation procedures and policies.
 Enactment of a teacher certification code that will insure good teachers for the State's schools.
 Focusing attention of the public on "inadequacies that are showing up in salary schedules for college and public school personnel due to increase costs of living."
 Re-evaluation of the state's school laws.
 A long-term improvement program for elementary education.
 Local school board members helped to frame the state's education goals for next year. Willie Kocurek of Austin, president of the Texas Association of School Boards told the group that Texas' new "grass-roots" education program places more responsibility upon local school boards.
 The Texas Association of school boards recently added $1,000 to funds granted the University of Texas for research and dissemination of information concerning duties and practices of Texas school boards.

Use of Warfarin Gives Good Results In Rat Control

Excellent results in warfarin bait rat control demonstrations are reported by John B. Williams, Leon county agricultural agent.

About 425 pounds of the new rat poison had been sold to rural people of Leon county in May. Warfarin is a relatively safe rat killer, which prevents clotting of blood and causes the rodents to slowly bleed to death of internal hemorrhages.

F. L. Thompson, Sr., of Leona put out five pounds of the warfarin bait, and 33 rats were picked up at this one place.

Ben Boone of Jewett says the buzzards have been sitting on the fence posts at his barn since he put out five pounds of the slow-acting poison.

With four pounds of the rat bait, Jodie Vann, Leon county commissioner, completely cleaned out his barn and outbuildings.

Thus far, only one dissatisfied user of warfarin has been reported in Leon county. Although this person could not find a single dead rat around his home, his close neighbor has seen many dead rats at his place.

County Agent Williams thinks the sick rats are leaving the dissatisfied farmer's barn and going to the neighbor's place to die.

George Mahon to Support New Appropriations Bill for Defense

By GEORGE MAHON

For the past 11 weeks I have been conducting committee hearings in Washington on the appropriation bill for the Army, Navy and Air Force for the current fiscal year. I expect to present the bill to the House of Representatives for passage during the 2nd week in August. I think some facts about the bill may be of interest. Because of the confidential nature of much of the testimony, the hearings were not open to the press. However, about two-thirds of the testimony has been printed and is available to members of Congress, the press, and the public. Four volumes containing 3,500 pages, totaling nearly 3 million words, were required to print the testimony of the 500 witnesses who testified.

A lot of words and witnesses were involved in the hearings. The issue before us, however, was the 56 billion dollar appropriation bill for the Army, Navy and Air Force, one of the largest appropriation bills in the history of the nation. Generally speaking, 1-5 of the money would be required to pay, feed and clothe the men in service. And additional 1-5 would be required to maintain the installations, aircraft, ships, etc. One-half of the sum would be used to pay for tanks, airplanes, ships and weapons of war. Remaining funds would be used for research and development and many other purposes. We will make savings and reductions wherever reasonably possible. It appears that a minimum reduction of at least one billion dollars can be made safely.

Our civilian and military experts are by no means infallible, but it was interesting to note that most of the who appeared before the committee were of the opinion that there would not be a global war involving the United States and Russia in 1951. Some of them expressed the idea that the danger of war with Russia would be greater in 1952 and 1953 as the Russian atomic stockpile increases. Many of our military people feel that war between the United States and Russia is inevitable, but our top military leaders do not agree with this conclusion.

The world situation is confusing, complex and explosive. My own view is that some incident or unforeseen development might precipitate a shooting war between the United States and Russia at any time. I think the best hope for peace lies in our military preparedness effort and in the over-all strengthening of our nation and the other free nations of the world. We do not know the Russian time table, but we know they seem to understand the language of strength.

What may happen in the Korean war is still not clear, but in my opinion it would be dangerous and inexcusable for us to let down or disband our military forces of the cease fire in Korea. The truth is we are not now prepared for war. Our military build-up is just getting in high gear. We must be stronger over a long period of time for stability and peace. On the other hand, we cannot afford to bankrupt ourselves in reckless and wasteful spending.

During the progress of the hearings I was invited to go to the Pacific for the atomic bomb tests and also to Europe to confer with Eisenhower, but my work here was such that I could not leave Washington at the time. Suffice it to say that we have made remarkable strides in the field of atomic warfare, and other highly significant developments are in the offing. Of course, Russia is making progress in weapons development too. For example, the Russian-made jet fighter which has been used against us in Korea is comparable to our best fighter aircraft.

I am supporting the request of our military people for large sums of money to expand our guided missile program. Guided missiles would play a major part in any future war. Of course, the hope of every thoughtful American is that our military preparedness program will be instrumental in preventing the outbreak of a general war.

New methods in fire fighting taught at the school will be embodied in future practice drills of the local department, Chief Ray Lusk said.

U. S. Continues Drive on Child Labor In Agriculture During School Hours

DALLAS, July 25.—When the school bell rings his fall, Federal officials here are going to be making extra effort to see that employment does not interfere with education.

Employment of children under 16 years of age in agriculture during school hours is unlawful under the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act. Wm. J. Rogers, Regional Director of the Wage-Hour and Public Contracts of the U. S. Department of Labor in Dallas, says his staff plans to enforce the law this fall as it did last year. His region includes Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

He pointed out today that the law applies directly to farmers whose crops or products, either directly or indirectly, go into interstate or foreign commerce. He illustrated the matter with the case of a farmer who sends his produce outside the state or delivers his product to a gin, processor, owner or dealer who will send it outside the state—either in its original form or as part of another product.

The law does not apply to a farmer's own children working on their parent's farm, he said. But if farmers hire other under-age children during school hours, the farmers themselves are responsible, he declared. By "school hours" is meant the hours when school is in session for the district where the employed children under 16 currently are living, he explained. That includes children hired either as individual or as part of a family group directed by their parents, processors, or others. It includes both citizen and alien children. The Federal law sets no minimum age for the employment of children in agriculture before or after school hours on any school day, or at any time on school holidays, or during school vacations. But most states have school attendance laws and whichever statute, Federal or state, sets the higher standard governs the matter in any given state, he says.

Any person who willfully violates the child-labor provisions of the Federal law is subject to a maximum fine of $10,000 or after a second conviction for a similar offense, a maximum fine of $10,000 or imprisonment for as much as six months, or both.

Social Security Benefits In County $31,000 This Year

Haskell county residents will receive more than $31,000 in retirement and death payments under the Old Age and Survivor Insurance system during 1951. This estimate was made today by Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration.

During the month of February the monthly checks for 93 persons in the county totaled $2,509. At that rate the total for the year would be $30,108. Additional persons are becoming eligible each month, however, so the actual 1951 payments will be considerably above this figure.

For the 16 county area served by the Abilene office payments in February went to 2,577 persons and totaled $104,312. Total for the year figured at this rate would be just one and one-quarter million dollars. Fisher estimates, however, that the annual total for the Abilene area will be one and one-half million dollars when the regular increases and the lump sum payments are considered.

The are figures include $57,215 monthly to 1642 retired workers; $9191 monthly to 507 wives and dependent husbands of retired workers; $5,558 to 182 widows and dependent widowers of deceased workers; $6,604 to 202 mothers of eligible children under age 18; and $639 to 18 dependent parents of deceased workers.

Fisher pointed out that the 1950 amendments not only increased the benefits but also made it easier for workers over 65 years of age to qualify. Any retired worker who is over 65, and who has at least 13 years of work under social security, may be eligible for payments now; if the worker is over 75 he can draw payments even if he has not retired. Workers over 65 who have not checked up on their rights should get in touch with the Social Security Administration office, Post Office Building, Abilene.

Farmers Advised To Save Oat and Wheat Seeds for Future

In view of the short oat and wheat crops this year, farmers should save all possible seed for planting, particularly of the approved varieties, says E. A. Miller, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Enough oats were produced to plant the 1952 crop, but Miller warns that there will be a shortage if farmers use all their oats for feed. The situation is a little better for wheat than for oats.

"Save good planting seed," Miller advises. "There will be a demand for seed where no oats were made."

He recommends saving all the Mustang oats and Quanah wheat produced. Most of the seed of these new varieties planted last year were lost because of the drought and insects.

According to the June USDA crop report, the 1951 Texas oat crop is estimated at 12,576,000 bushels. This about half of the 1950 production. The 10-year average for Texas is approximately 30 million bushels.

Mustang, New Nortex, Fultex, Ranger and Stanton are the recommended varieties of oats for Texas. Recommended wheat varieties are Quanah, Wichita, Triumph, Comanche and Westar.

Senate Passes Bill To Increase Old Age Pensions

WASHINGTON — The Senate has passed a bill which, if the States take full advantage of it, will increase old age pensions $3 a month beginning October 1. The bill is in the form of an amendment to the Social Security Act sponsored by Senator Ernest W. McFarland of Arizona, Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, and 20 other Senators. It must still be approved by the House.

The $3 monthly increase would also apply to payments to the blind. Federal contributions to States for aid to dependent children would be increased an average of $2 per month per recipient.

"These small increases are overdue and more than justified by the rising cost of living," Senator Connally declared. "When the bill was before the Finance Committee, I urged and voted for increases of $5 a month for the aged and blind and of $3 a month for dependent children. Average old age assistance payments in Texas in May were only $32.74, which is obviously not enough to live on."

The bill as passed by the Senate included a provision requiring the States to maintain their present payments so that the full amount of the increased federal contributions would be passed along to the recipients. In the case of Texas, this should mean a $3 a month increase for 90 per cent of the 222,155 old persons receiving pensions; if the Texas Department of Public Welfare makes appropriate adjustments in its standards of judging needs, ten per cent of the pensioners are already receiving the State's maximum of $50 a month and would get the increase only by $1 a month. This would bring the average payment up from a little less than $12 a month to about $16 a month. Under the present law, the State puts up $3 and the federal government $9. Under the Senate bill if the State puts up $4 the federal government would put up $12.

Development Cancer Does Not Result From Fluorides

AUSTIN, July 25.—Cancer does not develop any earlier in areas where the water contains a high proportion of fluorides than it does in fluoride free areas, morbidity statistics compiled by the Texas State Department of Health and the M. D. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research in Houston show.

State Health Officer George W. Cox, in a statement flatly refuting claims by a University of Texas biochemist that fluoride in municipal drinking water might speed up the development of breast cancer, said the M. D. Anderson cancer research center, an adjunct of the University of Texas, completely supported the State Health Department's contention that fluoride additions to public water supplies does not accelerate the trend toward mammary cancer.

The state health agency has for the past two years recommended that municipalities add fluoride in the amount of one part fluoride to one million parts of water as a deterrent to tooth decay among children. Also in support of the health department's position is the word of Dr. H. Trendly Dean, director of dental research, National Institute of Health.

Dr. Dean says he and "Dr. Howard B. Anderson (unidentified) have carefully evaluated the data in respect to the alleged relation of fluoride water to an accelerated rate in the development of mammary tumors, and are of the opinion that the evidence . . . does not warrant modification in the policy of recommending fluoridation of public drinking water supplies . . ."

Dr. F. A. Bull, director of dental health in Wisconsin, in a letter to Dr. Cox, wrote that the Wisconsin health department has been accused of contributing to the cancer incidence for the past six years.

"We're going ahead despite these deterrents, with fluoridation," Dr. Bull said.

Dr. Cox said the same bone of contention came up years ago when chlorine, now a common addition to drinking water, was first used to disinfect water supplies.

"Further postponement of fluorides in water would penalize children unnecessarily," the health officer said. "They deserve its cavity-preventing properties, State Health Officer George W. Health will continue to recommend its use by any and all cities in the proper proportion."

Care of Shrubs Important During Summer Months

Take care of your shrubs during the dry summer months. Water, fertilizer and pruning are important to the life of your plants, Eddie Hatfield, Homestead Improvement Specialist for the Extension Service of Texas A&M College says.

Shrubs probably suffer more from mismanagement of moisture than anything else, she comments. There are two ways of keeping the moisture in the soil around the shrub: first, make a depression around the plant to catch and hold as much rain water as possible. Then, once you have moisture in the soil, either from rainfall or irrigation, use some kind of mulch to keep it there.

Use layers 2 or 3 inches thick of well rotted leaves and grass clippings or straw; rotted hay from hay stacks, or straw from wheat and oat stacks. If the soil is tight, use some sand for the leaves to work into, or use a layer of loose top soil to hold water later on. Miss Hatfield suggests using the hoe instead of the hose for the thin layer of top soil; you are likely to kill feeder roots near the surface if you dig more than 2 or 3 inches deep.

Shallow soils do not hold moisture through the summer, so it may be necessary to irrigate occasionally. The specialist says let the water run slowly until the soil is wet to a depth of 10 or 18 inches.

Check with your county home demonstration agent for specific instruction for taking care of shrubs in the area where you live.

Army Tests Ways To Stop Chiggers

The Army, working with the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine has investigated several methods by which field uniforms could be impregnated with chemicals so that wearers would stay chigger-free. After testing 6,000 different chemicals, diphenyl carbonate and benzil were found to give the highest degree of protection throughout for washing of clothes.

Lindane, which is 99 per cent benzene hexachloride, repel both ticks and chiggers and may be used to impregnate clothing, though it will not stand as many washings as benzil.

Powders of benzil, at five per cent strength, will afford 95 to 100 per cent protection for a week, when dusted on the outer clothing.

Weinert Boy Enters HSU for Second Summer Semester

R. S. Sanders of Weinert registered last week for the second term of the summer semester at Lardins-Simmons University. Enrollment for the session totals 247, Registrar Alton B. Lee has announced. The number includes 343 ex-servicemen, the largest veteran enrollment in more than a year. The increase is attributed to the Veterans Administration ruling that veterans must begin their schooling before July 25 to receive GI bill financial benefits. Sanders began classes July 10 and will continue until summer commencement exercises August 29. A special music recital camp is scheduled for August 13-25. Sanders is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sanders and is a graduate student at the university. FORMER WASHINGTON PITCHER IN HASKELL Tom Criss, former pitcher for the Washington Senators and now a rancher in Throckmorton County, was a business visitor in Haskell Saturday. Dallas Banker To Head Drive For USO Funds

Ben Wooten, Dallas banker, has been named campaign chairman of the forthcoming $700,000 fund appeal for the USO in Texas.

Selection of Wooten to head the state-wide campaign was announced by Attorney General Price Daniel, chairman of the Texas United Defense Fund committee. "Each county has a vital interest in maintaining home-ties with its young men and women in military service," Wooten said, "and each will be asked to assume its proportionate share of the USO budget to assure that morale in the Armed Forces is maintained on a high level." Local campaigns throughout the state will coincide with the regular Community Chest campaigns during October and November. "Regardless of what happens in Korea, as long as Russia continues the cold war and millions of youths are engaged in the defense of our freedom, there will be a need for the familiar home-away-from-home services of the USO," Wooten said.

OPS Plans Survey To Establish New Food Price Base

FORT WORTH, July 23.—In another week the office of Price Stabilization will begin a nationwide survey of food prices to lay the base for a program of posted dollar - and - cents "community prices" in grocery stores. It is announced by the Fort Worth OPS office.

The first step will be to survey prices of standard grocery items in 1,000 wholesale establishments. This will be followed by similar visits to over 2,000 retail grocery stores in the 84 district OPS offices. Information from individual sellers will be held in strictest confidence, said Ellis H. Boyd, director of the district office.

A chief purpose of the survey will be to find out if there is enough stability in prices of a number of grocery items to make a community pricing program practicable. Community pricing is a system familiar in World War II under which the country is divided into relatively small market areas and grocery price ceilings set for each area on the basis of local transportation and other costs. These ceilings would be the same for all stores of each size class, and would be printed on charts for posting in retail stores where all customers can see them, the district director said.

OPS is fully aware of the important part that a community pricing program can play in the stabilization program of the necessity of having published ceilings for customers and of the great help such a program can be to individual grocers in simplifying their pricing problems," he said. He explained that the community pricing program during the last war had a lot to do with holding the line on wholesale and retail food prices from the time it was started in May 1943 to the end of that control program. "Up to now," Boyd pointed out, "OPS is prohibited by law from controlling below-parity farm prices and has not sufficient assurance that prices have been stable enough to make the printing and posting of ceiling charts practicable."

Red Cross Chapter Asks for Disaster Fund for Midwest

Haskell Countians have been asked to join with Americans all over the nation in providing $5,000,000 to aid flood victims of the Midwest.

President Truman has requested that people over the nation give at least that amount through local chapters of the Red Cross to promote rehabilitation of families in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Illinois.

No house to house canvassing or personal contacts will be made.

"Although the fund campaign of the Red Cross for this year is over, funds required for relief operations in this catastrophe will exceed the available Red Cross resources for disaster relief," J. H. Banks, Haskell County Red Cross chapter chairman said.

It is impossible for the Red Cross to plan its 1951 financial campaign in advance to care for a disaster of this magnitude, the chairman continued.

"When hard times came here, the Red Cross did not hesitate. Last year $3,601.11 was granted by the National Headquarters for disaster relief in Rochester, O., Erie, and Weimer. The chapter budget for the year was $2,888. But that effort did not relieve the Red Cross of its responsibility to other disaster victims. And neither are we relieved of ours," Banks said.

It is not yet known how great will be the operation of the Red Cross in the flood states. There are at the present time 68 Red Cross chapters in 64 counties in the four affected states meeting emergency needs for food, clothing, shelter, and medical attention. Eighty-two shelters in which 21,920 persons are being sheltered are now in operation. A total of 43,286 persons are being fed daily and 75,000 meals have been served since the emergency began.

But the heaviest task of the Red Cross is still ahead. The money the Red Cross provides for rebuilding a house or for refurbishing or for helping a family to find the means to help itself, is given outright, not loaned.

Contributions in this area may be sent to the Haskell County American Red Cross, Haskell, Texas. They should be marked "disaster relief."

Governor Pardons Jack Bradley From 50-Year Sentence

Jack Bradley, who was convicted of murder and sentenced to 50 years in the state penitentiary on October 31, 1928, was granted a full pardon and restoration of citizenship last week.

Allan Shivers, governor of the state of Texas, signed the pardon July 16 on the recommendation of the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Bradley served 17 years and 5 months of his sentence and on March 28, 1946, he was granted a conditional pardon in Knox county. Then he was put on parole until the full pardon was granted.

Modena and Sarah Young spent last week end in Fort Worth visiting in the home of their sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Daniels. They were accompanied home Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Daniels who spent the day with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Young.

Haskell Red Cross Worker to Assist in Flood Disaster

Miss Wanda Dulaney, executive secretary of the Haskell County Red Cross chapter, will leave Friday for St. Louis, Mo., where she will assist Red Cross National Headquarters in the rehabilitation of Midwestern cities that have been marred by the recent flood.

Miss Dulaney received a long distance phone call Wednesday from Mrs. E. G. Wiegand, supervisor of disaster service of the national headquarters in St. Louis, asking her assistance in caring for the flood victims.

She is a member of the Red Cross disaster reserves and is on call at a moment's notice. She is one of the three disaster reserves from chapter executive secretaries that have been called from over the nation.

Miss Dulaney said that her office would remain open during her indefinite period of duty in the flood area.
