The revival at Curry Chapel will begin at 10 a. m. Easter Sunday, April 9, and will continue throughout the coming week with evening services only. Prayer services starting at 7:45 will precede the revival service, and Rev. Seay will do the preaching for the revival. Everyone is invited to attend all services possible.

Added significance will be given the revival through the fact that a new church building has been completed at Curry Chapel. The building includes a Sunday School room, a long-felt need for the increasing enrollment in this department. It is also planned to get new auditorium seats for the building.

Cost of the new building was estimated at $2,500 or more, and Rev. Seay said that people of Haskell gave about one-fifth of this amount. Labor was donated by members of the congregation and friends of the church in erecting the structure, and Rev. County Singing Convention To Meet April 23

The 26th annual program of the Haskell County Singing Convention will be held at the First Christian Church in this city Sunday, April 23rd and plans are being made for the entertainment of several hundred singers and music lovers for the annual event.

Program being arranged for the day will begin promptly at 10 a. m. and will continue throughout the afternoon. It was announced by Halie Chapman, president of the convention. Invitations are being extended to a number of well known vocal quartets throughout the section, as well as to all singers in Haskell and neighboring counties. Chapman said.

An amplifying unit will be installed for the benefit of the large crowds expected, and arrangements are being planned for an hour's broadcast of the program over some area radio station.

The Haskell County Convention is among the oldest organizations of singers and music lovers in the section, and the annual program attracts a large attendance of visitors and singers.

In Haskell, enumerators taking the census are Mrs. J. E. Bernard, Mrs. Richard Bischoffhausen, and Miss Mary Couch.

Other enumerators in the various towns and sections of the county are: Mrs. Beulah O. Gibson, Joseph W. Johnston, Mrs. Grace E. Reid, Mrs. Grace Hutcheson, Mrs. Annie P. Bowen, Basil T. Murphy, Edgar S. K. Eiso, Paul I. Overby, Mrs. Mary W. Bosse, Mrs. Vadie V. Harrell, Mrs. Audie Perich, Mrs. Gladys Merchant, Mrs. John Caddell.

Census enumerators began their work of assembling data in the 17th U. S. decennial census in Haskell county on schedule last Saturday, April 1st, and R. V. Robertson, county supervisor of the census, today praised the cooperation of the public generally which had been given the sixteen enumerators assigned to Haskell county.

"All enumerators have reported an admirable spirit of cooperation on the part of the public," Mr. Robertson said. "This attitude is a great help and will enable the workers to complete their task in a minimum of time," he added.

Importance and various phases of the census was explained to a group of Haskell business men in a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office Saturday. Present were city officials, and representatives of various civic groups and business firms.

Information to be gathered in the 1950 census covers a broad field, Mr. Robertson explained, including housing, agriculture, industry and income, in addition to population data, he pointed out. The census has a double significance from the fact that Haskell will be one of the key counties in this section, and data assembled in this county will be used for comparative purposes and indicators of population trend and industrial growth of this area.

Census data of the county will be gathered by 16 enumerators, Mr. Robertson said. A majority of these will be assigned to the rural sections.

In Haskell, enumerators taking the census are Mrs. J. E. Bernard, Mrs. Richard Bischoffhausen, and Miss Mary Couch.

Other enumerators in the various towns and sections of the county are: Mrs. Beulah O. Gibson, Joseph W. Johnston, Mrs. Grace E. Reid, Mrs. Grace Hutcheson, Mrs. Annie P. Bowen, Basil T. Murphy, Edgar S. K. Eiso, Paul I. Overby, Mrs. Mary W. Bosse, Mrs. Vadie V. Harrell, Mrs. Audie Perich, Mrs. Gladys Merchant, Mrs. John Caddell.

The caravan is scheduled to arrive in Haskell at 1:25 p. m. and will remain for a 35-minute stay. During the stop, members of the Paducah square dancers, in addition to the square dancers, will be invited to join. The "Paducah Rambler" 5-piece band will also present a musical program during their stay here.

Rev. Joe Scheets, pastor of the church, will bring a series of revival messages during the meeting. Services will be held each night beginning at 7:45, and a special feature will be congregational singing at each service.

The revival is the first to be held in the new building of the Friendship Baptist Church, located at the corner of 7th and Ave F, which was completed for occupancy in January of this year. Rev. Scheets, pastor of the church since its organization, states that membership and influence of the church has been greatly strengthened since completion of the new building.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend services during the revival meeting.

11 People Made Homeless When Fire Destroys Small Farmhouse Near Jud

Eleven persons were left homeless, and lost practically all their possessions, when fire destroyed a small residence on the Homer Ivey farm at Jud last Friday afternoon.

The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Berham and five children and Mrs. Barham's mother, Mrs. W. M. White and her three children. All household goods and furniture in the house burned except one mattress.

The fire started about 6 p. m. from the explosion of an oil cook stove in the kitchen of the home, and flames spread quickly throughout the small structure, making it impossible to save anything from the building.

The flames might spread to the home of Nathan Foster nearby, and to the building occupied by the Jud Store, operated by Mr. Foster. However, neighbors who quickly gathered formed a bucket brigade and prevented any spread of the fire to nearby structures.

People of the Jud community were quick to come to the aid of the unfortunate fire victims with offers of assistance. A considerable amount of household articles, clothing, etc., and a generous sum of money was raised for the two families.

Mr. Conner, new president, closed the meeting with an invitation to all to attend the next regular meeting to be held May 2nd.

R. L. Burton Purchases Interest of Olen Dotson in Local Automobile Concern

Announcements were made jointly today by R. L. Burton and Olen Dotson of the purchase by Mr. Burton of the interest of his partner in Burton-Dotson Chevrolet Company, one of this city's largest automobile agencies in this area of West Texas.

The deal through which Mr. Burton became sole owner of the Chevrolet agency, including the large, modern building housing the concern, along with all stock and equipment, new used cars, was closed Wednesday.

Mr. Dotson, retiring partner, has been associated with Mr. Burton in the automobile business since May 20, 1940. He is a former county official, having served three terms as Sheriff prior to and during the late war, during which he was given leave of absence while serving with the Armed Forces. At present he is a member of the City Council, and is an active leader in church and civic affairs and president of the Haskell Lions Club. Dotson has not announced his plans for the immediate future but will continue his residence in Haskell.

Mr. Burton, veteran West Texas automobile dealer, and also active in civic, church and community affairs for more than two decades, has been engaged in the automobile business here since March, 1928, when he purchased the former J. F. Kennedy Dodge agency. He later secured the franchise for Chevrolet cars and trucks and has expanded the business into one of the largest concerns in this section. During his long residence here he has served in various public capacities, including school trustee, City Alderman, and head of various civic organizations. Mr. and Mrs. Burton have one daughter, Nancy, a Senior in H.S.

In connection with the change in ownership, name of the business will be changed to Burton Chevrolet Company, it was announced. Mr. Burton said Thursday that no changes in the personnel of the establishment were planned. Eleven mechanics are employed by the concern in the various sales and service departments.

Key members of the establishment' personnel in addition to Burton as sole owner, are Edwin Hale, business manager; Elmer Turner, manager of the used car department; and Wallace Stark, manager of the service and parts department.

One employee in the mechanical department, Jess J. Tyler, expert Negro mechanic, has been associated with the business continuously for more than 22 years, having been employed in the Dodge agency when it was purchased by Burton in 1928. Tyler holds a certificate from Chevrolet Division of General Motors as an authorized Chevrolet mechanic.

Fire Destroys Two O'Brien Buildings Tuesday

Fire which was discovered about mid-afternoon Tuesday destroyed two business houses in O'Brien, inflicting the most serious fire loss suffered in the enterprising community in a number of years.

The blaze spread quickly and had gained too much headway to be brought under control by fire departments of Rochester and Knox City before the buildings had been destroyed.

The two buildings, occupied by the Barnard & Thomas Grocery and the Griffin Laundry, were a total loss. The blaze was believed to have started in the rear of the laundry.

Volunteers who first reached the scene were able to save an sewing machine, coats and meat steels from the meat department in the grocery. All other contents of both buildings were burned. Mr. D. H. Thomas was owner of the buildings.

The O'Brien postoffice, a service station and residence of Dwight Gothard, the later two across from the burning buildings, were threatened by flames before firemen brought the blaze under control. Some of the postoffice fixtures and contents were removed for safety for a time at the height of the blaze, but no loss resulted.

Postmaster Walsworth reported O'Brien, located in the heart of West Texas' richest cotton producing region, suffered a disastrous fire in 1949 when three-fourths of the town's business section burned.

Support Program On Grain Sorghum Urged by Mahon

Congressman George Mahon reported to The Free Press this week that his mail for the district indicated concern over the failure of the Commodity Credit Corporation to announce a loan support for the 1930 grain sorghum crop. Over a period of months Mahon has urged such support, indicating his belief that a support program would be announced.

In his report this week, which was also sent to the office of the County Agent and the County PMA office, Mahon stated that no one could guarantee that a support program for grain sorghum would be provided but that every indication pointed in that direction. The support program on grain sorghum last year was announced on March 14. In conferring with officials in Washington, Mahon has insisted that it is most important that a support program be announced as soon as possible and at a level not below last year.

On March 23 the House of Representatives passed a measure strengthening the Commodity Credit Corporation and increasing the capital stock. Favorable action by the Senate is anticipated. Mahon said that indications are that after this measure has become law an early determination on the grain sorghum support program will be made. He is hoping for favorable action.

Dust Storms In West Texas 15,000 Feet Above Surface

Dust storms in West Texas reached a height of 15,000 feet and covered an estimated 85,520 square miles during the early stages, reports on a research project at Texas Technological college indicated.

During a prolonged storm late in March which lasted three days the barometric pressure reached a record low of 25.06 in Lubbock. The winds evidently started whipping up dust in southwestern New Mexico as they blew toward a large low pressure area in Nevada. As the low pressure area moved eastward the dust-laden winds invaded Texas.

Students of G. Frederick Warn, associate professor of geology, reported dust particles .25 of a millimeter were found 65 feet above the surface. Particles from New Mexico and Colorado were mixed in with local dust. About one per cent of the particles were organic matter such as leaves, straws or grass.

Remarkably low humidity has aided the dust storms, Warn said. A record low humidity was recorded in the late March storm. The last rainfall of note fell in the South Plains on September 21. Recent winds have had a drying effect which is further reducing the moisture content of the soil, Warn said.

Ordinarily, a wind of 40 miles per hour will carry the dust along if the gusts are sustained. However, gusts of 20 or 25 miles per hour can start storms rolling, and velocities during some dusts have reached 70 miles per hour. Wind turbulence and air moisture, as well as the spread of the wind, help determine the amount of dust that will rise.

Four out of five recent storms

Cancer Deaths In Texas Total 7271 For Past Year

Deaths from cancer in Texas reached a total of 7271 during the past year, indicating that a warning against cancer quacks and so-called cancer cures is justified by the State Health Department. Early diagnosis and competent treatment could have prevented many of these deaths, states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "There are but two ways of treating cancer. First, by surgery and second, by the use of radium or X-ray. Treatment must be started early and in the hands of a competent surgeon. Surgery is resorted upon to remove cancerous tumor and is used in nearly two-thirds of the cases. X-ray or radium is used to advantage for the remaining group. Frequently the two methods are combined. Self-medication, serums, colored lights, pastes, salves, and diets are valueless.

"The great protection against cancer is early diagnosis. Every case is an emergency and it is unfortunate that the majority of those with cancer do not seek medical advice early in the first stages of the disease. No hope cures or treatments. Rather, the annual physical examination and an immediate reporting to your physician of any symptoms which may be suspected to be the beginning of cancer should be relied upon. These symptoms are: any unusual bleeding from any body opening, any lump in the breast or other part of the body, any persistent sore, particularly on the face or mouth, and chronic indigestion. These conditions may not be cancer, but sometimes they are forerunners of the more common types of this disease. Where cancer is suspected, do not delay but consult your physician at once."

have entered the South Plains from a westerly direction, and one has come directly from the south. The most intense recent storm entered Texas from the west. Tech students Billy Cox and Dewain Cox, both of Monahans, and Jack Pales, Lawton, Okla., are working under William C. C. Irvin and Warn's supervision in compiling data on the dusts.

Increase Of Texas Wildlife Is Being Studied

How Texas is bartering with their states to obtain needed wildlife reinforcements is described in the March issue of Texas Game and Fish, departmental magazine. W. C. Glazner, Wildlife Restoration Director, writes that Texas is now working on an exchange program "designed to improve quality hunting and to produce more of certain valuable fur bearing animals."

"After ten years of extensive deer trapping and transplanting in Texas," Glazner's article states, "the pressing need for deer stock on high quality ranges began to decline. In the same period, more active and positive quality management became increasingly urgent. Along with that situation, there was a growing interest in beaver as a water conserving instrument and fresher muskrats as a source of cash income."

The Wildlife Restoration Director goes on to describe how a shrub like perennial called bicolor lespedeza was planted in strips and hedges and found to be useful in southern states to attract an hold quail. To develop strains adapted to Texas conditions, Game Department biologists have been working on plant selection and experimental planting of the species. Material for this vital work was obtained from Georgia and Florida in a trade involving Texas white-tailed deer.

The Glazner article continues: "Louisiana, in the meantime, became interested in bolstering its declining deer population by selected stocking Texas deer on selected refuge areas. An exchange items the offered surplus muskrats and beaver from soil and vegetable types similar to and relatively near inland creek marshes scattered over East Texas. Our access to the beaver stock was important because surplus West Texas beaver were not numerous enough to fill restocking needs in that part of the state, following drought years when water conservation became a recognized necessity on many stock ranches. At the same time, several East Texas landowners were soliciting freshwater muskrat stock not available." He concludes that mutual advantages in the bartering are obvious.

Camp Fire Girls Group Organized At North Ward

Camp Fire Girls are being organized in the fifth grade at the North Ward school. Mrs. V. M. Wilson has consented to be the Guardian.

Any girl who wishes may be a Camp Fire member, but since she can only work with a limited number, the first fifteen girls who register may be members. It is hoped that other women will want to be a guardian of another group in case more girls want to join. When a girl joins it is important that her parents know a little about the organization and be willing to assist the Guardian in every possible way.

Worship God, Seek Beauty Give Service, Pursue Knowledge, Be Trustworthy, Hold on to Health, Glorify Work, and Be Happy is the Law of the Camp Fire Girls. In fulfilling this program the girls are developing into the highest type of womanhood and learning the importance of home life.

Meeting Wednesday afternoon to learn about Camp Fire were Mesdames Austin Coburn, Ed Hester, C. C. Chinn, Johnny Mullins, Hardin and Miss Kathleen Crawford, area executive who met with them.

They were members of 1,148 cotton improvement groups and planted almost 80 percent of the state's 1949 cotton acreage. The program provides free classing and market news service for all farmer members. It is supervised by the USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

Since corduroy is bulky when wet, it will probably need to be washed in a second fresh suds for best results. When corduroy is dry, brush to bring up the velvety nap.

Men Prefer Cotton Clothes. Survey Reveals

Gentlemen prefer cotton. In a survey just released by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture, the majority of male consumers listed cotton as their favorite fiber for business shirts, summer sports shirts, year-round underwear, pajama, and socks.

USDA researchers interviewed a representative sampling of men over the age of 16 in every section of the United States.

The study showed that men vary considerably in their preference of fibers for most clothing items. In only three articles of clothing included in the survey did more than half the men agree on a single fiber. These items were business shirts, pajamas, and underwear for year-round wear. The fiber that more than half the male consumers prefer is cotton.

About two-thirds of the men interviewed said they prefer cotton business shirts. The study reveals that more of the shirt owners in the higher income bracket, professional groups, and college graduates prefer cotton than those with grammar school training and lower incomes.

White shirts are preferred to all others, with more than half the men listing only white in their color selection. Blue followed white as the most popular color.

Of the men who wear pajamas, about 7 out of 10 agree on cotton as their favorite. Cotton was chosen primarily on the basis of comfort, the men said. More consumers in the North reported that they wear pajamas than did Southern men.

Approximately 4 out of 5 owners of underwear for year-round use told researchers they prefer cotton. For underwear worn only in winter months, the male consumers were about equally divided on all-cotton and a mixture of cotton and wool.

More men prefer cotton for their summer sport shirts, the survey reveals, noting that style and construction are the features most sought in this item by male customers. This classification did not include polo shirts and T-shirts.

Demand Grows For Texas Wildlife Films

The action story of Texas wildlife is being shared by Lone Star State residents with vast numbers of outsiders. The Executive Secretary reported that departmental motion pictures have been provided other states for several years but that recently requests for Game Department films has increased because of television use in many Eastern states.

These stations have obtained films from the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission files to make their own copies for TV treatment. Copying is usually necessary because color films must be changed to black and white for TV transmission.

Meanwhile, Texans are availing themselves of the Game Department's wildlife film library. Each week both sound and silent films are mailed in increasing numbers to sportsmen's organizations, civic clubs, schools, churches and to other groups. Films are sent express prepaid, from the Commission's headquarters in Austin with the primary requirement that they be handled carefully and be returned express prepaid, immediately after they have been used.

The film library comprises an authentic record of Texas wildlife. All pictures are informative and educational. Many are exciting since the subject matter ranges from sombre portrayal of nesting birds to wilderness combat between a rattlesnake and a roadrunner or chaparral bird. On-the-scene movies include bass fishing, wild turkey trapping, waterfowl hunting and antelope trapping. For the sportsman, who knows his field and stream, there is practical treatment of hunting dogs, gun safety and care, fly-rod usage and general equipment demonstration.

The Game Department's film library is at present somewhat limited but production on several new movies is scheduled to start soon and others are nearing completion. Among the available movies are close-ups of the much sought after wild game birds. Other pictures include generous footage of turkey gobblers strutting and carrying on in the privacy of their natural habitat. Use of stalking technique plus telescopic lenses enabled the cameramen to invade the wold bird's hideouts. For action, the battle to the death between the roadrunner and rattler apparently has the most appeal.

Treat Early For Hornfly Control, Advises Martin

A tiny fly, grayish to black in color and about 1/8 of an inch long about this time of the year or a little later, begins to rob the livestock producer of pounds of beef and dollars that could be profits. This small bloodsucker, according to F. W. Martin, County Agent, is the hornfly.

It is seen principally on the head, neck and shoulders of cattle often in great numbers if permitted to multiply, they may cover 50 percent of an animal's body. The hornfly has a very short life cycle—10 to 14 days. This factor, points out Martin, makes it possible for very heavy infestations to build up in the spring before the producer notices their presence. Control measures should be used early to check the multiplication in the first generation. The first spraying is very important and may reduce the total number of sprayings needed during the summer. Animals should be given the first treatment when the fly population reaches an average of about 25 flies per animal.

There are two insecticides which will give very effective control against the hornfly. DDT has been successfully used for several years and a .5 percent spray or dip will give excellent results. Toxaphene is the other recommended material and it is also used at a .5 percent strength. It is recommended only for use as a spray. Toxaphene has given equal or superior results when compared to DDT for hornfly control.

Numerous tests have shown that cattle kept free of hornflies gained from 10 to 20 pounds more per month than those not treated. Ten pounds of 40 percent wettable toxaphene or eight pounds of 50 percent wettable DDT in 100 gallons of water and used as a spray will protect cattle for a period of 20 to 45 days.

Sun Bleaching Helps Retain Whiteness Of Fabrics

Homemakers often make an unpleasant discovery when they go to the storage closet for their favorite white cotton or linen goods. They might find that sheets, curtains or tablecloths have been in storage too long and that the fabric isn't as white as it once was—may be yellowed in spots or even all over.

Then comes a very logical question, what can be done to restore the original whiteness? Mrs. Florence Low, extension home management specialist of Texas A. & M. College, advises trying the simplest method first. Launder the yellowed article carefully and hang it in the sun to bleach as it dries or dampen the discolored areas and spread it in the sun. If this method isn't practical or doesn't work, she recommends using a chemical bleach.

The chemical bleach, she warns, must be used with care. If left too long on a fabric, the material may even rot. If a commercial package bleach is used, follow the directions given on the package.

You can make your own bleach from sodium perborate. It is one of the safest to apply and for treating a small stain, dissolve two or three teaspoons of sodium perborate in a cup of water and soak the stained area for a minute or two. Rinse thoroughly, and repeat the treatment if necessary.

To treat a larger stain, she says to prepare the solution in larger proportions but regardless of the kind of bleach used, be sure and wash it out of the fabric immediately after the treatment.

It is good idea, she says, to try and locate the cause of the yellowing and correct it. Check and air storage places may hasten the aging effect and soap left in a fabric too long may cause yellow stain. Tea and coffee stains may darken with time and iron rust stain can develop from some iron compound in bluing or wash water.

Mrs. Low says that white articles should be thoroughly cleaned before storing — wash out any soap or bluing. If fabrics have been treated with chlorine bleaches in laundering, neutralize the chlorine by adding a little vinegar to the rinse water and then rinse in clear water. Store the articles where they will get the best possible protection from heat and light.

New Varieties of Vegetables Now Available

Plant breeders have been busy during the past few years working to develop new and to improve existing varieties of vegetables both for the home garden and the commercial grower. Tests have been completed on many and the commercial seed producers have increased seed supplies to the point where they are now available for widespread distribution.

John E. Hutchison, associate extension horticulturist of Texas A&M College, says many of the new varieties haven't been tested in Texas but in other areas have shown exceptional promise. He says the new bush bean, Top Crop is such a variety. It is said to be a heavy yielder, and is good fresh, canned or frozen. Another new bush bean that has shown well in tests so far is the Contender.

A new pole bean is the Stringless Blue Lake variety. Home gardeners in areas where cabbage can still be set might like to try the new Early Round Dutch variety. Hutchison says it has shown up good in trial plantings in Texas. For the home garden only, he suggests a few hills of a new cantaloupe — Smith's Perfect.

Two new cucumbers are available. Earliest of all is a pickling variety and Palmetto is best for slicing and is mildew resistant. Excel is a new onion that was partially developed in Texas and in early trials has looked very good. Hutchison says. Pontiac, red, and Sebago, white, are two new Irish potatoes. The Murff Bush Porto Rico sweet potato has been tested in field plantings in the state with good results.

A new squash which Hutchison says is very good is called

Uconn. Two heat mat varieties are available

Hutchison suggests a few hills of the new termelon in the garden also a good commercial add.

Of course, concludes you'll not be able to see these new varieties until you have room to plant for just a few of the best, give them a trial, good care, control the results should be good.

Firemen of Four Towns Feted At Banquet Monday

More than 75 firemen from Rule, Stamford, Throckmorton and Haskell were honored at a banquet here Monday night, sponsored by a group of Haskell businessmen.

The party, held in the American Legion Hall, was given in appreciation of the work of firemen from the four towns, who fought the worst blaze in Haskell's history on the morning of March 17, when the Odd Fellows building and Piggley-Wigley Store were destroyed. Merchants whose property was in the path of the flames before the conflagration was halted were principal sponsors of the banquet.

Alton Middleton, master of ceremonies, introduced Mayor Courtney Hunt, who welcomed the visitors and praised work of the firemen of Haskell and neighboring towns. He termed volunteer fire-fighters as "the best and most important contact between home and property owners and the city government."

Fire Commissioner Olen Dotson, also a member of the City Council and former member of the fire

Schools To Observe Spring Holidays Friday, Monday

Haskell schools will observe Easter and spring holidays Friday and Monday, April 7th and 10th, Supt. S. H. Vaughter announced today. Classes will be dismissed this afternoon, with schoolwork to be resumed Tuesday morning, April 11th.

The department commended the efficient and dependable service and admirable spirit of cooperation of the four departments. John F. Ivey, insurance broker and former county judge, also spoke briefly.

Fire department chief Ray Lusk, in a brief word of appreciation to neighboring firemen, cited the fact that within 20 minutes of the time a call for assistance was sent to neighboring towns, firemen from Rule and Stamford were in action at the blaze, and that firemen from Throckmorton, 30 miles distance, were battling the blaze within 35 minutes after being called.

Arthur Hays, retired member of the local department, was presented a rod and reel as an attendance prize.

Entertainment was presented by Albert Thomas and Ruthie Mae Griffin, Negro dancing couple.

The girl with the round face should avoid wide collars and definitely circular curls which accentuate roundness. Here's a simple, brief cut with smart, smooth crown. Hair is combed flat across the head; the ends are fluted up to give height. In back, the hair is lightly waved and ends in an upturning, girlish fringe.
