

W.T. Fair Being Planned Regional Exposition

Shaping up rapidly for the annual edition of the West Texas Fair, to be held Oct. 10 through 14 on a five-day schedule in Haskell, is to be one of the leading displays of West Texas ever assembled.

One of the former three-day five-day exposition made necessary to accommodate the many added departments in the various divisions added this year, particularly in the livestock division, is the livestock division in West Texas this year.

The livestock division will be led by Alexander H. Breders, president of the Texas Breeders Association, who will be in charge of the livestock division.

President E. R. Lowe said that advance requests for space in many departments and particular from exhibitors, would make it necessary to expand the Haskell exposition on a large scale in many respects. The livestock division is the largest of the major divisions in West Texas this year.

The livestock division will be led by Alexander H. Breders, president of the Texas Breeders Association, who will be in charge of the livestock division.

Contractors Set Sept. 30 Deadline For Applications In City Paving Project

A deadline loomed in the near future for applications of property owners to participate in the city's paving program now under way, in an announcement made today by Strain & Brown, Inc., contractors on the project which was authorized in a $150,000 city bond issue last December.

In the announcement, Strain & Brown said that property owners in the paving program who want the paving and have not yet signed contracts or made arrangements must do so by September 30th. Due to work elsewhere, the contractors are not making any commitments here after that date, the announcement explained.

Currently, the paving project embraces approximately 65 blocks in the area extending from Ave. C to Ave. H north of First Street, while tentative plans would extend the program to include several blocks on east and west streets linking the avenues, if a sufficient number of property owners sign up for the improvement.

The portion of the $150,000 bond issue earmarked for street improvement would provide for approximately 120 blocks of paving, or almost twice the amount for which property owners have signed up, a representative of the paving contractor estimated.

The paving project is not limited to any section of the city, and property owners in any part of town desiring street improvements are eligible to participate if a sufficient footage can be secured in each unit, it was explained. Ordinarily, this would be three connecting blocks, or a single block where connection would be made with existing pavement.

Rapid progress has been made on the streets and avenues where property owners have entered the project, and first phases of grade and drainage work has been done and curbs laid in preparation for actual paving.

The contractors expect to move in crushers and other heavy equipment during the next few days. Then laying of the street base will begin, to be followed with surfacing and completion of the all-weather paving.

The fact that a large amount of equipment and personnel is involved in doing the paving, makes it imperative that once the project has been started that it proceed without interruption, contractors explained. For this reason, it is necessary that all property owners desiring streets improved should make arrangements or sign contracts before the Sept. 30 deadline, the contractors have pointed out.

Amended Law Prohibits Employment Of Children Under 16 In Farm Work

New provisions of the Child Labor section of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act, which will be in effect for the first time this year, may result in an appreciable curtailment of a farm labor source during the cotton gathering season, Haskell county farmers learned this week.

With the opening of the fall term of school, William J. Rogers of Dallas, Regional Director of the wage and hour division of the U. S. Department of Labor has called the attention of Mrs. Iva Palmer, county school superintendent to the fact that when Congress amended the Fair Labor Standards Act in 1949, the Child Labor provisions of the Federal Law were extended considerably.

It is now illegal to employ children under 16 years of age in agriculture during school hours. In industry, the law prohibits the employment of oppressive child labor—generally boys and girls under 16 years of age—in interstate commerce or in production of goods for commerce.

The law in reference to child labor in agriculture applies to local resident children as well as migratory children—but not to the farmer's own children working on their parent's farm.

Mrs. Palmer was sent a bulletin which sets forth in summary form what farmers who hire workers should know about the Child Labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act. For it is the farmers themselves who are responsible, Regional Director Rogers pointed out.

The bulletin will be available to any interested farmer at the office of the County Superintendent.

Carl Fischer Back From Hunting Trip In Wyoming

Carl H. Fischer, Haskell farmer and one of the section's most ardent sportsmen, returned last week from an 8-day hunting and fishing trip in Natrona county, Wyoming.

Prime object of his trip was to hunt antelope, which had been reported plentiful in that section. He reported this to be the case, and bagged a fine specimen after hunting only a few hours. Each hunter is allowed to kill only one antelope, Fischer explained, and he spent the remainder of the time fishing to round out a thoroughly enjoyable outing.

He was joined on the trip by Don Dobbs, rancher living southwest of Casper, Wyo. He reported the first snow of the season there on the Sunday before he returned.

The program for the day also was presented by the Abilene delegation. One number on the program, dedicated to Mayor Courtney Hunt, set off a round of good natured banter in which the Haskell mayor ribbed Abilene for its stand in helping Stamford secure water rights to Paint Creek over this city's opposition.

Guests were introduced by John A. Couch. Zeke Williams and his Rambling Cowboys string band gave an excellent musical program interspersed with vocal numbers. Jo Ann Williams, vocalist, sang "You Don't Have to Be a Baby to Cry, Rock-a-Bye Baby Blues, and Cool Water, the latter song dedicated to Mayor Hunt. A violin selection, Old Fashioned Hoe, followed, with Mrs. Williams singing by request, Good Night Irene, as a closing number.

Mrs. Edna Tharp of Throckmorton Is Suicide Victim

Mrs. J. W. Tharp, Jr., about 40, of Throckmorton, was found dead of a single gunshot wound in her chest about 6:30 p. m. Wednesday in that city.

A note, addressed to her daughter, Mrs. Frances Nichols of Throckmorton, gave details for the funeral. Mrs. Tharp was the former owner of Edna's Drive-In in Throckmorton. She had been in ill health for several months.

Burial will be in Willow Cemetery in this city under the direction of Mansell-Smith funeral home of Rochester.

Record Seizure of Beer Results From Raid Sunday

In the largest single seizure of beer and liquor in the county's history, Sheriff Bob Cousins, and members of his department, assisted by officers of neighboring towns, confiscated a trailer of beer, wine and assorted liquors in a surprise raid Sunday night at O'Brien.

The illicit merchandise was found in a 4-wheel trailer on the outskirts of O'Brien, in an overnight camp occupied by Edd Martinez, San Antonio Latin American, and members of his family. Sheriff Cousins said. Martinez was taken into custody and charged with possession of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale in a dry area.

According to Sheriff Cousins, Martinez came to O'Brien either Friday or Saturday of last week from San Antonio. He identified himself to officers as the former proprietor of La Polka Inn and Del Rio Bar in San Antonio.

Martinez was arraigned before County Judge O. E. Patterson Monday morning, and entered a plea of guilty to the charge of violating the State liquor law. His fine was assessed at $1,800 and costs of court, maximum penalty for the first offense court officials said. Beer and other liquors taken in the raid were confiscated.

Assisting Sheriff Cousins in the raid were Deputy Sheriff Harry Donohoe and City Marshall Brooks Middleton of Haskell, City Marshall Bo Loper of Rochester, Sheriff Henry Melton and Deputy Frank Hill of Knox county.

Paint Creek Rolls Over Lawn Squad 72 To 12

Paint Creek Rural High School's powerful Pirates 6-man football squad snowballed over the hapless Lawn High School team 72-12 in last week's game, played at Lawn.

Coach Wayne Preston's Pirates started their scoring spree seconds after the whistle blew, when Thomas circled left end on the second play of the game and raced 55 yards for Paint Creek's initial marker. It came fast and furious with Thomas running over two more markers and pitching two touchdown passes good for 35 yards each.

Pirates alternated in the scoring match with Grand, Moody, Kingston, and Mickler parading across the lawn stripe.

Williams and Roberts scored touchdowns for Lawn.

For their game this week, the Pirates play Knox City at Paint Creek, under new lights said to be among the best installations in this section. All conference games will be played at Paint Creek, Coach Preston has announced.

Convention President Rowan of Knox City said that invitations had been extended to several well known quartets, including one from Lubbock to attend and take part in the program. Singers of Haskell and vicinity are urged to make their plans to attend.

HHS INDIANS DEFEAT HAMLIN 27-0 FRIDAY NIGHT

Local Cattle Inspector T. J. Lemmon has been pretty busy of late inspecting bunches of cattle in this county, also Stonewall and Fisher, whose owners planned to move further west into the Panhandle. It seems that the great influx of new settlers is making things uncomfortable for cattlemen who failed to provide against the inevitable by buying land.

Mr. Kirkland from Erath county, who recently purchased 480 acres of land in this county, has returned and is hauling out lumber to improve his new place.

B. T. Lanier, who resides in the extreme north part of the county, sent us word the other day that he needs additional cotton pickers.

M. L. Laughlin of McLennan county was here this week and bought 320 acres of land and intends to move to it at once.

Prof. Litsey informs us that enrollment in the Haskell school this week was 181 pupils, and he estimates there should be considerably more than 200. It is probable that the active demand for cotton pickers is keeping a good many out.

Beulah Bartell and B. C. Miller Ceremony in Wichita Falls

The First Presbyterian church in Wichita Falls, where the wedding ceremony of Beulah Bartell and B. C. Miller was held, was the scene of a beautiful ceremony. The bride, Beulah Bartell, was accompanied by her father, Albert Bartell, and the groom, B. C. Miller, was accompanied by his father, B. C. Miller, Jr. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Earl W. Crawford, pastor of the church. The wedding party consisted of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, and best man. The ceremony was held in the sanctuary of the church, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The wedding party was accompanied by a quartet of voices. The ceremony was held at 7:30 o'clock.

were used over the drapery. The wedding party stood in a space marked by white silk roping looped through white standards. Max Kruetz, accompanied by Mrs. Kruetz at the organ, sang "I Love Thee, The Lovely Song My Heart is Singing and the Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Kruetz remained at the organ to play Wagner's traditional Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, and Mendelssohn's recessional. Byron Hester, flutist from the Curtis Conservatory of Music in Philadelphia and personal friend of the groom, played a flute solo during the recitation of wedding vows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Albert Bartell, wore a Lillie Hill original in white velvet. The deep silk net yoke of the drop shoulder bodice was outlined in an embroidered motif of pearls and white beads. The flared peplum which encircled the waistline of the gown was moulded into a train at the back. Her veil of sheer silk net was attached to a halo of white ostrich plumes. She completed her costume with pearl earrings, a gift from the groom. An arrangement of white anthurium and Bouvardia on a background of mallow was carried atop the white Bible. The book was "something borrowed" from Mrs. Norb T. Emanuel, long time friend of the bride.

All of the bride's attendants wore matching gowns of copper-glow taffeta. Each carried an arm bouquet of tritomas and croton leaves tied with satin ribbons. Mrs. John Wells served as matron of honor while Miss Roma Harris and Mesdames Sidney J. Smith and Earl W. Tayntor were the bridesmaids. Miss Judith Ann Wells, as flower girl, wore a little white velvet frock styled similarly to the bridal gown. Fred Albert Bartell, nephew of the bride, carried the rings. He was dressed in a white velvet suit and wore black carnation boutonnieres. John A. Miller attended his son as best man. Three brothers of the groom, Bobby Leroy Miller, Dallas, Harrell A. Miller, Montague, Harmon O. Miller, Wichita Falls, together with two brothers of the bride, Jack Bartell of O'Brien and James H. Bartell of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Barney Cecil Miller

served as ushers and groomsmen. The list completed with a college roommate of the groom's, Charlie Chawning of Lancaster. The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bartell of Weinert, is a graduate of Wichita Falls high school and Hardin Junior College. She received her bachelor's degree from North Texas State College in Denton. She is a past president of the Business Girls Club and is, at present an extension officer in Zeta Epsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, treasurer of the Girl's Service Organization, and parliamentarian for the Texas-Shreveport, La., Business, Professional, and Industrial Girls' Conference. As a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Wichita Falls, she has been an active participant in the work of the choir.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Miller is also a Wichita Falls high school graduate. He holds degrees from North Texas State College and Columbia University Teachers College, and is affiliated with Alpha Epsilon Delta, national honorary medical fraternity for which he is a faculty advisor, Kappa Delta Pi, national education fraternity, and the American Association of University Professors.

The wedding reception was held in the parlors of the First Presbyterian Church following the ceremony. Mrs. I. H. Roberts presided at the silver punch bowl, and Mrs. D. J. White assisted in serving. Mrs. Jack Bartell of O'Brien was at the bride's book.

Following a wedding trip to Monterrey, Mexico, and points of interest en route to Auburn, Ala., the couple will establish residence in the latter city.

Women influence the purchasing of 80 per cent of the clothes bought by men under forty, according to a report released by the University of Maine, and they influence the purchase of one out of every three suits for men. Since men's suits represent the largest item of their clothing expenditure, Mary Routh, clothing specialist for the Texas A & M. Extension Service, says that it is important that the housewife know what determines the value of men's suits. The value of a suit depends largely on three things—the material, the tailoring or construction, and the fit. According to recent survey by the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics, wool is the most popular material for men's suits; therefore, Miss Routh emphasizes that the housewife must learn to judge this material accurately. She says that experts judge wool material by its feel and appearance. She recommends always checking the labels. Federal law requires fiber-content labels on all suits that contain wool, and the tags must be on each piece of the suit. The label gives information as to the kind of wool and how much of it the suiting contains, the percentage of fibers other than wool, and the name of the manufacturer. Miss Routh cautions that the information on the label applies only to the outer garment, not to the lining and hidden materials inside the coat unless they are specifically mentioned. She points out that outside marks of good quality in a suit are fine, close stitching; a collar smoothly shaped to the neck; fabric patterns matched; the coat cut accurately with the grain of the fabric; shoulders well shaped; armholes smoothly pressed; button holes closely and firmly worked; button holes sewed with at least four threads through each hole of a 4th-hole button; smooth tailored pockets; and a thorough pressing job. The lining should be firm, closely woven, fast color, and should not shrink or pucker in pressing or dry cleaning. Miss Routh says that puckers at the bottoms of men's coats are usually the result of lining shrinkage. She lists several points to be checked for a good fit when trying on a new suit. The coat must be long enough to cover the seat of the trousers. The coat should set low enough on the neck to show half an inch of shirt collar. The sleeves should be tapered and short enough to show half an inch of shirt cuff. The coat should not break at the middle button and bulge in the rear. The vest must cover the trouser waist band. The trousers should hang straight from the hips, and have plenty of seat room. Miss Routh reminds also that neither the trousers or the jacket should fit snugly. The loose fit of a jacket disguises the bulk of a large man and hides the slimmness of a man too thin.

Ironing Tips Help Improve Looks of Cotton Fabrics

Shiny spots from ironing which are frequently seen on cotton dresses, especially dark cottons, can be prevented by ironing the better cotton garments on the wrong side and then finishing on the right side, says Mary Routh, extension clothing specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

A garment may either be allowed to dry completely and then sprinkled before ironing. Miss Routh says that warm water is best for sprinkling because it spreads through the cloth more easily than cold water. Home management specialists recommend a bottle with a sprinker top for doing a quick but thorough job. Miss Routh says that, since any moisture left in the cotton fabric will cause it to pucker and wrinkle, each part of the garment should be ironed completely dry as the work proceeds. Double thickness such as waist bands, hems, and seams should be ironed well on the wrong side and then finished on the right side with light, quick pressure of the iron. To avoid small creases at the seams, Miss Routh advises pulling the seams straight and smooth and holding them at a slight tension to keep them straight while ironing, being careful not to stretch. Pressing with the thread or grain of the fabric avoids sagging results. Using a sleeve board or sleeve pad on the end of the ironing board helps in pressing difficult parts of a garment. Best results are obtained by nosing the point of the iron around buttons and placing tiny rows of buttons face down on a soft pad and ironing on the wrong side of the material. Laces and embroideries should also be ironed on the wrong side over a soft pad.

A general order of ironing which Miss Routh suggests is—cuffs, sleeves, ruffles, collar, sash ends, blouse, and skirt. Any parts that are wrinkled in handling must be pressed again and all dresses should be hung at once on hangers to allow any possible moisture to dry out before storing. Women Influence Selection Of Men's Apparel

Women influence the purchasing of 80 per cent of the clothes bought by men under forty, according to a report released by the University of Maine, and they influence the purchase of one out of every three suits for men. Since men's suits represent the largest item of their clothing expenditure, Mary Routh, clothing specialist for the Texas A & M. Extension Service, says that it is important that the housewife know what determines the value of men's suits. The value of a suit depends largely on three things—the material, the tailoring or construction, and the fit. According to recent survey by the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics, wool is the most popular material for men's suits; therefore, Miss Routh emphasizes that the housewife must learn to judge this material accurately. She says that experts judge wool material by its feel and appearance. She recommends always checking the labels. Federal law requires fiber-content labels on all suits that contain wool, and the tags must be on each piece of the suit. The label gives information as to the kind of wool and how much of it the suiting contains, the percentage of fibers other than wool, and the name of the manufacturer. Miss Routh cautions that the information on the label applies only to the outer garment, not to the lining and hidden materials inside the coat unless they are specifically mentioned. She points out that outside marks of good quality in a suit are fine, close stitching; a collar smoothly shaped to the neck; fabric patterns matched; the coat cut accurately with the grain of the fabric; shoulders well shaped; armholes smoothly pressed; button holes closely and firmly worked; button holes sewed with at least four threads through each hole of a 4th-hole button; smooth tailored pockets; and a thorough pressing job. The lining should be firm, closely woven, fast color, and should not shrink or pucker in pressing or dry cleaning. Miss Routh says that puckers at the bottoms of men's coats are usually the result of lining shrinkage. She lists several points to be checked for a good fit when trying on a new suit. The coat must be long enough to cover the seat of the trousers. The coat should set low enough on the neck to show half an inch of shirt collar. The sleeves should be tapered and short enough to show half an inch of shirt cuff. The coat should not break at the middle button and bulge in the rear. The vest must cover the trouser waist band. The trousers should hang straight from the hips, and have plenty of seat room. Miss Routh reminds also that neither the trousers or the jacket should fit snugly. The loose fit of a jacket disguises the bulk of a large man and hides the slimmness of a man too thin.

Using a sleeve board or sleeve pad on the end of the ironing board helps in pressing difficult parts of a garment. Best results are obtained by nosing the point of the iron around buttons and placing tiny rows of buttons face down on a soft pad and ironing on the wrong side of the material. Laces and embroideries should also be ironed on the wrong side over a soft pad.

A general order of ironing which Miss Routh suggests is—cuffs, sleeves, ruffles, collar, sash ends, blouse, and skirt. Any parts that are wrinkled in handling must be pressed again and all dresses should be hung at once on hangers to allow any possible moisture to dry out before storing. Freshly ginned cotton seed should be checked closely for damaged seed before it is stored. Only sound seed with a moisture content of less than 12 per cent are suitable for storing, unless sufficient facilities are available for drying and cooling the seed.

Litter is important in the poultry house. A layer from four to six inches deep should be used on the floor to aid in controlling the moisture in the house. The kind of litter used is not so important as long as it will absorb moisture.

SMALL BUSINESS
 By C. WILSON HARDER

at Frantschach, Austria, for modern machinery.

This company is the only paper mill in Austria... therefore, a monopoly. Lack of capital over the years eliminated independent American paper producers; eliminated competitive newsprint prices. Hence the protests over this latest ECA action by independent American publishers.

From California reports are pouring into Washington of alleged profiteering that may set in motion a full scale investigation of the California oil industry, which is closely held and controlled by a few large combines to the virtual exclusion of independent concerns.

While the Department of Defense, since the start of the Korean War, is paying 8% more for needed supplies, on the West Coast, the government is paying 54.3% more for fuel oil, 12.4% more for gasoline, than paid in April... this means independent business must assume a still greater tax burden.

At the same time, a leading California broker specializing in oil stocks, released a report stating prior to Korea the California oil industry was plagued with a surplus of heavy fuel oil.

Now, the report states, the average daily refining of crude has jumped from 82 thousand barrels to 975 thousand barrels; crude oil inventories in California have dropped 2 million barrels.

Next week, we will give you a factual authentic report on independent businessmen's opinion on price controls.

Many New Range Grasses Found By Experiments

Over 650 different kinds of grasses obtained from all parts of the world have been planted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station during the period since 1907.

Dr. R. C. Potts, associate professor of agronomy in charge of forage crop investigations, says that the Experiment Station is always on the lookout for new grasses. Some of the new grasses are collected by expeditions that are sent to all parts of the world, and others are obtained through an exchange of seed with agricultural workers in foreign countries.

Dr. Potts points out that a large per cent of the pasture grasses planted in Texas today are introduced species. Dallis grass, Bermuda, Rhodes, Sudan, Yellow beardgrass, Angleton grass and many others are in this category.

In the past year, over 100 different grass species have been planted in the Experiment Station introductory garden at College Station. When grasses are obtained that apparently are not adapted to weather conditions of College Station, they are planted at the Experiment Stations at Weslaco, Chillicothe or Amarillo.

According to Dr. Potts, several years are required for observing a promising new grass and to determine its adaption to various soil and climatic conditions in the state. It is tested for yield and chemical composition and is compared with other grasses. After a few years, the proof of its value is determined by subjecting it to a grazing test.

After the value of the new grass is definitely proven, 10 to 20 years may pass before the farmers accept it and start planting it for pasture use. As an example of the farmers reluctance to accept a new grass, Dr. Potts points out that in 1926 the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station published a bulletin on Angleton grass, and today, Angleton grass is just coming into use.

Drivers Must Slow Speed In Passing School Buses

Did you know that you are required to stop your car immediately before passing a school bus which is discharging children, if that bus is on a highway outside of a business or residence district? After having stopped, you may then proceed at a prudent speed not to exceed 10 miles per hour, until you are safely beyond the bus. This is required of you whether you are meeting or overtaking the school bus. This law was passed in 1947 by the 50th Texas Legislature as a part of the Uniform Act of Traffic Laws.

If you will notice within the next day or two, you will see in operation some of the approximately 6,000 school buses which carry tens of thousands of Texas children to and from school every day. The law stated in this article is one of several which have to do with the operation of a motor vehicle in the vicinity of a school bus which is unloading or discharging children.

Each year a number of accidents occur which usually involve a passing car and one of the children getting off of the bus. These accidents are of the most heart-breaking kind because they usually mean that some young, happy school child has either been killed or possibly maimed for life.

Each driver of an automobile should know and follow the rules concerning motor vehicle traffic around school buses, because these rules were made in an effort to protect the children who ride in them. It is often a hardship for some of these children to get ready in time to ride the bus many long miles into school each day. Certainly if these boys and girls will put forth that much effort, the drivers of automobiles on our streets and highways can exercise enough care to protect their safety on the way to and from school. Drive carefully—you may save a life.

Just sharpen your pencil—and there you are!

ACROSS this broad land there are thousands of people who have been doing themselves a disfavor. Seems they "just naturally assume" a Buick is beyond their reach—and so pass up the car they're really itching to own. Now why "assume" anything as important to your happiness as a new car? Why not see for yourself how delivered prices run—how close Buick matches your own budget—how frequently it is priced under some cars you may be considering? Then—if there is a particular car in mind—sharpen up your pencil a little. Is it a six—or an eight, like Buick? If an eight, is it a valve-in-head eight? That adds a plus in efficiency, you know, even without the extra edge of Buick's Fireball power. Will you ride on four soft coil springs, as in Buick—or on only two? Will the drive be through a sealed torque-tube that keeps the rear wheel assembly firmly aligned? It is in a Buick. Do you get soft, low-pressure tires as part of the price—or as extras? Will you have bumper guards built as part of the bumper, or a one-piece cast metal grille that can be costly to repair or replace?

Does the price include air cleaner; oil filter; dual horns, windshield wipers and sun visors; an automatic dome light; self-locking luggage lid; a single key for all locks? And is there an automatic drive*, or one in which gears still shift in normal driving? Yes, sharpen your pencil—and there you will be, in a Buick. Whether it's a SPECIAL, a SUPER or a lordly ROADMASTER, you'll be driving the big buy of its price class, and getting a rich bonus of driving comfort, driving thrill and "fashion-see" styling. But you have to make the first move. You are the one who has to find out. How about starting now—with a call on your Buick dealer?

6,000 School Buses Serve Students In Texas Schools

Texans are now taking good care of their million and a half school children including transporting of 320,000 of them 55,550,365 miles during the last school year, the Texas State Teachers Association pointed out today.

Nearly 6,000 public school buses carried the children to and from their homes during the 175 days last school term a distance equal to 2,222 trips around the world at the equator. The daily total of travel was 317,431 miles.

State school funds provided for transportation averaged a little more than $30 per pupil for the year, or a total of $10,346,175. Only children living two or more miles from school are provided transportation.

A total of 25,212 more pupils were carried by school buses during the last scholastic year than during the 1948-49 term. The increase was partly due to the consolidation of more school districts and more districts qualifying for state aid, but most of it was caused by increased enrollment. Nearly 5 per cent more children were in the public schools last year than in 1948-49. Transportation increasing 6 per cent. The nearly 6,000 buses in use throughout the state are valued at $17,492,869, according to a survey recently completed by L. H. Griffin, state school director of administration services.

His survey also disclosed that one-fourth of the school buses should be replaced with new ones. School buses are expected to give satisfactory, economical and safe service for five years.

More than five per cent of the buses in use are ten or more years old. Another three per cent are nine years old and 17 per cent of the vehicles have been in service from six to eight years.

School buses traveled 126,218 miles daily over dirt roads and the remainder 191,213 miles on paved or gravel thoroughfares.

Buses and tires are now purchased through the state at a considerable saving to the individual school districts.

A few well-chosen pieces of recreation equipment will increase the pleasure provided by beautiful home grounds.

A high percentage of the pasture grasses that are planted in Texas at the present time are species that have been introduced or brought into the state.

Farmers Warned To Check Against Pink Bollworm

Farmers of this area have been advised by the Pink Bollworm Control Bureau, USDA, of the importance of cleaning the migrant cotton pickers' sacks before letting them in the cotton fields.

L. F. Curl, head of the bureau, said there was an alarming increase in pink bollworm population in South Texas cotton fields, and that cotton pickers are unknowingly transporting the worms to other counties.

In recent weeks, thousands of pickers were checked through road patrols set up on highways leading from South Texas. Pink-bollworms were found in the confiscated seed cotton and cotton bolls. The cleaning of a mechanical cotton picker en route from Nueces county to Caldwell by a road patrol resulted in finding three living pink bollworms in a handful of seed cotton. Three other worms came out of a single opened boll.

Ginners are requested to cooperate with the Department of Agriculture in helping to check any possible spread of the worm.

Curl urges growers to take any insect with which they are not familiar to their county agent and ask that he place it in a preservative and send it to the Division of Pink Bollworm Control, San Antonio, for identification.

The new beef cattle center at Texas A. & M. College will be dedicated at 1:30 p. m., Sept. 29. This is the first unit to be completed in the new animal husbandry center that is now under construction. The center will be the equal of any in the nation when all units are completed.

Poultrymen can increase fall and winter egg production and thus take advantage of the high prices paid for eggs at these seasons by using lights in the laying house.

Winter legumes should be planted in most sections of the state as soon as possible or when moisture conditions are favorable.

Tommie Rhodes, Bobby Price Among Outstanding Grid Prospects at A&M

The Texas Aggies went after the hefty linemen again—and got 'em, including two from Haskell, Bobby Jack Price and Tommie Rhodes—plus some highly outstanding backfield prospects.

This fall, the Aggies' varsity line finally will be on even terms with most of its foes in the weight department. A poundage check of new enrollees who will play on the Aggies' 1950 freshman team indicates the Cadets intend to keep on fielding big lines.

Heading the Aggie freshman line group are two widely sought all-stars—tackles Jerry Cotter, 225, of Littlefield, and center Calvin Billings, 212, of Sulphur, La.
Another promising forward is Bill Burt Shaell, all-America high school tackle from Holy Cross High in New Orleans. He weighs 202.

Other tackles who have enrolled at Texas A. & M. include Pat Pate of Austin, 240; John Gibbons of Uvalde, 250; Don Goodwin of Arlington, 220; Choyses Hall, 245, and Doyle George, 215, of Dallas Sunset; Hal Parks, 215, of Aranssas Pass and Bert Koegl, 210 of Ablene.

Tommie Rhodes, 210 of Haskell; Bobby Morgan, 212 of Huntsville and Bob Gomey, 198 of Handley join Billings in making a dandy foursome of centers who will be available for the Aggies' upcoming inter-sectional games with UCLA, Oklahoma, Michigan State, Kentucky, Georgia and other major schools.

Prize catches among ends include Eric Miller, 200 of Bartlett; Alva Murphy of Hempstead; Bobby Price, 205 of Haskell and Bernard Petty, 195 of San Anselo.

The Aggies went for quality rather than quantity among the backs and came up with some prospects who would make any college coach smile.

Franklin (Buck) Gibson of Rising Star, George Perkins, all-stater from DeQuincy, La.; Pete Mayeaux, 200 pound all-state halfback from Holy Cross High
New Orleans, and hard-hitting Bud Rollins, 195 of Wink are among the better backfield prospects who have cast their lots with the Aggies.

Oklahoma coach, Bud Wilkinson described Gibson as "one of the best looking college prospects participating in the all-star game at Austin last month," then added,

"I'd like to have him."
Other Aggie freshman backs include Joe Russell of San Angelo; Don Criswell, 175 pound running mate of Gibson at Rising Star; Bill Finn, 175 pound T-quarterback from Denison and John Caveiler, speedy halfback from Austin.

Perron Shoemaker will coach the Aggie freshmen who open their schedule against Allen Academy under the Kyle Field lights on Oct. 5.

Mayor Courtney Hunt Praises Safety Theme of Camp Fire Girls In Drive

In stressing safety as the theme of their annual Membership March, Camp Fire Girls once again are proving their value to Haskell and to the country, Mayor Courtney Hunt said today.

"Camp Fire has always had my enthusiastic support. Its objectives —to perpetuate the spiritual ideals of the home and to aid in the formation of habits making for health and character—are to be commended. And Camp Fire Girls current campaign to focus attention on the need for safety should be endorsed by every conscientious citizen."

Mayor Hunt cited the number of accidents involving persons under 18 ears of age as indicating the need for increased safety among the school population.
"And it isn't young persons alone who need to be 'careful-conscious.'
I think we might all follow Camp Fire's slogan, Camp Fire for a happy life—safety for a long one."
Camp Fire Girls Membership March opened September 13 and will continue through November 30.

"During that period," Council President Ryland Gleaton said, "we hope to bring Camp Fire's fun, friendship and high ideals to each girl in the West Texas area who would like to be a member of this national organization."

Present membership of the area council is 350 while Camp Fire Girls throughout the United States number more than 300,000.

The organization founded in 1910 by Dr. Luther Gulick and a group of progressive educators, is open to girls from 7 to 18 of all races and religion. Blue Birds are 7 to 10 years old; Camp Fire Girls are 10 through junior high age and Horizon Club members are senior high school girls.

Lanier-Mobley Motor Co. New Studebaker Dealers In Haskell

The opening of a new automobile agency in Haskell, Lanier-Mobley Motor Company, Studebaker dealers, has been announced by S. E. Lanier and Robert Mobley, prominent Haskell businessmen who have been associated in the firm implement and tractor business here for several years as Oliver dealers.

Expansion of their business interests and entry into the automotive field was prompted by a firm belief in the continued growth and rapid development of Haskell and trade territory. Messrs. Lanier and Mobley said in announcing the expansion of their business activities.

This coupled with the opportunity to secure dealership for Studebaker automobiles, one of America's best selling cars in its field, also prompted the enlargement and remodeling of the business home occupied by Lanier-Mobley located west of the square on North 1st Street, to accommodate the Studebaker agency.

The large and modern building, erected only a few years ago, has been completely remodelled, repainted and rearranged to provide sales and showrooms for Studebaker models. A complete sales and service staff will be maintained in connection with the automotive agency, they announced.

As an introduction of the new agency, formal opening of Lanier-Mobley Motor Company has been set for Saturday, Sept. 23. Four different models of the new Studebakers will be on display, and refreshments will be served to all visitors throughout the day. Also a number of free gifts will be awarded at 8 p. m. Saturday, in which all visitors who register during the day will participate.

To Continue Oliver Dealership
Lanier-Mobley will continue their Oliver dealership in Haskell, with the same attention and service to the farmers of the Haskell area as in the past. They will continue to handle a complete line of Oliver tractors and implements, and repair parts.

A repair department manned by Arthur Patton and Merritt Pickering, both experienced and qualified mechanics, will be maintained and they will be prepared to handle any type of repair job promptly.

Artificial Light Ups Egg Production

Poultrymen can increase their fall and winter egg production and take advantage of the high prices of these seasons of the year by using the simple electric light.

For maximum production, a hen needs 12 to 14 hours of light a day, says W. J. Moore, associate poultry husbandman for Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. He explains that the electric light can be used to artificially lengthen the hen's laying day.

The use of artificial light should begin about the middle of September, and should be used until next spring. Moore cautions that the light rays must fall on the birds for best results, even if they stay on the roosts.

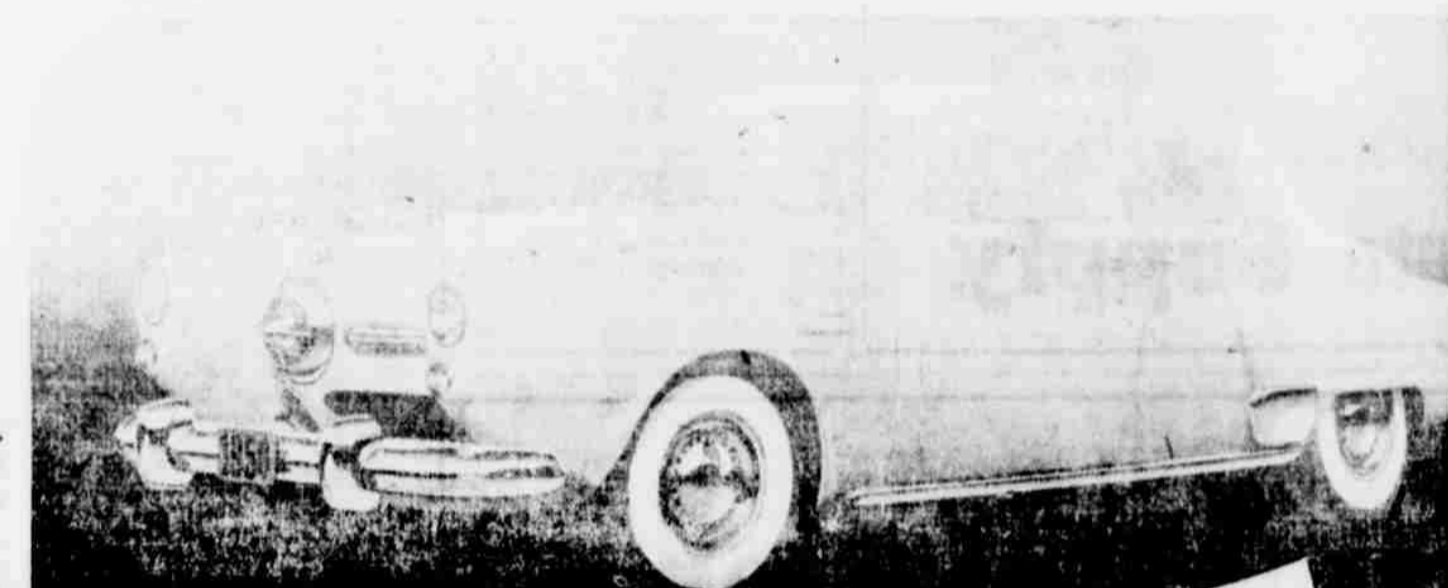

Moore says that it is not the extra feed which the birds may eat that keeps egg production up during the winter, but the effect of the light. And it makes no difference whether morning or evening light are used, although morning lights are more common since they are more convenient for the poultryman to use.

In using morning lights, the recommended procedure is to turn the light on about 30 minutes before daylight in the fall of the year as the days begin to get short, and to turn them on a little earlier each morning as the days get shorter.

When evening lights are used, the lights are turned on in the late afternoon before dark, and are allowed to burn until the birds have received their 12 to 14 hours of light per day. Moore cautions poultrymen to dim their evening lights for a few minutes before turning them completely off so the hens will have time to get on the roosts.

Extremely large light bulbs are not necessary for providing plenty of light for the laying hens. He recommends using two 25 to 40 watt bulbs for each 400 feet of floor space.

A group from Sagerton attended morning services and quarterly conference at Tuxedo last Sunday. The Rev Crawford, district superintendent of Stamford, delivered the message and World Wide Communion was observed. Those attending from Sagerton were Mr. nad Mrs. Cliff LeFevre, Mr. and Mrs. M. Y. Benton, Mr. and Mrs. Reece Clark and Glenda, Mrs. Jess Thames and children, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Clark, Bob and Steve, and Mr. and Mrs. Debert LeFevre, Linda and Larry. Dinner was served at the church. Sagerton has invited the Tuxedo members to the next quarterly conference to be held here at the Sagerton Methodist Church, Sunday, Dec. 10.

Rev. Grotte, Lutheran pastor of Roscoe, held services in the St. Paul's Lutheran Church here Sunday night, since they have no regular pastor.

Texas Baptists Set Ten Million Dollar Goal For Missions

A ten million dollar goal for mission work next year will be explained to Baptist churches all over Texas during September and October. In approximately 105 one day meetings, beginning this week, Baptist leaders will acquaint laymen and pastors with the denominational program.

For Baptist work, Texas is divided into 117 associations. At least one of the stewardship rallies will be held in nearly every association between September 11 and October 13.

Teams of three will conduct the rallies and will help individual churches make plans for participation in the ten million dollar program. The teams are made up of well known pastors and laymen, representatives of the Woman's Missionary Union, the men's Brotherhood, Sunday school and Training Union.

Already approved by the state executive board, the multi-million dollar objective must be adopted by the annual meeting of the Baptist General Convention of Texas in Fort Worth in November before it goes into effect.

Five million dollars is expected to come from gifts of the 3,000 odd Baptist churches in the state. The denomination hopes the other five million will come from individual gifts.

Many Rules Govern Sending Xmas Gifts Overseas
Christmas is again "just around the corner" and the Dallas Regional office of the U. S. Department of Commerce calls your attention to the fact that packages sent abroad should conform to all regulations and requirements of each country's government, and should be mailed far enough in advance they will not be caught in the last minute rush.
The Dallas office reminds you that a Christmas gift should be a pleasure to receive, not a burden to the recipient. Provisions for sending gift packages to foreign countries and the various import regulations for each country are available in the Dallas Regional office of the U. S. Department of Commerce, Room 1114, 1114 Commerce St.
Each country's regulations on unsolicited gift packages sent from one individual to another are radically different; some countries permit the importation of items of necessity duty free, while others prohibit entirely the importation of many items even when included in gift shipments, the Dallas office said. Meeting the U. S. export control requirements is another regulation which must be complied with.
The Dallas office of the U. S. Department of Commerce requests that you be sure to state the country, or countries, to which

Inoculation Helps Legumes Yield

Legumes are fine soil building crops if they are properly inoculated and fertilized. Most fields should be planted to a legume crop at least once every three years, to improve the soil fertility and to make crop production more profitable.
For legumes to be effective in building up soil fertility, it is necessary that the seed be inoculated with the right kind of inoculant, says E. A. Miller, agronomist for the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. The label on the inoculant container indicates the kinds of legume seed on which the inoculant may be used. The inoculation provides bacteria which live in the nodules on the leguminous plant roots and makes possible their utilization of nitrogen from the air.
Miller says that inoculated legumes may well be called nitrogen factories. Other crops such as cotton, corn and grain sorghums cannot utilize nitrogen from the air. They have to get it from the soil and, therefore, are soil depleting crops. To make sure that the plants will have plenty of nodules, many farmers now use a double dose of the inoculant.
The other important step in growing legumes, Miller says, is fertilizing properly. Good legume fertilizer for the depleted sandy loam soils in the eastern half of Texas are 3-12-12, 4-12-8, 5-10-5 and 4-12-4 applied at the rate of 300 to 400 pounds per acre. He says that 0-14-7 and 0-12-12 are suitable for use on the newer and better soils.
On the blackland soils in the Gulf Coast Prairie, 200 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate is suitable, but 0-14-7 and 4-12-8 are better for use on the sandy and sandy loam soils of this region.
In the blackland region of north, central and south Texas and the Grand Prairie region, 200 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate per acre is recommended for the blackland and 200 pounds of 4-12-4 or 0-14-7 for the sandy loam soils in the area.
The application of 200 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate per acre on the better soils of the West Cross Timbers and Rolling Plains areas and the same amount of 0-14-7 on old sandy crop land in those areas is recommended. In either 100 pounds of 11-48-0 or 200 to 300 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate per acre are suitable for fertilizing legumes growing under irrigation on the High Plains.
Miller recommends using 200 pounds of superphosphate on the heavy soils of the Rio Grande Plain and 200 pounds of 4-12-4 on the sandy soils.
In the Lower Rio Grande, Winter Garden, Edwards Plateau, Pecos, and El Paso irrigated valleys, Miller advises using 400 to 600 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate on legumes.

He says your local county agricultural agent will be glad to give you the latest information on growing legume crops and suggests that you visit him soon.
