Downpour Brings Almost 3 Inches Rain Wednesday

Ballots and Supplies Distributed For Second Primary August 26

A hard downpour of rain of near cloudburst proportions dumped 2.57 inches of moisture within the space of an hour and a half Wednesday afternoon flooding the streets in some sections of town.

The rain which began falling shortly after noon, was accompanied by stiff winds and scattered light hail in the immediate vicinity of Haskell but not of sufficient intensity to cause damage.

Continued showers Wednesday afternoon and night brought additional moisture amounting to .33 inches to bring the days total to almost three inches and boost August precipitation to 4.51 inches according to John B. Martin, local Government weather observer. Total for the year now stands at 22.59 inches for the first seven and a half months of 1950, he reported.

Wednesday's rain was fairly general over the county, but precipitation south of Haskell was considerably lighter than the downpour received here. At Rule, rainfall of more than three inches was reported for that area. An electrical disturbance accompanying Wednesday night's rain disrupted electric power service for a brief interval here.

The rain will benefit cotton and late feed crops, but will delay gathering of a bumper maize crop which was just getting under way, local grain dealers said.

Cotton farmers, too will be delayed for several days in getting back into the fields where cotton is being sprayed or dusted to combat insect infestations some farmers said.

considering the number of absentee votes polled. County Clerk Horace Oneal reported that up to Wednesday noon he had received only 8 applications for absentee ballots. Absentee voting began August 6, and will continue until August 22, he explained.

Only one local race remains to be decided in the second primary. This is the Commissioner's race in Precinct 4, where incumbent C. L. (Roy) Clark and D. S. Strickland went into the run-off.

The five State races to be decided August 26 are:

For Lieutenant Governor: Ben Ramsey of San Augustine county and Pierce P. Brooks of Dallas county.

For Associate Justice of Supreme Court, Place 1: Will Wilson of Dallas county and Fagan Dickson of Bexar county.

For Associate Justice of Supreme Court, Place 3: Mead F. Griffin of Hale county and George W. Haarwood of Dallas county.

Call your doctor and then, if help is needed, contact your local chapter of the National Foundation. When polio is around, these precautions are recommended: Keep children with their own friends and away from people they have not been with right along. buttons and buckles that may be damaged in the laundering, the removal of any spots or stains that need a special solvent or cleanser before wetting the dress, the handling of colored garments as quickly as possible, and using heavy suds made from mild neutral soap in warm water.

Referring to the actual washing process, she says, immerse the entire dress and squeeze the suds through the material. Never rub or scrub delicate fabrics. For heavier soiled spots, such as those on collars and cuffs, use a small brush and brush lightly.

Rinse in three waters, being sure that the first rinse is the same temperature as the wash water. Cold water hardens soap and makes it adhere to the fabric. Soap left in a garment may cause yellowing or weakening of the fabric.

If the label on the garment says "permanent finish" or if the fabric is wrinkle resistant, no starch is needed in the garment. A closely woven fabric such as gingham or chambray should not be starched for the first four or five launderings. It will retain a new look longer without starch.

Mrs. Howle recommends caution in using new soaps or synthetic detergents which require no rinse. She says that clothes which are washed and not rinsed have a tendency to scorch easily during the ironing process.

Many Farmers In Area Adopt Soil Saving Practices This Year

Farmers and ranchers in the wind erosion areas of Oklahoma and Texas are taking advantage of good moisture conditions in their fight against soil blowing conditions.

Rainfall has been extremely encouraging for the growth of grain sorghums, Merrill pointed out. Even on land which remained bare during last winter's blow season heavy crops of weeds are growing. They will help to some extent in reducing 1950-51 wind erosion, the regional SCS head said.

Especially satisfactory gains in grain sorghums acreages were reported in the soil conservation districts in the Lubbock area and to the west and southwest. In the Cochran-Yoakum Soil Conservation District 1950 plantings have totaled 550,000 acres, with 1949 plantings in these crops only 138,000 acres, according to District Conservationist John A. Perrin of Littlefield. Erosion resisting crops in the Lamb county Soil Conservation District jumped from 35,000 acres in 1949 to 350 acres this year.

In the Lubbock Soil Conservation District grain sorghum acreages, 104,500 acres in 1949, totaled 253,000 acres this season, Homer A. Taff, acting district conservationist at Lubbock, said. Taff said Lynn County Soil Conservation District plantings gained from 120,000 acres in 1949 to 235,000 acres this year. Crosby county SCD gain was from 51,000 to 122,000 acres, and the gain in Hockley county SCD was from 83,000 to 154,000 acres.

In the Oklahoma Panhandle area, District Conservationist John F. Bailey reported the following gains in erosion resistant crops for 1950, Beaver county SCD, 200,000 acres from 100,000; Texas County SCD, 210,000 from 120,000, Cimarron County SDS 118,000 from 57,000.

Regional Director Merrill pointed out that the increased plantings of grain sorghums not only would help protect the soil against wind but it also would help in the return of hazardous land to grass cover by giving protection to the fine grass seed. The wind erosion problem last winter has spurred many a farmer to consider putting his less productive shallow and light soils in grass. In the Grady County Soil Conservation District in Oklahoma, for example, district supervisors estimate native grass plantings will pass the 60,000 acre mark this year. In the Coke County Soil Conservation District in Texas, the supervisors recently decided to buy two grain drills especially for this planting of cover crops. The supervisors of the Howard-Martin SCD are also considering buying drills.

W. R. Taylor at Childress reported plantings of blue panic grass in the Upper Pease, Hall county and Salt Fork Soil Conservation Districts would total 9,000.

Mrs. R. M. Almanrode of Munday Selected as H-D Club Delegate to Conference in Copenhagen, Denmark

Mrs. R. M. Almanrode an outstanding Knox county home demonstration club member of Munday, Texas, has been selected as a delegate to the 6th Triennial Conference of the Associated Women of the World in Copenhagen, Denmark, September 10 to 16. The trip is sponsored by the Country Gentlewoman League, and Mrs. Almanrode is the only delegate from Texas.

Prior to leaving for Europe, the group of delegates will meet in New York and attend a session of some branch of the United Nations. The delegation will leave the United States aboard the S. S. Washington on August 23. They will stop in England for a two or three day tour and then proceed to Belgium and Holland, and on to Denmark for the conference. After the conference ends, the group will go by motor coach on a tour of Western Germany, Switzerland, and France, and will leave France to return to the United States on October 6. Mrs. Almanrode will serve on the Policy committee at the conference.

For the last two years Mrs. Almanrode has served as state secretary of the Texas Home Demonstration Association. Previously she had served as vice president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association from District 3. Mrs. Almanrode has been an active member in home demonstration club work since 1925. During the last 25 years she has held every office in the Sunset Home Demonstration Club of Knox County and has participated in every phase of the program. She has recently been nominated by her local club for president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association. The election will be held at Big Spring August 23-25 during the 1950 annual meeting.

Mrs. Almanrode says that her aim in attending the conference is to bring something back to the Texas Home Demonstration Association which will make possible a better understanding of the conditions in other countries.

Farm Animals Need More Vitamin A In Hot Weather

During the hot summer months or when long dry periods stop the growth of range and pasture grasses and legumes, farm animals may be affected by vitamin A deficiency. The lack of green feeds, over a long period of time, may result in a condition that is characterized in the early stages by night blindness and later by loss of energy and appetite, swelling at the joints, rapid breathing, staggering gait, convulsions, nasal discharge, watering of the eyes and complete blindness. This condition, says U. D. Thompson, assistant extension animal husbandman of Texas A. & M. College, is caused by a lack of vitamin A.

He says that research work done by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that cattle placed in the feed lot and limited to such rations as cottonseed meal, cottonseed hulls, white corn and other white grains are often affected by the condition. Following drought periods, cattle placed in dry lots and on vitamin A deficient rations may show symptoms of vitamin A deficiency in a relatively short time. Younger animals become affected sooner than the older ones.

Thompson says that calves born to cows which have been subjected to a shortage of vitamin A usually are in very poor condition at birth and unless placed on cows receiving adequate vitamin A, may die within two or three weeks.

Farm animals, he says, get most of their vitamin A requirements from carotene which is found in green range or pasture grasses and hays or other roughage. The carotene is changed to vitamin A by a process that takes place in the liver of the animal which is also the chief storehouse of both carotene and vitamin A in the body.

Both carotene and vitamin A destroyed when exposed to air and light. The process is hastened by high temperatures, but heat in the absence of oxygen has only a minor effect, says Thompson. Large losses in carotene occur during the curing of roughages, especially when they are cured in direct sunlight. The lack of green color in hays or fodder means that a large percentage of the vitamin A potency is lost. This fact emphasizes the need for preserving the color in forages at harvest time.

The lack of vitamin A potency in the ration apparently has little or no effect upon the rate of gain as long as the cattle have reserves of the vitamin in the body. When symptoms of deficiency show up, the loss of appetite immediately causes gains to cease. Thompson says research has shown that the addition of a pound of good green alfalfa hay to the daily ration will protect the animals from a deficiency of the vitamin when they are receiving a deficient ration. The giving of codliver oil to affected animals will also correct the situation. To guard against any occurrence of the deficiency condition, he advises watching for night blindness. If symptoms of night blindness are noted, start feeding immediately from one to two pounds of good quality leafy green hay per head per day in addition to the regular ration.

The Army's New 'Eager Beaver'

Here's a brand new Army Ordnance vehicle—the "Eager Beaver". The 2½-ton truck, now in full production at Reo Motors' plant in Lansing, Mich., is built for high speed on and off the highway, and is designed to operate normally in sub-zero cold, blistering heat, or with its Gold Comet engine completely submerged in water. Reo has been awarded contracts for approximately 8,900 of them at a cost of about $55,000,000. In the top panel, the "Eager Beaver" is shown "cruising" in Chesapeake Bay, Maryland.

He suggests that you ask your local county agent for a copy of C-171, "Control of Vitamin A Deficiency in Feeding Beef Cattle." The bulletin contains information that can help you avoid trouble not only in the feed lot but on the range as well.

Men Registered Prior to 1948 Are Required to Advise Draft Board of Changes

Some men registered under the World War II draft act, now past 40 and 50 years of age, are attempting to advise old local boards of change of address and status, although these draft boards have been out of existence for years.

As a result, these cards and letters are flooding present local boards and Selective Service headquarters in Austin.

Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service, advised today that "these men no longer have to advise of any changes of address or status, as the law under which they registered was terminated by Congress in 1947."

The only men who are obligated to keep local boards advised are those registered under the Selective Service act of 1948 which became law on June 24, 1948, the state director pointed out.

"Any man who has registered with Selective Service in 1949 or 1950 is obligated to advise of address changes," General Wakefield said. "Any man who registers with any local board those years is not bound by law to do so."

The state director said every man should ask the question: "Should I be registered under the Selective Service Act of 1948?"

The answer, says Wakefield, is simple. If after he is required to register, he is required to be registered under the Selective Service Act of 1948. Males are required to register on their 18th birthday or five days thereafter.

Personal Hygiene
Preventive Aid

Sanitation and thorough cleanliness in the home are instinctive with the average housewife, but at this time their importance to health must be re-emphasized. Home sanitation includes those taken-for-granted measures as washing the dishes in hot soapy water and rinsing them in hot clear water; keeping sinks, bathtubs and fixtures scoured clean and rinsed with a mild antiseptic solution; sunning and airing bed clothes, ridding the home of flies, rats and roaches which, since poliomyelitis is believed to be a filth-borne disease are suspected as being responsible for transmission.

Oral hygiene with the thorough brushing of the teeth and the use of a mild antiseptic are recommended. The nasal passages should be kept clean and dental defects corrected immediately. Vandals Create Problem for State Fish Hatcheries

Recent gigning of eight brood bass in the Eagle Mountain Hatchery near Fort Worth was the latest of several depredations against state fish hatcheries.

Hatcheries, game department officials have been harassed over the years by brazen raids on the stock bass which are valued at a minimum of $25 each.

Veritable barbed wire entanglement. Apprehended hatchery looters usually are punished severely. A special state law for "protection of hatcheries and reservations" calls for a fine ranging upward to $200.

FIRST OF THE FINE CARS IN VALUE

BIG MOMENT - with a Double Impact

It's a big moment when any new car rolls up to your door and you start out fresh and spanking bright.

driving, ease your way. A handsome flexible steering wheel, automatic windshield washers, soft Foamtex cushions, and many other items that are "extras" elsewhere are standard equipment here.

You've bought quality—all the fine things a fine car should provide. But you haven't spent a penny more than a fine car need cost.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT. This segment front end (1) sets the style note, (2) serves as impact coat—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

Pre-School Health Check Advised For Children

Parents, has your child had a physical examination this summer? Next month he will be starting to school, and if he is in good health he will have a happier, more profitable year. It's up to you to give him a healthful send-off, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health officer.

After he has his check-up by the family physician, be sure to take him to the family dentist. Teeth are mighty important, and decayed ones often cause a heap of trouble. They may start infection in other parts of the body. Strong, healthy teeth add attractiveness to appearance and personality. Help your child to grow up with good teeth... see that he has a dental examination twice a year.

Sometimes children need glasses and their parents don't realize it. An examination by an eye specialist is important. A child who needs glasses, if taken to an eye physician now, will have time to get used to them before school starts.

When children are grouped together in a classroom, they expose each other to communicable diseases. Has your child been immunized against diphtheria and smallpox? Does he know he should use only his own drinking glass? Does he know he should avoid boys and girls who are victims of colds? Do you keep your child at home when he shows signs of a cold?

Plenty of exercise and recreation, the right kinds of foods daily, and 12 hours of sleep a night, are necessary for a child of elementary school age.

Get your child an appointment for a check-up today... the first day of school is not far away!

Black Indians To Play Munday Moguls Sunday

The Haskell Black Indians will play the Black Moguls of Munday at Fair Park Field here Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. in the first game this season between the two teams. The Indians were victorious in two games against the Moguls last season, and the Knox Countians are reported to have greatly strengthened their team in the hope of partially evening the score in Sundays contest.

Besides their traditional Texas Conference rivals, the Indians meet Tulsa University, Midwestern University, West Texas State, and Mississippi Southern.

Mitchell was a versatile line-man last fall. He was a valuable reserve at several positions last season and should be fighting for a starting tackle this year.

A solution of one pound of dry sulphur in three gallons of water, applied to the trunk and framework branches of the trees with an old paint brush, is a good stop-gap remedy for controlling San Jose scale in orchards during the late summer and fall, but a 3 percent dormant oil spray, applied in the winter when the trees are dormant, is necessary for effective control.

When corn or sorghum grain are fed to hogs, the gain produced is slow and costly, but when the grain is supplemented with the correct protein and mineral supplements, the rate of gain is speeded up and the cost of gain is reduced.

Grade B eggs are equal in food value to eggs of higher grade, and at this season of the year, they are a few cents less per dozen than grade A eggs.

Grade "B" Eggs Found High In Food Value

An egg a day is one step toward being well fed, states Louise Mason, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. & M. College. Grade B eggs are now coming into the markets in ever increasing amounts, while the supply of Grade AA and A eggs is decreasing. Shying away from grade B eggs is not good economy, as they are equal in food value to eggs of higher grade, Miss Mason points out.

The main reason for this change in supply is that hot weather causes eggs to fall from the peak of freshness in a very short time. The supply of Grade B eggs is also increased because young pullets which are coming into production at this time of the year, lay eggs which will not measure up to the higher egg grades, particularly in weight.

Eggs are rich in blood building substances, iron, and its helper copper. They are good sources of bone building minerals, calcium and phosphorus. They are rich in Vitamin D, which is essential in bone building. They are valuable for their Vitamin A content which helps keep the eyes and the thin layer of skin lining the internal parts of the body in a vigorous and healthy condition.

High quality eggs, Grades AA and A, are ideal for poaching, frying and cooking in the shell, but Miss Mason recommends grade B eggs as an economical product for general cooking.

Texas Ranked Third Among All States In Meat Output Last Year

Texas ranked third among all states in meat output last year with an estimated production of more than 1 billion, 440 million pounds of meat, according to a statement just issued by the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

The Board also pointed out the importance of Texas as a livestock and meat state by calling attention to the fact that the cash sales of Texas meat animals last year totalled $486,042,000, or an average of about one and a third million dollars per day. Of this total, cattle and calf sales accounted for $399,840,000—hogs $62,092,000 and sheep and lambs, $24,110,000.

The total meat output in the United States last year, according to the Board, was 21 billion, 879 million pounds. The average per capita consumption of meat in the nation last year was 143.8 pounds, including 63.4 pounds of beef, 8.7 pounds of veal, 4.1 pounds of lamb and mutton and 67.6 pounds of pork.

In spite of the fact that the country's population has grown by some 10 million persons in the past ten years, the average per capita consumption of meat annually is higher now than in 1940.
