Band Students Attend State UIL Meet

The Haskell High School Band was well represented this past week-end at the UIL State Contest held in Austin at the University of Texas.

The clarinet quartet, consisting of Suzanne Frierson, Ruth Ann Blankenship, Lisa Stocks and Pat Everett, received a III. Melissa Roberson received a I on her flute solo.

The twirling ensemble, consisting of Lisa Stocks, Kim Drinnon, Christie McAdams, Lisa McBroom and Jill Adkins, also received a III. Those entering twirling solos and their ratings were: Cindy Ivey, II; Kim Drinnon, II; Lisa
McBroom, II; and Christie
McAdams, III.

Those who received a II were awarded a very pretty silver medal hanging from a white ribbon which they will proudly wear on their uniforms during football season.
Melissa Roberson's place I medal is a beautiful gold medallion which hangs around her neck on a white ribbon.
This makes two state UIL gold medallions that she has won on her flute solos in the past three years.

The trip was not all practice and hard work. The group toured the capitol and sat in on a night session of the House of Representatives. They were shocked at the informal procedure of the session. But, they thoroughly enjoyed the food, and "out-of-the-way" trips back to the motel.

The students were accompanied to Austin by their band director, Wendell Gideon, Mr.
and Mrs. W. H. McBroom, Mrs. B. O. Roberson, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McAdams,
Thomas, Robert and Mark,
Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Ivey and Robert, and Clint Melton.
They were joined on their tours by Mr. and Mrs. H. O.
Abbott, Shirley and Horace of Spearmen. Shirley twirled a solo and won a place II medal also.

WHEAT HARVEST IN HASKELL COUNTY is well under way and combines in action are a common sight along county roads. Over seven inches of rain in six days recently halted the harvest but drying trends have moved the operation into full swing throughout the county. Some reports of wheat making over 35 bushels per acre have been received.

Purina Dog Foods Group, Ralston Purina Company, sponsor of the 4-H dog care and training program, and sored by Eli Lilly and Company. Nine $800 scholarships will be donated by Reader's Digest, sponsor of the leadership program.

Other donors of $800 scholarships are: Union Oil Company of California, six scholarships in the public speaking program; The Upjohn Company, six awards in the veterinary science program; and Hercules Incorporated, six grants in entomology.

National 4-H scholarship winners are chosen by the Cooperative Extension Service from among state award winners. The Extension Service in the 50 states conducts the many and varied 4-H programs, which are designed to give youth from 9 to 19 opportunities to "learn by doing" in activities that develop citizenship and leadership potential.

More than 7 million American youth participate in 4-H. They are eligible to submit their records for recognition at county and state levels in programs that offer medals of honor, U.S. Savings Bonds and trips to National 4-H Congress.

Information on these opportunities is available at the county extension offices.

WINNING CHICKEN RECIPE-Stuffed "Calico" Chicken Thighs took first place in the 1975 Texas Chicken Cooking Contest held recently in Austin. Cheddar cheese, dried beef and pimiento strips are stuffed into boned chicken thighs which are then wrapped in bacon. The Texas Department of Agriculture and the Texas Broiler Council sponsored the cook-off.

Fort Worth Contestant Wins Chicken Contest

AUSTIN--Mrs. Beverly Sebastian, Fort Worth, won the 1975 Texas Chicken Cooking Contest and the right to try for the first prize of $10,000 in the National Chicken Cooking Contest in San Antonio July 7-10.

This will be her second time to represent the state in the national contest. She was chosen in 1971, before the state cook-off system was begun.

Mrs. Sebastian's recipe for "Stuffed Calico Chicken Thighs" took top honors in a field of five finalists in the state's second annual event and earned her $150 in the May 17 event. The cook-off was sponsored by the Texas Broiler Council and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

The finalists, working before an audience of Saturday shoppers in Highland Mall in Austin, prepared two dishes. Judges included Helen Corbett, food consultant and author; Ann Criswell, food editor of the Houston Chronicle; Leigh Finley, food editor of the Dallas Morning News; Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, director of home economics for the Texas Education Agency, and Norman Eaton, Austin restaurateur and gourmet cook.

The national contest, sponsored by the National Broiler Council, is offering $20,000 prize money to the top five contestants.

Other finalists in the state cook-off were Ms. Mabel Clark, Freeport, second; Mrs. Catherine Buchus, Victoria, third; Mrs. Carol Lucius, Austin, fourth; and Mrs. Joyce Hargis, Houston.

STUFFED "CALICO" CHICKEN THIGHS

12 broiler-fryer chicken thighs, boned, skinned and flattened
1 2½-ounce jar dried beef, finely chopped
12 Tbsp. shredded cheddar cheese
6 strips pimiento, halved 12 strips bacon
2 eggs slightly beaten
5 Tbsp. lemon juice, divided
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 tsp. lemon-pepper seasoning
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. MSG
1/3 cup corn oil
Place chicken on surface smooth side down. Place 1 Tbsp. dried beef, 1 Tbsp. cheese and 1 piece pimiento on each thigh. Fold sides and secure with wooden picks. Wrap bacon around open end and secure with picks. In one bowl mix egg and 2 Tbsp. lemon juice. In second bowl mix bread crumbs, lemon-pepper seasoning, salt and MSG. Dip chicken in egg mixture, then in bread crumb mixture. Heat corn oil in fry pan over medium heat. Add chicken and brown on all sides. Place in single layer in large shallow baking pan; sprinkle with remaining lemon juice. Bake, uncovered, in 350 oven about 45 minutes or until fork can be inserted with ease. Yield: 6 servings.

Wheat Record Anticipated Despite Drop

AUSTIN--Dry conditions on the Texas High Plains have forced winter wheat projections to 137.5 million bushels, a decline of 2.5 million bushels below the April forecast.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said this figure still exceeds the previous record of 116.9 million bushels set in 1947.

Most of the production decrease occurred on dryland acreage in the High Plains, the state's leading wheat producer.

"Though the region has had some spring rain, low humidity and high winds have depleted available surface moisture," White said. He added that irrigated acreage is developing well.

Unpredictable weather has also created problems in other parts of the state. The May 20 cotton planting deadline in northern Williamson County was extended to June 1 because of hail, rain and some flooding. White reported that many cotton stands had been completed uprooted.

WASHINGTON

OMAR BURLESON
Congressman—17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C.--THE MOUNTING PROBLEM OF DISPOSING OF SOLID wastes plagues all America. Cities, towns, manufacturing and commercial operations are finding it more and more difficult to meet standards in disposing of liquid effluence but getting rid of solid materials is even more so.

IN THE PAST FOUR OR FIVE DECADES, ACCORDING TO REPORTS, THE amount of solid waste discarded per person in this Country has doubled. Collections of throw-away stuff amounts to more than 225 million tons per year with disposal costs of more than $5 billion annually. The National League of Cities reports that about half our towns and cities will run out of current disposal capacity in from two to five years.

THE INCREASE IN THE VOLUME OF MATERIALS ENTERING THE SOLID WASTE stream has a potentially serious drain on our national resources. The U. S. Geological Survey has warned that by 1985 our Nation will be dependent on foreign imports for more than one-half of its supply of nine basic raw materials. Some studies on the subject warn that we are approaching a mineral crisis which could rival the energy shortage unless steps are taken to encourage the recovery and re-use of raw materials.

IN SPITE OF THE CONTINUING INCREASE IN THE SIZE OF OUR NATIONAL trash can the U.S. today recycles a lower percentage of discarded solid materials than ever before. It is estimated that we recycle only 1% of municipal wastes, published statistics gathered by the Environmental Protection Agency indicate that we recycle only 19% of all wastepaper, 18% of aluminum, 5% of glass and 4% of textiles. According to the Midwest Research Institute, recycling will continue to decline in the absence of new developments towards recycling and the need for economic incentives to do so. STUDIES SHOW THAT THE RECOVERY OF EVEN A SMALL PORTION OF THE 110 million tons of industrial solid wastes which must currently be disposed of each year would produce significant energy savings. The President's Advisory Commission on Environmental Quality estimates that more than 90% of energy presently required could be saved if worn-out aluminum products were recycled. Paper manufacturers could save upwards of 66% if full use was made of recycled paper, instead of the use of wood pulp. If steel and other scrap metals were recycled to the full potential, 50% of present energy use could be saved.

AT A TIME WHEN WE ARE SEARCHING FOR WAYS TO CONSERVE ENERGY, Federal tax policies and freight rates continue to favor the use of virgin materials. One of the most sensible sections of the energy bill now pending in the Congress provides incentives needed for recycling facilities for millions of tons of wasted raw materials. It provides tax credits for research and development, to find ways and means to get rid of solid wastes and allows certain tax credits for facilities installed to cope with this very serious situation.

OUR AFFLUENCE IN THIS COUNTRY HAS LED US TO THINK THAT WE HAVE AN inexhaustible supply of natural resources but we do not.

This, together with the fact that we are cluttering our environment with cast-off materials, is enough to make it obvious that there must be better answers to present practices.

Redesigned Cancer Drugs Increase Effectiveness

While there is no cancer drug without undesired toxicity, some drugs could be redesigned to exist in a harmless storage form that could be distributed throughout the body," says Dr. Joseph Nagyvary, a professor of nucleotide chemistry in the Department of Biochemistry and Biophysics, The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas A&M University. "These redesigned drugs would be able to easily pass through the walls of all cells and become active mainly when in the presence of abnormal, growing tissue," Nagyvary stated.

"Our involvement in development of new drugs, which was begun in 1968, has received the attention and financial support of the National Institutes of Health. Results and projects developed here at Texas A&M have been recognized and adopted by some prominent research institutions.

"Drugs can do their thing—good or bad—only in tissues where they are absorbed. The same drug can be invigorating or intoxicating, depending on the site and manner of its administration. Much effort is spent nowadays on regulating or modulating the delivery (logistics) of drugs to selected tissues.

Some of the best drugs, such as aspirin and penicillin, were the result of accidental discoveries, but the modern scientist likes to rely on rational approaches. There are several obvious areas for achieving a better utilization of drugs. The TAMU group is zeroing in on better penetration of tissues by a certain class of drugs called nucleotide anti-metabolites.

"These compounds were unable to penetrate cellular membranes because of their electric charge which, on the other hand, is required for biological activity. The rationale underlying our strategy was suggested by the behavior of organophosphate insecticides which are neutral molecules and possess superior penetration."

Logically, Nagyvary and his colleagues transformed one of the important cellular agents, so called cAMP, into a neutral phosphate. It is known that cAMP not only regulates the growth and shape of cells, it is also involved in diseases such as psoriasis, asthma, diabetes, hypoglycemia and even in aging.

Yet, when injected, cAMP does little good for reasons of poor absorption through cell walls. But after modification in neutral form, it exhibits some of the desired activities and it seems even to stimulate the nervous system, which is the toughest target to penetrate.

Other advantages of using the neutral organophosphate form of drugs, according to Nagyvary, are that it can be considered a good storage form, from which the active agent is released only slowly with a longer period of action and less toxicity. The application of the same principle to cancer drugs will lead to the development of better efficiency in the treatment of resistant tumors, which otherwise do not respond to chemotherapy.

Nagyvary emphasizes that his group does only the initial part of drug development, including chemical design, studies of biochemical mechanisms of action, and simple small animal studies. Research hospitals take care of the further applications to human diseases. Nagyvary feels much credit should go to those responsible for advocating the new line of research activity. He singles out the work of Dr. R. K. Gohis and Dr. R. G. Gillen.

These findings of the TAES team were presented on May 19 at Buffalo, New York, before the Sixteenth Annual Medicinal Chemistry Symposium.

In 1968, Nagyvary's students initiated biological testing of an anti-leukemic agent which was further developed and modified in Japan and is on its way to becoming the best single agent against human leukemia.

There are new horizons, which bring new excitement and challenges, such as the stimulation of the brain and the rejuvenation of cells and organs. Research of such fundamental interest and wide scope is bound to benefit plant, animal and human health.

Family Land Heritage Program To Reopen Registration June 1

AUSTIN—Registration for the second Family Land Heritage Program, honoring families who have owned and continuously operated a farm or ranch for 100 years or more, begins June 1.

Last year 565 families and individuals were honored at ceremonies at the state fairgrounds in Dallas. Twenty families who missed the 1974 deadline have already qualified for 1975.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said applications are available at the county judge's office in all counties that were settled by 1875. He explained that judges in areas of Texas settled after that date did not receive forms. However, if a family in one of these areas thinks they qualify, they may write directly to the Texas Department of Agriculture for an application.

"Applicants must use the new forms if they wish to qualify," White said.

TDA sponsors the program. Registration deadline is Aug. 15.

White stressed that the

The land was originally settled by Christian Kreusler in 1861. Registration for the program begins June 1. Applications are available at county judges' offices.

land must have been agriculturally productive and owned by family members for 100 years or more. If all the land has ever been rented out, it will not qualify.

Persons must live on and work the land, or, if they live off the historic land, they must actively manage and direct the everyday operation of the farm or ranch. Absentee ownership of land devoted to hunting and timber leases and similar operations will not qualify.

"Last year was our first year for Family Land Heritage, and it was a big one," White said. "We were proud and happy to honor some of the first families of Texas, those who have given so much to Texas agriculture and, therefore, its people, for several generations. This year we hope to do an even better job."

Those who qualify will be honored at appropriate ceremonies in the fall. They will receive a certificate suitable for framing and a brief history of their land will be printed in the "Family Land Heritage Registry."

$14,600 in Agricultural Scholarships Offered

Chicago, Ill. — "The challenge to graduates in agriculture... is exciting. Their future is bright," says Roy M. Kottman, dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics at Ohio State University.

In the latest edition of the "Going to College Handbook," the Ohio State dean forecasts that nearly 900,000 professional people will be employed in agriculture and natural resources by 1980, compared with just under 600,000 in 1970.

4-H'ers—present and former—who are planning careers in agriculture, the associated biological sciences, or forestry may qualify for college scholarships in programs supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service with awards arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago.

This year, six donor corporations and foundations will provide 15 grants totaling $14,600 to young men and women who are headed for the agricultural professions. Scholarship donors are: Homelite, A Division of Textron, Inc.; DeKalb AgResearch, Inc.; Allied Mills, Inc.;

monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Alvin Ulmer Thursday at 2:00 p.m. The program will be on Food Management. Visitors are always welcome.

Chevron Chemical Company, Ortho Division; Recipe Division, Champion Valley Farms, Inc.; and Alpha Gamma Rho Educational Foundation.

Homelite will award four scholarships of $1,000 each to present or former 4-H members who are college sophomores planning to major or minor in forestry.

Four $700 scholarships will be offered by DeKalb AgResearch, Inc. to young men or women who are college juniors majoring in some area of agribusiness. Two current or former 4-H'ers will be eligible for scholarships of $800 each awarded by Allied Mills, Inc. Candidates must be college juniors enrolled in animal science.

Chevron Chemical Company, Ortho Division, will award two $800 scholarships to current or former 4-H members who are college freshmen or sophomores and who intend to major or minor in the plant or biological sciences.

Two former 4-H'ers enrolled in colleges of veterinary medicine will receive scholarships of $800 each from Recipe Division, Champion Valley Farms, Inc. One current 4-H youth is eligible for a scholarship of $600 to be awarded by the Alpha Gamma Rho Educational Foundation. The grant must be applied toward a full-term course at a college of agriculture.

Scholarship winners will be selected by the Cooperative Extension Service and announced at the 54th National 4-H Congress, to be held Nov. 30-Dec. 4 in Chicago. 4-H'ers and former 4-H'ers who are interested in applying for scholarship grants should contact their state 4-H leaders or county extension agents for special application forms.

4-H Horse Project Draws Big Response

CHICAGO, ILL. — A red ribbon tied to a horse's tail means he's a kicker. If his ears are pinned back, he's angry; if they're pointed directly at an object, he's frightened or interested!

Horse lovers nationwide will find a lot of fascinating and practical facts about their favorite animal in information-packed 4-H horse project aids, a multimedia approach to instruction recently made available through the National 4-H Service Committee with the support of Purina Horse Chows.

Broad subject range
The project covers such subjects as practical horse psychology, genetics of coat color, intermediate trail riding, and equitation. It also deals with health hints, principles of foot care and shoeing, saddle selection and construction, training, and buying a horse.

Materials include 10 printed lessons and worksheets, and 15 slide sets with accompanying tape cassettes and scripts. Lessons, worksheets, and audiovisuals may be ordered separately. Additions to the series are being developed and will be offered later in the summer.

Authored by experts in their fields, the 4-H horse project was prepared by a group of Cooperative Extension Service program specialists with the financial and technical aid of Purina Horse Chows, Ralston Purina Company.

Orders pour in Tyrus W. Thompson, assistant director of the committee, called response to the project "overwhelming." Orders for 300,000 printed lessons and worksheets were processed in the first three months of 1975, he said.

Originally developed for use by 4-H youth in programs conducted by the Extension Service, the materials also have proved popular with adults—from breeders to showpeople to weekend riders.

The response is not surprising, since horses are being used by more people today in pleasure activities than at any time in the nation's history. In fact, riding is so popular nowadays that the bride path sometimes becomes the bridal path for horse lovers who decide to get married on the trail rather than in a traditional setting!

A descriptive brochure on 4-H horse project aids is available from the National 4-H Service Committee, 150 N. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill. 60606.

Horses are more popular than ever, and so are the multimedia 4-H horse educational aids made possible with the support of Purina Horse Chows, through the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago. The aids—including lessons, worksheets, slides, tapes and scripts—are created by horse specialists with the guidance of a committee chaired by Dr. Melvin Bradley, extension horse specialist, University of Missouri.

WTC To Offer Courses In Haskell

Western Texas College is making plans to offer academic and vocational-technical courses in Haskell again this fall, and is requesting that persons interested in enrolling complete and return survey forms indicating the course or courses they plan to take.

Copies of the form may be picked up at the office of Bill Blakley at Haskell High School. The college requests that the forms be completed and returned to Blakley or to Dr. Ben Brock, WTC vice president, by June 2. The number of courses to be offered depends on student enrollment, and the college needs to make its plans concerning instructors, textbooks and schedules.

Classes at the Haskell extension center are scheduled from 6:30-9:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays of each week during the fall semester. Students will pay fees of $51 for one three-hour course or $57 for two three-hour courses plus lab fees when they are required.

WTC has recently been approved for new extension centers in Sweetwater, Post and Rotan, with classes to begin in the fall of 1975. The college operated an extension

REDDY'S HELPFUL FREEZER TIPS

Lock in flavor: Use moisture and vapor-proof materials especially designed for freezers to wrap your foods. Tightly sealed, these lock in flavor and moisture and prevent "freezer burn" (surface drying) on foods. Don't use wax paper, bread paper or regular cellophane for freezer foods.

Label packages: Date and identify freezer packages so (1) you don't accumulate a lot of mysterious shops and (2) you'll be able to pick out foods that have been in the freezer longest.

Take advantage of sales: Avoid overstocking with commercially frozen food that's always available; use your freezer as your own bargain counter and store foods you can buy on sale. But do allow space for short-time baked goods, leftovers and special party foods.

OBITUARIES School Finance Bill Calls Georgia Wade For Increased Local Funds

Funeral services for Mrs. Georgia B. Wade, 72, long-time Haskell resident, were held May 31, in Independent Baptist Church in Haskell with the Rev. W. R. Pittman, the Rev. M. Ashford, and the Rev. O. T. Jackson, officiating.

Interment was in Willow Cemetery directed by Holden-McCauley Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wade died May 28, in Haskell Memorial Hospital following a short illness.

Born February 28, 1903, in Calvert, she had lived in Haskell since 1927. She was a member of Independent Baptist Church and the Court of Calanthe.

Survivors include one son, F. L. Bryant of Los Angeles, Calif.; 1 grandchild; 3 great-grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Bessie Hanson and Mrs. John Williams, both of Haskell; and one brother, Nathan Wallace of Fort Worth.

Pallbearers were nephews and honorary pallbearers were deacons of the Independent Baptist Church.

BY BILL HEATLY
STATE REP. DIST. 101

The House of Representatives voted to concur in the Senate Amendments to House Bill 1126 Sunday afternoon by a vote of 129-18. The Amendments represent major concessions in the fight to protect schools similar to those in my District. Several "Save Harmless" provisions were added by the Senate as a means of gaining enough support to insure passage of the Bill.

I am not satisfied with the financing of the Bill, however, it does contain many features for the improvement of education for children of the state. The Governor has pledged no new state taxes and I feel the Legislature should have pledged no new local taxes, however, since it appeared to be the best we could do at this time, I voted for it.

Not only does the Bill call for increased local funds, but the percentage which each local district is required to raise is increased. Since 1949 the State has been assessed 80% of the cost of the Foundation School Program while local people have paid 20%. Under this new Bill, the local taxpayer will pay 40% of the new cost while the State will pay 60%. In my opinion this is the most dangerous precedent in the past 30 years of public school finance legislation. Hereafter every Session of the Legislature can raise taxes for the local ad valorem taxpayer by simply adjusting the percentages between state and local tax sources.

The protective features of the Bill will expire at the end of two years and at that time further legislation will be necessary to prevent local tax increases of a ruinous nature to the agricultural industry and property owners of our District. We will need the active, concerned commitment of every citizen of the District if we are to maintain some sanity in the ad valorem tax system of financing good schools for our children. It is an established fact that when a community loses its school; the churches, businesses and homes soon follow. We cannot afford to allow this to happen to our communities. In accordance with the interpretation, the Bill will not bring about an increase in local taxes the next two years other than those

2.7 Million Vets Eligible For VGLI

An estimated 2.7 million Vietnam-era veterans separated between April 2, 1970, and July 31, 1974, are eligible for new low-cost Veterans Group Life Insurance (VGLI), but they must apply before August 1, 1975. The new program is designed as interim protection during readjustment to civilian life, according to C. H. Herren Veterans Service Officer for Haskell County. Servicemen discharged since August 1, 1974, receive application forms automatically, but those discharged before the insurance became available must apply.

Nonrenewable, five-year term coverage is available in $5,000 increments up to $20,000, depending upon the Servicemen's Group Life Insurance in force at the time of separation. Monthly premium for the maximum coverage is $3.40 for veterans aged 34 and under, and $6.80 for those 35 and over.

Former servicemen may convert Servicemen's Group Life Insurance to VGLI without medical examination if applications are received within 120 days after separation. Applications after that time must include evidence of good health. This requirement is waived for veterans with VA-rated, service-connected disabilities, provided they have no other disabling conditions. This could be the last opportunity for those veterans disabled in service to obtain additional life insurance at competitive premium rates.

Application forms are available from any office of the VA, and from County Service Officers and representatives of the various veterans service organizations. Completed application forms and premiums should be sent direct to the Office of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance, 212 Washington St., Newark, N.J. 07102.

4-H Provides Practical Experiences

Practical experiences in production, marketing and animal nutrition are a great part of 4-H agriculture projects. But so are group interaction and personal satisfaction, points out Yvonne Garcia, 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

During 1973-74 more than 70,000 4-H boys and girls in Texas participated in agricultural and related projects.

4-H youth, in talking about their project experiences, point to certain learning aspects and relationships.

Eddie Perkins of Johnson County recalls, "One of my earliest 4-H memories is coming to the fair to bring my older brothers' and sisters' calves. It was so much fun for a small boy to roll and jump in the straw that was put down for bedding."

"Later, when I was finally a 4-H member, I brought my own calves to the show. I met several new friends, and, as the years passed, it was fun to renew these friendships over and over again. I never had a Grand Champion, but these memories and experiences are my banner and trophy."

The excitement of winning can be an exciting as well as a maturing learning experience, too, as Jacquelyn Langford of Palmer County discovered.

"Having the Grand Champion of the show is a dream come true, and it's a scene I've realized more than once. All my beef cattle projects have really meant a lot to me. But the experiences I've had—getting over my shyness, learning to speak before crowds, relating to others—I wouldn't trade for anything in the whole world."

While these young agriculturalists may one day become knowledgeable professionals, they will also be equipped with life-long skills developed through decision-making opportunities and leadership experiences, contends Garcia.
