Fandangle Parade Today In Albany

All the world loves a parade--and the Fort Griffin Fandangle is one of the most beloved of all. Cowboy and Indian, saloon girl and temperance hack combine to form a delightful parade for visitors and Albanyites as well. The parade will begin today, Thursday the twenty-seventh, at 6:00 p.m. Beginning at Nancy Smith Elementary School, the parade will wind down main street and around the Court House square. The parade is the highlight of the Fort Griffin Fandangle, which concludes the 1975 season with shows on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Lead by the Sheriff of Albany, Ben Jack Riley, and Texas Ranger Sid Merchant, the parade will once again feature the beautiful six white horses from Hardin-Simmons, as well as the flag parade from the Fandangle and its stately side-saddle ladies. Highlight of this year's parade will be the nationally famous Owens Sausage Wagon from Richardson, Texas. This authentic oldtime wagon is pulled by six beautiful and huge Belgian horses. An awe-inspiring sight, the wagon is in demand for parades throughout the nation, and Fandangle parade viewers are in for a special treat with this addition to the parade. The ever-popular band float manned by the high school band students, and the world-famous Calliope will round out an exciting presentation for young and old alike. Prominent out-of-town judges will once again present Certificates of Merit for winners in many categories--Serious and Humorous, Group and Individual Entries, Best Cowboys and Cowgirls, and special awards for Unusual Entries.

GRECIAN DELIGHTS—Ancient Greek dishes like stuffed grape leaves drenched in tangy egg/lemon sauce, steamed zucchini and fluffy rice pudding are finding their way to more and more modern tables.

meat, cooked rice and seasonings.
Wash fresh grape leaves thoroughly. If canned leaves are used, rinse in water to remove excess brine.
Place one tablespoon of meat mixture in center of large leaf, or two small ones (shiny side of leaf should be on outside when rolled). Carefully fold over top and sides and roll up. Place a few coarse leaves in bottom of Dutch oven or heavy kettle. Carefully arrange the balls atop leaves, side by side and in layers until all filling and leaves are used. Add two cups water and a little butter and salt. Cover and simmer for 30-45 minutes. Serve hot with egg/lemon sauce.
Egg/Lemon Sauce
3 eggs
juice of 2 lemons (6 tablespoons lemon juice)
5 to 6 tablespoons liquid from kettle used to cook grape leaves Beat eggs slightly. Add lemon juice and beat well. Add liquid from kettle one tablespoon at a time, beating constantly. Pour over stuffed grape leaves. Serves 6.

Greek Zucchini
2 pounds zucchini (about 4 ounces each)
1/2 cup salad oil
6 tablespoons lemon juice
Cook washed zucchini in boiling salted water until tender, about 3 to 5 minutes. Drain; slice in half lengthwise. Arrange in shallow dish. Combine salad oil and lemon juice; shake to blend. Sprinkle over zucchini.
Rice Pudding
1 cup rice (uncooked)
4 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
Milk
Cook rice according to package directions; 1 cup uncooked rice should yield about 3 cups cooked rice. Beat eggs; blend in sugar and vanilla. Turn rice into 1 1/2-quart buttered casserole. Pour egg mixture over rice, being careful to cover all grains on surface. Add just enough milk (about 3/4 cup) to bring liquid to surface. Bake in 325° oven until solid.

Should You Budget Your Air Conditioner

New York—(HK)—With electricity costs rising, more people will be thinking of budgeting their air conditioner this year. That is, they will be likely to turn it off more often if it is not abnormally hot outside.
In New York City, where electric rates are about 5 cents per kilowatt hour, a typical 8000 BTU, 1000 watt, room air conditioner will cost about $17.50 to operate for the season. That's because the average working time of an air conditioner there is 350 hours per year.
The cost is calculated by multiplying watts times the electric rate times the number of hours, and dividing by 1000. Electric rates vary, of course, from about 1 cent to over 6 cents, depending on where you are located.
The other variable is the number of hours properly-sized equipment operates, depending again on where you are located. In Atlanta, the hours per season is 750, but only 200 in Boston. Other cities and hours are Chicago-200, Cleveland-450, Dallas-1400, Fresno-900, Jacksonville, Florida-1600, Minneapolis-350, New Orleans-1500, St. Louis-1,000 and Washington, D.C.-800.
Calculate Cost
To calculate your cost, simply obtain the watt rating from the plate attached to your air conditioner, and use the rates and hours appropriate to your location. You can quickly determine how much cool air is costing you.
The other cost is in the price of the air conditioner itself. Here your concern should be long, trouble-free service life. One tip is to examine the construction, noting if it has a strong steel case. The steel may be painted, or coated in a pattern to resemble wood or textured material, but should be galvanized.

CONTROL GARDEN WEEDS
Weeds are a problem in most home gardens and compete with vegetables for water, nutrients and sunlight. They also may harbor many different insects and diseases.
So, a good weed control program is a must, says Max Stapleton, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
Hand hoeing is still the best weed control method available for the average home gardener. It is inexpensive, quite selective, accurate, effective and, for some, even enjoyable. A great deal of emotional satisfaction can come from leaning on a hoe handle while viewing a clean, freshly hoed row where weeds stood only minutes before.
While hoeing, a fair amount of hand pulling is usually necessary close about the base of plants, points out Mr. Stapleton. Concentrate on weeding when weeds are small; otherwise young vegetable plants will be damaged as weeds are pulled out.
In addition to hand weeding, mulches and herbicides also help control weeds, adds the county agent.
Mulching controls weeds by keeping light away from seedlings and providing a mechanical barrier to weed emergence. Weeds that do come through are easily spotted and removed from the soil. Good materials include leaves, hay, straw, plastic sheeting, black plastic is used since clear plastic tends to enter and accelerate weed growth.
Chemical weed control has limited use in the home garden, says Stapleton. While it works well in some situations, it is not to use them where an assortment of vegetables occupies a small herbicides are application methods must be used carefully and amounts should be rather complex and still too sophisticated for the average home gardener to safely tends Stapleton. He still the best bet.

SAVE MONEY, TIME AND TROUBLE

If you're looking for a family-pleasing food that's convenient, inexpensive and nutritious, there's a vegetable that might help save your skin: potatoes, particularly in one of their many frozen forms. So many American homemakers are discovering this that over the last 20 years the per capita frozen potato consumption increased from one pound to more than 30 pounds a year!

Perhaps one reason is that some of the hottest ideas in food planning come from the frozen potato. For instance, a nifty idea in hors d'oeuvres is French fries in cups served with spicy dips; and frozen hash browns make a great breakfast fried into cakes and topped with poached eggs.

Another reason, in these tight budget times, might be potatoes' economy. You only use what you need with prepared potatoes, and, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the cost per serving of frozen French fries is less than homemade. As much as 30 percent of a fresh potato can go to waste in spoilage, peeling and trimming.

As for quality, frozen potatoes aren't out in the cold there, either. Varieties grown especially for processing are used to assure year-round goodness. Freezing keeps the potato at the peak of its perfection.

For taste, convenience or economy, the frozen prepared potato is the potato perfected or, as the frozen potato folks say "we took a good thing and made it better."

Jon Comedy, Editor
Haskell Free Press

Dear Editor,
I think that Larry Gilbreath always did a good job as a highway Patrolman. He performed the duties of his job without any bragging or prejudice and, as far as I know, has never been abusive.

If his marriage caused the ultimatum of transfer or resign, it was a poor ultimatum.

I have worked with Larry and seen him perform. In every instance a better job could not have been asked for or expected.

In my opinion, if the Texas Department of Public Safety had more patrolmen like Larry, they would be much better off.

Signed,
Olen King

I'm not very large in size, do not take up very much space. I'm placed along all sides of roads by someone who needs me. I stay there in all kinds of weather, I don't bother anyone, I have no arms to defend myself or legs to run, so I get knocked around or even crushed beyond repair by someone who has arms, legs and mind, who is coming down the road on a monster. He doesn't seem to care for me although I'm sure he has my brother placed somewhere along his road for the same duty I'm doing. We, the mailbox do only what is meant for us to do. We hold messages from your loved ones far and near or anything else that is of value to you, until my master comes for them, so won't you Mr. Monster please have some respect for us. We are proud of our duty, and have respect for our country side, so won't you help us just a little, takes only a few minutes to slow down. The homes on either side of the road is a good sign I'm out front on the roadside, so watch for me. I want to live for what I am, a Mailbox. Mailbox's Friend superintendents from my District in Austin and they were very helpful in this matter. Mr. Bill Baker, Superintendent of Schools of Knox City has served several years ago on the "Committee of Eighteen" and I consider him to be an expert in this field. He was a great help not only to me but to the Speaker in the final drafting of the school legislation. We hope to have a large meeting in July of School Board Members, School Superintendents and the County Courts and other interested people to try to acquaint everyone with the serious problems that confront us two years from now in school financing.

The Legislature submitted a complete new Constitution and according to the Fiscal Note issued by the Comptroller Bob Bullock, if adopted, could cost the State a billion dollars more per year in revenue. I am opposed to the entire new Constitution and trust that you will join me at the polls on it.

We also passed a Public Utilities Commission but the cities will not be in it unless they vote themselves into it and then they can vote themselves out of it in five years.

There were a number of other pieces of legislation passed but these are the most important as far as my District is concerned. I have voted in a way that I thought would be of the most benefit to my entire District and trust that you concur with me.

The speech that I made with reference to the school financing was published in the Journal and if you would like to receive a copy of it, you may write to my office in Austin and it will be forwarded to you.

Hoping to see you in the near future.

Sincerely,
W. S. "Bill" Healy

Dear Editor,

It has been brought to my attention that several people in this area are selling smoke and heat detectors and using my name saying that I endorse their products.

I have never seen these people or their products and did not give them permission to use my name.

I do think that every home should have a device of this type but would not recommend purchasing one until I saw it, and after talking to some people who have purchased the devices I think they are out of line on their prices.

So, if anyone contacts you trying to sell you some of these devices, I would sure be careful and investigate before I invested my money in them.

Signed,
Floyd (Satch) Lusk

Dear Friend:

The 64th Session of the Legislature has come to a close and it is with regret that we appropriated practically all of the balance that the State had when we convened. The salary increase for school teachers that was appropriated amounted to 650 million dollars. The Bill was written to such an extent that it limits the amount of local school assignments that can be made and in checking all of the school districts in my 15 Counties, it is my understanding that the local school taxes will not be increased from this Bill. However, there were laws on the books that already brought about a small increase in the school taxes.

During the course of the debate on school financing, there were a number of school

Summer Brings Lawn Problems

Irrigation season is time to consider, things, the high pumping water. Bu- tricity, and natural to power irrigation outrageously high. ke every pumping out the most water the irrigation sys- ter and surface- analyzed for top

Again, SCS technicians have the equipment to check pressure losses. This can have many dollars in pumping costs.

Many producers use their irrigation system strictly for the application of water. But a well designed system can have a multiple of uses. These include the application of fertilizers, soil amendments and pesticides. This is especially true with a sprinkler system.

Generally speaking, for most crops, it is not necessary to make several applications of fertilizer throughout the year, if a relatively heavy textured soil is involved. On extremely sandy soils with poor water and plant food retention capabilities, light, frequent applications of fertilizer may be best. This can be accomplished with liquid fertilizers metered into the pipeline.

If you, as the producer, feel that your system is not functioning as it should, contact your SCS technician. He can give you valuable assistance in correction of faults that could be costing you money.

Summer means hot weather in Texas along with outdoor sports and long lazy days. It also brings lawn problems.

"Lawn problems can cause many headaches for homeowners unless they are accurately diagnosed and properly treated before they become severe," points out Dr. Richard L. Doble, turfgrass specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Dry spots, thin turf and weeds are symptoms of improper watering, fertilizing and mowing practices," notes Doble. "Before applying a chemical to correct lawn problems, be sure that recommended cultural practices are followed."

Drought stress most often occurs in mid-summer and shows up as wilted, discolored turf. Watering schedules should be adjusted to wet the soil to a depth of four to six inches, and only when the grass shows symptoms of drought stress. Mowing heights might also be raised one-half inch to improve drought tolerance in mid-summer.

"Lack of nitrogen or iron often creates a lawn problem. Grass with a nitrogen deficiency may have a pale color and be heavily infested with weeds," explains the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Abundant seedheads are another symptom of nitrogen deficiency. A light application of a soluble nitrogen fertilizer will improve the lawn's appearance."

Grass leaves that have yellow and green stripes parallel to the leaf margins may be deficient in iron. An application of iron sulfate or iron chelate at six ounces per 1,000 square feet will usually solve this problem, says Doble.

If a St. Augustine lawn has symptoms similar to nitrogen or iron deficiency but does not respond to applications of either material, St. Augustine Decline (S.A.D.) should be suspected. Close examination of turf infected with S.A.D. shows green and yellow blotches on the leaves. Good maintenance practices should be continued where S.A.D. is a problem. Also, Floratam, a new St. Augustine grass variety which is resistant to S.A.D., may be sprigged into the infested area.

"Chinch bugs and white grubs are two insects that cause lawn problems," points out the specialist. "The symptoms are similar to that of drought stress and insects should be identified prior to initiating chemical treatment."

Adult chinch bugs are about one-sixth inch long with black bodies and white wings folded over the back. To find chinch bugs, sink a can with both ends open into the ground and fill the can with water. The bugs will float to the surface in three to five minutes.

White grubs are the larval stage of the May or June beetle and are about one inch long with white bodies and dark heads. They are usually found in a curled or half-moon position several inches below the ground. White grubs can destroy the entire root system of lawn grasses so that the turf can be rolled like a carpet.

Chinch bugs can be controlled with applications of diazinon, Trithion, Ethion or Aspon and white grubs with chlordane or diazinon.

Brown patch disease is another problem with St. Augustine grass, adds Doble. The disease is caused by a fungus that attacks St. Augustine lawns each fall. Brown patch can be distinguished from drought and chinch bug damage by the emergence of new growth in the center of the diseased area a doughnut-shaped appearance. Brown patch should be treated with a fungicide when it first appears; several applications at 10-day intervals may be needed.

"The best way to keep a healthy, attractive lawn," advises Doble, "is through proper mowing, watering and fertilization. These regular maintenance practices allow you to keep a check on lawn conditions so that you'll be able to detect a problem early should one develop."

College News

Almost 19 percent of West Texas State University's 4,058 undergraduate students studied their way to a place on the Dean's Honor Roll.

These 755 students achieved at least a 2.25 grade point average on a three point scale for the spring semester 1975.

"In a university which is described as a community of scholars, the students on the Dean's Honor Roll are our most outstanding honor citizens," said Dr. Ray Malzahn, WTSU vice-president for academic affairs.

The honor student from Haskell is Denise Roberson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darold Roberson of 801 N. Avenue F, senior, accounting major.

Thomas E. Pritchard, a Tarleton State University student from Paint Creek, has been named to the "B" Honor Roll for the Spring Semester 1975.

This honor roll consists of those students who carry at least 12 semester hours and have no grade below "B".

Pritchard is a Biology major.

The University of Texas System School of Nursing had 421 candidates—from the Austin, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston and San Antonio campuses for Bachelor of Science in Nursing degrees at the end of the spring semester.

The list of degree candidates, made public by President Marilyn D. Willman of the Nursing School, included the following student from Haskell: Pauletta Lee Wilfong, Rt. 2.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Have you ever bought an appliance and found the warranty on it so confusing that you didn't know what protection you had?

This summer, new federal regulations on warranties go into effect which should make warranties both easier to understand and more complete on certain products.

Of course the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act already protects consumers from false, misleading, or deceptive trade practices involving warranties. And the "implied" warranty that comes with all products assuring that they will perform the function for which they were purchased also offers protection to consumers.

Our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division lawyers have resolved many complaints about sellers who fail to comply with the terms of warranties.

But the new regulations may help to stop deception involving warranties before it occurs, in addition to making it easier for the consumer to know what kind of guarantee, if any, comes with the product he or she buys.

The new law says warranties for products that cost $10 or more must be labeled either "full" or "limited." For a product to have a "full" warranty, it must meet or exceed the following minimum federal standards:

"If a consumer informs the warrantor that a product or part is defective, the warrantor must fix it at no charge within a reasonable amount of time.

"If there are long delays in honoring the warranty, the warrantor must pay the consumer's incidental expenses (such as having to rent a replacement product).

"If a product or part is a 'lemon,' and cannot be repaired after reasonable attempts, the warrantor must offer to refund the consumer's money or to replace the item. If a refund is chosen, the warrantor can deduct depreciation based on use of the item.

In addition written warranties, under both federal and state laws, cannot contain misleading or deceptive language. Tricky wording, omission of important information such as name or address of the warrantor, failure to mention the product or part covered, or failure to spell out the scope or time limit of the warranty is forbidden.

Manufacturers are not required to offer written warranties, but if they are offered, they must comply with federal standards. The Federal Trade Commission soon will clarify exactly what information manufacturers will have to include for "full" or "limited" warranties.

But the consumer, too, has certain responsibilities under the new regulations. Consumers must maintain the product properly. And they must still live up to the stipulations of the warranty. For instance, they might have to oil certain parts of a sewing machine after so many months of use.

For assistance with a consumer complaint about warranties, get in touch with the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Not So Peachy... A Gentle Reminder... Screwworms On Increase... Hay Baling, Sheep Shearing Active.

With peach season in full swing, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service has something of a sour note in its report. Peach production for the state is now estimated at 312,500 bushels; this is a reduction of 52,500 bushels from the 1974 forecast.

The peach crop sustained various levels of damage by a freeze that hit the state last March. Peach picking picks up speed, meanwhile. Harvest is in full swing in the Gillespie County and Limestone County areas. Earlier varieties are also being harvested in north Texas. Most of the crop is expected to come from the southern half of the state.

AUG. 15 may seem far away right now, but it really will be here sooner than you realize. That is the deadline for registration in the Family Land Heritage program. Families and their descendants who have owned and farmed the same piece of land for 100 years or more are eligible to qualify for this honor. A total of 560 families received the award last year.

So far, more than 40 applications have been received. If you would like to apply, contact your county judge for an application blank or write to the sponsor of the program: Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

SCREWWORMS are being reported in record numbers in some parts of the state including South Texas. Some cases have been confirmed as far north as the Edwards Plateau.

Officials at the screwworm fly laboratory at Mission continue to urge livestock producers to send suspected samples of screwworms to the fly lab at Mission for verification. This will assist in the battle to eradicate the pest.

Meanwhile, sheep shearing is in the completion state in the Edwards Plateau. Elsewhere over the state, hay baling is continuing, but yield from first cuttings have been short and some hay has been lost due to wet weather.

In the High Plains area, 400,000 acres of cotton were damaged by hail, hard winds, and rain.

RANGE AND PASTURE CONDITIONS in the state are 84 per cent of normal now compared to 74 per cent on May 1. Ranges and pastures generally have responded to moderate to heavy rainfall by putting on new growth and furnishing excellent grazing. South Texas, however, is the exception to this situation.

TEXAS TWO MAJOR grain crops—wheat and sorghum—are in varying degrees of harvest. The 1975 Texas wheat crop per acre yield is now estimated to be 50 per cent higher than last year. But the 24 bushel average for the state this year is still considerably below the record 29 bushels per acre in 1973.

Wheat harvest is around a third complete at the present time. And even though the June 1 wheat projections are 5,500,000 bushels below an earlier forecast, it still is the best wheat crop ever for Texas.

Harvested acres are now estimated at 5,500,000; this is a 67 per cent increase over the 1974 figure.

Sorghum planting is virtually complete for the state and harvest of the crop, which was underway in the Rio Grande Valley, was halted for a time due to rains.

The crop generally is described over the state as making good to excellent progress.

PAUSING FOR A MOMENT on the lawn of George Washington's Mt. Vernon home, are Patty Prince and Tammy Peiser, during a tour of the nation's capitol on June 9 through 14, representing Stamford Electric Cooperative, Inc., on the annual Government-in-Action Youth Tour to Washington, D.C. Patty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prince of Lueders and Tammy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Peiser of Paint Creek.

WASHINGTON

"As It Looks from Here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman—17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C.—ON MAY 22, 1975, THIS COLUMN WAS DEVOTED to the subject of moves under way to re-establish relations with communist Cuba.

IF CUBA PROVES HERSELF TO BE WORTHY OF NEIGHBORLINESS, THERE are a number of things which should be a prerequisite for our re-establishing our rela-extensive and dangerous infiltration operations ever undertaken by a foreign power against the United States." While in Cuba, these young leftists are quizzed on every aspect of life in this Country. When they are ready to return home they are instructed as to the kind and nature of information desired. In the time between their experience in the sugar fields of Cuba and the time of their return for another season, they have been busy gathering information about university research programs dealing with nuclear weapons; information about missiles, including the guided system of our polaris submarines; and, any other data calculated to be of interest to the Russians.

THIS GROUP WAS ORGANIZED IN 1969 AT A TIME WHEN MOSCOW HAD INFORMED their Cuban satellite that it was not earning its keep. The expense to the Soviet Union was running at about a $1 million a day at that time. The Kremlin, to emphasize its policy, shut off its supply of oil to Cuba saying that if Castro would agree to gather intelligence they needed, all deliveries would be resumed. This was agreed to according to our Intelligence.

AT FIRST, CUBA'S SPY SYSTEM, KNOWN AS THE GENERAL DIRECTORATE of Intelligence, sent agents to this Country but, at that time, they concerned themselves mainly with anti-Castro exiles. They did not do so well in gathering the kind of information wanted by the Russians and that is when they began using the visiting young American revolutionaries to do the job for them.

THIS IS JUST ONE OTHER ACTIVITY WHICH SHOULD BE DEMANDED STOPPED before diplomatic relations are resumed with Cuba. Our representatives to the Organization of American States, soon to meet in Costa Rica, know the views of us who oppose handing Castro a forgiveness slip and other changes. His word alone clearly be made for and verification of being hidden on bean Island.
