County Judge Is Registering Area Families

County Judge B. O. Robertson is working with the Texas Department of Agriculture in registering area farmers and ranchers who qualify for honors in the Family Land Heritage Program for 1975.

The program gives recognition to those who have kept land in the family for 100 years or more, maintaining continuous agriculture operations, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White explained.

Last year over 560 families qualified for certificates and inclusion in the Family Land Heritage Registry, which contains brief histories of all the farms and ranches, the names of current owners, and pictures of early settlers.

"The Texas Department of Agriculture has received many requests for the Registry from universities, historians, and government agencies. It provides an interesting record of agriculture in the early days of Texas, as well as anecdotes about members of the families."

"We also included notations on the 100-year-old structures on the property, no matter what condition. This information can be invaluable to researchers," White stated.

"For this reason, we are trying to register all those who qualify—not only to give these people some recognition, but also to have a permanent record of pioneer agricultural producers in Texas."

Application forms are available from the county judge's office. Once completed, the forms must be certified by the county judge or his designate. They are then mailed to the Texas Department of Agriculture with any pictures of early settlers which can be copied and returned. Deadline is August 15, 1975.

Drive Safely During July 4 Holidays

Governor Dolph Briscoe called on Texas motorists to exercise special caution over the Fourth of July weekend and to observe the 55 mph speed limit. Noting the predicted death increase, Governor Briscoe said his office has implemented a well rounded media campaign to help make drivers more aware of the dangers of holiday driving.

"Besides this heavy media use, increased enforcement of traffic laws will be evident. We also urge the motorist to make use of the many rest stops provided by the Jaycees and by the Texas Highway Department said Briscoe.

Briscoe went on to say it was most important for drivers to volunteer to drive with care. He said 46 people were killed over the holiday last year and the number will likely increase over this next Fourth. "Texas reflects leadership in many areas, but we continually accept the deaths of over 3,000 people each year on the streets and highways of this State. Two hundred years after the beginning of the American Revolution, traffic accidents have become a greater threat to American lives than were the British guns in 1775. Therefore, I continue to urge your assistance to drive carefully and avoid this needless killing.

"I simply ask one thing. Please, take the extra time during this holiday period to be careful, slow down and enjoy the holiday and let's work toward a fatality free Fourth. Use the free rest stops during extended driving and know your limits of alcohol. Speeding also increases the opportunity for a crash. So by observing the law, resting and reduced drinking, the probability of a safe trip can be increased," concluded Briscoe.

Charles Thornhill, manager of the M System Super Market and president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, was introduced by Chamber Manager Rex Felker, as the grown up little four old boy captured by the Indians in the early days of Rice Springs. He had learned the Indians ways and the secrets of their medicine. He had dedicated his life's work to going out in the world to cure the ills of all the people with his famous miracle drugs.

Alexia Mayfield, beautiful talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mayfield of Weinert, opened the medicine show by singing a beautiful medley of old time songs. Queen Norma Sherman was then introduced to the audience as the queen and who would reign for the 1976 Bicentennial Observance. Alexia is a senior student at Hardin Simmons University and she was accompanied by Miss Cynthia Carter, graduate student of Hardin Simmons, of Pampa, Texas.

All time favorites for many years of the local folks was the quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Ash, Ray Lusk and Hubert Bledsoe, who sang several beautiful gospel songs which were highly appreciated by all those present.

At this point in the program presentation, the crowd was invited to move to the pavillion in the city park where the Country Club Square Dancers staged an old time hay barn dance to the lilting tunes of the west and the calling of Leon Ivey of Munday, Texas. One of the last acts, but not the least in popularity, was Ellen Neely and accompanists of Rochester who did an excellent job of entertaining the crowd with several country and western tunes. Alexia Mayfield made three appearances and closed the program with a medley of old time tunes. She and Karen Pippin of Haskell were both featured on the Queens Pageant presentation on Tuesday night.

The entire program was interspersed with demonstrations of the medicine man who had a cure for all ills and evils, including mother-in-law trouble.

The finale of the Weeks Celebration was climaxed downtown on Saturday night with the big street dance where some sixty local and area square dancers did the do-si-do to Cotton Eye Joe and other famous old time tunes of the west. Leon Ivey was again the caller for the dancers who held sway until eleven p.m. Chairman for the Frontier

Soil and Water Conservation Districts

With the beginning of a new Federal Government fiscal year, which will last for 15 months this time, brings us to the point of studying our physical resource base.

For the first time, the Federal Government is changing its fiscal year from July 1 to October 1. So the 1976 Federal Fiscal Year will begin July 1, 1975 and run through September 30, 1976.

Each year, I try to examine the resource base, mainly soils, for Haskell County. I look back to what has been accomplished in the field of conservation, and try to project what we need to accomplish for the next 12 to 24 months, even into the future for about ten years.

Land use trends are changing. In the past, the Soil Bank, Cropland Adjustment Program, tight controls on crop allotments maintained a steady acreage in cotton, feed grains, guar and small grains, with some acres devoted to alfalfa and other hay crops. Many acres of irrigated bermuda-grass pastures have been established. Many small native pastures with heavy mesquite infestation existed.

Currently, with the expiration of the Soil Bank, the Cropland Adjustment Program, tight controls of crop allotments somewhat relaxed, and decreased funds available for cost-sharing conservation measures, more cropland is being planted to cotton. Many small plots of small native pastures are being put into cultivation. As Soil Bank and Cropland Adjustment contracts expired, this land is being returned to cultivation. The need for grassed waterways is becoming very prevalent. Many producers are now considering waterways as needed measures to control outside water as well as for terrace outlets. Parallel terraces continue to be very popular.

Projecting the past and current land use trends 10 years into the future, I believe we will find 20% of our native pasture land put into cultivation. During the 1975 fiscal year alone, a total of 512 acres, that I know of, of native rangeland was returned to cultivation with only 149 acres returned to grass, including grassed waterways. Part of the 512 acres have had required conservation measures installed. All land put into cultivation will need total conservation planned and installed. The number of acres being put to improved pastures will decrease. Alfalfa and other hay crops will increase. The acres that are "salting out" will continue to increase, requiring intensive treatment to prevent further acres from salting out, and to decrease those that have already salted out. Grassed waterways will increase as a means of terrace drainage, "salty" area drainage, and the control of outside water.

Why don't you put some time into a look to the future? Analyze your operations.

There is a possibility that you will find some needed changes in your operations. Don't wait until problems arise to look for solutions. Begin now to anticipate future conservation needs, and plan accordingly. The SCS technicians serving your local soil and water conservation districts are available to assist you in long-range planning. Make their services available to solve your problems now, and for the future.

BROILED BEEF TOP LOIN STEAKS

Beef top loin steaks, cut 1 to 2 inches thick
Salt
Pepper

Set regulator for broiling. Place steaks on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan and rack so top surface of a 1-inch steak is 2-3 inches from heat and 2-inch steak is 3-5 inches from heat. When one side is browned, season, turn and finish cooking on the second side. Season. Steaks cut 1 inch thick require a total of 18-20 minutes for rare and 20-25 minutes for medium-done.

To Broil Over Charcoal: Let charcoal burn until gray before placing steaks on grill. If a grill thermometer is used, it should register about 350 degrees F. for the cooking period. The grill may be rubbed with a piece of suet trimmed from the outside edge of the steak, if desired, to prevent sticking. Place steaks on grill and cook 8-10 minutes. Turn, season with salt and pepper. Brown second side about 8-10 minutes. Total cooking time for a 1-inch thick strip steak will be about 15 minutes for rare, 20 minutes for medium-done. If steak is 1 1/2 inches thick, total broiling time for rare will be about 25 minutes, for medium about 30 minutes.

Safe Canning, Freezing Stressed In 4-H Program

CHICAGO—Making fruit preserves at home even with today's higher sugar prices can mean savings over commercially prepared preserves which may cost more than a dollar a pound, says Dr. Ruth Patrick of the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service. But, she adds, the safe and successful home canning of fruits and vegetables requires the use of recommended equipment, proper methods and tested recipes.

Interest in canning and freezing has increased greatly due to high food costs and growing enthusiasm for gardening. As a result, more than 88,000 young people across the country are currently enrolled in the 4-H food preservation program sponsored by Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation and conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

4-H members from 9 to 19 are "learning by doing" that the safe and economical preservation of foods at home is both a creative art and a science.

Safe preservation Since improperly preserved foods mean wasted produce and lost time spent in preparation, plus the possibility of serious illness, 4-H'ers are encouraged to study and apply the basic scientific principles necessary for safe food handling and processing.

Projects stress the use of seasonal produce—especially locally or home grown fruits and vegetables. The benefits are better nutrition, more variety in meals, and a well-stocked pantry and freezer at lower cost.

For the 47th year, Kerr is

Although the major emphasis is on safe, economical canning and freezing, 4-H food preservation activities also mean fun and good eating for the more than 88,000 young people enrolled in this national program. Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation offers a series of awards to 4-H'ers who excel in food preservation projects.

providing awards for outstanding achievement in the 4-H food preservation program. The corporation offers six $800 college scholarships to national winners, an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress to each state's winner, and up to four medals of honor per county.

Winners are selected by the Extension Service with awards arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee. Additional information on the 4-H food preservation program is available from county extension agents.

A favorite recipe For the girls and boys in the 4-H program, food preservation activities provide hours of fun—and good eating!

Here's a recipe from Kerr that's a favorite with 4-H'ers:
PEAR HONEY

3 pounds ripe pears (9 cups)
1 cup crushed pineapple
Grated rind and juice of 1 fresh lemon or lime (optional)
5 cups sugar

Wash, pare and core the pears; slice before measuring. Put through a food chopper using the fine blade. Combine pears and pineapple. Add the lime or lemon rind and juice (optional). Add sugar and cook over slow heat, stirring frequently. Cook for 20 minutes. Pour into sterilized jars to within 1/4 inch of top. Put on cap, screw band firmly tight. Process in boiling water bath 10 minutes. Yield: 8 half-pints or 4 pints.

Reeves, Worsham Repeat Vows

In formal rites Saturday in Spence Memorial Chapel of First Baptist Church, Miss Kathryn Ann Worsham became the bride of William Wayne Reeves, Jr. of Haskell. Dr. John Sullivan, former pastor of the church officiated at the 7:30 p.m. ceremony. Dr. Sullivan is currently minister of the Broadmoor Baptist Church in Shreveport.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Milton Worsham of Sulphur Springs and Mr. and Mrs. William Wayne Reeves of Haskell.

Mrs. Stephen B. Longino, organist, presented traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Dr. Sullivan, as he sang "The Lord's Prayer", and "The Wedding Song."

The altar, before which the couple recited their vows, was a lovely formal candlelight setting featuring cathedral candle trees and a background of graceful palms. Votive candles and English ivy outlined the altar rail. Fluted columns and Grecian urns held arrangements of white gladioli, pompons and daisies. The family pews were designated by candles, greenery and bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of ivory dulcet satin styled in an empire A-line silhouette designed by Priscilla of Boston. The sculptured bodice of English net veiled in peau d' ange lace embroidered in clusters of tiny seed pearls, had a duchess neckline. Long tapered sleeves came to narrow satin wrist cuffs centered with a narrow silk bow and accented with tiny self-covered buttons. Clusters of pearls appeared over the entire sleeves. Appliques of ivory peau d' ange lace in patterns and bouquets were sprinkled over the entire slipper-level skirt and attached chapel-length train, which fell from the back empire line. Clusters of tiny seed pearls centered each of the appliques of lace.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade design of summer flowers and gypsophylla which she carried over a prayer book belonging to the bridegroom's mother and borrowed for the wedding. Other traditional pieces worn by the bride in the "something old, new, borrowed and blue" theme was a pearl and sapphire necklace also belonging to Mrs. Reeves, a blue garter, and a sixpence in her shoe.

Mrs. Dan Foster of Muleshoe attended the bride as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Payne of Paris, Miss Debi Wilson of Lubbock, and Misses Suenan Gober and Amy McCorkle of Sulphur Springs.

Miss Natalie Cromer of Sulphur Springs was the flower girl and Miss Michelle DeFord of Plano, a cousin of the bride, was at the register.

The attendants gowns were of empire design fashioned of a blended blue and white checked gingham fabric, complimented with a daisy-flocked minion voile pinafore which boasted a nylon daisy braid trim, flattering cape sleeves, and a slightly scooped neckline. To add to the charm of their ensembles the attendants wore white picture straw hats, trimmed with a band and long streamers that matched the gingham fabric in the gowns, and white shoes. They carried dainty white baskets filled with blue and white daisies and caught with matching checked ribbons.

Bob Aycock of Haskell attended Mr. Reeves as best man. The groomsmen were Andy Gannaway of Haskell, Johnny Fouts of Lubbock, Doug Armstrong of College Station, and Jimmy Worsham of Dallas, brother of the bride.

Ushers included Mark Thomas of Odessa, C. A. Thomas III, of Haskell, Wayne Davis of Haskell, and Bobby Reeves of Amarillo and Robert Reeves of DeSoto, cousins of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Worsham wore a floor-length gown of turquoise chiffon and lace. The full, flowing skirt fell from the highrise bodice of embroidered lace. This same lace was repeated at the cuffs of the long, full chiffon sleeves. Her shoes were of the same turquoise color and her corsage was a cymbidium orchid.

The bridegroom's mother chose a long dress of voile in a Mediterranean blue print, with long sleeves. The skirt was a full circle and a self-sash defined the waistline. She also wore a cymbidium orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Worsham were hosts for a reception at the church following the ceremony to honor the newly-weds.

Flowers in the chosen blue and white colors were used to decorate the reception area. The long serving table was covered with a floor-length cloth of white Nottingham lace and swagged with fresh smilax. The five-tiered bride's cake centered the table and was decorated with fresh blue corn-flowers, blue Dutch iris and baby's breath. A pair of nine-branched candelabra provided candlelight for the table while guests were served punch from a sterling silver hand-chased punch bowl, and coffee from a silver coffee service. A garland of fresh greens and flowers was placed on the table to accent the bridegroom's chocolate cake and fresh sugar-frosted grapes were beside the bride's cake. The garland of greenery and fresh flowers decorated the full length of the table.

Houseparty members included Mrs. Doug Armstrong of College Station, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Tony Highfield of Fort Worth, Mrs. Peggy Reynolds and Miss Janet Skidmore of Sulphur Springs.

Following a wedding trip to Puerto Vallarta Vallarta, Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Reeves, Jr. will be at home at 1407 Wiscasset, #153, Arlington.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Texas Tech University at Lubbock. She holds a degree in elementary education and is employed by the Grand Prairie Independent Schools. Her sorority is Zeta Tau Alpha. He has a degree in business administration and is employed by Toyo Cotton Company of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeves hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening following rehearsal for the wedding party at Eden's Restaurant in Sulphur Springs.

Wedding Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Roger McClanahan of Graham announce the marriage of their daughter, Janet Jean, to Richard Wayne Shea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Shea, Sr. of Jacksboro.

The wedding took place July 1 in Graham in the First Christian Church. The Rev. Ray Rodgers, pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church, Graham officiated for the double ring ceremony. Nellie Clay served as organist. The altar was decorated with candles and greenery.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white empire gown with puff sleeves made of linen type material trimmed in seed pearls. She also wore a garter, blue handkerchief and sixpence, that was worn by her mother at her wedding. Her veil was shoulder length, outlined with trim in shapes of bells. She carried a bouquet of daisies attached to a white Bible.

Miss Marcella Arnold of Graham was maid of honor. Her gown was light blue knit and she carried a nosegay of spring flowers.

Mr. Bobby Shea, Jr. of Tuscola, brother of the groom, was best man. Mr. Lynn McClanahan, brother of the bride, Danny Ivey of Snyder, and Mike Bennett of Clyde served as ushers.

A reception at the church was hosted by the bride's parents and assisted by Miss Kristi Atwood, Lisa Gilkey, and Becky Moore. The bride's table was covered with a blue and white tablecloth. A tiered cake was decorated with blue sugar roses. The centerpiece of cut flowers was arranged in a silver bowl. The registering table was covered with a white cloth. An arrangement of daisies in a bud vase that was used at the bride's grandparents 50th wedding anniversary was used as a centerpiece.

The couple will live in Jacksboro after a short honeymoon.

Monday, June 30 the groom's parents were host for ice cream at the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Miller, Lake Graham, after rehearsal.

WASHINGTON

OMAR BURRELLSON
Congressman—17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C.—AN "ENERGY" BILL BROUGHT OUT BY the Ways and Means Committee has been passed by the House of Representatives. The Senate is working on their version. As originally adopted by the Committee, it was proposed that a tax increase of 3c per gallon be placed on gasoline the first of 1976. Another possible 20c was to be added over a period of three years if consumption rose above the 1973 level. A tax on automobiles which failed to get 16.5 miles per gallon by 1977 would be taxed with increases over a five-year period unless a particular make of car reached 26 miles per gallon. THESE PROVISIONS WERE KNOCKED OUT on amendments which left a system of quotas on imported oil and a system of tax credits for both private and commercial use when energy consumption was reduced by a set percent. ANOTHER BILL NOW OUT OF THE INTERSTATE AND FOREIGN COMMERCE COMMITTEE which does not deal with taxes of any kind would roll back the price of "new oil." This is oil produced after 1973 now selling at the market price. Production of "old" oil now controlled at $5.25 per barrel would be allowed to increase over a period of five years to $7.50 per barrel which would establish one price for all domestic crude oil.

THE MEASURE PROVIDES FOR AN ALLOCATION OF GASOLINE by placing a nation-wide monthly ceiling on all gasoline consumption. This measure, like the one passed, would also require auto manufacturers to meet a fleet average of 18.5 miles per gallon by 1978 up to 28 miles per gallon by 1985. It also gives the President standby authority to put into effect a rationing plan which must be first submitted and approved by the Congress.

THERE ARE ABOUT AS MANY IDEAS IN CONGRESS on a so-called energy bill as there are Members and suggestions from across the Country arrive in every mail. MOST OF THE IDEAS HERE SAY that the American consumer of automobiles and gasoline must be rescued from their own folly in the use of fuel.

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL RECENTLY COMPARED some of the current ideas to Al Capp's cartoon character "Fearless Fostick" who roams cities rescuing hapless citizens from eating poisoned beans by putting dollar-size holes in their heads with his special gun. The idea perhaps would be to eliminate every tenth motorist which would then save 10% of gasoline consumption. Fearless Fostick flying a B-52 could put out of business every automobile plant producing cars which average less than 15 miles per gallon and that situation would be taken care of.

From the C and H Sugar Kitchen

Canning Time is Here!

Capture the fresh flavor of summer fruits now, by canning or freezing them. Be sure to use ripe, perfect fruit and follow the instructions carefully. Your results will stretch your food dollar, provide delicious treats you can enjoy all year long, and give you a real sense of accomplishment.

Use pint or quart jars for canning fruits, and pints or half-pints for jams, jellies and pickles. Choose the jar size to fit your family's needs.

To get you started, here's a recipe for a bright-colored, true-flavored Strawberry Jam, taken from the new C and H Sugar canning leaflet.

STRAWBERRY JAM

- 4 cup: prepared strawberries
- 4 cups C and H Granulated Sugar
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Wash, hull and slice strawberries, then measure into large saucepan. Add 2 cups of sugar. Heat and boil hard 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Add lemon juice and rest of sugar. Bring to boil and boil hard, stirring constantly until ready to jell. Pour into shallow dish, and stir occasionally while cooling. Let stand overnight to plump fruit. Pack cold in sterilized glass or jars, and seal. Makes 2 pints.

Jell Test: Dip a clean metal spoon in boiling jam; hold up edgewise. When 2 heavy drops form and slide together at edge of spoon, jam is ready to jell. (Takes from 2 to 20 minutes, depending on pectin in fruit.)

THE SCIENTISTS TELL ME ...

Space-Age Cameras Study Human Body Without X-Ray

A "twilight zone-type camera apparatus has been used for the past 8 years to peer inside astronauts and observe muscle, heart and nutritional changes after space flights.

The technique is called stereometric measurement of body volume, and it is so accurate scientists are hoping the process can be used in health-related areas on the local level. Expense is a main blocking agent.

Actually, there is nothing mystical about the new method. It's a real process invented by real engineers that can help determine if you are receiving proper nutrition or if your internal body makeup is forming correctly, no matter what your age.

Besides giving an accurate picture of the interior body, stereometrics is faster than the conventional method of measuring the circumference of limbs, the head, skin folds, etc. and then trying to tally body volume.

The new process is more sensitive to nutritional changes than presently used techniques and can accurately, easily and quickly detect certain malformations such as curvature of the spine.

If the stereometric process reaches a local physician level, you would stand between two cameras which would produce a 3-dimensional front and rear view called stereopairs. Before, a 3-d observation couldn't be made.

These stereopairs would then be fed into a computer which would draw an outline of your body.

The outline would contain a map showing growth of muscles, bone structure and other interior makeup of body volume.

Using this map as a guide, your doctor, along with a biochemist, could observe and treat your interior medical problems as easily as the obvious external ones.

Dr. R. E. Herron of the biostereometrics laboratory at the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston has been principal investigator in studies using the body volume measurement technique. He is working along with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station researchers at the recently established Human Nutrition Center on the Texas A&M University campus in College Station.

A coworker and biochemist, Dr. Roscoe Lewis of A&M, is in charge of the biochemical analysis of nutritional intake after the stereometric process is used. Herron and he are applying their techniques to a research project involving 100 pre-teen girls in the Bryan-College Station area. These girls are representative of the racial distribution and income levels within that area.

In the 5-year study, Lewis and Herron will determine exact nutrition needs of pre-adolescent children.

"By using the stereometric process, we can find out exactly how nutrition is affecting internal growth," Lewis related. "The camera process also gives us a permanent record that we can always refer to."

"Right now stereometrics is so expensive we can only use it at a research level. Hopefully, costs will come down and it will be made available to the general public," Lewis commented.

Stereometrics is just one example of joint research projects going on at the Human Nutrition Center. In the future, with such improved technology, people will be given a chance to live longer, healthier lives.

THE COMPARISON WITH FEARLESS FOSDICK, then breaks down. It is clear why citizens should not eat poisoned beans. It is not clear why Congress should bludgeon Americans with a tax to conserve gasoline.

IT IS DIFFICULT TO APPLY REMEDIES FOR ENERGY conservation to all parts of the Country and have fairness. The cities have public transportation. The smaller towns and rural areas have to depend entirely on their automobiles.

ALL SORTS OF DISCREPANCIES CROP UP. For instance, no tax was placed on heating oil or other end-products of crude. Manufacturers of 60 watt light globes might not pay a penalty but the consumer gets soaked with a $1.00 a piece for 100 watt globes. Builders who build three bedroom houses might pay a penalty of $3,000 but builders who turned out only two bedroom houses would not be taxed.

NOTHING IS SIMPLE IN THIS WHOLE PROBLEM and if practical approaches are presented, they will be complicated in short order. Decontrol of oil and gas prices would doubtless run up the price, at least temporarily, but prices are going to increase anyway because of our dependency on imported oil. It is the only way, however, that more supplies will be made available.

THE IDEA OF STORING A MONTH'S SUPPLY OF CRUDE OIL in subterranean salt domes would, in the long run, handle almost any emergency. These more practical approaches do not satisfy a lot of people who seemingly have an almost pathological dislike for the automobile.

A Weekly Report Of Agri Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

One Thing In Common... Two Above Failing... Five More Approved... Sheep, Lamb Feeding Less Than Half.

Texas farmers from the High Plains to the Rio Grande Valley have one thing in common for the next several weeks. Harvest of the 1975 crops is underway.

But there is a contrast. While farmers in the northern part of the state get into wheat harvest, those in the southern sections are combining sorghum and getting ready to harvest cotton. Farmers on the High Plains are finishing planting of cotton for this season.

Delays have also been noted in harvests throughout the state due to rains. Wheat harvest is around the 20 per cent completion mark in the state.

IF YOU WENT TO SCHOOL many years ago, you'll recall that any grade you made below 70 was considered failing. Agriculture, based on that grading system, is just barely above failure in its recent parity ratio figure.

The latest parity figure is now a 72; that's three points above a month ago, but six points under a year ago at this time.

Of the 26 commodities listed by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, only three are above parity. They are oats, which is 13 cents per bushel above parity, mohair, at 21 cents above parity, and sheep, 70 cents above parity.

Calves and cotton continue to be glaring examples of disparity. The average calf price in Texas is set at 26 cents per pound, parity for calves is 67.10 cents per pound. Cotton price average in the state is 31.1 cents per pound. Parity for that commodity is 77.12 cents per pound.

Even hog prices which have shown dramatic price rises in recent months—continue below parity. The average hog price in Texas is $43.30; parity is set at $47.50.

In other livestock prices, beef cattle averaged $33.80 (that's up $3.10 from a month ago); parity is $54.90.

In crop prices, the wheat price average of around $3 per bushel is more than $1.50 under parity. Grain sorghum about a dollar under parity.

Egg prices at 52 cents per dozen are 23 cents under parity. Turkey prices at 35 cents per pound are a dime under parity.

FIVE MORE TEXAS COUNTIES have been approved for emergency livestock feed. They are Cameron, Duval, Hidalgo, Jim Hogg and Jim Wells counties. Emergency livestock feeding is needed by a number of eligible producers in those counties to relieve feed shortages caused by prolonged dry weather conditions.

SHEEP AND LAMB FEEDING in Texas is 58 per cent below a year ago as of June 1, but is up 57 per cent from a month ago.

Marketings during May totaled 33,000 head. Current intentions to market are: June, 22,000; July, 19,000; and August, 6,000. July and August intentions are incomplete at this time because additional lambs could still be placed on feed and marketed during these months.

RED MEAT PRODUCTION in Texas during April is up 25 per cent from a year ago, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes.

April slaughter of cattle totaled 398,000 head, which was 95,000 more than a year ago. The calf kill for April was 45,500 head, which is an increase of 35,800 head over a year ago.

Hog slaughter during the first four months of this year was down eight per cent from the previous year.
