

OPS Price Clinic Scheduled Here On July 26

The Fort Worth OPS has announced a price clinic for Haskell to be held at the Chamber of Commerce, July 26 beginning at 9 a. m. The clinic is for all businessmen who may have OPS problems, the Fort Worth office indicated.

With the announcement of the price clinic for local businessmen, Ellis H. Boyd, district OPS director, released some figures on price trends within the past few months.

Boyd indicated that the overall price picture shows a downward development since the institution of price controls.

"Spot market prices dropped 12.1 per cent between February 16 and June 27, 1951," he said. "In contrast, before price controls took effect, spot prices climbed 47.2 per cent from the pre-Korean level of June 23, 1950 to January 1951, when the General Price Regulation was issued."

Consumer price rises slowed to a snail's pace during the first four months of price control, the OPS official said. A rise of only .4 per cent was recorded in consumer prices from mid-April to mid-May of this year, he stated.

Wholesale prices have shown similar trends, the OPS director declared.

Three Are Fined In County Court For Beer Possession

Fines and costs amounting to approximately $366 were imposed by County Court last week against three law violators. The total was boosted well above the $400 mark by a fine of $50 and costs levied in justice court in a related case which was the outgrowth of a raid by officers.

A Haskell Mexican, who has paid several fines in the past for liquor law violations, was back in court last week on a different complaint. He was charged with disturbing the peace, and on a plea of guilty was fined $50 and costs in justice court. The complaint was signed by a member of the Sheriff's department.

In County Court, the Mexican's wife was charged with possession of beer for the purpose of sale, and on a plea of guilty was fined $100 and costs. The complaint was filed by the Sheriff's department.

Following the seizure of 32 cases of beer on the premises of a Rochester man, he entered a plea of guilty in County Court and drew the minimum fine of $100 and costs. The seizure was made by City Marshal Bo Loper of Rochester, who was accompanied by County Attorney Royce Adkins.

Wm. R. AARON

William R. Aaron, Weinert Athletic Coach, Resigns

William R. Aaron, athletic coach and faculty member of the Weinert High School for the past year, resigned his post with the school July 16th to accept a position with the Shell Oil Company. Mr. Aaron, a graduate of N. T. S. C., Denton, joined the faculty of the Weinert school in 1950, and taught Social Science and Health Education in addition to his coaching duties. He had a successful year as athletic coach and teacher, and both his faculty associates and the school patrons and students regret losing him as coach and teacher.

Clarence Horton, Superintendent of the Weinert Schools, also expressed regret in the loss of two elementary teachers who have recently resigned.

A special meeting of the City Council was held Thursday evening, July 12th. The meeting was called primarily to further discuss and take definite action on ways and means of enforcing the Sanitary Sewer Ordinance adopted by the City of Haskell when the sewer system was installed.

Judge T. R. Odell, local attorney, has been retained by the Council to handle all necessary legal matters for the City in connection with the enforcement provisions of the ordinance.

The "open privy," the abandoned water well used as a cesspool for an inside toilet, and other violations of the sanitary sewer ordinance has been a major problem of every Mayor and City Council for many years past. The present City Council has spent a great deal of time studying the matter and trying to decide on the best method of eliminating the menace to the health of the community. They have received written petitions from citizens who live adjacent to "open toilets," and earnest pleas from others who are using well water adjacent to an abandoned well that is being used as a cesspool in direct violation of the law. These petitioners are demanding that something be done about it.

The City Council has agreed unanimously that they cannot spend any more money for street sweepers, garbage wagons, spraying and other sanitary measures now in operation, and leave open toilets and other violations of the sanitary ordinance as they are now.

They have had the present sanitary sewer ordinance examined by a competent attorney, who rendered an opinion that the provisions of this ordinance are in accordance with state laws governing such matters, and could be enforced by law if necessary.

The Council unanimously agreed that all violations of this ordinance that endangers the health and safety of citizens, can and must be eliminated. They have the assurance that a great majority will give their full cooperation. They feel sure that when this matter is properly brought before the people there will be very few that will refuse to remove from his premises anything that is obnoxious and dangerous to the health of his neighbor.

Text of the sanitary sewer ordinance is being republished in this issue of The Free Press on page 11. The ordinance sets out that the sanitary district of city includes all property located within 150 feet of any sewer line in the city.

The Lazy J Ranch's 1949 Ford F-3 Express with POWER PILOT was one of more than 5,000 Fords in the nationwide, 20-million-mile Ford Truck Economy Run.

"My ranch 'workhorse' runs for only 2 1/2¢ a mile!"

George Stephens of the Lazy J Ranch says: "The low cost of the Ford Truck showed in the way it runs for itself. Regular service checkups by Ford Dealer."

Ranch owner George Stephens proved for himself, in the big Economy Run, just how little it costs to run his Ford Truck!

"The Lazy J's Ford Express did itself proud in the Ford Truck Economy Run," says Stephens. "Daily records kept during the entire six months show that our Ford Truck ran up a total of 5,100 miles. My out-of-pocket expense for gas, oil, maintenance and repairs was exactly $123.51 ... about a $20 bill each month ... only 2 1/2 cents a mile!"

The Ford Truck POWER PILOT carburetion-ignition system is one reason why Ford Trucks cost so little to run, in ranch work or any work. The POWER PILOT gives you the most power from the least gas. In the low-price field, only Ford has it!

Rev. Craft Cites Important Facts About Revival

Rev. Truett G. Craft, minister of the First Methodist Church, this week called attention of members and the people of the community to the revival beginning Sunday at the local church. Dr. Kenneth Copeland former pastor of the church here, will be the evangelist.

Rev. Craft cites the importance of the revival in the following paragraphs:

"You have read something about the evangelist who is coming to preach for us. He wants the people to know that he is coming to tell us about Christ, the Saviour.

"Who is Christ? Christ is the Son of God, the Saviour of the world. He came to the world in the long ago, born of woman; grew to manhood; for three years He taught the people concerning God and the Kingdom of God. He was persecuted by the Jewish Church who would not accept Him, nor believe in Him. The Jewish church demanded that He be crucified. The Roman government had their soldiers to put Him to death by crucifying Him. He was buried, and on the third day He rose from the dead. He spent forty days here on earth after His resurrection; He ascended into heaven and sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty. He returned to His Church on the day of Pentecost, and has been in the church of the Person of the Holy Spirit all these centuries.

"Christ in the Person of the Holy Spirit is seeking to bring all men to believe on the Father, and to accept the risen Lord as Saviour.

"It is this risen Christ that we preach. It is this Christ that saves all who believe on Him. It is this Christ that our evangelist will tell us about. It is Christ who is Saviour to all who will accept Him and believe in Him.

"Dr. Copeland is the herald of this Christ. He wants you and me to crown Him Lord of our hearts and our lives. We welcome Dr. Copeland as our preacher, but we welcome Christ as our Saviour.

"To those who are friendless and have lost their way in life; to those who are sinners and need a Saviour; to those who need the fellowship of the church; and the prayers of God's people; to those who have learned that sin is a hard paymaster; to those who live in guilt and shame, and need a soul cleansing, the Methodist Church is one of many that bids you to come to the Saviour, and to find rest unto your weary souls."

"Cotton Research in Action" is the theme of the 12th annual Cotton Research Congress, which meets at Texas A&M College July 28-29.

Failure to report an accident involving personal injury or property damage of more than $100 can be punished by a fine of $25 and a 30-day suspension of driver's license.

Failure to give correct information on the accident report form or presentation of forged securities can be punished by a fine of up to $1,000 and up to one year in jail.

Failure to turn in a driver's license when it is suspended by the state can cost a fine of $500 and 30 days in jail.

Any other violation of the new law can entail a fine of $500 and a jail sentence of 90 days.

The law does not apply to cars of governmental subdivisions.

The bill specifically mentions that it applies to taxicab companies which operate under city franchises.

However, it permits self-insurance for owners of 25 or more cars.

The Department of Public Safety may grant a self-insurer certificate to any such owner. It also has the authority to revoke such a permit on five days notice, presumably for failure to satisfy judgments.

The department will have its paper work vastly increased by the law, and will be busy from now until Jan. 1, working out details of report forms, securities reports and other requirements of the bill.

For the present, the enforcement will be financed by appropriation from the driver's license revenues, with all revenue under the law to go back into that fund.

Drastic Penalties Fixed Under New Driver Responsibility Law

Drastic penalties are provided in the new driver responsibility law which will go into effect January 1st.

The measure puts teeth into many regulations ignored in the past.

A driver involved in an accident and found not to have a current driver's license may be forced to maintain full responsibility proof from that time on.

He must show he can satisfy damage claims of $10,000 for personal injury and $5,000 property damage in the collision in which he was involved and keep that proof on file with the Department of Public Safety thereafter.

Grandchildren Plan Open House Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lesley of Lubbock Co.

An open house from 2 until 5 p. m. Saturday, July 21, will honor Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lesley on their Golden Wedding anniversary. The event, arranged by the couple's three grandchildren, will be at the Lesley home one-quarter mile east of County Line in Northwest Lubbock county.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend the open house.

In charge of the open house activities will be Mrs. Zollie Clark, Mrs. Marvin Newton and Rupert Lee Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Lesley were married July 21, 1901 in Comanche county, Texas, where they both were reared. Mrs. Lesley is the former Miss Zula McGuire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill McGuire, who were pioneer Comanche county residents. She was born there June 19, 1885. Mr. Lesley was born Dec. 30, 1880.

Mr. and Mrs. Lesley had one daughter, Ovie, who was born July 29, 1902 in Comanche. She was married to W. C. (Tot) Allen in Haskell Co. Mrs. Allen died April 21, 1925, at the age of 23, leaving three children.

Open consent of Mr. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Lesley took the grandchildren to rear as their own.

The Lesleys and Allens moved from Comanche to the County Line community in 1922.

"We moved to the South Plains because we wanted to get away from rocks, small acreage and deep sand," Mr. Lesley explained. "We were looking for flat land and larger acreage for cotton farming," he added.

"When we moved to County Line," the Lesleys recalled, "there was one house between there and Littlefield, two houses between County Line and Shallowater. There were no fences and the town of Anton had not been started. There was a gin at County Line and later J. C. Turner opened a store here."

Their household goods and farming tools were shipped from Comanche to the Round Up Switch on the Santa Fe between Lubbock and Clovis. They hauled their things from Round Up to County line in a wagon.

The Lesleys have four great-grandchildren, Rosalea and Ronald Wayne, children of Mr. and Mrs. Zollie Clark of Anton; Gary Don, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Newton of Anton; Denis Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Lee Allen of Abernathy.

Planning Children's Clothes Is Topic At HD Club Meet

"Children's clothes should be planned with the child's needs in mind," stated Miss Thelma Wires, home demonstration agent. Miss Wires used posters, patterns and the finished product to illustrate the points in choosing children's clothes when she met with the Willing Workers HD Club Thursday July 12.

Miss Wires stressed Choose Clothes that are designed especially for a child's way of doing things. Collarless, beltless, sleeveless, dresses with wings or ruffles for a perky look are good for hot weather. A child can manage a dress with front openings. Overalls should be roomy for stooping, have straps that stay up, are easy to put on, adjustable to growth and are of durable material.

Eight members plan to attend the H. D. Encampment at Luecers on July 19.

The vice president, Mrs. Ira Short, appointed a committee to plan the August entertainment.

The hostess, Mrs. L. A. Jones, served a refreshment plate of sandwiches, potato chips, olives, cake and punch.

This being the thirteenth anniversary of the club, songs were sung: "There are Clubs," "Our Club," "Sweet Club of Mine" and "Happy Birthday." Charter members were remembered with flowers.

Inflation Will Undermine Buying Power Of Farmers, O. P. S. Director Declares

"If inflation is permitted to undermine the buying power of our people, farmers will sell and earn less," Michael V. DiSalle, director of the Office of Price Stabilization, has told the nation's farmers. "The prosperity of farmers depends a great deal on how successfully our price stabilization program protects the buying power of all citizens," DiSalle said. "When inflation forces prices up, most people have to buy less of everything. When fewer goods can be bought, production must be cut and fewer people have jobs in factories and stores. As a result farmers are able to sell less and soon they have to sell at lower prices." "If those who seek to eliminate effective price controls were successful in their selfish efforts, immediate price rises for many things essential to farming would hit the farmer a severe blow," DiSalle said. "History shows that when bust follows boom, farm prices drop faster and farther than any other prices." The Price Stabilization Director pointed out how OPS controls held prices stable on important items the farmer buys. His figures showed that retail prices on farm machinery went up 8.5 percent between the start of the Korean war and the time OPS price freeze went into effect in February, 1951 but they showed no increase between February and June, 1951. Building materials went up 11.9 percent during the pre-freeze period, and have gone down 3.1 percent since. Fertilizer went up 4.4 percent just prior to the freeze but is down 0.3 percent since. Food, up 11.3 percent in the immediate pre-freeze period, has gone up only 0.8 percent since. Clothing, up 9.4 percent before the freeze has gone up only 1.3 percent since. House furnishings went up 13 percent in the pre-freeze period and have increased only 1.4 percent since. "Price stabilization protects the value of farmers' savings. Inflation undermines that value. No farm product has a ceiling lower than 100 percent of parity, while the ceiling prices of many products are above parity," DiSalle said. "Inflation can be controlled but it must be controlled for all," the price director asserted. "Every person in every occupation and business has a big stake in controlling inflation. What is one man's price is certainly another man's cost. All of us share equally in the benefits of stable prices. We all have a duty to accept equal shares of the restraints and the temporary sacrifices that are necessary." "Steadily rising defense production will require large supplies of chemicals, metals and building materials during the coming year. Without controls, the prices of things made from these products—lumber, machinery, barn equipment, hardware, fertilizer and household appliances—would rise. The farmer also would find himself paying higher prices for nails, wire, fencing, roofing, tractors and many other things he needs," DiSalle said.

Texas Draft Quota Boosted To 772 During August

An August increase of Texas' draft quota from 485 to 772 men was reported this week by Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield. The state selective service director said 57 local boards not previously scheduled to receive a call would get one. Wakefield, in a letter to local board members, said the increase "emphasizes that Korean peace headlines do not necessarily have a bearing on manpower procurement for the nation's armed forces." He noted that Texas' local boards had furnished "better than the equivalent of a division and a half of military manpower since the Korean fight began." "We hope in the next year demands will be less, but we want to be ready to furnish more if the needs of our country demand it," his letter continued. The August quota increase, he said, was "just another act demonstrating the resolve of our nation not to be caught unprepared again."

This one says You've Arrived

HERE pictured is an automobile that may well be the fulfillment of any man's dream of a fine motorcar. For you've a right to expect, when you pay a fine-car price, that your money will buy more distinction, more comfort, more performance than are to be found in vehicles of lesser worth. So mark well the things that a ROADMASTER offers. No other car on the American scene has a prouder bearing. No other automobile has more spacious dimensions, more luxurious comfort, or finer appointments.

No other car has a ride more serenely smooth on curve or straightaway, highway or byway. And no other car, at ROADMASTER's price or above, has Dynaflo, and the supreme command of every traffic condition which it provides. So you, at the wheel of Buick's biggest and best, have a right to feel distinguished. But there's a joy of possession which goes deeper than visible things. There's the feel of a power plant as brilliantly eager as this great car's valve-in-head Fireball Engine - and the satisfying companionship of a brawny traveler instantly responsive to your every wish. And there's one thing more, which only ROADMASTER can give you in such generous measure. That is the pride of a wise investment, based on the fact that this car stands alone in price per pound, among fine cars similarly equipped. So why not take that very important first step—and come in and see us soon?

Moffett Named On Between Session Legislative Body

AUSTIN July 16.—The Legislative business of the State Government has become heavy in recent years. Therefore, it has become necessary to establish between-session committees to review certain topics and bring in reports, statistics, and other information for the benefit of a succeeding session. Thus, up to the minute data is on the desk of each member the opening day of the session, about many subjects which will come before it.

This system was established two years ago, and contributed to the success of the session just closed, which disposed of more complicated problems than any previous session in the State's history.

These interim committees are appointed by the presiding officer of each branch of the Legislature. He generally chooses experienced and seasoned members for these appointments. Among other recent choices for one of these key places, made by Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey, is the appointment of Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe as a member of the interim Legislative Council, which will make exhaustive investigations into subjects that will probably come before the next session of the Legislature.

WTCC Studies Fire Protection Problem Of Rural Areas

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is trying to determine whether adequate rural fire protection can be secured on a voluntary basis without resorting to creation of a new taxing agency. James F. Melton, manager of the taxation and legislation department of the WTCC, has asked managers of local chambers of commerce of the 132-county region to report creation of any voluntary protective association, how they were created, and their ability to solve rural fire problems.

One of the five constitutional amendments to be submitted to Texans in November, 1951, would open the way for creation of rural fire prevention districts and authorize maximum tax levy of 50 cents per $100 valuation to finance them.

Support Price for Grain Sorghum Up From '50 Rate

Grain sorghum price support for Haskell county at $2.12 per cwt. was announced this week by Joe S. Harper, PMA secretary. This compares with the $1.80 per cwt. support price for 1950 grain sorghum.

Loan and Purchase Agreements will be available through the Haskell County PMA committee for Commodity Credit Corporation until Jan. 31, 1952.

Loans will mature March 31, 1952 at which time producers will either have redeemed the grain, or will permit CCC to take title to it.

There will be approximately 20¢ per cwt. deducted from the loan rate to cover prepaid storage, which will mean approximately $1.91 per cwt. net to the farmer.

Loans may be obtained on grain stored on the farm or in approved warehouses. For full information contact the Haskell County PMA Office or PMA county committee.

Value of One Acre Home Garden Plot Estimated at $410

How much is your garden worth? Although home gardens are generally considered important money savers, few people stop to consider just how much a home garden is worth in dollars and cents.

J. E. Hutchison, Extension horticulturist, says some very impressive figures have recently appeared in the Congressional Record of the 82nd Congress and in some of the national magazines.

One government publication from Washington carried a report of 24 families living near Houston who had 24 acres in gardens in 1948. Food valued at $10,712 was produced on the 24 one-acre gardens. Total expenses amounted to $850, leaving a net value of $9,862.

The same publication reported that, of the eight winners in the national 4-H garden program for 1950, one girl is attending college on the profits from her garden demonstration, and another plans to make gardening a career in partnership with her father. One boy made a gross income of $11,670 in five years, and another made a $506.50 profit from two and three-fourths acres of corn produced on stony ground.

A study made by one of the national magazines showed that $5.25 invested in seeds, insecticides and plant food this spring paid off with $91.02 worth of vegetables. That is, because the gardener did a good job. The size of the garden in this study was 20x25 feet.

Farmer's Home Administration Records show that the average value of home gardens in Texas is $380 per acre. The national average is $340.

Hutchison figures the only losers in gardening are the persons who did not plant one.

No Smallpox Case Reported In State During 1951

Not a single case of smallpox has occurred in Texas this year, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Unfortunately, the fact that we have no smallpox does not mean we are immune for all time.

"Smallpox can strike again. For example, in 1947, an infected individual from Mexico innocently carried the disease to New York City. The result was 13 cases and three deaths, the first deaths in 35 years. Service men returning from the Orient caused an epidemic of 68 cases and 20 deaths in Seattle in 1946.

"In spite of Texas apparent freedom from smallpox, vaccination of every child before he is a year old and re-vaccination every 3 to 5 years is imperative. This is the only sure way to prevent the disease.

The Navy's latest figures show 134,000 Reservists on active duty. The Navy's first ship planned and built as a carrier was the U. S. S. Ranger, scrapped after World War II.

Dove Hunting May Be Restricted To Afternoons During Coming Season

Possibility that Texas hunters may be restricted to afternoon shooting during the coming mourning dove season was indicated last week at a meeting of the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission in Austin.

Word received by the Commission from the Federal Fish & Wildlife Service, which sets the seasons on all migratory fowl, was that afternoon hunting was being considered by the Federal authorities.

This news came after the Commission had recommended the same dates, shooting hours and bag limits for the north zone on mourning doves and had recommended a later season, beginning on November 15 for the south zone.

The Commission acted in accordance with a poll taken of Texas sportsmen on their preference for the mourning dove season. Preponderance of north zone opinion was to retain the present September 1 opening date, while the bulk of south zone hunters responding to the poll wanted a later date than the present October 20 opener. Many from the south zone asked that the mourning dove dates parallel the quail season beginning on December 1. The Commission recommended the south zone opener to be November 15 and run through January 1.

Bag limits under the Commission proposal would be ten birds and shooting hours would be from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The Commission recommended the whitewing season in the Rio Grande Valley be on two successive week ends instead of on September 15, 17 and 19 as at present. The hunting dates would be Friday, September 7, and Sunday, September 9 and Friday, September 14 and Sunday, September 16, with no shooting on either Saturday in between the Friday and Sunday dates. The shooting hours would be from 4 p. m. to sunset.

The Commission got pessimistic word about prospects for zoning Texas for the 1951 waterfowl season. The executive secretary said the Fish and Wildlife Service has not yet indicated possible dates for the fall duck and goose shoot but did indicate disfavoring the zone plan because of the pressure from other states, with New York and California requesting three zones and even little Delaware seeking two zones.

The Commission then voted to recommend that the Texas waterfowl season begin not earlier than November 10. The dates last year

"Hear this powerful soul winning, soul winning, preaches as he says the claim of the Gospel of Christ upon our hearts," Rev. Rexrode said.

W. R. Douglas of the Sunday School, Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, Nashville, is widely known for his work in the field of education, promotion and music.

Douglas, before going to the Sunday School Board was widely known, loved and appreciated for the fine work he had done in the educational field, in churches in the cities of Dallas and Fort Worth. Douglas was educational director and music director of Trinity Church in Dallas, from there he went to the College Ave. Baptist Church in Fort Worth in the same capacity. During the time in Fort Worth he worked on graduate work at the Seminary. Douglas' record was so good in the field of education, promotion and music that the Sunday School Board asked him to join their forces in the capacity of intermediate co-worker for the south. "We are indeed fortunate to have this fine young man come lead us in our music for our revival. Come and join us as we have a great time in songs for the Master," Rev. Rexrode said.

Layers of rotted leaves, grass clippings or straw make excellent mulches for preventing the loss of moisture from around your shrubs during the dry summer months.

Costal, an improved strain of Bermuda grass produced more grazing material than the common variety in tests conducted for several years by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

On July 6, Governor Allan Shivers signed a proclamation designating the week of July 22 as Farm and Ranch Safety Week in Texas.

In 1950, peach growers marketing their fruit as "firm-ripe" peaches, instead of as "green mature," received $3 more per bushel for their product.

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Circular 129, "Bermudagrass Research in Texas," gives the results of work on fertilizing, renovating, establishing and grazing common and Costal Bermuda.

Research and Agricultural Conservation Program Effective Production Team

Helping farmers put into use better methods of conservation which fit in with current production needs is the major function of the Agricultural Conservation Program, says John Brock, chairman of the Haskell County PMA committee. To this end, he points out, research and the ACP work together as a team to insure the needed current and future production, a primary objective of the Nations defense effort.

As research proves the effectiveness of various conservation practices—high yielding legumes, improved range grass, or a more effective terrace, this "better ways of doing things" is made a part of the Agricultural Conservation program.

The chairman points out that the conservation practices have to be adapted for local areas and for individual farms before they can be fully effective in conserving soil and in building up the farm for future production. This adaptation is done with the assistance of technical committees in each State and of extension agents and soil conservation technicians in each county and soil conservation district.

As the chairman explains, no matter how effective a practice may be they are of value in increasing farm production only when they are put to use on the individual farms.

To illustrate, he cites the tremendous increase in the use of lime and fertilizers. Research showed the value of the materials in increasing growth of grasses and legumes for soil improvement.

The ACP helped to get the materials used widely by the farmers of part of the country needing them.

This increased demand stimulated research to more developments in the production and application of these materials. At the same time research has been stimulated to step up its work to develop improved varieties of grasses and legumes and to increase the supplies of better seed.

As a result the whole process of soil improvement has been stimulated and the Nation is in much better shape to meet the defense needs of today and the future needs of tomorrow.

Many of the soil and water conservation practices in wide use on farms today are the results of research with ACP serving as an effective means of stimulating their use on Nation's farms.

In a survey, the expelled air travels about 1000 miles per hour.
