Cotton Ginnings In Jan. 16 Reported At 18,759 Bales

Although the 1952 cotton crop in Haskell County was the smallest in years, the yield exceeded all pre-season estimates, according to the ginning report released this week by Virgil A. Brown, special agent for the U. S. Department of Commerce, bureau of the census.

The report shows 18,729 bales of cotton were ginned in the county from the crop of 1952 prior to Jan. 16, this year. This compares with 49,540 bales for the crop of 1951.

The final ginning report is not expected to show any appreciable gain over this total, as very little cotton remains to be gathered.

The ginning report contrasts with pre-season estimates of 10,000 to 15,000 bales for the 1952 crop, made early last fall by local buyers and ginner.

Born August 12, 1857, near Mt. Pleasant, Texas, she was the Mrs. Edward Bowman. When she was three years old, the family moved to Brazos County and settled on land that is now occupied by Texas A&M College.

She married the late James W. Wright of Hill County in 1873. Several years after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Wright moved to Bosque County where they lived for five years. In 1889 they moved their family to Haskell, and were among the first families to settle here permanently after organization of the county in 1885. Mr. Wright preceded her in death a number of years ago.

Mrs. Wright, affectionately known to scores of friends and neighbors as "Mother" Wright, was long identified with the work of her church, and was a charter member of the first Baptist Missionary Society organized in the county. She was also a longtime member of the Order of the Eastern Star.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Ann Warren of Wevoka, Okla., Mrs. J. E. Bernard of Haskell, Mrs. Gladys Mundy of Abilene; and two sons, Byron Wright of Haskell and Wilbur Wright of Waco. Also surviving are 10 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren, and four great-great-grandchildren.

Coach Dutch Meyer To Speak At Annual Grid Banquet Friday

Haskell will honor its District 8A and bi-district championship football team, its pep squad and band with a combined banquet at the new Primary School auditorium at 7 p. m. Friday with head football coach L. R. (Dutch) Meyer of TCU the guest speaker.

Jointly sponsoring the affair are the Pep Squad, Indian Band Haskell Lions Club and the Quarterback Club.

Tickets for the banquet, being handled by the Quarterback Club have gone at a brisk rate this week, Q-B Club president Charles Swinson said today. The tickets $1.50 each, will be available until sometime Friday afternoon unless sold out beforehand, Swinson said.

Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the Haskell Q-B Club's trophy to the Most Conscientious Player on the 1952 squad, by club president Swinson.

Named as honorary pallbearers were Carlton Couch, Tot Johnson, Fred Sanders, Henry Post Dr. L. F. Taylor, Jim Darden, P. G. Kendrick, John Davidson, C. M. Conner, George Fields, A. E. Stocks, C. L. Lewis.

Free Show for Children To Be Feature of Trade Promotion

Twelve merchants of Haskell met Friday morning in the banquet room of the Texas Cafe to hear members of the C. of C. Retail Trades Committee explain plans for a new trade promotion program. Although the committee had desired that a larger representation of business men would be present, they were pleased with the reception of the plans by those who were there. After some discussion by those present, it was decided that probably February 21 would be the appropriate time to institute the new program which will be held on Saturdays for ten consecutive weeks.

Tentative plans call for several phases to be included in the program which will have a number of novel features and will cost the business people of Haskell a minimum of expense. Each Saturday morning, it is planned to present a free show for the children at the Texas Theatre which will include a short stage show, followed by an educational film especially for them. Each weekly stage production will feature one of the schools in Haskell County and possibilities that this part of the morning program will be broadcast are under consideration.

Each Saturday afternoon there will be a special event on the courthouse lawn that will be of interest to everyone in the Haskell trade territory. It is hoped that a hundred percent cooperation will be given by the merchants and all are especially invited to take part. Personal contact will be made in the near future and it is urged that any merchant who might be overlooked, to please inquire for particulars about the program. Committee members feel that with the backing and cooperation of the merchants, this trade program will be very beneficial and will greatly help in the efforts to promote Haskell as a trading center.

Workers Map Final Drive For Dimes

You still have a few days to get that March of Dimes contribution in. The nationwide campaign to raise polio-fighting funds closes January 31 when an estimated 1,500,000 volunteers will begin tabulating the results of their month-long efforts to raise the needed money.

Sam P. Herren, Haskell County March of Dimes chairman, said today that a number of generous contributions had been received since the drive was started. A final round-up is planned this week end, when envelopes will be distributed throughout the business section. Contributors will be asked to include their donations and mail the self-addressed envelopes to Miss Jane Holt, treasurer of the campaign.

Half of the money contributed to the March of Dimes is used by our county chapter to help pay cost of treating local polio patients, or, in emergencies, polio patients elsewhere. The other 50 per cent finances March of Dimes research, professional education and epidemic aid programs.

In a last minute appeal, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, reminded campaign workers that more polio sufferers than ever before are counting on the March of Dimes for needed financial aid.

"We simply cannot let a single patient suffer for lack of funds," Mr. O'Connor said. "We must raise enough money to care for 58,000 who were stricken in 1952 and prior years and still need our help."

Indians Win Over Munday, Albany, In Cage Contests

The Haskell Indians remained among top contenders for the District 8-A basketball title race this week, with a smashing 44-24 defeat of the Albany Lions Tuesday night.

It was the Indians fifth win against a single loss. High scorers for the Tribe were Roy Lauderdale and Lynn Coleman with 12 points each. W. S. Scott tallied 18 of the Lion's 24 points. The Indians B team lost 43-30 in a companion game, with Wendell Dixon high man for the Paposoes with 13 points.

Friday night of last week, the Indians took a close conference game over Munday, 50-47, with Ray Lauderdale scoring 16 points as top man for the victorious Indians.

As a result of their wins over Albany and Munday, the Indians are only a half game behind Throckmorton in the title chase in a cage tourney at Hawley Thursday night, Roy Lauderdale scored 26 points to lead the Indians to a 62-36 defeat of Aspermont in the initial contest.

Wichita Falls C. of C. Group Will Visit Haskell on Area Tour Tuesday

Bob Burnham, department manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, has advised Rex Felker, local C. of C. manager that a party of some thirty or forty business men of that city would arrive by special bus in Haskell at 11:45 a. m. next Tuesday. These men compose a delegation of wholesale and manufacturing merchants of Wichita Falls who are making a personal tour of Texas and Oklahoma cities to present to all local merchants a Buyer's Guide of that city.

The extensive campaign to acquaint retail merchants in various towns of the advantage derived by dealing with these wholesale firms is sponsored by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce in their extension of retail trade and is titled "Progressive Wichita Falls."

While in Haskell they will meet with the Lions Club at their regular Tuesday luncheon meeting and also expect to spend another hour getting acquainted with Haskell merchants and personally distributing the Buyers Guide which lists over 1400 items and services.

"It is strictly a business deal with us," Burnham told Felker, "and we are very much interested in meeting merchants of Haskell and impressing on them the many advantages they may derive from looking to Wichita Falls for their wholesale needs. We want to personally invite any merchant who is not already a member of the Lions Club, to be present Tuesday as our guest."

The stop in Haskell will be one of the first in a two day's trip by the delegation which will take them to a number of towns and cities in this part of the state.

The Retail Trades Committee of the local chamber of commerce with Jetty V. Clare, director and Bill Holter, chairman, will meet the party and assist in making them acquainted with Haskell merchants.

Initial Fight Program Attracts Many Fans; Next Events Feb. 5

The first of a series of inter-city boxing matches sponsored by the Haskell Fire Department drew a sell-out crowd of fans Friday night. Spectators who jammed the building after all seating arrangements had been filled, were well pleased with the 21 bouts reeled off by ex-Golden Glove champion Lon McMillin and his assistants who helped firemen stage the event.

Haskell contenders won the lions' share of the events over fighters from Hamlin, Knox City Munday and Seymour.

Another schedule of bouts will be held Thursday night, Feb. 5th, firemen sponsors announced today. Additional seating arrangements are being installed this week and other changes made that will comfortably accommodate several hundred more spectators, they announced.

Next week's bouts will include return matches between some of the favorites who drew considerable applause in the initial matches. Also, McMillin said he would endeavor to secure an opponent for Jimmy White, outstanding Haskell boxer and favorite of fight fans in Haskell and area towns.

Haskell County History

20 Years Ago—Feb. 2, 1913
 At the meeting of the Haskell Service Club Tuesday at noon the following officers were elected: C. B. Breedlove, president; F. M. Robertson, vice president; H. C. King, secretary and treasurer; Walter Murchison, sergeant-at-arms; and directors, Hill Oates, Leo Southern, Sam Roberts and J. D. Montgomery.

A number of cases of the measles are reported in the Midway section, but no serious effects have resulted as a result of the malady.

Out of the six leading counties in Texas in cotton production for 1932, four of them are in West Texas, according to the Bureau of the Census in a report released Jan. 16. Jones County leads with 98,809 bales; Lubbock 90,569; Ellis 87,799; Hill 79,848; Haskell 78,068; and Runnels 76,598. Considerable cotton is still in the field in Haskell County, and when all the crop is gathered, Haskell will possibly advance into fourth place, local ginners and cotton men believe.

Springlike weather of the last ten days has permitted farmers to get an early start on their plowing and other work preparatory to making a crop. Farmers say that the outlook for another big crop is excellent, and that fall and winter rains have put ample moisture in the ground to insure a good crop.

The Senior Class enjoyed a picnic Friday afternoon, arranged by their sponsors, Mr. and Mrs.

Geo. V. Wimbish. They went to an ideal picnic spot east of town near the Throckmorton road, and the boys gathered wood and built several bonfires which were used by the girls in preparing supper.

30 Years Ago—Feb. 2, 1903

The first public evidence of the existence of the Ku Klux Klan in Haskell was given Friday, when The Free Press received a letter containing $20 in money, with the request that it be delivered to a Haskell woman, a widow with several children, one of which has been ill with pneumonia for several days. The letter, postmarked at Haskell, read in part as follows: "We are enclosing herewith $20, which we kindly ask that you have delivered to Mrs. _____ whose family we understand is sick and in need of help." It was signed Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

W. A. Leonard and Miss Ollie Hailmark, both of the Roberts community, were married last Sunday afternoon at the home of Rev. C. Jones in this city, who officiated.

T. C. Cahill returned this week from a tour of Old Mexico, on which he spent 14 days, visiting practically every large city in the Mexican republic.

A new concrete bridge is now being built by the city, on Walton Street, better known as the middle Rule road. The work has been delayed by recent bad weather, but Mayor Couch says it will be finished within the next week if present weather conditions prevail.

At the meeting of the School Board this week Supt. M. H. Brasher was unanimously re-elected to head the school system for the ensuing year.

Judge P. D. Sanders, who keeps the weather station here for the Government, reports a total of 1.76 inches of rain Monday and Tuesday. Farmers say this added moisture has definitely broken the drought and are elated over prospects at this time of the year.

The office building of the West Texas Utilities Company is almost complete, and company officials are planning to occupy their new quarters around Feb. 10th. The modern building is located on the south side of the square and is a worthwhile addition to the business section.

50 Years Ago—Jan. 31, 1903

The many friends here of Percy Lindsey, now in business in Colorado, will be interested in learning of his recent marriage to a lady there. Our informant could not give us the lady's name or other particulars.

R. J. Barrett, W. R. Chapman and County Judge J. B. Thomas of Jones County were here this week and closed a deal whereby they bought 1500 acres of good land in the northwest part of the county.

J. C. Wright, who has the contract to grade the first four miles of the railroad, came in Thursday and is arranging his camps and making other arrangements preparatory to beginning work next Monday. We understand that he expects to be able to start with a force of about 20 teams, to which he will add as he can secure others.

E. G. Bennett left Thursday with a carload of mules for himself and C. M. Brown, which he expects to convert into cash over in Arkansas.

Guy Florence, J. T. Hester and E. Bivins were among those who remembered the Free Press this week in a way we appreciate.

Jas. Roddy of Honey Grove is visiting relatives here.

Ramsey Cox and Col. Head of the Central Railroad were here Wednesday.

Warren Fitzgerald returned Wednesday from a visit to relatives in Gonzales County.

According to the weather prophets, we may look for a big blizzard, probably the coldest of the winter, today or tomorrow.

Robert Hollis has planted one and one-half acres in onions on his place north of town and expects to supply the town with onions next summer.

Uncle George Greer was down from Munday a day or so this week.

T. N. Johnson of Johnson County was here this week and bought a place from G. N. Lambeth in the north part of the county for $3700.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS
 By SENATOR "COTTON" GEORGE MOFFETT

The Legislature is now beginning the serious work of the session. Bills by the dozens are being introduced into each branch every day. The total number of bills will probably be between 1400 and 1500. Almost every member has at least one pet bill which he would like to pass. It can easily be seen that the large number of bills which are introduced makes it impossible for all of them to reach the Governor's desk, and of course, some of them are not in line with wise public policy.

The Constitution of our State, as well as other States, requires that each bill be sent to a suitable committee immediately after it has been introduced. The committees usually composed of from five to twenty-one members, dependent upon the importance of said committee. It is necessary that each committee take up and consider the bills which have been referred to it. If a bill deals with a matter of important state-wide policy, a date is usually set for a public hearing, at which time any citizen may come and express his views upon the merits or demerits of the bill. On some highly important bills, hundreds of people come to Austin to express their viewpoints for or against the bill under consideration. After these hearings are held the committee meets again and often suggests amendments or changes, after which the committee votes upon a motion to report the bill favorably or unfavorably. If the committee report is favorable, the bill is then placed on the calendar of the House in which it has been introduced and it then comes up for consideration by the entire membership of that branch. If it passes through the House in which it has been introduced it then goes over to the other branch where the same process is repeated. A bill may not pass each branch in the same form. A committee from each House is then appointed to reach a compromise upon the difference between the two Houses after which the bill goes to the Governor's office. He may veto or approve it as he sees fit.

Many visitors were in Austin for the Inauguration Ceremonies. The weather was favorable and the day's events were impressive. However, a prominent member of the Senate, with poetic leanings has written the following, which has considerable truth in it:

"Oh, the glamour and the glamour Which attend Affairs of State, Seem to fascinate the masses And impress some folks as great."

But the truth about the matter in the scale of loss and gain, Is that one inauguration Is not worth a slow two-inch rain"

GUESTS IN PARKS HOME
 Mr. and Mrs. Sam Parks had the following visitors last week end, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. (Betch) Burton and family of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Shannon Bishop, right, of Stamford, is the grandson of two Haskell county couples, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Campbell of Haskell and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bishop of Rule. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Enis Bishop, are also well known in Haskell county. Mrs. Bishop is the former Charlene Leach. (Cut courtesy of Stamford American).

Stamford Tots, Hit By Polio, Making Plucky Fight To Regain Normal Health

By MRS. R. F. MAHOOD

Two little Stamford boys who were stricken with polio less than a year ago tug at the heartstrings of people of this area when they think of the March of Dimes. Those two little youngsters, whose parents are neighbors on Hudson Road in Stamford, are making a plucky fight towards regaining the use of their limbs that were stricken by the disease.

Shannon Bishop, right, has an extra pull, too, for Haskell county, since both sets of grandparents live in the county. Shannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Enis Bishop of Stamford, is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Campbell of Haskell and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bishop of Rule. His mother was Charlene Leach before her marriage.

Shannon will be two years old on February 4. Shown with Shannon is Bill McClelland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton McClelland, Jr. Both boys were stricken with polio last May. They have been in the hospital at Hendrick Memorial Hospital at Abilene and at Warm Springs Foundation at Gonzales. They came home from Gonzales last August and have made two trips back.

Please—Don't All Hit the Highways At Once!

If every car and truck owner in the state of Texas tried to go for a ride on the same Sunday afternoon, there would be a vehicle every 9 yards on every paved street and highway in the state.

Fortunately, the odds are against this happening, since the average motorist spends only about 25 "days" a year in his car, according to James J. Newman, vice president of the B. F. Goodrich Company.

He points out that estimates of American automobile usage and driver habits show that the average motorist drove 9,000 miles last year. At his average pace of 30 miles an hour, this totals 300 hours, or 25 daylight driving days. This is only 6.8 per cent of the daylight hours in a year, he says. Newman says that the state's motor vehicle registration today is at its highest mark in history and will probably reach an estimated 3,252,000 early this year. Hard-surfaced road mileage in both rural and urban areas of the state is 16,711, which is also a new high, he says.

He reports that drivers throughout the nation feel traffic jams are responsible for the loss of millions of dollars in wasted time alone. Newman says B. F. Goodrich estimates a national increase of 12,000,000 car and truck registrations to bring the nation's total to 65,500,000 motor vehicles by 1960. This, he points out, seems to leave little chance for an early let-up in today's traffic congestion.

Newman, former chairman of the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee, says he believes that the nation's traffic problem could be solved if authorities start to work now on an expanded national highway program, improved parking and unloading facilities and revisions of outmoded traffic systems and regulations.

Children's Dental Health Day To Be Observed Feb. 2

Austin, Texas—More than half of the children of this country have as many as six cavities in their teeth before they begin school.

That's the estimate of Texas dental authorities and state health officials as they announced Feb. 2 as the date for the fifth annual observance of Children's Dental Health Day.

The day has been set aside in an attempt to call public attention to these startling facts: Ninety-eight percent of all 15-year old boys have one or more teeth missing, decayed or filled. Over 284 million cavities are afflicting the teeth of American children, with teeth decaying six times faster than they are being filled. "One-half of the biggest hurdles to be overcome," State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox says, "is the seemingly wide-spread attitude that baby teeth are insignificant."

He believes the attitude stems from the fact that baby teeth are only temporary, with most people thinking there is no need for concern until the child gets his permanent set.

But dental scientists say that care the care given the baby teeth has a direct and vital bearing on the condition of permanent teeth, Dr. Cox points out.

The State Department of Health and the State Dental Society are sponsoring the state observance of the day.

They are appealing to all parents to pay attention to the plight of youngsters' teeth. And they make this prediction: "The children will be grateful—especially when they are no longer children."

The White House in Washington is visited by 1,000,000 people annually.

The name "White House" was first used during Teddy Roosevelt's administration.

New Deer Tag Considered By Game Commission

AUSTIN, Jan. 26—The Texas Game and Fish Commission tentatively decided to replace the present paper deer tag used by hunters.

Meeting in quarterly session in Austin, the Commission agreed that a proposed new metal tag would be preferable.

The Commissioners reported the present paper tag is too difficult to affix permanently to a carcass as provided by law, and also held that the paper tag sometimes is re-used.

The theory behind the tag, according to the executive secretary is to identify the owner of harvested deer and to prevent any individual from taking more than two deer per season under the General Law.

The Commission postponed discussion of a proposed law permitting a block of Hill Country counties to experiment with a limited doe harvest as a means of balancing the deer herds. Two Marble Falls men, Vern Dillion and Jack Crownover, appeared before the Commission to suggest that the present system for taking buck deer is preferable.

The Commission approved the purchase of the J. C. Gambill Wildlife Refuge near Paris, subject to final sanction of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service which would provide three fourths of the funds under the Pittman-Robertson Act. It acted after the executive secretary reported that a minimum of 411 acres should be added to the present 702-acre refuge to make the area manageable. The Commission also agreed to study possibilities of using part of the refuge for propagating quail.

The Commission postponed action on increasing the Gene Howe

Mrs. C. L. Lewis Directs Harmony Club Program on Stevens Collins Foster

Stevens Collins Foster, America's best known and most loved composer was the subject for discussion when the Harmony Club met at the homemaking cottage Thursday evening, Jan. 27.

Mrs. A. C. Foster, Jr., president, presided over a short business meeting. The Music Federation Collect was given and roll call was answered with well-known folk songs of this important figure in the world of music.

Mrs. C. L. Lewis, director of the program gave a report of the recent unveiling of a memorial to Foster in the Library of Congress on Jan. 13, which is the anniversary of his death. "Oh Susanna" by Foster, said Mrs. Lewis, was the song that inspired the Fortyniners on their way over the limitless and uncharted trails as they trokked their way across America when gold was discovered in California, as she told of the influence of Foster's music in history. Mrs. Lewis also presented Mrs. Tom Coyle and Mrs. Tommy D. Hawkins who were speakers on the program.

Interesting material was presented by Mrs. Coyle as she told of Foster's work, and of his tragic and untimely death. Basing her theme on the melodies and words that express the sentiments of American spirit and songs in which Foster caught the loneliness and sadness of the Southland she stated that "the music of Steven Foster has given inspiration and pleasure to countless thousands, even to the present day many years after his death. She pointed out that "Old Folks at Home" composed when Foster was 25, is one of the most popular songs ever written, and the most translated in the world."

Mrs. Hawkins gave "The Old Kentucky Home at Bardstown." Admiration of this self-educated composer and appreciation of his work led to the establishment of a museum in memory of Foster at Federal Hill in Kentucky, which Mrs. Hawkins described.

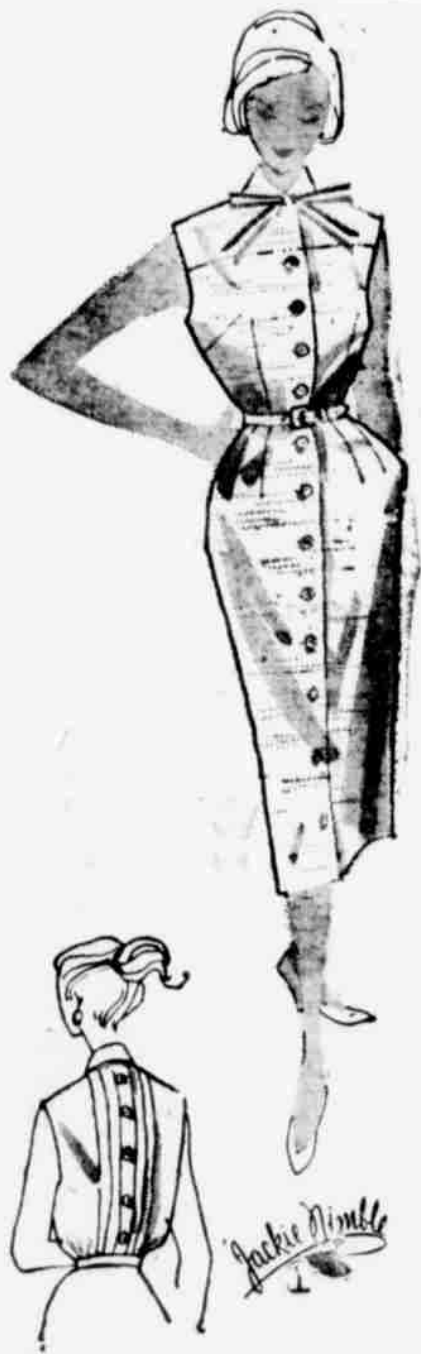

Mrs. Floyd Cook gave two vocal solos, "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," and "I Dream of Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair," with Mrs. O. E. Patterson as accompanist.

Mrs. V. W. Wenders gave three violin numbers, "My Old Kentucky Home," "Old Folks at Home," and "Beautiful Dreamer." She was accompanied by Mrs. Foster.

The hostesses, Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Coyle served a refreshment plate of coffee and cookies.

foot, should be firm but flexible. The counter, a firm piece of leather shaped to fit around the heel, is important for the support it gives the back of the foot.

Your child's shoe should have a flexible board toe to allow for easy toe movement with a cloth lining over the toes to absorb moisture. A flexible sole is important at the ball or widest part of the foot and should be firm and thick enough to give support for body weight.

To be sure that the shoes fit your child, have him walk around in the shoes as a final test. Know that the sole conforms to the shape of his feet.

Care Advised In Selecting Shoes For Children

Are you a good shopper when it comes to buying shoes for the children? Do you know the importance of the first few years in the development of the child's feet?

Mary Routh, clothing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says during the 20 years the foot is forming, the shoes worn leave permanent marks on the walk, posture and general health of your child.

An infant does not need shoes until walking time, the specialist says. Shoes put on before then, generally for appearance, often do more harm than good. The first walking shoes should have flexible but firm soles, broad enough to make a steady platform under each foot.

For the child from two to six years and on through his school years, it is important to pay attention to details. Take the child shopping with you to be properly fitted and have the salesman measure both feet for length and width, with the child standing. Select shoes to fit a larger foot and allow a good half inch growing room beyond the length of the longest toe.

Check for a last or shape that conforms to the foot for shoes to be comfortable, safe and durable. That means they should have a broad round toe and a straight inner edge.

The shank, that part of the shoe between the heel and the toe that fits into the arch of the

HIGHLIGHTS and SIDELIGHTS From the State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Maybe you don't realize it, but as a taxpayer you have 90,000 employees.

These people are state workers. And it looks like you are going to increase their salaries. All depends on the legislature.

A bill to hike the pay of state workers has been introduced by the Austin delegation: Representatives Obie Jones, Pearce Johnson and C. L. Sandahl, Jr., and Senator Johnnie B. Rogers.

If it passes, the measure will give "temporary emergency" wage boosts of 15 per cent on all state salaries up to $3,600 per year and 15 per cent on the first $3,600 of higher salaries.

Robert B. Baldwin, Shivers' budget director, proposed a job by job, cost-of-living increase, on an equalized basis.

In his opening message to the legislature, Governor Shivers asked that an increase in workers' pay be included in the budget bill, but that it not become effective until Sept. 1 when the fiscal year begins. Hence the emergency legislation.

It is Edward Clark, Austin attorney, who bosses the legislature, says Leslie Velie, writing in the February Reader's Digest. Velie charges that some of the state's most important laws are written in Clark's office and in his capacity as lobbyist for Herman Brown of the firm Brown & Root.

Velie, says Clark has and uses the power to tell potential political candidates "not to bother" to run, and that he can tell the lawmakers "what they should bother with."

In reply to all this, Clark snapped that Velie's story was a "false, foul, and infamous smear." He added that he was shocked and surprised that the Digest would print a story so "very definitely off-color and completely untrue."

The source for the story, Clark believes, is a "well known local radio propagandist who has been working very closely with the radical wing of the labor movement."

Another to take the issue with Velie was Reuben Senterfitt speaker of the house, who said he considered the Texas legislature "the most independent body of people I know."

A number of bills going into the hopper for legislative consideration are familiar—they had been introduced at previous sessions.

One of these is the so-called fair-trade bill. This time its author is Representative Lamar Zively of Temple. The measure would prohibit advertising or selling of goods below cost.

Proponents of this bill argue that it would prevent a big merchant's running a little one out of business by ruinous sales. Opponents contend that the public benefits when such sales permit purchases at bargain prices. This is one bill that will affect the women, who do about 80 per cent of the buying nowadays.

Also familiar was a bill to legalize race track betting in Texas. The author of this one, Representative Ed Sheridan of San Antonio, declared it would raise many millions of dollars in tax revenue.

More money will be needed for a variety of items, some of which were listed above. Also, funds will be required to give increased pay to members of the legislature themselves, if a bill introduced by Representative Charles Murphy of Houston is successful.

Murphy's bill would give the lawmakers $25 per day during the first 120 days of the legislative session and $5 per day thereafter. The solons now receive $10 per day for the first 120 days and $5 thereafter.

No sooner is one set of state officials inaugurated than the political forecasters in Austin begin speculating about who is going to run in the next election.

Last week some of the experts thought they saw in Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey's speech indications that he will be a candidate for governor next time.

There has also been speculation that Attorney General John Ben Shepperd might seek the chief executive's place. Another mentioned as a likely candidate is Land Commissioner Bascom Giles.

Those three, or any two of them, would make a brisk race.

Ramsey, by the way, set a record when he received 2,001,709 votes for the office he now holds. That's more votes than any Texas candidate received before—for any office.

There is a surplus in the Confederate pension fund of $4 million, and the amount is growing every year. There are now two Confederate veterans left in Texas: Thomas Riddle, 106, who lives at the Confederate home here; and Walter W. Williams, 110, who lives on a farm near Franklin. The state also contributes to the support of 535 widows of Confederate veterans.

The legislature can, if it so desires, free the surplus in the Confederate pension fund for other use.

Even before the legislators hit town the streets of Austin are crowded with cars, particularly around and near the capitol.

Now comes proposals from R. C. Lanning, chairman of the State Board of Control, that the state-owned half-block of vacant land between the capitol and the Governor's mansion be leased for a parking lot.

Cowboy singer Rex King and his educated horse, Ranger, will present his Western show in Haskell Monday night, Feb. 2, under auspices of The Junior High Parent-Teacher Association. The widely known singer and entertainer will present a number of roping specialties in addition to a musical program. The show will be presented in the High School auditorium.

It will accommodate 220 cars, he says, and can be made ready for $4,500.

Lanning figures it will rent for $151 a month and net the state over $6,000 in a very short time.

Another way to get more money for the state would be to put a tax on natural gas compressors, says Representative Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde.

So, he introduced a bill to levy that kind of tax, which he feels will bring in $60 million per year.

Briscoe's proposition is to assess $60 per year for each horsepower capacity of each compressor used to move natural gas in pipelines. The great bulk of the tax would be paid by people outside of Texas who use Texas gas, the bill's author said.

Revenue would be doled out this way: $24 million a year for highway construction; $15 million per year for public schools; $15 million per year for city streets; and $6 million per year for building dams in the water conservation program.

Representative Stanley Banks of San Antonio has introduced a bill to regulate optometry. It would prevent those who sell glasses from advertising their services, capabilities or prices and keep any doctor or firm from examining the eyes free.

Optometrists who believe in informing the public are opposing the bill.

SHORT SNORTS. A bill calling for the holding of a presidential primary, such as is done in numerous other states, is now in committee. . . Resolutions have been introduced proposing constitutional amendments to provide four-year terms for constitutional state officials and pay increases up to 100 per cent. . . An administration-sponsored proposal has been introduced to provide a $200 million water conservation program, through state assistance based on a tax on the right to use surface waters. . . Among the big bills pending is one to raise the pay of each school teacher $600 a year. . . Another bill calls for congressional redistricting. It avoids the confusion that was created during the last session by simply designating Harris county as the 22nd Congressional district. Harris county would get the extra congressman anyway because of its big increase in population.

Said one legislator to another "Maybe two can live as cheaply as one—but not as quietly."

50 Years of Extension Work Gets Resolution From A & M System

College Station—Significant developments in the 50 year history of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service were pointed out in a resolution recently passed by the Board of Directors of the Texas A&M College System.

The resolution states: "It has come to the attention of the Board that 1953 will mark the 50th anniversary of one of the great parts of the Texas A&M College System. The Agricultural Extension Service had its beginning in February of 1903 when Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, representing the United States Department of Agriculture, established the first farm demonstration in the nation on the farm of Mr. Walter Porter near Terrell in Kaufman County.

This successful demonstration which proved cotton could be grown profitably despite the boll weevil, became the foundation for the development of Extension work throughout the nation. In 1904, Farmer's Cooperative Demonstration Work was organized in the Bureau of Plant Industry USDA, with Dr. Knapp in charge and with headquarters in Houston.

"The first county agricultural agent to work exclusively in one county was appointed in November 1906. He was Mr. W. C. Stallings and the appointment was made in Smith County.

"The Board," states the resolution, "especially takes note of another important early date, Jack County Agricultural Agent Tom Marks, in 1908 organized the first boys' corn club in Texas. This was the beginning of the youth phase of Extension—the 4-H clubs.

"Through two World Wars, depressions, floods and droughts, the teachings of Extension workers have been used by rural Texans in solving their problems. Through the demonstration, these workers have shown the practical application of research on the farms ranches and in the homes of the state. The complex problems of modern living and agriculture passed the Smith-Lever Bill which officially set up the Agricultural Extension Service on a national basis and made it a part of the Land-Grant College System—other parts of this system are the resident teaching and experiment stations.

Continuing, the resolution states, "The Board extends its congratulations to all, past and present, who have contributed to the advancement of the Extension Service and to their efforts in raising the standard of living in rural Texas. Better livestock, crops production, home life, insect control 4-H club work, soil and water conservation, soil improvement and training rural leaders to assume responsibilities in their home communities, county, state and nation are but a few of the outstanding achievements.

The marriage of Earnestine Stanfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stanfield of Rochester and Machinist Glen Lawson, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lawson of Fort Worth, was solemnized Wednesday afternoon of last week at 12:15 o'clock at the home of Jack Cox, minister of the Haskell Church of Christ, who read the single ring ceremony that made them man and wife.

The bride's dress was navy taffeta. Attending the ceremony were Mrs. E. M. Stanfield and the bride's sister, Nelda Sue.

After a visit with the groom's parents in Fort Worth the couple will leave for San Diego, Calif., where he is stationed aboard the USS Luzon.

With KWFT-TV in Wichita Falls on the air by March 6 and Channel 3 in the same city by April 1st, no better time than the present to install a good set antenna system.

There are no better T. V. sets for this section than Smith coupled with the right kind of antenna system. Invite you to come in and see these beautiful sets on hand and will be glad to check your location and figure an antenna that will do the job for you.

Wouldn't have these sets in stock nor would I offer sale if I figured T. V. reception was no good in your area.

built the first radio used in Haskell County in 1919, the first radio shop in Haskell in 1927 and installed television set in 1948.

During the past 4 years of experimenting with different antennas, rotors, mast poles, towers and lead-in wire I learned much that can save you money. I see antennas of poles going up that are the type used two or three years ago.

Have kept up with T. V. by experimenting and studying everything I could get my hands on. I also take several magazines, including one daily that keeps up with the art of the country.

Have the latest equipment for erecting towers and signal strength and invite you to inspect some of our work.

Competition

gives you the best petroleum products in the world at the lowest prices

Competition begins with the search for oil.

Improved drilling and producing methods increase supplies of oil at reasonable prices.

Pipe line companies seek to improve their service and to reduce the transportation cost of oil and finished products. Their success is a major factor in keeping prices of petroleum products low.

Competitive refineries never let a day pass without trying to find a better way to make more and better petroleum products for your use.

Is this competition a good thing? It certainly is. It's a good thing for you because you get the best petroleum products in the world at the lowest prices. It's a good thing for the country because it stimulates the continuous development and conservation of a vital natural resource. And it's a good thing for the oil business: competition keeps the industry strong, vigorous, progressive.

Your purchase stimulates competition far beyond the service station driveway where you make it. It stirs scientists to find more oil for your use. It urges production men to produce oil more efficiently and economically and with less waste. It extends through low-cost transportation pipe lines to refineries that seek better ways to make more and better petroleum products to compete for your business.

The U. S. oil business is one of the most highly competitive industries in this country and, for that matter, in the world. Every time you buy a gallon of gasoline or a quart of motor oil, there are at least 100 companies that would like you to buy from them.

Your service station dealer competes in product quality and service with all the other dealers in your neighborhood.

Large Supplies Hold Prices Somewhat Lower On Ft. Worth Livestock Market

By TED GOULDY Fort Worth—Large supplies of fed steers, yearlings and calves were again reported at Ft. Worth and around the 12 major livestock centers of the nation Monday. Prices at Fort Worth and at most other markets were reported 50c to $1 per hundred lower on the fed steers.

Cows and bulls ruled steady to stronger at Fort Worth, and a d stocker cows demand continued to broaden, some sales of shee- stock to go back to country being unevenly higher, the quality considered. High quality calves and yearlings ruled steady, but the plainer kinds skidded along with the slaughter kinds.

Lambs opened lower at Fort Worth this week, and weak to 50 cents lower prices were chalked up, with instances off $1. Liberal offerings of fed lambs at Mid-western and River markets resulted in a lower market at those points Monday.

Hog trade was halted at Fort Worth due to the discovery of two lots of hogs Friday suspected of having vesicular exanthema though these hogs were discovered last Friday it was not until Monday that lab tests were started by federal inspectors. It was expected to be the latter part of the week before the yards could again receive hogs. One of these lots of hogs reportedly came from East Texas.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings drew $18 to $24 and common, plain and medium butcher cattle drew $12 to $18 some rannies for less. Fat cows drew $13 to $16.50, and canners and cutters drew $9.00 to $13.00. Bulls sold for $10.00 to $19.00. Good and choice fat calves got $18.00 to $23.00, common and medium sorts $13.00 to $18.00 and culls sold from $10.00 to $13.00.

Poll Tax Payments Lagging; Only 1,669 Issued

With only two days remaining until the deadline for payment of the 1952 poll tax, payments to date indicate this year's voting strength in Haskell County may drop below the 2,000 mark for the first time in more than a decade.

Assessor - Collector Austin Courn said at noon today only 1,669 poll tax receipts had been issued, and the deadline for payment is Saturday, Jan. 31.

Payment of State and county taxes assessed for 1952 have been on a par with last year, he said, but there has been a noticeable lag in poll tax payments.

Saturday is also the deadline for payment of 1952 tax assessments without penalty. Beginning Feb. 1, a penalty of one and one-half per cent is added, and the penalty is increased monthly, he explained.

Firemen Talk Plans For District Meet Here In April

Two members of the Hamlin fire department, Jake Lawson, assistant chief, and Weldon Hudson, were visitors at the meeting of Haskell Fire Department Monday night. They met with a committee of local firemen to discuss plans for the semi-annual meeting of Mid-West Texas Firemen's Association to be held in Haskell April 2.

The regional association is composed of firemen from 17 towns and cities in this area, and the semi-annual meeting have an attendance of some 200 or 300 firemen and visitors. Hamlin was host city for the Spring meeting of the association last year.

Members of the Haskell department were given a financial report on the Golden Gloves fight warm-up program held Friday night under auspices of the department. Since this was the first event, considerable expense was entailed in building arena, seats etc., the committee reported. Gross receipts Friday were sufficient to pay all expenses and leave a small net profit, the committee report showed. Committee in charge of the program is composed of Marion Reeves, Jim Byrd, and Walter Gresham.
