Curtailment of Aid to Dependent Children

The new fiscal year, which begins for the state on September 1, will bring sharp curtailment of the Aid to Dependent Children program, the State Department of Public Welfare predicted today.

The constitutional amendment and the law authorizing aid to the state's dependent children limit the cost of the program to $1,500,000 a year out of state funds. The federal government matches this with an equal sum. This makes available a total of $3,000,000 in equal monthly instalments of $250,000. This means that in September the state will have only $250,000 to pay grants which will total approximately $430,500, causing a flat cut in each grant of $10.

The Aid to Dependent Children program issued its first checks in September 1941. In the early months of the program, while the rolls were small, not all of the monthly installment of $250,000 was required and this money built up a reserve which enabled the state to pay out more than the monthly instalment after the rolls developed an overload. In August, 19,226 families with 39,680 children received a total of $394,004. Grants in September will probably call for distribution of $430,000 to around 21,000 recipients—with only $250,000 with which to pay the obligation. The average check in September is expected to drop to around $11.50 as compared with an average of $20.49 in August.

Maximum grants under the constitutional amendment and the state law are $16 for a family with one child and $24 for a family with two or more children. Under proration maximum checks will probably drop in September to $6 for a family with one child and $14 for larger families with still lower checks in prospect if eligibles are added to the rolls.

Callahans Quota Is 12 Men In Navy Drive

Callahan County was assigned 12 Navy recruits today as its quota for September in the North Texas district's drive to enlist 3,600 men between the ages of 17 and 50 during the thirty day period.

"During August, more than 3,100 met left their homes in North Texas to join the Navy. The month's quota which was the highest ever realized in the district, was only 3,000 recruits. That is why our September quota has been set twenty per cent higher."

Thus Lieut. L. H. Ridout, Jr., officer in charge of the district, stated simply plans to make this district as representative as any other in the nation in the Navy's combined fighting force.

"We can enlist 3,600 men in thirty days because we have only started our campaign to sell the Navy," he insisted. "The country is becoming more war-conscious every day. Washington dispatches predict that 3-A classifications will be tapped before Christmas. Increasing numbers of men are convincing themselves daily of the immediate need for all the manpower we can possibly muster."

He expressed again the sense of gratitude felt by the Navy Department for all of its volunteer civilian recruiters, saying that "twice the effort from now on will mean victory in half the time."

TYPHUS FEVER INCREASING IN TEXAS

With an incidence of 134 cases of Typhus Fever reported in Texas last month and 83 cases reported last week alone, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, today made an urgent appeal to all citizens of the State to help control the spread of typhus by assisting in exterminating rats.

"There is only one way in which typhus can be controlled," Dr. Cox said, "and that is by as nearly as possible completely exterminate rats in the State, since fleas from infected rats transmit the disease to man. We can begin to visualize the extent of the needed extermination campaign when we realize that there is estimated to be 13,000,000 rats in Texas."

There has been some confusion concerning the type of typhus fever which is occurring in Texas, but Dr. Cox pointed out that this disease is entirely different from the old world type which has followed some of the armies in Europe. Ordinarily the kind of typhus which makes its appearance in this section of the country is not a fatal disease, although there has been a death rate of about 2 percent from typhus this year. The poisoning and trapping of rats throughout the State will help to control the spread of this disease although these are obviously temporary measures. In order to be permanently rid of rats they will have to be starved out, which means that building housing food supplies must be rat proofed.

SCHOOL BUSES MUST NOT BE USED BY FOOTBALL TEAMS

School buses that carry football teams to games, or transport school bands, debating teams and other such groups on excursions will lose their eligibility for tires, the Callahan County War Price and Rationing Board was advised today by the office of Price Administration state headquarters.

The State OPA office has pointed out that under the tire rationing rules, school buses be used exclusively to transport teachers and children from their homes to school and back again, Mr. Ralph Ashlock, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board, explained. The rule further makes it plain that school buses for purposes other than this lose their future eligibility for tires, even though the tires on them now were acquired before rationing was put into effect, he continued.

Many of us are football fans and we'd like to be able to say that the buses could be used to carry the teams to their games, but we know this must not be done, or we will jeopardize the transportation means of thousands of children who depend on these buses to get to school, especially in rural neighborhoods.

He added that the only alternative for football teams would appear to be the use of private automobiles which are ineligible for tires and retreads anyway, or to resort to public buses and trains.

That is something for each school to determine, Mr. Ashlock added, after it considers the fact that public transportation already is taxed to the limit with wartime traffic, and the rubber situation is so critical we know we must conserve every ounce of it for essential needs.

Mr. Ashlock also pointed out that a school cannot designate one special bus to handle excursions by the football team, band and other such groups without jeopardizing the tire eligibility of all of that school's buses.

The rationing rules are strict on that point, he said. The applicant must establish that the regular school bus cannot be replaced by another vehicle owned or operated by the applicant before it completely establishes eligibility, tires and tubes as issued by the Callahan County War Price and Rationing Board for the month of August.

REGULATIONS REDUCE NO. OF NEW BICYCLES

Ralph Ashlock, chairman of the Callahan County War Price and Rationing Board, received today new regulations from Washington which reduce drastically the list of persons eligible to buy new bicycles.

These new regulations are intended to fit the bicycle rationing program to a sharply decreased supply, Ashlock explained.

The War Production Board issued an order recently, halting the manufacture of bicycles at the end of August. That put an entirely new complexion on the rationing plans that the office of Price Administration had drafted when it expected that output would be continued.

The new regulations are designed to direct the limited supply of new adult bicycles into essential transportation uses.

In its new list, the office of Price Administration defines the essential occupations that will make a person eligible for a bicycle certificate. Also, an applicant must show that he does not have available, under appropriate rationing regulations, any private means of transportation that would serve the purpose for which a bicycle is sought. In other words, if an applicant for a bicycle purchase certificate has a car or motorcycle that has tires, and which could be used in the service for which a bicycle would be used, without impairing its tire eligibility, he will be ineligible for a bicycle certificate.

The fundamental requirement for eligibility is that a person is engaged directly in war work, or in some work essential to the public health and safety, but certain other qualifications must also be met.

WAR RATION STAMP NO. 8 VALID FOR 5 POUNDS SUGAR

War Ration Stamp Number 8 will be valid for the purchase of five pounds of sugar during the ten-week period beginning August 23 and ending October 31, Ralph Ashlock, chairman of the Callahan County War Price and Rationing Board, announced today.

This is a larger amount of sugar and the ration period is longer than has been assigned for any previous stamp, Mr. Ashlock explained, but each person will have to continue using sugar at the original rate of no more than half a pound a week to make the five-pound ration last ten weeks.

He said the allotment of five pounds on Stamp No. 8 will permit household users to buy in larger packages, and also will help to dispose of five, ten and 25-pound packages.

Packages of these sizes were put up last fall and winter before it was known that rationing would be necessary, he said, and the stores have had difficulty in disposing of these larger packages, because the ration stamps heretofore have been valid for only one or two-pound purchases. Unless the sugar in the larger package is sold, it would have to be repackaged, and that would cause an undesirable waste of labor and materials.

COMMODITY DISTRIBUTION PROGRAM HELPS FARMERS

How the commodity distribution program helps Callahan County farmers as well as underprivileged families was pointed out in a report released today by Joe H. Brown, Abilene, Texas, Acting Area Supervisor for the Agricultural Marketing Administration.

Over $6,782.91 worth of commodities which were distributed in Callahan County from July 1, 1941, to June 30, 1942, represented additional farm markets created by the program, the report showed.

Farm products often come to market during season in such heavy supply, prices would be ruinous to the farmers if the Agricultural Marketing Administration did not step in and buy part of the crop, Mr. Brown explained.

The Department of Agriculture feels that commodities thus obtained could not be put to better use than in helping build health and morale among our underprivileged and undernourished families. Foods issued to needy families in the county are purchased by AMA and turned over to the State Department of Public Welfare for distribution, Brown said.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

A great pile of newspapers stacked up while my campaign was going on. After that was over, I delved into the stack and the last one of all had been mailed to me by my aunt in Memphis, Tennessee—and when I ripped the cover off, there was the news that Judge A. B. Pittman had died.

Now perhaps none of the readers of this column ever heard of Judge Pittman but because he was my friend, I hope you won't mind my writing something by way of a tribute; and because he was unique, I hope further that you will find these words of interest.

Judge Pittman was, perhaps more than anyone else, responsible for my becoming a newspaperman and so if there were no other reason than this I would always cherish his memory.

But this is to be about the Judge himself. Judge Pittman presided over what would be, in Texas, the civil district court.

He was not a handsome man, except in the way that Abraham Lincoln was handsome—rough-hewn features that readily lighted with a smile and kindly gray eyes.

The Judge was a man of wide reading and of wider study of men. His sympathies were with the poor, the underprivileged, the voiceless.

He was unorthodox in his conduct of the court. You might go in and there would be a witness on the stand, and questions and answers would be in progress and there would be a jury in the box but no one on the bench. A lawyer would arise—Judge Pittman always insisted that a lawyer must rise when he addressed the court—and say, "Your Honor, I object."

A man standing over by the window, gazing out on the street, would say, "Objection overruled," and the trial would go on. Judge Pittman insisted on equality on the part of attorneys, jurors and witnesses. He imposed a fine of $1 for each minute that anyone was late.

One day the Judge entered the courtroom. It was one minute past 9. "Mr. Clerk," he said, "enter a fine of a dollar against the court, and the Judge handed over the fine.

He had little patience with pomposity—with stuffed shirts.

A lawyer who didn't like a ruling gave out a statement to the press, severely criticizing the Judge. Everyone thought he would cite the lawyer for contempt of court. When he didn't, the reporters asked Judge Pittman for a comment on the matter. His reply was:

"It is the inalienable right of any American citizen to make a darn fool of himself whenever he wants to,"—and that was all he would say about the attorney.

Judge Pittman really believed that "reason is the basis of law" that common sense should govern trials—that the purpose of a court should be justice between man and man.

He disliked excess verbiage and high-sounding questions. A negro truck-driver was injured and he brought suit. A fellow truckdriver was on the stand and was asked "Did the plaintiff know, or could he have known by the exercise of reasonable prudence, that the truck was in a defective condition?"

The witness walled his eyes in bewilderment.

Judge Pittman said, "What the lawyer means is, Did George over there know—or ought he to have known—that the truck was liable to break down?"

The darkey grinned in relief and answered, "Naw, suh."

Judge Pittman believed that the office should seek the man, not the man the office. And so he never filed his name—friends would place it on the ballot by petition. He never had a card printed; he never made a campaign speech; he never asked a man to vote for him. And yet he was elected and re-elected for 20 years.

Judge Pittman was an able judge; he loved his fellow man; he was a truly great man.

PLANT A FALL GARDEN
By Miss Marjorie Brown, Agent

Fall gardens will pay dividends according to Miss Marjorie Brown, county home demonstration agent, with the Extension Service of A and M College.

Gardeners are urged to take a day out and prepare the soil. In preparing the soil for planting, remove all the weeds instead of plowing them under. Next, apply barnyard manure and plow it into the soil 4 or 5 inches.

Carrots, cabbage, turnips, broccoli, and beets will withstand 1 light frost but should be planted right away in order to mature before heavy frost comes. Collards, kale, onions, rape, and rutabags will withstand heavier frost but should be planted right away.

With the coming of freezes here in West Texas, every family can have a frame garden for greens, lettuce, peas, onions, and carrots. Frame gardens can supply a continuous provision of fresh vegetables of the quick-growing, hardy type and are most noticeable where climatic conditions are not favorable to large open gardens. People who have little space for a garden will find that the frame garden fits their needs ideally.

The frame garden should be 4 or 5 feet wide and of any desired length. 20 feet is the usual length, but they may be made up to 50 feet long. However, frames should not be more than 4 or 5 feet wide because of the convenience of cultivating from either side.

Materials needed for the frame, include: enough 1x12 inch or 1x18 inch lumber to make side walls 12 or 18 inches high for the desired width and length, 1x1 inch strips to nail across the frame every 5 feet to support the cover, and a cover of muslin of a thin grade. Thick and colored covers which exclude the sunlight should be avoided.

Tack the cover down securely on one side and provide some way of holding the cloth down on the ends and the other side. Since plants need air, props for lifting the ends of the cover at favorable times during the day should be available. Roll the cover back on warm days so that the plants can have sunshine.

The soil over which the frame is to be placed should be rich, fertilized with well-rotted manure and dug up to a depth of 10 inches or more. Cultivation and weeding will be easily done with an ordinary garden hoe.

Frame gardens may be watered on the surface or they may be subirrigated. If the top soil is shallow and the subsoil is compact, subirrigation is more satisfactory. For subirrigation place one or two rows of concrete tile or tin cans about 6 or 8 inches under the surface. Keep the soil sufficiently moist to prevent wilting of the vegetables.

Plan the planting of the frame garden so that a succession of vegetables may be harvested. Ordinarily 3 to 5 planting of quick-growing vegetables can be made so that when one planting is harvested, another is about ready to harvest. Rows should be 8 to 16 inches apart.

Where the size of the frame garden is small, vegetables planted should largely be those maturing in 30 to 60 days such as Tendergreen mustard, Black Seeded Simpson lettuce, Scarlet Globe radish, Bermuda onions, and Double Curled or Moss Curled parsley. Other vegetables that are moderately quick growing are King of Denmark spinach, New Zealand spinach, Lucullus Swiss chard, and those that mature in 80 to 90 days are Crosby's Egyptian beets, Nantes or Danver's Half Long carrots, Wong Bok Chinese cabbage, Sweet Spanish onions.

September Is Marine Attack Month

September will be officially know as "Marine Attack Month," according to Lt. Col. Newotn B. Barkley, officer in charge at the Dallas recruiting district, who has announced a special United States Marine recruiting drive.

Heretofore Marine recruiting has been limited with a quota to fill each month, but beginning September 1st an unlimited number of men are to be enlisted.

In explaining the recruiting campaign, Lt. Col. Barkley said, "Since the Leathernecks have taken such an active part in the United Nations' first offensive to stamp out the Axis evil, many replacements are needed—an dthey are needed immediately, so the GOOD WORK of the MARINE CORPS may carry on."

For a long time Texas has been proud of the fact that it has contributed more recruits to the Marine Corps than any other state in the Union. Official figures show the Corps, strength is 27 per cent Texas men.

The highlight of the "Marine Attack Month" campaign will be the forming of a Texas Ranger Marine Platoon from the Dallas district. Composed of approximately 60 men, this platoon will be sent to San Diego Calif., and trained as a unit.

Many civic organizations are assisting the Marines in their September drive, as are various business firms. The Texas Defense Guard will continue their recruiting campaign in behalf of the Marine Corps.

In August, the Dallas district filled the largest quota in its history.

Taking part in the "Marine Attack Month" campaign will be the district's sub-stations, which are located at Fort Worth, Logview, Waco, Abilene, Wichita Falls and Denison.

Police For Wartime Home Front

The State Police are looking for qualified young men to help police the wartime home front. With more than 100 of his officers on leave with the armed forces, State Police Director Homer Garrison has announced the appointment of 40 Drivers License Examiners and issued a call for applicants to fill 70 vacancies in the Highway Patrol.

The License Examiners, who play a vital part in keeping down costly accidents that sap the state's productive and economic strength, will report to Camp Mabry Sept. 7 to begin a two-week training school devoted entirely to examination work. There is insufficient time, Garrison said, to give them the full seven-week State Police training course.

Applications now are being taken from prospective Highway Patrolmen. A statewide examination will be held soon in each of the 13 Highway Patrol District headquarters. On Nov. 1 the 70 top-ranking applicants will begin their strenuous seven-weeks training course at Camp Mabry.

Peacetime requirements for Patrol applicants are till in force, Garrison noted, "because a lot of this war is being fought on the home front, and we've got to have capable men."

Applicants must be between 23 and 35 years old and not less than five feet eight inches in height. They must weigh not less than two nor more than three pounds per inch of height at the time of appointment, have a high school education or its equivalent, and be able to pass strict physical, mental and moral scrutiny.

Application forms are available by writing to Col. Homer Garrison, Director, Department of Public Safety, Austin, Texas.

COTTON PRODUCERS GET SEVEN-POUND ALLOWANCE

Texas cotton farmers will receive a 7-pound per bale allowance for cotton wrapped in cotton patterns this year.

The new program, under which cotton is wrapped for the traditional lint wrapping, is the culmination of years of intensive action by state and federal agencies to get buyers and handlers of cotton to make allowance for the additional cotton in a bale wrapped with the fabric.

Cotton patterns and ties on a 500-pound bale weigh about 14 pounds while the jute wrapper and ties weigh from 21 to 22 pounds, Fred Rennels, assistant administrative officer of the AAA in Texas, said.

The cotton bale covering not only gives a neat appearing and well protected bale, but permits the packing of more lint per bale and gives producer an opportunity to use a fabric manufactured from their own product, he explained.

The 1942 program provides for production of 4,000,000 cotton patterns which will be sold by mills to producers at a fixed price of $1.10 and to wholesale distributors at $1.00 per pattern. This is close to prevailing prices for jute patterns.

Since 11,000 bales are required to make 1,000,000 cotton patterns, it would take about 150,000 bales to make enough patterns to cover a 12,000,000-bale cotton crop, Rennels said.

DR. COX SAYS—

The State Health Department urges all parents to have their children undergo a thorough physical examination before entering school next month.

The importance of such examinations can not be over-emphasized according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who declares that the health of a child has a direct bearing on his progress in school.

"It is advisable to have school children examined several days or even weeks before school begins," Dr. Cox asserted, "so that minor ailments can be corrected and any possible serious ones placed under treatment."

Dr. Cox also advised parents to take their children to a dentist for a thorough dental check-up and cautioned that an examination of the eyes be not neglected.

"In the old days it was considered only necessary to have school children provided with necessary books and some new fall clothing," Dr. Cox said, "but today we recognize that it is more important to be sure that his health has been properly safeguarded."

Immunization for protection against communicable diseases should be effected before a child enters school, where he spends most of his time indoors with a large group of children, which facilitates the spread of infectious diseases. The student who has been immunized and whose health is under the observation of the family physician, whose eyes have been examined for corrective treatment, and whose teeth have been cared for by a competent dentist stands a much better chance of success in school than does the student who is handicapped by one or more physical defects.

GETTING THE PEANUTS THRESHED

The best way to get something done about the labor shortage is to do it yourself.

Evidently, that's the theory Wilson county peanut growers used when they set about solving the labor problem which threatened to impede the Food for Victory peanut production program.

Under the leadership of the County U. S. Department of Agriculture War Board and its chairman, A. D. Richardson, Wilson county farmers have organized a number of small informal cooperatives to thresh this year's record peanut crop of 45,000 acres. Richardson believes at least thirty such cooperatives, with from ten to fifteen members each, will be formed.

In return for a pledge by co-op members to conserve their tires to the utmost, L. F. Spruce, chairman of the Wilson County War Price and Rationing Board, agreed that the public interest demanded that the board do its best to provide the necessary tires for the harvest.

The basic idea behind the co-ops is as old as farming—farmers banding themselves together to exchange their own labor and to harvest all their crops. Since it takes about fifteen men to make up a crew for a peanut thresher, generally the co-ops have about that many members. In that way, the members can do the work without having to hire outside labor.

The first peanut-threshing co-op was organized at a meeting of growers in the Sunnyside community. The growers elected a secretary who will keep a record of the time put in on each farm and the amount and kind of work each grower does. Other agreements included provisions that the work of each member be done on an hourly basis, that time be stopped after a thirty-minute forced stop or breakdown of the thresher, and that each member bring his own dinner to the job.

Commenting on the co-op plan as operated in Wilson county, B. F. Vanez, chairman of the Texas USDA War Board, declared: "Co-operative steps, such as this action by Wilson county farmers, can go a long way towards solving the farm labor shortage which could do serious damage to the Food for Freedom program."

"The growers of Wilson county, and especially Mr. Richardson, have shown their farsightedness and have exercised their initiative to solve a problem which threatened both their incomes and agriculture's war effort. If the Department of Agriculture made awards for excellence in the war effort, I feel sure that Wilson county would receive one."

MOTORISTS MUST INTENSIFY TIRE CONSERVATION

Mr. Ralph Ashlock, chairman of the Callahan County War Price and Rationing Board, made it plain today that all motorists are going to have to intensify tire conservation, and that many persons on the eligible list for tires and retreads are going to be disappointed, because of the quota shortage.

Both truck and passenger car tire allotments have been reduced sharply for September, Ashlock explained, and we're obliged to make these reduced quotas serve only the most essential needs.

He pointed out that these reductions come at a time when all vehicles, especially trucks, are working overtime to meet the heavy demand for the fall movement of farm crops, and for wartime construction and industrial production.

The result will be that our Board will have to apply the eligibility preference yardstick with even more severity, he said. The shoe will pinch in many cases, but we hope everyone will take these decisions with a wartime spirit of patriotism, and know that we are trying to do our duty honestly and impartially in a national emergency.

The State office of Price Administration headquarters has advised the Callahan County War Price and Rationing Board, Mr. Ashlock added, that from now on monthly quotas will reflect a sharp downward trend, in order to stay within the year's rubber quota. It is no longer possible to carry over unfilled applications from month to month, he said. There will not be sufficient quotas in future months to relieve such carryovers. We must now eliminate all applications that are not essential to the war effort and to the public health and safety.
