VINDICATED AT LAST.

The Berry Cases in Knox County all dismissed.

BENJAMIN, Tex. Feb. 18, 1890.—
[Correspondence of the Free Press.]
—The County Court has ended, and with it passes into memory the noted cases of the State vs. G. H. Berry, Lizzie Berry, Florence Berry and Ollie Berry, all of which were dismissed by the state. In these cases defendants were charged with orally slandering Miss Isabella Helm by imputing to her a want of chastity in stating that she was or appeared to be enceinte. These cases have been pending for over a year, the first trial being had at the February term 1889, on which trial J. F. Bolander testified that he had seen Miss Helm in June 1888, just prior to her sudden departure from the country, and that she protruded and stuck out in front, thereby indicating to him that she was six or seven months advanced in that interesting condition usually prevalent only among married women. For thus testifying the Helms and their friends procured Mr. Bolander to be indicted for perjury, on which charge he was tried at the last November term of the District Court, and which case the District Attorney has agreed to dismiss. On this trial several witnesses for the state testified that they had seen Miss Helm at the time mentioned by Bolander, and that to them she did not appear to be in that condition. In behalf of defendant Allen Mulkey and his wife, Mrs. A. P. Hollar, Mrs. Amos Bean, R. P. Mundy, G. H. Berry, Miss Laura Medlin, and Miss Floss Berry each and all testified in substance that they had seen and knew Miss Helm at and prior to the time mentioned by Bolander; that she was much fleshier than her usual condition; that she protruded and stuck out in front in such a manner as induced them to believe and they did believe that she was six or seven months advanced in pregnancy; that Miss Helm returned to this country in Dec. 1888, and she was then much frailer and more sparsely built than when she left in June previous, and that since her return she had never regained that fleshy condition which existed prior to her departure.

When the Berry cases were called at this term of court, the State moved to dismiss them all, for the reason that the evidence was so conflicting on the material issues as to render a conviction exceedingly doubtful. The attorney for defendants insisted that the State was not acting in good faith with his clients, and objected to a dismissal of the cases and thereby denying his clients an opportunity of producing evidence fully establishing everything they had said and completely exonerating them. In an oral statement to the court the State's counsel admitted that under the evidence which the defendants could produce from unexceptionable sources and unimpeachable witnesses, that a legal conviction could never be hoped for, and if a conviction was secured by any means, no court of law or justice would permit it to stand, and under the circumstances a dismissal was as complete an exonerating of defendants as would be a verdict of not guilty. The court concurred in this view of the matter and sustained the motion of the State dismissing the cases.

Thus, after a year's siege, Mr. Berry and his family have been completely exonerated, and their many friends in Haskell county, where they are justly and deservedly popular, have realized the honorable result which their abid-

JUSTICE.

It Was Murder.

It will be remembered by our readers that two weeks ago, we published an account of the unearthing of parts of a skeleton by Charley Blanton while digging a dugout about 8 miles west of town. At the time, we advanced the theory that the remains were probably those of some member of the old Phantom Hill garrison, and subsequent developments have proved the correctness of the theory. We learned that the remains are those of Capt. C. B. Obenchain, who was killed by two prisoners while en route from Fort Phantom Hill to Fort Chadburne, in 1850. According to our informant, two members of the Phantom Hill garrison were guilty of some breach of discipline, and were arrested and ordered to Fort Chadburne for trial. They left Phantom Hill one bright, sunny morning, in charge of a squad of soldiers, under the command of Capt. Obenchain. The Captain and the prisoners were in advance of the squad of soldiers, and in an unguarded moment, the prisoners killed the Captain, left the body where it fell, and made their escape. Later on, the soldiers came up, found the body of their Captain and buried him where he was found. For thirty years the remains were undisturbed, and now after the lapse of these long years they were accidentally unearthed by Mr. Blanton. Mr. Wilson, who lives over on Noodle, is the gentleman who has given this information, and he is fully conversant with all the details of the tragedy. It will be remembered that a stone was found in the grave marked "C. B. O." and this stone attests the genuineness of these facts. Thus, we have another exemplification of the fact that murder will out, and is there any one who will deny that it was the hand of Providence that revealed that forgotten grave, and preserved these details for thirty years? When the crime occurred, Jones county was the abiding place of the savage and buffalo, and there was no law but military law, and we have not been able to learn whether or not the murderers were ever captured. As we write, we have a small piece of the murdered man's leg bone lying on the desk before us.

WYOMING'S EDICT

Concerning the Driving of Texas Cattle into that Territory.

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 21.—The Horticulturist association returned to-night from Marble Falls and passed down to San Antonio.

Senator Claiborne to-day tendered his resignation to Governor Ross.

A proclamation was to-day received by Governor Warren from Governor Warren of Wyoming, concerning the driving of Texas cattle into that territory. Following is an extract.

Whereas, cattle from certain parts of the country lying south of the thirty-seventh parallel of north latitude are liable, under certain conditions to convey a disease known as Texas splenic fever.

Therefore, by virtue of the premises aforesaid and pursuant to said statute, I, Francis E. Warren governor of the territory of Wyoming, do hereby forbid the importation into this territory between April 1st and November 1st of any year of any cattle coming in whole or in part by rail from south of thirty-seventh parallel of north latitude, except under the following restrictions, to-wit: All cattle coming from the district aforesaid must show by affidavit of two responsible parties, whose reliability shall be certified to by the county clerk or clerk of the district court nearest to the range whereon the said cattle have been held—the name and postoffice address of the owner, consignor and consignee; the brand or brands on all of said cattle; the county or counties in which the said cattle have been held during ninety days, and the total number demanding entry. A certified copy of the original affidavit must be filed with the territorial veterinarian of Wyoming before the cattle arrive at the territory line. Each trainload or herd if driven, must be accompanied by a similar copy of the affidavit.

The Rayner Monitor has been coming regularly to the citizens in the western part of Haskell county since the Monitor was falsely informed that Haskell county's west line would be moved two miles east of its former location. The Monitor is mistaken about the distance. The line will be only about 800 varrars east of the original location and it will not add a single settler to Stonewall county.

Editor Free Press.

I SEE a communication in the FREE PRESS signed S. W. S. headed "An Important Matter." Now I fully agree with S. W. S. in the heading of his article, that it is an important matter to interfere with the dead, at least to us who have our kindred laid at rest there. I think fully as important to us as it is to them that have no kindred buried there. Now Mr. S. W. S. Comes forward and tells us what somebody at Fort. Worth will do.

We do hope Mr. Editor that there will be nothing done in regard to the moving of our departed friends without consulting those who of all men have the greatest interest. While the cemetery is not what it should be, the moving of it is of most importance to those whose kindred are at rest there. I do not think that matters of so much importance should be undertaken without consulting those who have so much at stake.

We would respectfully ask you to give this a place in your paper.

W. C. BALLARD.
We heartily concur with Mr. Ballard in every thing he says except that we think it best now for all parties concerned, that the grave yard should be moved. If moved now while the people are few and all sympathetic with those having relatives buried there it will be best.

The relatives of the dead will be here to see that the bodies are properly taken up and properly reinterred. It delayed the subject will continue to agitate the minds of the people and eventually the bodies will be removed, and the relatives and friends of the dead ones will not be here to superintend the same.

The commissioners court of 1885 refused to accept a conveyance of the present cemetery, and in fact it is the property of Walton, Hinds and Campbell. We would suggest that the commissioners court confer with all parties interested, and get their co-operation, and give full consideration to the interests of all concerned and if possible obtained the unanimous consent of all who are interested. A new cemetery should be procured in suitable place and a contract made with competent parties to move the bodies, and some one appointed to see that it is done in a becoming manner.

Of-course those having relative buried, would prefer for them to rest undisturbed, but they should also consider the life and health of the living. When the town becomes more populous the clamor for removal will grow as does the necessity for removal grows, and eventually the demand will be heard by those in authority.

THE RAILROADS.

The Movements of the M., K. and T. Don't Look Much Like a Bluff.

The movements of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas around about Henrietta may be a bluff, but if they are it is a very business kind of a bluff. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas people are certainly satisfied by this time that the Denver people are bent and determined to, and will build to Seymour from Wichita Falls. This being the case, where is the good of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas keeping the bluff up? It looks just now as if it was going to be a mighty lively race between the two roads to see which will reach Seymour first.

The one thing that looks as if the Missouri, Kansas and Texas was going to be extended from Henrietta is that John Bacon, the general right of way agent, is now on the ground at work, and the Gazette has it from good authority that Chief Engineer Wathen left Dallas Friday for Henrietta to look after the work to be done in his line on the proposed extension. A well known railroad contractor who has been lying low around Fort Worth for several weeks went over to Dallas Friday and yesterday was back in this city with a smile on his face as broad as his hat brim.

"Just you wait awhile," he said to a Gazette reporter, "and you will hear something crack; and there will be work for the mule."

The Missouri, Kansas and Texas may be bluffing, but their actions have a look of earnestness about it that would lead to a contrary belief.—Ft. Worth Gazette.

A Wealthy Fish.

ELDORA, ILL., Jan. 28.—This town comes to the front with a startling fish story that is vouched for as true in every particular. It is related that John Webster with several boon companions made a fishing excursion down the Iowa River. They cut holes in the ice and speared a fine pike. Cutting it open they were much surprised to find within a fat pocket-book containing $65 in gold $15 in silver, $75 in bank-notes, $100,000 in bonds and a certificate of deposit on a bank of Johnstown, Pa., for $25. A slip of paper was also found bearing the statement that the book and contents belonged to John J. Jones of Johnstown, who was supposed to have perished in the terrible flood. There is no doubt that the fish made its way to the Iowa by traversing the famous Conemaugh River in Pennsylvania into the Allegheny, then to the Ohio, then to the Mississippi and up into the Iowa River.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery and got a sample bottle, it helped her, she bought a large bottle it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, and plump weighing 140 pounds. Haskell County,

Her Resources, Advantages, Progress and Future Prospects.

Topography, Water, Soil, Products, Shipping Points, Railroads, Public Schools and Mail Facilities.

HASKELL county is situated in the southern part of the panhandle on the line of the one-hundredth Meridian west from Greenwich. It is 1500 feet above the sea, and has mild winters and summers. It is 80 miles square and contains 576,000 acres of land. It was created in 1858 from a part of Fannin and Milam counties, and named in honor of Charles Haskell, a young Tennessean, who fell at the massacre at Goliad in 1836.

It remained unsettled until 1874 when there was one or two ranches established. Other ranchmen followed and in 1880 the county could boast of 15 or 20 inhabitants. There was no further development until early in 1884, when the town of Haskell was laid off and by donating lots a few settlers were induced to build residences, and in January 1885 the county organized with a polled vote of 57 electors.

Up to 1884 the soil had never been turned by a plow, and the people depended upon raising cattle, sheep and horses as the natural grasses furnished food both winter and summer for immense herds. The poorer people made money by gathering many thousand tons of Buffalo bones and shipping them east to be made into fertilizers for use in the old states.

Experiments were made in 1885 with garden products, corn, oats, wheat, rye, barley and cotton and the yield was bountiful.

In 1886 and 1887 the entire west, from Dakota to Mexico suffered from seasons of unprecedented dryness, but the faith of the few farmers of Haskell county, kept green and in the fall of 1887 farming begun in dead earnest, and the crop of 1888 far surpassed all anticipation, corn made 25 bushels per acre; oats made from 60 to 100, wheat from 15 to 25, rye 20, and cotton, one-third to one-half bale per acre, and sorghum, hay and millet was so bountiful it was hardly considered as a part of the general crop and there was no demand for it in the local market. The acreage in farms have been increased to at least 10,000 acres.

TOPOGRAPHY.

The county is an undulated plain with occasional creeks and branches. It is bounded on the north by that picturesque stream the Salt Fork of the Brazos, and on the west by Double Mountain Fork.

There are a few washes and gulches along the creeks and rivers, but with river breaks, rocks and poor land combined, their area in Haskell county would not average over 10,000 acres that would not be a fine agricultural land.

WATER.

It is traversed by numerous creeks and branches besides the rivers mentioned, some of which are fed by never failing springs of purest water.

Besides the numerous branches that afford water for stock all the time, the south half of the county is traversed by Paint and California creeks with their numerous tributaries draining the south half of the county.

The north half is traversed from Southwest to Northeast by Lake and Miller creeks whose tributaries furnish water and drainage for the same.

Besides the surface water there is an abundance to be obtained by digging from 15 to 40 feet, and all of a good quality, some of which is unsurpassed by that of any section in the state for purity and temperature.

SOIL.

The soil is an alluvial loam of great depth and fertility, varying in color from a red to a dark chocolate, and by reason of its porosity and friable nature, when thoroughly plowed, readily drinks in the rainfall and in dry seasons absorbs moisture from the atmosphere; and for the like reasons the soil readily drains itself of the surplus water, thereby preventing stagnation of the water and the baking of the soil, as well as the germination of miasma. It is those peculiar qualities of soil that enable vegetation to withstand all varieties of weather.

Except mesquite grubs and stumps, which are easily extracted, there are no obstructions to plows, and the land being level or generally rolling, and easily worked, the use of labor saving implements at once becomes pleasant and profitable. One man with machinery and a little hired help has been known to cultivate over 100 acres in grain and cotton.

PRODUCTS.

Indian corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, durah corn, millet, sorghum, castor beans, field peas, peanuts, pumpkins, and all the squash family, turnips and cotton are grown successfully and profitably. Also sweet potatoes do well, and Irish potatoes as well as anywhere in the South: Garden vegetables grow to perfection, and melons luxuriate in Haskell county soil, growing to fine size of superb quality. Besides the native grasses that grow on the prairies, sustaining large numbers of cattle, horses and sheep throughout the year, Johnson and Colorado grasses grow to great perfection and the hay made from these grasses form a valuable adjunct to the winter pasture, in keeping stock over winter.

YIELD AND PRICES OF FARM PRODUCTS.

The average yield of Indian corn per acre is about 30 bushel and the price varies from 50c to 1.25 per bushel; the wheat yield for the year '88—a dry year—ranged from 18 to 30 bushels—averaging 25 bushels per acre, and sold in the home market for 90 cents to $1.00 per bushel; oats yield 60 to 100 bushels per acre, and usually sell at 25 cents per bushel; cotton yields a half to three quarters of a bale per acre, but owing to the great distance to market its cultivation is not engaged in to a great extent. Other crops make good yields and command corresponding prices. Home made pork is usually worth 6 to 8 cents per pound; fresh beef 4 to 6 cents; home made butter, sweet and delicious, usually sells at 25 cents per pound, chickens 15 to 25 cents each, and eggs 10 to 25 cents per dozen.

SHIPPING POINT.

As yet Haskell has no railroad, and our people do their principal shipping to and from Abilene, a town 60 miles south, in Taylor county, on the Texas and Pacific Railroad. There is also some shipping done to Albany, a town 45 miles southeast, on the Texas Central Railroad, but not so much as to Abilene, because of rougher wagon roads.

RAILROADS.

There is one road being built from Dallas to this place and one to be built from Fort Worth. The Texas Central will have to extend in a short time from Albany or forfeit its charter, and Haskell is on the line as originally surveyed.

The land men of Austin have organized a company to build a road from that city to this section of the state where they control nearly all the land and one of the principal members owns 150,000 acres in this and Knox county, besides he owns the large addition to the town of Haskell on the south. Haskell is 60 miles north of the T. & P. R. R. and 90 miles south of the Ft. W. & D. R. R. and is situated on the direct line of the cattle trail over which the Rock Island, and G. C. & S. A. F. propose to extend their lines.

PUBLIC SCHOOL.

Our school fund is perhaps the best of any county in the north-west. In addition to the amount received from the state, about $5.50 per capita, our commissioners court have wisely executed a lease for 10 years of our 4 leagues of school land, situated in the Panhandle, the revenue from which added to the amount received from the state gives us a fund amply sufficient to run the several schools of the county ten months in the year. This fund can also be drawn upon to build school houses in any organized school community of the county.

MAIL FACILITIES.

There is only one post office in Haskell. It has a daily mail, over the line from Abilene via Anson; which line also brings express freight, and proves very satisfactory to our people.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS.

The religious and moral status of the people of Haskell county will compare favorably with that of any people. The Methodist, Baptist, Christians, Old School and Cumberland Presbyterians each have organized churches in the town of Haskell, and have preaching on Sundays, also preaching at other points in the county. We have a good Union Sunday School, and weekly prayer meeting that are well attended.

HASKELL.

The town of Haskell is the county site of, and is situated one and one-half mile south of the center of Haskell county, on a beautiful table land, and is five years old and has a population of 600 to 700. Has as good well water as can be found anywhere, which is secured at a depth of 18 to 22 feet. Also has two never failing springs of pure water in the edge of town. Haskell has four drygood and grocery stores that sell goods at prices as low as can be had in railroad towns, with 50 cents per hundred pounds for freight added, and drygoods and groceries as cheap as can be bought anywhere, one gin and mill. Also has four drug stores one hardware one notion one hotel and one restaurant, both first class; two blacksmith shops; two cabinet and wood shops; one lumber yard one exchange bank, one barber shop; one silver smith shop one saddlery shop, one boot and shoe shop; one meat market; two livery stables; four doctors; 10 lawyers and land agents; one first class county newspaper and job office and only one saloon, all doing a very good business. The town of Haskell with her natural advantages, of location, climate, good water and fertility of soil is destined in the near future to be the queen city of Northwest Texas, and railroad connection for Haskell is all that is needed to accomplish these.

ADVANTAGES AND RESOURCES.

In almost every neighborhood of the older states and the thickly settled portion of our own state there are many of its citizens who are contemplating a removal or a change of residence for many reasons. Some to restore lost health, some to make their beginning in the world, others to repair financial losses, others seeking safe and profitable investments of surplus capital. There are many others who have comfortable homes and are well contented, but who have children, whom they would like to provide with lands suitable for home, and assist to commence business in life, but can not do so with their present surroundings, and must seek cheaper lands and better opportunities in other and newer localities.

To such we would say you are just the people we want. Come and see us, and you will find a broad field of occupation and investment to choose from, with chances greatly in your favor. In coming to Haskell do not imagine we are a people wild and woolly

SPRING SEASON 1890.

We take pleasure in informing our friends and patrons that our first shipments of Spring Goods are open and Ready for Inspection.

WE ARE SHOWING AN ELEGANT LINE OF

NEW CALICOES, NEW SATTEENS, NEW PERCALIS,
NEW PENINGS, NEW CARPETS, NEW MATTINGS,
NEW DRESS AND STAPLE GINGHAMS.

A BIG ASSORTMENT OF

Cambric, Edgings and Insertings.

We have enjoyed in the past the reputation of carrying the largest and best selected stock in West Texas, but we justly believe that we have succeeded this season to out rank all our previous efforts. Our styles are more diversified and our prices lower than ever before. An early call and inspection will be appreciated.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 22.—On Thursday while on his way from Los Cerrillos to Coalbanks, three miles distant, with $800 to pay miners, John Elder was "held up" and robbed by Lee White, who fled toward the San Pedro mining camp. There White threatened to kill anyone attempting to make his arrest. Afterwards he stole two horses, went to the house of his mistress, a Mexican woman, compelled her to cut her hair, don mall attire and mount the extra horse. Later they were pursued and overtaken by Deputy Sheriff
