NAVAJO INDIANS.

In a Skirmish a Cartlemam kills One of Their Bucks.

They Hold a Pow-Wow and Demand the Surrender of the Guilty Party or the Payment of $300.

SANTA FE, N. M., Feb. 6 .-- The settlers of North New Mexico and Suspended in the Air With a Red South Colorado are in terror over a threatened outbreak of the Navapowerful tribe in the West, The trouble has grown out of a skirmish beteen the Indians and some cattlemen in Juan county last Issionary) Every 1st Sunday and December, during which Join Cox fore, Rev S. H. Blair, Paster, killed one of the bucks. After the shooting the Navajos held a three day's pow-pow on the resivation, fore, . Elder Pleas Taylor Pastor, and H. C. Adams sut-agent of the Navejos, addressed a letter to Kit Carson of Juan county, in which

> "During the pow-dow the Indians reached the conclusion that either the man who did the killing of the Navajo must be arrested and punished, or they will take the

IN THEIR OWN HANDS as those men appear to have done, and delay I fear, will lead to much trouble to settlers along the San Juan river,"

The sub-agent says further that this meeting of the Navajos was of the most influential men in the tribe, men who claim to know what the results will be if those offenders are not brought to justice, and then, he adds, "they then sent young San Deval to me with the substance of their deliberations and asked me to write you and the commanding officers of Fort Lewis and Wingate, saying that they demanded the punishment of the mand who killed the Navajo and that if steps were not taken toward it by the last of Febuary they would know that there was no redress and will at once recaliate. They also said that the friends of the dead Indian could be induced

While I do not approve of the plan of paying for a dead Indian, that is what they wanted me to inform the authrities and I do so although giving the idea of no sauction, levaing it to those most interested to see the the best way out of the situation. Of one thing I feel assured, if the offender is not brought to justice or some settlement made with the Navajos at the end of thirty days, nothing but the presence of troops of cavalry will prevnt great loss of property and prevent bloodshed," PUBLIC APPREHENSION.

The publication of this letter caused no little public apprehension, for the Navajos could put well armed men into the San Juan river settlements in twenty-four hours, against whom the comparatively vallieys, poorly armed as they are, The significant fact is also brought out that a new generation of Navas bas grown up who know only by traditions of the terrible punishment their nation received from fact that popular elections, federal yesterday that he was onco in a Kit Carson in '58, and all they see, are the settlements along the these them, and a Wire at White Heat Curled Up in Ilis Stomach-Another Killed by an Electric Wire.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 6.-Two shocking accidents occurred yesterday at Roebing's wiremill. Chas-Cheattle, aged 17, was pieraed through the body and suspened in the air on a red Lot rod about three inches in diameter. He is known as a "hooker up" in the mill. As the iron leaves the furnace he catches it and guides it to a hole which reduces the size.

As he attempted to seize a piece this morning it broke, and before he had time to take hold the redhot iron entered his right side, and parsed through the lung came out beneath the left armpit. As the ro | passed through the body the end eaught in the machinery, and for an instant the boy was suspended in the air. His weight broke the iron and young Cheattle fell in front of the furnace on his feet. At the same time another long rod of hot iron was seen coming through the rollers. Cheattle still held the tongs when the iron left his body, and as he saw the second piece leaving the furnace he had presence of mind to raise the tongs and ward it off. Medical attendance was procured, but the case was hopeless.

Mart Molesky, a wire drawer of the same mid, was pierced in the stomach about midnight last night. He is a new man and did not understand how to arrange his wire which broke, entering the pit of the stomach, and he was pushed in a corner, and before the reel could be stopped about ten feet of it had curled up in his stomach.

HASKELL county is situated in the southern part of the panhandle on the line of the one-hundredth Meridian west from Greenwich. It is 1500 feet above the sea, and has mild winters and summers. It is 30 miles square and contains 576,-000 acres of land. It was created in 1858 from a part of Fannin and Milam counties, and named in houer of Charles Haskell, a young Tennesseeau, who fell at the massacre at Goliad in 1836.

It remained unsettled until 1871 when there was one or two ranches established. Other rauchmen followed and in 1880 the county c ald boast of 15 or 20 unhabitants. There was no further development until early in 1881, when the town of Haskell was laid off and by donating lots a few settlers were induced to build residences, and in January 1825 the county organized with a polled vote of 57 electors.

Up to 1881 the soil had never been turned by a plow, and the people depended upon raising cattie, sheep and horses as the natural grasses furnished food both winter and summer for immense herds. The poorer people made money by gathering many thousand tons of Buffalo bones and shipping them east to be made into fertilizers use in the old states.

Experiments were made in 1885 with garden products, corn, oats. wheat, rye, barley and cotton and the yield was bountiful.

In 1885 and 1887 the entire west, from Dakota to Mexico suffered from seasons of unprecedented dryness, but the faith of the few farmers of Haskell county, kept green and in the fall of 1887 farming begun in dead earnest, and the crop of 1888 far surpassed all anticipation, corn made 25 bushels per acre; oats made from 60 to 100, wheat from 15 to 25, rye 20, and cotton, one-third to one-balf bale per acre, and sorghum, hay and millet was so bountiful it was hardly considered as a part of the general crop and there was no de-The acreage in farms have been increased to at least 10,000 acres.
