Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these procedures if you have a concern about:

- the market or appraised value of your property
- the unequal appraisal of your property
- the inclusion of your property on the appraisal roll
- any exemptions that may apply to you
- the qualification for an agricultural or timber appraisal
- the taxable status of your property
- the local governments which should be taxing your property
- the ownership or property
- the change of use of land receiving special appraisal
- any action taken by the chief appraiser, appraisal district or appraisal review board that applies to and adversely affects you.

The CAD representative will present evidence about your case. You may cross-examine the CAD representative. The ARB will make its decision based on the evidence presented. The CAD has the burden of establishing the property's value by a preponderance of the evidence presented. In certain protests where the owner has submitted an independent appraisal before the hearing, the chief appraiser has the burden of proving the property's value by clear and convincing evidence. You can get a copy of a protest form from the appraisal district office at

604 North First Street
 Haskell, Texas 79521

Note: You shouldn't try to contact ARB members outside of the hearing. The law requires ARB members to sign an affidavit saying that they haven't talked about your case before the ARB hears it.

Review by the District Court or an Arbitrator
 After it decides your case, the ARB must send you a copy of its order by certified mail. If you're not satisfied with the decision, you have the right to appeal. If you choose to go to court, you must start the process by filing a petition within 45 days of the date you receive the ARB's order. As an alternative and within the same time period, you may file a request for binding arbitration with the county appraisal district in certain cases.

Tax Payment
 You must pay either the amount of taxes due on the portion of the taxable value not in dispute or the amount of taxes due on the property under the order from which the appeal is taken.

More Information
 You can get more information by contacting your appraisal district at Haskell County Appraisal District, 604 N. 1st St., P.O. Box 467, Haskell, Texas 79521. 940-864-3805.

You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Comptroller's Property Tax Division, P.O. Box 13528, Austin, Texas 78711-3528.

Informal Review
 Haskell County Appraisal District
 940-864-3805

Review by the Appraisal Review Board
 If you can't resolve your problem informally with the county appraisal district (CAD) staff, you may have your case heard by the appraisal review board (ARB).

The ARB is an independent board of citizens that review problems with appraisals and other concerns listed above. It has the power to order the CAD to make the necessary changes to solve problems. If you file a written request for an ARB hearing (called a notice of protest) before the deadline, the ARB will set your case for a hearing. You'll receive written notice of the time, date, and place of the hearing. If necessary, you may request a hearing in the evening, Saturday or Sunday. Prior to your hearing, you may ask to review the evidence the CAD will use to uphold their determination. The CAD may ask you for a copy of the evidence you plan to present. The hearing will be informal. You or a designated agent may appear in person to present evidence or you may send notarized evidence for the ARB to review at your hearing.

Deadline for Filing Protests with the ARB*

Usual Deadline
 On or before May 31 (or 30 days after a notice of appraised value was mailed to you, whichever is later).

Late protests are allowed if you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like a medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause.

Late protests are due the day before the appraisal review board approves records for the year. Contact your appraisal district for more information.

Special Deadlines
 For change of use (the appraisal district informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the use of your land), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

For ARB changes (the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, you may file a protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually February 1) or no later than the 125th day after the date you claim you received a tax bill from one or more of the taxing units that tax your property. The ARB decides whether it will hear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you.

*The deadline is postponed to the next business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday.

Clock runs out on Legislature: new budget but massive die-off of bills

AUSTIN—Lawmakers spent the last few days of the 140-day 81st regular session of the Texas Legislature maneuvering to get their bills passed before midnight, June 1.

House Democrats ate up enough of the clock with stall tactics to prevent final passage of the Republican-supported “voter ID” bill that originated in the state Senate.

Hundreds of other bills died because of the slowdown, but end-of-session tactical slowdowns are nothing new.

Also, to revive a floundering bill, some members employed the tactic of attaching the bill’s language in the form of an amendment to another piece of “germane” legislation. Amendments must be germane to whatever legislation they are attached. That is, they must relate to the general subject of the original proposition of a bill.

Senators and House members did accomplish their most important task. They put the finishing touches on and adopted Senate Bill 1, the state budget for 2010-2011.

The budget, an estimated $182 billion, gives the Texas Department of Transportation $17 billion with $6 billion of that going for new road construction.

Health and human services increases 10 percent and includes funding to improve state schools and centers operated by the Texas Department of Aging and Disability Services.

“We’ve made a historical commitment to assisting our citizens with intellectual disabilities,” said Sen. Steve Ogden, chair of the budget-drafting Senate Finance Committee.

“It is significant that we are going, in this budget, to provide the funding necessary to reform our state schools and create many new alternatives, thousands of alternatives, for these most deserving citizens to receive the help and the treatment they need outside of an institutional setting,” Ogden said.

The budget gives higher education a 7 percent increase in spending, $450 million in new funds for cancer research and a 7 percent pay raise for correctional officers over the next two years.

Gov. Rick Perry has the final say. He can sign SB 1 into law as-is, send it back for reconsideration in the final day of the session, or call a special session for a heavy makeover.

Act aids wrongfully imprisoned

Gov. Perry on May 27 signed into law HB 1736, the Tim Cole Act, legislation increasing lump sum compensation paid to victims of wrongful imprisonment from $50,000 to $80,000 for each year of imprisonment.

The bill also requires the state to make monthly payments to the exonerated individual for life, and pay up to 120 hours of tuition and fees at career centers or state institutions of higher education. Exonerates also qualify for state-provided services to ease re-entry and reintegration into society.

The bill was authored by Rep. Raphael Anchia, D-Dallas, and sponsored in the Senate by Sen. Robert Duncan, R-Lubbock.

Forty Texas prisoners have been cleared of criminal wrongdoing based on DNA evidence. Dozens of others have been exonerated based on non-DNA evidence.

The bill is named in memory of Timothy Cole, who was serving a 25-year sentence after being wrongfully convicted for the rape of a Texas Tech student in 1985. Cole died in prison in 1999.

Don McLeroy, a Bryan dentist and self-described “creationist,” lost his bid to be reappointed as chair of the State Board of Education.

A motion to reappoint him failed to get a needed two-thirds vote in the Texas Senate on May 28. The vote was party line, with 19 Republicans for McLeroy and 11 Democrats against.

Nominated by Gov. Rick Perry, McLeroy served as SBOE chair for two years, beginning in 2007. During his tenure, the board engaged in high-profile discussions over how the subject of evolution should be presented to Texas school children.

Speaker files for second term

House Speaker Joe Straus, R-San Antonio, on May 27 filed papers with the Texas Ethics Commission signifying his intention to run for a second term as speaker.

His current term as speaker expires when the 82nd Legislature convenes in 2011.

Rep recovering from heart attack

State Rep. Edmund Kuempel, R-Seguin, continues to improve after suffering a May 12 heart attack while at work in the state Capitol. Kuempel, 66, underwent surgery to implant a pacemaker. He has served as a House member since 1983.

FSA County Committee nominations start June 15

Glenn R. Brzozowski, Executive Director for USDA’s Farm Service Agency (FSA) in Haskell County has announced farmer and rancher candidate nominations begin June 15 for local FSA county committees. The nomination period continues through Aug. 3. Elections take place this fall.

“I encourage all producers to participate in the county committee election process by nominating candidates by the Aug. 3 deadline,” said Brzozowski. “We are counting on as much participation as possible, because county committees are an important link between the farm community and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. We have seen a trend in recent years of increased nominations of minority and women producers and we hope that will continue.”

To be eligible to serve on a FSA county committee, a person must participate or cooperate in a program administered by FSA, be eligible to vote in a county committee election and reside in the local administrative area in which the person is a candidate.

Producers may also nominate themselves, and organizations representing minority and women may also nominate candidates. To become a nominee, eligible individuals must sign form FSA-669A. The form and other valuable information about FSA county committee elections are available online at <http://www.fsa.usda.gov/FSA/webapp?area=newsroom&subject=landing&topic=cce>.

Nomination forms for the 2009 election must be postmarked or received in the local USDA Service Center by close of business on Aug. 3.

FSA county committee members make decisions on disaster and conservation programs, emergency programs, commodity price support loan programs and other important agricultural issues. Members serve three-year terms. Nationwide, there are more than 7,800 farmers and ranchers serving on FSA county committees. Committees consist of three to five members who are elected by eligible local producers.

FSA will mail ballots to producers beginning Nov. 6. The voted ballots are due back to the local county office either via mail or in person by Dec. 7.

Newly elected committee members and alternates take office Jan. 1, 2010.

For more information about County Committees, contact the Haskell County FSA at 940-864-2617 ext. 2 or visit FSA online at <http://www.fsa.usda.gov>.

Farm calculation tools now available on-line

Glenn R. Brzozowski, Executive Director of USDA’s Farm Service Agency (FSA) in Haskell County announced May 28 that new online research and planning tools are now available for farmers and ranchers to assist them in examining how the new 2008 Farm Bill programs apply to their crops and operations.

Average Crop Revenue Election Program (ACRE) is a new revenue-based guarantee program administered by FSA that assists farmers and ranchers in managing the risks inherent in agricultural operations. ACRE is an alternative to the traditional price-stabilizing Direct and Counter-cyclical Program.

By visiting the FSA website at www.fsa.usda.gov, growers can enter their crops, acreages and price/yield projections into an “ACRE Calculator” to evaluate potential results. The calculator tool and other information including eligibility resources can be found by navigating to the Direct and Counter-cyclical Program/ACRE pages shown in the menu bar on the left side of the FSA homepage.

“The ACRE alternative provides eligible producers a state-level revenue guarantee, based on the five-year state Olympic average yield and the two-year national average price,” said Brzozowski.

The website also provides a 2008 Benchmark Yield History, ACRE Revenue Yield Maps and ACRE Price Values. The calculator can be used for one year and repeated to project multiple year results. Additional ACRE background information includes fact sheets and descriptive charts to help explain this program’s provisions and calculations.

Aug. 14, is the deadline to elect and enroll in ACRE for the 2009 Crop Year. Note that once a producer elects to participate in ACRE, the farm is no longer eligible for the regular Direct and Counter-cyclical Program through the 2012 Crop Year, the last year covered by the 2008 Farm Bill.

Producers should carefully evaluate their participation in ACRE. Payments in ACRE are made only when both state and farm-level triggers are met. By participating in ACRE, producers elect to forgo counter-cyclical payments, receive a 20-percent reduction in direct payments and a 30-percent reduction in loan rates.

For more information about your options under ACRE and other new Farm Bill programs, contact the Haskell County FSA at 940-864-2617 ext. 2 to schedule an appointment.

Six to retire from Haskell Co. schools

by Caron Yates

The end of the school year is always an exciting time for students and teachers alike. "Summer freedom" is always anxiously anticipated. Six Haskell County school employees, retiring at the end of this school year with a combined total of two hundred eight years of experience, are looking forward to more than just the summer off.

Haskell Elementary will be losing two veteran teachers as Bonnie Fouts, fifth grade teacher, and Paula Everett, science teacher, pack up their classrooms for the last time.

Fouts has taught for twenty-eight years. She began her teaching career at Lubbock-Cooper ISD, where she taught sixth and seventh grade math. When she and her husband John moved back home to Haskell, she signed on as a fourth grade teacher at Stamford. She has spent the last twenty-four years teaching in the Haskell CISD system. Nine years were spent teaching junior high math, before moving to fifth grade for the remaining fifteen years. One of the highlights of her career was coaching students in math competitions and just being a part of the Texas Mathematics and Science Coaches Association.

Fouts and her husband have raised three sons. Lyle and wife, Kelly, along with grandson Gage live in Amarillo, while Tom lives in Lubbock and Dan is located in Bovina. Fouts says she is ready to enjoy whatever the next phase of her life may bring.

Following in her mother's footsteps, Everett has been an elementary teacher for thirty-seven years. Those years have been spent teaching every grade level from Kindergarten through sixth grade, as well as Migrant. She taught in Breckenridge and Sweetwater, but has spent the majority of her career at Haskell Elementary.

Everett and her husband Tim, have one son, Mik of Haskell. They are proud grandparents of Drake and Calie Everett. She is looking forward to spending more time with her family.

After the state mandated science test for fifth grade came into effect, Everett organized and taught the elementary science lab. She says it has been very rewarding to see the progress of the students, as their scores have continued to be above state averages.

Sandra Fry, raised in Rochester, has spent the past thirty-two years teaching in her home school. She has forty-three total years of teaching experience to her credit. She began her career teaching at Carney School in O'Brien, Snyder High School and Weinert ISD before settling back in at Rochester. She has taught in a variety of subjects and grade levels, including Kindergarten, 4th, 6th, shorthand, accounting, economics, English, typewriting, yearbook and most recently, serving as technology, keyboarding and computer instructor at Rochester Junior High. Fry and her husband Keith, have two daughters. Traci and Donnie McNeff and children Ellen and Kate live in Chickasha, Oklahoma. Trina and Bo Watson live in Wichita Falls with their children Taylor, Matthew and Hallie. Fry plans to spend more time helping with the farming and ranching. However, she just can't totally give up her computer work, so she also plans to start a computer care service. Fry commented, "It's a nice feeling when graduates keep coming back to visit you years after graduating, but maybe it is time to quit when you begin teaching their grandchildren."

Rule ISD will have three employees retiring at the end of the school year. Between them, Jimmy and Judy New have 60 years of experience. Judy New, with thirty-five years of teaching experience, has taught high school English, journalism, newspaper and yearbook, Special Education and Family and Consumer Sciences. Her years of teaching have been spent in the immediate area, including one year at Weinert, twelve years at Paint Creek and twenty-two years at Rule. Besides teaching, she has worn many other hats, such as cheerleader sponsor, yearbook sponsor, photographer, one act play director, class sponsor, librarian and concession stand.

New says she has found true joy in watching young people prepare for life outside the school system. She adds, "It has been a great experience and one I will be forever thankful for."

Jimmy New has been Rule principal for the past five years. He has fifteen years teaching experience, as well as ten years as an administrator.

Burnett to celebrate 99th birthday

Celebrating 99 years!!! Elbert (E.H.) Burnett will be turning 99, June 5. Born in 1910, he is a living history book. He remembers back in 1918, when he and his dad were in a cotton field in Arizona picking cotton, cars passing by, honking their horns and declaring World War I was over. He survived the flu epidemic that claimed many lives during that era, and he felt he never really suffered from the Great Depression in the 1930's.

After his mother passed away in 1925, he and his dad went into the restaurant business. During the time of the Depression, Burnett and his father always kept a pot of stew cooking to feed the needy and the many "down and out" travelers passing through Colorado City on their way to California.

He met and married the love of his life, Edna, in 1931. He purchased land in 1942 in Haskell, where he began a farming and ranching career that lasted into his 80's. He recalled that the greatest thing he has seen in his life was when electricity and modern medicine came to rural Haskell in the late 1940's.

During the drought in the 1950's, farmers and ranchers needed rain to survive. In 1953, he opened the Highway Drive-In cafe to help make it through the hard times. Once the drought passed, he went back to doing what he loved the most, farming and ranching to support his family and put his kids through college.

He never once complained, as he was a hard worker and went through difficult times as a farmer, a husband and a father. His bride, Edna, was ill off and on for thirty years of their marriage and passed away in 1996. Burnett lived his philosophy, "Don't worry with things you can't do anything about, and fix the things you can."

He served on the Federal

E.H. BURNETT

Land Bank board for twenty-five years, is a member of the First Baptist Church and was a recipient of the Conservation Award because of his belief in conserving the land for future generations. For the past thirty years, he has been a diligent coffee drinker at the Dairy Queen where he can reminisce with other farmers and ranchers. And still, on occasion, at soon to be 99 years old, he goes and has his coffee.

His granddaughter, recently received an email that she felt fits her Grandad's perspective of life. The unknown author stated: Happiness is something you decide on ahead of time. It's a decision that you can make every morning when you wake up. You have a choice. You can spend the day in bed recounting the difficulty you have with the parts of your body that no longer work, or get out of bed and be thankful for the ones that do. Each day is a gift, and as long as your eyes open, you will focus on the new day and the happy memories you have stored away, just for this time in your life...Old Age is like a bank account. You withdraw from what you've put in. So, my advice to you would be to deposit a lot of happiness in the bank account of memories. Five simple rules to being happy are free your heart from hatred, free your mind from worries, live simply, give more and expect less.

Lawn care is EEA Club topic

The EEA Club met May 14 with twelve members and one guest present. Members answered roll call with "a mistake I'll never make again." This exercise proved to be very revealing and interesting.

Alice Ballard read the minutes which were approved. A treasurer's report was given by Kathryn Schonerstedt and a Yearbook Committee Report was given by Jane Smith. In a Special Committee Report, Joetta Burnett thanked Sue McGee for all of her hard work on Tri-County Rally Day. Mary Jennings reported this year's 4-H academic award recipient was Molly Dudensing.

area Pre K and Kindergarten classes.

Club members voted to make a donation to each of the three 4-H members going to State Round-Up to help with expenses. They also voted to change the date of the June meeting to Wed., June 10 instead of the regular second Thursday, to accommodate the June program.

Mary Jennings agreed to assist 4-H'ers with the 4-H Quilt Challenge project

A program was given by CEA/Ag Agent Wes Utley on lawn care. Types of grasses discussed were St. Augustine, Bermuda, Buffalo Grass, Kentucky Blue Grass, Turf Grass and Fescue. Utley told members the height different grasses should be cut and the fertilizers needed for each grass type.

Other topics discussed were fungus in grasses, watering: when and how much, soil testing, ph balance of soil, thatch build-up in grass and general care in order to have a beautiful lawn. The program was informative and members had many of their lawn care questions answered.

Haskell Home Health Agency

Is angina dangerous?
 The pain is not dangerous but it is a serious warning sign of heart disease.
 How is angina diagnosed and treated?
 Angina is diagnosed on the basis of symptoms, physical examinations, and tests such as an exercise stress test or coronary angiography, a special x-ray study of the heart's circulation. Many people can control angina by making life-style changes that lower the heart's workload and reduce stress. Rest and the use of nitroglycerin usually relieves an attack within minutes.
 The heart's demand for oxygen also can be modified with drugs. Beta blockers, for example, reduce blood pressure and slow down the heart rate, thus reducing the heart's need for oxygen.
 What can I do myself?
 Decrease the risk of an angina attack by identifying and controlling factors that trigger chest pain. For example, yoga, meditation, and other stress-reduction techniques may reduce angina attacks.
 A medically supervised exercise conditioning program can sometimes decrease the frequency of angina attacks by increasing tolerance to physical activity. Exercise also helps to build collateral circulation small auxiliary blood vessels, to nourish the heart muscle.

KC museum sets grand opening

The Wichita Brazos Museum and Cultural Center at Benjamin will celebrate the realization of a dream of many decades with a grand opening Sat., June 27. All persons with a Knox County connection, present or past, are invited to attend.

Pioneer families of Knox County were urging early in the 20th century that a museum be established to preserve the history of Knox County. Hilory Bedford, often called "the father of Knox County" included that call in his book, "Texas Indian Troubles," published in 1905.

With the Texas Governor's establishment of the County Historical Survey committees, in 1964, and the publishing of the Knox County History in 1966, the Knox County Historical Commission took steps which led closer to the building of a museum, by establishing a museum fund.

In 2001, the Friends of the Knox County Historical Commission was organized with the mission of establishing a museum for the preservation of Knox County History. It became the focal point of an intense effort to raise funds and donations of time, skills, and materials for the beautiful 50' x 100' building which will be celebrated June 27.

The Friends of KCHC operates the museum through a board of 28 directors from all over Knox County. It meets monthly, or more, to ensure that the museum continues to meet its organizational mission-telling of Knox County people and Knox County land, past and present.

The outdoor program June 27 will begin at 10 a.m., on the north side of the museum building, with Dr. Scott White, Curator of Arts for the National Ranching Heritage Center at Lubbock, as guest speaker.

The museum will be closed until after the program, except for an east side entrance for restrooms. Following the program the museum will be open until 5 p.m.

Also following the program, a hamburger meal will be served at the Benjamin Memorial Building by the Benjamin senior class.

Russell Brown, Garnet Buster, Hugh Campbell, III, Cary Clawson, Jimmy Dyer, Dane Ellsworth, Paul Friske, M.S. Gary Ward, Jim Ward, Roy Lee Ward, K.W. Whitley and Andrew Wilks.

The magnificent West Texas sky is the backdrop for the 36th Annual Preview Party Show and Sale held June 30 beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the John Selmon Memorial Gallery located at the World Famous Texas Cowboy Reunion Rodeo grounds in Stamford. The event features a delicious steak dinner, a chance to mingle with the artists, watch the artists complete a painting in one hour for the legendary "Quick Draw Auction" and a dance. It is always so exciting to have the large extended family gather for that one night each year.

Tickets for the Preview Party can be obtained by contacting Dawn Ham, President at 325-773-9094.

This Week's Devotional Message:

A newspaper is a constant reminder of our freedom

The significance of your newspaper is far greater than the fact that it is a source of news, opinions, entertainment, good advice and a wealth of information and public services to answer your every need. It is a regular and tangible reminder of the many freedoms which we enjoy in this country. The news is reported honestly, with no attempt made to suppress or distort it. Opinions, including yours if you desire, are freely expressed. One of the many features provided is a directory of the local places of worship, including the schedule of services, and Sunday school or special classes offered. Whether you already belong to a faith or are seeking one, this will help to simplify the choice; itself a vital freedom of this great land in which your newspaper is privileged to serve.
