OUT OF THE RACE.

Cleveland's Anti-Free Coinage Letter Creates a Sensation.

The South and West Looks Upon Him as Out of the Question for Presidential Timber.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The Cleveland anti-free coinage letter has caused a sensation in Washington. Nothing else is talked of. The letter is an emphatic announcement that he will not be the Democratic candidate on a free coinage platform. Many members of congress have been interviewed on the letter and the following opinions have been gleaned:

Mr. Peck of Arkansas, Democrat.—"The letter shows that Mr. Cleveland has no doubts of courage and that he has no disposition to deceive anyone. The position he takes is not a surprise; it merely takes away the doubts of those who thought he might have changed his views after a more careful study of the question. He holds the same views still. The letter will strengthen him in New York and throughout the east. It will probably do him some damage in the South West but his bold stand on the tariff has endeared him to the hearts of the Western and Southern people. They would rather vote for him than any other living man. They will respect his frankness and courage in maintaining his personal convictions, even if they do not agree with him, and they will probably be for him anyhow."

Mr. Goodnight of Kentucky said this letter would surely hurt Mr. Cleveland. "The wander to me is," he says, "that his former utterance on this subject did not injure him."

Mr. Sayers of Texas said: "It places him in direct antagonism with the Democrats of Texas in view of the platform adopted by them at the state convention last year in which they were committed to free coinage. I think that his nomination after this, supposing that his views will not change, would give life and activity to the third party movement."

Mr. Owens of Ohio said that he was always opposed to Mr. Cleveland but thought this letter destroyed his chance for the nomination.

Mr. Stuart of Texas said: "Mr. Cleveland is not greater than his party. The Democratic party has done more for him than he has for it. He should be left out."

Mr. Andrews of Massachusetts said he thought the letter would strengthen him in the popular estimation.

The sentiment expressed by Stewart and Sayers is voiced by the rest of the Texas delegation and by the senators. Senator Coke says: "It takes Cleveland out of the presidential race entirely. He has made a fatal faux pas, if he ever anticipated the nomination."

The talk here now is that Hill is the most available man at present.

"A MAN OF COURAGE."

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 12.—The Times to-morrow, under the caption "A man of courage," will say: "There was no special need for Grover Cleveland to speak on this silver issue beyond the inspiration of heroic manhood, but he would cease to be the Grover Cleveland who left the Presidency proud of defeat, if he had not spoken on free silver when the opportunity presented."

NEW YORK SUN.
NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The Sun will to-morrow print this editorially: "The peril in Mr. Cleveland's present views is not in the extension of silver currency, but we have demonstrated the usefulness of such increase. It is to free, unlimited and independent silver coinage that he suits disaster. He demonstrated the usefulness of such increase? True to the last of his destiny, Grover Cleveland dares only to be stuffed by Daniel on the silver question."

BALTIMORE SUN.
BALTIMORE Md., Feb. 12.—The Sun of this city will to-morrow say editorially: "Ex-President Cleveland speaks out with his accustomed courage and lucidity. His words will but express honest opinions and indicate the possession of backbone but Democrats have admitted ever since Jackson's time."

BOSTON HERALD.
BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 12.—The Herald will say to-morrow editorially: "Ex-President Cleveland is, in every respect, a man of courage and integrity. The letter sent to the Reform Club is not only concise, but graphic. The language in it is well chosen throughout."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Ex-President Cleveland's letter against the free coinage of silver was the subject of general talk at the capital to-day. Following are the comments of a number of Democratic members on the letter and how it will affect his prospects for nomination.

Edmunds of Virginia—"It means political death for Cleveland as far as the South and West are concerned."

Quinn of New York—"The letter is a big mistake. It is especially inopportune at this time."

McClammy of North Carolina—"Cleveland isn't in it. He is dumped."

Gen. Wheeler—"It would have been better if Cleveland had written a letter declining the nomination."

Fithian of Illinois—"Cleveland is out of the fight."

THE AUSTIN BUDGET.

Legislative Potpourri and News Generally from Our Capital City.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Feb. 13, 1891.
Special correspondence to the Free Press.

The Twenty-second Legislature is back from Maril Gras where it went last week. It must have been eating something which disagreed with its gastronomic economy, for it has apparently been in a bad humor ever since. The members of both Houses and Senate have been wrangling over diverse and sundry bills. The fellow-servant bill has been a bone of contention for several days. It passed the House yesterday by a very large vote, amended so that it applies to railroads only and has gone to the Senate in that shape. There is going to be a large and select assortment of music over this measure before it finally reaches the Governor for his signature.

The railroad men are shouting legislation and the saw mill men say if the bill passes in any other shape, it will bankrupt every corporation in Texas. This is the manner in which it now stands.

The sensation of the week has been the finding of the committee appointed to investigate the charge made against Comptroller John D. McCall by ex-Clerk Boynton. After an investigation of several days which was strictly a Star Chamber affair, the committee reports that every charge is true according to the evidence given. To say that it created a sensation would be saying it extremely mild. The committee's report asked for a special committee of five to take proper action. It is believed here that there is nothing against Mr. McCall which would call for any harsh measures such as impeachment proceedings, but may cause him to be reprimanded by the Legislature.

This Legislature will undoubtedly guard the best-kept law in Texas as the apple of its eye, and yet there are many members who are willing to admit in the privacy of their bedrooms that it is not a thing of beauty and joy forever.

Some new bills have been introduced this week of more than ordinary interest. One by Baker, of Tom Green county, creating an industrial school and institute in the state and a college for the education of white girls in the arts and sciences. A bill also, by Mr. Lewis making railway conductors peace officers, with power to arrest and eject passengers from cars.

Mr. McKinley of Walker county, introduced a bill in the House on Thursday which is intended to carry out Professor's recommendations in his last report as State Superintendent of Education with respect to a recognition of school districts in counties. The object of the bill is to go away with and prevent the further formation of small districts which are usually the result of neighborhood quarrels, jealousies or antipathies.

The anti-free pass bill created somewhat of a breeze in the House. The committee made an adverse report on the bill but Judge Garza got it re-committed and fired a substitute into it limiting the application of the law to members of the Legislature and Judiciary. The committee again reported adversely, but there was a strong minority report and its ghost may again stalk forth to frighten the pocket book of those members who are in the habit of going home every Saturday night free of cost.

It is generally conceded that the Legislature can not possibly get through in sixty days and that it will have to do considerable grinding on $2 per diem and unless they grind very lively, and there is any thing of a fight on the new apportionment they are liable to remain here until far into the blossomy spring time.

The citizens of Austin will tonight give the members of the Legislature and the Press an elegant banquet at the Driskill Hotel. It is understood that it will be a very lustrous affair, where the salons will clink glasses with the "boys" of the press gang and agree to be better friends in future; where pyrotechnic oratory will be at a discount and a good time generally will be had. This is all in the hospitality of Austin's citizens which is becoming proverbial throughout Texas. Austin is also rapidly becoming something else besides the social and educational center of Texas. It is becoming a commercial and distributing center and will soon be a railroad and manufacturing center. Austin's humdrum days of inactivity are over and her citizens are now fully aroused to the absolute necessity of getting in the swim of commercial and industrial progress.

GEN. SHERMAN died at his home in New York the 14th inst. One by one the great generals of the late war are being gathered to their fathers. May the prejudices of the sections be buried with this great soldier and statesman.

Martin, of the Haskell Free Press, and Gibson of the Cremona Star, came down and placed their autographs on the ledger of the Union Hotel. Gibson informs the Monitor that the Star will be revived at an early day. Seymour's electric lights and street railway rather abashed the boys on their arrival, as they expected to see a town modelled after their own rural village.—Monitor.

No, Brother Norwood, it was not the electric lights or street railway that was so intimidating to us, but it was the owls and rattle snakes that live with those prairie dogs that you wach scampering over the streets from the window of your sanctum.

One of the most recent additions to the list in the Haskell National Bank, of Haskell, Haskell county, Texas, which was chartered December 1, 1890, its number on the "Official Roster" of National banks being 4,174. This bank begins its career under most favorable conditions, the well-known reliability and efficiency of its officers and the strength of its directorate gain for the enterprise the complete confidence of the community in which it is located. The officers are as follows: M. S. Pierson, President; H. G. McConnell, Vice-President; A. C. Foster, 2d Vice-President, and S. H. Johnson, Cashier. President Pierson is a man of great ability and influence, and is regarded as an authority upon all matters pertaining to finance. The two Vice-Presidents, Messrs. McConnell and Foster, are highly respected and honorable gentlemen, and as good financiers as one would wish to meet with. Cashier Johnson is highly respected wherever he is known, and is undoubtedly the "right man in the right place."

The board of directors is made up as follows: A. C. Foster, S. H. Johnson, M. S. Pierson, W. E. Johnson, H. G. McConnell and N. S. Walton. The fact that such men as these are in control of the affair of the new establishment is in itself an assurance of the sound basis upon which the undertaking rests, and there can be no doubt but that under their wise, conservative and faithful administration, the Haskell National Bank is bound to be a decided success from the start. The bank has a capital of $50,000, and the following institutions are mentioned as its correspondents: The Merchants National Bank, of New York; the St. Louis National Bank, of St. Louis, Mo.; the Galveston National Bank, of Galveston, Tex.; and the Merchants National Bank, of Fort Worth, Texas.

There is every reason to believe that the Haskell National Bank will prove to be a most important factor in the future development of that section of country of which Haskell is the commercial as well as the geographical center, and the good people of that locality may well be congratulated upon their Messrs P. F. Montgomery and G. H. Johnson arrived in Clarendon from Hickman county, Tennessee, this week and will hereafter make their home in Donley county. These are the gentlemen who last summer bought from Edgewell and Cleaver the fine 640 acre farm adjoining town on the south, paying therefor $12 per acre. They made the purchase upon the representation of Mr. J. F. Lockney, without having first seen the farm for themselves, and they are now here to take possession of their property. They express themselves as being well pleased with their investment as well as with Clarendon and adjacent country, and say if the people from the portion of Tennessee from which they hail only knew of the advantages of this portion of Texas thousands of them would flock here in the near future.—Clarendon (Texas) Traveller.

Texas offers good homes to thousands in the old states and all that is necessary is for the people of the older states to learn of the inducements.

SAND HILLS.

Messrs Editors: As I have not seen anything from this community for some time I thought I would give you a few dots.

We hear several families have been down with the grippe, but we are glad to note they are improving.

Farmers are getting along very well most every body are through planting oats. Wheat is doing well and bids fair for an average crop.

It seems that the neighborhood is yet alive as Mr. Bob Edge was around inviting the young folks to a social "hop" at the residence of Mr. Edwards.

Some improvements are going on. Mr. W. B. Back has his residence about completed.

Look out for early vegetables, as we hear that Mr. McClatchey has an acre of the earliest varieties of vegetables planted, and not half through planting yet, so you see we have one enterprising man in this community.

Mr. Greer of Limestone county, is visiting his brother, Mr. J. H. Hicks.

NEW BEGINNER.

WE understand a Baptist brother in the Neiday neighborhood, who was recently licensed to preach the gospel of the meek and lowly Jesus, is in trouble. According to reports in circulation, he did, with amorous instincts aforesaid, encircle the waist of a charming little widow of that neighborhood and was guilty of osculating the said little widow against her inclination and in non-conformity with the precepts of his church. The Western regrets to learn of the brother's trouble, and we fear that he is going back on his denomination. His trial in the church was to have transpired last Saturday, but as yet we have not been informed as to the result.—Anson Western.

The young minister should learn to do the act more satisfactorily in the future.

Read This.

The Star will appear again at the earliest possible date. All who are due us money for subscription, advertising, or job work should pay at once, as we need all the money we can get. As our subscription and account books were our ed, we can not furnish names of those who owe us, nor the amounts due, but we trust all will promptly pay us. All subscribers should report to us, in order that none may be omitted from our new list. I will leave for Dallas to day (Saturday) to select and purchase a complete outfit, and as soon as it can be shipped from Dallas and brought to Haskell, and set up, the Star will resume publication. Being thankful for liberal patronage received heretofore, we ask a continuation of the same. Respectfully,
J. D. WARREN.

Wedding Bells.

On last Sunday, occurred a social event that was of great interest to Haskell society. It was the marriage of H. R. Jones Esq to Miss Connie Kiltough at the residence of the bride's parents Rev. J. H. Colled officiating. Mr. Jones is a popular young lawyer of the Haskell bar and is also a real estate agent and director of the First National Bank of this place. He stands high in the best circles, socially, financially and professionally.

The bride was one of Haskell's fairest daughters, whose pretty and intelligent face, sunny and congenial smiles, commanded the esteem and admiration of all who knew her. The wedding was a quiet affair no one being present except a few friends of the contracting parties. The young couple have our best wishes and hearty congratulations.

Haskell County.

Her Resources, Advantages, Progress and Future Prospects.

Topography, Water, Soil, Products, Shipping Points, Railroads, Public Schools and Mail Facilities.

HASKELL county is situated in the southern part of the panhandle on the line of the old 100th Meridian west from G. C. Welch. It is 1500 feet above the sea, and has mild winters and summers. It is 30 miles square and contains 576,000 acres of land. It was created in 1858 from a part of Franklin and Milam counties, and named in honor of Charles Haskell, a young Tennesseean who fell at the massacre at Goliad in 1836.

It remained unsettled until 1874 when there was one or two ranches established. Other ranchmen followed and in 1880 the county could boast of 15 or 20 inhabitants. There was no further development until early in 1884, when the town of Haskell was laid off and by donating lots a few settlers were induced to build residences, and in January 1885 the county organized with a polled vote of 57 electors.

Up to 1884 the soil had never been tilled by a plow, and the people depended upon raising cattle, sheep and horses as the natural grasses furnished food both winter and summer for immense herds. The poorer people made money by gathering many thousand tons of buffalo bones and shipping them east to be made into fertilizers for use in the old states.

Experiments were made in 1885 with garden products, corn, oats, wheat, rye, barley and cotton and the yield was beautiful.

In 1886 and 1887 the entire west, from Dakota to Mexico suffered from seasons of unexampled dryness, but the faith of the few farmers of Haskell county, kept green and in the fall of 1887 farming began in dead earnest, and the crop of 1888 far surpassed all anticipation, corn made 25 bushels per acre, wheat 15 to 25, rye 20, and cotton exceeded all half bush per acre, and sorghum, hay and millet was so plentiful it was hardly considered as a part of the general crop and there was no demand for it in the local market. The acreage in farms have been increased to at least 30,000 acres.

TOPOGRAPHY.
The county is an undulating plain with occasional creeks and branches. It is bounded on the north by that picturesque stream the Salt Fork of the Brazos, and on the west by Double Mountain Fork.

There are a few washes and gulches along the creeks and rivers, but with river breaks, rocks and poor land combined, their use in Haskell county would not average over 10,000 acres that would not be a fine agricultural land.

WATER.
It is traversed by numerous creeks and branches besides the rivers mentioned, some of which are fed by never failing springs of purest water.

Besides the numerous branches that afford water for stock all the time, the south half of the county is traversed by Paint and California creeks with their numerous tributaries draining the south half of the county.

The north half is traversed from southwest to northeast by Lake and Miller creeks whose tributaries furnish water and drainage for the same.

Besides the surface water there is an abundance to be obtained by digging from 15 to 40 feet, and all of a good quality, some of which is unexcelled by that of any section in the state for purity and temperature.

SOIL.
The soil is an alluvial loam of great depth and fertility, varying in color from a red to a dark chocolate, and by reason of its porous and friable nature, when thoroughly plowed, readily drinks in the rainfall and in dry seasons absorbs moisture from the atmosphere; and for the like reasons the soil readily drains itself of the surplus water, thereby preventing stagnation of the water and the baking of the soil as well as the germination of miasma. It is those peculiar qualities of soil that enable vegetation to withstand all varieties of weather.

Except mesquite grubs and stamps, which are easily extracted, there are no obstructions to plow and the land being level or generally rolling, and easily worked, the use of labor saving implements at once becomes pleasant and profitable. One man with machinery and a little hired help has been known to cultivate over 100 acres in grain and cotton.

PRODUCTS.

Indian corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, durum corn, millet, sorghum, castor beans, field peas, peanuts, pumpkins, and all the squash family, turnips and cotton are grown successfully and profitably. Also sweet potatoes do well, and Irish potatoes as well as anywhere in the South. Garden vegetables grow to perfection, and melons luxuriate in Haskell county soil, growing to fine size of superb quality. Besides the native grasses that grow on the prairies, sustaining large numbers of cattle, horses and sheep through out the year, Colorado grass grows in some to make their beginning in the world, others to repair financial losses, others seeking safe and profitable investments of surplus capital. There are many others who have comfortable homes and are well contented, but who have children, whom they would like to provide with lands suitable for a home, and assist to commence business in life, but can not do so with their present surroundings, and must seek cheaper lands and better opportunities in other parts of the country.

YIELD AND PRICES OF FARM PRODUCTS.

The average yield of Indian corn per acre is about 30 bushels and the price varies from 50c to 1.25 per bushel; the wheat yield for the year '88—a dry year ranged from 18 to 30 bushels—averaging 25 bushels per acre, and sold in the home market for 90 cents to $1.00 per bushel; oats yield 60 to 100 bushels per acre, and usually sell at 25 cents per bushel; cotton yields a half to three quarters of a bale per acre, but owing to the great distance to market its cultivation is not engaged in to a great extent. Other crops make good yields and commands corresponding prices. Hens made pork is usually worth 6 to 8 cents per pound; fresh butter 6 to 8 cents; home made butter, sweet and delicious, usually sells at 25 cents per pound, chickens 15 to 25 cents each, and eggs 10 to 25 cents per dozen.

SHIPPING POINT.

As yet Haskell has no railroad, and our people do their principal shipping to and from Abilene, a town 60 miles south, in Taylor county, on the Texas and Pacific railroad, Albany on the H. & T. C. 45 miles from Haskell on the south-east, and Seymour on the W. V. 45 miles on the northeast.

RAILROADS.

There is one road being built from Seymour to this place and one to be built from Fort Worth to the Texas Central will have to extend in a short time from Albany or Fort Worth charter, and Haskell is on the line as originally surveyed.

The land men of Austin have organized a company to build a road from the city to this section of the state where they control nearly all the land and one of the principal members owns 17,000 acres in this and Knox county, besides he owns the large addition to the town of Haskell on the south.

Haskell is 60 miles north of the T. & P. R. R. and 30 miles south of the Ft. W. & D. R. R. and is situated on the direct line of the cattle trail over which the Rock Island, and G. C. & S. E. propose to extend their lines.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Our school fund is perhaps the best of any county in the northwest. In addition to the amount received from the state, about $5,500 per capita, our commissioners court have wisely executed a lease for 10 years of four tranches of school land, situated in the Panhandle, the revenue from which added to the amount received from the state gives us a fund amply sufficient to run the several schools of the county ten months in the year. This fund can also be drawn upon to build school houses in any organized school community of the county.

MAIL FACILITIES.

There is a daily mail service from Haskell to Abilene via Anson and a tri-weekly mail north to Benjamine and to Seymour on the Wichita valley Railroad, these lines also carry express and passengers.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS.

The religious and moral status of the people of Haskell county will compare favorably with that of any people. The Methodist, Baptist, Christian, Presbyterian and Cumberland Presbyterian churches have organized churches in the town of Haskell, and have preaching on Sundays, also preaching at other points in the county. We have a good Union Sunday School, and weekly prayer meeting that are well attended.

HASKELL.

The town of Haskell is the county site of, and is situated one and one-half mile south of the center of Haskell county, on a beautiful table land, and is six years old and has a population of 800. Has as good well water as can be found anywhere, which is secured at a depth of 15 to 22 feet. Also has two never failing springs of pure water in the edge of town. Haskell has five dry goods and grocery stores that sell goods at prices as low as can be had in railroad towns, with 50 cents per hundred pounds for freight added, and dry goods and groceries as cheap as can be bought any where. Two Millinery establishments one gin and mill. Also has two drug stores two hardware one furniture one notion one hotel and two restaurants, three blacksmith shops, two cabinet and wood shops, one lumber yard two national banks, one larder shop; one silver smith shop one saddlery shop, one boot and shoe shop; two meat markets; two livery stables; three doctors; 13 lawyers and land agents; two first class newspapers and job offices and two saloons, all doing a good business. The town of Haskell with her natural advantages, of location, climate, good water and fertility of soil is destined in the near future to be the queen city of Northwest Texas, and railroad connection for Haskell is all that is needed to accomplish these.

ADVANTAGES AND RESOURCES.

In almost every neighborhood of the older states and the thickly settled portion of our own state there are many of its citizens who are contemplating a removal or a change of residence for many reasons. Some to restore lost health, some to make their beginning in the world, others to repair financial losses, others seeking safe and profitable investments of surplus capital. There are many others who have comfortable homes and are well contented, but who have children, whom they would like to provide with lands suitable for a home, and assist to commence business in life, but can not do so with their present surroundings, and must seek cheaper lands and better opportunities in other parts of the country.

To such we would say you are just the people we want. Come and see us, and you will find a broad field of occupation and investment to choose from, with chances greatly in your favor. In coming to Haskell do not imagine you are people wild and woolly indigenous to these "sweeter wilds," that we are loaded with dynamite and shooting irons, that our conversations are collections of cuss words and Mulhatta mixtures, but rather that we are people reared among the same surroundings, that we have received the benefit of the same advantages, that we have availed ourselves of the same educational privileges, that we have had the same Christian instruction you yourselves have had. Be enlightened by past experience. Fortunes have been made by the development of new counties, and fortunes are yet to be made in our new and equally as good country.

We have a county endowed by nature with all the conditions of soil, prairie and valley adapting it to the production of all the grains, grasses, fruits and vegetables of the temperate zone. We have a climate which is a happy medium between the extreme cold and extreme heat, a climate which will preserve the strong and robust and strengthen the sickly and weak. We have a county well adapted to stock raising of all kinds. We have a country where no malarial sickness ever comes. We have a county of the best lands in Northwest Texas. We have an abundance of fine quality, and healthy timber for firewood and fencing. We have the most substantial balance business town in the northwest of the purest water. We have a class of citizens as honest and industrious, as hospitable and good natured, as law abiding, patriotic and religious as can be found anywhere in the United States. We have plenty of room, and invite you and all who contemplate a changed course, all who want good and cheap lands. We have them, and want you for neighbors and friends.

Reader, please hand this to your friend.

What is lacking is truth and confidence. If there were absolute truth on the one hand and absolute confidence on the other, it wouldn't be necessary for the makers of Mr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy to back up a plain statement of facts by a $500 guarantee. They say—"If we can't cure you (make it personal, please), of catarrh in the head, in any form or stage, we'll pay you $500 for your trouble in making the trial."

"An advertising fake," you say. Funny, isn't it, how some people prefer sickness to health when the remedy is positive and the guarantee absolute. Wise men don't put money back of "fakes." And faking doesn't pay.

Magical little granules—those tiny, sugar coated Pellets of Dr. Pierce's—sorely larger than mustard seeds, yet powerful to cure—active yet mild in operation. The best Liver Pills ever invented. Cures sick headache, dizziness, constipation. One a dose.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box.
