He cited a parallel between the nations of China, India and Egypt, all possessing limitless natural resources but counted among the world's "poorest" nations in comparison with Switzerland. The latter country, although lacking in natural resources, enjoys one of the highest standards of living in the world and its people are deeply religious. Mr. Marcy was one of the first settlers in Haskell County when farmers began turning their attention to this section and has been living in the northwest section of the county for twelve or fifteen years. Cotton Improvement Groups To Receive Special Benefits

It's time to join a cotton improvement group.

This reminder comes to cotton farmers today from H. J. Matejowsky of Production and Marketing Administration's cotton classing office, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Abilene.

"If you belonged to an improvement group last year, get with your neighbors and bring your organization up to date," Matejowsky said, adding, "and if you don't belong to one, join one."

He explained an application form could be obtained from the county PMA office, county agent or local ginners.

Farmers who organize into improvement groups get two special benefits from USDA—free classification and market news service.

Both are provided for under the Smith-Doxey Act, which encourages farmers to grow improved varieties of cotton particularly adapted to their soil.

Matejowsky said that as soon as all farmers in the group have planted their cotton, the application for classing and market news should be mailed to his office. Address is P. O. Box 2001, Abilene, Texas.

Check Electric Hazards During Clean-Up Week

Spring clean-up is a good time to look into your electrical attairs around the house. Unlike rubbish which collects and becomes a visual annoyance, electrical faults don't show until suddenly a painful shock or a flash of fire warns you that something's wrong.

To ward off such disaster, use your annual clean-up to have electric cords and appliances replaced or repaired, advises the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

This is the time to take all electric appliances that are operating poorly or are obviously broken to an electrician. His expert job will usually be vastly superior to that of the home handyman, the fire experts suggest.

In inspecting your electrical equipment the National Board outlines these points to check:

1. Inspect flexible cords for breaks in insulation or severe kinks in cords which may rip their protective covering.
2. See that no flexible cord is tacked down on baseboards, under rugs or through doorways.
3. Any new electrical installations should be made in accordance with the National Electrical Code.

4. Use only 15 ampere fuses in the household circuits or a 15 ampere circuit breaker. Some heavy duty household appliances may require larger fuses. Check this with your electrician.
5. Look for the UL label of the Underwriter's Laboratories, Inc.
when buying new electric cords and appliances. It is an assurance of safety.

6. Don't overload a circuit with heavy duty electric appliances or too many electrical appliances plugged into one outlet.

NATIONAL BOARD OF FIRE UNDERWRITERS

Growers Advised to Watch for Insects In Stored Grain

Recent regulations announced by the Food and Drug Administration regarding the grading of wheat which has been in storage and damaged by insects is of great economic importance to wheat producers in Texas. Losses, says Fred Dines, wheat marketing specialist, for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service can be held to a minimum if producers will take the necessary precautions in storing their wheat especially that stored on the farm.

The first job, and it should be done now, is to thoroughly clean and then treat the storage bin for insects. Dines emphasizes that all accumulations of residue grain-whole, cracked, ground or grain dust—must be removed from the interior or exterior of the bin.
Check the cross braces, rafters, cracks in the floor and walls and if available, the specialist recommends using an air blasting machine to get the accumulations cleaned up.

If the storage bin is inside or attached to other farm buildings, Dines says special care must be taken to see that all materials such as mixed feed, other grain, hay and straw in which insects may breed are removed from the storage area.

After the clean up job is completed a residual spray should be applied to the surfaces of the bin at least two weeks before grain is placed in storage. Dines and Extension Entomologist A. C.
Guner recommends the use of lindane, pyronne base, methoxychlor or DDT residual sprays. A pyrethium piperonyl butoxide spray may also be used. They point out that directions for the use of each of these materials is carried on the label of the container and urge that these instructions be followed to the letter. Methoxychlor and DDT sprays, they warn, should not be used in concentration of more than two and one-half per cent.
Every crack, crevice, corner, ledge, beam and cross brace that could harbor insects should be thoroughly covered with the spray. Do a complete job, inside and out.

Regardless of how well the clean up and spraying jobs are done, Dines adds, the key to a good insect control program is putting into storage only dry grain. Stored grain insects require water for life and grain containing less than 12 per cent moisture does not provide a favorable habitat. On the other hand, grain containing more than 13 per cent moisture does provide the needed moisture for insect development and heating. Heat due to weevil activity and/or wheat respiration may become concentrated and

Thorough Clean-Up Results in Brighter, Safer Communities

More communities every year observe spring clean-up as part of their fire safety campaigns, reports of the National Board of Fire Underwriters show.

Local fire authorities encourage householders to undertake an annual repair and clean-up because it gets rid of many fires and health hazards. A cleaner and safer town or city may be expected to have lower disease rates and reduced juvenile delinquency.

To date several thousand communities have made spring clean-ups an annual institution.

To householders interested in joining the community efforts, the National Board suggests they contact the Chamber of Commerce, the local Fire Department, Safety Council, Fire Prevention Bureau or other civic groups to learn how they can contribute to community plans.

In their own vicinity home owners can join with neighbors in a local cleanup. Vacant lots should be cleaned out of rubbish, trash, old furniture and garbage.
They are not only eye-sores, but because they breed mosquitoes, flies, rats and other vermin, they are a health menace.

sufficiently high to cause damage to the grain and a loss in grade

Finally, Dines says, don't fill the bins completely because the effectiveness of fumigating which will be done later will be reduced.
Then too, bins that are completely filled cannot be checked as easily for weevils and damage.

Right now is the time to do the cleaning and spraying jobs, says Dines because there'll be little time for doing them if producers wait until actual harvest has started.

4H Club Members Study Shrubs and Practical Uses

From the Panhandle to the Gulf Coast and from East Texas to New Mexico, 4-H boys and girls are studying shrubs and their uses. Community, county and district contests are being held to train members in recognizing shrubs and suggesting practical uses, says Sadie Hatfield, homestead improvement specialist for the Texas Agricultural Service.

Friendly contests at club meetings train the members to recognize shrubs quickly. Each contestant, she adds, is expected to know at least 50 shrubs. This list includes many old favorites such as abelia, althea, honey suckle, bridal wreath and crepe myrtle. The list also contains many of our native shrubs which have been neglected such as apache plume, cliff rose, desert willow, lomonade sumach, wafer ash and evergreen sumach. The specialist explains that dry weather during the past two seasons has quickened the general interest in our native drought enduring plants.

Each contestant is expected to recognize a shrub from a branch and tell whether or not it holds its leaves during the winter. Contestants should indicate at least two uses of each plant. The list includes low growing evergreens for doorway accent and many flowering shrubs suitable for planting under windows and about homes and outbuildings.

During the 1951 4-H Roundup, the first state Shrub Identification Contest was held, and it created a great deal of interest.
Boys and girls from all parts of Texas are preparing now for the 1952 contest, to be held June 9 at Texas A&M College. Winning teams and high scoring individuals will be given gold, silver and bronze medals, says Miss Hatfield. This is one contest, she adds, in which all can be winners. Learning to know shrubs and where to plant them is valuable information when planning home grounds and knowing which will be hardy and thrifty is equally important.

"The Selection and Care of Small Kitchen Equipment" was the demonstration given by the agent, Miss Wirges, to the Willing Workers HD Club in the home of Mrs. John Powell Thursday, May 22 at 2:30 p. m.

Miss Wirges stressed five basic characteristics to look for in purchasing small kitchen equipment, namely: durability, cooking efficiency, ease of cleaning, ease of using, ease of storing and safety of handles, vents and gauges. A well seasoned cast iron skillet is still an old favorite. Kettles and stew pans need straight sides, flat bottoms, rounded corners, no seams, close contact between lid and sides. Measuring cups must be glass or metal, not plastic.

Refreshments of open face cheese sandwiches, olives, pound cake and ice tea were served to Miss Wirges and eight members.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Adams June 12.

Chick Players Made Eligible To Compete On City League Teams

Chicks were made eligible to compete on City League teams after a meeting of the directors of the league...

Side Baptist contest that was originally on the slate for the initial game. It was postponed on agreement of the managers.

In the second tilt at 9 p. m. Piggly Wiggly will face the Lutheran Church.

Monday night Bill Wilson Motor Co. and the Southsiders will battle in the first game and the Flying Red Horses will match their abilities with Service Pipe Line in the second.

Games Monday Night
The first games in the City League competition were reeled off last Monday evening with Bill Wilson Motor Co. taking an 8-1 victory over the Flying Red Horses and Service Pipe Line walloped the Southsiders, 13-5.

For Bill Wilson Motor Co., pitcher G. W. Mullins hurled the first no-hitter of the season in the opening game of the City League schedule. The Flying Red Horses scored their lone run when the first man to the plate, James Miller, slashed a long fly that was muffed by the right fielder and was good for four bases.

However, Bill Wilson Motor Co. was playing an ineligible man and the managers agreed to replay the game at a later date. It will be played tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 p. m.

Pitcher Jerry Burge was credited with the victory for Service Pipe Line while James Kirby was the losing pitcher for the Southsiders.

The City League schedule was completed this week with each team playing the other seven teams two games in a double-round-robin tournament. Play began last Monday night and will continue two nights each week until August 28. However, a few games will have to be postponed and they may arrange several nights after August 28 for the postponed games to be played.

After the schedule is completed, the teams will compete in a Shaughnessy playoff that will decide the city champion. A date for play-offs will be set later in the season.

Chicks Face Stamford Here Friday at 8:30

The Haskell Chicks, winners in three of their first five games this season, will battle with Stamford Friday night at 8:30 p. m. at Fair Park Stadium. The Chicks will pay a return visit to the Stamford Municipal Stadium Tuesday night.

The Chicks will be without their ace pitcher, E. L. Bassing, Friday night. He was hospitalized last week with an appendectomy, after being credited with the Chicks' three victories this season.

But manager Tom Watson will have a variety of players to choose from the remainder of the 1952 schedule since he is able to pick an all-star line-up from the eight teams in the City League. This was made legal at a meeting of City League managers last Tuesday when they decided to make all the Chicks eligible to play on a City League team and the Chick team would be made up of players picked from the City League and the regular Chick team.

Stamford and Haskell have had two meetings this year with the Stamford nine annexing both victories. Those are the only losses on the Chick record for this season. Stamford blanked the Chicks in the first game, 6-0, and took the second game by a 10-4 decision.

On the mound for Stamford could be one of the four top hurlers in this area. Wayne Baldwin, E. W. Mickler, Roy Weeks and Red Denham are all available to the Stamford nine. Both Baldwin and Mickler hold credit for a victory over the Chicks. Behind the plate will be backstop Bill Jones.

Power at the plate for the Stamford alignment will be supplied by Tommy Alexander, first baseman, who is at the top of the Stamford batting averages. In the first game against the Chicks, Alexander collected three hits in four trips to the plate, then repeated his feat in the second contest.

For the Chicks, second baseman Jack Chapman is at the top of the list, having blasted out a .467 average in four games. The team average for the Chicks is .294, showing a fairly good average in five games this year.

Black Indians Corner Anson's Tigers, 8-6

Ben Lewis' triple in the bottom half of the seventh inning broke a 3-3 tie and put the damper on Anson's Tigers Sunday as the Black Indians annexed their third consecutive victory this season by a score of 8-6.

Lewis' line-drive triple went into the left field corner and pushed two runs across home plate to give the Black Indians a two-run lead that held good until the final frame.

Sunday's victory was the Black Indians' first triumph over Anson since 1949 and was their third in as many starts.

Anson made a desperate eight-inning come-back but they could not overtake the Indian lead. They scored their last run in the eighth frame and could not cross the plate in their half of the ninth. In the Black Indian half of the eighth, they scored their final tally.

John Hammon, veteran Black Indian hurler, started on the mound for the locals, but had to be relieved in the fourth inning when Anson had the tying run on first base. Billy Davis handled the relief duties and was awarded credit for Sunday's victory. Both Indian pitchers gave up a total of six hits.

Jack Marlow, who toed the mound for the Anson Tigers went the distance for the opponents and allowed the locals a total of nine safeties.

Lewis, along with his triple also slashed out two doubles to center field, giving him a total of three safe hits in five trips to the plate.

The Black Indians will journey to Throckmorton Sunday where they will encounter the Throckmorton All-Stars in their second meeting of the season. In their last meeting at Fair Park Stadium, the Black Indians soaked the Throckmorton nine, 11-1.

Starting on the hill for the Black Indians Sunday will be a new face to the locals. Frank Miller will get his first starting assignment for the Black Indians Sunday at Throckmorton. They will also have a new catcher, Willie Stone, as Miller's backstop.

The Black Indians will play their next home game at Fair Park Stadium Sunday, June 8.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Waste in government is even a hot subject in Washington these days. Yet some of the very Congressmen who love to rise on every possible occasion and make the welkin ring on the subject are the most reluctant to take definite action.

Despite a bipartisan committee composed equally of republicans and democrats supporting the reforms in government procedures recommended by the Hoover Commission C. W. Harder almost three years ago, progress is being made slowly.

Right now, every attempt is being made to get Congress to pass pending bills that would solve many of the government employment problems. The cold, unsupported facts indicate how strongly reforms are needed.

There are two and a half million Federal civilian employees, or ten times more than there were 20 years ago.

Thus, the government is the biggest employer in the world, yet the government is being shown up as probably the poorest employer in the world.

To keep two and half million working, the government must hire 800,000 people every year, due to the 34% who leave government service because of dissatisfaction.

Little Known Whittier Army Post In Alaska Looms As Potential United States Lifeline

The following article concerning an important, but little known U. S. port in Alaska, was written by Herman A. Lowe, staff writer for the Philadelphia Enquirer.

The peculiar mountain formation which isolates the tiny base provides it with unique weather (often, damned by those who must live there). The mountains form a barrier which catches clouds coming in from the water side and prevents them from moving inland. Thus, Whittier's average annual rainfall approximates 180 inches, making it one of the wettest places on the face of the globe. In addition, it has an annual average snowfall of 200 inches, making it one of the snowiest places in the world.

Most Army personnel in Alaska is up for a two-year tour of duty. Whittier is one of these special hardship stations, where a man is not required to serve more than one year, before being rotated back to the States.

The chances are that not one "Stateside" American in 10,000 has ever heard of the Port of Whittier. It doesn't show at all on most maps of Alaska. Yet, in the event of war with Russia, Whittier would loom in American newspaper headlines as a lifeline of our extreme northwestern frontier, almost as important to us as the Suez Canal is to the British.

Through this port pumps blood and sinew for the defense of Alaska. This is where Army and Air Force personnel embark from transports on their way north to Anchorage and the interior bases. It's where food, material and other equipment are lifted from the holds of ocean-going freighters and trans-shipped by rail to be up Alaska's military and air installations.

Whittier is a 100 per cent Army port. Its docks, its warehouses, its cranes and other equipment are owned and operated by the Army. The people who live in Whittier are Army people and a handful of civilians who work for the Army. There are but two exceptions. One oil company and one lumber company are permitted to lease facilities here to store the oil and lumber they sell to the military.

Port Whittier's special gift—rare in Alaska—is year-round, ice free deep water. Even at low tide the water in this arm of Prince William Sound is 48 feet deep. And it's just as usable in January as in July.

For all its importance, Whittier is a deficient freak in some ways. It is a little lip of relatively level land, probably not much over a half-mile square. On the land side it is entirely surrounded by towering mountains, which seemingly try to shoulder it into the sea. Crowning the lowest of these mountain ridges is Whittier Glacier, a 100-foot depth of glittering, ageless bottle-blue ice. Its edge is barely two and 1/2 miles away.

Whittier is connected by railroad with Anchorage, largest city in Alaska. The line is a branch of the Alaska Railroad, owned and operated by the U. S. Department of Interior.

Mrs. Ila V. Brock Dies Recently In San Antonio

Mrs. Ila V. Brock, 75, who with her late husband, Allen Brock, were long-time residents of Haskell, died at the home of a sister, Mrs. Fred F. Hancock in San Antonio Monday evening, May 19 at 7:25.

Her sister, Mrs. Hancock, 70, had died the previous day—May 18—but Mrs. Brock was so gravely ill she was not told of her sister's death.

They were the daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. King Dunnagan, pioneer settlers of Hico. The bodies were returned to Hico where double funeral services were held at the graveside, conducted by the Rev. T. D. Ellis of Cleburne and the Rev. Wesley Rosenquist of Walnut Springs, both relatives of the family. Mrs. Hancock was buried beside the grave of her husband, who preceded her in death. Mrs. Brock was buried beside the grave of an only daughter who died several years ago.

Mrs. Brock was a music teacher in Haskell for many years. She was a member of the First Methodist Church, was a pianist for the primary department over 20 years and was a member of the church choir. She moved to San Antonio five years ago, after suffering a fractured hip in a fall. She made her home with her sister and her nephew, Raymond Hancock, who lovingly and lavishly provided for both of them.

She was a sister-in-law of Roy Brock, Mrs. John Pitman, Mrs. H. K. Thompson, and Mrs. Alf Heath of Haskell. Attending the funeral services from Haskell were Mr. and Mrs. John Pitman, Mrs. H. K. Thompson, Mrs. Alf Heath, Mrs. T. P. Perdue, Mrs. D. H. Persons and Don Payne.

Health of Older People Becoming More Important

In the past, medicine and public health have concerned themselves largely with the health and disease problems of youth and middle age, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. We have neglected our aged population and have waited upon the devastations of time before extending aid to the old.

Our population each year includes an increasing number and percentage of older people. In 1950 in the United States, it is estimated that there are 11,000,000 persons over 65 years of age, as compared to 3,000,000 in 1900. In absolute numbers, aged persons among us have almost quadrupled in the last fifty years, whereas the proportion of elderly persons to the remainder of the population has merely doubled.

Dr. Cox stated that preventive medicine, private medical care and social service have assisted in extending the life span. As encouraging as this fact may be there is an accompanying tribulation; the aged are subject to the chronic disease which, because of destroyed tissue structure, are especially weakened. Heart disease, cancer, diabetes, and other long-term illnesses resist the physician's most skillful attack and are notably disabling and lethal.

To insure health and peace of mind to our old people, preventive and curative medicine and social service can contribute techniques of prevention and care. These techniques should properly include the early discovery of beginning disease processes through periodic examinations that begin in early life and continue for one's remaining years. By such means many cases of chronic disease, with all their agony and sure fatality, might either be prevented or, through the substitution of different living regimens, be rendered tolerable.

H-D Club Women Study Importance Of Making Wills

Too few people know what would happen to their property in case of death, so Haskell County Home Demonstration Clubs are making a study of this. They have found that confusion can be avoided by thinking through plans for settlement; of the property and disposing of it by will.

The owner of any kind of real or personal property has three choices under Texas laws for transfer of property to heirs. He may let the estate be distributed to those specified by law, make a will or arrange for joint or single ownership of real or personal property.

One procedure is to let property pass to heirs without making a will. This is called intestacy. Four things can happen to community property when no will is made.

If a man or woman dies leaving no children, all property goes to the spouse. If a man or woman dies leaving a spouse and children, one half goes to the spouse and the remainder to the children. The law provides that the homestead shall not be divided among heirs during the lifetime of the surviving husband or wife so long as the survivor elects to use or occupy it as a homestead.

If a widow or wife or widower is survived by children, the property is divided equally among them. If a single person, a widow or widower dies without children, the property is divided equally between the parents. If only one parent is alive one-half goes to him and one-half goes to brothers and sisters, and so on down to the next kin.

Another choice offered by law in the transfer of property to heirs is by will. A will, to be valid in Texas, must be written and witnessed. To prevent possible delays and expense in the settlement of estates, an attorney should be consulted before a will is made. The attorney can assist in the wording of the will so that it states plainly what disposition the testator desires for the property.

A third option in disposing of property is through joint ownership. There are three methods of owning property jointly. Joint tenancy is when two or more persons own any kind of property as "joint tenants" on the deed or bill of sale transferring property. Secondly there is "tenancy by the entirety" which is possible only for a wife and husband and applies only to real property. Then there is tenancy in common where two or more persons hold any kind of property as "tenants in common." The deed or bill of sale carries all the names and makes no reference to survivorship. Each of the three joint ownership of property options carries its own method of disposing of the property which should be thoroughly understood.

Each property owner has a choice of any of three methods of disposing of property.

HOUSE PLAN No. 86

Let Your House
 Grow With You

Whether you want to build your complete home now or build a small house and enlarge it later, you will find many attractive features in Farm and Ranch Plan No. 5136. If you want the complete home, build it as our plans illustrate. If you want a small two bedroom house, simply leave off the front bedroom, the breezeway, and garage. When and if you decide to make additions there will be no structural changes required.

This house was planned to give lots of space and convenience for a moderate cost. The living-dining area and breezeway are arranged so that each will serve its special purpose and yet can be used as one area for large groups. The breezeway is an ideal place to visit, sew, or prepare food on hot afternoons and evenings. It also makes a good play pen for babies while mother is preparing meals. If you put windows in the breezeway it will be a delightful spot both summer and winter.

The kitchen will provide comfortable eating space for six or eight people without the table being in the way of the work area.

The workroom, convenient to the kitchen has space for laundry and food storage and also has a lavatory where field hands can wash up. The large close, adjoining the fireplace is sufficient for most hot air heating plants. It is centrally located to keep duct work to a minimum. An extra stack in the fireplace chimney will serve for a vent from the heater, regardless of type. If you do not need it for a heater it would be an ideal spot for a shower or half-bath.

The bathroom, workroom, and kitchen can be served with a small amount of plumbing, yet they offer the facilities found in much more expensive homes. The front entrance is offset to protect it from the weather. The entrance hall with clothes closets will give plenty of privacy in the living area.

You can obtain blueprints for this Haskell Free Press-Farm & Ranch House Plan No. 5136 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, Farm & Ranch-Southern Agriculturist, Dept. L-98, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number—Plan No. 5136. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

Service Pipe Line Names Topeka Man New Manager of Oklahoma Division

TULSA, Okla., May 29—O. O. McKenzie, Topeka, Service Pipe Line Co.'s Nebraska division manager, will be transferred to Shawnee as Oklahoma division manager. C. M. Scott, general manager announced.

J. E. Polston, Oklahoma division manager for many years, died April 3.

Harry C. Jones, a resident of Shawnee since 1930, acting Oklahoma division manager during Polston's illness and since his death, will be transferred to Topeka and promoted to Nebraska division manager. Both changes are effective June 1.

A native of LaPlata, Mo., McKenzie joined Service Pipe Line in 1926. He worked in Oklahoma, Nebraska, and Illinois before being named Nebraska division manager in 1950, and advanced from an operator gauger at LaPlata his first job with the company, to chief station engineer to district superintendent.

Jones, who joined Service Pipe Line in 1916 and is one of the company's oldest employees in point of service, was assistant division manager in charge of the southern Oklahoma districts. He is a native of Bluff City, Kans., starting with the company as a timekeeper, later advancing to gauger, chief engineer and district superintendent. Most of his service has been in northern Oklahoma.

Gus L. Maciula, a senior engineer, will be transferred to Shawnee and promoted to assistant division manager in charge of southern Oklahoma districts. He is being replaced in Tulsa by H. T. Chilton, Jr., Lubbock, Texas, an area engineer for the company's West Texas division.

Since joining the company in 1946, Maciula had been in charge of the engineering department's mechanical section in Tulsa, and later area engineer for the West Texas division with headquarters at Lubbock.

Chilton, West Texas division area engineer since 1950, had been assigned to various engineering duties in West Texas and the company's general office in Tulsa since joining the company in 1947.

Every week must be safety week on the farm if accidents are to be prevented. Carelessness and short cuts are usually contributing causes to most farm accidents. Be careful, warns the State Farm and Ranch Safety Committee, for it's a pretty tough job to operate a farm from a hospital bed or a wheel chair.

Results of the 4,746 range demonstrations conducted last year by Texas ranch operators show the importance of balancing range forage production and livestock numbers. County agents supervised the demonstrations.

Fresh Strawberries Now on Market

Strawberry short cake and a strawberry ice cream topping is a year round delicacy for families who freeze berries in season. When carefully selected and properly frozen strawberries retain their natural flavor and color.

Frances Reasonover, food and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, recommends red ripe berries for freezing. These will hold their color better than those that are almost ripe. Use either dry sugar or a sugar syrup otherwise an off-flavor and off-color develops very quickly after the berries thaw. To prepare strawberries for freezing wash, drain and cap. Leave them whole for serving with cream and cut in half for toppings.

If the dry sugar method is used, weigh the berries and allow one part of sugar to three or four parts of berries. Mix the berries until each is well coated with sugar. Let the berries stand until all the sugar is dissolved. Then pack in containers.

When sugar syrup is used, dissolve three cups of sugar in four cups of water. Fill the containers with berries and cover with cold syrup. Crushed berries may be frozen for use in ice cream, filling for short cake and toppings.
