Windstorm Damages East Side Church Building; Clean Up Slated Saturday

The new building under construction for the East Side Baptist Church was damaged to the extent of approximately $2,000 during last Friday's severe wind storm. The upper section of the front brick wall of the building was blown in, and the falling wall practically ruined the roof trusses which had just been completed and placed inside the building. Work of raising the trusses was to have started the next day, Rev. Alfred Altum, pastor of the church said. Work on completing the building will be resumed immediately, Rev. Altum said, and Saturday, Feb. 27 has been set as Clean Up Day to clear up the wreckage caused by the storm.

All members of the congregation, are urged to turn out, Rev. Altum said, and help of the public and friends of the church will be welcomed, he added. Work will start at 8 a. m. and continue throughout the day. Everyone who will help is asked to bring tools to work with, including wheelbarrows, shovels, etc. Also a sack lunch or basket dinner to be spread at the noon hour. The new building was started two years ago, but work has been delayed several times due to lack of finances. Arrangements have now been made to finance completion of the building, and no further delay is anticipated, Rev. Altum said.

The East Side Baptist has a membership of approximately 300, with a current enrollment of 166 in Sunday School, the pastor said.

Dedication Services Held Sunday In New Sanctuary of First Baptist

Joined by hundreds of visitors from neighboring towns, including many former members, who had moved away, the congregation of the First Baptist Church held dedication services last Sunday in an all-day program commemorating the completion of their new sanctuary.

The beautiful structure erected at a cost of approximately $142,000 adjoins the Sunday School annex and the original church building erected in 1916-17. Construction of the new edifice was started in June, 1952, and the building was completed for occupancy this month.

Paying tribute to the pioneer founders of the church here in 1888, and the consecrated members and loyal workers who labored through the years in furnishing the church, Dr. A. Hope Owen, president of Wayland College, delivered the dedication sermon Sunday afternoon.

Speaker at the morning service was Dr. R. A. Springer of Dallas, who brought the sermon to an audience of 700 or 800 persons.

Following the morning service and sermon by Dr. Springer, members and friends gathered for the dedication joined in a period of visitation. Highlight of the noon hour was a basket dinner when the throngs present spread lunch for families and friends and an hour of fellowship.

During the afternoon service, recognition was given former ministers of the church. John A. Couch gave a tribute to the late Rev. I. N. Alvis; Mrs. B. M. Whiteker paid tribute to her father, the late

Rev. J. T. Nicholson, pioneer West Texas minister; J. T. Arbuckle spoke in recognition of his father the late Rev. J. A. Arbuckle; and Rev. H. H. Sego gave words of tribute to the late Rev. H. R. Whately.

One of the most interesting features in the afternoon program was the Church history related by A. C. Pierson, lifetime member and former Sunday School superintendent. He cited interesting facts and figures gleaned from church records dating from its founding 66 years ago and down to the present time.

A profusion of floral decorations throughout the new sanctuary were from members in memory of loved ones.

Regular worship services Sunday night were conducted by the pastor, Rev. M. D. Rexrode.

Plans have been completed and material issued to volunteer workers in preparation for Haskell County's annual Red Cross Fund and Membership campaign, to be launched simultaneously in all towns and communities in the county Tuesday, March 2.

General chairman of the county-wide fund and membership campaign is the Rev. M. D. Rexrode, pastor of the First Baptist Church. In a series of meetings during the past few days, various community chairmen and special group leaders have organized plans for the drive.

The county's quota for 1954 has been set at $7,350 from 2,600 members, and an intensive campaign has been planned to reach these objectives. Recalling that the Red Cross spent $14,000 in Haskell County last year in helping tornado sufferers and other emergency cases, workers feel that the $7,350 quota is a very reasonable one for the county.

Haskell's quota has been set at $3,425 and approximately 1,200 members. Dr. O. E. McClellan will head the drive in the business section, and Mrs. Audrey Cook is chairman for the residential section.

Co-Op Society No. 1 Pays $12 Per Bale Cash Dividend

A cash dividend of $12 per bale on all cotton ginned for stockholders during the 1953 season was authorized by directors of Farmers Co-Operative Society No. 1, in a meeting here Saturday.

This represents a cash outlay of $53,800 to approximately 100 stockholders who ginned 4,480 bales during the season, according to C. G. Burson, Sr., president of the cooperative gin. The plant processed a total of 4,850 bales during the season, 370 bales being for non-stockholders.

The $12 per bale dividend is the largest ever paid by the gin and directors of the company believe the figure is a record for any cooperative gin in the state. In addition to the $53,800 paid in dividends, the gin retained sufficient reserves for repairs and necessary new machinery that might be needed, directors reported.

Largest dividend check for 1953 ginnings went to V. W. Meadors, Jr., who ginned 360 bales. A number of stockholders ginned 100 or more bales during the season to earn sizeable dividend checks, gin records show.

Leon Burson manager, of the gin, said the season's run of 4,850 bales was the largest since 1949, when the plant processed 8,010 bales. During the 1952 season, when the crop in this section was severely cut by drought, the gin processed 834 bales.

In addition to C. G. Burson, Sr., as president, other officers and directors are W. A. Montgomery, vice president; Allen Strickland, secretary-treasurer; Bob Sego, Roy Wiseman, Gene Overton and E. B. Callaway, directors.

The local Red Cross board has worked out a program where a great reduction will be made in administration and operating expenses, Rev. Rexrode said. This policy will make it possible to greatly increase the service of the local Red Cross chapter's program of work. Some badly needed items of public interest and general training can be added to its program along with a possibility of meeting more local needs, he said.

In urging generous support of the once-a-year campaign, Chapter officials and volunteer workers pointed out that as you help with the Red Cross you stand by to assist in:

1. First Aid Courses.
2. Home Nursing Courses.
3. Blood Program—Study for Polio Vaccine, blood for emergency blood banks.
4. Disaster Relief—Floods, tornadoes, vast explosions, fires, etc.
5. Water Safety Courses—Teach your child to swim to save his or someone else's life.
6. Emergency Funds for Needy.
7. Military—Emergency leaves, extension leaves, birth and death messages, help secure hardship discharges, help procure allotments.
8. National Red Cross—National Red Cross is insurance backing your own county Chapter in case of dire emergency. Last year alone the National Red Cross spent $14,000.00 in Haskell.

A livestock judging team of Haskell High School Future Farmers of America won the Junior judging contest last week at the annual 4-H and FFA Calf Show in Wichita Falls. In winning top place, Haskell's team scored 990 points, on Page Twelve of a possible 750 points. Forty teams were entered from Texas and Oklahoma.

For individual honors David Jones, Haskell Future Farmer, made 223 of a possible 250 points to win second place. The Terral, Okla., judging team won second place with 587 points, only three behind the winning Haskell team, as an indication of the stiff competition in the contests.

J. A. Seofield district agriculture agent of Vernon, supervised the judging contest. He was assisted by a group of vocational agriculture teachers.

The Haskell FFA judging team was composed of David Jones, Archie Miller, Verma Teague, with Boosky Berry and Dan Grindstaff as alternates. They were accompanied to the Wichita Falls show by Haskell Stone, FFA instructor in Haskell High School.

Fire Siren To Be Moved To North Part of Town

A plan which has been under consideration by the Haskell Fire Department for some time relative to providing adequate warning in event of storms or tornadoes, and also to serve as a supplemental fire alarm, was approved by firemen at their regular meeting Monday night.

One of the two fire alarm sirens now located at the city fire station will be installed at one of the city wells in the north or northwest part of town, firemen explained. Equipped with an automatic switch, it will be controlled from the City Hall fire station.

In its new location, the alarm will serve the most densely populated area of town, a section where tests have shown that the siren cannot now be heard, particularly during periods of high winds.

West Texas CC Asks Adjustment of Area's Drouth-Hit Cotton Acreage

ABILENE — The West Texas Chamber of Commerce Thursday called for official recognition of the region's loss of cotton acreage because of the drouth.
 In a letter to the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the regional chamber said that 80 West Texas counties lost 2,016,717 acres in 1953 as compared with 1951 and 1,805,627 acres as compared with 1952.
 Haskell County lost 51,155 acres in 1953 as compared with 1951 and 41,155 acres as compared with 1952.
 "The cotton farmers in these drouth counties certainly have not contributed to the surplus of cotton in 1953, and to fail to recognize drouth-hit acres as 'cotton' would doubly penalize the farmers when allotments are set for 1955," the statement pointed out.
 "The cotton history or record of cotton acres in 1953 in each county must be adjusted upward because it will be used in determining any cotton acreage quotas which may be all owed to these counties in any control program which may be in effect during any of the succeeding five years," R. M. Fielder of Abilene, chairman of the WTCC's Agriculture Committee, commented.
 Representatives of the Chamber conferred last week with officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington and were assured that the adjustments will be made if the State Committee requests that it be done, Fielder explained.
 In announcing the WTCC action, Fielder said that the organization had been preparing data for the request and been conferring with representatives of the cotton industry, the State ASCC, U. S. congressmen, and the Department of Agriculture since August of last year.
 Reliable figures on actual cotton plantings in 1953 were not available until recently. The WTCC letter to Claude McCan, chairman of the State committee, pointed out that the 1,805,627 acres lost in 1953 as compared with 1952 acres "is more land than is planted in cotton in any other state except Arkansas and Mississippi," and that Dawson County alone "showed a reduction of 304,184 acres, which is more land than is planted in cotton in the entire State of New Mexico."
 The trip to Washington last week followed the advice of Representative Clifford Hope of Kansas chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, who told accompanying by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Vahlenkamp and children, left for Seguin Saturday where they will visit with Leslie Knippling who attends Texas Lutheran College there. They also attended a Brotherhood meeting of the Texas District Lutheran Churches at Austin Sunday.

 Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Wendel, accompanied by Alvin Bredthauer and Bill Vahlenkamp, left after services Sunday for Austin to attend the meeting.

Ford presents two new deep-block engines

THE NEW 130-h.p. Y-block V-8

This new Overhead-Valve V-8 has an extra-deep block which resembles a "Y" in cross-section. This new deep-block design means greater rigidity for smoother, quieter performance... longer engine life. Other features which make this engine a long-lived, smooth, savingful performer are: new low-friction (short-stroke) design, Free-Turning Overhead Valves, new 5-bearing crankshaft, and new high-turbulence combustion chambers.

THE NEW 115-h.p. I-block SIX

Like the new Y-block V-8, this engine has Ford's deep-block design for greater rigidity, longer engine life. Also, like the V-8, you get Ford's modern manifold, low-friction design, high-turbulence combustion chambers, and Ford's Automatic Power Pilot. One advantage of both new engines is an amazingly flat "torque curve" which gives you top pick-up power through the whole range of driving speeds.

Architects of Paint Creek School Addition Win Two National Awards

The architects who designed the new addition to the Paint Creek Rural High School won two out of seven "Top Award" prizes in modern school competition at the American Association of School Administrators convention in Atlantic City last week.

Only five out of 114 competing architects from 33 states received this award. A total of 139 school buildings were judged all designed or constructed in 1953. The Bryan firm of Caudill, Rowlett, Scott and Associates were the only Texas architects to receive first place awards.

Two entries were permitted from each architect. The two submitted by Caudill, Rowlett & Scott were the Sam Houston, elementary school in Port Arthur, and the Lamar junior high school in Laredo. Plaques for both schools were presented to senior partner, William W. Caudill by school Executive Magazine, sponsor of the competition.

"Purpose of the competition was to facilitate community education programs through new building design," Caudill explained. "The sponsors feel that by stimulating creative thinking new designs will be developed that better serve education, and at a more economical cost than the old traditional forms."

All members of the firm are former teachers of architecture, or architectural students at Texas A&M College. Specializing in modern school design, in the past five years they have built more than 50 schools in Texas and Oklahoma, valued at more than $10,800,000.

Explaining the difference between the old school and the new design Caudill said: "The new school is planned for the children, not primarily to impress adults. And we have the community pocketbook as well as the pupil's future in mind."

Dwarfism In Cattle

By F. W. Martin, County Agent

The destructive power of beef cattle dwarfism, like that of an iceberg, is mostly hidden. What we can see—a fairly small number of dwarf calves—may not look dangerous. Yet beneath the surface lurks a natural force capable of great damage to this country's beef industry.

Fortunately, we know enough already about dwarfism to limit economic losses from it. And research has made a good start toward better control methods. One result is the profilometer, an instrument for detecting the slight forehead bulge that may mark normal-appearing animals as potential dwarf breeders.

Development of the profilometer followed the basic finding that dwarfism is inherited. It's not a disease, nor due to any fault of environment (such as deficient diet). Dwarf characteristics are transmitted by one or more recessive genes. This means that apparently normal cattle may still carry the gene and pass it on to some of their offspring. Also, animals that look normal are either carriers or dwarf free; there are no semi-carriers or partly dwarf-free animals. And if both parents are carriers, one-fourth of their calves, on the average will be dwarfs.

There is much we don't know about dwarfism. How many dwarf calves are produced each year? How many of our beef cattle are carriers? We still have no exact answers. Yet ranchers, stockmen, researchers, and others concerned do agree that dwarfs in both registered and commercial beef herds have been increasing. This can only mean a growing number of apparently normal animals that carry the dwarf gene, and may breed dwarfs. No major beef cattle breed or line of breeding is known to be dwarf free.

Surprisingly, there's evidence of a strong, inadvertent tendency toward selection of carrier animals for breeding purposes. It may be due to their slightly earlier maturity or possibly to a subtle influence of the dwarf gene on conformation.

Ranchers fear dwarfism simply because it costs them money. A dwarf calf is practically worthless as a beef producer. It represents a loss of both the normal calf it might have been and the season's investment that was made in its mother.

What can a rancher do? His first step is to limit or stop, if possible, matings between carrier animals. So far, the surest way to find carriers is by slow and expensive breeding tests. If a dwarf is born, you can be certain both its parents are carriers. But it takes many matings to obtain satisfactory evidence that an animal is not a carrier.

For a breeder to be sure 49 times out of 50 that an unproved bull is dwarf free, the bull must produce normal calves with no dwarfs when bred to 14 proved carrier cows or to 30 cows sired by a known carrier bull (half of which, theoretically, would be carriers).

A reliable shortcut to finding dwarf-free bulls is obviously needed. But its accuracy must still be checked by breeding tests. That's why cows that have borne dwarf (proved carriers) are valuable. They should not be slaughtered but saved for use as test animals.

The profilometer is the only means now in sight that can help us to distinguish with reasonable accuracy and without extensive breeding tests, between carrier and dwarf-free cattle. The instrument was conceived by P. W. Gregory of the California Agricultural Experiment Station, U. S. D. A. and State workers and livestock-industry representatives are cooperating in trial use and further research on the profilometer.

This device is used to draw a profile outlining the shape of a bull's head on a line extending from between the ears to the nose. The profile is then analyzed to determine whether the bull carries the dwarf gene.

Abnormalities of dwarf calves—a broad face, bulging forehead, pot belly, stunted growth—indicate that dwarfism involves a deficiency of the pituitary and thyroid. These glands exert a profound influence on head shape. A carrier animal, though showing no other definite sign of recessive dwarfism, may still have a slight but measurable forehead bulge. This is the theory behind the profilometer's development.

Profilometer diagnosis of matured horned Hereford bulls, in herds where dwarfism was known to occur, have identified the carrier bulls with few exceptions. Profiles are not yet reliable, however, for determining carriers among mature bulls of other breeds, or among younger bulls and cows. This does not mean that the profilometer is unsatisfactory. It does indicate the need for further study to determine the extent of usefulness of profiles.

This immediate research goal is not to make the profilometer 100 per cent accurate, but to establish for it a reliable degree of accuracy—similar to that of breeding tests—that will make it practical for wider use. By keeping proved carrier cows, and by profiling and then carefully breeding their young bulls cattle breeders can greatly aid researchers in bringing dwarfism under control.

Prices On Fed Cattle Steady To Strong On Ft. Worth Market Monday

By TED GOULDY

At Fort Worth Monday fed cattle were fully steady to strong, except some half-fat yearlings and heifers that were draggy and weak. Some club yearlings topped at $25 and the better grades of commercially fattened heaves sold from $17 to $22.50.

Fat cows drew $10 to $12.50 and canners and cutters $7 to $10.50. Bulls sold from $10 to $14, a few higher. Fat calves drew $15 to $20, lower grades $10 to $15.

The Teague Chronicle reported recently that some losses are occurring in cattle on lush early grass along the Brazos bottomlands. The trouble has been diagnosed as "grass tetany" and seems similar to what is called "wheat field poisoning" in the wheat country. Springer heifers and cows with young calves seem to be the principal sufferers.

If your cattle show nervousness, weakness, violent temperature, staggering gait, etc., call a veterinary at once. It may prevent losses if you act quickly.

Hogs were 25c higher Monday at Fort Worth. Top was $26.50 to $28.75. Sows $21 to $24. The boys from Burnet County furnished the highlight of the Monday sheep trade at Fort Worth. They had shorn fat old crop lambs that brought the day's high of $19. Most other clipped lambs sold from $16 to $18.50, with lower grades $12 to $16. Feeder shorn lambs drew $18.50 down, and some light weight woolled feeders drew $19.

The year's best price was equalled on new crop milk fat lambs with the toppy kinds sold from $23.25 to $23.75. Old ewes drew $7 to $9, some stocker ewes to $10 to $12. Old bucks $4 to $5. Aged wethers $9 to $12. Yearlings and 2-year-olds $12 to $16.

Commercial feeding projects continue to become more and more popular with the 4-H and FFA youths. This is a type of program we have advocated for a long time and which we believe has much to recommend it.

It is noteworthy that of the numerous groups of such youths who have marketed their stock at Fort Worth many of the boys have ten to twenty animals. Many report a fair profit, which is better than lots of the older folks have been doing.

Threat of VE Cancels Hog Shows; Fort Worth Livestock Markets Show Strength

By TED GOULDY

FORT WORTH—At a meeting last week of the Texas Swine Breeders Association officers and directors, the matter of swine shows was discussed. A number of the breeders expressed the view that because of the cancellation of major hog shows there has been some undesired criticism of the shows and the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission.

It was brought out at this meeting that perhaps some explaining of the reasons hog shows had been cancelled would clear up some misunderstandings.

The major shows cancelled their swine departments last year because of VE (vesicular Exanthema). They did this because the symptoms of VE are identical with those of foot and mouth disease.

This requires that tests in some cases 21 days, and in some made at a show if a case of VE broke out this would tie up all cattle, sheep goats and hogs for ten days to three weeks, since they would all be in quarantine and could not be moved from the show grounds until the disease was identified.

Fine breeding swine would have to be slaughtered, and often VE hogs just sell for their tankage value.

A threat of having their stock put in quarantine would keep all other exhibitors away from a major show, especially out-of-the-state entries.

It was brought out at the meeting here that strict federal regulations, as well as State rules are invoked when VE breaks out. It could lead to endless complications if VE broke out at a livestock show. The regular classes will be catalogued in 1955 for all swine, breeding classes and barrows. In the event the VE situation makes it inadvisable to hold the hog classes in conjunction with other livestock again, the show will stage a barrow show immediately after the other show stock has cleared the premises.

The Fort Worth show officials assured the swine breeders that there was not, and never had been any desire to permanently separate the swine show from other stock. Show officials offered full co-operation to breeders and even offered to hold a spring show this year in Fort Worth but after study the breeders found that too few fat barrows would be available to make up a representative show and it was agreed to make next year's show the biggest and best yet.

The assurance that a show will be held will enable 4-H and FFA members to proceed with their fat barrow projects for 1955 with the assurance that a show will be held for them in Fort Worth late in January or early in February.

Stocker cattle and calves were stronger at Fort Worth Monday. A load of 872 pound stocker cows drew $15. Some 750 pound feeder yearlings drew $20. Fed cattle were numerous and slow and weaker. Cows were barely held steady. Slaughter calves drew firm rates.

In the sheep barn prices were steady to 25c higher on fat lambs, and fully steady on other sheep and lambs. Fat woolled lambs cashed at $20 to $21, and shorn fat lambs drew $17.50 to $19. Shearling type feeders were quotable at $20 down. Yearling muttons drew $12 to $15, and aged wethers $12 down. Old ewes $7 to $9, with stocker ewes $10 to $12. Old bucks $4 to $5.

Hog prices were steady to 25c lower on butcher hogs with top kinds at $26.25 to $26.75. Sows were $1 higher at $21 to $24.

Incidentally the corn-hog ratio for the week ended Feb. 6 was 16.6, meaning that 100 lbs. of pork would buy 16.6 bushels of corn. This ratio is highly favorable to hog production.

A year ago the corn-hog ratio was 12.0 on the same date.

A group of 4-H and FFA boys visited the Fort Worth stockyard Monday and marketed some fat lambs. The top lambs in their shipment brought $21.50. The day's extreme top.

County Agent J. Bryan, of Kinney County was in charge of the group and adults along with him included Joe Butler, Paul Jetton, L. D. Welch and Chalmers Harbert. Boys included Robert Beck, Kenneth Trainhan, Clarence Decker, Roy Day, Millard Lain, Benny Coulston, Bobbie Trainhan, D. A. Blair, Jr. Byron Gass, Noble Flenniken, Jim Frank Coulston, Harold Alubus, Jimmy Joe Jetton, Carroll Duane Chowning and Lloyd Don Welch.

Dr. T. W. Williams Is Guest Speaker At Meeting of Progressive Study Club

Health is everybody's business and should be everybody's concern. To help its members more fully appreciate the present scientific knowledge, which can substantially reduce the serious toll taken by disease, the Progressive Study Club program of Thursday evening, Feb. 18, was devoted to a study of Gerontology, Heart Disease, and Cancer.

Under the direction of Mrs. William J. Kemp, the program began with this quotation, "The best thing to save for old age is yourself."

Dr. Temple W. Williams was introduced as the guest speaker. His very interesting talk was an outline of practical steps to take in the prevention of cancer. Dr. Williams concluded the outline by saying, "While the general practitioner's office should be your first line of defense, it is not the 'court of last appeal,'" and he mentioned the cancer specialists who are concentrating on the prevention, cure and control of the dread disease. Club members felt honored to have Dr. Williams as their speaker.

Farmers Can Take Tax Write-Off on Storage Facility

Taxpayers may choose to "write-off" over a 60-month period the cost of building or reconstructing a grain storage facility. This ruling, says F. W. Martin, county agent, was provided by recent tax law changes and may be used instead of the regular depreciation rate based on the useful life of a building.

Martin gives this example to further clarify the new ruling. Instead of depreciating a $3,000 building at $100 per year for 30 years, he says a new storage building may be "written-off," or depreciated out, in 60 months, five years. Figuring it this way that's $600 per year for five years. At the end of this time the building value is fully depreciated and may not be reported thereafter.

Under the new law, a grain storage facility includes any corn crib, grain bin or similar structure suitable for the storage of grain crops. Adapting another structure for grain storage or enlarging an existing building is also considered construction. The ruling is effective if the building is erected within the calendar years 1953-1956, inclusive.

If a taxpayer decides to "write-off" the cost he must include in his income tax returns a statement of his actions. Likewise he may discontinue the rapid write-off rate at the beginning of any month specified in a notice filed with the secretary or treasury. The farmer will thereafter be entitled to use the normal ratio of depreciation on the remaining building cost.

Competent accountants and representatives of the Internal Revenue Service have additional information on grain storage "write-offs" and he advises interested farmers to make further investigations into this new law.

Dr. Robinson Is Named on 'Posture Week' Committee

Dr. Gertrude Robinson has been appointed city chairman of the Correct Posture Week committee for Haskell.

The week will be observed May 1-7. During this period chiropractors in Texas will stress the importance of good posture and its relationship to good health in the hopes of correcting postural faults. This year marks the 4th straight year it has been observed in Texas.

TEACHER OF THE WEEK

Mrs. Thornton began her teaching career in the Haskell Schools before her marriage. First assignment was public school music in the sixth and seventh grades. The succeeding years brought forth varied assignments from the fourth grade through the eighth. Most often her subjects have been reading and spelling. The past five years she has served as librarian for the seventh and eighth grade sections of Junior High.

MRS. AURA LEE THORNTON

Mrs. Thornton is a member of the First Methodist Church and the Menefee Bible Class of that church. She is a life member of the Magazine Club and a member of the Haskell Chapter Order of the Eastern Star. She also holds membership in the Parent-Teacher Association, having served as its president and vice president. She holds membership in the Texas State Teachers Association and the local County Teachers Unit.

She is the wife of Kenneth H. Thornton, son of Haskell County pioneers. They have one son, Jack, who is serving with the U. S. Army in Korea.

Mrs. Thornton's college work has been with TWC at Fort Worth and Texas University. She holds a B. S. degree from Hardin-Simmons University. To be a reading teacher presents a definite challenge. Mrs. Thornton earnestly endeavors to meet that challenge in her upper grade program. Some years ago teachers and parents assumed that reading was something learned the first six grades of elementary school and grades past that were only concerned with literature. It is true, according to Mrs. Thornton, that literature is still important, but it is only one of the types of reading which twelve or fourteen-year-olds do in a world of magazines, newspapers, commercial signs, safety notices and many other verbal symbols. The "upper grade program" is based on the philosophy that readiness for reading is as important at the upper-grade level as it is at the first grade level. Because children and youth differ even more widely as they mature and because the reading task becomes increasingly complex in the upper grades, readiness work is even more essential at this time. The pupil at this age and grade level arrives equipped with a certain vocabulary. This must be expanded at the upper-grade level to take care of the increasingly unfamiliar and abstract works needed at this time and in the near future. The means of developing this vocabulary are more varied at this level than could be earlier reading periods because the student has a greater maturity of experience and is capable of more concentrated effort.

Mrs. Thornton states that the reading program for the upper grades covers so much territory it is really difficult to say which phase she stresses most. She tries to always keep in mind the following purposes: to help boys and girls in the seventh and eighth grades to find full enjoyment in reading and to help them become better readers.

Mrs. Thornton feels that a write-up on the reading program would not be complete without some mention of the library. It is her firm belief that children can be inspired to read more and more, and to find enjoyment in grade books. She feels that by informal conversation and discussions of books, movies, radio plays, chapters from good books, the enjoyment of good books can take on new life. "We are not trying to train our boys and girls to be literary critics," she says, "but we do want them to become enthusiastic reading adults."

Mrs. Thornton feels that Junior High can rightfully be proud of its library. All books have been carefully selected from approved reading lists so that no one could find fault with them. The books have been selected according to children's interest as well as academic value.

Mrs. Thornton displays colorful book jackets around the room and uses lively and informative bulletin boards as a device to attract attention and create reading interest.

3rd Div., Korea—Army Pvt. Roland C. Baker, whose wife, Bobbie Ruth, lives on Route 2, Stamford, is now serving with the 3rd Infantry Division in Korea.

The "Rock of the Marne" division which saw bitter fighting in the Iron Triangle and at Outpost Harry, is now training as part of the U. S. Security force on the peninsula.

A tanker with the division, Private Baker entered the Army last March and completed basic training at Fort Hood, Texas.

Pvt. James Lee Andress and Pvt. Mavis L. Alexander Taking Basic at Fort Bliss

Two soldiers from Haskell County, Pvt. James Lee Andress, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Andress of Haskell, and Pvt. Mavis L. Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Alexander of Weineert, are now taking eight weeks of basic training in the Antiaircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center, at Fort Bliss, Texas.

The first eight weeks of basic training are spent on fundamental Infantry subjects like army drill, rifle machine gun, and bazooka marksmanship, and familiarization with army technical subjects. This first phase of training is climaxed with a one-week maneuver in the field.

Upon completion of the first eight week cycle, Pvt. Andress and Pvt. Alexander will either be assigned for further training at Fort Bliss in techniques of antiaircraft or will be transferred to another Training Center for schooling in some other army skill. Should they remain at Fort Bliss, the second eight weeks will see them learn the uses of various electronic equipment employed by AAA-RTC. They will also be expertly trained in the firing of light and medium antiaircraft artillery at low-flying and high altitude aerial targets on the one-and-one-half million acre Fort Bliss ranges.

Roast Back Yard Garden Profits

It isn't necessary to plan your spring garden on paper, but a little advanced thought will be helpful in paving the way toward increased back yard vegetable production this spring.

More than a half million Texans planted gardens last year and indications point to more in '34, says Blueford G. Hancock, extension horticulturalist.

The garden fever oftentimes persuades people to plant larger gardens than they can properly take care of, so keep your garden small, he advises.

Make a series of plantings so your harvest will spread out over a longer period. A garden planted at one time causes over-production for a short period and then supplies are gone.

The horticulturalist suggests that gardeners plant a variety of vegetables. There are about 32 garden crops commonly grown in Texas so why not plant at least one new vegetable a season says Hancock.

Have supplies of commercial fertilizers, insecticides, seed treating chemicals and other gardening materials on hand for ready use.

English peas, turnips, cabbage plants, onions, head lettuce and white potatoes withstand considerable cold weather and may be planted four to five weeks prior to the last average killing frost, Hancock says.

Other vegetables adapted to planting two to three weeks before the last frost are radishes, mustard, beets, carrots and leaf lettuce.
