Elementary P-TA Group Hears Talk By Judge Chapman

The teachers and parents were told "Let's get acquainted" by District Judge B. C. Chapman in the first meeting of the new year of the Elementary Parent- Teach-er Association Wednesday after-noon, Sept. 8.

Judge Chapman, continuing, said, "The Parent-Teacher Association is an organization for parents and teachers to get acquainted and to work out different problems facing the schools of today. The purpose of the P-TA is a media to iron out the difficulties between the child and school. A parent can learn by attending the meetings. Our schools are an educational plant in which our boys and girls can receive the very best in education."

In concluding his talk Judge Chapman sail "he hoped the conferences between the teachers conferences between the teachers and parents would continue." Judge Chapman was introduc-ed by the capable district attor-ney, Royce Adkins in which he stated we should be very proud of our judge by the decisions he so efficiently rendered in the different courts where he has presided presided In a short ousiness meeting the association voted to accept the recommendations of the executive committee in giving $5.00 to the room having the highest per cent in membership and $5.00 per cent in memoership and $5.00 to the room having the highest per cent in subscriptions to both magazines; also to give $2.50 to the room having the most pa-rents attending the P-TA meet-

Mrs. W. R. Holter, membership chairman, and Mrs. W. O. Holden, publication chairman, urged each person interested in good schools for Haskell to become a P-TA member and to subscribe either the Texas or National Maggazines for the year, while the National has the study course and teenage articles. The principal, Mr. Snow, in-troduced all the Elementary fac-ulty and complemented them on ulty and complimented them on their work. Mrs. Fitzgerald's room won the $2.50 by having 14 parents pres-

USDA Official Urges School Ahead of Jobs

DALLAS, Aug. 23. - With school bells nearly ready to sound the fall opening of the nation's public schools, education-minded officials of the U.S. Department of Labor here are concentrating on keeping employment from hampering youthful education.

It is best, they say, for every youngster to finish his schooling before venturing into the working world on a permanent basis. Child-labor provisions in the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act generally prohibit the em-ployment of children under 16 years of age in agriculture or in any other occupation covered by the law during hours when school is in session.

Regional Director William J. Rogers of the U. S. Labor De-partment's Wage-Hour Division here said such unlawful employment should not cheat youngsters of an education.

"The economic well-being of individuals and communities is directly related to their levels of education," he said. "It is to the material interests of both to aid educational upgrading."

Since Congress enacted the law in 1938, he said he hoped it was generally understood to apply to local resident children and to migratory children.

It does exempt a farmer's own children working on the parent's farm. But farmers are responsible under the law, the same as other employers, if they employ under-age children during school hours.

Iron Lungs Have Saved 1,000 Polio Patients This Year

Iron lungs and other respira-tory equipment have meant the difference between life and death for 1,000 patients so far this year and thousands more will need these breathing machines to keep them alive before the end of the year

This was disclosed by Dr. Kenneth S. Landauer, assistant medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, in explaining "one of the underlying reasons" behind the current Emergency March of Dimes campaign which will run until Aug.

Dr. Landauer, revealing that the percentage of severely paralyzed patients had been increasing during the past few years. gave these two reasons for the rise:

1. Many critically paralyzed patients, who in former years would have died, now survive because of improved care and treatment. olio is attacking more adults and a higher percentage of these patients suffer severe paralysis. While many of / the new polio patients requiring iron lungs and other breathing aids this year will need them only for a few days or weeks, many will become long-term prisoners of their iron lungs. They will join the almost 2,000 respirator patinets from previous years whose horizons are still limited to their six-by-three machines. These polio prisoners must not waste away their lives dependent on mechanical breathing to keep them alive. "Fortunately, improved techni-ques of treatment and rehabilita-tion have been developed—large-ly through March of Dimes grants -that now offer rea hope of freeing the majority of such respirator patients. But it is an expensive process and more funds are urgently needed to do the job." Dr. Landauer emphasized.

Soil Test Valuable Aid to Production County Agent Says

Getting the most production from every acre on the farm is just good business.

To do this, F. W. Martin, county agent says more information is needed than can be gleaned from actually working the soil and watching crops grow on it. The chemical laboratory with its test tubes and machines and expert technicians is needed to get information which can be used by the farmers to increase yields and the returns from farming.

The basis for soil building should be a soil testing program. Fields on which winter pastures and legumes will soon be planted should be tested now. Martin points out that several days are required to compltte the laboratory work on the soil samples to analyze the results and write up the recommended practices and get them back to the farmer for his use. For the soil testing dollar,

Tower of time cards shows jobs created by new G-E products. In a single pile, they'd reach 5 stories high.

One out of every five people working at General Electric owes his job to products G. E. didn't make before 1945.

Will coming years bring as much progress?

Actually, we believe there will be more. Many exciting possibilities are predictable as we learn how to make full use of atomic energy. Another important new development will be electronic machinery which will make work easier, production swifter-and create more jobs. New uses for gas turbines promise improved air, rail and ship transportation, and better power plants for industry. Research will make home appliances even more helpful.

All these fields-and many othersare so promising that we expect to produce more in the next ten years than in all the previous 75 years of our existence. As we see it, in a free economy, America's industrial progress is not only continuing, it's rapidly accelerating.

They jeb maker. The G-E transistor, not much bigger than a pencil craser, does the work of a full-sized vacuum tube. It makes possible a wide variety of new electronic devices which will make your life more pleasant in the future and give employ to thousands of people.
