Roy Harris, 24, employee of the Highway Department maintenance division here, came near being fatally injured Saturday afternoon while operating a tractor on the farm of his father, Bud Harris, about six miles northwest of Haskell.

Harris, who works a five-day week on his highway department job, was devoting Saturday to helping his father with his farm work, and was plowing with the tractor when he fainted and fell from the tractor passed over his body, and as the machine continued one of the plows caught Harris' clothing and he was dragged a short distance. The accident happened as the tractor plow was being turned at the end of the field, in sandy soil. His father, about 100 yards away, saw the mishap and ran to aid his son. Also, a Mexican who works for Bill Lees, a neighboring farmer and who happened to be passing at the time, witnessed the accident and ran to the tractor and stopped the machine.

Harris was brought to the Haskell Hospital, where examination revealed he had received several fractured ribs, severe bruises over his body, and possible lateral injuries. None of the injuries were termed critical.

Dr. Gaines Post Speaker At Lions Meeting Tuesday

The ideal of liberty and justice is far broader than the laws of any nation, it is a part of the human development, declared Dr. Gaines Post, professor of medieval history in the University of Wisconsin, in an impromptu talk to members of the Lions Club Tuesday, where he was an honor guest.

Also a guest at the club meeting was Gary Ivy, '55 graduate of Haskell High School and outstanding member of the high school band. He was presented the Arion Foundation Award, sponsored annually by the Lions Club. In making the presentation, School Supt. C. D. Allen praised the young bandsman for his accomplishment as a member of the high school organization. Young Ivy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ivy of this city.

Dr. Post, a native of Haskell, was introduced by Theron Cahill, insurance broker and lifetime acquaintance of the educator.

"The principles of liberty and justice go far back, beyond England or the United States," Dr. Post declared. "The ideal goes back to the Bible." There is a universal law of reason that it is God's law, and through that law all men are free and equal, he pointed out. He stressed that democracy cannot exist without justice, and that a fair trial is fundamental to democracy.

In closing, he said that all churches and organizations should stand for the fundamentals of democracy; and that it was important to emphasize the study of the Bible and of past history and fairness. "If not, we would soon forget that this country is based on the ideals of liberty and justice for all," he said.

2-Year-Old Tot's Ride on Tractor Ends When Vehicle Plunges Into 15-Ft. Tank

Two-year-old Eddie Stewart's ambition to drive his daddy's farm tractor came near ending in tragedy for the little fellow recently. The lad climbed on the machine, which had been left in the yard, and pressed the starter button. The motor started and the tractor crashed through a four-strand barbed wire fence, then a short distance away, with the tot still aboard, plunged down the most vertical eight-foot bank of a farm tank into 15 feet of water.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Stewart, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Viney of Haskell and Mrs. Dale Phelps of Snyder, who were visiting the Stewart's, all were in the house at the time.

Hearing the tractor start, Stewart ran outside in time to see the machine crash through the fence, headed for the tank. Racing after the runaway tractor he reached the steep bank of the reservoir in time to see his son thrown clear as the machine plunged into the water.

Diving in fully clothed toward the spot where the boy went down, he grabbed his son when the little fellow bobbed to the top. Unable to climb out on the steep bank, he held the boy and managed to stay afloat until Mrs. Stewart and the others brought a rope and completed the rescue.

Eddie, who was two years old last April 2, suffered no ill effects from his experience, neither did his parents or their visitors other than fright over the lad's narrow escape from injury and possible drowning.

The submerged tractor was extricated by Frank Reynolds of Haskell with his winch truck.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart live on the Otis Matthews farm 11 miles northwest of Haskell, in the Mattson community.

Harvesting is well along on the county's wheat crop and it is reported one of the best in years. The yield is reported ranging from 12 to 20 bushels. No accurate estimate of the total acreage in the county is available, but most farmers place the figure at around 10,000 acres.

Henry Stanton, member of Haskell Boy Scout troop 31, has been selected as a "representative Scout" by the local committee of adult Scouters. Henry will be awarded a trip with expenses paid, to the National Scout Jamboree at Washington, which will be held Aug 21 to 30.

Miss Sue Couch is spending the week with friends in Dallas.

Three Jones County farmers were arrested last week by U. S. Secret Service men and placed in the Taylor County jail at Abilene. The men are alleged to have made false applications for Federal Feed loans through the emergency crop and feed loan office at Dallas. It is understood that investigations concerning similar frauds are being made in a number of West Texas counties.

Mrs. S. A. Norris and daughter, Geraldine, are spending a vacation in Mineral Wells.

30 Years Ago—June 26, 1925

W. E. Bland, who has 60 acres of the earliest cotton in the county, reports cotton blooms plentiful in his field this week. A. M. Williamson and G. D. Payne of Sayles report their cotton filled with forms. At the present, prospects are good for a bumper cotton crop.

During the rainstorm Saturday afternoon a bolt of lightning struck the home of Joe Y. Dooleen, four miles south of Haskell on the Stamford road. The roof was badly damaged, a flue wrecked, and windows broken. Fortunately the hard rain prevented the house catching fire. Members of the family were in the storm cellar, and no one was injured.

John Rike of the Farmers State Bank, accompanied by his grandfather, Watt Fitzgerald, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ellis at Fort Stockton.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Ballard and family have moved from their ranch in Stonewall County to the Ballard Ranch east of town.

Dr. D. L. Cummins is spending a vacation in Tennessee and other states back east visiting relatives and friends.

While playing one day this week, Marshall Pierson, Jr., fell and fractured his arm. Mrs. Pierson and her son were planning to leave the next day on a visit to her mother in Georgia, but will postpone the trip until the little fellow's arm mends.

Miss LaVerne Cummins, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Cummins, left last Saturday for Europe, Egypt, and the Holy Land with the Dr. Dunning party. On his return in September to the States she will take up her year's work as English teacher in Fort Worth high school.

The following young people enjoyed a picnic in Anderson's Pasture Sunday evening: Misses Helen Harbison, Nettie McCollum, Lucile Taylor, Alberta Smith, Ermine Daugherty, and Messrs. Demmitt Hughes, Richard Sherrill, Vernay Anderson, and Messrs. and Mesdames Clyde Grissom, Hill Oates and J. P. Payne.

50 Years Ago—June 24, 1905

Mrs. Watt Fitzgerald and children and Messrs. S. R. Rike and Ed Ellis and their wives and Miss Mamie Kelly left yesterday on a fishing trip.

S. S. Cummings is off on a trip to Fort Worth.

Haskell merchants paid as high as 9 1-2 cents a pound for cotton this week. The fact is they always pay the highest point the market will justify. They paid out for cotton one morning this week the sum of $2,500, we were told.

Whit Williams, who lives a few miles south of Haskell, was in town Thursday and told a reporter he had the best crop prospects now that he had ever seen.

Misses Geneva and Vivian McWhirter arrived home yesterday from a visit in Galveston.

G. C. Nance took in the big picnic at Sylvester this week. He owns some lands near there on which there are valuable gypsum deposits. Northern parties have bought up the adjoining deposit and are preparing to develop the property, Mr. Nance learned.

Eigbert, little three-year-old son of M. W. Chapman of Marcy, was seriously burned when a pot of boiling water overturned from a stove. His right arm and leg were badly scalded. The little fellow is reported doing as well as could be expected.

JoAnn is to be crowned Queen, which is a step in G. A.'s and we learned from Mrs. Morris Haynes, who is the G. A. leader in the Paint Creek church, how much JoAnn had completed to become Queen. She had to memorize several chapters of scripture, outline the events in the life of Christ and Paul, train another girl to become a Maiden, complete two mission study classes and read two missionary books, and be familiar with the state and foreign mission work of her denomination. It is quite an achievement to become Queen in G. A.'s and we extend congratulations to this young lady. She is the daughter of the Sammie Griffith's.

Food for Korea Drive Successful

Korean 4-H club members have already voiced their thankfulness for the assistance they soon will receive from fellow members in Texas. Latest word from the Texas Friendship for Korea drive indicates that materials, equipment, seeds and livestock in sufficient quantities to load the ship are in sight.

"The response has been overwhelming. Each day the list gets larger," reports the Texas Christian Rural Overseas Program Committee. Col. C. A. Anderson, who spent some 10 weeks in Texas this spring felling 4-H members, their leaders, supervisors and others what was needed in Korea, writes from that country that all newspapers, both English and Korean, have carried stories about what was happening in Texas. "This program," he said, "is not only aiding Korea economically and educationally, but is also a great morale builder."

Plans are going forward for the loading ceremonies scheduled for June 20 at the Port of Houston. Texas 4-H members along with farmers, ranchmen, organized labor groups, church leaders and churches and many individuals have had a part in loading the Texas Friendship for Korea.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Texas—A luncheon that didn't happen in the Governor's Mansion on Monday had statewide repercussions. It could affect the fate of Texas' Democratic delegates at the presidential convention next summer.

Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler completed a six-day speaking tour of Texas at Houston. It was billed as an effort to restore harmony between the liberal and conservative Texas Democrats.

Mrs. Hilda Weiner of Seguin, loyalist national committeewoman, joined in inviting Butler to Texas. But she boycotted his numerous banquet meetings because, she said, the loyalist Democratic Advisory Council's chairman, Judge Jim Sewell of Corsicana, took over, and froze out contact with the conservatives.

Gov. Allan Shivers invited Chairman Butler to a luncheon with state officials at the Mansion, to be held June 20. Butler replied that his schedule was "too tight" but he'd be glad to see Gov. Shivers in any city where he was billed to appear.

That angered liberalist John McKelvey of Electra, who had arranged the reconciliation conference of Shivers and Butler in Washington in May. He resigned from the Democratic Advisory Council.

Austin politicians were studying the effect of Butler's speaking tour. Some of them thought there had been considerable "double talk," as Butler's statements could be interpreted to suit any view.

A significant feature of Butler's tour was that four prospective candidates for governor on the liberal ticket basked in the photographer's flash-bulb limelight.

At Dallas, Supreme Court Associate Justice Will Wilson appeared in his former home city as master of ceremonies at the Butler rally of over 1,000 liberalists.

John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, sat at the head table.

Ralph Yarborough of Austin, strongly rumored as ready for a third try as the governor candidate of the liberals, started out with Butler at Lubbock and showed up at nearly all his meetings.

And Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton showed up at a Waco rally for Butler.

Present also were several other Senators who aren't prospective candidates for governor—and a half dozen House members.

Butler's Houston appearance was before the state convention of the Young Democratic Clubs. Virtually all the potential candidates for governor on the liberal ticket showed up there, too. White delivered the keynote address at the opening business session and Yarborough also spoke.

Land Office Flaws
A 94-page audit documenting investigations of irregularities in Veterans Land Board has been released by State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

Cavness emphasized throughout his report the need for additional field supervisors and investigators . . . who can check continually to prevent irregularities in the $100,000,000 loan program.

The audit covered the period from Sept. 1, 1951 to Jan. 4, 1955 (the last day Bascom Giles was commissioner of the General Land Office and chairman of the Veterans Land Board).

Land Inquiry Shifts
After winding up its sixth week of investigation before Justice of the Peace Travis Blakeslee in Austin, the court of inquiry into overall operations of the General Land Office moved to Corpus Christi.

Twenty land office geophysical inspectors stationed at Corpus Christi will be questioned there this week.

Rain Boost Crops
Unusually favorable moisture conditions throughout Texas have brightened the crop outlook considerably, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Feed crops have made good developments, according to USDA reports. Corn prospects are especially promising. Cotton prospects are "very promising."

Rains in scattered areas of central, eastern and northern Texas interrupted the harvesting of commercial vegetables, tomatoes in Central Texas and onions in North Texas.

Crops larger than last year are predicted for cantaloups, onions, potatoes and watermelons.

Defense Alert
William L. McGill, director of the state's civil defense organization, reports Texas' 1955 alert successful and highly realistic.

Had it been the real thing, Civil Defense Co-ordinator R. E. Dysart, said there would have been no casualties in Fort Worth, but more than one-fourth of Houston's population would have been wiped out. Lubbock would have been a victim. El Paso would have been saved. Also Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. (Clifton) Cobb and children moved to Stamford Saturday, where they will make their home. Mr. Cobb, who has been connected with the Haskell office of the Stamford Production Credit Association, was recently promoted to the position of assistant secretary-treasurer and field representative with headquarters in the Stamford office. He began work there in April, but the family continued their residence here until the end of the school year. Mr. and Mrs. Cobb have purchased a home in Stamford, at 612 Dodson Drive.

John Camp, butcher and meat cutter at Phelps Locker Plant, is doing most of his work left-handed as the result of a mishap Friday in which he fractured his right wrist. Camp was hanging part of a beef when the box he was standing on slipped, causing him to fall. Taking out for a hurried visit to a physician, he was back on the job late Friday, although he's finding it rather inconvenient to handle his usual chores.

A house trailer at Cook's Trailer Courts, owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Wingrove was badly damaged by fire which started in a clothes closet in one end of the trailer, Thursday night. Firemen answering the alarm, around 9:15 p. m., had difficulty extinguishing the smoldering blaze which had caught between the interior and exterior walls of the metal-clad unit. Clothing in the closet was burned, and considerable damage was caused to the interior by smoke and heat. Mr. Wingrove is an oil field worker. He and his wife and two small children came here recently from Glade-water.

Mrs. Frank Tate and sons, Sonny and Jamie, and Mrs. Ben Mapes and children, Craig and Serena, of Abilene, were guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Tate. Ben Mapes, executive with a construction company now working on an Abilene contract, is in Scott & White hospital at Temple for corrective bone surgery on his left arm, which was fractured in an accident last December. The injury apparently had healed, but recently began to trouble him, necessitating a second trip to the hospital.

Mrs. Dale Phelps and little son, Rusty Snyder were visitors last week in the home of Mrs. Phelps' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Viney in this city.

Barbara Alexander of Pagaso Springs, Colo., is here to spend the summer with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Tate. M., on a visit to friends and relatives in Lyford, Raymondville, Mineola and other points in Texas before coming to Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sparkman and daughters, Jo Ann and Penny, of Amarillo, spent last week here visiting Mrs. Sparkman's mother, Mrs. Chas. Barton, and other relatives and friends. Mrs. Barton accompanied them on their return to Amarillo and will visit there several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hutches and son J. W. of Bowie, Texas, were visitors last week in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Viney and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Daniels of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill Oates have returned from a week's visit in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Couch and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Couch, Sr., of Haskell, accompanied by Mrs. Mattie Couch Roberts of El Paso and Mrs. Aillie Couch Reeves of Weslaco who have been visiting here in the homes of their brothers, were in Coleman last week, where they visited the "old home place" where their parents lived before moving to Haskell. The Couch family were some of the earliest settlers in Coleman County, settling in the Jim Ned and Rough Creek area near Coleman in 1875. The family moved to Haskell in 1894. While in Coleman, the visitors were intrained with an informal coffee in the home of Mrs. Billy B. Beach in that city.

Four Haskell golfers, M. L. Blohm, Buck Everett, Floyd Cook and W. I. (Scotch) Coggins, spent Thursday through Saturday of last week at Brownwood, where they entered the 27th annual West Texas Golf Tournament. All of the Haskell players advanced through several flights before being eliminated. The tournament title was annexed Sunday by Jim Russell, junior high school coach at Graham, who won by four strokes over second place Charles Coody of Stamford.

Little Cindy Lou Smith, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Smith of this city suffered a painful injury Friday afternoon, when one of the toes on her right foot was badly mangled. The little girl was riding with an older playmate on a bicycle. In some manner Cindy Lou's right foot was caught between the chain and sprocket of the bicycle, and one toe was badly crushed and mangled. The little girl was carried to the Haskell Hospital for treatment of the injury and on last report was recovering nicely. Mr. Smith is employed by Brown & Root Construction Company on the West Texas Utilities Company's Paint Creek power station expansion project.

Haskell Students To Attend McMurry Band School

Abilene (Spl.)—Janice and Betty Hester, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hester of Star Rt., Haskell, have pre-registered for McMurry College's 7th annual summer vacation band school, to be held here July 17-30.

Bill Adkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harrell of Haskell, will again be head twirling and drum-majoring instructor for the band school's 18-member teaching staff.

The makers of Super-Refined No-Nox, the clean-burning gasoline, now bring you a new super-refined motor oil...

New Gulfpride H.D. Select

...the only motor oil in the world super-refined by the Alchlor Process for modern high-compression engines.

Not a compromise, multi-viscosity oil that tries to be an "all-season," "three-grades-in-one" oil. Contains no artificial thickeners that break down in your engine and increase oil consumption.

This completely new kind of motor oil—made possible by Gulf's exclusive Alchlor Process—is available in 3 grades to give you the finest protection, the best oil mileage for your make of car—in every season.

- Controls carbon—cause of knock, pre-ignition, valve failure and loss of power in high-compression engines.
- Combats corrosive acids, rust and deposits that build up on engine parts. Keeps hydraulic valve lifters quiet and free-acting.
- Assures lower oil consumption than the multi-viscosity "all-season" motor oils, because it has natural viscosity and contains no artificial thickeners that break down in your engine.
- Provides the toughest protective film ever developed in a motor oil... assures better engine protection for all cars under all driving conditions.

Available in 3 grades—SAE 10W, SAE 20/20W, SAE 30. Lets you follow your car manufacturer's recommendation for each season.

Now! For the ultimate in working octane performance and engine protection, always use Gulf's super-refined gas-oil team...

New Gulf No-Nox Gasoline
New Gulfpride H.D. Select Motor Oil

"Coked" valve "A" is from engine using a so-called "all-season," multi-grade oil. Carbon deposit is a cause of sluggish performance and ultimate valve failure. Clean valve "B" is from engine using new Gulfpride.

See how Gulfpride H.D. Select holds its "body" (viscosity). This new oil contains no artificial thickeners that break down under heat and pressure. But note how quickly a typical multi-viscosity 10W-30 oil starts to lose its body.

Mayor Endorses Campaign for Safe Driving

Mayor Courtney Hunt today officially endorsed the June speed control program which the National Safety Council is conducting this month. "Slow down and live," is the watchword of the program.

"One of the greatest traffic hazards of the present day is the impatient driver who refuses to drive at a speed that is safe for conditions," Mayor Hunt said. "Such a driver not only endangers his own life, he's a menace to everyone he meets."

Mayor Hunt pointed out that the only intelligent way to drive is to let conditions of weather, traffic, road, the mechanical condition of your car and your own physical and mental condition determine your speed.

"Posted speed limits are maximum limits," he said. "They are safe only when all conditions are favorable."

The mayor gave drivers the following six-point check list as a guide in determining safe speeds:

1. Drive at a speed that will enable you to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.
2. Slow down before you get to curves and intersections.
3. At night, drive at the speed which will let you stop within your headlight range.
4. Drive with traffic. You are probably going too fast if you are passing many cars—too slow if many cars are passing you.
5. Where children are playing, be able to stop in a car length or less.
6. When you're tired or inattentive, stop.

Butane Dealers of State Will Meet In Dallas

Tremendous progress in improvement of living conditions in semi-urban and rural areas during the last ten years will be reviewed by Texas butane dealers meeting in Dallas this month. Taking part in the symposium of progress will be J. E. Walling, Jr., local butane dealer, who will attend the Tenth Annual Convention of the Texas Butane Dealers Association of which he is an active member. Walling will take part in discussions reviewing past progress and planning for future expansion of this fast-growing industry.

The Texas Butane Dealers Association, largest organization of the kind in the nation, will mark industry progress at the Dallas gathering June 22, 23 and 24 with its convention and the Southwestern Butane Exposition. The exposition, largest state or regional-level show of the kind, will present to the more than six hundred butane dealers attending the latest developments in home appliances and equipment for handling and dispensing of "the magic fuel"—butane and propane gas.

Walling plans to leave about June 21 for Dallas.

An elaborate entertainment program has been prepared for the Texas butane dealers and their guests, dealers from Oklahoma, Louisiana, New Mexico and Colorado, who will join them in the three-day event, according to Walling.

Stamford Church Will Be Host to Singers Sunday

Texas Farm Cash Income Up From Last Year

Texas farmers' cash income rose 4 per cent during the January-April period, compared with the same four months of 1954. The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Almost all farm commodities contributed to the increase, with wheat showing a 53 per cent gain; oats, 30 per cent; corn, 20 per cent; fruit and vegetables, 20 per cent; mohair, 17 per cent, and peanuts, 16 per cent. Only decreases in the year-to-year comparison were hogs, down 11 per cent, wool 6 per cent, and cotton, 4 per cent.

Farmers found that although cash income had risen, prices for their commodities during April dropped slightly, 1 per cent, from April, 1954. Livestock and livestock product prices fell 6 per cent, while food grain prices were down 4 per cent.

Season Control of Insects Recommended

is already working in cotton fields in Haskell County. They start as soon as the cotton comes up. Flea hoppers start working as soon as the first fruit is formed.

Tests were conducted by the Texas Experiment Station at Lubbock in 1954 to determine the effect of early season cotton insect control on early fruit set and yields. Pre-square tests involved thrips while post-square experiments were on flea hoppers and thrips.

"Thrips and flea hoppers cause damage which delays fruiting and reduces yields of cotton. The extent of damage varies with the intensity and duration of infestations. Thrips often cause heaviest damage early in the growing season when plants are small but damage may occur at any stage of plant growth. The insects damage terminal buds, causing excessive branching and vegetable growth. Thrips damage is also characterized by a silvery or glazed under-leaf surface, irregular holes in leaves which are abnormal in size and shape, and scar-like yellowish splotches on leaves and lack of fruit. Damage after plants reach the fruiting stage may cause enlarged nodes, short internodes and occasional flattened stems. Flea hopper infestations in fruiting cotton cause small squares to shed, with resultant excessive vegetative growth. Damage often is indicated by tall, whiplike plants.

Experimental Procedure

"Tests were conducted at Lubbock in 1954 to determine the effect of early-season control of thrips and flea hoppers on early fruit set and yield of cotton. The insecticide tests included pre-square applications for thrips control and post-square treatments for flea hopper and thrips control. Post-square treatments were made after the plants had begun to fruit.

"The pre-square treatments were repeated four times and the post-square treatments three times at each location. Plots were 1-5 acre in size and 24 rows wide. Sprays were applied at the rate of 3 gallons per acre, at 60 pounds pressure with 1 nozzle to each row.

Results

Pre-Square Experiments

Toxaphene spray applications controlled thrips effectively in both tests for at least a week. Two applications reduced plant malformation. The rather high percentage of plant deformity in the first experiment indicates that thrips damage the crop before and after the period of insecticidal treatments.

"The low yields in the first experiment may indicate the prolonged thrips damage. While treated plots produced more cotton than did untreated plots, all yields were quite low.

Post-Square Experiments

"Toxaphene and dieldrin sprays were compared for flea hopper and thrips control in two experiments. Cotton was planted in late April in the first test, and in late May in the second test. Both thrips and flea hoppers were present in medium infestations. Treatments were started soon after plants reached the fruiting stage.

Toxaphene and dieldrin were equally effective in controlling flea hoppers. After two applications of spray, injurious flea hopper infestations failed to develop over a 17-day period in the first experiment before a third application was necessary for thrips control. Dieldrin was superior to toxaphene for control of thrips. While both materials were equally effective in the initial control, dieldrin continued to control thrips for longer periods following applications.

"The control of flea hoppers and thrips was manifested by increased blooming in treated plots. Beginning approximately 3 weeks after the first application, all treated plots showed decidedly heavier blooming than the untreated plots. During a period of 31 days in the first test, the toxaphene-treated plots produced 188 per cent more blooms and the dieldrin plots 248 per cent more blooms than the check plots. In the second test, toxaphene applications resulted in increased blooming by 170 per cent and dieldrin by 195 per cent over that of untreated cotton.

"The use of both materials resulted in a lower percentage of plant deformity. The greater reduction of thrips infestation in the first test was probably due to the additional control resulting from a third treatment of the plants.

"The heavier blooming as a result of insect control indicates that a crop may be set earlier in the season. Records immediately after frost showed this to be true. While most bolls were sufficiently mature to produce open cotton at the time of frost in the first experiment, the number of bolls in treated plots averaged 16 per cent greater than those in check plots. In the check plots of the second experiment, only 30 per cent of the bolls were sufficiently mature to produce open cotton, while treated plots had 68 to 78 per cent of the bolls mature on the same date.

"Production of seed cotton was increased 727 pounds per acre with three toxaphene applications and 934 pounds per acre with three dieldrin applications. Two applications of toxaphene increased yields 653 pounds of seed cotton per acre, while two dieldrin treatments produced 700 pounds of seed cotton per acre more than untreated plots. Assuming the lint from treated and untreated plots was of equal quality, the average gross gain from control was $96.46 per acre for toxaphene and $108.33 per acre for the dieldrin treatments. Toxaphene was used at rate of 6 acres per gallon. Dieldrin was used at rate of 20 to gallon."

In spite of all the safety rules that Boy Scouts train themselves to observe, accidents are going to happen. Then when they do, a Scout like 13-year-old Buddy Herren of Haskell can make the best of it and keep going. Buddy's mother, Mrs. Clinton H. He and other Scouts of Troop 36 from Haskell were digging with their shovels and Buddy was accidentally hit by one of his fellow Scouts. He was carried to the office of Dr. Floyd Taylor in Abilene and seven stitches repaired the damage, then back to camp he went. He'll also need new lenses for his glasses to replace the one that was broken. Buddy admitted to his mother over the phone that he was just a little uneasy over the prospect

Wheat Growers—

(Continued from Page 1) not a point of issue; the wheat allotments will continue in effect no matter how the vote goes in the referendum. The law requires that wheat allotments may be dispensed with only in time of emergency.

Farm allotments for the 1956 wheat crop, based on a state acreage allotment of 4,227,136 acres, have already been mailed to farmers. In general, each farm on which a wheat crop was grown in any of the years 1953, 1954, or 1955 was assigned an acreage allotment. For a farm on which wheat will be seeded in 1956 for the first time since July 1, 1952, the farmer must make a special application for a "new farm" allotment.

Marketing quotas are directed by law to be proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture in years when the total supply of wheat exceeds the normal supply by more than 20 per cent. The supply for 1956-57 is estimated at 1.66 billion bushels—66 per cent more than the normal supply—and enough to meet current needs for domestic use and exports for the next 2 years.

Determined to even the season standing between the two teams, Haskell Black Indians have booked a return game with the Abilene Black Eagles, Manager Albert Sharp of the local team has announced.

The contest is slated to get under way promptly at 3:30 p. m. Sunday at Fair Park Field adjoining the Saddle Tramp rodeo arena.

In a previous game recently, the Eagles plastered a stinging 9-6 defeat on the Indians. However, Manager Sharp declares the Indians now have a much improved club and will be out to even the standing in Sunday's game.

Throck Takes 4-2 Win Over Ponies Monday Night

Haskell Ponies were unable to handle the offerings of the Throckmorton Greyhounds moundsman Monday night, and were defeated 4-2 in their first out of town contest, played in Throckmorton.

Sam Rike, Pony twirler, and Burl Medford accounted for the locals two scores.

Despite loss of Monday night's game, Managers Owen Pelsue and Pete Mullins, Pony team managers, said the team was shaping up good and that batting technique was due to improve as the season progressed.

The Ponies are sponsored in the Youth Development program by Benson Auto Supply.

Tuesday night, the Ponies swamped the Colts 22-7 in an inter-League contest. Tommy McClung and Maxie Mullins, on the mound for the Ponies, kept the Colts at their mercy and allowed only a few scattered hits. Jerry Gresham was behind the plate for the Ponies.

The Colts, trailing with only one score in the fifth, rallied to score six runs in that inning. Pitching for the Colts were David Burson, Jimmy Brock and Don Pennington, with Jimmy Don Long and Don Pennington alternating as receiver.

Tuesday night, June 28, the Ponies meet the Throckmorton Hounds in a return game at Fair Park Field.

U. of T. Places Ban On Use of Cars By Freshmen

Austin, Texas—University of Texas freshmen, except Travis County residents and the physically disabled, are forbidden to own or operate automobiles here beginning next Sept. 1.

Beginning Sept. 1, 1956, sophomores also come under the no-car ban, ordered by the Board of Regents for the Main University where 17,000 or more students are expected for the 1955-56 long session.

Tom Sealy of Midland, regent chairman, said the Board's action was on recommendation of the administration and faculty committees, and was "occasioned by the dearth of parking space and the extremely crowded conditions and congestion now existing at the campus of the Main University."

University President Logan Wilson said the regulation not only will help alleviate the parking situation, but is "considered by the faculty and staff to be a desirable move from an academic point of view."

The office of the dean of student life, the administrative council and other University groups endorsed the idea. Dr. Wilson explained:

"It should be pointed out," he said, "that many leading institutions in the country have had to come to this and even more restrictive measures. I believe the reasoning behind this regulation will be widely understood and accepted by students as well as parents."

Bill Would Provide Aid For Widows of War II Veterans

Senator Young of North Dakota has introduced a bill, known as S. 1213. It is expected that Rep. Dorn of South Carolina, Chairman of the House of Veterans' Sub-Committee on Compensation and Pension, will introduce a companion bill in the House. Here are some brief explanations of the proposal in S. 1213, furnished by Herbert Ray, Veterans Service Office for Haskell County.

This proposal, if passed, would establish the same requirements for award of pension to widows and children in the non-service-connected deaths of veterans of World War II and Korean Conflict as is now provided under existing laws for those dependents of deceased World War I veterans.

At the present time, ninety days of service as a World War I veteran with discharge under other than dishonorable conditions is all that is required for award of death pension to widows and children whose incomes are within statutory limitations. ($1400 annually for a widow or $2700 for widow with dependents).

In the case of World War II and Korean veterans, a certain degree of service-connected disability has to be proven before widows and dependent children are eligible for death pension.

Wildlife Surge Noted In Texas After Rains

AUSTIN—Timely rains have brought promise of a bountiful wildlife crop, according to the director of Wildlife Restoration for the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

He said the moisture came at a crucial period in the reproduction routine and in most places practically assures adequate food and cover well into the summer.

The director said there have been some negative reports from the field, mainly in connection with heavy rains that flooded fields and ruined bird nests and concerning spotted hail storms that caused damage to quail, mourning doves and wild turkey. He added that high winds accompanying the turbulent conditions wrecked dove nests in some areas.

He pointed out that quail persistently re-nest if their first one is lost and that mourning doves likewise build new nests and characteristically lay practically all summer.

The director of Wildlife Restoration said he had no reports of heavy hail losses but he pointed out that wild turkey are vulnerable.

He noted news accounts of hail so severe that deer were killed outright, but explained that, in the case of wild deer, they do not panic like domestic animals and stampede in a huddle, but rather seek cover, such as crawling under brush and overhanging bluffs. He said wild turkey also use this strong natural instinct of survival to protect themselves where there is any substantial cover but that they are more likely to sustain losses from flood and hail than are deer.

The director said all reports indicate the Texas wild turkey outlook "is the best in many years." The state's wild turkey stock, largest in the nation, has slumped in recent years like most wildlife species affected by the record drought.

He said "generally favorable reports have been received about quail" but noted an observation by E. G. Marsh, resident biologist at Gus Engling Wildlife Management Area in Anderson County, that quail had a bad winter in that vicinity.

"The recent rains have come as a blessing," said the director. "We have had some disaster reports but they have mainly come from isolated areas. The rains mean food and cover and also mean the moisture necessary to assure hatching success."

Traffic Deaths on Highways Decline 3 Straight Years

AUSTIN—Traffic deaths on State and Federal highways outside of cities and towns have decreased three consecutive years. Through March, 1955, there was an 11% decrease under the same period in 1954 which is a good start on a decrease for 4 straight years.

It is on these roads that Texas Highway Patrolmen of necessity do most of their work because 300 patrol cars cannot begin to cover 26,000 miles of State and Federal roads let alone Farm to Market roads and county roads. On the State and Federal roads 1536 people were killed in 1951. In 1952 the toll was reduced to 1455 dead. In 1953 the figure was 1369 and in 1954 it was 1362. Through March, 1955, the toll was 292 dead and for the same period in 1954 it was 329.

Place Television Antenna Clear of Electric Lines

Television sets need electricity to operate—but not the kind they get when the TV antenna falls across a high voltage line!

In the fringe reception areas especially, where the TV towers reach like countless fingers to the sky, a closer look will show that many of them are within falling reach of power lines.

While it is true that antennas supported by pipe are guyed 3 or 4 ways, and that self-supporting type of tower is supposed to withstand um-teen miles an hour winds, who can tell what stress they will take a few years after corrosion and decay have begun?

When a TV antenna falls on a power line, exactly what will happen is anybody's guess—the results are bound to be far from good! The TV set will probably be ruined, fire may break out, people may be electrocuted.

Many local codes prohibit the erection of antenna towers within falling reach of power lines. Other codes require an additional guy opposite the power line.

To protect life and property, select a safe location for your TV antenna. Warn tower erectors of any nearby lines. If the hazard has been overlooked and the installation is already completed with your antenna in falling reach of a power line, better consider having it moved to a safer location. Otherwise a sudden summer storm may suddenly interrupt a good TV program—and at the same time, interrupt your life in a dangerous and costly way!

It is interesting to note that the expanding service of rural electric cooperatives during 1954 brought electricity to approximately 157,000 new customers according to the 1955 Yearbook of The American Peoples Encyclopedia. The 1,000 cooperatives operating in the country added
