

How time does fly. Vacation time is over. It's time for school bells to ring again . . . and the football season is just around the corner.

Have you noticed? . . . At a road intersection near Seymour, a large sign which reads . . . "SEYMOUR—MUNDAY. This reminds us of this little pun on West Texas towns. One feller says 'toter feller . . . 'I hear the gals bathe in PLAINVIEW over at BIG SPRING, in SWEET-WATER, and I'm going up to SEYMOUR."

Why worry? There might be a few things for you to worry about. You are either sick or you are well. Now if you are well, you don't have anything to worry about. If you are sick, there are two things you might worry a little about; you are either going to get well, or you are going to die. Now if you are going to get well there is nothing for you to worry about, but if you are going to die, there are two things you may worry about; you are going to heaven or you are going to hell. Now if you are going to heaven there is nothing for you to worry about, and if you go to hell, you will be so busy shaking hands with your friends that you won't have time to worry. So why worry?

Leadership involves a good percentage of bull, but it seems the biggest majority fall for it.

Thoughts: Always borrow from a pessimist, he never expects it back anyway . . . Strange that men call money "dough". Dough sticks to your fingers. . . . A Hollywood wedding is, as a rule, a retake.

Worried about going crazy? It's a good sign you're not: If you fear that you're going crazy, you can forget it right now. Psychiatrists will tell you that worrying about serious mental breakdown is one of the best indications that you won't have one. "As a matter of fact," says an article this scribe read, "the person who goes through life convinced that he is sane, and the rest of the world is crazy may have more cause for worry about his mental condition than the one who is concerned over his sanity."

One thing most newspapers don't have to do is worry about going crazy, because most of us in the newspaper game are already "tetched in the head", or else we would never have made newspaper work our vocation.

Man can criticize women all he wants to, but we know three things in her favor: First she never wastes two dollars worth of shotgun shells in order to get a 25c rabbit. Second, you never heard of a woman going into a restaurant and buying a $1.00 meal and giving the waitress a 25c tip because she smiled at her. Third, we've never heard of a woman yet who will use twenty gallons of gas and pay $25 for a boat hire to get where the fish are not.

Here is the way some people see things: When the other fellow has a bad temper he is "ugly"; when you have a bad temper it is "nerves." When the other fellow is set in his ways he is "obstinate"; when you are it is just "firmness." When the other fellow spends a lot he is a "spendthrift"; when you do, you are "generous." When the other fellow doesn't like your friends, he's "prejudiced"; when you don't like his, you are simply showing him that you are a "good judge of human nature." When the other fellow gets too lively, he is being "fast"; when you do, it is "high spirit." When the other fellow dresses nicely, he is a "dude"; when you do, it is a duty you owe to society." When the other fellow says what he thinks, he is "spiteful"; when you do it is "frankness." When the other fellow holds on to his money, he is "close"; when you do you are "prudent". It all depends on who it is.

O'BRIEN TO BEGIN SCHOOL TERM MONDAY; ONE VACANCY EXISTS

O'Brien school elected Mrs. L. W. Sheppard, of Lueders, as first grade teacher, to take the place of Mrs. Julia Hamby of Coleman. Mrs. Hamby resigned Friday August 21, but did not disclose where she planned to teach the coming year.

Mrs. Sheppard is the wife of the Lueders elementary principal, and taught last in the Coahoma school system in 1956. She has 15 years experience, all in elementary school, and received her B. S. degree from Hardin-Simmons University in 1950 with a major in elementary education. Supt. Elvin Mathis said. Mathis said there still remains one position to be filled on the faculty, that of a utility teacher to help out where needed, mainly the upper grades. Efforts are being made to fill the position before the opening of school, August 31.

Supt. Mathis said there would be a full day of school opening day, with lunch prices the same as last year.

One bus driver is needed, but possibly the last addition to the faculty will drive the bus; if not,

O'Brien Football Team Workouts Are Underway

Coach Tommy Robison has been having workouts the past week with about 10 O'Brien Bulldogs showing up for the drills. Those practicing include: Junior Hester, senior; Jerry Rowan and Royce Cox, juniors; Larry Gibson and Jerry Force, sophomores; Gerald Howeth, Bobby Cox, Jimmy Johnston, Joe Matura, C. H. Underwood and Bobby O'Neal, freshmen. Two or three other freshmen may report when school begins on August 31.

Players lost from last year's squad include Danny Walsworth, John Tom Johnston, Jerry Covey, Jerry Carver and Buddy Williams. Walsworth was an all-district back, Johnston was a back, Covey an end and Carver a center on the first team. Williams was a reserve end.

Of the current squad, Rowan saw active service at halfback and Hester at end on last year's team. Gibson and Force saw limited action and the freshmen played in all of the seven grade school games.

The Bulldogs open their non-district schedule with a practice game with Paint Creek on Sept. 5 at Paint Creek. These two teams tied 32-32 last year at Paint Creek and should be well matched again. The 1958 record of the O'Brien team was 7 wins, 2 losses and the tie with Paint Creek. Weintert and Goree won over the Bulldogs while victories were won with Ira, Lueders, Moran, Vera, Hobbs, Matton and Benjamin.

O'Brien is a member of District Three, six-man football.

Knox County Basic Rate Is Set For Conservation Reserve Program

Farmers who wish to put cropland in the Soil Bank's 1960 conservation reserve must ask the County ASC committee to set a basic annual rate per-acre for the offered land. Gaylor C. Scott, Chairman, Knox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said. The period for filing such requests in from August 24 through September 10. No such requests will be accepted after September 10.

In setting the basic annual per-acre rate for land offered, the county committee will take into consideration the productivity of the land and the rate will be limited to the local fair rental value of the land based on the crops harvested on it during the past five years. When all the eligible cropland on the farm is offered for the conservation reserve, the rate will generally be set 10 per cent higher than the rate for only part of the eligible land.

of the contract, and he also will receive cost-sharing help in establishing an approved conservation practice.

For Texas, the basic per-acre rate of payment under the 1960 conservation reserve is $12,000, the same as under the 1959 program. The tentative acreage goal for the State is 452,000 acres, subject to consideration and recommendation by the State ASC Committee.

The basic rate for Knox County is $14.00 per acre.

SOIL STAMP TO DEPICT CONSERVATION

This a black and white reproduction of the 4-cent soil conservation stamp which went on sale at the post office here today, (Thursday), August 27. The stamp, printed in three colors, was placed on sale Wednesday in Rapid City, S. D., at the annual meeting of the Soil Conservation Society of America.

The stamp portrays a modern conservation farm, according to Bill Sladek of the SCS. Grasses in the rolling pasture, foreground, prevent soil erosion and conserve moisture. Grazing is regulated to favor growth of the best forage grasses.

A farm pond, lower right, provides water for domestic and livestock use, for fire protection, for wildlife, and for recreation such as fishing swimming and boating.

Contour stripcropping and rotation systems, left and right center, include grasses and cultivated crops in alternating bands. The grassed strips catch and hold soil that may move out of cultivated strips during rainstorms, and they increase moisture insoak.

Trees and shrubs control erosion, provide a home for wildlife, and protect the farmstead from the hot winds of summer and the cold winds of winter.

Conservation farming, as depicted in the stamp, gives assurance of a plentiful supply of food and other products of the land for the seven-eighths of our people who live in town, symbolized in upper right.

After being bitten, she was taken to a Munday physician, who administered snakebite serum. From there she was brought to the Knox County Hospital for treatment.

The Stewards live five miles north of Goree.

Meeting To "Air" Possibility Of Organizing Junior C Of C

The possibility of organizing a Junior Chamber of Commerce in Knox City will be aired at an open meeting which has been scheduled by the Stamford Jaycees for 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, September 1, at Roddy's Cafe.

According to Stamford Jaycee members, the meeting was set at the request of many Knox City young men who have expressed an interest in forming a Junior Chamber unit here.

Herschel Kelley, extension chairman of the Stamford chapter has reported that many young men, already contacted, will be present for the meeting.

At the briefing meeting, Stamford Jaycees will explain various phases of their own operation, community and membership benefits resulting from Junior Chamber operation, and Junior Chamber chapter and membership requirements. A film on Jaycees activities will be shown. A question and answer period will close the session which is expected to last an hour and a half.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is a civic service organization whose membership is open to all young men between the ages of 21 through 35.

Purpose of the world-wide organization is the improvement of the communities in which units are located and personal development of its members; both objectives being accomplished through a wide variety of project activities.

Junior Chamber chapters are located in 3600 communities in the United States and have a total membership of over 200,000. Internationally, Jaycee chapters exist in over 88 countries and territories.

Jaycees in this country have their own headquarters in Tulsa, Oklahoma—a memorial in honor of World War II dead built at a cost of over $300,000 from contributions received from Jaycees throughout the nation.

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I got a heap of sympathy fer that feller they picked up in Washington the other day walking around in a daze. He said he couldn't recollect if he was connected with the War Department or the State Department. We got a heap of 'em like him in Washington, only they don't git picked up.

And back here at home it's gitting harder and harder fer a feller to tell whether he's on his way to the pore house or coming home from the booby hatch. Fer instant, this piece I was reading in the papers last night said a pore man today ain't as pore as a pore man was 10 year ago. I reckon that means the money he ain't got today ain't worth as much as the money he ain't got 10 year ago. It got me so confused I caught myself walking backwards to slop the hogs this morning.

And on the political front one Congressman says we ain't spending too much money, just ain't taking in enough fere our needs. The Democrats say the treasury is half empty and the Republicans smile and say it's Getting discouraged with cotton? . . . maybe a few words from a report of the National Cotton Council will cheer you . . . the report was given the early part of the year, and it is a long range outlook based on sound economic research . . . we like to keep it around just to read when we get a little discouraged about the cotton business . . . the title of the report half full. The Federal Housing Commission says there ain't no shortage of houses, just a over consumption of space. On top of all that, The American Collectors Association holds a convention and votes that they'll no longer be known as "bill collectors" but as "adjusters of delinquent obligations." In a month or two they'll shorten that to ADO and when a pore man gits his notice he won't know whether he's charged with moral delinquency or hiding from his obligations.

Well, on the brighter side, on account of the politicians having no control over it, we've been having some mighty fine weather lately fer setting out under a tree. Ever time my old lady catches me taking it easy I remind her that lazy men has made most of the great discoveries in life. Old James Watts was setting in the kitchen watching his old lady work when he got interested in the steam coming out of the kettle and figured out the first steam engine. And Newton discovered the law of gravity when he was laying in the shade under a apple tree watching apples fall. When I git to quoting the scriptures like that to my old lady, she puts the stopper in the bottle by allowing as how, when she got married she aimed to make one husband do fer a lifetime, but now it looked like it wasn't going to work. How's a feller going to combat that kind of talk? If any of your subscribers knows the answer, Mister Editor, please tell 'em to write.

Uncle Ben

Farmers Asking More Questions Of Economic Nature Than Ever Before

"Farmers are asking more questions of an economic nature today than ever before," says Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist. "A typical question being asked county agricultural agents is, 'How can I organize my farm to obtain greatest profits?' This type of question deals in an area where all the information is relating to figures," explains Parker. "Most farmers are not accustomed to doing this kind of work."

The latest device to help farmers do their figuring to determine their optimum farm organization is an electronic computer. This machine is too expensive for an individual farmer or a group of farmers to own and operate. But is possible that the services of one of these machines may be available for their use through the Texas A & M College, in the near future, he states. The technique involved in using the electronic computer for farm organization is linear programming. This is a technique that may be used to allocate limited resources among many farm enterprises and select the one plan out of several that will indicate maximum profits from the farm organization, the specialist explains.

For farm use, linear programming assumes that the objective is to get the highest profits from farm resources. In keeping with his desires the farmer may wish to specify certain enterprises. Thus, the electronic computer will select the optimum combination of enterprises which the farmer chooses.

Parker adds that the Texas Agricultural Service, through their farm management activities, is exploring the possibilities of using linear programming and electronic computers to help farmers solve this important problem of resource allocation and enterprise combinations.

is "The Economic Outlook for U. S. Cotton's Markets" . . . here are some of the things it points out . . . Dr. M. K. Horn, Jr., chief economist for the NCC is speaking:

Lots of Hope

"Looking at the whole thing, I would like to say that there are plenty of grounds for hope that we can start the long-run trend of our market rolling upward. On the domestic market we have the big, encouraging fact that our losses among the industrial uses are declining and that the total trend of our clothing and household markets is strongly upward. The wash-and-wear finishes are helping us. A lower support price next season apparently will give us a new margin of competitive strength in many cases.

New Defense

. . . thinking about a competitive strategy for cotton, we have been recognizing the great danger of rayon-cotton blends, based on the fact that in net cost to the mills rayon has a price advantage of six to ten cents a pound over cotton. But last year the cotton industry threw up one big defense against this when it obtained passage of the fiber labeling law . . . prices of cotton will be substantially lower . . . rayon raises its price. Nothing like this ever happened before . . . cotton is showing new competitive strength our competitors are not unbeatable and American cotton has a lot of competitive strength and a great potential for the future . . . the declining production is the thing that has been felt by our farmers and ginners and merchants, but the future holds more promise than you would judge by this experience. We can see the trend of our market . . . toward 16, 18, 20 million bales and more if we go forward with a wise long range campaign of competition for the market, not with price alone, but with price, research, and promotion combined."

16, 18, 20 Million Bales

Now don't you feel better???

Dove Shooting Begins Sept. 1; Birds Plentiful

It's that time of year again! Knox County nimrods are cleaning and oiling their "old rifles" as the dove season is just a few days away . . . and from all indications the birds will be plentiful again this year.

Season opens for the North Texas dove hunters Tuesday, Sept. 1, with perhaps one of the best crops in year, according to the assistant secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The new 1959-60 hunting and fishing license went on sale after August 20, according to the announcement. They will be effective September 1, and any persons who hunt outside their own counties are required to have a new license. Fishing licenses also expire August 31, and a new license is necessary for fishing outside the home county, or with any kind of winding device.

Persons over 65 years of age are not required to have a license. Exemption cards are available at the regional offices or by writing to the Game and Fish Commission in Austin. Such cards are issued as a courtesy, and are not required.

A map showing the Texas counties and their open seasons has been prepared by the Commission. A study of it will tell you where it is legal to hunt in both the North and South zone counties.

The season is open September 1 through October 20 in the North Zone, and Oct. 1 through November 19 in the South Zone. There is an exception in the Lower Valley counties where mourning doves may be shot at the same time as white-winged doves, in that area the season will close three days earlier.

The whitening season is for the alternate days of Sept. 11-13-15, from 2 p. m. until sunset.

What A Difference

A FRAME Made

We have been telling you folks how beautiful a new frame from Cameron's can enhance that photograph, and we have really meant every word of it. Horace brought in a picture of his Uncle Zeke the other day to make a frame for his picture. After checking through more than 100 different kinds he finally made a selection that he 'thought' would make 'Uncle' look good. At first we were certain we had run into one of those "impossible" ones, but sure enough, Horace's "Uncle" looked almost as handsome as any other gentleman. Seeing is believing, so see for yourself what a difference a frame can accomplish for your picture.

Streams In Desert Places

Ozelle Stephens

One of the greatest promises of God is found in Romans 8:28. "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to His purpose." Of all the thousands of precious verses this one is perhaps the hardest to fully believe. The one whose faith truly encompasses this text has learned the greatest truth in life and walks in perfect fellowship with God. In this verse we see declared the very detail of life's activities is ordered by one who is all loving, all wise—all powerful. The little word "all" makes a mighty difference. It some how makes us think of heartaches, disappointments, illness, pain, poverty, slander, persecution cannot be working good, but we hear Jesus saying, Yes, my child, all things—the bitter and the sweet are working together for you. They enrich your life and make you a blessing. Trust Me to know what is best. I love you more than you can understand. All things that concern you, concern me, too.

New Livestock Coliseum For The State Fair

The big, new feature of the 1959 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 9-25, will be the mammoth $2,000,000 Livestock Coliseum and related facilities that will go into use for the first time during the fair this fall.

Under construction on the fairgrounds for over a year, the huge steel-and-concrete structure is one of the finest and most modern facilities of its type in the nation.

The new Coliseum will be dedicated at ceremonies on the first Saturday night of the fair, October 10. During the fair, it will be the scene of the first annual State Fair of Texas Horse Show, a series of competitive events for most of the light horse breeds in the country which will offer premiums totalling $34,840.

The State Fair Coliseum will have seating for 7,108 in permanent and box seats, with all seats having an unobstructed view of arena action. Seating capacity can be increased to 11,000 through use of arena space during center focus events such as boxing.

Observation facilities for judges and officials and for press, radio and TV personnel also are provided.

Adjacent to the Coliseum is a horse building with 304 stalls of the most modern type, wash racks and tack rooms. There is a large exercise space next to the building.

The size and design of the new State Fair Coliseum make it one of the country's most admirable settings for major horse shows and rodeos. The Coliseum's advanced acoustical treatment, its loud speaker system, dressing-room facilities, accessibility of the arena floor and the versatile lighting system equip it for a wide variety of functions.

Defense Booklet Gives Plans For Basic Shelters

A new 30-page civil defense booklet, "The Family Fallout Shelter," gives detailed building plans for five basic shelters.

It may be obtained without cost by writing the State Civil Defense Office, Capitol Station, Austin.

James H. Garner, acting state coordinator of civil defense, pointed out that numerous recent studies have underscored the importance of fallout shelters, even in the remotest rural areas. Radiation called "the silent killer," cannot be seen, felt, tasted or smelled. But a nucleus at talk on just the critical military targets in this country could send fallout over almost the entire country.

Some studies estimate an adequate system of shelters could save as much as three-fourths of the population.

Cost to each family would, in some cases, be hardly more than early television sets cost when millions of families began installing this new entertainment

A do-it-yourself basement shelter would cost from $150 to $200. Aboveground shelters cost more, from $700 to $2,000, depending on the elaborateness of the plan and the amount of help hired.

Higher Pay Scale Is Announced For Patrolmen

The Texas Department of Public Safety announced today a higher pay scale for DPS patrolmen will go into effect September 1.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director, said the pay of beginning patrolmen will be increased from the present $300 per month to $325 during the time they are in training at the Department's Law Enforcement Academy at Austin. It will be raised $350 per month during their period of on-the-job training in the field.

Upon completion of the full training period, patrolmen's pay will range between $365 and $388 per month, depending upon their assignment.

Garrison said the pay raise was made possible as a result of an increased appropriation made available for this purpose by the recently adjourned Texas Legislature.

At the same time, he announced that men between the ages of 21 and 35 interested in becoming patrolmen should have their applications filed by the deadline by September 7.

He said competitive examinations will be given over the state September 15, 16, and 17 to fill approximately 80 vacancies in the Department's four uniformed services—the Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Drivers License and Motor Vehicle Inspection.

"This is an opportunity for qualified young men to become a part of one of the most respected organizations of its kind in the Nation, and at the same time to occupy an essential position in our society," Garrison added.

Qualifications call for a high school education or the equivalent, sound physical condition, height not under five feet, eight inches nor over six feet, four inches, and weight not less than two nor more than three pounds per inch of height.

Among the benefits enjoyed by DPS patrolmen are training with pay, job security, advancement opportunities, vacations with pay and a retirement system. Uniforms and job equipment are furnished.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Texas — Texas will have a virtual "government on wheels" for the last part of this month as 31 state agencies pick up their filing cabinets and move into the new State Office Building.

This is the second new headquarters building to be completed this year. First to be occupied was the new Texas Employment Commission building, completed only a few weeks ago.

Transferring into the new State Office Building undoubtedly will be the biggest move of state agencies since horse-drawn dray wagons moved the government into the present Capitol Building in 1888.

First to move will be a host of commissions, boards and divisions which have been in rented quarters scattered over Austin.

Later, probably October or November, another big move will take the Supreme Court, Court of Criminal Appeals, Attorney General's Department and Supreme Court Library out of the Capitol into the new State Courts Building . . . third state building to be completed this year.

It has been the dream for some time of the Supreme Court's elderly Chief Justice John E. Hickman to stay on the job until the day he could preside in the new Courts Building.

Built of granite similar to that in the Capitol, but with modern styling, the new buildings are to the north of the Capitol. Combined cost of the two buildings is some $7,000,000.

With all the happiness over the prospect of splendid new quarters, there are some regrets. Many employees are worrying about where they'll park their cars once all the scattered agencies move into one building.

Supreme Court jurists feel a touch of sadness at leaving behind the historic walnut bench inscribed with the Latin phrase, "As God was to our Forefathers, so may He be unto us." It has been in use practically since the memory of man. Replacement is a handsome marble piece which the judges compare to a soda fountain.

PROGRESS AND PROPERTY: A tingle of excitement, fear and hope runs through landowners and business people when they learn that a new super-highway is to come through their area.

Some residents fret over the prospect of losing the old home place. Others dream of wild profits. Businessmen worry whether the motorists will be able to get their places.

As more and more expressways pierce the countryside, the State Highway Department is making every effort to explain the procedures for acquiring highway right of way.

Samples from recent official Department statements:

1. Although its first responsibility is to the public—the taxpayers and millions of highway users—the Highway Department "tries to create a minimum of private injury or inconvenience."

2. When private lands are needed for public roads, the law guarantees "adequate compensation" to the owner. Independent professional appraisers are hired, and an "approved value" figure determined.

3. Once the "approved value" is settled on, the Department negotiator can't "horse trade" with the landowner. This might reward the greedy and tough-minded at the expense of the timid or public spirited person. But a dissatisfied owner can have the matter settled in court.

4. When part of a piece of property is taken and the rest left isolated or of little value, the state will make payment for the loss of value.

5. Owners will be given ample time to move buildings to another site or find new buildings.

6. If an owner with a GI mortgage has to sell, the Veterans Administration will restore his GI loan privileges for getting a new piece of property.

7. An owner who sells property for more than he paid for it will not have to pay income tax on the profit, providing he uses the money to buy similar property within a year.

8. Controlled access highways cannot have an entrance and exit for every piece of property along the way. Real estate developers are urged by the Department to contact the local planning engineer before making any commitments based on access to the through lanes of a controlled access road.

last year, Gov. Price Daniel issued an urgent safety plea to Labor Day motorists.

He called on law enforcement agencies, civic organizations, safety councils and "most important of all, drivers, to help in this most important of all Texas efforts, the saving of human lives."

Department of Public Safety reported traffic deaths for the first half of 1959 at 1,097, compared to 1,032 for the same period in '58.

U.S. OIL

*Indispensable in our way of life...
vital to our national defense*

In the 100 years since the drilling of the first oil well in the United States, the usefulness of petroleum has been often demonstrated in many ways . . . It is an economical and efficient source of energy and a raw resource convertible through petrochemistry into innumerable useful materials. . . . It is indispensable in our way of life, and vital to the national defense.

It is comforting to know that today's reserves are ample for today's needs. And if incentives to undergo the heavy risks involved are continued, there is no doubt that more oil will be discovered and produced to replace the oil we use . . .

The United States has found, produced, refined, and used more oil than any other nation. This has made petroleum products a feature of the abundant American life. Americans use more petroleum products than any other people on the globe.

The past is prologue to the future. During its second century, oil can serve you and your grandchildren, and the nation, as well or better than ever before.

The Humble Company, incorporated in 1917, has participated in the development of new and better ways to find and produce oil, and in the research that has improved petroleum products and discovered countless new uses for oil and natural gas. Humble is a major producer of U. S. oil, with production extending all across the southern tier of states from Florida to California. Marketing operations are carried on in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Humble's Baytown refinery, near Houston, is one of the great refineries of the world. (Humble Pipe Line Company, a major transporter of crude oil and finished products, operates more than 9000 miles of pipe lines in Texas.)

JUST TALK

By JAMES HILL

For those persons who may have happened by the Herald office last Thursday and observed the wife and Editor Al Hinds spinning a top, we would like to clarify the obvious.

No, they hadn't lost their marbles, our son had bought a new top, and the wife bet Al he couldn't make it spin.

We thought we would mention the incident, just to keep the record straight. Someone might think the Herald staff had flipped, but that ain't so, we were merely spinning our tops.

A big bouquet of roses to Minister Jerome Savage—also on Thursday of last week the preacher was in the office and we were talking about things in general, when for some reason or another, we mentioned an incident that happened way back in '37 or '38, and he said, "My but you were really young then." When yours truly asked how old he thought we were, he replied, "About 28."

Time was when we got kinda' peeved when someone thought we were much younger than we were, but now it is a welcome topic—Oct. 3, will mark up 36 years.

As far as we know, Knox City has never had a clean-up campaign. Why couldn't we set aside a day some week and give the old main drag a good clean-up? It would not only make our streets and businesses more attractive, but would give us a reprieve from the daily grind. Every merchant could clean up in front of his place of business, street included, and we may persuade the firemen to wash down sidewalks and street. It wouldn't take too much time, and it would certainly be well worth our time and efforts to have all the business district looking spic and span at the same time.

Seems as though folks are always giving us something. The latest gift is a beautiful reproduction by Grandma Moses that Bob Hinchey gave us last week.

The picture we ran of the Benjamin court of 1903, was such a big hit with the readers, we would like to publish other pictures of that nature.

Another visitor and his guests were Joe Cash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Cash, who has been Camp Counselor and Handicraft Director at the Blue Haven Camp in Las Vegas, N. M., this summer, and three youngsters from the Lubbock Children's Home.

They are: George Crow, 10; Dwain Jones, 11; and Dale Renfro, 11. The youngsters spent two weeks at the camp and came home with Joe to spend the week end with the Cashes.

Joe and the boys informed us there are 85 boys in the Lubbock Home and that there are five cottages in which they and their "families" live.

This is the first time family living has been used in a home of this kind. There are 12 to 16 children in each family, and they have a "mother" and "father" as well as "brothers" and "sisters." This seems to us to really be an ideal place for the youngsters. They are reared as any large family would be reared.

As soon as funds are available, plans call for five more houses, a hospital and a school. At present they have a building that is similar to a gym for a meeting place.

Dwain Jones was the first boy in the home five years ago, when it was first opened.

The Home is supported by members of the Church of Christ, from all over the country.

Joe will start his second year at Abilene Christian College this fall. His majors are science education and art.
