

Lumberman Finds Public Conscious of Hidden Taxes

DALLAS, Nov. 30—The evidence of a nationwide awakening to what formerly was a restrained governmental spending must mean to the individual in terms of "paying the bills" was cited today by Arthur Temple of Texarkana, leading Texas lumberman, as a factor vitally affecting Texas' ambition for industrial growth.

Countless newspaper and magazine articles are filling in bringing to light so-called "hidden taxes," said Temple, "and in impressing the public with the proportionately enormous share of the burden this type of impost has to bear, regardless of the outward appearance of putting taxes only on business and big individual incomes."

The reason why government has to get so much via the hidden tax route is demonstrated by John T. Flynn, nationally famous author-economist, in a widely distributed newspaper series which reveals the utter impossibility of supporting government even for a year on a straight-out "soak the rich" basis, even when that scheme carried to an absurd extreme. Temple pointed out Flynn showed that, even if the government took 100 per cent of the incomes of all persons in the United States with incomes of $25,000 or over, it would collect only $4,970,000,000—less than one third the national tax intake of $15,000,000,000. Further confiscation of all incomes even above the modest $5,000-a-year level would net the government only about 10 billion, still $2,500,000,000 short of the actual take.

"So the bulk of revenue comes out of taxes that are added to the purchase price of things that everyone buys or rents," Temple said. "And it adds up, according to authoritative surveys, to an average of $123 out of a $1,000-a-year worker's income and about the same proportion 122 per cent represented by $618 out of the $5,000-a-year salaried man's income. There are cases where men in the $1,000 and $2,000 - a - year brackets contribute as much as 18 per cent of their income in taxes for which they get no receipt—and, until lately, no credit.

Studies of this type are concentrating attention on the fact that the little fellow should have and is coming to have, as vital an interest as the big corporation in seeking economy in government and a more "visible" taxation system. This despite the public's greater sympathy nowadays with expanding sociological functions of government, which are most often cited as the prime reason for tax increases.

"Reconciling the admittedly desirable growth—to a reasonable extent—of sociological functions of government with equally desirable tax relief seems to be the shining goal, nationally as well as in Texas. Efficiency and economy, along with better business, provide the only answer," Temple said. "and industry and business will be attracted to those areas where economy and efficiency dominate."

"Louisiana, which according to a recent report of the All-South Development Council, has attracted $36,000,000 in industries in the last year, has demonstrated what can be done by carefully weighing the effect of taxes on industrial growth, and having a program definitely encouraged and reassuring to business."

"Broadening government services seems to be here to stay. But there are many who feel the cost of these increasing demands is running unconsciously far ahead of the visible benefits. Here in Texas, for instance, while the population has increased seven per cent in 10 years, legislative appropriations in the same period have leaped 66 per cent.

"The staggering disparity in these percentages may give one clue to the unprecedented vigor of the demand for more economizing and less taxation that has made itself so manifest in recent months. Another is the fast-flowing realization that everybody pays."

THIS CRAZY WORLD

By J. A. WILSON

By J. A. Wilson,

"Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep you from the hour of temptation (or tribulation), which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth." Rev. 3:10.

I should like to express my appreciation of the kind expressions that have come to me for my feeble efforts in this series of articles. Of those whom we meet daily, some have been kind enough to remember. Those treasured preacher friends, among whom is my own brother who have been and are yet a great source of strength and blessing to me. Then comes a kind word from a dear friend out in the far west that our "broadcast" is coming in great. May God bless everyone in these hectic days.

No doubt some have called me radical and crack-brained, yet I find many, many really great Christians who view the signs of the time with great alarm on the one hand, but with victorious joy on the other, remembering the words of Jesus. "And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh." These words spoken to the Jews nearly two thousand years ago, now we see them gathering once more in the land of their inheritance to await their promised redemption after their greatest tribulation. But the Christian is promised safety from this great tribulation, Paul tells us how in 1st Thes. 4:14-18.

From the pen of that great old soldier of the Cross, Dr. H. C. Morrison, the Christian's resource in these last days, I quote:

"During these days which try the souls of men, when tragedies are coming so sudden and often, when unrest and dissatisfaction prevail, when the onrushing throngs are running to and fro seeking happiness, to the one who is fully surrendered to the compassionate love of the Almighty, whose hiding is in the cleft of the Rock of Ages, living or dying, has the pledge of Christ of a glorious resurrection, there is a place of safety."

During these days when timid and uncertain men are forsaking the old faith, and many a pulpit is giving an uncertain sound, when one is startled at the greed of men and the apparent loss of chastity by women, when brazen immodesty flaunts itself and the foundations of society seem to totter to their fall, there is a safe retreat for the humble soul it is found at the mercy seat. To the Word of God, to the Cross of Calvary to the upper room of pentecost, y heart-sick sons of men, there is cert, tainty, safety and rest.

In these days when multitudes are turning from the awful warnings in the Word of God, which assure us those who sin and die impenitent must suffer them comfort in sins, who are flocking to the standards of the destructive critics, who sneer at the eternal truths of the blessed Bible, who promise peace and rest in vagaries and changing theories which no use and no rest can be found, let us hark to the Word of God, to the altar of prayer, to the feet of the blessed Christ. There is truth, pardon rest for the soul, and eternal hope that penetrates beyond the storm clouds of today into the azure of eternal security and restfulness.

In these days of timidity and uncertainty in pulpits, of worldliness and fashion in homes, or rudeness and rioting in society and on the streets, of Sabbath desertion, revelry and sin, unbelief and fearless blasphemies, let us rally about the mourner's bench, cling to the dear old Bible. And let us preach the truth that kills sin. Let us exercise the faith that brings manifestations of supernatural power; let us witness the work of revivals in the tent, the brush arbor and the field. Let us press to battle in the neglected places. In these times there are thousands of souls who fair would find their way to Him who has promised to point them to Him who has promised to give them peace and rest to those who sit in His foot.

the souls draw to God.

to pray, to witness to the power of Christ to save the lost. The old-time religion is the world's greatest need; it alone can comfort and stay the hearts of men; it is our only hope. It satisfies, gives rest and assurance. It will stand the test of time and meet the issues of judgement triumphantly. The religion of the Bible that trusts in, enthrones, and worships Jesus Christ, means absolute safety for time and eternity."

One of the advantages of a sick spell to a busy man is that it allows him some time to think. The hours spent lying on one's back looking at the ceiling enables one to do some thinking that in the rush of business he has never found time to do. Many a man has completely changed his life's plan as a result of the pause for thought caused by a spell of sickness.

To have produced works of genius and to find them neglected or treated with scorn is one of the heaviest trials of human patience. We exaggerate our own merits when they are denied by others and are apt to grudge and cavil at every particle of praise bestowed on those to whom we feel a conscious superiority. In mere self-defense we turn against the world when it turns against us; brood over the undeserved slights we have received and thus the genial current of the soul is stopped.—Hazlitt: The Spirit of the Age.

Hazards Avoided From Gas By Precaution

Hazards to health from careless use of natural gas and also fires and accidents can be avoided by observing a few simple precautions, according to gas company officials. They explain that natural gas, with all the safeguards the gas companies have placed around it through their modern service, is perfectly safe under any reasonable handling. Open flame heaters can give excellent heating service when properly adjusted and protected but they can also cause unhealthy conditions as well as accidents. Families who huddle in one overheated room lay themselves liable to colds and even more serious diseases. If the open flame heater is turned up too high it will cause bad air in the room. Such heaters also should be protected with screen guards to prevent clothing, from swinging into the flame and to protect small children.

Keep curtains, draperies, and similar inflammable materials away from heaters and do not dry clothing near the heater. Wind may blow the material into the flame, or it may become overheated and ignite. Do not use gasoline, naphtha or benzine for cleaning. Use some of the safer solutions now obtainable and these out of doors during the day.

Avoid gas leaks by careful check of all stoves and outlets. If escaping gas is detected, close all gas valves and cocks, shut off gas at meter and open doors and windows. Notify the gas company or a licensed plumber at once and allow no flame of any kind to be brought near the leak until it has been repaired.

All heating equipment should be inspected and adjusted by reliable firms or individuals known to be qualified experts. No one but licensed plumbers and gas experts should connect gas appliances.

Gas heaters should be attached to gas outlets with rigid metal pipe and screw connections. Loose gas cocks should be made tight or replaced. If flexible tubing is used, it should be gas tight, as the rubber dries out and causes small cracks not discernable to the eye. Gas should always be turned off at the wall as well as at the appliance. If a heater or range is moved from one room to another that the old connection is properly always make sure it is properly closed or sealed.

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL

Limited Powers

Why does our Constitution grant only limited powers to our government?

After fighting for and winning their independence from arbitrary English rule, the American Colonies undertook to set up a form of federal government for themselves that would protect them forever from the oppression of an all-powerful government. This was the prime reason for incorporating in our Constitution the principle of dividing the government into three separate and independent branches—the legislative (Congress), the executive (the President) and the judicial (the Supreme Court and other federal courts).

While ratification of our Constitution was pending Washington, who had been chairman of the Constitutional Convention, wrote: "My creed is simply that the general government is not invested with more powers than are indispensably necessary to perform the functions of a good government; and consequently, that no objection ought to be made against the quantity of power delegated to it; that those powers, . . . are so divided among the legislative, executive and judicial branches, . . .

into which the general government is arranged, that it can never be in danger of degenerating into a monarchy, an oligarchy, an aristocracy, or any other despotic or oppressive form, so long as there shall remain any virtue in the body of the people.

"It will at least be a recommendation to the . . . constitution, that it is provided with more checks and barriers against the introduction of tyranny, and those of a nature less liable to be surmounted, than any government hitherto instituted among mortals hath possessed."

THE REST OF THE RECORD

By James V. Allred

One or Two-House Legislature?
AUSTIN—Judging from my mailbag the most popular question of the month is this: "Would the one-house legislature remedy the evils of the present two-house system?"

A great majority of those writing me think it would. Others while admitting the deficiencies of the present legislature ask pertinent questions about the unicameral (one-house) legislature. Senator George Norris of Nebraska, father of the unicameral plan, has answered these questions in a speech printed in the Congressional Record.

The questions given below are typical of those in letters to me. The answers are those of Senator Norris as taken from his speech.

1. Isn't the one-house legislature more representative of the people than the present system?

"The adoption of a one-house legislature is a progressive step toward greater democracy. The idea of the present two-branch legislature was copied from England. One of these branches—the House of Commons represented the common people; the other branch—the House of Lords—represented the aristocracy, men of wealth. The original idea was that the monarchy needed a house of lords to protect one class against the inroads of another. It has no place in a democratic form of government where class distinction has been abolished. The great wonder is that it has been maintained so long that it has been maintained so long in a democracy like ours.

"The two-house legislature must be condemned as out of date and permitting the control of legislation by special interests which through the instrumentality of shrewd paid lobbyists are able to defeat the will of the people at every session of a legislature consisting of two houses."

2. Isn't it easier for the lobbyists to control a one-house legislature than both the house and senate?

"The reverse is absolutely true. The professional lobbyist would find his occupation gone, because his success depends upon his ability to assist the unworthy legislator to make such a record that his constituents cannot easily determine just what it is. This is also shown by the fact that in any attempt to adopt a one-house legislature, the proposition is always bitterly fought by trusts, monopolies, lobbyists, and special interests.

"In a one-house legislature, where one member of the body has the right to secure a roll call on every vote, it is impossible for anything to be done in secret. Every act of the legislature and every act of each individual must be transacted in the spotlight of publicity.

"In a two-house legislature, with its necessary conference committee, all kinds of opportunities are offered to perform public business in secret and to cover up the record so the people will not know just who is to blame for the defeat of good laws or for the inclusion of jokers."

"In a one-house legislature, the faithful servant would find his record understood by his people, and it would be impossible for the unworthy legislator to cover up his tracks. No legislation will take place in the dark. There will be no item of legislation without a public record. Legislative matters will be so simplified that the ordinary person will see through them and understand them perfectly. The people would be able without any difficulty, to punish and reward according to the record."

3. What are the evils of the free conference committee under the present two-house system and will the unicameral plan remedy such evils.

"A bill to become law in a two-house legislature must pass both branches in exactly the same form. Where there is a disagreement between the two houses, it is referred to a conference committee. This committee is more powerful in all matters referred to it than either house."

"Its meetings are held in secret; there is no such thing as a roll-call vote; and there is no record of its proceedings. A bill, once referred to a conference committee, cannot be come a law unless it is agreed to by a majority of the conferees representing each house.

"Thus, it is within the power of the committee, in secret and without a record vote, and without any public record whatever, to absolutely prevent legislation, and to kill or to modify, at its pleasure, any proposed legislation within its jurisdiction.

"If a report is agreed to, it is then reported to the house and to the senate, and the bill thus reported cannot be amended. It must either be accepted as a whole or rejected in its entirety. Thus, members of the senate and the house are compelled, without an opportunity to offer amendments, to vote for or against the conference bill as a whole. In order to get the good they must accept bad. If they think the bad predominates then, in order to reject the bad. If they think the bad predominates, then, in order to reject the bad, they must likewise reject the good.

(Note: The outstanding example of this evil occurred in 1933 when the free conference committee tacked on to the departmental appropriation bill the rider authorizing race track gambling which had not been considered.)

"It must be understood in considering this question, that special interests, corporations and monopolies are not as a rule interested in securing the passage of legislation. They are almost universally interested in preventing legislation—which in one way or another regulates their activities and prevents injustice by means of monopolistic control.

"In order to prevent passage of legislation it is not necessary to control both the house and the senate. It is only necessary to control one house or to control the conference committee, or to control members of the conference committee from either house.

"Nothing of this kind could happen in a one-house legislature for there will be no such thing as a conference committee."

4. Would the unicameral system be less expensive to the taxpayers than the two-house system?

"There are a hundred different ways and means by which the one-house legislature will be much less expensive than a two-house legislature. We could increase the individual salary of the member and yet in the aggregate save a great amount of money in salaries alone. Logrolling, delays, and deadlocks (which are expensive procedures) between the two houses cannot occur."

What do you think?

LOCAL FSA SUPERVISOR GIVEN FDA WORK HERE

Direction of farm debt adjustment work is now in the hands of the local staff of the Farm Security Administration, in place of an itinerant supervisor who visited the county once a month. It was announced by R. E. Skipworth, county supervisor. He will handle the work jointly with the volunteer debt adjustment committee of the county.

Farmers who need help with their debts, whether they are to borrow from the Farm Security Administration or not, are eligible for this help, the supervisor said, and should come to his office to make application for this service. The committee will function as it has in the past, and farmers may contact these committeemen at any time but are particularly invited to attend the monthly meeting held in Knox County at Benjamin, at the Court House, 11-29-37, at 3:30 P. M.

A small group of FDA specialists has been retained by the regional office for advisory work, and will spend a week at a time in each district to help with acute cases and with cases involving a great amount of technical assistance. This service is also available to farm creditors who believe an arbitrator can help clear up delinquent indebtedness.

This group was set up by order of the President for the purpose of bringing financial advice to farm debtors and creditors, in an effort to help avoid so many foreclosures. "We are no more interested in helping the farmer who is in distress than we are the farm creditors," the supervisor explained. "This is not a movement to help farmers avoid honest debts, but an effort to help sincere farmers and creditors work out new terms whereby the farmer will not lose his working capital and yet satisfy the creditors. This help does not cost either party anything."

Announcing TWO NEW FORD V-8 CARS FOR 1938

THE DE LUXE
85 HORSEPOWER

DE LUXE FORD V-8... 112" wheelbase; 85-horsepower engine; Improved Easy-Action Safety Brakes; Center-Poise Ride; All-steel body; Mohair or Broadcloth upholstery; Walnut-finished trim; Twin horns, tail lights, sun visors; Clock; 6.00" black tires, white side-walls are extra; 8 body types; 6 colors.

THE STANDARD
60 OR 85 HORSEPOWER

STANDARD FORD V-8... 112" wheelbase; 85 or 60 horsepower engine; Improved Easy-Action Safety Brakes; Center-Poise Ride; All-steel body; Broadcloth or Mohair upholstery, Mohair extra in "60"; Mahogany-finished trim; One tail light, sun visor; Twin horns; 3 body types; 3 colors.

1938 Ford V-8 Standard Tudor Sedan

MOST popular of all the Ford V-8 body types is the standard Tudor sedan, shown above. A longer hood, more sweeping lines and newly-designed front end, grille, louvers, fenders and hubcaps are featured. The car is available either with 85 horsepower or 60 horsepower V-8 engine. Interiors are attractively appointed. The front seat is full width. The seat back is divided. The sections are hinged diagonally and swing inward as they are tipped forward so as to leave a wide passageway on either side for entrance to the rear seat. Like all Ford body types the Tudor sedan has a large built-in luggage compartment. The standard cars are engineered for owners who demand the maximum of economy in first cost and operating cost.

FORD offers two new cars for 1938—the Standard Ford V-8 and the De Luxe Ford V-8. They are different in appearance—but built to the same high standard of mechanical excellence—on the same chassis.

Because people liked our 1937 car so well, they bought more than of any other make. They liked its looks, its smooth performance, and the way it handled. We have improved on that car in the newly styled Standard Ford V-8.

But some folks wanted still more size and style, with the same Ford advantages. For them, we designed a new De Luxe line. • The De Luxe Ford V-8 Sedans are longer with more room, larger luggage space, and finer appointments all around.

De Luxe cars are equipped with the 85-horsepower engine only.

The Standard is even lower priced than the De Luxe. It has graceful new lines and well-tailored interiors—with a choice of engine sizes—85 or 60 horsepower.

Before Ford made V-type 8-cylinder engines available to every one, they were used only in expensive cars. Since then, four million Ford owners have learned the genuine enjoyment of driving an eight-cylinder car with all-around economy. The thrifty "60" engine, especially, makes possible in Standard models a very low first cost and equally low operating cost. With two distinct designs, two engine sizes and two price ranges, you'll find a 1938 Ford car to fit your needs exactly.

PRICES FOR CARS DELIVERED IN DETROIT—TAXES EXTRA

Standard Ford V-8 (60 hp.)—Coupe, $599; Tudor, $644; Fordor, $689. Standard Ford V-8 (85 hp.)—Coupe, $629; Tudor, $669; Fordor, $714. De Luxe Ford V-8 (85 hp., only)—Coupe, $669; Tudor, $729; Fordor, $774; Convertible Coupe, $774; Club Coupe, $749; Convertible Club Coupe, $804; Phaeton, $824; Convertible Sedan, $904.

Standard and De Luxe cars equipped with bumpers, bumper guards, spare wheel, tire, tube, tire lock and band, cigar lighter, twin horns, and headlight beam indicator on instrument panel, at no extra charge.

In addition, De Luxe cars are equipped with extra tail light, windshield wiper, sun visor; also de luxe steering wheel, glove compartment lock, clock, and chrome wheel bands, at no extra charge.

Saturday, December 4th

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL

by MAX BERNIS

Independence of Congress

Why does our Constitution give the legislative or law-making power to Congress only and make Congress separate from and independent of the President?

Andrew Jackson once said, "It was a leading object with the framers of the Constitution to keep as separate as possible the action of the legislative and executive branches of the government. To secure this object, nothing is more essential than to preserve the former from all temptations of private interest, and therefore so to direct the patronage of the latter as not to permit such temptations to be offered. Experience abundantly demonstrates that every precaution in this respect is a valuable safeguard of liberty, and... my reflections incline me to think should be made still stronger... by giving the law-making power to Congress alone (Article I) and by making Congress independent of the President and the Courts, our Constitution protects us against the autocratic concentration of power in one man or one group of men.

LUBBOCK, Tex., Dec. 2—Twenty-six civil engineering and R. O. T. C. students at Texas Technological College made an inspection trip to the $14,000,000 Conchas dam and reservoir project last week.

Situated a quarter of a mile below the confluence of the Conchas and Canadian rivers, between Tucumcari and Las Vegas, N. M., the concrete gravity dam, a WPA project, is being constructed for flood control, irrigation, and municipal water supply benefits. Work which is being done by U. S. army engineers, is under the direction of Capt. Hans Kramer, district engineer.

Accompanying the Tech group to Conchas were J. H. Murdough, head professor of civil engineering at the college; Capt. Frank A. Pettit, head of military science; and E. V. Middleton, civil engineering instructor.

Purpose of the trip was to familiarize civil engineering and ROTC students with the organization of a stupendous engineering project; with modern equipment used; and with the direction and care of a large corps of workers.

Do you like red fingernail polish? Slinky or frilled evening dresses? Tweeds and oxfords, or fur-trimmed suits and high-heeled slippers for school wear? These are other questions on women's wear will be posited in an effort to get a cross section of masculine opinion.

LUBBOCK, Tex., Dec. 1—A battered old bugle, found recently under the floor of a Fort Stockton house which was being renovated by Judge W. C. Jackson, has been loaned to the West Texas museum, situated at Texas Technological College campus.

dainty ears from chill north winds of the West Texas steppes.

Whether this style is copied from rebobos of Mexican Indians in a neighboring state or from the Lithuanians "namitka" is not known, but the reds, bright greens, yellows, blues, and violets, favorite colors of both "namitkas" and rebobos, are also favored by Tech coeds.

LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov.—Three draft mares, two perfectly matched Belgian grays and a gray Percheron, have just been purchased by the animal husbandry department at Texas Technological College. They will be used in class instruction and for general farm work, according to W. L. Stangel, head professor.

LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov.—Anticipating lean years for livestock, Texas Technological College division of agriculture is constructing an oval feed barn, in which roughage and heads may be stored and preserved indefinitely. The barn will also be used for storing implements.

"I never expect to live through another 1934," W. L. Stangel, animal husbandry department head, said, when there were livestock to be fed but no feed.

Five storage bins, each containing from 500 to 100 bushels of grain are already in use.

The 1750 building, 40 by 100 feet, is of superior construction, having a heavy ridgepole through the center of the slanted roof, instead of being of the usual two-semicircular type is constructed of hoop rafters with sheet iron covering.

Ichabod Crane in Swing Ferde Grofe's Next Theme

By Joseph R. Filesler

They're saying the mantle of George Gershwin will descend on the broad shoulders of Ferde Grofe, master arranger, conductor, composer and instrumentalist. They're saying that because Grofe leaped into fame as the arranger of Rhapsody in Blue, which definitely established the late George Gershwin as a master of modern music.

But Grofe, who in his original composition seems destined to glorify modern America, has turned back to the Legend of Sleepy Hollow as the subject of his next symphonic work. Grofe, the composer, has been a distinguished member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) for many years. Grofe, the conductor, has wielded the baton from Carnegie Hall to the Hollywood Bowl, as well as over many radio orchestras. Grofe, the instrumentalist, has been heard frequently on the piano. Grofe, the master arranger, brought vivacity and endurance to Rhapsody in Blue, Avon, Whispering, Japanese Sandman and many other jazz compositions.

The accompanying illustrations show Grofe conducting a rehearsal at the Lewisohn Stadium in New York City of the enormously successful concert in memory and honor of George Gershwin, who was also a member of ASCAP. Grand Canyon Suite, Mississippi Suite, Hollywood Suite, Knute Rockne, Three Shades of Blue, Tablô and many other modern orchestral compositions attest Grofe's as a composer. He comes of a musical family and in his youth labored as a truckman, book-binder and pianist in order to continue his musical education.

Santa Fe spends $125 million .. in Eleven States!

The Santa Fe, in 1936, paid out more than 125 millions of dollars for materials and supplies, fuel, wages and salaries, and other items of operating expense, in the eleven states in which it operates. The amount assignable to each state was as follows:

Illinois	$ 8,600,282	Louisiana	$ 137,989
Iowa	1,086,406	Colorado	4,865,701
Missouri	8,197,033	New Mexico	15,111,396
Kansas	27,069,366	Arizona	12,919,152
Oklahoma	9,606,664	California	21,251,768
Texas	16,216,061	Total	$125,061,818

From 1927 to 1936, inclusive, the monies disbursed by the Santa Fe in these states for operating expenses totaled $1,350,499,728.

This average annual expenditure of more than 135 millions of dollars over the past decade, devoted entirely to the purchase of goods and services, has been of inestimable value in promoting local industry and trade; and in providing varied employment for thousands of persons, throughout Santa Fe territory.

Picture News

Off the fire, on the table goes the new cooking and serving dish, one of an attractive set, designed in stainless steel by silver-smiths. You cook in it and serve from it, piping hot. The special tray which keeps the heat off the table is red or ivory plaid. The whole set nests into itself and takes up no room.

Drawing room? No—cellar. The modern cellar is no longer a cave of horrors and dust. Usually following the installation of an automatic heating system, the cellar is reclaimed and becomes an important and delightful room in this sports and game room, the oil furnace is barely seen at left edge of picture. Twenty per cent of usable space can thus be added to an average home.

Even in autumn, flowers are being prepared for our next summer's gardens. David Burpee, seen at mid left, countless acres of sweet peas, in a California test farm, is puzzled to select breeding specimens. Flower fans mobbed Burpee in New York in November, when 3,000 came to hear him talk on new flowers for 1938. Petunias and marigolds, he said, will be important.

Prize winning crochet design in a Newark contest leading up to the National Crochet Contest, this cloth of Mrs. M. Murphy's was much admired. Mrs. Murphy works in the great Clark thread mills in Newark and presumably knows her cotton crochet.

What's this got to do with the home? Lots! City of New York weights and measures men in a specially designed truck test the scales which weigh your coal and other home purchases. Short weight is a constant menace and now the subject of a national campaign. Truck officials at Ardmore, Penn., have sold many of these trucks lately to municipalities.

THANKSGIVING

What is Thanksgiving? Most people might think that it is just another holiday set aside for some reason. You might think that it is set aside to eat good things and to bring a nice, big fat turkey out of the oven with all the "trimmings". Most people give little thought to what Thanksgiving is really set aside for. It is not just another holiday, as most of us would term it. School boys and girls look forward to this day as a vacation from school. It is a day that turkey is the national dish, and that most of us have good things to eat along with "making merry" and having a good time.

Where did Thanksgiving originate?

There are very few of us who have given this much thought. Long ago, when the first settlers came to America they thrived and grew happy. They wanted to show God their appreciation of having been able to exist and to prosper. Therefore, they set aside a day and dedicated it to Thanksgiving. America still recognizes Thanksgiving, and she still strives to honor and uphold it.

A person once said, "If we would take twenty minutes of our time at the close of day and examine ourselves, bringing back the memory of what we had done during the day, this would be a better place in which to live."

To me, that is the best policy that anyone could hope to strive for. If you would do this, you would find your own faults and mistakes, and would eventually find the better side of others. Down deep in your heart, you know that for every day that you live, you have something to be thankful for.

So you readily see that Thanksgiving is not just another day set aside for some purpose of which we know nothing. It is not a day of feasting and making merry. It is a day of worship. It is a day in which we can look back over the past and see what we have to be thankful for.

So, if you will take twenty minutes of your time to examine yourself and look back over the past, I am sure that you will find the world coming back at you with a brighter, more cheerful outlook and you will find in your friends, something that you have never observed before. You will find yourself more agreeable and more able to associate and cooperate with your fellow companions, making our great nation a better place in which to live.—Glenn Huntsman.

FIRST FORMAL FUNCTION OF THE YEAR

Tuesday night the Junior and Senior classes really "went to town." At the reception honoring the Seniors at the American Legion Hall all the girls blossomed out in their "glad rags," and the boys slicked-up until they didn't look like themselves. No one had honestly realized before what a simply beautiful group of girls and handsome group of boys we have, maybe we shouldn't go that far, but they did look real nice.

Everyone understood that this was intended to be a very elegant affair with much formality and pomp, and that was the way things began. The ice was soon broken, however, due in a great measure to the trucking of Mr. Shumaker and the dancing of the Charleston by Mrs. Baker. Such extraordinary talent among the faculty is seldom seen, but of course everyone knows that ours is an extraordinary faculty. Other impromptu performances were given by Mr. Roy Baker who gave the first and last piece he learned to play on the piano, The Death Scene from "The Witch" by Mr. Shumaker, and some excellent piano playing by Mr. Whit-

This is one affair that will linger in the minds of all who attended and probably some who didn't attend.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

The Third grade wish to thank all of our mothers for helping to make our Thanksgiving dinner a success. Several of our mothers were with us and their assistance was greatly appreciated.

The 3rd grade gave a short program during the course. The entire Class sang "A Child's Thanksgiving." Henry L. White told the story of the first Thanksgiving; Ken Frizzell told the story of "The Wonderful Gift" and La Rue Malouf gave a reading.

This concluded our unit on the study of foods. We wish everyone could have seen our food parade which was our class project during our study of the foods we eat.

LONE STAR CONFERENCE RUNNERS-UP

Outweighed 10 pounds to the man the light but plucky Eagles startled a record homecoming crowd of approximately 8,000 by holding the Lions scoreless, outplaying them roundly, and rolling up eight first downs to two for the Lions during the first half. The Lions, doped to win by two or three touchdowns, hit their stride in the second half for a 20-0 steam roller win, but despite this defeat, the Eagles remain runners-up in the Lone Star Conference.

KEEPING TAB ON THE EAGLES
 By Buddy Bumpas
 Senior Boys win after playing extra five minute quarter

The Sunset Eagles won two games over the Weinert Bulldogs, but the same night they dropped two games.

The Sunset "B" team, won the first game of the night, without many difficulties, by a margin of 19 to 14.

The "B" team has some good material, and Coach Kimbrough says if they will keep working they will get to enter some of the tournaments that will be given this year.

The Junior Boys dropped their game with a score of 10 to their opponents 16. The Juniors had a hard working team, but they were just too small for the large Weinert Pups.

In the third game, the Sunset Girls could not stop the large forwards from Weinert, although they fought hard. So the Girls lost by a score of 16 to 44. A few weeks ago the Sunset Girls best the Weinert Girls, so losing this game just evened things up.

The Sunset Senior Boys started their game off fine, and they were a great deal in the lead at the end of the first half. But, after loafing the third quarter of the game, they found themselves in a tie at the end of the game. But Captain Stogner and his Eagles made four points to their opponents two in the extra five minute quarter that was played. The Eagles won by a margin of 39 to 37.

The Eagles have not played a game on their home court, in the last week or so. So all you loyal Supporters come to their next game and give them plenty of backing.

TWO distinct lines of Ford V-8 cars are now being displayed in dealer showrooms. One is a newly-styled standard Ford line in three body types, the other a de luxe Ford line in eight body types. The de luxe Tudor sedan is pictured above. The de luxe sedans are larger in appearance, with longer hood and sweeping lines. The de luxe cars are powered with the 85 horsepower V-8 engine, the standard cars with either the 55 or the 60 horsepower engines. Newly-styled interiors are pictured at right. New instrument panel has instrument group in front of driver, grille for radio speaker installation in center, flanked by engine controls and clear lighter, and glove compartment at right. In the de luxe cars, the compartment locks, and a clock is recessed in the compartment door.

A headlight beam control is fitted on the toe-board, a tell-tale light on instrument panel indicates whether the headlight beams are raised or depressed.
