

BONDS DEFEATED

Petition Presented To Court Asking For Another Election

The road bond election held in this precinct last Thursday for the issuance of bonds in the amount of ten thousand dollars for the purpose of purchasing right of way for the paved road from Knox City to Munday was defeated by four votes, as it required a two-thirds majority for a bond issue. The vote in Knox City was 82 for and 40 against. The vote at Sunset was 35 for and 23 against.

This precinct normally has five hundred votes but from the vote Thursday the citizens were not interested in this election. A movement was started here Saturday afternoon and more than eighty names were signed to a petition asking the Commissioners' Court to order another election for this precinct as soon as possible. The plan has been changed somewhat and they are now asking for fourteen thousand dollars and are extending the boundary line through the entire precinct and will run from the east line near Munday to the bridge on the Brazos river west of Knox City. It is the intention to take the four thousand extra dollars and purchase the right of way from Knox City to the bridge west of town, thus giving the entire precinct the same road.

This bond issue is for the purpose of buying the right of way, as the state has already agreed to build a concrete road between Knox City and Munday. A great many of the voters did not understand the proposition and this was no doubt the cause of the light vote cast. It is the intention of the committee to inform the people as to plans of this election and then the people can vote as they desire. The election will specify that these bonds shall not draw more than three per cent interest and will be retired within ten years or sooner. This is the best proposition that has ever been offered Knox City and Munday in the way of road building and it is said that the issue will carry when the public is properly informed. The Commissioners' Court will meet in a short time and order the election and it will be published twenty days in the Knox County Herald and then the people will know exactly what they are voting on.

VISIT COLORADO STATE

Uncle Pete Moody and wife spent two days this week in the state of Colorado where they visited their daughter. He said they intended to spend several days there but a sandstorm approached there early Tuesday morning and they decided they had better rush back to Knox City where we do not have them. They made the trip of more than 450 miles in one day.

MRS. H. M. WARREN

Mrs. H. M. Warren died at the Family residence in Knox City Wednesday night and the funeral services will be held at the Methodist church here Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The body will be carried to Merkel where interment will be made at 4 p.m. A more definite mention will be made in next week's issue of the Herald.

TRUSCOTT H-D CLUB

For a comfortable bedroom it should be clean, it should have plenty of fresh air and sunshine, and it should have a pleasing atmosphere. Miss Astin told club members in an interesting and enlightening discussion of bedrooms and bedding at the Truscott Home Demonstration Club meeting on Thursday, March 9, in the home of Mrs. O. J. Witte.

Many of the club members were ill and were unable to attend the meeting, but it is hoped that all members will be present at the next meeting.

A dainty refreshment plate consisting of sandwiches, iced punch and cake was served to Mesdames Roy Browder, L. B. Galcom, Pete Williams, Preston Henry, Jack Whitaker, A. F. McMinn, Marion Chowning, Loyd Strange, O. J. Witte, E. G. Rudloff, B. L. Davis of Sealy and Miss Astin.

O. W. CAUSEY FOR ALDERMAN

Several friends of O. W. Causey called at our office this morning and authorized the Herald to announce him as a candidate for the office of City Alderman.

Mr. Causey is too well known to the voters of this town for the Herald to comment upon his qualifications. He is one of the outstanding business men of the town and has always taken a great interest in church and civic improvements. This is not a case of the man seeking the office, but is where his friends have drafted him. He will serve if elected and do everything possible for the advancement of Knox City.

FOR CITY MARSHAL

I wish to announce my candidacy for City Marshal. Your vote and influence will be appreciated, and if elected I will do my utmost to be honest and fair to all.

I hope my conduct as a citizen of Knox City will speak for itself. I have had some experience as an officer.

—J. O. COOK

He urges all those who contemplate buying a cream separator to call on the above date and see them demonstrated.

EXTORTIONIST GETS SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Fort Worth, March 15 — Clarence Gauntt, 18, pleaded guilty today to sending a Knox City merchant a threat letter demanding $2,000, and was fined $100 and given an 18 months suspended sentence.

The defendant, a farmer who lives in Haskell county, pleaded for mercy when he entered his plea before federal Judge T. W. Davidson.

"I have a wife and a five months' old baby and needed money badly. I would like another chance but I will take the sentence like the man that I should have been," he said. He admitted sending a letter to A. J. Malouf, threatening that unless the money was provided Malouf's youngest child "will never reach the age of 18."

MRS. EDWARDS CAPTAIN OF CANCER CONTROL

Mrs. T. S. Edwards of Knox City has been appointed captain for Knox county of the Women's Field Army for the Control of Cancer, state headquarters announced today.

She will have charge of the Army's forthcoming intensive campaign of education in the county. In each city in her territory she will select a lieutenant, and also she will appoint an executive committee composed of members of the county medical association.

The appointment was made by Mrs. Volney Taylor, of Brownsville, state commander of the Army. Mrs. Taylor is well known as the former president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Women's Field Army is a volunteer organization of clubwomen and others, and has as its purpose the spreading of calm and accurate knowledge concerning cancer.

Its slogan is "early cancer is curable; fight it with knowledge." However, it hopes eventually to establish several free cancer clinics in Texas.

NEW MANAGER FOR CASH FOOD STORE

Jack Benton, who has been connected with the Cash Food Store for several months, was elevated to manager the first of the week succeeding Hayden Fortenberry, who assumed charge some months ago when Sollock and Son of Rule purchased the business from Alexander of Olney.

Jack was reared here and is well known to the citizenship of this trade territory. He spent about four years with the Red and White Grocery here that was operated by Ansel Waldrip, and is a successful young business man. His many friends are congratulating him upon being selected manager, and wish him much success.

The proclamation by the mayor will soon be issued, giving the date the campaign will open.

Mrs. J. W. Carver and daughter, Inez, returned last week from a three months vacation spent in California with relatives and friends.

The directors of the O'Brien Cooperative Gin Co. on Saturday, March 11, distributed to their shareholders their annual dividend on the 1938 ginning season, amounting to $13,304.00.

This gin entered the year of 1938 clear of debt, and during the season ginned 3,798 bales of cotton. From this patronage it was able to pay its expenses and pay its shareholders $3.40 per bale.

This gin was organized and built in the spring of 1928 by its present manager, S. N. Reed, at a cost of $37,000, and was financed by the local community credit. Only $1,500 was paid in actual cash on the corporate stock. The gin began its operation in the fall of 1928 with Grover C. Jordan as manager, and began from the start to liquidate its purchase price. Mr. Jordan remained with the gin for several years, and at the annual meeting in 1935 S. N. Reed was elected manager and has operated it since that time.

The ginning season of 1935 resulted in the completion of the payment of the entire indebtedness, and a 25% dividend was declared and paid at that time.

In 1936 the corporation sold its entire interest to the O'Brien Cooperative Gin Co. for $15,000, at which time the new ownership surrendered its corporate charter and secured a charter from the state embodying the cooperative features of operation, and secured the funds with which to meet the purchase price by pledging the property for the purchase price. The gin also paid a dividend on the 1936 ginning of 1,573 bales of cotton amounting to $3.00 per bale, this being its first year of operation under its new charter and its first dividend under cooperative management and operation.

In 1937 the management decided they could pay the indebtedness of the gin. This they did during the ginning season, and no dividend was paid that year.

The outstanding success of this enterprise is due to efficient management and to the loyalty of its shareholders—farmers of the community. The gin is now out of debt and has a bright future for service to the community.

THINKING OUT LOUD

(By Lynn Landrum in Dallas News)

Out of Politics, Eh?

Don't be deluded by the hope that if we put something into the Constitution we get it out of politics. The old age pension was put into the Constitution. Is it in politics now? You know the answer.

Now they are telling us that if we put the tax that is to support the pension into the Constitution there will be no more politics connected with it. Don't you believe it.

If a flour salesman can ride one pension amendment into office, putting another pension amendment in the Constitution won't prevent a shoe-string peddler or a lightning rod salesman from riding that into office later on. As long as there are gimmecrats left, somebody will offer to trade them a place at the public trough for their votes.

Direct Democracy

What Governor O'Daniel and others are doing, of course, is to confront representative democracy with direct democracy. When you vote legislation into the Constitution, naturally, you are legislating yourself. Your vote at the ballot box does the enacting. You are expressing your choice directly, instead of through a member of the Legislature, as the Constitution itself intends the normal process to be.

In effect, we are using the amendment process as a sort of referendum and initiative arrangement. The initiative is a proposal in somebody's floursaxophone platform and the referendum is in the vote for a constitutional amendment.

The outcome of this is twofold. The first

REG'LAR FELLERS

Jimmie Knows

By Gene Byrnes

is that the prestige of the Legislature is lowered. The second is that the restraining influence of the Constitution becomes less and less. Advocates of direct democracy think that the outcome is a fine thing. Do you?

Let The People Rule

How much do you know about taxation? How much have you studied it? Can you name all the taxes which you yourself are paying right now? Would you represent yourself as qualified to be tax advisor to a great corporation or estate?

Now, if you happen to be an average citizen—which means that you don't really know beans about taxation—how can you be competent to vote on the best way to raise revenue for paying the old age pension? As a matter of fact, you probably aren't competent.

The designers of our representative form of government never contemplated that you would be periodically addressed from a complicated funnel in your living room hooked up to a socket in your wall and—after hearing a conglomeration of Home-Sweet-Home, neighbors-come-to-see-me, Sweet-Hour-of-Prayer, transaction-tax, All-to-Him-I-O-we, pensions-on-the-half-shell, God-Will-Take-Care-of-You—that you would be expected to legislate in minute detail about the affairs of your government. The thing is still pretty amazing, now that we have it thrust at us every Sunday morning. Isn't it?

Passing the Buck

It is the business of the Governor to recommend a tax—if we have to have a tax—that is workable. Governor O'Daniel has merely passed the buck to the Legislature. The Legislature cooks up a sales tax, calls it a retail transaction tax and passes the buck back to the Governor.

And here is what is practically sure to come of it—the Governor and the Legislature will get together and frame an amendment and pass the buck right on to you.

If you vote for the amendment that comes of their collective unwisdom, yours is the responsibility. If you vote against it, you are still responsible and these gentlemen who are paid to do the legislating will actually make a merit of shifting it off onto you. They call it letting the people rule.

Irresponsibility

We are reducing representative government to a deplorable reductio ad absurdum. A bell-hop in the Legislature is not a real representative; he is just a bell-hop. That's all. Not all our legislators are bell-hops but too many of them are. You know it. They know it. Everybody knows it.

No wonder law-making is so largely without respect. No wonder we no longer honor the office of Governor as formerly we did. Officials who won't stand squarely behind their own best judgment and back it up, don't deserve respect. Public servants who crawl under the amendatory provisions of the Constitution and pull a joint resolution up over their heads haven't the nerve or the intellectual resources to function as they should in the public service.

Certainly, we do have to amend the Constitution now and then. There is no quarrel about that. But if you took our Constitution and deleted all really statutory provisions, the rest would look like Hitler in Goering's pants. Many of these provisions were put in to ham-string a carpetbag Legislature and a Governor in cohorts with the carpetbaggers. We had come in 1875 to have reason to distrust the Legislature. But nowadays the Legislature distrusts itself!

NO GOLD IN RAINBOWS

The editor of the Newhall, California, Signal recently said: 'A business man told us yesterday that he gave himself just two more years and then he was going to invite the state and federal government in to run his business and to make their own levies out of their own deficits!'

There's as much truth as cynical humor in that. We have had ten years of depression, broken by spasmodic intervals of a little recovery. We have been told over and over by men high in government that a balanced budget without further increases in taxes would soon be attained. And we have witnessed government expenses constantly grow, not lessen, and the national debt soar to undreamed of levels.

It is argued that the United States could, if necessary, carry and eventually amortize an eighty or hundred billion dollar debt. Perhaps it could—if the people are willing to lower their standard of living in order to pay more and more of their earnings and wages to government. Perhaps it could—if business and industry are to simply stagger along on a hand to mouth basis, buying only what is absolutely needed to keep plants running.

We have heard so much of taxation in recent years that many of us have become bored with it. But that's the worst mistake we can make. Your job, your home, your business, your investments, your savings—taxation and fiscal policy vitally affect them all. We've been criminally careless in permitting taxes and debt to rise without question—and we're going to pay the bill.

Government can retrench and cut costs and start toward a balanced budget—if public opinion forces the issue. It's up to us all.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS . . .
By Boyce House

Apocryphal "oldest joke" contest, someone sends in this rhyme:

Whatever trouble Adam had
No man in days of yore
Could say, when Adam
Cracked a joke,
"I've heard that one

Among the most ancient is the story of the negro who was about to be hanged. Thousands were assembled about the scaffold. "Have you got anything you want to say?" the sheriff asked. And the condemned man replied, "Jest this, white folks; this shore am gwine to be a lesson to me."

Do you know where Hickory Grove is? If not, Jerry Sadler will be glad to describe the exact location of the town in which he was born. The Railroad Commissioner says, "It is south of Denson Springs, north of Red Prairie, east of Stuck-back and west of Blackjack—to be exact, it's 21 miles due east of the depot at Palestine."

About ben Adem said, "Write me down as one who loves his fellow man." Because E. C. Stovall of Graham likewise is one who loves humanity, a modern health resort has developed near the little town of South Bend in Young County. When an oil gusher on his land changed overnight into a sulphur water gusher, Stovall found that the water had remarkable curative qualities so he built a bathhouse for his own use. Noticing one morning that tracks led away from the building, he saw that others were making use of the water so he erected a larger bathhouse and, making no charge, gave two boys the towel concession in return for running the place.

From that modest beginning a resort hotel costing perhaps $50,000 has been constructed and, last year, there were 30,000 who bathed in the hot, curative waters. Feeling that the waters are God-given, the philanthropist has not sought to profit and, where a person is too poor to pay even the nominal charge, he is welcome to bathe without cost. Visitors came last year from almost every state and from several foreign countries.

With perhaps 75 per cent of the newspapers, big and little, opposed to the fair trades and anti-discrimination bills, sentiment against the measures is growing in both Houses as citizens from small towns and rural communities write in. A small group of legislators actively for the bills were pledged early by merchants who thought the measures would benefit them but some of those business men are now becoming doubtful that it would be advantageous to place in the hands of manufacturers the power to dictate the price that housewives of Texas must pay. Those out-of-state manufacturers might take it into their heads to jump prices on their products 10 or 20 per cent overnight and thereby levy a tribute on Texas running into millions of dollars annually. A valiant fight against the price-fixing measures is being waged in the House by three representatives from widely separated points—Abe Mayes of Atlanta, Harold Hankamer of El Paso and Jim Taylor of Kerens.

Here and there over Texas: Congratulations to Texas on the selection of Mrs. Leslie Dean Robertson of Rising Star as poet laureate of the state. She is a genuine poet and a genuine personality. This columnist was years ahead of the Legislature in recognizing Mrs. Robertson's poetic ability. Anyone sufficiently interested can delve into the files of the old Fort Worth Record and find an article with this writer's "by-line" in which Mrs. Robertson was proclaimed "poet laureate of the oil fields."

Grady Owen, a long-time friend of your favorite writer (I hope), has entered the practice of law in Dallas. His has been a varied career; farmboy, school teacher, track coach, World War veteran and attorney. Owen was assistant county attorney at Denton under Alvin Owsley, now United States minister to Denmark. It was Owens privilege also to study law in the famous "inns of court" in London. He was assistant district attorney in Eastland county and assisted in the Santa Claus bank robbery cases.

Later, he served two terms as district attorney and did something unheard of in Texas, convicted a man twice for the same offense—at least that's what the Supreme Court said in setting aside the same verdict. The circumstances were that a man had been robbed with firearms and, during the robbery, he was killed, so Owen prosecuted the defendant first for robbery and then for murder. Probably his most unusual case was an insurance suit: A farmer, who had been in poor health and had taken out a policy a short time before, was found dead—dangling from a barn rafter with a wire noose around his neck. Owen proved that the death was accidental and collected double indemnity.

RECEIVES MERIT AWARD

The Texas Highway Department has announced that J. F. Nance, of Knox City, and A. F. Bivins and Byron T. House, of Benjamin, were included in the list of Truck Drivers receiving Certificate of Merit from Mr. Julian Montgomery, State Highway Engineer.

To qualify for this Certificate of Merit, a Truck Driver must operate his truck for a full year without being involved in any accident. Even a minor mishap, such as bruising a finger while loading or unloading a truck disqualifies a driver for this certificate.

The Department is trying to set an example for safe operation of vehicles on the highways, as a contribution to the national safety campaign to reduce automobile accidents. Experience has shown that safety and efficiency are closely related and the Department is very proud of the record of these men.

FILM SHOWS JESSE AS HE REALLY WAS

Jesse James was a God-fearing man who carried a bible, prayed for guidance, and never drew his six-shooter except in self defense.

That unfamiliar picture of the notorious outlaw was told for motion picture director Henry King by old-timers in the Missouri Ozarks who once knew the James brothers.

King was in the Ozarks seeking locales for the Darryl F. Zanuck production, "Jesse James," the 20th Century-Fox Technicolor epic of the most colorful desperado who ever lived, which stars Tyrone Power, Henry Fonda, Nancy Kelly and Randolph Scott at the Roxy Theatre, Munday, on March 19 and 20.

"Those who knew him or heard about him as youngsters," said director King, "believe that Jesse James was driven to a life of crime by the persecution of enemies, and that the efforts of unscrupulous railroad officials to steal his mother's farm at Sedalia, Missouri, for a right-of-way, started him on his bloody trail of banditry.

"In the film we do not glorify him; neither do we picture him as entirely black. We have tried to respect the judgment of historians, without forgetting what those mountain people who were Jesse James' sworn friends thought of him."

ONE THOUSAND CASES OF INFLUENZA IN TEXAS

Austin, Mar. 15.—The first week of March showed 1,000 cases of influenza in Texas. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statement on the disease.

"In its present form the symptoms may range from a common cold to high fever, back ache and prostration. However pneumonia as a complication represents a real hazard and it is well known pneumonia is an exceedingly dangerous disease. The remedy is to go to bed upon the first appearance of the cold and remain there until advised by a physician before one can safely get out of it.

"Everyone should realize that in its lightest form influenza can very easily become a serious matter. Prevention is far better than cure and the careful observance of a few common-sense rules will help strengthen one's resistance to an attack of influenza. Some of these rules are:

- "(1) So far as possible avoid contact with members of families with colds or influenza.
- "(2) Keep the feet dry.
- "(3) Wash the hands before meals.
- "(4) Avoid unnecessary fatigue.
- "(5) See that your alimentary system is regular in action."

By Boat and Car They Flock To Fair

CHOSEN BEST HATTED

Grover Whalen, pres., N. Y. World's Fair, 1939.

Fred Astaire, stage and screen star.

To be well-hatted on all occasions, both social and business, American haters say that a man should own twelve hats. With this in mind, they recently picked twelve men in the United States whom they consider the best hatted.

The twelve are: Marshall Field, Chicago merchant, banker and sportsman; Jack Dempsey, New York, former heavyweight champion; Herbert Bayard Swope, New York Journalist and president of the New York State Racing Commission; Adolphus Busch, 3d, St. Louis, sportsman; Grover A. Whalen, president of the New York World's Fair 1939; William Gaston, New York, musical comedy star; Tyrone Power, Hollywood, movie star; James Melton, New York, radio and screen singer; Bing Crosby, Hollywood, radio and screen star; Fred Astaire, New York and Hollywood, stage and movie star; Robert (Bob) Cobb, owner of Hollywood's Brown Derby restaurants, and vice president of the Hollywood Baseball Club; and Frank M. Chapman, Jr., Hollywood, singer and movie star.

The twelve hats decreed by the haters for the well-groomed man's wardrobe are the high silk, the folding opera, the black or midnight blue soft hat, the derby, the homburg, the snap brim, the off-the-face, the lightweight felt, the sports hat or Tyrolean, the straw sailor, the panama, and the semi-sport straw.

THE JUNIORS PRESENT "THREE DAYS OF GRACE"

The Junior class will present its annual play, which is "Three Days of Grace," at the Sunset High School auditorium Friday night, March 17, at 8 o'clock. The admission will be 15c and 25c. The play is very interesting and no one should miss it. Following are short speeches by characters:

Cornie (Katie Bell Sweatt): I've ridden a razor back horse thirty miles and I actually grew to the beast!

Babs (LaVerne Bumpas): Huh! For that matter there's another man you can sharr...

Annabel (Margaret Hardin): Oh, Grace, I thought you said Osgood would propose to me.

Liz (Cleta Jones): He will so. I hung a love charm around my neck; a little sack of cherry pits. Hits a shore charm.

Newt (Louis Herring): Go get my blunderbus! I'll shoot a hole in your new beau sweet-heart big enough to throw a rock through.

Dewey (Howard Myers): Well, tear me down and rip me up! They're falling for that fatuous fathead from just looking at his picture.

Osgood (Cecil Joe Burton): Now! If you were only nearer my ace and if your name were Bedelia!

Spud (Claude Harrisor): It's a crazy idea. What athlete would agree to dress up like a girl?

Ma Hawson (Virginia Parkhill): Twenty years ago you asked me to marry you. Well, I air a little late with my answer, but here it is. Hits yes.

Steve (Howard Shannon): May we come in, Mr. Brooke? We want to see the girls. Well, shut my mouth, if it isn't old Thor, god of thunder!

Bill (Joe Tom Nelson): My gosh! Refused by two different women in one day. I can't understand it.

Grace (Juanita Hunter): You're marvelous. Weally you are! I've heard all about your wonderful football batting. You're a full front, aren't you?

THE TEXAS FLAG The description and Rules for its use.

Note: This material was taken from "The Texas Flag," written by Wylie A. Parker, principal of the Forrest Avenue High School, Dallas. The rules were adopted by the regular session of the forty-third Legislature.

The Texas Flag is an emblem of four sides, and four angles of 90 degrees each. It is a rectangle having its width equal to two-thirds of its length. The flag is divided into three equivalent parts, called bars or stripes, one stripe being blood red, one white and the other azure blue. These stripes are rectangles also, and they are exact duplicates of one another in every respect. The width of each stripe is equal to one half of its length, or one third of the flag, while the length of each stripe is equal to the width of the flag, or two thirds of the length of the emblem.

One end of the flag is blue, and it is called the flag's right. This stripe is a perpendicular bar next to the staff or hal-yard, and it is attached by means of a heading made of strong and very durable material. The remaining two thirds of the flag is made up of two horizontal bars of equal width, one being white and one red, and this end of the emblem is called the flag's left. Each one of the stripes is perpendicular to the blue stripe, and when the flag is displayed on a flagpole or staff, or flat on a plane surface, the white stripe should always be at the top of the flag, with the red stripe directly underneath it. Thus, each stripe of the Texas Flag touches each of the other stripes, which signifies that the three colors are mutually dependent upon one another in imparting the lessons of the flag: bravery, loyalty and purity.

In the center of the blue bar is a white star of five points, one point of this star is always at the top, and in vertical line drawn from one end of the blue stripe to the other, and midway between its sides. This line is the vertical axis of the blue stripe, and it is perpendicular to the horizontal axis at the central point of the stripe. The two lowest points of the star are parallel to the horizontal axis, and the distance from the topmost point of the star to the line through these two points is equal to approximately one third of the length of the blue stripe, or one third the width of the flag. The center of the star is at the point of intersection of the horizontal axis with the vertical axis, or at the central point of the blue bar. The other two points of the star are above the horizontal axis, and near the sides of the blue stripe.

Rules governing the use of the Texas Flag:

When the Texas flag is displayed out of doors, it must be on either a flagpole or a staff, and the staff should be two and one half times as long as the flag. The flag is always attached to the spearhead end of the staff.

The Texas flag should not be unfurled out of doors earlier than sunrise, and it should be taken down, or furled, not later than sunset.

It is disrespectful to the Texas flag to leave it unfurled in inclement weather.

The Texas flag should be displayed on all State memorial days, and on special occasions of historical significance.

Every school in Texas should fly the Texas flag on all regular school days. This courtesy is due to the Lone Star Flag of Texas.

The flag should always be hoisted briskly, and furled slowly with appropriate ceremonies.

The Texas flag should be fastened in such a manner that it cannot be torn easily.

When the flag is flown from a flagpole or staff, the white stripe should be at the top of the flag, except in cases of distress, and the red stripe should be directly underneath it.

The Texas flag should be on the marching left when it is carried in a procession in which the flag of the United States of America is unfurled.

The Texas flag should be on the left of the flag of the United States of America, and its staff should be behind the staff of the national colors, when the two are displayed on a wall from crossed staffs.

When the Texas flag is flown from the same hatyard as the flag of the United States of America is flown, it must be underneath our national colors.

When the Texas flag is flown on a flagpole adjacent to a flagpole on which the U. S. flag is flown, it must be unfurled after the national colors and it must be at the left of the U. S. flag.

When the flag is flown from a window-sill, balcony, or from a building, and flat against the wall, it should be on a staff and the blue field should be at the observer's left.

When the Texas flag and the United States flag are displayed at the same time, they must be flown on separate flagpoles of the same length and the flagpoles should be approximately the same size.

When the Texas flag and the U. S. flag are displayed on a speakers platform at the same time, the Texas flag should be on the left side of the speaker, while our national colors are on the right side of the speaker.

The Texas flag should never be used to cover a platform or a speakers desk, nor to drape over the front of a speakers platform.

When the Texas flag is displayed flat on the wall of a platform, it should be above the speaker, and the blue field must always be at the flag's right.

When the flag is displayed on a motor car, the staff should be fastened firmly to the chassis

TYPING ELIMINATIONS

On Thursday afternoon the final eliminations for typing were held. Those students participating were Nina Mae Davis, Pearl Hendrix, Marjorie Propps and Glenn Huntsman. The students typed for fifteen minutes on certain material assigned them. After everything had been cleared away it was found that Marjorie Propps and Glenn Huntsman make up the typing team that will represent Knox City in the county meet. Marjorie typed 41 words a minute for fifteen minutes and Glenn typed 34 words a minute for fifteen minutes.

LIBRARY INTERESTS

It is reported that the circulation of our high school library is rapidly increasing. Last week the circulation was 162 books, not including newspapers and magazines. Everyone hopes that this progress will continue. The grammar school librarian has completed her accession record for the grammar school with a total of 492 books. A number of the books have been returned from the lending unit and put into circulation again.

KNOX CITY DEBATERS VISIT ASPERMONT

Wednesday, March 8, the two debate teams went to Aspermont to meet the teams from that school. Friday of this week the Aspermont debaters will come to Knox City for another bout with the home teams. Marie, Doris Elaine, Billy Dean and Henry Jean, who make up the two teams of debaters, are all showing great possibilities and improvements. These boys and girls are working very hard to become more fluent and adept in speech and argument.

It is believed that the teams have a good opportunity to win laurels in the county, but even though they do not win we will be proud of them since there has been a great lack of interest in debate until this year.

SPORTS BY SPUTTERS

On Thursday afternoon of last week the O'Brien and Knox City volleyball teams played. The first game was very close, but the final score was 12-15, in favor of O'Brien. The second game was well played but it ended with Knox City again at the short end of the score. However, the Knox City girls played a nice game and plan to win many games in the near future.

The State Teachers Meeting will be held in San Antonio in November, and there were 22 delegates elected to attend this meeting. Supt. A. M. Whitis of Knox City was chosen as one of these delegates.

PROOF OF AGE NECESSARY TO CLAIM OLD-AGE INSURANCE

Wichita Falls, Mar. 13.—Inaccuracy in giving one's age when applying for a social security account number may delay the payment of old-age insurance benefits when the time comes to make a claim, R. L. Surles, manager of the Social Security Board's field office at Wichita Falls, informed insured workers today.

"Under the Social Security Act," Surles explained, "old-age benefits are not payable until attainment of age 65, except in the case of death, when to the wage earner's relatives or estate. Proof of age is required of those who file claims for the single cash payments made to workers now reaching 65, provided the claim is for more than $100. Lump sum payments in Texas in January averaged $54.57. Total pay-a lump sum payment is made during the month were $31,539.80."

The Board will accept as unquestionable proof of age: First, a copy of a birth certificate; second, a copy of an infant baptismal certificate; and third, the sworn statements of two persons, such as a doctor and a nurse, who have personal knowledge of the date of birth. Recognizing that in many cases it is virtually impossible for older people to obtain such primary evidence, the Board has provided for the submission of secondary evidence, it has ruled that when the applicant for benefits explains in writing that such evidence cannot be obtained without great difficulty and considerable expense other evidence will be considered. In general, documents or copies of documents of many types showing the individual's age may be submitted, if they were executed prior to August 14, the date of the signing of the Social Security Act.

"For example," Surles said, "the birth record in the old family bible may be brought forward, or a search of old school records may reveal the worker's birth date."

County Commissioner E. L. Park attended the regular monthly meeting of the commissioners court in Benjamin Monday.

To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste

Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys get functionally disordered and fail to remove these impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and body-wide distress.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney or bladder disturbance.

You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feet weak, nervous, all played out.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your druggist.

same week. The fact that their voices shuttle back and forth across the world in less than a second's time makes transcontinental trips seem incidental to radio stars.

In Chicago, Bret Morrison, genial First Nighter, was sad because his favorite mount, a five-gaited mare, had to be destroyed on account of an incurable throat ailment.

Also in the Windy City we learned that glamour-gal Betty Winkler is outlining another radio drama idea between her Girl Alone broadcasts.

Greeted in Hollywood by Fibber McGee's able scribe, Don Quinn, we were told that McGee's explanation for California's freak weather this winter was that the ground hog came out and saw Boris Karloff's shadow.

California seems to invite easterners to go back to the soil. Bing Crosby, Don Ameche, Lam and Alinea and other radio emigrants have already done it. McGee is looking for a ranch and now Jack Haley is looking over ranch properties in the hills.

The Star Theatre's Charlie Ruggles tells me that he has imported a dog training expert from the east and started obedience classes at his home's. Attention girls: Robert Taylor's German boxers go to Charlie's classes.

Hills here remind us that Joan Kay told us in Chicago that she is now skating to broadcasts of These Happy Gilmans. She should try skating down some of these streets.

Patrons are already looking forward to the return of the coast. He opens Golden Gate city will take a full activity.

SPRINGTIME IS CLEAN-UP TIME

April showers and May flowers aren't very far away. That means spring cleaning time.

And spring cleaning doesn't mean just shaking out the rugs, washing the curtains, and dusting that little-used spare bedroom. It should mean a definite, planned program for putting property in apple-pie order, not only to improve its value and appearance, but to help prevent that dread destroyer that strikes when we least expect it—fire.

Trash-filled outbuildings are perfect incubators for fire from a carelessly dropped match or cigarette. Check over fireplaces and chimneys—from now on, such incidental heating units will be used more and central systems less. As warm, sunny days come, be especially careful to keep grass cut and fields clear of debris. Never burn trash when there is a wind and have water handy in case matters get beyond control.

Above all, go through the house from top to bottom on an inclusive "junk disposing" program. Those old papers and magazines you've put carefully away and will never look at again—that broken furniture that belongs to the worst period of design—those odds and ends of "gay nineties" clothing—that jumble of inflammable knickknacks in the hall closets, get rid of them all. Give them to a charitable organization or to the junk man. And you'll materially reduce the chance of a fire hitting your home.

A number of progressive communities carry on general spring clean-ups each year as a civic function. Parkings are tended and beautified, fences repaired, and old fire-traps are torn down. Fire departments and other municipal bureaus cooperate and direct the drives. The result is a more attractive and safer town—and a town whose residents may feel proud of it. Every community which doesn't do that now should think it over—and start the idea going around. It pays dividends in dollars as well as less tangible values.

Concentrated food in powder form, a meal in a capsule, will be on sale at the California World's Fair.

THIS IS REAL FREEDOM

Just what do you think would happen to anyone who held a meeting in Berlin at which he denounced the Nazi government and its officials, referred contemptuously to the Chancellor as "Adolph Hitler-ovich," and advocated a virtual revolution?

The participants in the meeting would find themselves swiftly incarcerated in a concentration camp—if they were fortunate enough to escape the headsman's axe.

Yet in New York, the German-American Bund recently held a meeting in Madison Square Garden, which was decorated for the occasion with swastika flags and guarded by men wearing Nazi storm trooper uniforms, at which the speakers sneered at the President of the United States and called him Franklin Rosenfeld, denounced high government officials, including a distinguished Justice of the Supreme Court, called for the extermination of the Jews, and pledging themselves to establish a virtual Nazi dictatorship in this country. And what happened? Were the Bund members arrested as enemies of the government? No—instead, one of the largest concentrations of police in New York's history surrounded the meeting place, and protected them while they aired their views, which would destroy the freedom and protection they were enjoying.

There isn't another country in the world where that could happen. For there isn't another country in the world where the cardinal tenet of democracy, free speech, is so zealously protected. And free speech means the right to speak by those with whom you most violently disagree, as well as those with whom you agree. It means the right to call for a change in government. It gives the people every chance to hear all sides of a controversy, and to weigh fact against fact and theory against theory before reaching a decision.

When you hear someone denouncing America and its institutions, remember this. Just think of what happens to those bold enough to speak, even in moderate terms, against the regimes in power in Germany, Russia, Italy and a host of the smaller countries. Ours is a freedom possessed by no other people. Why try to destroy it?

Sun Valley Brings Ice And Snow In Summer "Winter Wonderland" At New York's World Fair

NEW YORK—There'll be ice and snow in summer at New York's World's Fair.

A half-million dollar tribute to King Winter—a "winter wonderland" to be known as Sun Valley—will rise in the amusement area as one of the Fair's greatest exhibits.

There is no connection between Sun Valley at the World's Fair and the great resort of the same name created by the Union Pacific Railroad in Idaho's Sawtooth Mountains, but the beauties of the Idaho winter resort were the inspiration for the project.

A huge village 62,000 square feet in area, Sun Valley will be Alpine in architecture and with its great towers, turrets and simulated mountains, will be one of the most amazing projects at the Fair.

It will offer:
A disappearing ice rink.
A lolly ski jump.

A high toboggan slide in a setting of fir and pine trees and a forty foot waterfall.

A $25,000 pipe organ.

An estimated 4,000,000 visitors will be regaled with great ice spectacles, featuring ice skating shows with world-famous professional figures skaters and ski jumping exhibitions by internationally-known ski jumpers.

Construction costs will be almost $500,000, with an estimated operating cost of $228,000. Sun Valley will accommodate 7,000 persons at one time and will have an estimated daily capacity of 65,000. Admission price will be 35 cents.

The project will contain a restaurant with a capacity of 1,900, two bar rooms and 33 shops or stores. Between 450 and 500 persons will be given employment by the project.

The ice shows will be of 30 to 40 minutes duration, starting every hour and fifteen minutes throughout the day, with a total of 12 performances daily.

The great oval ice rink in the center of the village will be built on a 100-foot diameter steel turntable, which will revolve and carry the ice surface underneath the buildings during periods between ice skating performances. Carried into place will be a movable dance floor. Upon occasion patrons will be permitted to dance upon the ice.

A 15-piece orchestra will furnish music for ice skating performances and dancing. It will be supplemented by the $25,000 organ, which also will be used for organ concerts.

The toboggan slide will be open all day. It will be approximately 160 feet long and 45 feet high, with several banked turns and dips. Located in the northeast corner of the village and nestled high in the rock formations which represent the foothills of surrounding mountains, the slide will be one of the most picturesque spots in the village. From natural rock terraces about the slide patrons will look down on the entire village, with its snow-covered roofs and performances going on in the village square. A forty-foot-high waterfall will originate from the top of the toboggan slide elevation. The mountain setting will be completed by a background of fir and pine trees.

The restaurant, to be known as Rheingold Inn, will consist of two units—the main restaurant and the wine-tube, both of which will overlook the ice rink. Both units will consist entirely of terraces from which patrons will view the ice shows in comfort. By their arrangement they will become an integral part of the village's scenic beauty.
