BOND QUOTA IN SIGHT AS DRIVE ENDS

"Not quite, but almost," said T. E. Robbins, chairman of the local War Bond committee Thursday morning when asked how the local subscriptions stood in regard to the quota of $113,000.00.

"We had a total of $114,269.60 sold up to Saturday night but a last minute check reveals that $525.00 worth has been sold since then giving a grand total of $114,794.60. That leaves a little over $200.00 to reach the quota but to do it up right we hope to over-subscribe the amount quite a bit.

"Reaching the quota should not be a signal for people to relax in purchasing bonds. On our fighting fronts over the world, our armies do not call it a day and sit down when they have seized a certain objective but use it as an incentive to go on.

"We have had good cooperation of our people during this campaign and want to thank them for the splendid spirit they have shown," Mr. Robbins added.

Justice Richard Critz Denounces Labor Union Political Tactics

AUSTIN—The attempt of a certain faction in organized labor to pack the state courts with its own judges is a "direct challenge" to the people of Texas and their free institutions, Associate Justice Richard Critz declared today in a stinging rebuke to a "political action committee's" 1944 political bulletin.

"I welcome the support of all laboring people, but so long as I am on this highest court there will be handing out of special favors, and all cases will be decided on their merits and according to law," he stated.

Justice Critz, seeking his second full elective term on the court, alluded to a "1944 political bulletin" which stated that at Justice Critz's opinions were "invariably antagonistic" to labor.

"No statement or contention is made that any single one of my opinions has not been based on law, or did not correctly declare the law," he said.

"This small committee of labor officials is seeking to make itself the political boss of the men and women who belong to labor unions. They would dictate the selection of a judge on the Supreme Court of Texas.

"Whenever a selfish pressure group elects a public official, it invariably follows that the group prospers and the people suffer. This is especially true if that official is a judge, and it would be a tragic situation if the highest court in Texas had on it a judge who owes his job to a selfish minority," he continued.

"I cannot think that the people of Texas will stand for such a brazen attempt to intimidate the courts of this state."

CANNING CENTER TO REMAIN OPEN UNTIL SEPTEMBER 1

The community canning center located in the old school building will remain open until September 1, according to Mrs. C. C. Hoge, chairman of the local committee.

Facilities are available at all times for the use of anyone desiring to can their surplus food and garden products. Mrs. Hoge emphasized that no charge is made for the use of the modern equipment at the center and that users need only furnish the product to be canned and the labor.

To the Voters of Knox County:

Owing to war conditions I have been unable to see many of the voters of the county. To those whom I have not seen I will say I will appreciate your support.

If you elect me to this office I will be happy, but if I am defeated at your hands I shall not complain.

Sincerely yours,
N. S. Kilgore.

SUBSCRIPTION RATE, YEAR $1.50

The attempt to look into the cloudy future and see behind the misty curtain of events is now the favorite pastime of Americans. Experts of business, government, and politics try their hand at it. The average observer tries to make a guess. About the most common question people ask is, "How long do you think the war will last?"

The end of the war with Germany will be a tremendous relief. The job of fending Japan will take time, and will be tough, but it won't take nearly so many men, and will not so far disrupt our ordinary life. Probably war expenditures will fall nearly half from the present level. Many industries will be able to return to civilian production. There will be a rapid demobilization of a big part of our armies.

How long can Germany hold out? If the Russians could keep going as fast as they did in the first 11 days of the recent summer offensive, they would be in Berlin in about six weeks. That is almost impossible. They made their recent rapid gain after weeks and months of preparation, in which rebuilding of the railroad lines to supply their advancing army played an important part. As they get farther from their bases, it will take more and more work to assure a steady flow of supplies.

The speed with which the Germans were forced to give up important and strategic points in White Russia, supposed to be heavily fortified and garrisoned, indicates that they may be weaker than has been supposed. The vast number of prisoners captured by the Russians indicates that Nazi power is falling.

Germany still has a great army. Hopes are rising that the war with Germany will be finished in 1944. To do that it is necessary to keep our war production at top notch, and to keep the home front prepared for a long war.

SUPREME COURT OF TEXAS

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
by BOYCE HOUSE

Our town was never lacking in amusements.

For instance, a handcuff artist put on an exhibition on the courthouse lawn. He called for volunteers in the crowd to step forward and fasten him tightly with chains, locking them with padlocks. After twirling and writhing, he succeeded—in three or four minutes—in freeing himself. Then he passed the hat for collection.

There would be a visiting lecturer who spoke at the church, telling of his trip to the Holy Land, illustrating the lecture with lantern slides.

The carnival was of course a scene of dazzlement. Even after a boy's supply of nickels had run out and there was no more riding on the merry-go-round or the ferris wheel, there was the free show in front of the Museum of World Curiosities—the Oriental dancer who was a princess; and the mud-reader, who was also a princess; and the snake-charmer, who oddly enough was a princess, too. These only appeared on the platform however—the only one who performed, free, was the fire-eater, though the wild man, captured in the jungles of Africa, would shake his chain and growl.

One of the most thrilling events was the balloon ascension, the aerialist—in bright costume—sitting on a trapeze under the balloon, which rapidly arose hundreds of feet in the air. Then he pulled the rip cord and the balloon began to deflate. The daredevil plunged dizzily toward earth until his parachute unfolded, then he floated down.

On one such occasion, a group of negroes was busy picking cotton when a parachute jumper fluttered to a landing in their midst. They fled in terror—all except Uncle Remus, who was a preacher and he courageously remained—also he had rheumatism and couldn't run. The old darkey gazed at the acrobat in his bright tights and then said, "Good mawwin', Lord Jesus, and how is yore Pappy gittin' along?"

The hopes of the overwhelming majority of the people of Texas that loan sharks can be driven out of the State were given impetus when a jury recently returned a verdict, the effect of which was to uphold the new anti-usury injunction law and to find a flock of these saboteurs of the war effort guilty thereunder.

Agriculture Should Plan Now For Post War Development

"Agriculture might center its efforts after the war on trying to get a larger slice of a small pie, rather than make vigorous efforts, along with others, to assure a large pie," which was stated in the summer issue of Land Policy Review. "But an equitable share of a large pie would almost certainly be better for agriculture than an inequitably large cut of a small pie, for without efforts to bring about an expanding economy a small pie is likely to shrink to an even smaller size."

"All of this is not to say that agriculture should not plan for agriculture itself. It is simply to say that an important part of the agricultural problems outside of agriculture, and that this problem must receive attention along with the rest of the problem."

Postwar planning in agriculture is really a twofold job. On the one hand, agriculture, a part of a national and of a world economy, has to plan, along with other groups, to bring about the kind of a national economy and the kind of international relations that it needs. On the other hand, it has to plan for making adjustments in agriculture to meet whatever national and international situation may actually evolve."

TAKING OFFENSE

It is not well to see everything, to hear everything; let many causes of offense pass by us unnoticed.—Seneca

To ruminate upon evils, to make critical notes upon injuries, and be too acute in their apprehension, is to add unto our own tortures, to feather the arrows of our enemies, and to re-selves to sleep no more.

To punish ourselves for others' faults, is superlative folly. The mental arrow shot from another's bow is practically harmless, unless our own thought bars it.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Diphtheria Cures Are Lowering Death Rate

Few conquests of science have been as spectacular and complete as those relating to diphtheria. Science has firmly established the value of serum treatment in both its preventive and curative phases. However toxin-antitoxin, or its successor toxoid for immunization and antitoxin for cure, are sera of which the general public is even yet not fully aware.

According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, toxoid is the immunizing or preventive agent now usually employed. However, three or four months are required for the body to develop immunity. At that time the Schick test can be applied to determine the results of the preventive treatment.

Dr. Cox urges that children receive diphtheria immunization as early as possible, preferably as soon as they are six months old. The necessity for this immunization is apparent when it is realized that two-thirds of all the deaths from diphtheria occur in the age group under six years.

"It cannot be too strongly emphasized that to deprive children of this protection which science has made possible is to subject them to unwarranted and unnecessary hazards that can easily turn into a tragedy," Dr. Cox said. "Parental interest in immunization must be more widespread if the Texas death rate from this disease is to be eliminated as a cause of death."

To the Voters of the 50th Judicial District

In my campaign for the office of District Attorney, I have endeavored to see as many of you as I could with the least amount of driving. Our government tells us not to waste a drop of gasoline and therefore I have limited the driving of my car to those trips that seemed necessary. There is a large number of you that I have not seen and perhaps will not be able to see before the election, and I want you to consider this as a personal message and a solicitation of your support, as though I had talked with you personally.

I have conducted my campaign on a high plane, free from individualities, and in the belief that my long years of experience in the Courts of this District has fully qualified me for the office of District Attorney. And if I am elected, I assure you that I will administer the duties of that office efficiently, fearlessly and impartially, and in fairness and justice to all.

Charlie Blount Has Good Record As District Prosecutor

DEAR FRIENDS:

I wish that I could come and see each of you personally, thank you for the overwhelming vote you gave me when elected, a majority of more than two to one, and again ask you for your vote and support. However, since gasoline and tires are needed in a campaign so much more important than mine I am not going to try to do that. Even though gasoline is available to candidates, the little amount used in a campaign might mean that some bomber, with its precious crew, might not quite get back.

When elected your district attorney I promised you and the people of this district that I would do all within my power to justify your confidence, and to show my appreciation by making you the best district attorney that I could. I have tried to do that and am very proud of my record in Knox County, thirty-five convictions, one hung jury and NO ACQUITTALS. Friends, I fully realize that without your help, as the kind of citizens you are, as witnesses and jurors such a record would not have been possible. I have administered the duties of the office without fear or favor to any person, without undue expense, and without unnecessary delay or continuances of trials.

Before first asking you for the office of District Attorney, in addition to private practice, I had served five years as County Attorney of my home county. With the additional experience I have had as your District Attorney I feel that I am qualified to render you even better service.

I know that most of you have some of those nearest and dearest to you now on foreign lands, that your first thoughts is to have them back with you again. Also, I know you are interested in whom you elect as officials and the kind of representation you have when they return. I have no apologies to offer for not being in the service today. I wish I could be there and were it not for my physical condition I would be there. Your County Attorney, Joe Reeder, is now somewhere in England or on the beaches of Normandy. I have known Joe several years, know that he is a brilliant young man, qualified and deserving in every respect, and that he hopes sometime to serve you as District Attorney. I wish to assure you that when he does return and asks his friends and my friends to elect him to the office I will not be a candidate against him.

Friends, if you think I've kept the pledge made when elected, made the kind of District Attorney you want, then I ask your support in this race and will appreciate it from the bottom of my heart.

Gratefully yours,

CHARLIE BLOUNT

Experience Builds New Boat

After several years of actual experience with life boats for use of army pilots, the army has developed a new type boat for use of fliers forced down at sea. New features are ballast bags, shown at left center, to prevent the craft from capsizing. The girl at the right is holding a boarding ladder, making it easier for the men to get aboard. The new boat, being turned out by The General Tire & Rubber company at Akron, Ohio, also is equipped with handles on the bottom and on the inside so that fliers may quickly right the life boat if it lands from the plane upside down. To give more room one of the cross tubes used for seats has been eliminated in order to assure more comfort for men compelled to spend days at sea while awaiting rescue.

Mrs. Wallace Harbert Writes From Houston

We are taking the privilege of printing the following letter from Mrs. Wallace Harbert, now living at Houston but formerly a resident of Benjamin.

We appreciate the kind words about the Herald. Friends of the Harberts will be glad to hear of them and that they plan to return to this section as soon as the war is over.

Houston, July 6, 1944
 Editor, Knox County Herald.

Dear Sir:
 Please find enclosed $2.00 on my Herald subscription. This paper really travels. We read it all, then I send it to my son, Pfc. C. W. Harbert, Jr., with the Glider Engineers in Sicily. He wrote thanking me for sending it on to him. Said it was read largely and was next to a letter from home.

My husband and I are both natives of Knox County, own our home in Benjamin and expect to be back there when this war is over. My husband is with Old Ocean Refinery, producers of Y-test octane gasoline, located at Brown, Texas. I am supervisor of women at Irish Bend Island Cafeteria located in Houston ship yards on the Irish Bend Island.

Keep the paper coming. It is a morale builder.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Wallace Harbert,

Blossom Shedding On Tomato Plants Can Be Prevented

One of the commonest troubles with tomatoes now and later into the summer is shedding of blossoms. It is caused generally by blossom sterility or lack of proper pollination, says M. O. Dunkle, County Agent.

Considering ways to correct this condition he suggests that pinching off all suckers up to the first cluster of flowers will provide more moisture and plant food for blossoms. This, too, will cause them to stick better, as well as increase the size of the fruit and hasten ripening 10 days or two weeks.

Spraying or sprinkling tomato plants with water in the late afternoon each day or two to lower temperature and raise humidity seems to have some value in halting shedding. Providing shade, or covering plants with paper or similar material in the hottest part of the day also has helped in some instances.

Although it is late and difficult to arrest blossom shedding on plants now blooming, Dunkle suggests that summer plantings should be made in varieties known to be tolerant of excessive heat and low humidity. The Porter variety is one well adapted over a wide area of Texas. Other varieties which have shown outstanding resistance to shedding are Bison and Danmark.

Shedding also has been serious in areas which have had more than adequate rainfall without excessive heat. The trouble in these instances apparently is caused by a small, greenish-brown insect or plant thrip which stings or sucks the blossom area. Using a dust composed of three table-spoonsful of four per cent nicotine sulphate to one quart of air slaked lime should correct the trouble. It may be necessary to repeat the treatment once or twice until the trouble subsides.
