PREDICTS 30 CENT COTTON

Commissioner of Agriculture Appeals to Farmers and Business Men not to Force Cotton Upon Market.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 8.—Geo. B. Terrell, Commissioner of Agriculture, reviews the cotton situation and urges bankers, merchants and farmers not to force cotton upon the market, depressing the price and causing heavy losses to the producers.

He said: I do not advise, I give facts and sensible men ought to reach sensible conclusions. The cotton crop this year, as estimated by the Government in the report of September 1st, indicates a yield of 10,575,000 bales.

The Texas crop is estimated at 3,644,000 bales, which I believe to be one million bales too high. The reports furnished my office from reliable men in all parts of the State indicate a crop of 2,462,400 as compared with a crop of 2,179,145 last year.

The average cost of producing this cotton crop is estimated to be 22 cents per pound. The spot market is below this price now, and cotton has lost more than five dollars per bale in the last few days, caused by the rapid gathering and selling of the Texas crop.

This crop is several million bales short of the world's needs, and every consideration justifies a price of thirty cents.

I appeal to the farmers, merchants and bankers, not to force all the cotton upon a declining market, causing lower prices, and the loss of millions of dollars so badly needed to pay the farmers' debts and revive the business of this country.

The total crop of the South last year was 8,039,663 bales. The domestic consumption and exports for the year just closed are 11,799,381 bales, or nearly 4,000,000 bales more than was produced last year. The big surplus of 1920 is practically used up. The crop this year will possibly not reach ten million bales, less than consumption this year.

Nothing could keep the price of cotton from going to 30 cents, if it were not dumped upon the market as fast as picked.

Don't take my word for it. Consider the facts I have given and take the word of P. H. Naughton, a cotton manufacturer, as published in the Daily News Record of New York.

He says: The world's annual requirement consumption of cotton is 20,000,000 bales. This quantity of cotton cannot be produced today from the cotton growing countries of the world. A liberal estimate of the world's cotton crop for 1922 would be about 15,500,000 bales. The United States will produce about 9,000,000 bales. With all due

CITY BARGAIN STORE TO OPEN FOR BUSINESS TUESDAY

The Knox City Bargain Store is the latest addition to the commercial enterprises of the city. It is to open for business in the rear of the building occupied by the Guaranty State Bank on next Tuesday, the 26th. Mr. E. Siegel, originally from Lockhart, Texas, and who has been with the Strauss Dry Goods of Hamlin for some time, is to be the manager of the establishment. He has contracted for the building by the Guaranty State Bank for two years and will occupy the entire building as soon as the new bank building is completed and the bank is moved into it.

Mr. Siegel intends to locate permanently in Knox City. He has been trying to rent a dwelling in the city, but has not succeeded. He informs us that Mr. Bruce Campbell, president of the State Bank, stated that he would build a house for him and his family if they failed to secure one in the town.

Mr. Siegel has had many years of experience in the mercantile business and comes highly recommended as a live wire and a good citizen. He will be glad to have you call and get acquainted with him and look over his line of goods. We welcome him to our town and hope that his family will soon be able to locate with us.

IN KNITTED SUITS

White and Various Tones of Yellow Are Prominent.

Bright Red Trimmings and Plaid Effects for Fall Wear Supplied by the Makers.

There is no indication of an abatement in the demand for the knitted wool suit and dress, declares a fashion writer in the New York Tribune. Consequently dressmakers are making hay while the sun shines and putting forth new models of this sort. Knitted white suits are very prominent just now. Many of them have bright red trimmings. Following closely in the wake of the white suit are those in various tones of yellow.

With the thoughts of the buying public turning toward autumn various great houses show models in plaid effects. The colorings, gray, white and black, are quite subdued in effect. The collar, the border on the coat and the belt are knitted in gray.

Suits much in vogue for the early autumn are those consisting of a jacket and skirt knitted in artificial silk in tobacco brown, frequently combined with beige and white. The suit may be in beige color, with a woven border effect of tobacco brown and white on the sleeves, around the bottom of the coat and the bottom of the skirt.

An interesting suit is knitted in brown, beige and black wool. It consists of a skirt and a short jacket. A very unusual girle is attached to the skirt. The coat tucks inside the skirt. This suit embodies an entirely new idea in outing suits or in suits of any sort.

MORE YARDS IN FALL GOWNS
Fashion's Latest Edict Demands Greater Yardage in Dresses That Are Up-to-Date.

It's that period of the twelve-month when fashion can afford to chuckle up her sleeve and keep us guessing, writes a fashion authority. In a word it is the openings of the Paris couturiers to which so many of America's floating population have been drifting.

To be sure, any number of mysterious hints have leaked out and some of the couturiers have gone so far as to show a few advance models which act as straws in the whirlpool of rumor. Even after the curtain has been raised on all of these openings there

SOME FASHIONS IN BLOUSES
Tailored Garments in High Favor; Hip Length and Longer Models Are Shown.

The outdoor or tailored blouse is unquestionably the favorite. Usually hip length is the length preferred, although some a trifle more than hip length are shown.

Among the new dressy blouses recently seen one gorgeously embroidered in Chinese designs was notable. The motifs were rather large and done in vivid colors on a white crepe de chine background, the blouse being of this material.

Middles are holding their own in the lineup of blouses. Regulation middy styles are used for garments made of such materials as checked or striped tub silks, plain and dyed pongee, and even checked gingham and tissues, plain color fabric in contrasting color usually supplying a trimming touch. A blue and white checked silk middie seen recently was trimmed with narrow bands of plain white and plain are no certainties to guide us. We shall know what Cheruit, what Callot, what Poiret and all the others are advocating, but only time can determine their fate, for it is the well-dressed woman who is the final court of appeal and her decision will not be made for many weeks yet.

There's one fact that appears to be pretty conclusive and that is that we shall have to buy more material this fall for our dresses. You know we have been skipping ourselves very successfully, for three yards have been known to make a dress that passed the board of censors. But with the increased length—and here even argument stops at a length no higher than eight inches from the floor for the street—the circular swirls, the drapery and the plaits, we shall have to count off one, two and even three yards more, for the length alone demands an extra yard. Fortunately we shall not have to consider so much yardage for the sleeves, for they are again moulding the arm, but they do extend well down over the hand.

But if we must buy more material we can economize a little on our combinations for the popularity of the short jackets in Paris has brought about skirts and dresses contrasting in fabric and in color with the outer garment—and a short one at that. And we can combine two or more materials so that the gown of today can be transformed into the up-to-the-minute frock by a very little new material.

BLOOMER FROCKS FOR BOYS
Linen and Swiss Afford Splendid Combination for Outfits for the Kiddies.

Plain linen is frequently combined with dotted swiss in making charming little bloomer frocks, the heavier material to be used for the bloomers, with frock of swiss trimmed in pipings or bindings of the linen. This combination was featured in some charming little suits recently seen for small boys. A smock of swiss with touches of colored embroidery or smocking about the yoke, was worn over cuning little wide-knee trousers of colored linen. One suit featured a belted smock, the belt being of colored linen. Another was allowed to hang straight and unbelted.

blue, and a blue Windsor tie finished the collar.

A white wolle blouse, made middy style but worn tucked in under the skirt, was finished with hemstitched collar and cuffs of blue linen, and a natural pongee model found green satin bands and tie as attractive finish.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

One of the new movements is to own a thick and thin frock, which when combined make a single costume of artistic merit.

It is not possible to persuade women to disconnect sport and plaid skirts, so the combination goes merrily on. Short jackets are now substituted for sweaters.

Although women are giving up red to some extent little boys are adopting it as a way to make themselves gay and conspicuous in the general burst of color.

White and brown is one of the new combinations that well dressed women have launched. The older generation remembers that the same thing was popular in the 1880 fashions.

SOMETHING ABOUT RELISHES

It is a mistake to taboo pickles and relishes from the menu entirely because they are supposed to be unhealthy. A moderate use of such things add to the plain foods and relieve monotony.

The use of alum for pickling is both unnecessary and injurious and never use a metal spoon in any vinegar solution—even a few minutes will spoil the flavor and longer will prove harmful and even dangerous. A wooden spoon or an agate one is best, though the agate if tapped on the side of the kettle is apt to chip off and that, too, is unsafe.

Food to be pickled loses its crispness if scalded and as that is the chief charm of a good pickle it should be avoided.

Since vinegar and spices and salt are the important ingredients to use in pickling it is wise to choose the best. Many an otherwise delicious combination has been ruined by poor or badly flavored vinegar and insipid spices. It pays, even if at a greater cost, to buy a standard and reliable article.

For those who like a snappy cucumber pickle try these: Into a large jar put a cupful of salt, a half-cupful each of sugar and mustard and a quart of vinegar. Drop the well-washed cucumbers into the vinegar daily as they are picked, keeping them covered with the vinegar. Seal in jars and they will keep a year, crisp and good-flavored. A bag of spices and an onion may be used for variety.

Ripe Cucumber Pickles.—Cut the ripe cucumbers in halves lengthwise. Cover with salted water and heat gradually, then let stand for an hour or two. Remove and chill in ice water. Make a sirup by boiling two pounds of sugar, one pint of vinegar, two tablespoonful each of whole cloves and cinnamon tied in a cloth. Add the cucumbers and, within minutes, remove the cucumbers to a jar and pour over the boiling hot sirup. Boil the sirup for three successive mornings.

Reason's whole pleasure, all the joys of sense, lie in three words—health, peace and competence.

SOME BREAKFAST MEATS

For variety the following dishes will be liked by the family for some breakfasts:

Corn Beef Hash.—Take one part chopped corn beef and two parts of the vegetables left from the boiled dinner, season with grated onion; pepper and salt if needed, a little butter and chopped green pepper. Heat thoroughly and serve the hash spread on buttered toast; slip a poached egg on each piece. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and minced parsley.

Kidney Bacon Rolls.—Those who like kidneys will enjoy this dish: Season a cupful of bread crumbs with grated onion, salt, pepper and minced parsley. Moisten with one egg well beaten. Spread the crumb mixture over thin slices of bacon and wrap each slice of bacon around a small kidney. Fasten with toothpicks, put in a baking pan and bake in a hot oven until the bacon is crisp. Remove the skewers and serve on a hot plate garnished with parsley.

Minced Veal and Eggs.—Chop cold cooked veal very fine, add hard cooked eggs cut fine, one to each cupful of meat. Reheat in hot water, add melted butter, or cream sauce, a bit of green pepper, parsley and grated onion, lemon or capers finely minced for flavoring. Other meats may be prepared in the same way.

Calf's Brains.—Soak the brains in cold water, parboil, remove the waste tissue, throw into cold water, drain and place in the ice chest. Rub with melted butter, dip in egg and crumbs and fry in a little butter, or they may be broiled. Serve with a cream sauce or with a sauce of melted butter and minced parsley.

Ham Toast.—Take one-half cupful of minced ham, half a teaspoonful of anchovy paste, a bit of cayenne and pounded mace. Take one-half cupful of milk and an egg well beaten, stir until thick, over the fire, then spread thinly on dry buttered toast. If desired a poached egg may be placed on each slice.

AGAINST CATTLE PLAGUE

To the Dream of Overoptimistic Veterinarians, but a Practical Possibility.

EXAMPLE STIMULATES OTHERS

Work Directed Toward Eradication of Tuberculosis Now Being Carried On in 25 States—Nebraska Making Strides.

(Approved by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The area plan of tuberculosis eradication has gained headway, the fight against the great cattle plague seems to be no idle dream of overoptimistic veterinarians, but a practical possibility. Many counties are now raising large amounts of money for the purpose and the clean counties have set an example that stimulates others to follow. Progressive communities are beginning to realize that they cannot have diseased herds and expect to compete with farmers and breeders in localities that are entitled to advertise that all of their cattle are free of tuberculosis.

Oregon in Lead.

A dozen states, according to records kept by the United States Department of Agriculture, now have one or more counties in which all of the cattle have been tested one or more times. Oregon now has seven counties in this class: Washington and Wisconsin four each; Michigan and Mississippi three each; Nebraska and Montana two each; Idaho, North Carolina, Utah, Virginia, and West Virginia each have one.

One hundred and twenty-eight counties in 22 states are now doing the work directed toward the eradication of tuberculosis. Some of the states are going at the problem on a large scale. In this list Missouri has 18 counties; Nebraska 16; North Carolina 14; Maine 11, and New York 10. Preliminary work is being done in 256 counties and 79 communities in 33 states. Iowa has 31 counties in this list; North Carolina 30; Idaho 26; Kentucky 28; Oregon 23; New York 17, and Nevada and Wisconsin 10 each. Forty communities in Georgia, 31 in South Carolina, and a few in Louisiana and Vermont have started eradication work.

Michigan seems to be leading in the amounts of money appropriated by Hillsdale county, the first in the country to have all cattle tested, has made an additional appropriation of $3,500 to continue the work through the second year. A number of other counties have made additional appropriations of $1,500 each.

Strides in Area Work.

The board of supervisors in a number of counties in North Carolina have made appropriations to assist in fighting tuberculosis on the area plan. Some Kentucky counties have used money for this purpose from the general tax levy.

CONSERVE MANURE BY SPREADING ON FIELD

Not Generally Understood That It Saves Nitrogen.

Certain Forms of Bacterial Life Find Conditions in Usual Manure Pile Favorable to Development—Heating Also Occurs.

It is not generally understood just why spreading manure in the open field checks the loss of nitrogen which commonly takes place through the formation of ammonia in barnyard waste. The reason will be seen if one recalls how ammonia is produced. This is due to the activity of certain forms of bacterial life which are always present in manure and which find in the usual manure pile conditions favorable for their development. Through their operations organic matter is broken down into simpler chemical forms, one of which is ammonia. Heating of the pile also occurs. Both of these occurrences are familiar to everyone around a stable or where piles of manure are about.

When manure is spread evenly in the open field not only are the conditions which make for the activity of the bacteria overcome, but new factors tending to check their continued operation are introduced. The mere fact that the waste no longer lies in a pile is a matter of considerable moment, for the pile, as already indicated, furnishes the physical surroundings most favorable for the operation of these organisms. Moisture, which they need, is present in just the right amount. Air in the pile supplies them with the oxygen which they require. The mass of waste holds the heat which is generated in the chemical reactions which accompany the processes of decay. This, in turn, makes possible even greater activity on the part of the bacteria.

FALL PLOWING FOR INSECTS

Multitude of Pests May Be Killed After They Have Gone Down and Prepared Winter Homes.

There are a multitude of field insects that may be killed by fall plowing if it is done after they have gone down and prepared their winter home, which they do before frost. Any time after they become dormant they may be turned up to the weather and will be destroyed, and even if they are not dormant plowing will give the birds and other natural enemies a chance at them. If the plowing is done primarily as an insect campaign it is best to wait until as late as possible. The plowing is good for the land anyway.

HAD TO MAKE FULL ROUND

Clergyman Who Wanted to Test Virtues of the Treadmill Given Full Opportunity.

A Britisher tells a story of a member of the clergy who took too large a mouthful on one occasion.

He was visiting the county jail and expiated to a friend who was with him on the virtues of the treadmill. Warning up with his theme, he declared that he often wished he had one at home to give him the gentle exercise he required, and to remove his friend's skepticism, he asked the warden to give him a turn.

Round went the wheel, the clergyman declaring that the movement was delightful; but after two minutes he had had enough and desired the officer to stop the mill. To his horror the officer answered:

"Very sorry, sir, but I can't. It's timed to go 15 minutes and won't stop."

Youngstown, Ohio.—"Last fall I began to feel mean and my back hurt me and I could hardly do my little bit of housework. I was played out when I would just sweep one room and would have to rest. I would have to put a cushion behind me when I would sit down and at night I could not sleep unless I had something under my back. I had awful cramps every month and was just nearly all in. Finally my husband said to me one day, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine?' and I said, 'I am willing to take anything if I could get well again.' So I took one bottle and a second one and felt better and the neighbors asked me what I was doing and said, 'Surely it must be doing you good all right.' I have just finished my eighth bottle and I cannot express to you how I feel, the way I would like to. If you can use this letter you are welcome to it and if any woman does not believe what I have written to be true, she can write to me and I will describe my condition to her as I have to you."—Mrs. ELMER HEASLEY, 141 S. One day I saw your advertisement in the daily paper and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once. I have improved ever since taking the third bottle and find it is the best medicine I have ever taken."

MODERN DANCE SUMMED UP

Many Will Say That Farm Hand Was Not So Much Out of the Way, In His Description.

Irene Castle said at a luncheon at Palm Beach:

"Some men dance in a way that reminds me of a story.

"Howdy, Josh," a farm hand said to another farm hand. "Why ain't ye been comin' to the new dancin' class in the Elks' hall down in the village?"

"Dancin' class?" said the second farm hand. "Haw, haw, haw! I couldn't never learn dancin'."

"Sure, ye could," said the first farm hand. "Why, it's dead easy. All ye got to do is keep turnin' round and wipin' yer feet."

The trap to the high is ambition.

The Last Word.

The argument started with the soup, progressed during the fish, swelled visibly when the joint came, until at dessert husband and wife were so thoroughly indignant that they could continue no longer.

"I don't know what would happen, Paul, if you ever agreed with me on any subject," she finally said plaintively.

He looked at her, and sighed bitterly. "I'd be wrong," he said—"I'd be wrong."

Flapper Styles.

"The latest thing is the dishrag sweater." "Ought to go nicely with the bath towel skirt."

A bee hasn't much to say, but he carries his point.

Life Partners

THE union of Nature, Science and the Farmer is a partnership for life.

In the golden sheaves of living wheat, and in the waving, shimmering fields of barley—Nature stores the vital elements of human power and energy which Science converts into Grape-Nuts—the famous body-building food.

Grape-Nuts with milk or cream is a complete food, which contains all the nutrition (including the mineral elements) required for making rich, red blood, and for building sturdy body tissue, sound bone structure and strong, healthy nerve cells.

The 20-hour baking process makes Grape-Nuts easy to digest and develops that delicious, sweet flavor and crispness that has made this food a favorite the world over.

Advertising rates on application

Friday, Sept. 22, 1922.

Our attention has been called a few times and in various ways to the fact that our rates for printing are higher than the business men of this town were accustomed to paying. We have not heard of any severe criticism or knocking in regard to our increase in these rates, but as we stated at the outset, we have heard the fact mentioned that we had increased the rates. We realized when we came here—in fact, before we came here, that if we took charge of the business it would be necessary for us to increase the rates. Now, we desire to mention a few things in regard to the newspaper business and in regard to the conditions that we have been up against since we have been in Knox City. First we wish to state that the newspaper business is a business proposition, the same as any line of merchandise or other business concern in the town—and if it were not for the money to be made at the business, we would not be here, which is true of other business enterprises. While this is true, we wish to state that we never knew a newspaper that did not boost for its town and community and the local individual commercial and all other worthy home industries or institutions, regardless of their attitude toward their home paper. It almost invariably is the biggest booster the town has. And now that our attention has been called to our prices we wish to state that our prices are not yet as high in most respects as the prices charged by other printers all over the country. This fact was proven in regard to the advertising rates on the various papers in this section recently, and our prices for job printing will compare favorably with other printers' prices—the same as our advertising rates. And while our prices are as low and in many instances lower than those charged in other towns, we have it on good authority that other communities are—or have been—higher in Knox City than in other towns around us. Now, if our merchants will co-operate with their home printer in making their home paper a real business proposition and in boosting for their home town, and will make their advertising a part of their business—study the needs of the community, make their purchases accordingly and let the community know that they have what is wanted and needed at prices that will meet competition by advertising in the home paper—and by changing their minds after their patrons have memorized their old ones, they can better afford to meet the prices that are made by other towns and can better afford to pay the prices that the merchants in other towns pay for their printing, for their home paper will be of more benefit to them and they will enjoy a better trade as a result. Are you with us? Look at the papers in other towns around here—their ad rates are higher, but it does not keep the business concerns from advertising in them. On the contrary, most every paper you pick up has more advertising than our paper has. Why is this?

At 10 minutes to nine o'clock on Tuesday evening, as Brother J. F. Cummings and family were preparing to retire, a young man and lady, accompanied by their mothers and two men, friends of the families, drove up to the Cummings home and Brother Cummings was asked to unite the young couple in marriage, which he did. The names of the contracting parties were Mr. Alva Smith and Miss Ida Mae Smith. Their parents have lived in the Needmore community for several years and are prominent citizens of that community. We join their friends in wishing for them a happy and prosperous voyage through life.

Shop Committee Policy Committee Call to Chicago; Strike May Be Settled.

EXECUTIVES SAY NO

Government Will Not Enforce Injunction Drastically—Ending of the Strike—Landslide for Follette in Wisconsin—Greeks Whipped by Turks.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

SETTLEMENT of the railway shopmen's strike may be at hand. Last week B. M. Jewell, head of the shopcrafts, called their policy committee to meet in Chicago September 11, the day set for hearings on the motion to make permanent the sweeping injunction obtained by Attorney General Daugherty. There are 90 members of the committee, and some of them said freely that it was obvious that a settlement was in sight.

President Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio was said to be working on a plan for separate agreements. On the other hand, various railway executives flatly denied that any movement was on foot looking to an agreement with the shopmen. Their chairman, T. DeWitt Cuyler, asserted the railways already had won the strike, that on September 1 they had 305,000 shopmen at work, and are adding thousands daily to their shop forces.

Criticism of the unparalleled inclusiveness of the injunction issued by Judge Wilkerson was not confined to labor circles by any means, being shared by members of congress, many editors and other presumably unbiased persons. Probably taking note of this fact, the administration let it be known that the government had no intention of enforcing the injunction to the point of abridgment of speech or otherwise invading the constitutional liberties of citizens. Attorney General Daugherty indicated there would be no interference with labor meetings "held for lawful purposes," but that the government would take the law into its own hands if the strike meetings were the purpose of "inciting or violation of the law."

President Farrington of the Illinois miners has announced that the union will stand back of every union man who is accused of participation in the murders, and already he has declared that all such are innocent. Interest of the American Legion has been aroused by the discovery that two of the murdered men were overseas veterans.

JOHN H. CLARKE of Ohio resigned as associate justice of the Supreme court of the United States, and George H. Sutherland, former senator from Utah, was appointed to fill the vacancy and confirmed by the senate. Justice Clarke gave slight reasons for his resignation except that he had reached the age for retirement. He was appointed by President Wilson in 1916 and had sometimes been criticised by conservatives because of his decidedly liberal tendencies. Mr. Sutherland, whose great legal ability is widely recognized, is classed as a liberal. He was born in England in 1862 and received his education in the schools of and the University of Michigan. He is a close personal friend of President Harding.

RUNNING true to form, the Republicans of Wisconsin renominated United States Senator Robert M. La Follette in the primaries last Tuesday. No one with any knowledge of the situation expected they would do otherwise. However, "Bob's" majority was probably a surprise even to him, being well over 200,000 according to incomplete returns. It was a landslide and carried with it the entire state backed by LaFollette, including Governor J. J. Blaine, who won by more than 150,000. Rev. W. A. Ganfield, college president and candidate of the Anti-Saloon league, was unable to detach from the senator's support many of the Republican dries although La Follette is openly wet. Then, too, the senator naturally received the votes of the large population of Teutonic origin. The one surprise of the day was the defeat of Congressman A. P. Nelson of the Superior district by H. H. Penvey. Nelson is a prominent leader of the dries and his downfall was accomplished by a combination of the LaFollette organization and the Association Opposed to Prohibition.

The Democratic nominee for senator against La Follette is Mrs. Jessie J. Hoover of Oshkosh. In the second Democratic senatorial primary in Mississippi, according to partial returns, former Senator James K. Vardaman was beaten by Hubert D. Stephens, former congressman. Woodrow Wilson, when informed of this, expressed his satisfaction, which will be shared by the American public generally.

GREECE'S army in Asia Minor has been almost demolished by the forces of Kemal Pasha, the nationalist leader, and at this writing the latter is not far from Smyrna. The situation for the foreign colony in that city is critical and British and American warships have arrived there to protect their nationals. There have been some bloody encounters between the opposing armies, but for the most part it appears the Greeks have retired, in considerable confusion, without putting up much of a fight. The Turkish leaders are said to be much superior to the Greek commanders. It was reported that General Tricoupi, recently made commander in chief of the Greek forces, was captured by the Kemalists.

The Greek morale, both in Smyrna and Athens, seemed to have been shaken. Movements were said to have started to compel King Constantine to abdicate and there were rumors the cabinet was about to resign and that former Premier Venizelos would return to power. However, it was stated that the government would not consider the evacuation of Smyrna or the surrender of the Greek mandate in Thrace. Both of these things the Turks demand before they will talk of peace. The Kemalists, and the French who are friendly to them, blame Great Britain for its support of the Greeks and their claims. A rising of Turks on the south side of the Dardanelles has alarmed the British, who are concentrating on Gallipoli peninsula to check a possible march on Constantinople. Bulgaria has taken advantage of the situation by sending to Athens new demands concerning Thrace.

THE assembly of the League of Nations is holding another session in Geneva and Augustin Eduards, Chilean minister to England, was elected its president. The chief matter before the league is the Austrian situation. Chancellor Seipel presented the case for the suffering little republic and tried to make it clear that unless the allies granted immediate and liberal relief, Austria might have to merge with another nation, possibly Germany—which would violate the treaty of Versailles—or preferably Czechoslovakia, or maybe Italy, which desires such an outcome. The league council, after hearing the chancellor, soothed him with honeyed words and referred to a committee the entire question of how Austria shall be aided and under what guarantees.

HUGO STINNES, German industrial magnate, and Senator de Lubersac, president of the committee on French devastated regions, have made an agreement providing for the delivery by Germany of one billion dollars' worth of reconstruction material and work. To obviate the bad effect of having many Germans working in France, de Lubersac explains, it was arranged that the greater part of the labor will be utilized in Germany. The German manufacturers of the goods delivered are to have 6 per cent profit. The Socialist press in Germany attacks the whole plan as purely a selfish contract at the expense of the German government and labor, and it estimates Stinnes' profits at 45,000,000,000 marks.

Dr. Hermes, German finance minister, is negotiating with Belgium concerning guarantees for six-month treasury certificates which Germany is to give Belgium in lieu of cash. His difficulty is threefold, for he must satisfy not only the Belgians, but also the German cabinet and German financial and industrial leaders. It seems likely he will have to seek for the guarantees from foreign financiers.

SECRETARY OF STATE HUGHES and his party arrived at Rio de Janeiro, were given an enthusiastic reception and housed in a palace, and on Thursday the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of Brazilian independence was inaugurated with impressive ceremonies and patriotic festivities. The centennial exposition is still far from complete but will be opened soon.

Although the aviators who started from New York for Brazil in the seaplane Sampaio Correla came to grief a few days after the start and their plane was wrecked, they are proceeding on their way in another machine, and are now in Caribbean waters.

ONE eminent American died last week—Rev. Samuel Fallows of Chicago, head of the Reformed Episcopal church. He was a veteran of the Civil war, from which he emerged a brevet brigadier general and thereafter he devoted his life to religious, educational and patriotic work of the highest order.

BRITISH FLEET TO BLOCK THE TRUKS

MOVEMENT OF KEMALIST SOLDIERS ACROSS STRAITS WILL BE PREVENTED

THE CABINET TAKES ACTION

England, France and Italy Will Oppose Violation of the Neutral Zone.

London.—Great Britain has intended to block the threatened attempt of the Turks to regain Constantinople and re-establish their empire in Europe.

The Cabinet ordered the Mediterranean fleet to take whatever steps are necessary to prevent the Kemal troops from concentrating and moving across the straits to the European side, where they could menace the city.

Five seaplanes and thirty flying officers are being sent from Malta for reconnoitering work.

The Cabinet's action was taken following a long session at which the whole Near Eastern situation and its countless complications were being thoroughly discussed. It followed closely upon dispatches quoting Mustafa Kemal as declaring that he intended to take Constantinople even if it meant fighting Great Britain. Reinforcements are being rushed by other nations as well as Britain.

The Cabinet also decided that a joint note should be drawn up with France and Italy, if those Nations are agreeable, notifying Kemal that they will not tolerate any violation of the neutral zone.

Meantime, the Cabinet proposed that all allied warships in the vicinity of the Dardanelles should be instructed to prevent any attempt by the Turks to cross the Straits or even to mobilize transports for such a crossing.

The main ships of the British Mediterranean fleet, including the Iron Duke, the Diligence and the Trinidad, have left Smyrna and are concentrating at Chanak on the entrance to the Dardanelles, opposite Gallipoli, indicating that the allies have learned of possible Kemal plans to cross the Straits there.

There is complete accord between Great Britain and France regarding steps to preserve the neutrality of the demilitarized zone around the Straits.

The British Cabinet is seeking measures that might avert a catastrophe. Some form of emergency action is anticipated. The French note just received may provide a solution, and it is understood to offer a basis for Anglo-French co-operation in dealing with the Turks.

PLAN REDUCTION OF THE ARMY AND NAVY BUDGETS

1913 Basis for European Nations is Sought By Disarmament Body.

Geneva.—The political committee of the League of Nations assembly voted unanimously to admit Hungary to membership in the league.

European nations would be asked to reduce their military and naval budgets to the basis of 1913 under the disarmament plan adopted by the League of Nations.

Only nations like Belgium, whose status was entirely changed by the war, and Greece and Spain, who are actually engaged in hostilities at present, are expected from the plan, which was sponsored by France.

Brazil's withdrawal from the plan to extend the Washington naval limitations treaty to all nations is viewed as a serious check to this feature of the league's plans. A complete world-wide extension of the Washington agreement had been counted on by the league as the quickest means to general naval disarmament. But all efforts to compromise failed to move Brazil, and the commission was obliged to adjourn discussion of naval disarmament.

Allies Must Leave if Turks Advance.

London.—The allies must leave Constantinople at the first sign of a Turkish advance or be prepared to have a holy war on their hands, in the opinion of Sir Charles Townsend, who was the British General in command in the Near East for a time during the World War. "The allies must clear out of Constantinople," General Townsend said. "The first sign of a Kemal advance on the capital will bring all Islam under the Turkish flag and the result would be a holy war, which neither Great Britain nor France care to face."

Profession Saves Life.

During the riots in Londonderry, when the old Roman city was divided into hostile camps of belligerent Protestants and Catholics, an associate of mine, who went there to report the developments for the Times, was arrested, first by one camp and later by another. Each time he was released, and he was finally given the freedom of the city. When asked how it happened, he replied that, being charged with espionage, he was closely questioned; but his fate was decided by his answer to one leading question, which both parties asked: "Are you Catholic or Protestant?" His reply was simple and effective. "Neither—journalist."—Carl W. Ackerman in Atlantic Monthly.
