J. W. Land Dead From Gun Accident

Mr. John Land of the Sunset community is suffering this week in the Knox County Hospital from a wound which he received when a 22 target accidentally discharged.

Mr. Land went to take the gun from the back seat of a car when it discharged, striking him above the last bone in his neck. He was rushed immediately to the hospital.

The discharge of the gun struck the nerves of his system paralyzing him from the arms down. Although his arms are not paralyzed he does not have the best use of them.

Relatives and friends have waited anxiously all week for word of improvement of his condition.

Mr. Land is a prominent and progressive citizen of Sunset community. He is well liked by every one.

His parents of Commanche and a sister of Abilene are here this week. Mr. Land died Thursday morning about three o'clock.

KNOX CITY HAS 60 VISITORS

The District, Edworth League Rally which were held over the west the past Sunday were followed by the League Assembly which is in session this week in Abilene.

Rally Day for the local League and other Leagues of the county was a pleasing success. The Knox City League, which was hostess for the Rally, enjoyed having sixty or more visiting leaguers with an interesting and enthusiastic meeting for the day.

Near one hundred people were served at the noon hour in the dining room at the church at which hour the program was continued with a business and pep meeting. The meeting was a success in that it accomplished its purpose in rallying the leaguers for the Assembly in session this week.

Knox City is being represented at the Assembly by Mrs. T. S. Edwards, Mrs. Sydna Virginia Edwards, George Whitton and Hayden Fortenberry. The Assembly is a week of study in the work and leadership of the young people of the church. The aim of such studies is to understand the church life and to help the church furnish wholesome study and entertainment form them.

THE FLOWERS OF GOD

God brought forth his flowers in Eden
And man made his bed on the sod,
Not many were there to give heed
When earth grew the flowers of God.

God still fills the earth with his flowers,
With roses and bright golden rod
Man still wanders thru lovely bowers
Enjoying the flowers of God.

God wanted a man for his garden,
To praise Him, to help Him, to plod—
God found him and made him his warden—
He cared for the flowers of God.

God surely has more than one garden;
He is not a slave to the clod—
And so in God's heavenly Garden
He's growing the flowers of God.

Dedicated to Lieutenant Royal B. Lea, U. S. Army (who loved the flowers) and for whom God found another garden with lovelier flowers, May 17th, 1931.

90 Children Vaccinated

Wednesday morning about ninety children of Knox City received the vaccination for immunization against diphtheria and small pox. Twenty two other children were registered but due to the lack of medicine the vaccinations could not be given.

The attending doctors and nurse were to have made the Union Grove school Wednesday but were also unable to be there because of the shortage of medicine. Near one hundred children, with their parents, had gathered at Union Grove. Some drove as far as ten miles for this vaccination.

The cooperation given was splendid and the Parent Teacher authorities, who sponsored this free clinic, state that as soon as the medicine can be received from the state that the vaccinations will be given.

All are requested to watch the Herald for further notice as to the date on which the vaccinations will again be given.

Among those from Knox City who attended funeral services of Mrs. R. T. Pickett in Wichita Falls last Saturday were Mammy and Pappy Smith and Mrs. T. S. Edwards and son Kenneth.

Mrs. Pickett's death came after an illness of some time. She was at the time of her death, in a Wichita Falls sanitarium. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Dobson of Wichita and Mrs. Porter of Fort Worth, and seven grand children.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickett have lived on the 6666 ranch for the past eighteen or twenty years. Although she was not so well known personally, Uncle Tom, as Mr. Pickett is called, is known by every one over a good portion of west Texas. In his sorrow these many friends extend their heart felt sympathies.

Mr. Pickett has been engaged in the cattle business most of his lifetime, although he served as an officer here for 15 years, at various times as deputy sheriff, night policeman and for several terms as constable.

Mrs. Pickett had been in ill health for some time and was brought here recently for hospital attention. Surviving her, in addition to the husband are two daughters, Mrs. George Dobson, 1415 Eight street, Wichita Falls, and Mrs. C. W. Porter of Fort Worth; and seven grandchildren.

BUSINESS AND BASEBALL

We were talking the other day with a friend whose main interest in life, outside of his own business, is baseball. We were talking, as most men do when they meet these days, about the business situation.

"The business situation reminds me of the baseball situation," said our friend. "You remember that for the past few seasons an enormous number of big league players were batting home runs? They would stand at the plate, holding the bat by the tip and line them out over center field fence until home runs got to be almost commonplace. People began to get tired of them.

"Last winter the baseball magnates got together to see how they could tighten up the game. They developed a new ball, which is being used this season. The leather cover is thicker and the seams are rougher which gives the pitcher better control and a sharper break on his curves. Players who used to bat the old ball all over the lot found they could not even hit the new ball half the time. Then somebody began to think back and recalled that Ty Cobb, the greatest batter of them all, used to hold his bat somewhere in the middle and crouch over the plate. He didn't hit many home runs but he got to first base oftener than any other batter in his time. So the baseball players of this season instead of swinging high, wide and handsome, have just shortened up their bats and are playing for base hits instead of home runs.

"Now it seems to me," our friend went on, "that there is a lesson in that for business men. Everybody in business was batting home runs two or three years ago. But we are playing business with a new kind of ball, and the fellow that swings a long bat and keeps trying for home runs these days does not even get to first base. But the wise business men are just shortening up their trip bats, up close to the plate and they are batting out base hits, while the ones who have not found out yet that the new ball is harder to hit are beefing about hard time and blaming their troubles on everybody but themselves."

It seems to me that there is a good deal in what our friend said. There are a lot of business men who had things coming their way too easily during the boom, but the ones who are holding their own today and getting ahead are not the ones who are waiting for the old times to come back, but are the ones who are adopting their ideas and their business methods to today's conditions.

THE ROADSIDE LANDSCAPE At intervals of a few miles along every state highway in Tennessee there is an inconspicuous sign which reads, "No Advertising Is Permitted Within the Right of Way of Any State Highway in Tennessee."

For adopting this rule the state of Tennessee deserves a Pulitzer prize, or a Carnegie medal, or a tablet in the Hall of Fame. The state of course cannot control advertising signs not located actually on the highway property, but the mere fact that it has adopted this regulation and is calling attention to it, undoubtedly has an influence on the whole subject of the defacement of the landscape by advertising billboards. These little unobtrusive signs create in the public mind a realization of the fact that advertising signs are a defacement and a nuisance.

Tennessee has some other pretty good highway laws and regulations. There is no speed limit in the state except such as municipalities set up where traffic is thick. You may drive a hundred miles an hour in Tennessee, if your car will go that fast, but you are held strictly responsible for reckless driving and violation of the rules of the road. One of the things they are particular about in Tennessee is passing a car going in the same direction when both are going uphill. The state traffic police are vigilant, and the usual fine for this offense is $50. Tennessee has learned that most automobile accidents are not the result of speed but of carelessness.

Some other states and communities could learn something from Tennessee.

FIRESTONE PLAN DESIGNED TO AID LOCAL BUSINESS

Dealer Says Mail Order Tire Distribution is Proving Unsound

The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, according to Mr. Ashcroft, local dealer, has strengthened its dealers in every community by launching a national advertising campaign pointing out that Firestone dealers sell tires as cheap as mail order houses and give better value.

"Penny for penny in price, value guaranteed by a name that has always been associated with quality Firestone is utilizing its immense resources in plantations, manufacturing equipment, warehousing and dealer organization, to vindicate the principle that support of the local dealer and merchant in every community is vital to the growth of that community," Mr. Ashcroft says.

"The Firestone principle, says Mr. Ashcroft, is to contribute to every community by maintaining a merchant who lives there, rears his family, builds his home, pays his taxes, employs labor, and is an integral part of the community. This results in distributing in the community much of the wealth created there. In contrast to this is the mail order method of concentration in some great city far removed and yet drawing its sustenance from sections to which it contributes little or nothing.

"The mail order houses buy their tires from a manufacturer who does not put his own name on them," Mr. Ashcroft states. "The manufacturer has to make a profit and so does the mail order house. Firestone makes its own product, brands it, and sells it through local dealers. Firestone employs local advertising, which benefits the community most.

"The manufacturer who makes tires for a mail order house must necessarily have the same items of expenses as the one who makes tires for the dealer, and the mail order house finds it necessary to place large storage warehouses in strategic point just as the large tire manufacturer does.

"The mail order man and branch warehouses keep hundreds of clerks busy tabulating, shipping and corresponding.

"Mail order catalogues are expensive. Why should anybody sit down and write a letter to a firm a thousand miles away to obtain an article described in a catalogue when he can walk into a corner store and take his pick from a rack in a minute, and make direct comparisons before he buys?"

Union Grove

The past week was one of the busiest in the year for the Union Grove community, one that is looked forward to by every one. It was the week our school closed with its play, picnic, ball game and commencement exercise. Some of the old timers say that the attendance this year was the largest ever at the close of school.

The Arizona Cowboy, he play given last Thursday night, was a great success, in fact, it was about the best our school has ever staged. The program of the Primary Department was also fine.

Friday was the closing day of school with a picnic and ball game. Lunch was spread on the school ground at noon on a table 75 feet long; and it was loaded to its capacity. A large crowd was also there to take care of the food.

The ball game in the afternoon between Union Grove and Needmore was well attended. The score favored our team, 19 to 6.

Mrs. E. F. Branton and Miss Bobbie Pannell will teach our school again another year. They are both leaving in a few days to attend summer school in Lubbock.

Oscar Southall spent the past weekend with Mr. and Mrs. A. Lea. Mr. Southall grew to manhood here and taught our school in 1919. He is teaching in Seminole now.

Wednesday, May 3 the county health doctor and state nurse will be here to vaccinate the children of this community against diphtheria and small pox.

(Editor's note: The doctors and nurse failed to get to the Union Grove community because of a shortage of medicine but will get to this community at the earliest possible date.)

Monday and Tuesday, May 3 and 4 the home economic clubs of Haskell, Knox and Baylor counties will hold their annual encampment at Union Grove. All ladies who are interested in canning are invited to attend. There will be speakers on the various phases of the work.

Two of our citizens are reported ill this week. Uncle Lot Lea is in the hospital at present but is doing nicely. Mr. Fred Papworth is at his home sick.

The young people had a grand time at the party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left Saturday night.

We still have singing every Sunday night. Every one is invited to attend.

Mr. Car Owner

Here is what Race Drivers with Life and Victory at Stake have decided about Tires

FOR twenty-one years the Indianapolis two and a half mile circular brick track, surrounded by a concrete wall to keep the cars from dashing off, has been the crucible where at white heat automobiles and tires have been tested. Thousands of men have risked, sacrificed, their lives, and manufacturers have spent millions of dollars to the end of making better automobiles and better tires.

Louis Schneider and mechanic on Saturday won this race in a heavy 8 cylinder car. He made an average speed of 96.629 miles per hour—on the straightaways and in passing cars he touched 140 miles and better. He drove on 6.00-20 Firestone High Speed Tires with racing treads. He had no tire trouble.

He used Firestone Tires because Firestone experts and engineers have through twenty-one years taken this race as a challenge to tire making. From this race they have developed these vital improvements which have given to Firestone Tires the world leadership in safety, mileage and endurance.

1. Gum-Dipping. Tires had to be stronger and able to stand the heat of a hot red-brick track at high speed. Firestone met this by developing and perfecting the dipping of cords through a rubber solution to insulate each fiber of every cord to overcome heat and give the cord greater strength—and 58% greater flexibility. This is the Patented Gum-Dipping Process used in the making of every Firestone Tire.

2. The Balloon Tire was developed by Firestone to permit greater speed with comfort and safety by increasing road grip and absorbing shocks. It was made possible by the added strength and flexibility given by Gum-Dipping. In the 1925 race, some of the drivers tried the then new Firestone Balloons. The others stuck to high-pressure tires. Peter de Paolo on Firestone Balloons made a world's record. All the prize winners came in on Firestone Balloons—Now the balloon tire is everywhere the standard.

3. Double Cord Breaker. The higher-powered cars and the step-up in speed demanded still more tire toughness. At one hundred miles an hour, the circumference of a tire increases by more than 10%, and this, added to the centrifugal force, tends to throw off the tire treads. Firestone met this by developing the Patented Double Cord Breaker which gives a 56% stronger bond between the tread and the tire body and also gives a 26% greater protection against punctures and blowouts.

These are some of the great lessons that Firestone has learned on this racing track. And so the men whose lives and fortunes depend on knowing tires always buy Firestone Patented Gum-Dipped Double Cord Breaker High-Speed Tires.

There were 72 entries. Of these, 40 survived the elimination trials—and every one of them was on Firestone Tires. And every tire was bought and paid for.

We give you the benefit of all the lessons Firestone has learned from these races. You can get from us all the strength and safety in tires that the racing drivers buy.

Louis Schneider Wins 500 Mile Race

Louis Schneider, Indianapolis coach, with his mechanic, Jigger Johnson, just before and just after he rode to fame and a $20,000 pot of gold in the 500-mile Speedway Classic May 29.

No man has ever won two years consecutively, but Schneider is the fourth consecutive winner on Firestone Tires, and to express his gratitude for his safety and victory he sent Harvey S. Firestone the following telegram from the track:

"I have just won the five hundred mile Indianapolis race on Six Hundred Twenty Firestone Gum Dipped Tires. It was a most difficult and grueling test for tires due to a wet, slippery track from frequent showers. Safety at high speed was of greatest importance and my Firestone Tires enabled me to make an average speed of 96.629 miles per hour. I have always used Firestone Tires in all my racing, for I have great confidence in their safety and dependability and I want to thank you for the part Firestone Balloons played in my victory today, for I had no tire failures and changed but one tire, purely a precautionary measure, and all my tires were in fine condition at the finish of the race."
