TEXAS COWBOY REUNION NEWS

Memories of stirring days on the wide range of the old West will be revived when pioneer ranch workers to saw service with larist and saddle prior to 1898 hold their annual and-up here during the fourth annual Texas Cowboy Reunion July 4 and 5.

More than 500 of these old time cowhands registered for the meeting here last year and were guests of the Reunion management. Total attendance at the 1932 season was estimated at thirty thousand.

The cowboy rodeo, featuring performers actually employed on the ranch rather than professional so performers will be the central feature of the program of entertainment during the Cowboy Reunion. An fiddlers' contest will be held on the day of the reunion and square dances will be held each night for entertainment of cowboys and towns of all ages.

The most typical active cowboy is 55 years of age and the most typical cowboy under 55 will be seen during the reunion and awarded to each. John Solmon of Stamford received this honor last year for the youngest cowhand and Raines of Spur was selected as most typical among the active boys over 55.

In past years, a number of outfits are expected to bring down chuck wagons to Stamford the Reunion and camp at the park during the three-day celebration.

INTERESTING LECTURES AT CHURCH OF CHRIST

Brother Epherson of Vernon, 81 old Episcopist, who has been in the field for 60 years, has been in the city since last Thursday and has been conducting a series of discourses to the church terminated Sunday evening. His discourses were highly instructive and were highly impressive falling like the lightning of the aged man of the Church of Christ will have a regular appointment Sunday, however, in case of his absence, his place will be filled by Brother Carter of Miss Sydna Virginia Edwards, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. S. Edwards, and who is attending the Texas State College for Women in Denton, recently was awarded the honor of being the most beautiful girl in the Freshman class of the college. She was also honored by being named the second most beautiful girl in the entire college.

Miss Edwards, with the other college beauties, was presented at the Senior Formal at the college last Saturday night. She was happy in the knowledge that her father, Dr. Edwards, and sister, Marilyn, were in attendance of the Saturday night entertainment. Dr. Emery was also numbered among those present who manifest an interest in Miss Edwards.

It is interesting to know the way the selection of the class and college beauties was made. Since it was the plain of the college to carry out the Scotch idea in their yearbook, the Daddallon, pictures of all the girls in the beauty contests were sent to Scotland to be judged by Sir Harry Lauder. Miss Edwards' picture was one of the eight sent representing the Freshmen class. It is also interesting to know that there are several hundred members in the Freshman class, which number makes this honor of our Knox City girl even greater.

Miss Mable Clonts also of Knox City and a personal friend of Miss Edwards, was also numbered among those present at the Senior Formal last Saturday night at the college.

The Herald is indebted to the Abilene Morning News for the use of the cut picturing Miss Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hutchinson and children of the Dennis Chapel community spent the weekend here with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Humphries.

We were glad to have Mrs. S. H. Woodward, E. G. Parkhill, Mrs. Birdie Reese, L. W. Cybert and G. W. Hammons Lawson White, Jim Stevenson and J. G. Dutton numbered among those who have taken advantage of our sale on the Herald this week.

Mrs. J. H. Sharp was given a miscellaneous shower Monday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Missionary Society in the home of Mrs. J. A. Wilson. Following the Missionary program and the presentation of gifts to the honoree, Mrs. Wilson, assisted by Mrs. C. C. Hoge and Mrs. L. N. Bridges served refreshments of wafers and punch.

The Sharp family plans to leave Knox City on the 24th for Mississippi where they will visit relatives and the preacher will assist in a revival meeting.

Miss Mildred Dutton of Simmons University in Abilene spent the past weekend here with her parents. She assisted in the Mothers Day musical program given Sunday night at the Baptist church.

Reverend and Mrs. Stovall, Clois and Truitt, were called to Goodright Texas last Friday night in the illness of Mrs. Stovall Jr. The preacher and two children returned to Knox City Sunday afternoon but Mrs. Stovall remained in Goodright with Claude Junior and his wife.

Mrs. W. L. White Femester Drowns in Lake

Mrs. W. L. White, after an illness of some four weeks, died Saturday, May 13, 1933 and was buried in the Odd Fellow Cemetery Saturday afternoon following funeral services held from the First Baptist church in Knox City.

Mrs. White with her family has lived for the past fifteen years on the Clonts place. She is survived by her husband and six children, five of whom are boys. She is also survived by her father, two sister and one brother. The father and one sister live in California, one sister in Valley View and the brother lives in California. The sister from Valley View came for the funeral services. Among the other surviving relatives is an uncle, Mr. Pettis of Truscott who also was in attendance at the funeral services.

Funeral services were held in the Baptist church to which Mrs. White belonged, under the direction of the Reverend J. H. Sharp, the Baptist pastor Reverend Stovall being out of town.

Mr. White has two sisters who came from Fayetteville and Fort Smith Arkansas but who arrived about one hour too late for the services.

Following is a poem which was contributed to the memory and honor of Mrs. White.

"There are stars that go out in the darkness,
But whose silver light shineth on;
There are roses whose perfume lingers,
When the blossoms are faded and gone;
There are hearts full of light and sweetness
When no longer their life current flows,
Still their goodness lives on with the living
Like the souls of the star and the roses."
A Friend

E. O. Jamison and grand daughter Yvonne left the city Monday for Mineral Wells where they are spending the week. Mrs. Jamison is also in Mineral Wells.

Tuesday Jim Stevenson and John Dutton started grading the streets. They made excellent improvements on the streets which improvements were certainly welcomed.

Little Miss Laura Beth Bradberry fell while at play Monday and cut a severe gash on the top of her head and forehead. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bradberry.

Mr. Romie Femester, about 28 years of age, was drowned in lake Kemp last Friday evening. His body was found Saturday morning.

Mr. Femester lived at Vera. He, with two other men had gone to the lake fishing. They secured a boat for the purpose of running a trout line that was already out. Without oars or a float the three men started in the boat to run the line. The line broke while the three were some distance from the shore and the boat began to drift. All felt that they had better swim to the shore and Femester, not being able to swim, drowned. His two companions tried to help him but were unable to save him.

Femester's body was found Saturday morning and funeral services were held Saturday afternoon. Interment was made in the Vera Cemetery. He is survived by a wife and two children.

Mr. Femester was well known here. He had lived in Vera for about 14 years.

IMPROVEMENTS UNDERWAY IN KNOX CITY

A number of improvements on homes and other property in Knox City are being made this week. This work looks good and we hope that it encourages others to do likewise.

Mr. A. J. Gore, who lives just at the end of the Monday road east of the city, is making improvements this week on her private water system. She is having the windmill repaired and the well reworked.

Mrs. T. P. Fairzell is improving her home in the laying of hardwood floors and the building of new cabinets.

C. E. Ball is making further improvements on his home. Mr. Ball is about the most progressive home owner in Knox City. Since the purchase of his place, Mr. Ball has been continuous in making improvements. Mrs. C. H. Kek keeps adding beauty to her yard. She is now building a rock garden and what not. Wish we all had the what.

FINAL P-T-A PROGRAM GIVEN

Tuesday evening the final program for the Parent-Teacher Association for the year was given in the school auditorium. The auditorium was filled to capacity, the largest crowd ever gathered for a Parent Teacher program.

The program "An Evening in Dixie" consisted of numbers given by the children from the first through the seventh grades, also several numbers by a male quartet and a splendid talk by Superintendent Cloud. Mr. Cloud's talk was the best he has been known to make. It was snappy, well delivered and covered the subject well.

The program was concluded by announcements made by the new president, Mrs. Joe Averitt and dismissed by prayer led by Reverend Stovall.

Mrs. G. W. Coats and little daughter Norma Jarline spent the past weekend with her mother in Stamford.

Mrs. Loyce Teague and daughter Betty Sue spent two days last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Teague in Rule.

Reverend L. D. Hammock, pastor First Baptist Church Center, Colorado, accompanied by his wife and little son spent Wednesday and Thursday with his brother and family L. Hammock in this city. They were enroute to Austin, Texas, to visit Mrs. Hammock's mother and other relatives.

Five hundred women, members of Home Demonstration Clubs of 20 Panhandle-Plains counties, met in Canyon May 11, for the third annual short course directed by district agents, Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs and Miss Myrtle Murray and Miss Marinn Brimington, Head of Home Economic Department West Texas State Teachers College. The farm women were accompanied to the meeting by county home demonstration agents. Several farm women were accompanied to the meeting by county home demonstration agents. Several men attended also.

The counties were represented at one day parley for the first time. They were Knox, Randall, and Hutchinson. Randall county had the largest delegation with a registration of 101 women. Lamb came second with a representation of 50 club women and Potter was third with a registration of 45 members.

The farm women were welcomed to Canyon by Mrs. J. A. Hill Mrs. J. B. Dicks of Potter county responded. Mrs. Gladys Weaver led the community singing periods. Mr. L. F. Shaffy of the college faculty, gave a brief talk on the new Panhandle Plains Historical Society Museum which was recently opened to the public on the college campus. Miss Myrtle Murray discussed rugs and mats on exhibition, which were brought to the meeting by various club members. A featured entertainment program was presented at the morning session by the T-Anchor Club, composed of 32 boys who live on the College Farm.

Dean Jarrett, of tech college, in discussing "The Newer Education", declared that American schools must again get in step with the various other phases of our social order, stressing the fact that it must be more progressive if it is to serve the needs.

Dean Jarrett lauded the work of the home demonstration agents and county club work for giving to families a physical, intellectual, social, and spiritual value.

The three tasks of rural leadership as sounded by Miss Bess Edwards of College Station, assistant director of the home demonstration work in Texas, are: the cultivation of brains, the conquest of bread, the capture of beauty. "Another task", she said, "is the consecration of self to brotherhood".

Miss Edwards gave a resus of the club work in Texas and said that as a result of the state-wide program, Texas farm women are working efficiently and living abundantly, making beautiful, livable homes.

Those attending from Knox county were: Mrs. John Rensau, of the Munday Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. J. C. Patterson, of the Benjamin H. D. Club, Mrs. H. A. Smith of the Truscott H. D. Club and Jewell Faulkner, County Home Demonstration Agent.

HOW FORTUNATE KNOX CITY

It will be remembered by readers of the Herald that last week we made a small statement concerning the fortune of Knox City in a material way the large number of new cars that are driven daily by our citizens as compared with the number of new cars in other towns in Texas.

We call your attention this week to another source of fortune of our city. A few weeks back a certain strange young man came to Knox City and opened a Service Station that had been closed. One of the acts of this young man was to affiliate himself with the church of his choice, which act aroused no little interest and caused no small amount of complimentary words to be spoken.

This talk however, was not half so convincing to the public concerning the young man as were the few words and the song which he gave as a portion of the Mother's Day Musical program at the Baptist church. Any young man who will ask permission to dedicate a song to his mother then sing the same with the feeling and expression as did this young man Sunday night is bound to be a pretty good young man.

However, it is not the purpose of this article to compliment but it is the purpose of the article to point out to Knox City its good fortune.

It is highly possible that the individual who opened the Service Station in question here could have been a different type of person, one of our side walk or bank step sitters for instance, who would encourage the presence of those who do nothing but occupy the outside corner of some building.

Instead however, we are glad to say that our newest, strange young man is the same type of person as we have so many of already in our city—fine, clean and a person interested in God and a place of worship. How fortunate Knox City!

Since it has been mentioned we might as well make a further expression concerning our "corner and step sitters".

As our readers know, we for the past five months were out of the office of the Herald. During those five months we traveled over a wide section of the state looking for a bigger, better town. Well, we found bigger towns but no better town than Knox City, Knox City is simply hard to beat; however, if it is our privilege to say, there is one thing that needs changing.

It strikes us as being extremely rude and verging on the rim of being vulgar the way our shiftless-unemployed men park themselves on the bank steps and store corners and refuse (absolutely) to move for anything. We have witnessed ladies having to step over their feet to get in a store. Better citizens, do you like this? Why don't you do something about it?

MONKEYSHINES

After a hundred and twenty days in session at a cost in salaries only of $1,800 a day, the Texas Legislature demonstrates with costly procedure one of the history-book purposes for which the American Revolution was fought has been accomplished. No taxation without representation has been succeeded by taxation with all manner of representation.

In the last hundred and twenty days these one hundred and eighty-one legislators have thrown water pitchers, called each other liars—not untruthfully, gone sightseeing to Galveston, tried to pass bills giving undertakes liens on tomb stones, bill-taxing the privilege of buying a loaf of bread and countless other hilarities.

In the last hundred and twenty days these one hundred and eighty-one legislators have smoked 50,000 cigars, read probably 60,000 newspapers, listened to probably 10,000,000 words, snored with a combined snore loud enough to fill the walls of probably a dozen Jericos, eaten approximately 60,000 meals and slept approximately 75,000 hours—all of which, for salaries alone cost the tax payers a dollar and twenty-five cents every time the clock ticks.

But this ill all remedied now. Because the framers of the Texas constitution believed in carrying a joke just so far, the legislators, after a hundred and twenty days, work () on half their former pay. So they are costing the tax payers now only sixty-two and a half cents every time the clock ticks. This is what the people get for having clocks.

AFTER 40 bowel trouble

Constipation may very easily become chronic after forty. And any continued constipation at that time of life may bring attacks of colic with a host of other unpleasant disorders.

Watch your bowels at any age. Guard them with particular care after forty. Whenever they need any help, remember a doctor should know what is best for them.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" is a doctor's prescription for the bowels. Tested by 47 years' practice, it has been found thoroughly effective in relieving constipation and its ills for men, women and children of all ages. It has proven perfectly safe even for babies. Made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients, it cannot gripe, will not sicken you or weaken you, can be used without harm as often as your breath is bad, or when your tongue is coated; whenever a headachy, bilious, gassy condition warns of constipation.

ON GRADUATING

There is no aspiration or effort in a world of life that is not directed toward some particular end. Work without a definite aim is energy utterly wasted. The child creeps in order that he may walk, and "so it is that follow as the night the day" that we, who are to build human beings, must bend every effort toward a definite aim in view.

These years of our school life have been directed toward the hour of graduation. To this end we have labored and worked, and planned, to the end we have seen great visions of the manner of students since the beginning of all study. Now the hour to which we so long have looked forward is in sight.

Now that we have at last reached the goal of our youths' ambition, find that it was not the end of things, but merely a stepping stone to larger, broader, and fuller life. We are not finishing our course at all, but are merely beginning a new one. We must aim at something, or we'll never reach anything. We each resolve, whatever individual aim may be, to keep eyes fixed upon the mark of our calling and go out into the world and perform great service to humanity.

A Senior

STUDENTS OF HONOR

Mary McAuley and Wilma Lowrey are the proud receivers of the two highest honors of high school, valedictorian and salutatorian. Both girls worked faithfully for their "Al Mater" these last four years, in every field of work, beside this. Knox City High is proud to release such students, feeling certain they will attain success in whatever course they wish to follow. The school is proud of these girls, for students like this make our school famous.

Another pupil of honor, Clarence Leaverton, has achieved an honor all ambitious school boys fix as their school goal. Clarence has the highest grade average, during his years of high school work. Among boys in the graduating class as a whole, Sam will receive the same honor that Mary, valedictorian, receives. Again, the student body wishes these pupils future success in selective profession of life.

HAMMONS SEVENTH GRADE VALEDICTORIAN

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Cash graded the grades of the pupils in the race for valedictorian of Seventh Grade, Doll Hammons valedictorian, his average being 92.2. Claudia Sue Moseley was salutatorian. Her average was 92. Marilyn Edwards had the highest grade which was 90 2-11. McAuley was next. Her average 89 9-11. There were several pupils in the class with close scores. They were Ray Amason, Spillers and Sallie Carter.

TRIP TO HAMLIN

Ten Greyhounds with their coach left Friday afternoon May 2 for Hamlin where they were scheduled for two baseball games. The boys arrived at Hamlin about 3:00 o'clock and immediately suited out. After a good hitting practice and fast workout, the Greyhounds were ready to play. Clarence Leaverton stepped in the box, pitched three innings, then was relieved by Lawrence Dutton. The Greyhounds fought bravely but the final score was 8-11 in favor of the Pied Pipers.

After arrangements had been made for overnight entertainment of the visitors, the boys left Hamlin to attend a picnic.

The boys rested Saturday until 3:00 o'clock when their second game was scheduled. Lawrence Dutton pitched this game successfully. The entire team played the good baseball they are capable of playing and as a result the game was their's. The score was 10-4.

Soon after the game the boys started toward Knox City. They arrived home just as the sun was setting.

WOULDN'T IT BE FUNNY IF

Lois Huntsman never got tickled? Jonell Robbins made 90 in Geometry?

Anybody but the seniors had sense enough to look at a picture upside down?

Furd Glover didn't make a "break" in English class.

Melvin Jones could get over his "lost love"?

Anybody but Francis Swift had a bottle of ink?

If Mary Howell was afraid of live horned toads?

Mary McAuley knew her multiplication table?

The history three class could answer a question correctly without guessing at it?

YOU'

Whether you'll try for the goal that's afar.

Or be contented to stay where you are.

JUST THREE MORE WEEKS

Just three more weeks! How wonderful that sounds to the industrious Juniors, maybe it sounds that way to the sophs and ill' fish too. At any rate the least we (the students of Knox City High School) can say is that it will be a relief to our poor, over-taxed minds (or would it be misrepresenting things to say brains, taking into consideration, of course, that we do not exhibit, our vast store of knowledge on all occasions, maybe on only a few and maybe not on that many. As for the dignified seniors, I cannot read their feelings relating to the subject so well in the ever-changing expressions of their countenance, where it is plainly evident that the emotions of joy and sorrow are ever at war, each striving for the mastery. Of course it is not hard to discern the thoughts and emotions expressed in the bright expression (or it is impressive) faces of the Juniors and sophs, especially the Juniors. Even the fish's face is easily read, for in his inexperience he is unable to prevent his inner emotions from being mirrored in the ruddy, fresh glow of his countenance.

The question arises, what of the poor teachers? Well, we are not so sure. Their attitude will obviously be one of great relief also though of a different nature when the said three weeks have terminated; and I am sure that we offer our heart-felt sympathy and most gladly do we relieve them of their watchful care. Whether or not their attitude coincides with that of our parents, I cannot definitely state, for when the responsibility of the teacher expires it automatically falls their lot to take up the broken threads of the vigilance which the teacher gladly severs at the end of school.

So you see we just can't help having a grave respect or feeling a tender emotion for the fateful three weeks that are to follow, even if it does mean that it will be a three weeks of last minute "digging" for exams and frantic efforts to get notes and books in readiness that have lain covered in dust for maybe two or three months, untouched and forgotten. Really I suppose the efforts are worth it, when the three month's vacation for the Juniors, sophs, fish—everyone except the seniors. Now my dear seniors please don't take it too much to heart, for after all it is really easy to adjust things to your own satisfaction even at the last moment if you so desire; all you have to do is to "flunk" one or two of the finals and fall to get a credit or two and I am sure that the Juniors of '33 will welcome you into the Senior Class of '34. Really now, I shall be disappointed if at least two or three of you do not take my earnest advice.

A well Meaning Junior

THINGS I ENJOYED MOST DURING MY HIGH SCHOOL DAYS

High school life has been very pleasant to me in many ways and it would be almost impossible for me to name all the things I have enjoyed during my four years in High School. But the things that stand out most in my mind when I think back is the splendid association that I have had with my classmates and teachers. No one could be more true and loyal to each other than the ones in the Senior class have been to each other. I do not think any high school could have any better teachers than Knox City High School has had and I can truly say that every teacher who has taught me has made her classes really very interesting.

The parties and picnics I have enjoyed very much and also the Junior-Senior banquets that I have attended. I must also mention the Senior play. We worked hard to get it up, but I think everyone enjoyed his work because we had fun along with it.

Now my high school days are nearly over. This makes me feel sad because I will not be back here any more to hear the familiar voices of the lower classes whom I have learned to love. But still I will have those happy memories of the things I enjoyed most in school to think of throughout my life but I should be satisfied because many boys and girls have never had this privilege.

A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future.

Three years---1929 to 1932---we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward---through it.

Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method---new political and financial machinery---to pull us out the way we are going---forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only---the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office.

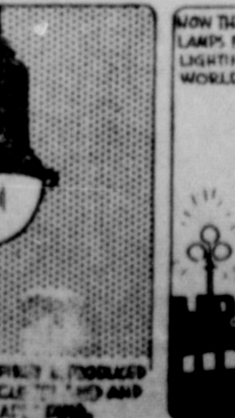

And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can.

The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Jesus Answers His Adversaries Lesson for May 21st. Mark 12:1-44. Golden Text: John 7:46. Our lesson deals with the events of Tuesday of Holy Week, the day of controversy. The sticklers for the law, whospecialized in the fine art of theological hair-splitting, then endeavored to entangle the Master with in the web of their subtle arguments. They were determined to impale Him on the horns of their dilemmas. Crafty catch questions were their stock in trade.

First they asked Jesus whether the imperial taxes should be paid or not. The Pharisees objected to the tax assessments of Rhome, arguing that the payments of tribute to Caesar was an act of disobedience to God. If Jesus answered "Yes," He would thereby expose Himself to their attack, eager as they were to accuse Him of lack of loyalty to His own people and tradition. On the other hand, if He answered "No," He would at once anger the Herodians, who truckled to the Romans, favoring, in opposition to the Pharisees, the payment of the imposed taxes. The Master wisely avoided a "Yes" or "No" reply. It is possible, He insists, in His famous answer, to be obedient both to Caesar and God, to the state and the Church.

Now came the priestly Sadducees with their artificial query concerning the woman with seven husbands. "Whose wife shall she be at the resurrection?" they demanded. It was a silly question, but presented a golden opportunity to the Master. Skillfully He lifted the problem into a region far above the quibbling of His questioners. In the risen life beyond life, He insisted, persons dwell not as husbands and wives, but as the angels of God, communing with Him. Who is not the God of the dead but of the living.

Then came the scribe seeking to know what the first commandment. With superbe insight Jesus combined two declarations from the Mosaic law. The first duty of man, He answered, is to love God with one's whole heart, soul, mind and strength. And the second duty is to love our neighbor as we love ourselves. To this the scribe assented, and was told he was not far from God's Realm.

GAS BILL AVERAGED $46.63 PER CUSTOMER IN 1932

Now that the house heating season is over, a survey by the gas company reveals that customers pay more than half of their entire year's gas bill in only four months of the year. The survey of gas customers' accounts in this vicinity, according to L. M. Scholl, division manager of the Stamford and Western Gas Company further shows that between 60 and 80 per cent of the customers use so little gas during the long hot period that they fail to pay for the cost of service rendered during these months.

The average amount received by the company in 1932 was $46.63 per customer for a year's service, or less than 13 cents per day per customer. This is arrived at by dividing the total revenue by the total number of customers. This average bill for each month in the year is as follows: January $6.73; February $6.09; March $5.63; April $4.26; May $2.54; June $2.15; July $1.94; August $1.88; September $1.98; October $2.66; November $4.39; December $6.38.

"It can be seen from the above figures that $24.83, or more than half of the year's total bill, is paid in four months," said Mr. Scholl. "Nearly three-fourths of the average bill, or $32.48, is paid in six months of the year, leaving only $13.15 left to be paid during the other six months."

He pointed out that if gas bills were paid equally each month, such as bills for rent or other necessities in which the amount varies only slightly, it would be easier to see that the cost of dependable gas service is only a few cents a day.
