Baptist Bulletin

Last Sunday was a fine day with the Baptist church; both services were well attended. It seems that our people have determined to go to church regardless of the weather. Why not? We go to our business houses on rainy days; we go to our clubs, we go everywhere else, so come on join the crowd; let's go to church next Sunday. "Loyalty" in church service will always bring a blessing, both to you and to some one else.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLES CLASS

The Euzelian Class of the Baptist Sunday School is a loyal group. There were those present Sunday who walked "blocks" through mud and rain to meet with their class.

In January 1930 this class began a "through the Bible" course. For more than two years they have studied the Bible, chapter by chapter and book by book. Next Sunday's lesson is Proverbs chapters 20 to 29.

Mrs. T. E. Robbins, the faithful and efficient teacher, together with the entire class, invites you to come.

HUGE ATTENDANCE AT WASHINGTON PROGRAM

One of the biggest gatherings seen in Knox City in the past year was that in attendance at the George Washington program given Wednesday night at the school building.

This program was planned for Monday night but due to the severe weather, it was postponed until Wednesday night. The school auditorium was filled to its capacity including window sitting and standing room.

The program was sponsored by the History department of the school, instructors Dean and Mrs. Cash. They were assisted by Mrs. Warren, music teacher, and Mrs. Jones, expression teacher. Every number of the program was fine.

In addition to the regular numbers as planned by the teachers, they were happy to have Dr. T. S. Edwards make a talk at the same time presenting to the school a framed copy of the original order given George Washington to assume authority as Commander in chief of the army of the 13 colonies. The gift was very appropriate, and much appreciated by the school for it typifies the type of citizen our much loved physician and surgeon has proved himself to be.

The crowd in attendance was far to large for the officers of the Parent-Teacher Association to attempt attending to business so only the count for the various classes were made. The grade having the largest number present at each meeting of the association is awarded a prize of one dollar. This award was made to the Sophomore class Wednesday night.

W. M. Teague and wife and daughter of Abilene and T. A. Teague of Rule are here this week with their father C. B. Teague who is ill. Mr. Teague has been in poor health for some time but he is worse this week.

Spirit of Good Fellowship Promoted at C of C Meeting

OLD OFFICERS RETAINED PROGRAM COMMITTEE MUST FUNCTION

A spirit of unexcelled good fellowship was promoted in the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening at the Sanitary Cafe. It has long been believed that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, and one is inclined to believe that statement when he sees a group of business men respond to a meal such as was consumed Tuesday evening by the thirty men present.

As to whether or not the chicken dinner directed the atmosphere of the evening is not yet terminated, however, it is a fact that this meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was the most enjoyable, and is believed to have offered the most sound business principles and opportunities that the local organization has had during the past year or two.

Invitation was given most reverently by Reverend Stovall and the meal heartily partaken of.

Business Session

The outstanding measure of the business session was the retaining of the same officers for the ensuing year. This step was recommended by the nominating committee, and readily accepted by the entire organization. In the absence of the vice-president, Darnell, Mr. J. T. May was elected to this office. The Civic committee, composed of C. C. Hoge, J. V. Jones and Ray Willis, was retained and immediately given a job. They are to act in conjunction with the Study Club in the Home beautification work in securing some special lectures, pictures etc for the town and community. This committee will doubtless have an interesting report within the next few weeks.

Committee Report Shows Good Work

The report of the executive committee, made by T. P. Frizzell, outlined the work that has been accomplished during the past twelve months; and in spite of the much talked about depression; this report was pleasing and gratifying to those of the organization who have worked and yet felt small results.

Among the consequences of the past twelve months the Chamber of Commerce has to its credit the assistance which it gave the Study Club in carrying on the Home Beautification contest; the two days school of instruction which was held during the summer at Union Grove school; the immunization of 85 per cent of the Knox City and community school children; the encouragement and help given in retaining the services of both the County Agent and Home Demonstration Agent; affiliation with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; and retaining, in a general better condition throughout our territory, as compared with other localities.

Shap Talks

Following the business session, the speaker for the evening, Reverend J. H. Sharp, was given the floor. His subject, "An Unfair Competitor" was most efficiently developed. The key words of this address were "push" and "cooperate". While the small towns of today, said Brother Sharp, have to push for themselves, they must put together. Be not jealous of the business of your competitor, but be energetic and go after business in the same determined way that he does.

One great need of the world today as emphasized by the speaker, is the need we have of each other. We need a friend in whom we can confide. Whose advice we can ask for and profit by its use. This we should offer each other unselfishly and on the highest basis on which friendship is built.

Brother Sharp was given a hearty applause by the organization.

also a clever response by the other preacher present, Brother Stovall.

Program Committee
By the decision of the C. of C. there is to be a program committee for each meeting of the organization, which is to arrange a program for the respective meetings. This committee for the next meeting, as appointed by the president, is composed of Dr. Frizzell, H. M. Jones and Henry Arledge.

It was also the decision of the club that the same meet once a month for an indefinite period, this in the evening and with an interesting program and discussion.

Smith's Closing Remarks

In his closing remarks, President Smith stated his ideal and aim for the Chamber of Commerce throughout the year 1932. He applied the age old adage "A chain is no stronger than its weakest link" to the C. of C. We can function, said Mr. Smith, with success only to the extent of the strength of our weakest member. We can strengthen our weakest link by helping each other; we can elevate our citizenship by elevating ourselves and helping each other; we can build up the town by building for ourselves, of ourselves and of each other.

"Look What You've Done"

Now "Look What You've Done", and when you see "What you've done" at the high school auditorium Friday night, March the 4th you will enjoy having seen "Look what you've done."

This play given by the American Legion Auxiliary from Rule and sponsored by the American Legion of this city. Admittance is 10 cents. Plan to see the play.

Lloyd Waldrip is offering in-between-act comedy. Every one knows the Waldrip comedy. That alone is worth more than the admittance price. Save a dime this week to buy your ticket for this play next week.

JOHN VEALE WHEAT ANNOUNCES FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

John Veale Wheat of Seymour announces as a candidate for the office of District Attorney for the 5th Judicial District, subject to the Democratic Primaries, July 23rd.

Mr. Wheat is a native of Baylor County, born of native parents of West Texas. He finished the public schools at Seymour, spent two years in Texas A. and M. College and received his law degree from the University of Texas in the Spring of 1931. Since graduation from the University he has been a member of the law firm of Wheat & Wheat at Seymour; has appeared in the trial of a number of cases, both civil and criminal in the State and Federal Courts, and those with whom he has been associated have been kind enough to say for him that he has marked ability as a lawyer and is fully capable of performing the duties of District Attorney.

Mr. Wheat's candidacy is particularly interesting inasmuch as he is a young man and has not heretofore sought public office. However, the district has heretofore chosen its district attorneys principally from its young men on their first legs notably in recent years Hon. I. O. Newton, Hon. J. Ross Bell and Hon. Wm. B. Conbost.

Mr. Wheat has requested us to say for him that if elected he pledges to the voters his best energies and ability to aid in the enforcement of the law without fear or favor.

The Weather

The sun looked mighty good Tuesday morning after a very wet Sunday, Sunday night and Monday.

The exciting hand was Tuesday. Never seen other as anyone else, but Museum at Washington the egg in Madagascar.

C. B. Teague Funeral Friday

Mr. C. B. Teague, age 76 years, 10 months and 7 days, died at his home Thursday morning about one o'clock. Death came after many months of very poor health.

Funeral service will be held Friday morning at ten at the residence. Services will be conducted by Reverend Sharp, assisted by Reverend Mann.

A complete report will appear in the Herald next week.

The Herald joins the town in extending condolence to the family, especially to the devoted wife whose physical body has given way to the strain and worry in these last days, and also to the excellent sons who have nursed the aged father so tenderly, watched by his bedside so devotedly day and night during the many weeks of his illness. To these and the many other relatives and bereaved loved ones we extend our heart felt sympathies.

SANTA FE SPECIAL TO STOP IN KNOX CITY

The Santa Fe Farm and Home Special which began Monday February 15th and will continue through April the 6th, will stop for a period of one hour in Knox City and present the program which is being presented in all the other towns included in the long route. This will be on Friday, March the 18th at four p. m.

This program is operated by the Santa Fe Railway in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College. The Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College will present the entire program which will feature dairying, poultry raising, better livestock, soil improvement, better farms and crops, home improvements and 4-H club work. Four car loads of exhibits will be in view with the program. Lectures will be made by leading farm specialists.

Special features will be offered for women and children. Watch the Herald for further news of this interesting, valuable program which will be presented near the Santa Fe depot in Knox City on March the 18th.

UNCLE TOM GETS MARRIED

Mr. R. T. Pickett, better known to Knox City citizens as Uncle Tom, was married to Mrs. Bessie Tankersley one day last week. The wedding took place in Guthrie.

On College Honor Roll

Knox City citizens will be glad to learn of the exceedingly good work which Miss Constance Browning has done since she enrolled in the College of Industrial Arts.

A news item received by the Herald this week from the special news department of the college reads as follows:

"Miss Constance Browning, daughter of Mrs. Myrtle Browning of Knox City, was one of the 100 students in a student body of 1400 at the Texas State College for Women (CIA) who made all "A's" and "B's" during the first semester. Miss Browning's name has been placed on the dean's special honor roll, according to E. V. White dean of the college.

"Miss Browning, who is a freshman student in the college, is majoring in speech. She received a letter from Dean White commending her excellent grades."

The people of Knox City, especially the teachers in the school, are aware of the fact that Constance is a very fine, capable girl, but the record she made in college will add much more to our appreciation of Constance. Constance finishes her first college semester with five A grades and two B grades.

Mrs. Keck with her two mothers, Mrs. Boyles and Mrs. M. C. Keck both of Seymour spent Sunday in Carlsbad Texas. They went to see Charley Keck and found him doing fine. We are glad to have this report from Charley.

Grandfather was Washington's Officer

Attended Washington's Funeral

In a conversation Monday with the Methodist preacher of this city, Mr. E. Y. Nance, 85 year young citizen of Knox City, recalled stories told to him of his grand father who as an officer in the army of a man whom the world has honored this week, George Washington.

The grandfather of Mr. Nance not only served in Washington's army but he also attended Washington's funeral. These facts were recalled by Mr. E. Y. Nance as he listened to the many tributes paid to the great Washington.

Mr. Nance is now 85 years old. He and his wife live in the east section of the city. They enjoyed their 51 wedding anniversary on Christmas day 1931.

SINGING CONVENTION AT GILLESPIE SUNDAY

We are reminded this week that the county singing convention will be held Sunday, the 28th at Gillespie. The people of this community heartily invite every one to be with them in this convention and take part in the singing.

Mrs. H. M. Jones will go to Snyder Friday for her little daughter, Martha Jean, who has spent the past month with her grandmother Mrs. Spikes.

All down through the ages there has been considerable talk as to the quantity of chicken that a Methodist preacher can consume. Tuesday evening this record was put to test. It was learned that the amount, though vast, is equal only to the amount of chicken that is possible for only one other class of people to consume. That other class is the Baptist preachers.

It would not surprise us if the citizens of Knox City go in for watermelon raising this year.

We have often wondered just how long an hour and thirty minutes is but since Tuesday evening we feel that we are more in the dark as to just how much time it really is.

We notice this week that Mr. E. A. Propps has resigned at the Dickerson Service Station (always known as Buck Propps Station) and is driving one of the Sinclair distributing trucks for Waldrip. Mr. Propps is one of Knox City's finest men and we hope he finds his new work both pleasant and profitable.

It is great to see the big amount of yard beautification that is being done in Knox City now. This week a truck with shrubs and plants of all description from the Conner Nursery in Haskell has been in Knox City and in addition to having the shrubs and plants our people want, Mr. Connor is assisting the buyers of the plants in arranging them in the yard for the best advantage.

We find that more resident owners are interested in beautifying their homes than we thought for. We were pleasantly surprised when we returned home Wednesday afternoon and found that Mr. A. P. Oliver had purchased and put out two arbutus. They are pretty and we are enjoying them. Mr. Oliver is only one of the many who are showing additional interest in yard beautification. We hope that every one who owns a home in Knox City will buy at least one Crepe Myrtle plant and put in a prominent place in the yard. The Crepe Myrtle is the official plant of Knox City and it would be great to see a bush of red blooms in each yard in town. Mr. Oliver is going to buy two. Let's all buy one.

A Visit Back Home

Following is an article written by the wife of a former pastor of Knox City. Reverend and Mrs. McKeown were in Knox City through the years 1916, 17, 18 and 19. Mrs. McKeown was one of the best loved women ever in this section of the country.

Many people of Knox City will read the following article with much love and admiration for the writer and will also be glad to have her address which is given at the end of the article. The story is taken from the December number of the Texas Christian Advocate and reads as follows:

For the first time since our marriage in 1899 my husband and I slipped away from home for a leisurely visit together—a long delayed honeymoon trip—and very naturally we journeyed to our native land, especially, since our daughter and little grandson urged us to be their companions in travel back to their Nashville home. From this city a delightful bus trip of a few hours over the mountains, resplendent with their mountain hues, brought us to our destination, the "fluted region" of East Tennessee.

During the seven weeks of our wanderings many pleasant experiences have been ours. The association with kindred and with friends of long ago, treading again the familiar paths of other days and recalling the hallowed scenes of childhood and youth have all been full of rare pleasure.

After a half century of Texas plains and prairies of Texas the hills and ridges seem higher and the valley much narrower than they once were; the forests seem to have grown more dense and the shadowy country roads with their over-lapping trees stretch away in alluring beauty like dime vistas to some lovely land of enchantment and dreams.

But the magic spell of these hazy Indian summer days grips us and thrills us in the old time way with an indescribable sense of delight. From the same old springs the water is gushing forth in streams just as abundant, as cool and refreshing as ever. And many a majestic old tree known and loved in other days, still stands "a thing of beauty and a joy forever" and the sight of it is like meeting an old friend from whom we have long been separated.

It is always a joy to the superannuated preacher to have an opportunity to preach and the fact that Mr. McKeown had one or two opportunities every Sunday as we went from one town or community to another has added much to his happiness and mine.

It was our good fortune to enjoy a helpful service one morning at Charleston, Tennessee, a place well known to us in early life. The quiet beauty of that bright Sunday morning as we gathered at the old church on the hill and the beautiful trees standing like sacred sentinels all beathed upon our spirits a hush of holy reverence. The messenger of the hour felt the inspiration; just to his right on a memorial window were the names, William and Mary Brittain his grandparents, who in the long ago were charter members of that church, which had been organized before the land was purchased from the Cherokee Indians in 1836. It was indeed a gracious service. On leaving the church we were escorted to an ideal spot a short distance from town which had been chosen by a large group of our nieces and nephews and their families for an out-door dinner in our honor. The two large springs, side by side, sending their sparkling waters out over the pebbly bottom of a musical branch fully justified the name of the place—Bellefonte. At the next, new church on the hill near by, a large congregation assembled later in the afternoon and the Texas preacher had another chance to preach in the name of the Master.

The fourth Sunday in October was also a day of unusual interest; it was out of the ordinary. At Oak Grove, a rural church, in the northern part of Meigs county, not far from the site of old Oak Grove Academy, a school of large reputation in those days, there was planned a reunion of the students of 1884-1887 in honor of the Texas visitor who had been their teacher at that time. The people gathered from country towns and city, some of them coming as far as a hundred miles. The little band of remaining ex-students accompanied by children and grand children had turned with eager expectancy in the early hours of that Sabbath day to the scenes of their childhood and schooldays. The eleven o'clock hour was one of real worship and joyous fellowship that will long be remembered by both preacher and congregation.

Upon the long tables out under the shade of magnificent oaks were spread a most sumptuous feast of good things to which some three hundred persons did ample justice. The social spirit of the dinner hour was replete with joy as old friends met again and talked over the happy experiences of the days long gone.

At two o'clock the church bell called the assembly within for a unique program. Seated at the front was this group of elderly school boys and school girls while a choir composed largely of their sons and daughters, led the music for the occasion. One of their number reported and their number presided and their old teacher was the guest of honor. Another one read Psalm 193 and led the prayer. Then there were talks, interesting talks, in which the inspirational, the tender, the humorous, the pathetic each had a place. Though Oak Grove Academy had been an independent school, Christian education was emphasized and almost every student spoke of the abiding influence of the religious instruction there given. It was especially gratifying to the teacher to note that these men and women were rally Christian in their lives and were leaders in church and civic affairs in their several communities. At the close of the program the valedictorian was introduced a dignified matron, who read before her teacher and classmates the very paper she had read as girl graduate in May, 1886.

Being admonished by the swiftly passing days that our East Tennessee visit was growing too long, we accepted the kind offer of a devoted nephew and his wife to bring us over to Nashville. And here we are

WEINERT-SUNSET GAME BEST IN TOURNAMENT

The Basket Ball game played last Saturday night at Sun Set between Sun Set and Weinert was the best of the tournament which ended with this game. The entire game was hard fought, the two keeping a close score and excellent plays were staged throughout the game.

This game ended with Weinert the victor, which in turn gave them first place in the tournament. Sun Set was second and Knox City was third.

Mrs. P. B. Baker and Mrs. Maud Smith visited in Munday Tuesday.

We understand that S. L. Favor and Mrs. P. B. Baker were victors in a 42 game Monday night against Mrs. Favor and Miss Buckholt.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ballard and son motored to Gorman Sunday where Mrs. Ballard and son remained over until Tuesday, visiting relatives.

Among the guests in the J. J. Horton home this week were Miss Alice Howard, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Howard and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Howard all of Witharrel.

A Mr. Lankford died on the plains one day last week and was shipped to Rochester for burial Friday. He was related to the Barnard family of O'Brien.

S. M. Clonts and Cletor Fyeatt were in Fort Worth over Saturday Sunday and Monday. They attended the District Bankers Association and goodness knows what else.

There will be a joint Washington program Monday night at the Masonic hall, sponsored by the Masons and the Eastern Star. All Masons and their wives will be in attendance.

A Staunch Ship In All Weathers

Size, age position or goal—all may differ—among ships as among men—but one qualification must exist—ships must be seaworthy men must be life-worthy. Nearly all life's problems concern money—or the lack of it. A proper understanding of money and an appreciation of the true meaning of saving makes for superior life-worthiness. Money—currency—represents the confidence of all people in business conditions. The more business profitably done—the easier money conditions. Savings are the real surplus resulting from the normal business of living. Hoarding is forced surplus—scrimping. The chain's weakest link is confidence—but it may easily become the strongest. The severity of the storm and the ability to weather it are personal problems. Starad Bank merits your confidence. Starad Bank merits your confidence. Starad Bank merits your confidence. Starad Bank merits your confidence. Starad Bank merits your confidence.

To the People of Knox City

During the next two or three months the City of Knox City faces one of the greatest problems that it has faced in its existence. It is not only true of Knox City but it is true of all other places so far as I know, but Knox City is our problem and we must not neglect our duty in this regard.

We will have a number of men and women who will be forced to make an application to the Christian Woman's Association or to the City, not for charity, but for an opportunity to work two or three days in order to get the bare necessities of life.

The City of Knox City has been using and will continue to use all that we possibly can, but our possibilities and opportunities for using these people are very limited. We are doing the best we can and intend to continue to do so. Many of these are as good citizens as we have, but they have been out of employment so long that they are practically on charity. They are not asking that anything be given them, but they are asking the opportunity to work.

It is true, I know, that those who are working have had their salaries cut, but, my fellow-citizens, you who have a job of any kind are fortunate indeed, and you should be willing, even though you are getting a very small salary, to share some of that with those who are less fortunate. We must do this. To do anything else is absolutely shunning our duty.

I feel like every man and woman in Knox City who has a position which is paying him anything ought to be willing to give a few days work or enough money to pay for two or three days work in order to give some unfortunate person who is out of employment a chance to live for the next two or three months. I appeal to those who are employing help or to those who can use a man or woman for one, two or three days that they please call the City Office and we will take the time to get the man or woman that will do the work and bring them to your place together with all tools that they will need. I appeal to those who have a position and can give some cash that will give employment to some one that they please give this money to The Christian Woman's Association whereby they will be able to care better for some of these unfortunate persons.

MY HOME AND YOURS
by BERTHA EDSON LAY

Do you have trouble keeping the back buttons sewed on the children's underclothes and sleeping garments? Try removing the button sewing a piece of narrow elastic in the current place, then sew the button securely to the end of the elastic. The elastic gives as the child bends, and as the threads are relieved of strain, the button stays in place.

Many houseworkers have the unsanitary habit of shaking the dust mops out of the window, possibly thinking that it saves time. The time used in trotting to the window can be saved if the householder will use a fair sized piece of paper when the work of dusting the floors begin, placing it on the floor at one side, dust that part of the floor nearest, shake the dust on the paper, moving it as one goes about the room. When the floor is clean, fold the paper over, put it in the trash basket, and save time, labor and earn the good will of one's neighbors.

If a little square of muslin is sewed at the top where safety pins are used to fasten them to the diaper, the stockings will give twice the service.

When woolen blankets have worn thin, instead of discarding them, Silkoline is an excellent material to use. Lay a blanket between two sheets of silkoline in the color used in the room into which this "comfort" is to do service. Bind the edge tuft with worsted about twelve inches apart. A most satisfactory comfortable is the result and at no great expense of money.

It may seem an extravagance that we feel we must match our evening gowns and our slippers, for the slipper does of course get soiled more quickly than the frock. After several cleanings the slippers lose their color, but are never worn out. If taken to the shop where they were purchased they may be redyed at a slightly deeper color, and still be quite as attractive with the same gown, or if they are very light to begin with they may be dyed a different color entirely. If the slippers were pink, they may be dyed red, or even a dark blue or purple, and if none of these are needed, there is always black. And as every one needs a pair or two of black slippers, that is a very sensible solution.

The Balanced Ration

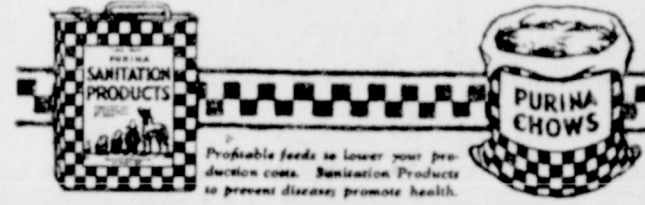

Why feed your chickens an unbalanced ration and raise droopy chickens when feeds correctly balanced are obtainable at such a small difference?

Chickens that are fed unbalanced rations do not make fine heavy birds like those correctly fed. The perfectly balanced feeds are the Purina Chows. All Mash Startena contains the finest cod liver oil also the new ingredient 'X' which insures the health and quick growth of your chickens.

The Knox County Herald

Here is how it is:

We have to eat and we have to buy everything that we eat. If you have a surplus of any staples on your place, we doubtless can use some and will send you the Herald one year in exchange thereof. Come in the office and talk it over with us.

I have a scholarship to Draughn's Business College, good in either Abilene, Dallas, Lubbock, or Wichita Falls, which I will trade for a good milch cow. Now is the time to get a business education and by using a cow for money, you get the highest price for your cow. Come in and let's talk it over.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JESUS RAISES LAZARUS FROM THE DEAD
John 11:32-44

Human interest stories attract unusual attention and here is one that is rich in thrills. The scenes are laid in the region beyond Jordan called Perea, where Jesus is in the midst of an intensive ministry with His disciples, and also in Bethany just a few miles from Jerusalem, where still exists the traditional site of the home of Lazarus. Added interest arises with the introduction of the sisters, so familiar in other scenes, Mary and Martha.

Announcement of the death of Lazarus is brought by messenger to Him while in Perea, possibly twenty miles distant. Apparently little attention is paid at first. Later Jesus suggests that the company of disciples go with Him to Bethany. This would be a dangerous trip owing to the announced opposition of the Pharisees and it is interesting to note how Thomas is eager to go along, though it may mean his own death.

Martha, the resourceful, meets Jesus outside the town and is comforted in just telling Him all about it. Thankful should we be when we have a real friend to whom we can unburden our heart in time of distress. Mary, who has tarried with the hired mourners in the home, is sent for, and together the friends seek the place of sepulchre. It is right there that the Man of Nazareth reveals his perfect humanity, in that we have the record "Jesus wept." No difficulty is any problem to our Lord. Regardless of all circumstances when He demanded "Lazarus, come forth," the spirit came again to the body and the brother was returned to his sisters.

Abruptly we turn to the Golden Text for the sublime truth, "I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth on me, though he dies yet shall he live." Death, however, refers only to the body. The spirit in man is eternal, but it will receive a resurrected body at the Second Coming of Christ.

RIDES HORSEBACK EIGHT MILES A DAY DRIVES BUS 62 MILES TO FINISH HER EDUCATION

Fort Worth, Feb. 23.—College students who sigh complainingly over the "unreasonableness" of tasks imposed by unfeeling professors should consider the extra work of the daily routine followed by Mrs. Bob Carter, a senior at Texas Christian University.

In addition to carrying a regular college course, this young woman drives a bus 62 miles each day, rides eight miles on horseback, does her own housework, and helps supervise the farm on which she and her husband live near Crowley.

Her day begins at 5 o'clock in the morning, when most students are turning over for another two hours of sleep. After breakfast she rides four miles on horseback to a neighbor's house on the main road, where she climbs behind the wheel of the Rock Creek and Clear Fork school bus. Then she drives over a 31-mile route and picks up 14 children in time to bring them to Fort Worth for school.

During the summer months Mrs. Carter is a familiar figure riding over the hills and pastures in her community always ready to help some neighbor herd his cattle.

Last year she taught a country school, and organized a community circulating library of 300 volumes.

Mrs. Carter began her university work at T. C. U. in 1924, she and her husband, who is a chemist in Fort Worth, married during their student days, and since that time she has gone to school intermittently, mostly during the summer. She expects to graduate this June, however, with a major in English, receiving the A. B. Degree.

T. C. U. News Service

S. E. Youngblood was host to a Stag Party last Friday night at his home, the occasion being his birthday. However, this knowledge was withheld from the guests until all had arrived. In the games of dominoes Shorty won for the evening.

Mrs. Youngblood was assisted by Mrs. Ray Willis in serving birthday cake (after Shorty had blown out the huge number of candles) coffee, salad and sandwiches.

Miss Bernice Raney left last week for Abilene where she will attend school.

Lynn Waldrip, they say, spent Sunday with friends in Munday; but we wondered if it was with relatives.

Henry White, Luther Graham and Ed Shaver are still courting this week.

Mrs. E. O. Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Jamison and Yvonne spent Monday in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Howard Griffith was called to Stamford Tuesday in the illness of her mother.

Miss Katheryn McCarty of Abilene spent the past weekend here with her parents.

Horace Finley and J. M. Ashcroft were in Rule Monday. They made an interesting report of the condition of the road to Rule. Well, they should know, they stopped on the road in one place long enough to know. Stuck, oh no!

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Howard, and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Howard all of Littlefield are here this week to see Mr. and Mrs. John Dutton. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Howard will remain for a visit of some four weeks with their daughter, Mrs. Dutton, and also with relatives in Goree.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones entertained with a Bridge Party last Saturday night. Five tables of players enjoyed the games and refreshments of sandwiches, cake topped with whipped cream and coffee.

It is with much pride that we state this week that a new course is being offered in the Knox City school. An advanced course in Texas History is being taught this last term of school. This is the first time this course has been offered in this school and Knox City school is the only school in this district that is offering the course.
