Nine counties were represented Tuesday in Whitita Falls at the quarterly inter-county federation. Knox county received most award of $1.00 for having the largest delegation in attendance. The meeting was held at the Woman's Forum club house under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Ben C. Good.

Registration began at 8:30 and the formal program opened at 10:00. The program varied from talks and one act plays, demonstrations and exhibits on bookkeeping, glove making, irrigation by life at home.

The outstanding feature of the program was the presentation of a play "Pioneering in Knox County" written by Miss Constance Rowland. This play was staged by her and made a big hit with the audience.

The cast of "Pioneering in Knox County" included 12 and was made up of 10 or 15 women. The production did an old time show down with it. Miss Rowland later the evening with Miss Rowland's Glee Club.

Just before the play was presented, Miss Constance Rowland, who went from Denton to Whitita Falls for the meeting, was introduced and presented a certificate by the Knox City club. Her play was written by request of Mrs. Chapman, president of Knox county club, and is presentation for the coming year.

At 8:00 o'clock the meeting closed with the singing of the national anthem and the playing of the state flag.

Another portion of the program presented by Knox county was a short play by the Knox City club of 10 members written on Indian customs. The number was given under the direction of Mrs. F. T. Baker of Whittier and was very effective.

The program was concluded by the offering in the evening of the Knox County Club. The offering was held in the evening of the 1st of November. Mrs. W. C. Baker was general chairman.

Your Health

Austin, Texas Oct. 30—While the common cold is no respecter of seasons, increased prevalence is decidedly marked in the winter months. Unfortunately, familiarity with this condition has bred contempt for it. This is plainly indicated by the usual rejoinder, "Oh! I've just got a cold," the influence of course being that while a cold is an annoying matter, after all it is an insignificant affliction. This attitude undoubtedly has been the cause of many needless deaths, to say nothing of prolonged and expensive illnesses," states Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"One's resistance to many diseases, including colds, can be raised by increasing one's vitality by observing the fundamental living rules, namely: plenty of fresh air, good wholesome food, neither too much nor too little, sufficient rest, and the avoidance of habitual over-indulgence of devitalizing stimulants, including tea, coffee, tobacco and alcohol.

"If, however, in spite of ordinary precautions, a cold is contracted, it will pay to consider it seriously. Every cold should be viewed as the possible beginning of a serious illness. That means promptly seeking a physician's advice explicitly following his directions. If he orders bed, then bed it should be. Incidentally, complete rest is one of the finest ways to overcome a cold in short order."

We are glad to have Mrs. Doris Moody a new subscriber to the Herald this week.

There have been lots of family reunions this summer and of course everybody had something nice to say about all the others.

TO WHOM THIS MAY CONCERN:

As Secretary-Treasurer of Haskell-Knox County Burial Association, the following statement is made:

That on June 11th, an application came into our office for Mrs. Hester A. Harwell, Route 1, Sagerton. Since the death of Mrs. Harwell it has developed that we were misled as to the condition of her health at that time, and upon investigation I am convinced that Mr. Harwell whom I have known for 27 years, nor the family were not responsible for this mis-information.

As is our custom to have some member of the family who puts in the family sion a statement before a Notary Public that the statements made on date of application were true on date of application, which Mr. Harwell would not do, and convincing the Sec'y-Treas., that he did not mislead or misinform solicitors who took the application, I am paying this claim from my personal funds, as I do not feel it just to ask membership to pay this claim, from information that I have.

While I am paying this claim, personally, I am instructing future solicitors to be more careful, and fair with members, also warning other that there will not be other claims paid, until statement is made before Notary that condition of health as stated on application to secure this protection was true and correct on date of application. I do this in justice to the loyal members we now have responded so nobly, and to warn those who think it all right to make any statement without foundation of truth, that they may impose unfairly upon Our Association, which the writer intends to handle fairly and honestly and such future payments will be restricted to refund of actual cash paid into this Association by deceased member.

Respectfully,
 W. H. Littlefield, Sec'y-Treasurer,
 TO WHOM THIS MAY CONCERN:
 I take this method of thanking W. H. Littlefield, Sec'y-Treas. of Haskell-Knox County Burial Association for benefits we received from the death of my wife, Mrs. Hester A. Harwell.

Owing to the facts that I could not honestly sign a statement required and which Mr. Littlefield is now demanding from all members when claims are paid, as a protection to members of the Association, and after investigation by him from which he is assured that we, as a family, did not mislead to secure this Policy.

He is therefore paying this claim personally, as he does not feel it just to ask membership to pay it.

Mr. Littlefield's action in this is in keeping with his reputation for fair dealing, as established by him to those who have known him, as I have, for about 27 years.

And remember this. It never pays to judge a Knox City man's worth by his statements to the tax assessor.

It is usually well to beware of the man whose dog crawls under the house when the master enters the gate.

The radio has one nice feature. There's no other peddler you can shoo away by turning a little dial.

Most Knox City people are perfectly willing to forgive their enemies after they get even with them.

Middle-age is the period when you have a fifty-year-old brain, a twenty-year-old appetite and a ninety-year-old stomach.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin brought relief at once," says Mrs. A. G. Strong of 34-47 89th St., Jackson Heights, N.Y.

Why Doctors Use
Liquid Laxatives

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative containing herbs, active senna, and cascara, and is the one widely used. You can always obtain it at any drugstore. Why not make the "liquid test" which has attracted so much attention of late? It helps nearly everyone who tries it. It may make you feel better than you have in a long time.

If you will risk sixty cents to discover the natural, comfortable relief of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, you believe bowel worries will be for your household.

ever been in the money. I went to New York and met a couple of business men whom I know well.
Both reported that business was good one said better than for years in volume and price—but that collections were slower than ever. Even the largest corporations were taking from two weeks to two months longer to pay their bills than they had ever done before.

As I write this I have just come from lunching with another business man. He gave it as his opinion that people are feeling the depression worse this year than at any previous time. More folk are going on relief because they have come to the end of their reserves. They cannot buy anything because they have no money left with which to buy.

I have a distinct feeling that nobody, in or out of Government, has yet put the finger upon the weak spot in our economic system which makes it possible for such conditions to continue.

SECURITY—"clear" real estate

The only people, men or institutions, who are in a secure position today are the ones who owe nothing and who have some source of income not dependent upon the daily turnover of trade. Those and the self-sustaining farmers of whom there are many.

I have one friend whose prosperity consists of real estate in a large eastern city. His grandfather founded the fortune which his father conserved and which has now come under his management as trustee for all the heirs. The policy laid down by the founder of the fortune was never to borrow a cent, never mortgage a piece of property. If the rents were not enough to live on, cut down personal living expenses but don't impair the capital by selling some of it.

My friend has been accustomed to spending a hundred thousand a year or more. Now he is living at the rate of about $12,000 a year. But every piece of property he owns is rented although what the thousands or so tenants can pay is not much more than enough to pay the taxes and upkeep. The property still stands, however, and some day prosperity will return and rents will go up again.

Real estate comes the nearest to offering security of anything I know of. But not when it is mortgaged.

INVESTMENTS—diamonds

I talked the other day with the diamond expert of America's most famous jewelry house. He told me that the price of good quality, well-cut diamonds are nearly double what they were three or four years ago.
In another store I asked the head of the diamond jewelry department how business was. He replied that they were selling more diamonds and at better prices, than for years.

People with some capital reserves he explained, are putting their money into diamonds as the safest way of conserving their capital, possibly increasing it and converting it back into cash over night. Europeans taking advantage of the depreciated dollar, are sending to America to buy diamonds.

These diamond purchases represent largely, that ordinarily would go into industrial or commercial investments. Its owners are afraid of such investments now, but they want their money where they can get it out quickly if the upturn comes and the diamond market has always been an instantaneous market in which minimum prices are rightly maintained by South African Diamond Trust.

PRICES—in the city

City folks are paying more for what they eat and wear than for several years. Prices are going up.
But how far that benefits the farmer I am somewhat doubtful.

The general effect, as far as I can observe it, is that: most city people are cutting down on their food, either eating less or buying cheaper grades and kinds of food that they have been accustomed to.

So far as clothing is concerned, there is a great turnover in the very cheapest lines of men's and women's clothing, but many merchants who handled only high grade garments are closing their stores.

More men that I feel are wearing old clothes than ever before.
More women are doing their own dressmaking and making over last year's clothes to the year's styles.

It is a fact that city people's incomes, from salaries, wages or investments, are not going up but, in many cases, are still going down.

The Senior B. Y. P. U. and Baptist Sunday School class of which Mr.
Joe E. Smith is teacher were jointly entertained Friday night in the home of Mrs. C. H. Keck, Miss Boyles being hostess. She was assisted as joint hostesses by Miss Hazel Jones and Miss Mary McAuley.

The Keck home was attractively decorated with Hallowe'en motifs and 28 guests were engaged in a series of outlandishly clever games.
The games were climaxed with a "treasure hunt" and followed by the serving of candy islands, individual pumpkin pies and hot chocolate.
Plate favors were hand drawn owls and witches.

During the course of the evening a mysterious witch sought shelter at the Keck home and entertained the group by fortune telling. Mrs.
Sammie Carpeled was clover too.

R. S. Calvert, Statistician of the Comptroller's Department of the State of Texas:

Dear Senator:
In line with our telephone conversation this afternoon advise that the deficit in the General Revenue Fund at October 1, 1934, was $7,178,388.84, and in the Confederate Pension fund $4,684,300.46.

In further reference to our conversation regarding the school funds advise that nothing has been paid on the 1934-35 apportionment which amounts to approximately $25,747,227.00. Assuming that the apportionment should be paid monthly throughout the twelve months of the year instead of all being paid in the nine months school year on October 1, 1934, there have been due $2,145,602.00 more on hand at that date leaving a deficit of approximately $1,271,100.00.

Yours very truly,
R. S. Calvert, Statistician
Comptroller's Department

Taking the total of these items the State now lacks $13,133,789.20 of paying what it now owes. This amount must be made up by taxes. Next year this deficit will be still greater. In addition we will have to pay approximately a million dollars in 1935 on the "bread bonds" issued to take care of the destitute; and in 1936 we will have to pay approximately Three Million Dollars on these bonds.

A large amount of this burden is now falling on the tangible property of the tax payers including land, houses, cattle, etc. At the same time billions of dollars worth of property known as intangible property, such as vendor's lien notes, mortgage notes, stocks and bonds are escaping taxation because the rate is so high, so high.

The only way to bring this property into actual tax paying is by giving the Legislature the power to classify it and to put a low rate of taxes on the same.

The State of Ohio about 1931 amended its Constitution so as to permit the classification of property. In a letter to me dated September 26, 1934, from the Vice Chairman of the Tax Commission of Ohio, the Vice Chairman wrote:

"The experience of Ohio under classification during the first year of assessment (1932) surpassed all of the States of the Union," in that their assessment jumped from one billion dollars to approximately eight billion dollars. Thus they brought in seven billions of dollars worth of property that had been theretofore escaping taxation. This additional property came in at a very low rate that is, from 2 mills to 5 mills, or from 20 cents to 50 cents on the $100.00 depending upon the class of property, when the rate before had been $2.20 on the hundred.

In a letter of September 26, 1934, to me the Chairman of the State Tax Commission of Kentucky, sent a statement showing that before the change of their constitution to permit the classification of property for taxation, real estate in Kentucky paid 78 per cent of the tax burden to run the State Government, but that eleven years after the change, real estate, under the property classification law paid only 45 per cent of the tax burden.

Intangible property, such as notes, stocks, etc. prior to the amending of the Kentucky Constitution, bore only 7 1/2 per cent of the burden of the state expense. At the end of seven years of its operation of the classification law, intangible property bore 23 per cent of the expenses of the state government. This was based on a very low rate for that class of property.

The Kentucky Commissioner's communication contains this statement, following the figures he gave:

"We think this clearly demonstrates that under the classification law, the burden of taxation has been lifted from real estate and placed upon that class of property which existed, but was not listed for taxation prior to the classification law."

Nineteen of the states of the Union are now successfully using the classification law. Lack of space prevents my giving more of them.

This is the opportunity for the tax payers now bearing an unjust part of the tax burden to give the Legislature the power to relieve them by spreading the tax burden to property now escaping.

If this amendment is not adopted, I am firmly convinced that a most determined effort will be made to saddle on the people a heavy sales tax.

Again I urge the voters to vote for the proposed property classifying Constitutional Amendment which will appear as Amendment number 1 on the ballot next Tuesday.

PAUL SCORES FUNDAMENTALISTS

Now Paul had great respect for the Mosaic law, and he did not object to the fundamentalists provided they kept on their own side. But to have them invading a field which he had developed and to start a divisive doctrine there, looking not forward but back, was too much for his hot temper and strong conviction. At once he called for his trusty pen and after the formal greeting he plunged straight into his message. I marvel that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another Gospel:

Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man.

He goes on to remind them of his history—how he was the chief persecutor of the church, but being converted, received his message not from the group in Jerusalem but from God direct, in his hours of quiet retreat in Arabia. He went to Jerusalem, he says and met with James, "the Lord's brother," and he and Peter agreed concerning the right of Gentiles to be received into communion without being compelled to comply with the Mosaic law, and he won his fight. When later, at Antioch, Peter backslid into the old hard-shell theology, Paul had refuted him openly.

But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.

By subsequent battles and by many persecutions, of which he bore the scars, he had won the right of his churches to freedom. Were they now proposing to abandon this great freedom because some strict constructionists from Judea came among them, stirring up trouble? Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.

For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, enjoying one another.

Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption, but he that soweth of the Spirit of the Spirit reap life everlasting.

And let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.
