Approved Loan To Develop Recreational Area Near KC

A loan of $11,000 will be made by the Farmers Home Administration to develop a new recreational area near Knox City, it was announced by Joe E. Clegg, county supervisor.

The Brazos Valley Recreation Association will bear the costs of building a riding arena, to be financed by the association itself. Members of the association paid half of the project. Members will also pay annual dues and fees to support the facility. In addition, income will be received from fees charged non-members using the recreation area.

The recreational facilities will serve the communities of Knox City, Benjamin, Munday, Goree, O'Brien, Rhineland and surrounding area. Approximately 4200 persons live in the area to be served and some 150 will use the facilities each year, association officials estimate.

Funds for the insured loan were provided by the FHA. Insurance Fund. Under the insured loan program the Farmers Home Administration makes and services the loan and guarantees repayment of the money borrowed along with interest.

"Recreation projects of this type boost rural areas development," Mr. Boone pointed out. "Such endeavors bring new jobs to rural communities, and provide much needed recreational facilities for urban and rural families. In addition, these facilities help develop the type of rural community that encourages young people to remain in their hometown, attracts industry, and promotes tourism. These projects also utilize land not needed for crop production."

The loan will be repaid over a 40-year period, at an interest rate of 5 per cent.

Charles R. Lankford, of Route 1, Knox City, is president of the Brazos Valley Recreation Association.

This is the fifty-fifth loan to be made to a rural group in Texas for the development of a recreational area. Loans of this type were authorized by the 1962 Food and Agricultural Act.

Baptists Set Note Burning

The First Baptist Church of Knox City will burn $98,000 in Church Bonds Sunday morning. The Bond Burning will signify the retirement of a 10-year debt, made to build a new auditorium in 1961. It has been paid 2 1/2 years early, and was made possible as the result of the faithful giving on the part of the church members. The church budget called for a regular payment of $210, each week and in addition to this many large and small gifts were applied to the debt through the years. A special financial drive the first of the year climaxed the debt retirement effort.

Featured speaker for the morning will be Rev. L. L. Trott, former District 17 mission secretary and area secretary for 15 years.

Bible School To Begin June 28

Knox City First Baptist Church will begin a Vacation Bible School Monday, June 28. The hours are from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. There will be 6 departments in the school. These departments are graded to fit the age of each child from 3 to 14 years.

Four months of picnic food is no picnic.

Get central gas
air conditioning and bring back meat and potatoes.

Some days you wouldn't even boil an egg. Let alone cook a meal. But with central gas cooling
you can cook a barbecue. Without heating up your home.

With central gas air conditioning, it only costs a little to add a lot to your living.

First of all, you'll save in installation costs.
Because you just add a cooling unit to your existing central gas heating system.
But that's just part of the savings.
Gas costs less to use than electricity. And we give you a special low rate for central gas air conditioning during those sweltering summer months.

When you need

So go ahead. Have central gas cooling installed. And save the picnic food for

Cotton Industry Urged To Take Advantage Of Its Opportunities

Dallas - A cotton leader today urged the industry take advantage of its opportunities to add steam to the momentum now going for cotton.

G. C. Cortright Jr., Rolling Fork, Miss., cotton producer and chairman of the Cotton Board, made the appeal at its annual meeting here.

Representing cotton producers from all the major cotton-growing states, the board contracts with a producer organization, Cotton Incorporated, to develop and operate research and sales-marketing programs for cotton. Industry leaders from the area sat in on the session and heard reports on the $1 per bale program.

"We have more things going for cotton now than we have had in many years, and there is a new spirit of determination and fresh optimism in our industry," Mr. Cortright said.

"If our exports and domestic use add up to the 11.6 million bales I have indicated, the carryover at the end of the season would be less than 4.4 million bales — the lowest since 1952," Mr. Cortright pointed out.

He added that in view of the low carryover, "We can't place too much emphasis on getting the most, both in production and quality, out of the crop we have in the field now."

A good balance of qualities and an adequate supply will have a lot to do with cotton's ability to compete on the domestic and export markets, he explained.

Pointing out there has been a resurgence of cotton in fashion, Mr. Cortright said the demand for denim, corduroy, cotton knits, and deep-colored prints is continuing strong. Use of these fabrics is moving bales of cotton through the marketing channels.

He explained that the marketing thrust being operated by Cotton Incorporated under the $1 per bale program and the additional $10 million a year being made available under the new farm program are putting cotton in a much better position to meet the challenge of synthetic fibers.

Cited as critical problems demanding "our undivided attention and constant energy" were the need to gain reasonable restrictions on textile imports, expand exports, cut costs and accomplish other things leading to adequate farm income, be alert to pressures that would prevent sound use of agricultural chemicals, and increase the public understanding of cotton and its contributions to the nation.

Mr. Cortright urged his audience to turn these and other problems into opportunities. He added the industry can accomplish this by continuing to think positively and by making full use of the mechanisms available to it.

"By this I mean the National Cotton Council, the Cotton Board, Cotton Incorporated, the state and regional organizations, and the agri-business firms serving our industry. Each has a vital role to play, and we must work together to keep our momentum going and moving forward," he stated.

due to the preparation of animal products. With the great amount of home canning and freezing done in Texas, you can see why officials of the Texas State Department of Health are concerned about the possible occurrence of this potentially fatal disease.

Food poisoning, or "botulism," is caused by a deadly poison produced by a germ that is very resistant to heat and cold and can grow without air. The vast majority of reported cases of botulism have been due to eating improperly processed home-canned foods.

Studies on the heat resistance of the spores of the botulism germ prove that home canning by the cold pack method, which is still widely used in Texas, is extremely dangerous. The pressure cooker method should be used for canning instead.

The disagreeable odor evident with spoiled food is not a surefire way to detect food poisoning. Many canned foods may be free of obnoxious odor and may appear in good condition, but could contain organisms of botulism. The spoiled odor is usually associated with non-acid foods such as vegetables.

Nausea and vomiting usually occur within 24 hours. Diarrhea may occur early, but in the later stages of the disease, constipation is present. Death can occur due to respiratory failure.

It is usually wise to boil all home canned foods for at least 30 minutes before eating. This is particularly true when the pressure cooker has not been used.

Texas Health Department officials say that proper preparation of all foods could make botulism a thing of the past.

"Accent on Health" is a weekly service of the Public Health Education Division of the Texas State Department of Health.

VA Publication Now Available

The Veterans Administration's most popular publication is now available to the public for 20 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

VA said it has an initial supply of 600,000 copies of the booklet, "Federal Benefits for Veterans and Dependents," now in its 23rd edition.

Containing general information about Federal benefits, this year's edition reflects changes due to recent laws, and discusses such GI benefits as education and training, insurance, home and farm loans, compensation and pension and medical treatment.

SS Reports

The premium for medical insurance under Medicare will be increased by 30 cents a month beginning July 1, 1971, according to Wayne Klipping, social security branch manager.

The law requires that this part of Medicare be kept on a "pay-as-you-go" basis and increased use of medical services as well as higher costs made a premium increase necessary. The additional 30 cents paid by the beneficiary will also be matched by the government as is the balance of the premium. This means that the medical insurance will continue to be twice the amount you pay.

For most beneficiaries the monthly premium will be $5.60 and if they are receiving a social security check, it will be automatically deducted from the check. Those people who are not receiving a monthly check will be billed for the additional premium amount on their regular quarterly billing schedule.

If you need some information regarding Medicare, call your social security office at Vernon, or if you prefer visit the office at 1728 Fannin Street. The telephone number in Vernon is 553-6346.

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.,
Commissioner of Health

Proper processing preparation and handling of foods could virtually wipe out one of man's most common enemies — food poisoning — says the Texas State Department of Health.

Each year in Texas many people are poisoned by their own hands through improper canning of foodstuffs. With summer upon us and a plentiful supply of fresh fruits and vegetables available, now is the time to look at canning procedures.

It has been reported by health authorities that over 82 per cent of food poisoning cases in California were due to home canned string beans, asparagus, fruits, and other vegetables. Another 24 per cent was Streamlined, toboggan-like cars climb a 50-foot tall spiral under power of their own electric motors. At the top of the spiral they become free-wheeling. The Big Bend was pur-420-million bushels is the estimated harvest now getting under way in the southwest and midwest wheat belt. This harvest has to be moved from growing areas to elevators and mills, also to ports for export.

Here's how Santa Fe has been getting ready for this big job.

At the start of the year we ordered 800 giant 100-ton covered hopper cars which are ideal for moving wheat, potash and bulk commodities as they can be loaded in twelve minutes and unloaded in about three minutes. During April we added 500 more to increase the order to 1300 cars, so we could have almost 10,000 giant hoppers ready by harvest. We also use box cars and other types of equipment to keep the wheat rolling.

And there are other ways we are ready for this big job. Last year we expanded and automated our Argentine Yard at Kansas City, which is a busy wheat terminal. Our data center at Topeka is prepared to keep constant check on cars to gain the best possible utilization of equipment. Diesel units have been added to our locomotive fleet and older units updated to move the wheat trains.

Now the harvest is starting and Santa Fe people, with their experience and dedication, are ready to handle this big transportation job. All together we are making our strongest effort to move this year's wheat harvest while at the same time keeping all other freight moving across our railway.

Support ASTRO a sound transportation plan to meet tomorrow's needs.

For the purpose of laying, maintaining, constructing, operating and replacing therein and thereon pipelines and all other appurtenant equipment needed and necessary to deliver gas in, out of, and through said City and to sell gas to persons, firms and corporations, including all the general public, within the City's corporate limits, said consent being granted for a term of twenty-five (25) years from and after the date of the final passage and approval of this ordinance.

SECTION 1. Company shall lay, maintain, construct, operate and replace its pipes, mains, laterals and other equipment so as to interfere as little as possible with traffic and shall promptly clean up and restore to an approximate original condition, at its costs, all thoroughfares and other surfaces which it may disturb. The location of all mains, pipes, laterals and other appurtenant equipment shall be fixed under the supervision of the City Council or an authorized committee or agent appointed by said Council.

SECTION 2. When Company shall make or cause to be made excavations or shall place obstructions in any street, sidewalk or other public place, the public shall be protected by barriers and lights placed, erected and maintained by Company; and in the event of injury to any person or damage to any property by reason of the construction, operation or maintenance of the gas distributing plant or system of Company, Company shall indemnify and keep harmless City from any and all liability in connection therewith. Company shall repair, clean up and restore to an approximate original condition all streets and areas disturbed during the construction and repair of its gas distributing system.

SECTION 3. In addition to the rates charged for gas supplied, Company may make and enforce reasonable charges, rules and regulations for service rendered in the conduct of its business, including a charge for services rendered in the inauguration of natural gas service, and may require, before furnishing service, the execution of a contract therefore. Company shall have the right to negotiate with each customer with reference to the installation of, and payment for, any and all of the gas piping from the connection therewith with the Company's main in the streets or alleys to and throughout the consumer's premises. Company shall own, operate and maintain all service lines which are defined as the supply lines from the Company's main to the consumer's curb line when mains are located in the streets and to the consumer's property line when mains are located in the alleys. The consumer shall own, operate and maintain all yard lines and house piping. Yard lines are defined as the underground supply lines extending from the point of connection with Company's service line to the point of connection with consumer's house piping.

SECTION 4. Company shall not be required to extend mains on any street more than fifty (50) feet for any one consumer of gas.

SECTION 5. Company shall be entitled to require from each and every consumer of gas, before gas service is commenced, a deposit of twice the amount of an estimated average monthly bill, which said deposit may be retained by Company until service is discontinued and all bills thereon have been paid. Company shall then return said deposit to the consumer, less than with six percent (6%) interest accrued from the date of said deposit up to the date of discontinuance of service. Company shall be entitled to apply said deposit, with accrued interest, to any indebtedness owed Company by the consumer making the deposit.

SECTION 6. The rights, privileges and franchises granted by this ordinance are not to be considered exclusive, and City hereby expressly reserves the right to grant, at any time, like privileges, rights and franchises, as it may see fit to any other person or corporation, for the purpose of furnishing gas for light, heat and power to and for City and its inhabitants thereof.

SECTION 7. Company shall furnish reasonably adequate service to the public at reasonable rates and charges therefor; and Company shall maintain its property, equipment and appliances in good order and condition.

SECTION 8. Company, its successors and assigns, agrees to pay and City agrees to accept, on or before the 15th day of March, 1972, and on or before the same day of each succeeding year during the life of this franchise, up to and including the year 1986, a sum of money which shall be equivalent to two percent (2%) of the gross receipts received by Company from the sale of gas to its domestic and commercial consumers within the corporate limits of said City (expressly excluding, however, receipts derived from sales to industrial and governmental users and consumers in said City) for the preceding calendar year, which annual payment shall be for the right, and privilege herein granted to Company including, expressly, without limitation, the right to use the streets, alleys and public ways of said City, and it is also expressly agreed that the aforesaid annual payment shall be in lieu of any and all other and additional compensation, damages, expenses and franchise fees, or charges, whether levied as an ad valorem, special or other classification of tax or charge, or fees of measured, measure and inspection fees, rental fees and street or alley rentals or charges, rail, oil, water and additional franchise fees, charges, income, fees and rentals of whatever kind and character which City may impose or leviable by authority to levy and collect, excepting only the usual general or unusual franchise fees, which City may impose and collect by law and pursuant to general regulations. Should City not have the legal power to agree that the payment of the foregoing sum of money shall be in lieu of taxes, royalties, fees, rents, or other rentals or charges, assessments or franchise fees or charges otherwise, then City agrees that it will apply no such sum of money paid as may be necessary to satisfy Company's obligations if any, including such taxes, royalties, charges, fees, rentals, assessments or franchise fees or charges.

Streams In Desert Places
BY OZELLE STEPHENS

"Psalms 65, 1-8."
When David took time to wait before the Lord in silent praise, he felt His mighty presence and knew his power to answer prayer. He then realized when man comes to God with request, though sin filled every heart God forgave, He dwells in every heart open to Him. Great joy awaits those who surrender their lives to Him. He is the only hope to all mankind. With His mighty strength He formed the mountains. He quiets the raging oceans and all the world's clamor. All over the world the glorious acts of God startles every one. The dawn of day and the sunset shout for joy. Our mighty God is gracious, loving, and true.
His glory streams into every soul waiting upon Him.

Granddaughter Is Injured At Dalhart

Dakota Seitz, 13, daughter of former residents Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Seitz and granddaughter of Mrs. F. E. Walker, is reported to be recuperating at her home in Dalhart from a broken right leg.

She was injured Monday, June 14, near her home, when two motorcycles collided on private property. Mrs. Walker said that her granddaughter was riding one of the motorcycles and two boys were riding the other. Neither of the boys were hurt. X-rays revealed a complicated bone break beneath the kneecap, which was broken, she said. An Amarillo bone specialist put the injured leg in a hip to ankle cylinder cast and said that he would have to watch it closely because improper healing might cause her to have a slight limp.

There once was a woman named Holly
Who rode off to work in a trolley.
She got off the wrong stop,
And walked for a whole block,
Before realizing her folly.

Queen's Way to Fashion

Patterns headline women's wear news this year, in new dimensions and depths. They're small and precise, reminiscent of the twenties and thirties, and art deco. And the return of the argyle can be found from hats to hose bringing a welcomed change to standard designs of seasons past. Argyle — formerly confined to men's socks and V-neck sweaters — is turning up in scarves and pant suits, too.

The stylized fish scale patterns of art deco are equally important. The pattern looks somewhat like the top of the Chrysler Building in New York, the most architectural example of deco today. It's all part of the nostalgia that contemporary fashion thrives on.

"It can't happen here" are famous last words. At least they're fast becoming so in relation to drug abuse. Back in the early 1960's many thought drug addiction was confined to ghetto areas in big cities, mainly New York. But now, 1970 has become the year of the middle-class "junkie," says Dr. David E. Smith, founder and director of the Haight-Ashbury Medical Clinic, San Francisco, California.

Speaking before a session on drug control at the National Association of Manufacturer's Congress of American Industry in New York recently, he said, "Every adolescent in the United States is a potential drug addict."

He based his statements on facts gleaned from the 50,000 drug abuse patients that have come to his clinic in the past three years. Of that number only 16 percent were local. The rest came from every state in the Union. And there was a dramatic increase in the number of middle-class white heroin addicts among them, he reports.

In New York City, the leading cause of death in adolescence is from heroin overdose, and 50 percent of the crimes of property are by addicts needing money to support their habit.

In San Francisco, 50 percent of the high school seniors had regular experience with illegal drugs, and 10 percent of the 8th graders have tried at least once. This is a pattern of drug experimentation that is sweeping across the country.

Only through intensive education in every community can this drug epidemic be brought under control, Dr. Smith claims. And every program should be balanced between law enforcement, education, research and treatment as well as having the backing of health officials, prominent citizens and youth themselves.

Vern Sanford Announces Retirement -- To End Long Journalistic Career

AUSTIN, Tex. June 18 — Vernon T. Sanford, general manager of the Texas Press Association for almost 24 years, will retire on July 1.

Already presented with a half-dozen plaques and honors by various regional press groups with whom he has worked, as well as a resolution from the Texas Senate, he accepted the plaudits of the profession and announced he would go to Montana in early July "to do a little fishing."

He and his wife, Allyne, plan to continue to make their home in Austin, but hope to do quite a lot of traveling in the future.

Sanford has been general manager of TPA since December 1, 1947, when he moved to Texas from his native Oklahoma. Since that date he has been a guiding force for the 634 daily and weekly newspapers of Texas, working quietly "behind the scene" to upgrade the journalism profession and help charter the course of newspapers in the state.

Today the organization is recognized as one of the leading press groups in the nation.

Sanford came to Texas from a 13-year career as secretary-manager of the Oklahoma Press Association. He set up the first TPA headquarters in one room, with one employee, in the Baker Hotel in Dallas. Next year the office was moved to Austin to be near the Capitol.

Recently he saw a major goal accomplished when the 91-year-old association moved into elegant new headquarters at 718 West Fifth Street in Austin — its first wholly owned, permanent home.

A native of Chickasha, Oklahoma, Sanford is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and earned a masters of journalism degree from the University of Missouri.

Before joining the Oklahoma Press Association, he worked briefly in the same capacity for the Nebraska Press Association.

He began his newspaper career at age 10 as a carrier boy and printer's devil for the Chickasha Daily Express. He was employed by the Express for 10 years in circulation, reporting and advertising departments. He left the Chickasha daily to study in the University of Oklahoma and join the staff of the Norman Daily Transcript. He also worked for and had an interest in the Democrat-News, a morning semi-weekly newspaper in Norman. At one time he operated his own advertising agency in Norman. Following graduation from MU, he became advertising manager of the Anadarko Daily News.

Honors have been bestowed upon Sanford in numerous realms. At age 19 he was awarded the first Legion of Honor Degree by the Chickasha Chapter of the Order of DeMolay.

He also is a member of two outstanding honorary groups at the University of Texas in Austin: Alpha Delta Sigma, advertising fraternity, and Kappa Tau Alpha, national journalistic honor society.

He has an honorary lifetime membership in the National Press Photographers Association and is a lifetime member of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity.

In 1959 he was commissioned an Admiral in the Texas Navy by Gov. Price Daniel.

On the national level, Sanford has been president of Newspaper Association Managers and three-time chairman of National Newspaper Week, an annual promotional event sponsored by NAM.

An economic boost toward the development of rural Texas was announced last week by J. Lynn Futch, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration in Temple.

Futch pointed out that an additional $12,000,000 has been released for the current fiscal year, through June 30, for rural water and sewer system loans in Texas. Highway Department State Highway Engineer, J. C. Dingwall, said he would encourage "everyone to spend their vacations in Texas — especially Texans. And the best way to get there is by motor vehicle on the safest highways ever built," he said, pointing out that motorists can travel to almost any recreational area of the State on a hard-surfaced highway.

The Governor's Committee on Traffic Safety is also launching a public education campaign timed to coincide with the Memorial Day weekend in an attempt to make an impact on the number of traffic accidents.

Part of the campaign will be a series of public service radio spots featuring celebrities with Texas ties urging the motorist to "drive friendly." Included in the first flight of spots to be released are Dan Rather, television newsman; Jeannie C. Riley, singer; Alan L. Bean,
