Car Overtakes On O'Brien Highway Friday Afternoon During Rainstorm

A one-car accident at 2:20 p.m. Friday, 1 and 1/10 mile south of here on State Highway 283 heavily damaged a 1963 station wagon. The southbound vehicle was driven by Joe Randall Reeves of Odessa and passengers in the car were James E. Sloumb of Odessa, owner of the car, and Wm. Richard Simpson of Midland. All three men are ministers.

According to Highway Patrolman Bill Lusk of Knox City, the vehicle apparently had a low tire on the left rear causing it to sway, and as the driver lost control, the car hit the culbert backward and flipped over.

The accident occurred during a heavy downpour of rain.

Two of the men were uninjured, and the third, Simpson, was treated at the Knox City Clinic for bruises and released.

Former Area Resident Killed In Viet Nam

He was the grandson of Mrs. Clara T. Johnson of Bishop, Texas, and Mrs. Bertha Simpkins of Abilene. Both grandparents had lived at Rule for years.

4 Accidents Investigated

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated four accidents on rural highways in Knox County during the month of August according to Sergeant Frank Jirek, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in an estimated property damage of $1,860.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first eight months of 1967 shows a total of 35 accidents resulting in four persons killed, 17 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $24,211.00.

"School days" are here again. The familiar yellow school buses are back on the highways. The Sergeant reminds all motorists of the State Law regulating traffic in regard to school buses. "The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

Rain Amounts Vary In Area

During the past weekend good rains have fallen in the area ranging in amounts from approximately 2 1/2 inches with in the city limits to only 1.1 inches at the Plant Materials Center four miles northwest of town.

The heavy downpour in town Friday after lunch apparently accounted for the difference in amounts. Some gauges in Knox City recorded 1.4 inches during the downpour. On Sunday afternoon in the east part of town 1.1 inches were measured.

Over the weekend three inches were recorded at the E.L. (Jack) Tankersley homeplace 2 1/2 miles southeast of town. Jack Stubbs recorded 1.4 inches at his home three miles north of town, and Mrs. Marie Tackitt reported 2.25 inches at her home twelve miles west of Knox City.

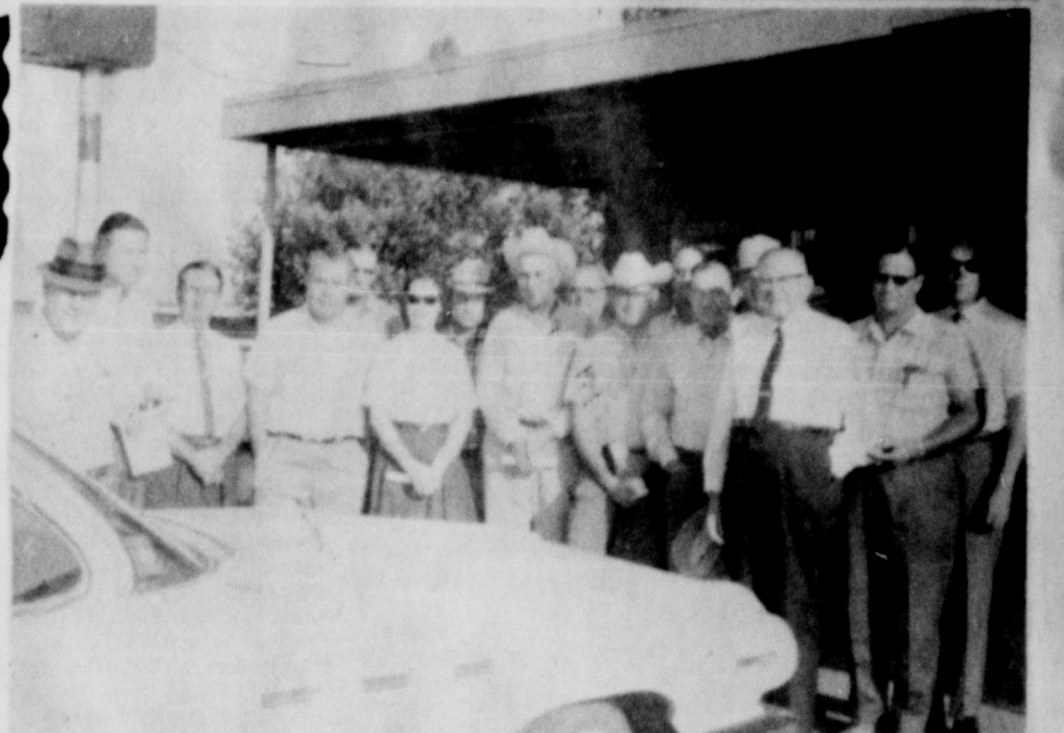

Generally speaking, everyone appreciated the good moisture.

Glenn Smith is in Fort Worth visiting with his brother, Freddy Strickland. Mrs. Strickland and young baby are still in Brownwood with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Newman, but will be moving to Fort Worth in the near future.

Farmers Home Administration Tour Well Attended Here Last Tuesday

A program tour was held in Knox City last Tuesday by the Farmers Home Administration for the purpose of acquainting the public with its various activities and the assistance to our community and surrounding areas by the FHA.

The group met in the dining room of the City Cafe at 9 a.m. and enjoyed coffee until the entire group arrived. Joe Boone, FHA County Supervisor, spoke briefly and explained that the goal of the FHA is to help farm families where other credit cannot be obtained. In helping these people "get back on their feet", they graduate borrowers to normal sources of credit by a supervised program in money and production management. It is a fact that 12% of the approximately 1200 farmers and ranchers in Knox County are using FHA real estate or operating loan funds. It is estimated that 30% of all the farmers in Knox County have used FHA services at one time or another. The FHA loan funds in Knox County exceed 2 million dollars, according to Mr. Boone.

The scheduled tour included the Abel Letja Welding Shop, the Knox City Country Club, the Harvey Freeman farm which was bought in 1941 and paid in full about 1954, the 240 acres of land Wayne Ressel is farming this year, the Clifton Patterson service station and fruit stand in Munday, and the homes of Wesley Kerschner, Monte Max Bradley, and Charles Sargent, also in Munday.

Mr. Boone also explained that the FHA offered operating loans for the young farmers who are just beginning and do not have the required collateral.

The County Committee for Knox County includes Claudell Bratcher of Vera, Philip Homer of Munday, and Allen McGaughey of Knox City.

TDPS Urges Drivers To Obey Speed Limit, Avoid Accidents

This hard fact of life on the open road is universally accepted by the officers who are charged with the duty of making Texas highways safe, just as it is ignored by many of the drivers using those highways.
 Because speed kills—and because the chances of a driver becoming involved in an accident increase with speed—the Texas Department of Public Safety has started a more intensified effort to encourage motorists to stay within a legal speed limit on Texas highways.
 "Statistics prove that drivers are more likely to be involved in an accident at speeds over the legal speed limit," explained Major Luther C. Moore, Commander of the Department of Public Safety's Region 5, covering thousands of miles of highways in northwest Texas.
 The average motorist might ask some questions about these statistics, and Major Moore can provide some eye-opening answers.
 For instance, the motorist might ask if a driver is more likely to be involved in a traffic accident at 70 miles per hour than at 65?
 The grim history from bloody Texas highways during daylight hours shows a 20 per cent increase in accident involvement at 70 miles per hour, compared to the 65 mile per hour rate.
 Major Moore points out that by increasing the speed from 65 to 75 miles per hour (just 10 miles per hour) the motorist risks a 50 per cent increase in accident involvement, and at 80 miles per hour the risk jumps to 90 per cent.
 The fast driver risks even more at night, the Regional Commander explains. Accident statistics show that a driver is more likely to become involved in an accident at any speed at night, and at 55 miles per hour the accident rate is nearly two and one half times as great as driving at the same speed in the daytime.
 Nighttime drivers are more than three times as likely to become involved in an accident at 65 miles per hour than at the same speed in daylight. During night hours 75 miles per hour speeds produce about five and one half times as many

Hard Water Hard On Everything

As a state, Texas rates as one of the hardest water areas in the country. So says a recent U. S. Government Geological Survey. And, according to other studies, hard water not only has a harmful effect upon laundry and plumbing but also affects the food we eat and the way we look.
 For example, vegetables such as peas and beans, lose nutritive value when cooked in hard water and tend to shrink and toughen. Food preparation time is also longer, and appearance is a factor when hard water is used, since glasses and dishes are frequently coated and spotted.
 Hard water also affects the taste of foods and beverages, such as coffee, tea and soups. Furthermore, soft water itself tastes better than hard water.
 Hardness in water is measured by the concentration of certain minerals in the water. Such minerals in the hard water household could easily make 100 pound boulder in a single year.
 Hard water will also have these effects upon your household:
 The next time your husband complains about having a tough beard, his shaving discomfort may be more attributable to hard water than soft skin.
 You will literally be cleaner emerging from a soft water bath. Ditto the tub.
 Hair washed in soft water will be shinier and more manageable than when washed in hard water.
 Minor skin irritations and itches may actually be caused by chemicals in hard water.
 Help may be in sight, though. Improved water conditioners are now available and special formula hard water detergents and other products are now being developed. The war on hard water may finally be bringing its big guns into action.

Skip-row Regulations Must Change

Some details of the 1968 Cotton Program are due for release the latter part of this week, particularly those pertaining to allotment and projected yields.
 "Much has been said about projected yields in the past year," said Charles Stenholm, executive vice president of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers. "Most, if not all, people admit that penalties imposed on skip-row that have the effect of lowering projected yields of farmers who follow the cultural practice of skip-row are clearly discriminatory and just flat wrong."
 "But now as the time for deciding on the 1968 cotton program rules and regulations draws nigh," continued Stenholm, "We find that reports from Washington indicate that penalties now imposed will be continued."
 "We hope these reports are wrong but just to be on the safe side, RPCG plans to be in Washington Monday to work with our Congressmen and with Department officials concerning the 1968 Cotton Program and particularly skip-row and projected yields.
 "In my opinion," Stenholm said, "we either get skip-row regulations changed now or we never get them changed. The present situation is such that we need more cotton (skip-row will raise more cotton), we need to improve farmers' income (skip-row will increase farmers' income) and we need better quality cotton (which skip-row will also help). We will never have a better situation for removal of skip-row penalties."
 J. B. Cooper, Jr., president of RPCG from Roscoe, and Wilbur Gruben executive assistant, will go to Washington as well as Stenholm.
 The olive tree is highly valued as a landscape ornamental for yards and gardens.

USDA Announces Determination Of Upland Cotton Shortfall

The U. S. Department of Agriculture today announced that the upland cotton "shortfall" (the amount by which estimated requirements for upland cotton for domestic use and export during the 1967-68 marketing year exceed the 1967-68 production for such cotton) is 5.6 million bales.
 This determination for the 1967-68 marketing year was made in accordance with the provisions of Sec. 404 of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965. Upland cotton requirements for domestic use and export for the 1967-68 marketing year currently are estimated to be 13.7 million bales, and the Cotton Production Report issued Sept. 8, 1967, indicates that production of upland cotton from the 1967 crop will be 8.1 million bales.
 The shortfall may be revised later in the year if there are changes in estimated requirements or production.

Veterans Apply For GI Benefits

More than 6,600 Vietnam era veterans have applied for G. I. loans at the Waco Veterans Administration Office, Jack Coker, Manager, reported today.
 Some 23,000 have applied for educational benefits under the G. I. Bill.
 Stepped up efforts are being made by the VA and the Department of Defense to brief returning servicemen on veterans benefits, but some servicemen, Coker pointed out, tend to think of veterans benefits as something for older veterans. Home loans and educational allowances, he observed, are examples of the types of benefits that are of special interest to young ex-servicemen and women.
 These benefits, plus most other types of benefits, were extended last year to all veterans with at least 181 days active service, provided some of it was after January 31, 1955.
 Coker said that the Regional Office in Waco is staffed with trained personnel to assist veterans and their dependents about available veterans benefits. Those writing for information should include full information about the veteran involved, and address their inquiry to the Veterans Administration Regional Office, 1400 North Valley Mills Drive, Waco, Texas 76710. The branch of service and the dates of service should be included, as well as the file number assigned to any previous correspondence with VA.

What people are saying about...
A CLEAN BREAK WITH THE PAST
 "Sold on the cleanliness!" says Mrs. John Barrows of San Angelo, Texas. The Barrows have lived in total-electric comfort for almost three years, and are pleased with the living! Pleased that it is so clean... less dust. Pleased with the electric cooling and heating because it does such an "excellent job." Pleased that they can set the temperature controls one time in the summer, and one time in the winter and a constant temperature is maintained. The Barrows are pleased that there have been no service problems with the heating or cooling units, no cold spots in winter or hot corners in the summer. Both are especially pleased that the electric bill is so reasonable. Only $42.31 per month average. That is the total operating cost for cooling, heating, lighting, laundry, water heating, cooking, cleaning and running all of the work-saving electrical appliances for a family of 5 — and Robert, age 15; Ken, age 11; and Bryan, age 10; are active youngsters who open and close the refrigerator a lot... need lots of clean clothes and open and close doors frequently. Seven room, 2300 square feet — just $42.31 per month average.

Teacher Aides Provide More Time For Teachers To Teach

Texas schools are finding new ways for teachers to do more teaching. Teacher aides--people not trained to teach, but competent to assist--are being used to do many of the non-teaching chores in the classroom. By doing these time-consuming tasks, teacher aides provide more time for teachers to teach, according to William N. Kirby, of the Texas Education Agency.

Routine non-teaching activities such as record-keeping, collecting lunch money, supervising hall traffic, and the like can consume at least 20 percent of a teacher's time. In some cases, Mr. Kirby said, research has shown that teachers may spend as much as 70 percent of their time in these non-teaching activities.

All Texas schools are careful to define the job of their teacher aides so that the aide does only those jobs for which she is qualified. The teacher is responsible for the classroom instruction.

Some of the duties of teacher aides are simple clerical or housekeeping chores. Aides distribute school supplies, mix paints for art periods, or arrange the bulletin board.

Other duties of teacher aides are more complex. Writing assignments on the board, keeping attendance records, grading tests which do not require professional judgment, opera-teaching, and returned to college for full training as teachers."

In Texas schools last year 3,847 full-time teacher aides were employed, according to the Research Division of the Texas Education Agency. An additional 470 part-time teacher aides brought the total number of aides to 4,317 during the 1966-1967 school year.

The use of teacher aides in public schools is not a new idea. But large numbers of people were never employed as teacher aides before Federal aid to education programs began in 1965.

During the 1965-1966 school year, 1,133 Texas school districts participated in Federally-funded projects to help children from homes lacking middle-class educational advantages. About 465 of those districts, according to Mr. Kirby, used part of their Federal aid money for teacher aides.

Approximately 2,000 of these assistants to teachers were employed in public schools which operate Federally funded projects to aid educationally deprived children. About the same number of aides will be employed in these projects during the coming school year, Mr. Kirby said.

"Melanie Meddles"

By Melanie Whitley

Long, long ago in a land far, far away there lived a vain and arrogant emperor. Two crooks, knowing the king's weakness, talked him out of large sums of money and began to spin invisible threads to make his new clothes.

These clothes were supposed to be seen only by very wise men. No one wanted to show his ignorance and all exclaimed over the beautiful clothes that weren't there.

Finally a child was wise enough to say that there weren't any clothes on the king. The king realized that he had been swindled and the crooks were ousted.

Now those crooks knew they had a good thing going. They went to a distant land and again spun their invisible thread. This time they steered clear of men and little children and took their product to someone gullible, a woman.

The lady put on the long stockings with care. "How lovely your legs look now!" exclaimed the salesman. The woman was bowled over by the compliment; little did it matter that the freckles, hair and varicose

Tax Man Sam Sez:

Since 1954 Dads have been able to claim a dependent child as a tax exemption even though the student worked during the summer and earned more than $600 and was required to file a tax return. Last year, IRS made a check of the most common telephone calls and the fourth most common question - accounting for 6% of all telephone calls - was the question "My son made more than $600. Can I claim him as a dependent?" The answer is Yes - if he is a bonafide student and a bonafide dependent. The son can also claim his own exemption on his return.

YOU MUSTN'T QUIT

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all uphill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,

When care is pressing you down a bit
Rest, if you must - but never quit.
Life is queer, with its twists and turns,
As every one of us sometimes learns,
And many a failure turns out about

When he might have won if he'd stuck it out,
Success is failure turned inside out -
The silver tint of the cloud of doubt,
Stick to your task, though the pace seems slow -
You may succeed with one more blow.

And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to your fight when you're hardest hit -
It's when things seem worse that you mustn't quit.

veins still showed.

Her friends noticed how regal the lady had become. When she attributed the change to the hose, the other women flocked to the designers, for lo! they found another way to spend their husband's money!

Women began to size up their neighbors by their mincing garter belt walk. The hose 'ran' at every important meeting, in church when the women rose from kneeling the stockings continued to kneel, they wrinkled at the ankle, but the women didn't care because the designers said they were beautiful, and besides, all the other women wore them.

Today designers still enjoy their master joke because you see, women never change.

Senior News

VELVET VERHALEN

I'd like to remind everyone who has a desire to do so, but has not yet subscribed to any of the many Curtis magazines that the Seniors are selling, that Monday, Sept. 25, is the last day of sales.

The Greyhound Annual Staff began annual ad sales, Monday. In case you did not know this, the price we charge for annuals is really only one half of the actual cost, the other half of each annual is paid for by the ads we sell. Mrs. Melvin Lowrey, the Knox City High commercial teacher this year, has graciously accepted the position of annual advisor, a position which has considerably more responsibility and work than most people realize.

The Greyhounds had a bit of hard luck last Friday night at Aspermont, but with the support of all the Knox City football fans, our boys can do very well in district play. This week, the Greyhounds play the rough-neck Merkel Badgers here at Knox City. Come to the game and support our boys!

Sophomore News

BY LOU ANN MCGAUGHEY
Everyone has been pretty busy this week paying dues and attending meetings of different organizations.

Last Tuesday we took our first test of the year in World History and we are still anxious to hear the results, Coach Wall. Friday before last, our boys played Rochester and did a really fine job. They played the Aspermont Hornets Friday. Sophomore boys on the football team are Joe Barnard, Wayne James, and Tommy Waldrip.

Two sophomore girls leading the Knox City pep squad and roster are Lisa Martinez and Kathy Verhalen.

This week our boys take on the Merkel Badgers here. Let's all come out and show them that we are behind them 100%.

Freshman News

BY ROGERS LANKFORD

Last Friday night we had a football game with Rochester. Even though we lost, nearly everyone thought we played a good game. We have several Freshman boys on the team. These are: Mike Newton, Gary Pack, Max Spencer, Benny Adams, Tony Hernandez, Joe Rodriguez, and Rogers Lankford.

Friday we had a game with Aspermont. This Friday we play Merkel here. We hope everyone will be there for the game.

Our band has been practicing all week, even on Thursday nights. I think they will be ready to march. Contest will be later this year, and they will have to work hard up until then.

The students in the Freshman Class are finally getting used to the time schedule in high school. We aren't as lost as we were when school started.

Freshman FHA News

BY EMMY JONES

This past week the Freshman FHA elected officers. They are as follows: President, Betty Ross, vice-president, Linda Petty, secretary, Alice Martinez, Pianist, Gwen Angle, song leader, Jody McKinney, and reporter, Emmy Jones.

At the present we are trying to get better acquainted with what FHA is all about.

We learned the Creed and are working on the FHA song.

Band News

BY JAM WALDRIP

We as band members hope to make this year another one in which we shall do no less than our best to fulfill that happy dream of "SWEEPSTAKES NUMBER FIVE". We are in preparation now for that award, in fact, we have been even before the school doors opened for the school term. With Mr. Arnett's endless hours of help and guidance, with our parents and band boosters support, and with our schoolmates and teachers' encouraging words, we hope to make our dream come true.

The band has only performed at one game this football season, but if the weather permits we shall be performing throughout the rest of the season. It is certainly a warming feeling as we stand on the field awaiting our half time performance, and the words "Ladies and Gentlemen, the Knox City High School Marching Band" brings a roar of applause.

We are very thankful for your confidence in us! We hope that we can do that which is expected of us.

Sports

BY JOE REEDER

The Knox City Greyhounds lost to a good team last Friday night. The Aspermont Hornets dominated most of the game, but the Greyhounds proved that they could stop the Hornets on several consecutive plays near the goal line. Both teams were fine sports and congratulated each other after the game. Next year it will be the Greyhounds turn to win.

This Friday night the Greyhounds play Merkel at Knox City. The game will start at eight. Please come and support the Greyhounds in this game.

FHA News

BY SUE BATEMAN

The Knox City FHA Chapter will have its first meeting of the year, Monday, September 25. The regular monthly meetings will be held the fourth Monday of each month, although the chapter will carry on activities all through the year. One of the projects for the year will be to help at the Brazos Valley Care Home. Each month Margaret Howell, chairman of the project, will assign four girls to go to the Care Home to help our Senior Citizens. Some of the things they will help do, will be to write letters, read and most important, let the Senior Citizens know that the people of the community do care and are thinking about them. This project is one of many, the FHA girls will try to accomplish in the coming year.

Safe Driving To Football Games Urged

Drinking at football games has long been traditional with many gridiron fans, but it is a dangerous practice if you are driving to and from the game, the American Automobile Association warns.

"With the opening of the football season, Saturday traffic near the major colleges will be heavy," the AAA club said. "Driving to and from the game will require special alertness, since many of the fans will be in a festive mood and, in some cases, distracted from their duties behind the wheel."

With the reminder that alcohol is a factor in 50 per cent of fatal traffic accidents, the AAA club urged fans to arrange for one of the members of the football party to abstain from drinking, so that the group can be driven safely to and from the game.

Bill Provides Increase In Benefits For Vietnam Vets

President Johnson has signed into a law a bill providing for significant increases in benefits for Vietnam veterans and for older veterans as well.

Called the "Veterans' Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967," most provisions become effective October 1.

Under one major provision, veterans of the Vietnam era, which began August 6, 1964, will receive compensation for disabilities at full wartime rates and will qualify for non-service-connected pensions on the same basis as older veterans. Their widows and children become eligible for non-service-connected death benefits.

While this provision becomes effective October 1, an allowance of $250 for burial and funeral expenses of deceased individuals who served in the Vietnam era became effective today.

Under the law, certain other major provisions effective October 1, apply to all qualified veterans who served after January 31, 1955. These include:

Educational assistance allowances for full-time courses have been increased from $100 to $130 a month for a single veteran, from $125 to $155 for a veteran with one dependent, and from $150 to $175 for two dependents with an additional $10 for each dependent in excess of two. Proportionately smaller allowances will be allowed for part-time training.

Full educational assistance allowances will be paid to "educationally disadvantaged" veterans so they can complete high school without reducing their eligibility for advanced educational benefits.

Monthly allowances for on-the-job training for the first six months will range from $80 a month for a single veteran to $100 a month when there are two or more dependents. The allowances are reduced for succeeding six-month periods.

Monthly allowances for farm cooperative training will cover institutional agricultural courses with a minimum of 12 clock hours per week in addition to related work on the farm. Allowances range from $105 a month for the single veteran to $145 a month when there are two dependents, plus an additional $7 a month for each additional dependent.

Ninety percent of the established charge for flight training is provided for veterans with a private pilot license (or the equivalent in flight training hours) who can pass the physical examination for a commercial pilot's license.

An allowance of $1,600 will be authorized for the purchase of specially-equipped automobiles for certain severely disabled veterans.

World War II veterans benefit by the new law by having the final cut-off date on eligibility for the GI loan program extend to July 25, 1970, from July 25, 1967.

Some other provisions of the law extend benefits to certain of America's veterans, from the Vietnam era to the Spanish-American War. Such benefits include:

Veterans and dependents of deceased veterans receiving VA pension under the current pension program will get a cost-of-living increase averaging more than 5 percent, with widows in the lowest income categories receiving an increase of about 8 1/2 percent.

Children up to age 26 of veterans who died or were permanently and totally disabled as the result of a service-connected disability, or who died from any cause while qualifying for permanent and total disability compensation, will become eligible for grants of $130 a month for four years of approved college or vocational training.

Statutory awards of $47 a month, in addition to other compensation, have been going to certain disabled veterans who have service-connected disabilities involving the loss of a hand, foot, eye, creative organ, or both buttocks, or have sustained deafness in both ears or lost the power of speech. Only one of these statutory awards could be paid under the old law; the new law authorized payment of an additional statutory award for each of these conditions, not to exceed a total of $400 a month.

Veterans entitled to pensions, based on the need for regular "aid and attendance" will be authorized for therapeutic or rehabilitative devices, medical equipment or supplies, when medically indicated. These veterans, and those receiving aid and attendance compensation for service-connected disabilities, will also be furnished drugs and medicines. (This became effective when the President signed the law.)

The new law will have a significant impact on many of the 25.8 million living veterans, according to the VA. Veterans and dependents of deceased veterans may receive information about their eligibility, as well as assistance in applying for benefits from Contact Representatives at any VA office or hospital.

Most Of WT Rehab Center's Operating Funds To Be From Annual Roundup

Some of the finest holding pens in the Southwest are holding the cattle which have already begun to trickle in for the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, Raleigh Brown, president of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center's board of directors, has announced.

The Round-Up, set for September 25th at 1 p.m. at Ranchers and Farmers Livestock Commission, annually provides most of the operational funds for the non-profit WTRC.

The holding pens were constructed through the cooperative efforts of West Texas Utilities Company, Paymaster Feeds, C. A. Morris, owner of Ranchers and Farmers Livestock Commission, and other interested suppliers of materials, Brown said.

Located on a six-acre tract loaned by West Texas Utilities on Lytle Creek two miles south of Abilene Municipal Airport, the pens will provide a perfect central collection place for stock donated to the Round-Up, Brown said.

Since the beginning of the Round-Up seven years ago, Round-Up officials have had to depend on the generosity of area ranchers and farmers to put up the stock until time for the annual sale, Brown explained. The new holding pens will alleviate this problem.

The facility contains six feed lots, four of them 50' x 100'. The others are 50' x 150' and 50' x 50'. Featured are heavy posts with six-foot-high bull wire and a spacious corrugated steel shed covering the working chute. Concrete pads are built around water troughs and feeders donated by Paymaster Feeds.

Construction of the facilities was done throughout the spring by volunteer workers and by off-duty WTRC staff members, Brown said. "A few people were working out here all the time," he said. "There was somebody out here last winter when it was near zero." The Round-Up arrangements committee, headed by Morris, supervised the work. The feed lots will be available in the event that a cattleman is shipping before the time of the Round-Up and needs to send his donation in ahead of time, said Morris, who doubles as chairman of the Round-Up.

Some 65 head of cattle and several horses are currently being fed in the holding pens and 85 more have been pledged, Morris said. Response to a recent widely-circulated Associated Press story about the Round-Up has been good, but unfortunately, it has been in the form of questions rather than donations, he said.

Persons reading the story in such faraway states as Iowa and Michigan have written the WTRC to find out more about its services, Morris said, explaining that the people are continually amazed to find so many different services under one roof.

Cards announcing the Round-Up have recently been mailed to ranchers and farmers throughout Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arkansas, and Round-Up officials are hoping that the pledges of donations will begin rolling in soon. We're hoping we can raise about $100,000 this year, because the Center sure needs it," Morris said, explaining that the crowded WTRC is now providing free treatment to more than 1,600 patients.

Almost one-third of the Center's annual budget of $260,000 comes from the generosity of area ranchers and farmers who donate stock to the Cattlemen's Round-Up, Morris said. "We wouldn't be able to keep the doors of the Center open one day without their help. They helped us in the past, and I don't figure they'll let us down this year," he said. For the Round-Up each fall, stockmen donate a calf or pen of calves, sheep, goats or other livestock to be sold at special auctions. All proceeds, augmented by Round-Up gifts in cash, are used in the Center's program of patient rehabilita-

LATE PLANTING AIDS TO PREVENTING WHEAT STREAK MOSAIC

Knox County Wheat producers not interested in grazing wheat may be interested in delaying until last half of October planting wheat to aid in avoiding damage from streak mosaic virus.

The virus and microscopic wheat curl mite which transmit the disease built up in a volunteer wheat in the summer. When there is no live wheat only a limited number of the mites and virus survive in weedy grasses to infect early planted wheat in the fall.

Three recommended practices which can reduce losses from the disease are: (1) destroy volunteer wheat, (2) delay planting until the latest possible date, and (3) plant disease resistant varieties.

If wheat is not up until October 15, it usually escapes severe infection by the mites and virus.

Triumph, Kaw and Scout varieties have shown resistance to streak mosaic virus in some Kansas tests.

Late planting of wheat will naturally be expected to result in less grazing. Producers are urged to take this into consideration when interested in the grazing of wheat.

Zip A List Kits On The Way Reports Postmaster

Knox City Postal employees today started delivery of 915 ZIP-A-LIST kits to every householder in the area.

Postmaster Jeff T. Graham urged all residents to use the postal cards contained in the kits to obtain the ZIP Codes needed for addresses in their personal mailing lists.

Each household will receive eight cards with spaces for the addresses to be "zipped" by the post office and for the return address.

No postage is needed, Postmaster Graham said.

The project is part of Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien's program to make ZIP Codes more accessible to the mailing public and thereby increase the use of the codes in mailing addresses.

In addition to the kit, which is folded like a closed accordion, a separate card is being delivered to remind residents of the local ZIP Code number.

"ZIP Code is necessary all year round to increase the efficiency of the postal service," Postmaster Graham said, "but it is more important than ever around the holiday season. This year, the Post Office Department expects to handle well over nine billion pieces of mail during the Christmas rush. ZIP Code will be a great help in delivering that mail accurately and on time."

The postal official reminded ZIP-A-LIST users to print clearly and to include their return address so that the post office will know where to deliver the completed forms. Last year, thousands of people throughout the nation forgot to include the return address and their efforts to cooperate in the project went for naught, he said.
