Statement from Governor Preston Smith
April 28, 1969

It has been 16 years since the citizens of Northwest Texas sent Representative Bill Heatly of Paducah to the Legislature for the first time.

I have been in State Government for 18 years, and since my own tenure covers roughly the same period as that of Bill Heatly I believe I am as well qualified to judge him as any man.

The citizens of the 80th District of the Lieutenant Governor

April 28, 1969
Lieutenant Governor Ben Barnes said today that the fact any Texas citizen has a relative in the Legislature should not bar him from a state job if he is qualified.

"That would be carrying the theory of nepotism to an unreasonable extreme," Barnes said. "It might deprive the state of the services of a highly qualified individual just because of family connections."

Community Outing Is Planned For Fri. Evening

A few weeks ago the Herald carried the story of a community outing held at Mansfield Park northeast of town. Various families in town enjoyed a weiner roast, fellowship, and singing. The story referred to the occasion as a 'gatherin' and raved about the fun that was had by all. It even hinted that the group might plan to have another such 'gatherin', and so it is.

Plans have been made for a second outing this Friday evening, May 2 at Mansfield Park, so bring along your family and neighbors and hot dog makings for all and join the fun and fellowship at 7:00 p.m. Cokes, tea, and coffee will be furnished for as long as they last.

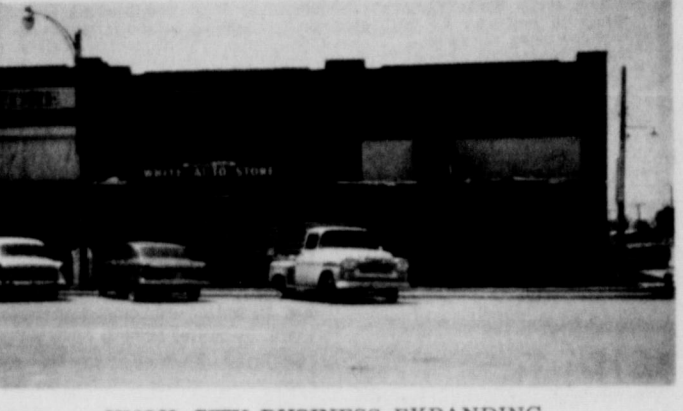

The purpose of the outing is to give local families an opportunity to become better acquainted, to exchange ideas, and to offer fun and enjoyment for the whole family in a relaxed atmosphere.

Heatly Introduces Resolution Of Concern To Small Schools

Whereas, big-city school officials complain that the small-town schools are doing a poor job in levying taxes on rural land and

Whereas, small-town districts say that the city school officials are doing a poor job by failing to tax the vast amount of cash, stocks and bonds concentrated in the big cities; and Whereas, the courts have consistently held that such personal property carries the same moral and legal tax obligation as is carried by homes, farms and ranches; and

Whereas, the Governor's Committee on Public Education completely ignored this glaring evasion and instead attacked rural real property which, in relation to its productivity, already bears a heavy burden; and

Whereas, this unfair attack led by a small group of big-city school officials has uselessly and unwisely impaired city-country relations, something responsible city citizens should not tolerate; and

Whereas, the omission of this vast amount of taxable personal property from the big-city tax rolls is a gross discrimination against the other school districts of the state, far outweighing any of the alleged deficiencies in rural land assessments; and

Whereas, the Governor's Committee and the big-city school officials have thoroughly investigated rural land assessments; and

Whereas, the Legislature is in great need of balanced information on the subject of local school taxes; now, therefore be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That the Speaker of the House of Representatives and his family alone have been singled out for question, there are many cases where the relatives of other elected officials have been and are being employed by the State. Each instance, as with all employment, must be evaluated separately.

"The only test that can be used to judge its propriety is the judgement by the Department heads as to the adequacy of the work being performed. In this instance, Mr. Heatly's brother and sons met the qualifications of their positions and their work has been above average in quality and performance.

"Mr. Heatly is a valuable and loyal public servant. He has devoted many years of service to his State, and all of Texas has benefited from his sincere dedication. He certainly has earned my respect and admiration."

Johnsongrass Is Good Hay Grazing

COLLEGE STATION - "If you can't fight it - join it." This is a good rule to follow if Johnsongrass invades your hay pasture, according to one Extension agronomist with Texas A&M University. Costs of herbicides to control the "weed" are much more than fertilizer costs, Dr. J. Neal Pratt points out.

"Nutrient value of Johnsongrass is comparable to many of the cultivated grasses grown for forage or hay and livestock can utilize it as well," he continued.

If the Johnsongrass is to be baled it would be cut in the "boot" stage, or right before seed heads form. An application of fertilizer according to soil tests will help it grow rapidly and maintain nutrients. Chemicals can be used to con-rol other undesirable plants in the hay field. Although other herbicides have been registered for use in pastures, 2,4-D is still Texas' favorite for control of broadleaf weeds. About a pound of the chemical in 15 to 20 gallons of water per acre will give effective weed control and not harm the Johnsongrass.

A reapplication of fertilizer following each cutting, or about every six weeks when grazing, will make for high quality feed. It is important to keep in mind the agronomist said, to keep Johnsongrass under control and not allow it to enter cultivated row crops.

Veterans released from active duty after January 1955 must complete GI Bill education by May 31, 1974, or eight years after discharge, whichever is later.

That said committee shall have the power to formulate its own rules of procedure and evidence; provided, however, that the rules of evidence to be followed shall be practically the same as followed in the courts of this State. Section 3. That the majority of the membership of the committee shall have power to issue process for witnesses and to compel their attendance, and produce all books and records, and upon disobedience of any subpoena the said committee shall have the power to issue attachments which may be addressed to and served by either the sergeant-at-arms appointed by said committee or any sheriff or any constable of the State; and said committee shall have authority to cite for contempt anyone disobeying said process and to punish for such contempt in the same manner as provided for by general law. The committee shall have power to administer oaths and shall further have all the powers necessary in order to accomplish the purposes for which it is appointed.

Section 4. That said committee shall have the power and authority to employ and compensate all necessary auditors, clerks, stenographers and other necessary employees, and it shall be the duty of said committee to make and keep a record of its investigations.

KCHS Band Receives Division Two Ratings At UIL Contest

Thursday's performances were for Class C, B, and A bands and Friday's contests for Class AA, CC, and A&A included eighteen bands.

The KCHS Band received Division II ratings in both concert and sight-reading, according to John Hollifield, band director. Concert judges were Ralph Mills of Sam Houston State College; Bill Carrico, director of Pecos High School Band; and Bill Woods, director of Levelland High School Band. Sight-reading judges were G. T. Gilligan, director of Kermit High School Band; Dan Gibbs, director of Monahans High School Band; and Dick Floyd, director of Pearce High School Band in Richardson.

Knox City's 52-piece band performed Bandology by Eric Osterling, Aria for Winds by John Cacavas, and Chant and Jubilo by Francis McBeth. One of the three concert judges rated Knox City a Division I in concert.

Some of the comments included, "Band plays with much spirit and style in the march, a tendency to overflow in loud passages." "In Aria, very well played, about as well as anyone could ever expect to hear this piece." "Real nice-looking band; band makes good effort to enhance music with phrasing, needs more clarity in some measures." "Band has obviously been working hard and has had fine instruction." "Some good teaching in evidence here, but overflowing hurt badly. A very good band - needs to pay closer attention to the little details."

Knox City is very proud of these band students and their director. Although the band has won a Division I (superior)

Teachers Favor Improvements

Texas schoolteachers, whose average annual salary ranks down in 38th place among their counterparts in the other 50 states ($1,289 per year below the national average), are asking the current Legislature to give them a pay raise.

But some people around the state seem to have gotten a wrong impression, says the top executive of their statewide association. This erroneous idea is that teachers are not concerned about passing new laws for other public school improvements.

L. P. Sturgeon, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association, said Friday that the 123,000 school people who hold membership in TSTA consider the proposed pay raise a necessity, but they also consider other school improvements essential.

"Our Basic Foundation School Program Bill (H. B. 240, S. B. 100) contains provisions for increased state financing of local school maintenance and operation, transportation, and teacher aides, as well as the teacher pay raise, to bring Texas up to its rightful place among states in public school support," Sturgeon said.

"TSTA also favors wholeheartedly the proposed bills now before the Legislature for improvements and increased state financing of vocational-technical education, special education, kindergarten programs, summer school programs, adult education, and other programs designed to provide better quality education for children."

The Basic Foundation Program Bill, which TSTA is supporting, was introduced in the current legislative session by Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr., of Paris, and Rep. George T. Hinson of Mineola. The bill bears the signatures of 20 members of the Senate and 98 members of the House, giving it strong majority support in both chambers.

The bill has cleared the Senate Education Committee and will be taken up by the full Senate as soon as the Legislature reaches agreement on the General Appropriations and Tax Bills.

"Our recommendation for a 10 percent increase in state funds for public school maintenance and operation, and a 20 percent increase in school transportation funds is still in the bill. State aid for these items has not been increased since 1961, and we feel they are badly needed," Sturgeon said.

Among eight bills backed by TSTA in the current Legislature, one (improvements in teacher retirement benefits) has already been signed into law. Sturgeon believes that the other seven stand a good chance for enactment before the June 2 adjournment date.

Approximately 110 guests registered in a lovely guest book prepared by Mrs. Norma Estlinger. They represented chapters from Fort Worth, Anson, Abilene, Seymour, Colorado City, Quanah, Stamford, Vernon, Haskell, Munday, Rule, Sweetwater, and Knox City.

Guests were served refreshments from a serving table covered with a beautiful white linen cloth and centered with a floral arrangement of orchid and white. Appointments were of silver.

Industry Gives Sen. R. B. Russell Forrestal Award

Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia was recently presented with the National Security Industrial Association's James Forrestal Memorial Award for 1968.

The Forrestal Award is the highest honor bestowed annually by the association to that person who has "applied most effectively Forrestal's ideals, to the concepts and requirements of national security." Forrestal, as the first Secretary of Defense, firmly believed that a continuous working partnership between government and industry is essential to the national defense.

Senator Russell, the President Pro Tempore of the United States Senate, and the Senator who has served longer in that body than anyone his age, is noted for his vigorous support of the furtherance of the welfare and the protection of the country and the advancement of its growth, development and prosperity. In his acceptance address, Senator Russell stressed the need for preparedness for any eventuality, the requirement for continued close cooperation between industry and government, and the essentiality of the system of checks and balances which characterizes this cooperation.

MIRACLE OF THE ACORN

SEED MONEY

The miracle of springtime and the budding of tiny green shoots that started from seeds so small you could hardly see them might be likened to our nation's growth.

If you think of money in terms of a seed planted for growth, you can trace the flowering of America.

If you have a savings account, pay life insurance premiums, own securities, such as stocks and bonds, participate in a pension fund, have an equity in home or farm, you are a capitalist—and these are all investments in America.

Through investment in business and industry you have not only contributed to your family's independence, but at the same time helped to provide jobs for others and to make a worthwhile contribution to our national economic growth.

This great reservoir of fluid money is never static, but is always searching for new and profitable outlets. It provides the basic ingredient for the nation's expanding growth and affluence. The week (April 28-May 4)—Invest-in-America Week—is a good time to reflect on creative ways to help America grow.

Let's continue to put our money to work—Invest in America.

your brother supplied more than half of them.

If neither you nor your brother furnished more than half of this support but your combined contributions totaled over half the support, then you may want to consider the multiple support agreement. Such an agreement enables one of you to claim your mother as a dependent providing certain conditions are met.

Be sure to check this provision of the law, as well as the other dependency tests, before you file your return next year.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Today is not only the Space Age; it is also the Chemical Age.

One of the main benefits of living in this chemical age is availability of numerous pesticides. They have been useful for the improvement of our agricultural output and therefore for raising our standard of living. Also, these pesticides have been helpful in the control of many insect-borne diseases.

Unfortunately, the most effective pesticides are often the most toxic and precautions against them the most difficult to enforce.

With the increased use of these highly toxic materials, both at home and in industry, it is essential that we stress safety measures at every opportunity. Listed below are some important State Health Department recommendations to remember when handling and using toxic insecticides.

*Follow the instructions on the manufacturer's label to the smallest detail.

*Store toxic sprays and dust away from children and irresponsible individuals, as well as livestock, foods and animal feeds.

*All regular handlers of phosphorous insecticides should have cholinesterase tests at intervals not greater than 10 days during the periods they are working with the materials.

*All applicators should avoid breathing dust, vapors, or spray from the insecticides.

*Respirators which meet the specifications of the U. S. Bureau of Mines or Department of Agriculture should be worn when handling or working around highly toxic insecticides.

*Freshly laundered protective clothing and gloves should be worn when sprays and dust are being applied.

*If toxic insecticides are spilled on the skin or clothing, work should be suspended and the person involved should bathe and change clothes.

*Individuals handling toxic insecticides should bathe and change clothes immediately after completing jobs or during an extensive break.

Streams In Desert Places BY OZELLE STEPHENS "I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness. Make straight the way of the Lord, . . ." (John 1:23) John the Baptist, the voice from the barren wilderness, shouting as was prophesied, "Get ready for the coming of the Lord. Men's hearts must be prepared for the coming of the Spirit of the Lord and the Holy Spirit Baptism." Christians are the voice in the world to prepare the unbeliever for salvation and a life with Christ. John said, "My work is to prepare the way for Christ so that everyone who hears will go to Him." Are we, by our lives, directing people to Christ? Let us examine ourselves and see if we have truly believed and have found that God in our lives is a fountain of truth ever flowing without measure.

ROLLING PLAINS COTTON GROWERS INC.
 The target date for starting cotton planting this year is the week beginning May 19, according to Charles Bragg, executive vice president of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

"We have taken a survey of farmers in a 60-mile radius of our headquarters", Bragg said, "and the consensus seems to be that May 19-23 should be the optimum planting date. Many farmers would have preferred to begin planting on May 26, but felt cooperation will be better on the earlier date".
 Bragg emphasized that this period is only a target date. Every community should base its decision on soil temperature, local moisture conditions, five day weather forecasts, and, probably most important, what the majority of farmers in the community want.

Selection of the planting date is one of the most important managerial decisions a farmer makes each year, Bragg stated. After the selection, uniform planting within a short period of time is of tremendous economic importance to the community. Boll weevils depend almost entirely on the fruit of the cotton plant for their food supply. Without food, they will not multiply at their usual rapid rate.

"Normally, a cotton plant begins squaring about 40 days after planting and squares reach the one-third grown stage 10 days later", the cotton executive explained. "Over wintering weevils do not destroy ing weevils do not destroy squares or lay eggs until the squares are one-third grown. A uniform planting date in mid or late May allows weevils to be out of hibernation and more easily controlled by community early season spray programs before the insect population has a chance to build".

Other advantages of the late May planting date are numerous. Planting too early encourages more weed growth and increases costs of making the crop. Uniform planting dates allow gins, compresses, warehousemen and oil mills to process the crop with a minimum of labor, which results in lower costs and greater profits for all. Shorter gin seasons usually mean better quality fiber, more active markets, higher selling prices. "Uniform planting dates are just one of the many ways RPCG farmers can work together to increase production" Bragg said.

it's a woman's WHIRL

BY MARY LEE

Don't bother to put Johnny's toys back in his playroom. Just perch them on your coffee table as a decorative touch. At least, that's what architects and designers seem to be doing these days.

With the world becoming more and more leisure-minded, decorative playthings are providing a gay accessory note as well as amusing entertainment. After all, who wouldn't rather play a mind-boggling game of Instant Insanity than talk about the weather.

And Instant Insanity is the name of last year's biggest selling item in the toy industry. It's a game made of four plastic cubes in various colors, that are an absolute panic to try to fit together.

So, this year the cubes are translated into pillows that you can inflate for the den, playroom, or patio.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Murder by Automobile

Although cars kill more than 50,000 Americans every year, we seldom think of a car as a murder weapon. Nevertheless, with growing frequency, motorists are being convicted of the crime of murder by automobile.

The key ingredient, upping the offense from mere manslaughter to murder, is malice. And a jury may find malice by logical deduction from the circumstances of the killing. For example:

A man who was rebuffed by his girl friend pushed her out of the car, ran her down, then backed over her prostrate body. In this behavior a jury found ample evidence of malicious intent, and brought in a verdict of murder by automobile.

Even if a driver has no specific intent to kill anybody, he may still commit murder—if his conduct is reckless enough to imply malice.

Thus, in another case, a man decided it would be great fun to drive up close to pedestrians and make them jump. After playing this little game several times, he misjudged his distance and struck down an innocent victim.

Tried afterward for murder by automobile the man pleaded a lack of any intent to kill. But the court found him guilty as charged.

"Malice," said the judge, "does not necessarily mean an actual intent to take human life. It may be implied, as when an act is done so recklessly as to manifest depravity of mind and disregard of human life."

Still, however wrongful a driver's conduct, he is not guilty of murder if there is no causal connection between his bad driving and the accident itself.

Suppose, for instance, that a drunken driver is traveling down the street when he suddenly has a blowout. If the car jumps the curb and kills a pedestrian, solely because of the blowout, the driver could not be convicted of murder.

True, a jury might find malice on the way he was driving. But if the blowout would have resulted in the accident anyhow, then the bad driving could not be the cause of death.

Another best seller, believe it or not, is the Ouija board. After years of being regarded by many people as a joke, the "talking" board is back in style. For some reason the occult seems to have captured everyone's fancy. So, accessory firms have taken up these playful items and brought forth astrological Zodiac signs in lucite cubes, wall hangings, and ash trays.

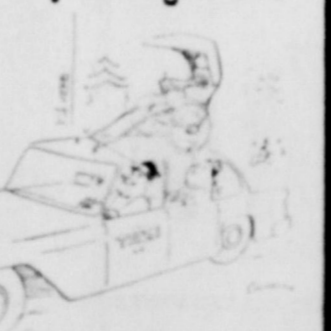

There's even a witchcraft set for freaking out cocktail guests, area rugs you can play tic-tac-toe on, wooden puzzles, and all sorts of paper toy items. One plastic cube puzzle from Denmark forms a million different forms. Another plastic construction set in flower shapes forms dozens of striking patterns.

Although toys haven't quite made it to the kitchen yet, their color and decorative qualities certainly have. One set of pots and pans (by United States Stamping) is positively swinging. It features a splash-on abstract design in brilliant orange, blue and yellow.

Cookware with colorful bottoms pretty enough to hang on the wall are particular favorites. Most are made with designs that won't burn off even with hard use.

Two popular patterns are the traditional blue Meissen, and a Fiesta pattern of red and brown on gleaming white. In a heavy gauge steel, they have a satin-smooth ceramic covering.

Candy-on-a-Stick Makes Mom a Hero

Take the children's two favorite snack time treats, peanut butter and chocolate, combine them in a candy-on-a-stick and you've got a sure winner in the special treats department. The home economists at the test kitchens of Peter Pan Peanut Butter have taken one of their best recipes for a rich and nutritious peanut butter panouche, molded it into circles and dipped it into chocolate. Just to make the chocolate dipping a cinch, they've passed on a professional candy maker's tip. By melting a little paraffin with the chocolate, it will set much faster and not need refrigeration. Paraffin is readily available in most grocery stores.

P-NUTTIER POPS

(Makes 24 pops)

- 3 cups firmly packed light brown sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup Peter Pan Crunchy Peanut Butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 24 lollipop (or popsicle) sticks
- 5 squares semi-sweet baking chocolate
- 3 tablespoons melted paraffin

Combine sugar, milk and salt in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring until sugar dissolves. Cook without stirring until candy thermometer registers 236° or when a small amount of candy dropped into cold water forms a soft ball. Remove from heat and cool 3 minutes. Add peanut butter and vanilla, stir until smooth. Cool to lukewarm (110°). Beat until mixture is thick and loses its gloss. Pour onto waxed paper and shape into a 12-inch roll. Cool slightly and cut into 1/2-inch slices. Insert lollipop sticks into each slice. Cool thoroughly. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler over boiling water and stir in paraffin. Dip candy into chocolate mixture, coating completely. Cool thoroughly on waxed paper-lined baking sheets.

*If you have difficulty inserting sticks in candy, make a small hole first with a wooden pick or skewer.

WORTH TALKING ABOUT

Health-planning agencies in your community will welcome your (businessmen) interest—not only because they need your financial assistance for planning operations to help augment other funds, but they also need, and will heartily desire, the voluntary citizenship participation of you and other executive personnel. The health system needs hard-headed management counsel and views from other than professional circles. You can stimulate and aid in development of more business-like practices in managing the health care system, and some kind of cost analysis of results. Participation in this way is for more meaningful than hand-wringing on the sidelines.

When a father - or a working mother - dies, monthly benefits can be paid to the children at least until they are 18, or up until age 22 if they continue in school and remain unmarried. Payments are made to their mother, too, while any of the children under 18 are in her care. Their benefits are based on the worker's work under social security. Mr. Draughon said, and a family may qualify if the worker had social security credit for as little as a year and a half of work in the 3 years before his death. The amount of a family's benefits depends upon the worker's average earnings under social security and the number of people in the family. Payments range from a minimum of $82.50 per month for a widow and one child to $434.40 per month.

A booklet, "Social Security for Young Families" is available free of charge from the Vernon social security office, Mr. Draughon said. It describes the survivors benefits that are payable when a worker dies and also the disability benefits that can be paid to him and to his dependents if he becomes unable to work for 12 months or more.

Munday Garden Club Plans Flower Show Today, May 1

It's a busy time when women have a flower show. It all begins early in the year when each woman plans and plants seed and bulbs hoping for beautiful flowers from her yard when show time comes around. And so it is with members of the Munday Garden Club as they have worked this week toward the final details of the annual Spring Show.

After a date is set, a theme must be carried out, table settings arranged for beautiful displays of each specimen and arrangement. A hurrying, buzzing bunch have worked faithfully this week, as the staging committee composed of Mmes. J. T. Offutt, W. C. Kirschner, Aaron Edgar, Herman Collier and Joe Morrow have set up tables and decorations in preparation for the opening day.

And still, the work is not all over, as the opening day of a flower show is just about as busy as any, as the women bring in their flowers and arrangements and everything is set up by 11 a.m., at which time the judging is done.

Security Benefits Grow In Knox County

In the past year, several people in the Knox County area were surprised to find they could collect social security benefits for themselves and their dependents.

Mr. Draughon, social security manager in Vernon said, "But the surprise is that so many are not even aware that social security provides for the family if the father dies and this is worth as much as $100,000 to an individual. In most cases, the director suggested how to get in touch with the social security office.

Others, the visit to the social security office was made in the faint hope, rather than the expectation, that payments could be made to the family."

Social security survivors benefits are now in their 30th year, Mr. Draughon pointed out. Over the years since January 1940 when the first monthly checks were mailed out, more than $23 1/2 billion has been paid to young widows and children. About 95 out of 100 mothers and children are protected right now if the family breadwinner should die, he noted.

Every young family, he said, should take account of social security benefits in its financial planning. Every young husband should make sure that his wife knows that social security

Tax Man Sam Sez:

This is error correction time down at the old Internal Revenue Service. Of course many taxpayers get a nice little letter from the computer asking them to correct some little error such as wrong social security number, no W-2's or not enough W-2's, or missing signatures. In most cases you simply fill out the form that the computer folks send to you and send it back and the computer does the rest. However, communication is a two-way process - Internal Revenue also bears from thousands of taxpayers who forgot to include some item of income or who forget to take a very important deduction or tax credit that is worth money to the taxpayer.

The good tax folks are always happy to have taxpayers correct their errors, but they insist that "X marks the spot." If you are going to amend your return, please send in a 1040X. This raises the red flag to the tax folks who feed the information to the computer, that you have already filed a return that is incorrect, but here is the correct information. When the computer gets the 1040X information it usually takes a few thousandths of a second to re-align all the wrong information, send you a refund check, give you credit for the extra tax, or even send you a bill. The thing to remember - put it on a 1040X, when you amend or correct your tax return.

I thought I'd lay off the job for a few weeks just to see if anyone missed me. Guess people wondered when they talked to me why I had that expectant grin on my face . . . Well, finally one person happened to mention that they'd happened to notice . . . so here I am again. It doesn't take much to make me happy.

Adjusting to Daylight Saving Time would be a lot easier if people didn't remind you every hour on the hour that actually, it's some other time.

Seems as though hardly a conversation can be had nowadays without people wondering over the world, country and family situations that all appear to be on a fast downhill pace to the dogs.

In the Points to Ponder section of the May Reader's Digest I read a sad-but-oh-so-true statement that needs re-peating.

This bit of reasoning comes from A. Whitney Griswold, president of Yale University from 1950 to 1963, and will probably make a lot of us stop and think and place more of the blame for the degenerate state of affairs where it belongs - with each of us in our homes: ". . . there is no such thing as public morality. There is only a composite of private morality."

It's time for my favorite actors, the kids to take the spotlight again.

Five-year-old daughter, Melissa, confided to her uncle Ronnie, that she had three boy-friends and "Two of them are manzies." (R. P. Barnard is one of the lucky guys and the other is still a secret).

Five-year-old David Flores, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Flores of Knox City appreciates a good sunny dirt-digging day as much as the next boy. When weatherman Ben Strickland announces that the day will be sunny and warm, David whispers confidentially into the back of the television, "Thank you, Ben Strickland, for the beautiful day."

Darren Albus, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Albus of Abilene, went with his mother, brothers and grandmother, Mrs. Mat Verhalen to the Abilene zoo and amusement park. He wanted to ride the helicopters but Mother said no. Then he turned to Gramma, who being normal always has gum and money in her purse. "Do you have any money?" he asked. "A little," she replied. "It only takes two quarters," he informed her. And, sure nuf, it did.

Five-year-old Cathy Cartwright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Cartwright of Munday was holding the family's (supposedly) tomato, Cutiepie, in her lap when the old fellow thought he'd play a practical joke, and had two kittens.

The whole family was startled but Cathy could talk of nothing else for days. "I sure didn't know that was the way you grewed cats."

Recently when two-year-old Laurie Albus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Albus of Lubbock, visited with her grandmother, Mrs. Nora Hietel of Benjamin, she got tired of being convinced of the logic of sleeping in grandmother's bedroom instead of the back porch. "Leave me alone," she said, "You're giving me a headache."

Then she went to sleep, not with the normal teddy bear, but with her nightly pal, a little blue jar of Vicks!

But our award goes to three-year-old Kristi Boone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boone who first came to my notice when her remark made the rounds that "If you want a baby, my mother will make youone."

Then there was the time she stuck the tweezers in an electrical outlet and said, "Mama did you see the pretty lighting?"

Then there was the time the family climbed Kiowa Peak and Kristi fell about fifteen feet and landed in a bush. Her father roped her and pulled her back up. Once again on level ground, confronting her mother who didn't know whether to be angry or relieved, Kristi asked proudly, "What did you think of my stunt?"

Sunshine Band was held on Saturday evening. The Lord blessed us, Sis. Manuel helped each child with their verses and Missionary Wilson taught from Luke the 18th chapter the necessity of prayer.

Sunday School had a good attendance with Supt. Smith in charge. Each of the children's classes reviewed well with the general review by Pastor Bennett. We were happy to have Sis. Bennett, Sis. Green, and daughter of Abilene in service with us on Sunday morning. The morning message was from Genesis 24:49-50 "Hinder Me Not."

We were thankful to have the Union Joint Meeting here on Sunday evening. Elder Sanders preached from Acts 19:1 through about the 6th verse. YPWW and night service were held. The evening message was from Luke 18:35:43 and Luke 7:11,15.

We are beginning our church Anniversary Wednesday night April 30, 1969 There will be 3 nights service. Everyone is invited. Service begins at 8:00 each night.

Theme of the meetin is "The People have a mind to Work" Sponsors: Wednesday - Sister Manuel, Sis. Rhodes; Thursday - Sis. Wilson, Sis. Ware, Sis. Taylor; Friday - Elder Bennett, Bro. Perry.

...which the pilots yelled as they flew away from the massive attack. The film company has taken some old American AT-6's and BT-13 training planes and converted them into World War II vintage Japanese "Zeroes". Seems strange to see those "Rising Suns" on the fuselages of the planes as they zoom down on their mock bomb runs. The planes are being based and maintained here at Barbers Point, Pilots, one of whom is a captain from our office, make $150 or more a day when they fly the "Zeroes". One plane crew casualty has been reported so far in six months of shooting - one pilot was killed when he crashed his plane into a sugar cane field between our station and Pearl Harbor. Another pilot was plucked from the ocean in another incident... John Wayne and Jason Robards are a couple of the big name actors in the film, which should be released in about a year or two. More shooting still remains to be done in Japan and Washington for "Tora! Tora! Tora!", said to be the third most expensive movie in Twentieth-Century's history.

The night life is really swinging down at the Waikiki clubs and hotels. At Duke Kahanamoku's night spot now is organized Earl Grant ("Ebb Tide"), who is replacing regular star Don Ho while Ho is on the Mainland doing some TV-ing and night clubbing... Ex-TV star

"Lonesome" George Goble was in town not long ago doing his thing at the Hikai Hotel, while stringy-haired Tiny Tim came tippy-toeing through Oahu's club circuit. The 3 Monkees popped in and out of the Honolulu International Center during last month, too. Like we said, the night life is really swinging... By the way, one other note which might be of local interest: there's this one performer in Hawaii making the rounds of the smaller night clubs. Said to be one of the early forces in pop blues. His name, by coincidence, is Screaming Jay Hawkins.

All or most of these attractions are geared toward taking in the tourist trade, and not a whole lot of Kamaainas (locals) venture out to take in these shows. Because of the fairly high price tags, there are less military men who can afford to go. It's nothing like an old Stagecoach Inn dance with Jimmy Heap and the Melody Masters!... That's pau for now... Aloha...

Pork Producers Hold Meet May 1

There will be a meeting for all area pork producers, Thursday night, May 1, 1969, at the Conference Room of Stamford Electric Cooperative, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting, according to Charles Stenholm, Manager of Stamford Electric Cooperative, Inc., is to determine interest in forming an Area Pork Producers Association. We believe there is a tremendous economic opportunity in the Stamford Electric Area for pork production, said Stenholm.

The growth of pork production in the area in the last year leads us to believe that the time may now be ripe to explore various possibilities in the organizational, educational, promotional, and marketing fields of raising hogs, continued Stenholm.

Every pork producer and interested person is urged to attend. That's Thursday night, May 1, at the Stamford Electric Cooperative, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

VOTE ON COTTON

ALLOTMENT TRANSFERS

Cotton growers are reminded that the period from May 5-9 is the time for voting on whether they favor or not the selling, leasing of cotton allotments for the crop year of 1970. ASCS committeemen and county officials can provide detailed information on the referendum.

1969 TEXAS WHEAT CROP ESTIMATE

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says the 1969 wheat crop, based on April 1 prospects, is estimated at 74,232,000 bushels, a 6 percent increase from the December 1 estimate. Acreage seeded for this year's crop is 4,124,000 acres, 16 percent below the 1968 acreage. Progress of the crop across the state is generally good, the Service noted.

ALFALFA WEEVIL SPREADS

From four counties in north-east Texas in 1968, the alfalfa weevil has now spread into Central Texas and specimens have been tentatively identified in Brazos, Grimes and Wharton counties, reports L. R. Green, assistant entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The rate of this destructive alfalfa insect has been from 50 to 100 miles per year in other states, Green noted. The entomologist urges alfalfa growers to contact the local county for information on the pest and how to collect and submit specimen for identification. He added that it is very important that the distribution of the insect be determined.

TRACTOR SAFETY

This is the time of the year when farmers are busy in their fields with tractors and the chances for accidents greatly increase.

More than 600 people are killed in farm tractor upset accidents each year in the United States, and another 5,000 are injured.

Authorities estimate that three of every four people killed in tractor upsets could be saved if tractors were equipped with protective frames or crush-resistant cabs and safety belts.

Farmers who are planning to buy new tractors should ask their dealers about safety devices that may be available. They could save a life.

Tractor operators can also contribute a great deal to accident prevention if they will follow basic safety rules.

Read and familiarize yourself with the instruction manuals for your equipment. Keep yourself in proper physical and mental condition by getting enough rest, dressing comfortably, working within physical capabilities and taking frequent breaks to avoid fatigue.

Avoid operating on steep slopes and stay clear of ditches and embankments. Drive slowly on rough ground or when visibility is poor. Reduce speed when turning or working near ditches and avoid dropping wheels into a soft shoulder or into ditches.

Finally, keep all guards and shields in place and shut off power before servicing or unclogging machinery. And always keep children away from machinery.

When on the road, always display a Slow-Moving Vehicle emblem. This is becoming universally recognized as designating a vehicle traveling less than 25 miles an hour.

Conscientious observance of these rules will help reduce farm accidents throughout the state.

GRAIN SORGHUM VARIETY DEMONSTRATIONS

Several Knox County farmers planted from two to six grain sorghum varieties for demonstrations to get yield comparisons in 1969.

Lonnie Offutt of Munday planted WAC 700, NK-265, Asgrow Flare, RS 671, Funks G-503 and Pioneer 846 for an irrigated demonstration.

C. H. Herring of Rhineland planted Double TX, Funks 744 and YE-90 for an irrigated demonstration. C. H. will also have a two variety dryland demonstration.

Sam E. Clonts of Knox City planted a dryland demonstration using Pioneer 846, RS-626, Asgrow Flare, YE-90 and Funks G-401.

Feemster Brothers of Vera planted a dryland demonstration, using Funks G-401, Funks 744, Asgrow Flare and Pioneer 846.

Calbert Haskin, of Goree planted a dryland demonstration using YE-90, Asgrow Flare and Funks G-401.

THOSE ORANGE CONES? If you have been wondering about those bright colored cones you see on the street behind and in front of General Telephone Company trucks, they're for safety! The cones are placed by the driver each time he parks. Before starting off again, he must walk around the truck to pick up the cones and will know if anything has been placed around the truck while parked. Experience has proven that the use of these cones reduce backing accidents.

HERE AND THERE
Mr. and Mrs. Alex Godsey spent a lot of time in Wichita Falls last week when her father, Horace Finley of Knox eties and Chalmer Hobert of Munday planted several varieties with two varieties joining in different fields. At this time I do not have the variety names on these farms. Other farmers in the county likely have some good two or more variety demonstrations planted.

Mrs. Don Whitley, along with four Munday women, attended a Deaneary meeting of Catholic women last Thursday at Scotland, near Wichita Falls.

Mental Health Column Begins

Are you worried about mental or emotional troubles? What should you know and do about mental illness?

In a new series, in this newspaper, Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, Director of the government's National Institute of Mental Health will bring up-to-date and authoritative help to answer questions like these.

Called "Mental Health Matters," the series will appear as space permits and will deal with a wide range of subjects. Alcoholism, drug addiction, misuse of pep and sleeping pills, LSD, marijuana, depression, suicide prevention, racial tension, urban crowding, violent behavior, marital troubles, schizophrenia - all these and many more conditions are part of the immense problem of mental illness and will be written about in the new series.

Personal medical or health advice cannot be given in the columns; this you should get from your doctor because it is not possible nor helpful for the columns to prescribe, treat, or suggest specific measures for any individual case.

Medicare Benefits Changing For Mentally Ill

What do the newer provisions of the Medicare laws mean for the mentally ill? Under the 1967 changes in the laws, patients who use up their 90 days' coverage for in-patient hospital care in a single spell of illness may now draw on a lifetime reserve of 60 additional days.

This is favorable for the psychiatric or mentally ill patient because it gives more time for recovery.

This extra time might mean the difference between victory and defeat in a siege with mental illness which, it is often forgotten, can come and go in its attacks just as do other illnesses.

Another provision of the law revisions provides reductions for psychiatric patients in hospitals.

Patients who are in a psychiatric hospital on the first day they become entitled to their 150 days of coverage for a spell of illness are still subject to have all days of such care immediately preceding entitlement subtracted from their available benefits if they continue to receive psychiatric services whether given in a psychiatric or general hospital.

If they require hospitalization in a general medical institution for medical services unrelated to their mental illness, however, their days of pre-entitlement hospitalization are not counted against them.

Another provision of the 1967 amendments calls for a study of drugs and costs, including covering payment for additional kinds of drugs, such as those used for psychiatric patients.

At present, the cost of a prescription drug that must be taken by mouth cannot be reimbursed. It is considered "self-administered" even though prescribed by a physician.

This is a serious limitation to a person with an emotional disorder who is dependent on regular medication which has to be taken by mouth, such as tranquilizers in tablet or pill form, in order to regain or maintain his health.

Results of this study ordered by Congress, therefore, may be important for mental patients.
