MISS HOLLAND ENTERTAINS

Miss Irene Holland entertained a few of her friends last Saturday night in the home of her aunt, Mrs.
H. L. White. The Christmas spirit was prevalent in decorations about the rooms. Following games of 42 refreshments of hot punch and cake were served. Those enjoying the evening were Miss Alice Rees, Mildred Dutton, Wilma Lowrey, Mozell Cochran, Exa Mae Leaverton, Joe Nell Robbins, Rowena Wall and Mrs. H. L. White and daughter, Lena Fayne, and Irene.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Malone have as their guests during the Holidays, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H.
R. Malone and baby and Mrs. J. A.
Webb and babies all of Dallas.

NO HERALD NEXT WEEK

As has been the custom of this paper for the past many years, there will be no paper during the week of the New Year's Day. The next Herald will appear in the mail in the afternoon of Thursday, January 7th, getting to you on the morning of the 8th. We ask that all readers save your news during the Holidays and bring it to the Herald office the first week in the new year and it will appear in the Herald that week.

Again, as is the custom of the Herald family, we are leaving Wednesday for Thornton to spend Christmas with Mother. Be there no other material joy on Christmas day, there will be the joy of being "Home".
We wish you a very Merry Christmas and a good New Year. Let us hope that God, in His infinite Wisdom and Love, will bring us a year of Spiritual and Material Blessings during the days of 1932.

We are truly grateful for the business the people of the town have given us. It has been through your patronage that we have succeeded.
If succeeded we have, in publishing the Herald and doing the bits of Job printing for the town.

Is There a Santa Claus?

A little girl once wrote the following letter to a large American newspaper:
"Dear Editor: I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'if you see it in the Sun, it's so.' Please tell me the truth: is there a Santa Claus?— Virginia O'Hanlon."

Here is the reply that the editor sent to this little girl:
"Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except what they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds.

"Al minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little. In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound, and give to our life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no child like faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this ex-like faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment except sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be existing unshed.

"Not believe in Santa Claus? You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove?
They did not see Santa Claus, but that is no sign there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not; but that's no proof that they are not there.
Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You might tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the super-al buty and glory beyond. Is it all real. Ah, and picture the super-al buty and glory beyond. Is it all real. Ah, Virginia, in all the world there is nothing else real and abiding.
"No Santa Claus? Thank God! He lives, and he lives forever.
A thousand years from now Virginia, may, ten times ten thousand years from now he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."—(Casual Beob.)

ATTENDANCE FOR CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The Christmas program of the school was good and attractively presented.
As a group of girls the of Bethlehem's story was revealed in a very fine and interesting manner.

Mabel Moorhouse and Vera Carlisle entertained Sunday evening with a quail supper at the house of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ashcroft. The rooms were beautifully decorated with large Christmas Bells and red and green ropes from which leaves were hanging. The reflection of the colored lights from the chandelder on the tables cast a glow of soft varied colors in the room. In the center of the dining table was a small Christmas tree. In the center of each of the four tables was a tall red taper surrounded at the base by sprays of mistletoe.

The menu consisted of fruit cocktail served in grapefruit baskets with handles of mistletoe. The dinner plate contained quail, cheese balls, cranberry jelly, potato balls, peas in tonble cases, hot rolls, a congested fruit salad, and coffee.
Christmas colors were carried out by the last course, cherry pie.

The guests were Messers and Mesdames Henry Jones, Orland Jam-son, Roy Baker, and Jimmie Ashcroft; Misses Sydna Edwards, and Elizabeth Deavers, Messers W. T.
Averitt, Reeder Smith, F. H. Lindsey and Henry Arledge.

? CLUB SOCIAL

One of the most charming and entertaining socials of the Christmas season yet given in the city was that last Tuesday evening given by the members of the ? Club.

The scene of the social was the home of Miss Reeder, which was completely transformed to meet with the dreams of boys and girls of fairy land and Santa Claus. The soft glow of colored lights revealed to the guests beautiful reception rooms table set for a perfect meal and a christmas tree just ready to fill their hearts with joy. On the completion of each course, of the three course christmas dinner, couples were forced, by some enticing, amusing, new feature, to change partners. Following the dinner and the reception of the gifts, a contest was held and games of Bridge were played.

Young men present for this occasion were Messers Reeder Smith, T. B. Dean, Otis F. Martin, Ancel Waldrip, Lonnie Casale and Buford Cox.

Words are insufficient to reveal the beauty of this party and the pleasure of the evening for all the guests.

CAR OWNERS URGED TO PAY CAR TAXES IN HOME COUNTIES

Car vehicle owners residing in Knox county are urged to register their cars for 1932 in their home county.

METHODIST MINUTES

Our attendance last Sunday was a surprise to the pastor and a glad one. We had a fine interest in all departments. We hope that if you are not in Sunday School some where that you will come to ours. We will do our best to give you something that will help you in your every day life. I want it to be the aim of every teacher in the Sunday School to be prepared to help the ones in their classes in their everyday life.

There were a number I am sure that expected to help with the offering to the Orphans and you did not get to come and you are still willing to help so drop it in one of the boxes that you will find at several of the business houses or give it to me anytime that you can in the next few days. I want us to make our offering to this cause one that we will not be ashamed of when we come to face all our deeds.

Come to the services next Sunday and lets have a great day in worship.
Jim H. Sharp, Pastor Methodist Church

Mrs. Della Short and daughter Addie will leave Wednesday for Brownwood where they will visit Mrs.
Short's brother.

ver and Mary Lee Hackford.

Following are the best themes written by the third fourth and fifth grade pupils. Read them and learn what the children can do.

FIRE PREVENTION (By Paul Hoge)

In this country every year, many dollars and million dollars worth of property are destroyed by fire.

Many of these fires are caused by carelessness. There are many ways that we can prevent fires. Being careful with matches, gas line, coal oil, and fire works are some ways you can help your town and community. If your house has an attic you should look at it and see if there is any rubbish in it.
If there is, clean it out. Look in other places too, such as cellars, barns and smoke houses. When you have cleaned these, your house and its surroundings will not be in so much danger of fire. Keep your fuel in a safe place. Do not carry matches with you. When you are camping, you should see that the fire is out.
When you are camping on a windy day, you should dig a ditch to put your fire in. When your house catches fire, you should telephone the fire department at once.

FIRE PREVENTION (By Junior Montandon)

Unnecessary fires that are sometimes in big buildings could be prevented by keeping matches away from rats, or keep them off the floor so that nobody would step on them.

If you are starting a fire do not throw kerosene on a burning blaze, because the blaze might go up the stove pipe and set the house on fire and burn up every thing in it. The fire back might not get there in time if it is a long way out in the country.

FIRE PREVENTION (By Georgia Mae Stubbs)

In this week in the study of fire prevention I think we should stay each way fires are caused. We should learn their prevention.

There are fires from cigarettes carelessly thrown in trash, in the forests, in ripe grain fields, in dry pastures, causing millions of dollars damage each year.

Then draperies hung near stoves cause many houses to burn. As well as careless use of kerosene in starting in kerosenestoves.

The merchants and business men of Knox City take this opportunity to extend their greetings to you; thanking you for the favors you have bestowed upon them in the past. A community, bound together in the spirit of Christmas as we are, cannot help but enjoy a prosperous and happy New Year.

Progressive Weekend Party

Members of the younger set of Knox City enjoyed a progressive weekend party last Friday and Saturday. The following people went to the Texas Theatre Friday night where they saw "Ex-Lad Boy". Mrs. A. B. Reese and Mrs. J. H. Inley spent Wednesday and Thursday with relatives in Guthrie. Mr. and Mrs. George Rayburn and Mrs. George Rayburn are here for the holidays. Mr. Fisher returned to his home in Brownfield, being dismissed last week from the Hospital. Special, very special, low electric prices. See Ashcroft.

The guests again fled into the dining room and were served charlotte, mince pie, cake, nuts, and several other delicacies. Another mad scramble followed in deciding whether the party should adjourn. The girls going to the home of Miss Jacqueline Jones and Hazel Potter. The party adjourned at about eleven o'clock, someone suggested that we go "sereading" but such unimportant details as flats, no gas, no oil, etc. were sufficiently entertaining. The crowd dispersed hoping that some more Home Ec. 3 girls decided to give a progressive weekend party for a project.

For desert, Dorsey Jones prepared a plum pie topped with whipped cream and coffee. The dinner was delicious and Hazel Jones was the cook.

"O LITTLE TOWN OF BETHLEHEM"

By Phillips Brooks

O little town of Bethlehem, How still we see thee lie!
 Above thy deep and dreamless sleep The silent stars go by;
 Yet in thy dark streets shineth
 The everlasting Light;
 The hope and fears of all the years Are met in thee to-night.

For Christ is born of Mary,
 And, gathered all above, While mortals sleep, the angels keep Their watch of wondering love, O morning stars, together Proclaim the holy birth!
 And praises sing to God the King, And peace to men on earth.

When BABIES are Upset

BABY ills and ailments seem twice as serious at night. A sudden cry may mean colic. Or a sudden attack of diarrhea. How would you meet this emergency—tonight? Have you a bottle of Castoria ready?

For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep the old, reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an everyday aid. Its gentle influence will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. It's mild reputation will help an older child whose bowels are coated because of sluggish bowels. All druggists have Castoria.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. This pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria have him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drug store; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.
