MRS. E. E. TEAFF BURIED MONDAY

Funeral service was conducted from the O'Brien Methodist church Monday afternoon for Mrs. E. E. Teaff and burial was made in the O'Brien cemetery.

Mrs. Teaff passed to her reward October 4, 1936 after several months of severe illness. Her casket was lanked with a mount of flowers and a tremendous crowd of relatives and friends attended the service. The church was filled to capacity and crowds of men stood about the doors anxious for a glance or a word of the last service in her honor whose useful life meant so much to the home, the church, school and community.

Ollie H. Dupreey was born March 12, 1892 in Hamilton, Texas. March 29, 1915 she was married to Earnest E. Teaff to which union five children were born. One child passed in infancy and four children, with the father, survive. Others who survive are her mother, three brothers, two sisters and a host of more distant relatives.

Mrs. Teaff was a member of the Methodist church and had been so since early girlhood. She took an active part in church work, was a vital part of the school life of her children, was a devoted and revered wife and mother, and friend to all who knew her. She was, in fact, a very fine and capable woman.

Funeral service was conducted by Reverend Woodrow Adcock, O'Brien pastor, assisted by Reverend T. F. Johnson of Rochester, former O'Brien pastor, Reverend Shade Stevenson of Munday and Reverend B. J. Osborn of Knox City. Special music was given by a male quartet composed of Press Hitchcock, E. C. Westerman, C. E. Bird and S. N. Reed, with Mrs. G. T. Hardberger accompanist.

Reverend Osborn led the prayer and Reverend Stevenson read the scripture, a portion of which was the 53 Psalm. Reverend Johnson gave the history and Reverend Adcock delivered a beautiful message the keynote of which was "she lived not in vain for she has gone to a place of rejoicing, of immortality".

pall bearers were G. W. Brown, Ford Waldrip, Curtis Coats, Lloyd Waldrip, J. P. West, M. H. Wood and Ed Shaver. Flower girls were Miss Cora Westerman and Mesdames Lloyd Waldrip, Fred Moody, J. P. West, O. S. Johnson, R. P. Barnard, G. W. Brown, Curtis Coats and Flora Bailey.

Out-of-town relatives and friends who attended the service were Mrs. Pearl Hardberger of Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Lanier of Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. Limmul Teaff of Snyder, Mrs. Hawkins of Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Wren Cousins and children of Jones county, Judge and Mrs. Conner, Mr. and Mrs. Bischofhausen Mrs. H. C. Wyche of Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Hunter of Merkel.

BENJAMIN BOY GETS LOAD OF BIRD SHOTS

"Pooch" Jackson of Benjamin returned from dove hunting last Saturday afternoon with himself filled with bird shots. He was accompanied by Rip Collins. Upon seeing a bunch of birds fly up, Rip "let teh mhave it" Pooch got the most of it. It seems that Rip failed to know the whereabouts of Pooch at the instant and Pooch happened to be in the neighborhood of the doves.

Shots were extracted from Collin's face, head and limbs by local physicians and he left for home with a langed head. He is in no danger.

Missionary Society of the Methodist church met Monday in the home of Mrs. L. N. Bridges in the first lesson of the home study book "The American Negro" under the supervision of Mrs. C. E. Ball. This study is one which each member of the church may profit by and those present Monday urge others to meet with them next Monday in the home of Mrs. C. C. Hoge at three o'clock.

Denis White of Stephenville, who is in Denver taking a medical course, was operated on for appendicitis last week. He is doing fine. Dennis has many relatives in Knox City.

Prayer Meeting, Wednesday 7:30

This Conference year is nearing the close. Just four more Sundays. May we not have full attendance each of these Sundays? Let each member make a special effort to be present, and get some one else to come. Our relation as pastor and people have been pleasant. The Annual Conference meets November 4. It may sever our relation at that time, we can never tell. So let us all be present at the remaining services, and enjoy our present relation together in the name of our Lord. Each and every member will be expected to do his part in helping us to make a 100 per cent report, which is our great desire. May we depend on you?

Let us meet at the Methodist church next Sunday morning, on time, 9:45 a. m.

Yours in His service,

B. J. Osborn, Pastor.

DO YOU FAVOR "ADVERTISING AND SELLING" "TEXAS OF TOMORROW"?

The Texas Press Educational Bureau of the Texas Press Association is mailing out this week an important questionnaire concerning future "Advertising and selling" plans for "Texas of Tomorrow" following the close of Centennial year.

For some months the Texas Press Educational Bureau has been going into this matter very thoroughly with the hope that definite plans will be created and put into effect for an extensive publicity and advertising campaign throughout the nation as a follow-up of the great activity brought about by the Texas Centennial Celebrations during the year.

The purpose of the questionnaire being sent out is to get the reaction and recommendations from a cross section of Texas in the matter. If the returns are favorable, then the Bureau will co-operate fully in a campaign to secure the necessary funds.

Just as soon as the questionnaires have been filled out and returned, the Texas Press Educational Bureau will call a meeting of its committee at Austin to canvass the returns and make future plans according to information and inspiration shown in the questionnaires.

The mailing list of the questionnaire includes every newspaper and periodical and every Chamber of Commerce in Texas—including the Board of Directors of the three Regional Chambers, all members of the Texas Centennial executive groups, all members of both houses of the Legislature, all state officials and many prominent business and professional executives of Texas.

The personnel of the Texas Press Educational Bureau having this work in charge consists of:

Lowry Martin, chairman, Corsicana; Sam P. Harben, secretary, Dallas; H. H. Jackson, Coleman; Louis C. Elbert, Galveston; R. J. Edwards, Denton; Ben F. H. I. Messer and Miss Therma Eaton, both of Quanah, were united in marriage Friday September 29. Irman moved to Quanah only this fall, being formerly employed by A. J. Malouf. Upon moving to Quanah Irman opened a Variety Store for himself. His many friends in Knox City send him congratulations and best wishes.

Carl Howard from the plains, formerly of Knox City, had an accident while working at the gin the first of this week. His hand was caught in the machinery and Lubbock physicians found it necessary to amputate the arm above the elbow.

DENTON, Oct. 7. Three Knox County girls have enrolled in Texas State College for Women (CIA) for the fall semester of the 1936-1937 session. In the total registration of 2265 students, 216 Texas counties are represented, 29 states, and three foreign countries.

Students from Knox County include Misses May Belle Stevenson, Mrs. Evelyn Warren, Knox City; Virginia Bess Atkeson, Munday.

Mrs. A. B. Reese returned home last week from South Texas where she was called in the illness and death of her father. She was there two weeks or longer.

20 KNOX CITY BOYS JOIN CCC

According to reports received this week some twenty boys from Knox City have enrolled for the CCC, a number of whom have already been called. Quote for Knox county was 65 and by Monday 60 applicants had been made. Those from Knox City enrolling were Bunt Lowrey, Leroy Frather, Carl Holand, Robert Lee Lewis, Burlon Denton, Leon Kennedy, Speck McNulty, Ira Russell, Hugh Barr, James Gideon, Ike Simmons Jr. Howell Land, Conney Gray, J. P. Clark Hurl Combs, Orval Snow Rusty Waddkins, Joe Parker and a Busby boy. Hurl Combs has been in Knox City only some four weeks, coming here from Kentucky to see David S. Taylor family. He entered as a Knox County boy, however, using the postbank as depository for his monthly funds.

STREET SWEEPING IMPROVEMENT

It is noticeable this week that less dirt and trash are seen in the business block than formerly. Business men have joined forces and arranged to have the street swept each morning and the dirt and trash hauled off. This improvement is an aid to keeping the stores and merchandise clean.

It is also suggested that each merchant sweep off his sidewalk each night before closing time and the dirt will be swept up early next morning and carried off. As it is some business men wait until morning to sweep off the sidewalk and by that time, the man sweeping the street is through.

CARD OF THANKS

To those friends who so faithfully ministered in different ways during the illness and home going of our mother and wife, may we take this method of saying "we thank you." To those who sat up nights or day to watch and work, to all who sent flowers, and who sent prepared dishes; to those who helped in the song service or any way for the funeral service, in return may we help you in time of sorrow.

E. E. Teaff and children

Contrary to original plans, the club meets next in the home of Mrs. H. L. White.

Reverend and Mrs. B. J. Osborn returned home Saturday from a trip to Dallas and Waco. Brother Osborn was called to Waco to attend the general Board meeting of the Methodist Orphanage. At the business session of this meeting Mr. Hubert Johnson was elected general manager of the Orphanage.

Wednesday Brother Orsborn returned to Dallas and with Mrs. Orsborn and her sister and husband attended the Centennial.

Mrs. O. L. Jamison entertained three tables at Bridge Friday afternoon October second honoring her sister Mrs. Byron Gist from Amarillo. Following the games a most delicious refreshment plate of congealed asiad, sandwiches, pickles, cookies and coffee were served.

PUR BANKER BURIED WED.

Funeral rites were conducted in Spur, Texas, Wednesday for Walter B. Lee, 56 banker of that city and former banker of Knox City.

Mr. Lee was accidentally shot Tuesday morning when dove hunting. It is believed his gun discharged while he attempted to remove a shell that had jammed. He is survived by his wife, three sons, two daughters and two brothers.

Mr. Lee began his banking career in 1906 in the First National Bank in Knox City. He went from here to Rochester then to Spur. He was very active in civic affairs. Was active member of the Church of Christ, friend and trustee of Abilene Christian College and member of the Masonic Lodge. He was widely known for his interest in diversified farming and gave much interest to the project of financing the boys and girls 4-H clubs. His death is a distinct loss to a wide area of West Texas and hosts of Spur and West Texas Citizens gathered yesterday at 2 p. m. as last rites were held for the 56 year old banker, farmer and civic leader.

SUNSET SCHOOL REOPENS MONDAY

Sunset school will start its regular session on Monday October 19. This action was taken in view of the very unfavorable weather conditions that has prevailed during the past four weeks, then too quite a number of children would be forced to stay out of school if the school were in session at the present time.

During the holidays a new water system has been installed which will deliver about 600 gallons per hour, this water system will operate under the pressure system, the working pressure to be 45 pounds per square inch. Under this pressure and capacity all points of the distribution system will be amply supplied with water at all times.

We have had about 13.5 inches of rain since the end of the dry spell, and the cotton farmers have from 30 to 50 per cent in quality and in many instances quantity on their crops. While the wheat farmer is highly elated over the amount of rain that has fallen.

MAKE A DATE FOR YOURSELF

Do you think you can spare an hour or two between now and October 10th in the interest of saving your property from destruction—and perhaps saving your loved ones and yourself from horrible deaths?

If you can, make a date with yourself now to take advantage of Fire Prevention Week, which is now being observed.

Remember that repairs to electrical apparatus, heating plants, etc., require special knowledge and should be made by a qualified expert.

Remember the date. You can spare a few hours that will serve to make your home safe from fire—and you'll sleep better nights when the job is done.

TAXES MORE THAN WAGES

What effect have taxes on the welfare of the workingman and the person who has saved and invested a few dollars? An answer to that oft-asked question is found in some statistics recently released by the National Association of Manufacturers.

A survey of 694 representative companies in the 25 leading industries produced the astounding fact that every time these enterprises pay out a dollar for wages they likewise pay out $1.34 in taxes.

And every time they pay out a dollar in dividends, they pay $1.42 in taxes.

In other words, if these companies were tax-free, they could more than double their wage and dividend payments.

No private industry can be tax-free. It costs money to pay for legitimate governmental functions. But when any unit of government unnecessarily expands its activities, the financial burden falls on every man who labors and every person who has saved. It hampers industry, delays progress and is a barrier to the employment of more labor.

It is most discouraging for any business to pay more in taxes than it does in wages and dividends! Think that over next time you wonder why you don't get better dividends, a raise in salary—or a job.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Long of Quanah spent the weekend here with her sister Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Blodson. Sunday the two families visited other relatives in Wehnert.

PUBLIC HEALTH NEGLECTED

"During October state-wide attention will be called to two important matters. One is Fire Prevention, which will be emphasized the week of October 4 to 11, and the other will be Public Health, to be stressed the following week.

"Already attention has been called to Fire Prevention week and to the type of program that will be followed. Due to the work that has been done along this line and the results achieved, the idea that fire prevention pays good dividends is pretty generally sold.

"But there is room for much work in selling the idea that public health should be of profound interest to every resident of Texas that disease must be controlled as nearly as possible if the individual and the home is to be protected.

"One of the points for residents of Texas to consider is that the state is niggardly in its expenditures to protect health of her citizens, in comparison to what she spends for the protection of the livestock industry, for example.

"Through the Livestock Sanitary Commission, the State Agricultural Commission the United States department of Agriculture and other agencies, such as the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, a much greater amount of money is spent annually in Texas for the protection of the livestock industry than is spent for the protection of the citizenship of the state.

"Science has demonstrated that many diseases that take a heavy toll of treasure and life may be eliminated if proper steps are taken. In Texas some work along these lines is being done, but nothing like what should be and the livestock industry be protected, but there is neither rhyme nor reason on protecting cattle from the fever tick, of example, and not make at least as great an effort to protect the owners of the cattle from malaria.

"Texas does not have an enviable record, as far as death losses from preventable diseases is concerned. This is due in large measure, to the lack of work that is done to protect her citizens. One of the objectives of Health Week should be a New Deal that would seek at least a great measure of protection from disease for men, women and children, as is given the beasts of the field."

SCARLET FEVER

Austin, October 7, Scarlet fever is prevalent in many parts of the State, according to reports sent in to the State Department of Health.

"The most effective means of preventing the spread of scarlet fever rests with the parents," Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, said. "In the majority of cases the infective agent which causes scarlet fever is transmitter in the discharges from the nose and throat."

"Contagion most usually occurs by direct contact through droplet infection" by the patient. No one should be unnecessarily exposed to scarlet fever. You can protect the others in your family if you are careful.

"Scarlet fever is one of the most serious of children's diseases because of the damage it so often does to the heart, the kidneys, and the liver. If parents could be taught to realize that the after effect of most so-called children's diseases often is more serious than the original illness, greater care would be taken to protect children from catching each other's diseases.

"Early signs of scarlet fever are sore-throat, restlessness, chills, and vomiting. The child has fever and his skin is dry and hot. These early signs are followed in a day or two by a rash. At the first sign of illness, put the child in a room by himself and do not allow others to come near him. Call your family physician and follow his instructions as to food, clothing, and general care.

"The physician is required by law to report the case to the health department. Do your part by following the quarantine instructions which he has offered will give you."

THE CENTENNIAL TRIP

The proposed Centennial trip to Dallas is of great interest to all the students and patrons of the Knox City Schools. It is very desirable that the students who are able make the trip, for it has great educational value.

Perhaps the objection of cost will be varied, but it seems as if every parent of a Knox City school pupil could supply enough money to answer the needs of such a trip. The railroad and Centennial Commission have arranged rates which are within the reach of anybody.

There are many points of interest which should be seen by all the visitors to the Centennial. It has been said that one day in the Exposition is worth a week in the classroom.

Especially does the material on Texas History have significance to the student. Since every student in the public school studies Texas History at least once, this romantic and fascinating subject should seem more vivid and absorbing than ever.

It is to be hoped that this educational advantage will be enjoyed by every school child in the Knox City Independent District.

I have made a new and very extraordinary discovery. A "clock runner back". Not a bad job, is it Marilyn? Anyway it was only 10:25 and you were tired, I know. (Oh Yeah!)

There seems to be a rumor that the High School band is going places this year. They are going to Munday October 19 and show them how music is played. "Lookout, Moguls, here we come!"

Somehow or another, Annalu couldn't get her vocal cords adjusted Friday at chapel. The result was a charming run of the scale from low g to high g. No slams intended. Annalu, you ran that scale perfectly.

Sunday night seemed to have left Wynette in a pretty bad shape. Where are all right in their places, but not on Sunday night, eh Wynette?

While Snooping around, I was greatly shocked to find "Luke" seriously ill. All the school join me in hoping that Louise recovers soon, and is back with all the bunch that miss her. "Hurry up, Luke, we're waiting for you!"

BUT OIL-PLATING LASTS...

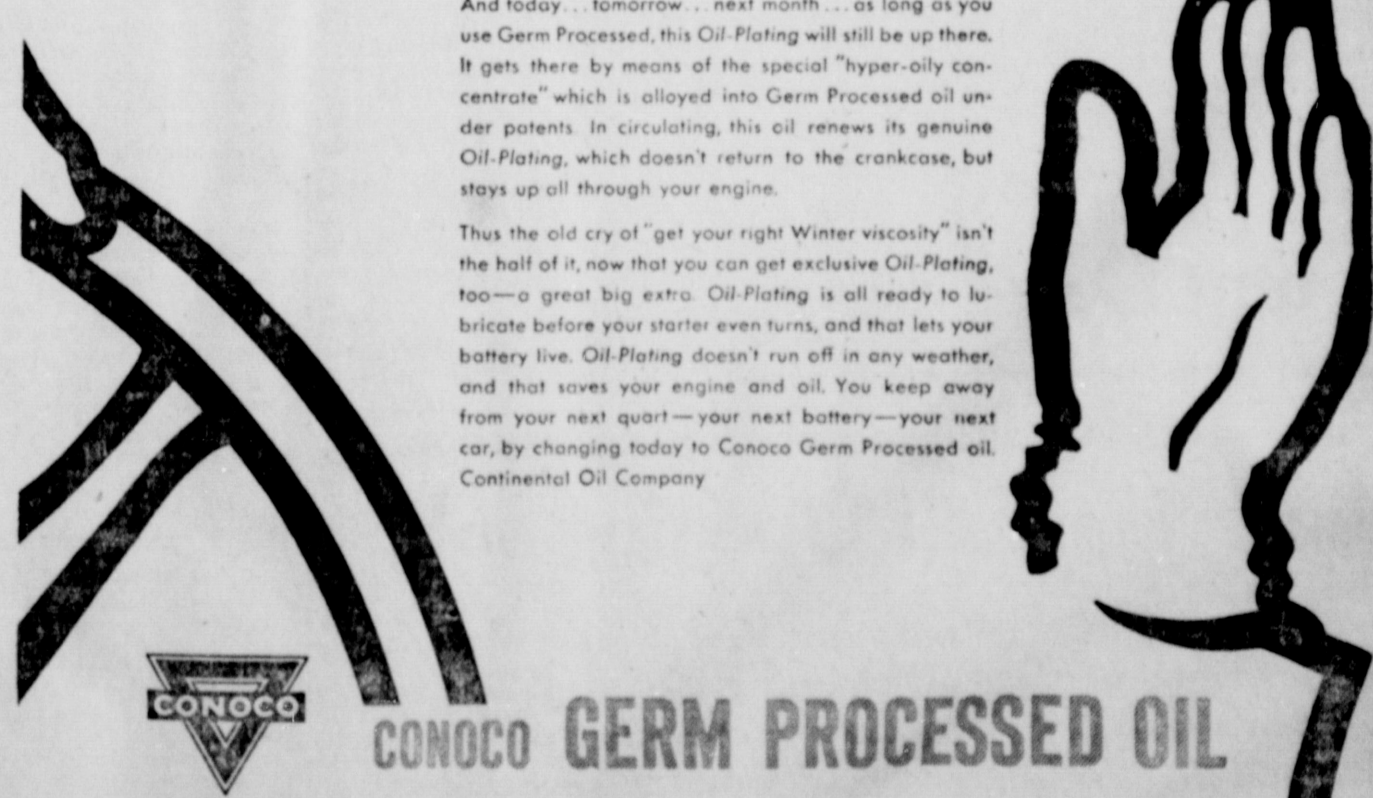

Change today

Right you are. The weather hasn't made up its mind yet. But you don't care, once Conoco Germ Processed oil—patented—is Oil-Plating your engine for Winter.

Change to modern Oil-Plating today, for instance. Then every cylinder, piston, bearing and other part is completely Oil-Plated.

And today... tomorrow... next month... as long as you use Germ Processed, this Oil-Plating will still be up there. It gets there by means of the special "hyper-oily concentrate" which is alloyed into Germ Processed oil under patents in circulation, this oil renews its genuine Oil-Plating, which doesn't return to the crankcase, but stays up all through your engine.

Thus the old cry of "get your right Winter viscosity" isn't the half of it, now that you can get exclusive Oil-Plating, too—a great big extra. Oil-Plating is all ready to lubricate before your starter even turns, and that lets your battery live. Oil-Plating doesn't run off in any weather, and that saves your engine and oil. You keep away from your next quart—your next battery—your next car, by changing today to Conoco Germ Processed oil. Continental Oil Company

FROM PAPER TO PAINT

These plain wall-paper in the kitchen was too hard to keep clean. Mrs. O. L. Patterson, president and Benjamin cooperater in the Benjamin H. C. has removed this paper and painted the walls with a washable paint that is easily cleaned and kept clean. This north room was painted a soft toned peach with woodwork and cottage curtains well blended. A great deal of natural light is reflected and makes this room one of the most pleasant in the home.

SAVE MY STOVE!!!!

"Take my clothes or most anything else in my home", said Mrs. Wallace Harbert, cooperater in the Benjamin H. C., "but leave me my new stove". After working and saving for a long time, Mrs. Harbert has bought a good cook stove. She realizes now how much better her baking and cooking are, whereas before she was never sure of a perfect finished product. Mrs. Harbert remembered that in selecting a range, regardless of type, it is a long time investment and therefore she did not begrudge the price of the good material, design or construction. It means money saved in the end.

Laughing Around the World

With IRVIN S. COBB

A Fifty-Fifty Proposition

By IRVIN S. COBB

THE original of Peter Dunne's immortal character, "Mr. Dooley," kept a saloon in Chicago much frequented by newspaper men. One evening as he perched behind his bar in friendly conversation with two of his regular patrons there entered a so-called journalist whose reputation as a ready borrower and a poor payer was more than city wide.

"Uncle John," he said briskly, "I'm detailed to an out of town assignment and I'm a little short of cash. Slip me a ten-spot, will you? I'll hand it back to you sure on pay night along with the rest of the small loans I had off of you lately."

The old man's face gave no sign of his real feelings. He extracted from the till a bill and without a word passed it across the bar to the promising man.

The latter, murmuring his thanks, started to cram it in his pocket but took a second glance at the greenback.

"Hold on here, Uncle John," he said. "I needed ten bones and this bill is only a five."

"That's all right me son," said Uncle John; "it makes the thing come out even."

"What do you mean, makes the thing come out even?"

"Why, five I lose and five you lose," said Uncle John.

TEXAS HALL OF STATE

Classical magnificence characterizes the Hall of State now open to the public at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas.

Towering aloft from an eminence at the head of the beautifully landscaped Esplanade, it challenges a world of modern architectural confusion with its dignity and restraint.

Its beauty outside is that of plain white surfaces and ascending columns against the burning blue of the Texas sky. Within, it shows rich blood color, so simply presented that it never seems ornate.

Pre-eminently designed to enshrine the heroes of the Lone Star state, it holds a thrilling concentration of Texas life. Its art and exhibits cover the entire period of transformation from pioneer chaos to agricultural and industrial security.

Not only have its builders drawn heavily upon the resources of Texas and the United States to produce it. But they have gone across the seas for lovely marbles and woods with which to enhance it.

Glimpsed first from the main entrance to the grounds, it is seen through a flowering garden vista behind sprays of leaping water. By day its creamy masses gleam in brilliant sun. At night it is silhouetted in ethereal beauty against a spreading fan of lights reaching to the sky.

The immediate foreground of the stately building is a formal landscaped promenade three hundred and fifty feet wide and one hundred feet deep, terraced in wide curves across the face of the huge edifice. Broad steps of Indiana limestone lead up to the level admitting to the main portico.

The facade is a symphony in white, gold and blue. The front of the building and the long stretch of colonades are broken by the taller central mass. There, a deep niche has been formed by a semicircle of white columns posed against deep blue tile. On a dais twenty feet above the doors stands a heroic statue in gold leaf over bronze of a warrior of the Texas tribe, from which Texas gets its name. The statue is the work of Allie Tennant, Dallas sculptor.

The floor of the niche is of creberchard stone quarried in Tennessee. Five plate glass doors framed in bronze lead into the foyer of the Hall of Heroes.

Fashioned of Texas limestone with cut and walled with granite, another limestone of the state inside, the building is made basically of native materials. But it is richly embellished with metals and marbles from other lands. Nowhere is this more apparent than in the Hall of Heroes.

The floor of the Hall of Heroes end of the five front entrances are of peach-colored Tennessee marble, with borders of St. Auburn's red marble from Vermont. Small inlaid squares in the floor are red Levanto marble, also from Vermont. The wainscot of the Hall and the walls of the stairway leading to the lecture room below are of Rosetta marble from Italy. Over the doors are horizontal panels of multi-colored marble quarried in Languedoc, France.

Heroic statues of six great Texans dominate the sweeping curve of the Hall of Heroes. Designed by Poppeo opplini, Texas sculptor, and cast in dark bronze, they stand at spaced intervals about the majestic room.

As you enter it, Stephen F. Austin the Father of Texas, looks down from his pedestal on the left and Sam Houston, the Saviour of the Lone Star state, may be seen to the right.

Further to the left are Mirabeau Lamar and the rest are Thomas J. Rusk and William Barrett Travis. Set in the walls are bronze memorial tablets commemorating the heroes of the Alamo and San Jacinto.

The great Hall of State in the center of the building, is a fifty acre reflecting the magnificence of a people. Almost a hundred feet long and more than half that wide, with its great gold medallion at the far end upholding the Lone Star in brilliant relief, it lifts the heart with its entrancing beauty.

Texas shellstone columns give the huge room a note of ruggedness, and large chandeliers of gold and crystal suspended from the distant ceiling accent its loveliness. Dark marbles from the Pprens Mountains, symbolizing the struggle of elemental and social forces in the commonwealth, line its walls.

In four regional rooms that serve as two wings extending backward from the central mass, are depicted not only the history of Texas, but also the life of the people. This pageant is told in four major scenes, grouped into four geographical areas of the state.

In the West Texas room may be read the history of Spanish and French colonization from 1492 to 1820. The East Texas room shows the Americanization of Texas from the period beginning in 1820 and extending to 1835. The North Texas room begins with San Jacinto and leaves off at Appomattox.

The South Texas room brings the student of Texas from the Civil War to the turn of the present century.

The very walls of these rooms reflect Texas atmosphere. On them in relief are the cattle brands of many ranches that sent their herds from the Llano Estacado to the markets at the Middle West and East. Throughout the building are inspiring relics and documents.

There may be seen the first hurriedly version of the Declaration of Independence from Mexico. Old Spanish grants are on display, and yellowed maps from France which first outlined the coasts and rivers of the state. Arms to fight with and ploughs to work with are there.

And in tall glass cases lining the walls are home things. Silken gowns that ladies of long ago wore to church and to the ball. Heavy silver used daily on the tables of Austin and Houston. Baby shoes. Belts clutched by childish hands a hundred years in the past.

Mere words cannot describe how tenderly these relics of pioneer motherhood and childhood touch the heart.
