And Here's Hoping for a Better Year — By Albert T. Reid

School Opened With Enrollment Of 331

Opening Exercise Well attended

Monday morning August the 29th the Knox City School opened with an enrollment of 331 children. Of this number 102 were high school pupils and the remaining 229 were in the first seven grades. Superintendent Cloud stated that probably six or eight more high school students would enroll during this week with an increase over that number to enroll in the remaining grades of school.

Opening Exercise

The opening exercise was held in the main auditorium at nine o'clock Monday. In addition to the 331 pupils, the 14 teachers and members of the school board, some fifty or more patrons were also present. Reverend J. H. Sharp led the large crowd in prayer following the group singing of America. Brother Sharp also gave the devotional choosing as his text a few verses from the 14 chapter of the Gospel of Mark.

Reverend C. B. Stovall made the main address of the morning. His subject "the three tests of manhood" was well treated and in such a manner as to be interesting and helpful to the children. It is well to remember Brother Stovall's three tests of manhood, the mental, the moral and the spiritual test.

Parent-Teacher Announcements

Mrs. C. C. Hoge, spokesman for the Parent Teacher Association, made several announcements of interest concerning that organization. Mrs. Hoge urged that the parents attend the meetings of this organization for it is with the aim of seeking and working for the welfare of the child that this organization functions. In fact, "the welfare of the child" is

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank those who have been so kind, both at the voting box and in your discussions about the city, concerning my race for Public Weigher. I appreciate your vote and will make every effort to show my appreciation in giving real service as your public weigher.

the sole purpose of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. Hoge announced that the first meeting of this organization will be a business one on the afternoon of September the 7th immediately after school and at the school building. Every patron of the school is not only invited to attend this meeting, but is also urged to do so.

The Parent-Teacher Association is making plans for three outstanding features of entertainment for the early part of this school year. They are a reception for the teachers, a Halloween carnival and a Parent-Teacher Play.

All the various programs to be given by the Parent-Teacher Association throughout the year are being completed in the near future and will be given as a whole in the Herald. It is hoped that those parents interested in the work will clip these programs and save them for use and reference during the nine months of school.

Teachers Introduced

Superintendent Cloud introduced the entire group of teachers, giving each time for any expression he or she desired to make. Announcements concerning the school hours were made, he outstaring of which was that concerning the beginning of classes each morning. Classes will begin at 8:45 and children arriving at school after that time will be counted tardy. It is important that all children get to school on time.

Class Assembly

At the close of the chapel hour the various classes assembled in their rooms where books were issued and lesson were assigned. According to the figure received from the superintendent on the enrollment of this first day the total for the primary and elementary grades was 229 while that of high school was 102.

Bill and H. K. Paul spent three days the first of this week with their brother Jack in Tishomingo Oklahoma. Bill and H. K. report that the Knox City crops are far better than those in Oklahoma.

Miss Winnie Anderson of O'Brien has as her guests this week Misses Juanita and Virgie Sanders and Mary Fox all of Crowell.

Rain Big Help To Cotton

The cotton production of the Knox City territory is believed to be greatly benefited by the rains which has fallen this week. No doubt the crop will increase, as a result of this rain, enough to pay for the picking of the crop which will mean several thousand dollars. Since the greater part of the crop is expected to be picked by local hands, there will be a good increase in the wages paid to local men, women and children of this territory during the coming months.

The rain of the week, which began Tuesday evening about six o'clock and is still falling this, Thursday morning, has been a slow but steady rain, breaking for a few hours at various times during the one day and two nights. While it is not so good on the maize crop that has been headed and piled in the fields, it will do no real damage if we can be fortunate enough that the clouds will clear away and let the sun come through West Texas old timers prophesy the later and it is with enthusiasm that we look for fine, clear days now.

This rain is ideal for wheat sowing. Quite a few farmers have their soil ready for wheat sowing and are happy in their good fortune of the rain.

Still we say Knox County is the garden spot of Texas.

NEW CITIZENS

Local physicians report four new citizens in Knox City this and last week. They are a girl in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Parker on the 28th, a boy in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Foy Carmen on the 26th and a girl in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wier on the 23rd.

The fourth and last arrival in Knox City was Rolland Ray to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Willis on Sunday morning August the 29th. The mother and son are in the local hospital doing nicely and according to physicians, Ray will live over it.

Malouf Moving To Larger Bldg.

Mr. A. J. Malouf, owner and manager of the Malouf Dry Goods Company, has purchased the Clontz-Frizzell and Frizzell building, former location of Bryant-Link Company, and will move his store into the larger building next week. Mr. Malouf sold his building to the owners of the building he bought.

Tuesday Mr. Malouf was overseeing the workmen as they were tearing down the balcony in his new building and making ready for occupation of the building. Mr. Malouf stated Tuesday that he expected to begin moving his stock to his new location next Monday, and to be ready for business by Saturday the 10th.

THE CHILD AT SCHOOL

With the opening of another school year, the problem of encouraging the child to make the most of the opportunities which the school offers again presents itself. It is a problem in which parents as well as teachers should take a keen interest.

Perhaps the most important objective to be sought is to awaken in the child a real desire for knowledge. It should be pointed out that it is possible to derive enjoyment from the pursuit of school studies if one approaches them with a genuine ambition to learn. The child should not be led to feel that going to school is an unpleasant duty. He should be impressed with the fact that it is a privilege to be appreciated, not only as a preparation for after life, but as a means of present happiness and satisfaction as well.

Some children appear to realize this without much urging, but others seem to be naturally averse to mental effort, and require patient handling in order to arouse their interest in school work.

Parents should not place the entire responsibility upon the teachers, but should cooperate with them, not only in insisting upon punctual attendance but also in leading the child to adopt a proper attitude toward his studies.

BAROMETER HUMAN SUFFERING

Evangelina Booth says things are getting better. She ought to know. She is the head of the one organization in the world that is closest to human suffering. That is the Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army reaches down to the lowest strata of humanity. It deals with human beings as individuals in trouble. Its officers know better than anyone else when times are hard and when they are easier. So when Miss Booth says that things are getting better, I personally would place more reliance upon her report than on those of all the economists and statisticians in the world. The demand upon the Salvation Army for help are an accurate barometer of human necessities.

THE GOVERNMENT PRINTING RACKET

The United States Government wastes approximately 300,000 pamphlets, documents and bound books over the country every working day.

In the 1931 fiscal year the Printing Office issued almost 2,520,000,000 copies of printed matter. It is now doing still better. In the six months following July 1, 1931, the amount of type set was 129,000,000 ems greater than in the same period the previous year.

This is at a time when taxes of all kinds have jumped, in the face of a lowered national income. The government printing department offers a fertile field for some real and needed economy.

KNOX COUNTY FARMERS VISIT EXPERIMENT STATION

A group of farmers from Knox, including the county agent W. E. Jones and the Vocational Agriculture Teacher of the Knox City school A. G. Guy, spent one day last week at the Spur experiment station.

The purpose of the visit was a study of what is being done to conserve moisture, the effect of soil erosion and losses of water and the types of grain grown as compared with our grain.

The conservation of moisture was a complete project of terraces built over the farm to distribute the surface water over the field and to increase the water holding capacity of the soil. One project of terraces collected water from a water shed one mile away and carried by terraces a distance of six miles over a section of land. In connection with the above work, tests were being carried on to determine the effect of water waste and soil erosion plants.

The plant breeding plats are two numerous to mention but varieties outstanding were Apox, Chilton, Texas Block Hull Kofer, and Sunrise. The Knox City citizens were joined in the morning by Dr. F. L. Thomas, State entomologist, Dr. Horner of the Bureau of Agriculture Washington, and Dr. Deumer, Bureau of Agriculture. These gentlemen gave interesting information concerning insects found on cotton. In the afternoon the party was fortunate in having County Agent Graves join them.

R. E. Dickerson gave some very interesting reports of the work the Station was doing and what he hoped to accomplish in the future and encouraged farmers to call on the Station for help.

Those making the trip to the Spur Station besides W. E. Jones and A. G. Guy were E. O. Jamison, L. W. Graham, W. Smith, B. M. Farmer, H. C. Armstrong, C. W. Armstrong, J. M. Craft, Jack Idle, J. F. Premier, B. L. McFerrin and W. T. Ward. Other visitors there were Drs. Thomas, Harner and Deumer, R. E. Dickerson manager of the Station and B. C. Langley also of the Station.

In the game of life it matters little where you came from, it's WHERE YOU ARE GOING that really counts.

COUNTY MEETS

By Roy Bedichek, Chief, Interscholastic League Bureau, University of Texas

(The following article is one of a series written by Mr. Bedichek on various aspects of the Interscholastic League work in Texas.)

September is a significant month in American life for in this month, generally throughout the entire nation, "school begins." These magic words mobilize the boys and girls on a scale and with a thoroughness unparalleled in the recorded history of past centuries and unknown in any other country of the world today. The American free school is at once the inspiration and the despair of aspiring democracies throughout the world. It is the one distinctively American institution; it is the greatest step as yet made towards the great ideals of "equal opportunities for all and special privileges for none."

Associated in Texas with the work of the public schools, organized by them and largely conducted by public school teachers and officials is the University Interscholastic League. Its organization for the current school year also begins in September. In counties where county teachers institutes are held before the class room work of the schools begins, we usually find a period devoted to the organization of the county league. For many years the constitution and rules of this organization has contained the following paragraph:

"First of all, aim to secure a good live county organization. As the membership of the League increases, emphasis should more and more be placed on county meets, since it is here that the school as a whole receive the most benefits from the league activities."

The county organization is formed on a thoroughly democratic basis. The county executive committee (each member of which has specific duties assigned in connection with the different contests and features of the county meet) is elected by popular vote of the teachers assembled. There is one ex-officio officer in the person of the county superintendent of schools who looks after the interests of the rural schools in the meet. Last year there were 220 of these county organizations formed which means practically every county which contains any schools formed a county league organization.

All of the counties which are thus provided for are directly connected with the work of the schools and so planned that the schools may prepare for them and use them as a stimulus to better endeavor on the part of the pupils without encroaching to any measurable extent upon school time and unduly burdening any teacher with the work of preparation.

The program of the county meet is meant to be broad enough to include the activities and enlist the interest of practically every pupil in the school. If the pupil likes speech making and desires to learn how to address public gatherings, there is a wide variety of contest in this field which he may enter. If he has a gift for spelling, a contest is provided in which he can show his proficiency and develop his ability. There are contests in music and art for the artistically inclined, a contest for the "wizard with figures," and so on.

On the athletic side, there are games to suit every type. There are group games and individual contests. There are games for girls and games for boys, all organized so as to bring up genuine competition, that is "competition with a kick in it" for every school. Of course, it is necessary in order to secure effective competition to make many different divisions and classifications, both of schools and of the pupils themselves but that is too technical a matter to be described herein.

Beginning, then, in September, with the early county institutes, the leagues are formed, all pointing towards the great day of the county meet which occurs in March, usually on Saturdays in order to economize school time. Each school sends its best in the respective events to the county meets, and there under the supervision of the county committee and the individual members thereof, the county championships are determined. It is a great day for the schools and for the school children. It is an "exhibition day in which the interest and attention of the whole community is centered upon the general welfare of the younger generation and upon their accomplishments."

The guests were met at the gate by club members and an entrance fee of 5 cents was collected from all who were not costumed for the occasion. The first interesting event for the guests were fortunes told by a Gypsy fortune teller. Games were played and votes were cast to determine the tackiest man, woman, boy and girl. As the prizes were awarded the winners were required to "do a stunt" and Mr. McMahan caused no little excitement in his jig dance. He is so light on his feet! Mrs. Jess Marshall received the prize for being the tackiest woman and gave a cute reading. Miss Corine Hodges and Nathan Gruben won prizes as the tackiest girl and boy. Their stunt was a vocal duet and excellently given. Following, the young people selected partners for a watermelon feast which was enjoyed by the entire group.

Miss Ruth Short returned to her home in Knox City last Saturday but left again Monday for Arizona to be with her two brothers.

It is encouraging to see many are liking the study of the Bible so much. Some are saying they are getting more out of the Sunday School than they ever did before. We want you to come and bring your Bible next Sunday and let us study the 10th Chapter of the Bible.

Let every one that can attend church and Sunday School. Parents you have started your child to school to give him or her a chance at life and that is right. Education is to help them live the child that goes only to the public school and does not go to Sunday School and church does not have the chance that the boy or girl that goes to both and it has been proved that the one that is sent to church and Sunday School make a better success in life.

We welcome all.

A MAN COMES OUT

The day of Jesus' doubt are set down as forty in number. It is easy to imagine people who knew him and trusted him—an for what? To become a wandering preacher, talking to folks who never heard of him. And what was he to talk about? How with his lack of experience should he find words for his message? Where should he begin? Who would listen? Would they listen? Hadn't he perhaps made a mistake?

Satan, says the narrative, tempted him, saying: "You are hungry; here are stones. Make them into bread." The temptation of material success. It was entirely unnecessary for him to be hungry ever. He had a good trade; he knew well enough that his organizing ability was better than Joseph's. He could build up a far more successful business and acquire comfort and wealth. Why not?

Satan comes in again, according to the narrative, taking him up into a high mountain and showing him the kingdoms of the world. "All these can be yours, if you will only compromise." He could go to Jerusalem and enter the priesthood; that was a sure road to distinction. He could do good in that way, and have the satisfaction of success as well.

Or he might enter the public service, and seek political leadership. There was plenty of discontent to be capitalized, and he knew the farmer and the laborer; he was one of them.

GUILD AWARDS 4 SCHOLARSHIPS

Den Beard and Noted Educators
Attend Climax of Coach-Building Competition

DETROIT, Mich., August 26—One hundred and seven boy craftsmen are en route to their widely-scattered homes today, after nearly a week of festivity at the second annual convention of the Fisher Body Craftsmen's Guild here. The climax of the convention was the announcement of the four winners of $5,000 university scholarships of four years each.

These winners, Frans Ibsch, of Columbus, Wis., Fred Friedrich, of Rochester, N. Y., Raymond Smith, of Lawton, Okla., and Gordon Drummond, of Washington, D. C., had the unusual experience, during the award dinner, of greeting their mothers and sisters, over a nationwide radio broadcast, the man to introduce them to the radio audience being none other than Floyd Gibbons himself.

An official welcome from Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors, messages of congratulation from W. A. Fisher, president of the Guild, and from R. B. McLaughlin, president of the Canadian Guild organization, and an opportunity to meet Dan Beard, "father of the Boy Scouts," also featured the dinner. In tribute to the 82-year-old leader of boys, whose presence distinguished the convention, the entire banquet audience rose and gave loud applause.

The convention program combined education and recreation, giving the boys a chance to shine in fields other than craftsmanship, for a change. They visited the Ford Greenfield Village which houses Thomas Edison's reconstructed shops, the General Motors Proving Ground, and many other spots of special interest. Announcement was made that the Guild's third year would open in September, and all boys between 12 and 20 were invited to enter the competition.

they would listen to him. For forty days and nights the incessant fight went on, but once settled, it was settled forever. In the calm of that wilderness there came the majestic conviction which is the very soul of leadership—the faith that his spirit was linked with the Eternal, that God had sent him into the world to do a work which no one else could do, which if he neglected it—would never be done.

Magnify this temptation scene as greatly as you will, say that God spoke more clearly to Jesus than to any who has ever lived. It is true. But to every man of vision the clear voice speaks; there is no great leadership where there is not a mystic. Nothing splendid has ever been achieved except by those who dared believe that something inside themselves was superior to circumstances. To choose the sure thing is treason to the soul.

If this was not the meaning of the forty days in the wilderness, if Jesus did not have a real temptation which might have ended in his going back to the bench at Nazareth, then the forty days' struggle has no real significance to us. But the temptation was real, and he conquered.

The youth who had been a carpenter stayed in the wilderness, a man came out. Not the full-fledged master, who within the shadow of the cross could cry, "I have overcome the world." He had still much growth to make, much progress in vision and self-confidence. But the beginnings were there. Men who looked upon him from that hour felt the authority of one who has put his spiritual house in order, and knows clearly what he is about.

TO LANDS OF BELIEFS

By Ed Kressy

THE ROCKET PLANE IS READY BOYS—LET'S GET OFF TO SOME MORE INTERESTING PARTS OF THE WORLD AND I'LL TELL YOU OF BELIEFS & CUSTOMS OF THE RACES WE VISIT TODAY.

HERE IN AFRICA IT IS CUSTOMARY TO STICK BRANCHES OF TREES IN THE GROUND WITH BROKEN POTTERY ATTACHED. THE BELIEF IS THAT THIS WILL KEEP THE MOST DETERMINED THIEF FROM CROSSING THE THRESHOLD...

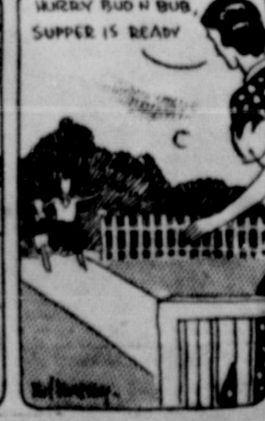

IN SOMOIA THIEVES CAN BE SCARED AWAY BY FIGURES OF LIZARDS, SHARKS ETC. WOVEN FROM COCONUT LEAVES.

HERE IN GERMANY YOU WILL STILL FIND A CUSTOM OF PLACING MONEY IN A HOLE, DUG AT THE FOOT OF A FRUIT TREE BY THE PEASANTS. IT BEING THEIR BELIEF THAT PRAYERS AND THESE GIFTS WILL BRING ABUNDANT CROPS FROM TREES SO FAVORED.

The tenth chapter of Luke is divided into three principal divisions, with many helpful subdivisions. These divisions are: 1. Christ sending out his seventy disciples; 2. The story of the good Samaritan; 3. Christ reprobandeth Martha and commendeth Mary.

The seventy receives a subordinate commission similar to that of the apostles, to preach and cast out devils. Chapter 9:5, 17. Two motives may be discerned in the sending forth of so numerous a body of missionaries. (1) The time before His Passion was not short, and Jesus wished the message of salvation to reach as many as possible. (2) He wished to train his followers to act alone after His departure. Probably the twelve did not accompany the seventy, Jesus kept them with Him for special personal training. The number seventy is significant. It was the number of the Sanhedrin. As Jesus had already set up twelve new patriarchs of the New Israel, so now He establishes a new Sanhedrin. The Jews deducted this number from the seventy elders of Num. 11: 16, 24. The appointment of the seventy took place about the time of the Feast of Tabernacles.

In verse 18, "I beheld Satan", our Lord poetically combats Satan's discomfiture at the successful mission of Seventy, to His original fall from Heaven. Verse 19, "Serpents and scorpions". Victory over spiritual foes is meant rather than immunity from bodily injury. In verse 20, Jesus bids the disciples to rejoice not as they are doing, because they have miraculous power, but rejoice because their names are enrolled as citizens of Heaven, in the Book of Life. In verse 29, "Who is my neighbor?" The lawyer intended to justify himself by showing that ever upon a liberal interpretation "neighbor" he had done his duty. He expected Christ to say that a neighbor was a friend or an Israelite. The idea that a "neighbor" might be a foreigner never occurred to him. The rabbi said, "He excepts all Gentiles when he says his neighbor". In answer, Christ appealed to the man's conscience, not to his reason. If Christ had said, "A heathen is my neighbor", the man would have argued the point with learned subtlety. Instead of this, Jesus told him a story in which a man treated a foreigner as a neighbor, and the lawyer was bound to confess that this in accordance with the mind of God. The traditional allegorical interpretation however is too interesting to be entirely passed over. We give it in the words of Euthymius, "The man is Adam and his offspring, the descendant from Jerusalem to Jerico is the fall. The thieves are the demons that beset our paths and strip us of the garments of virtue and the fear of God, and wound us spiritually, by causing us to sin. Man was made half dead in that he was immortal in the soul but mortal in the body. The priest is the law given by Moses, the Levite is the teaching of the prophets, and the good Samaritan is Christ himself. The Inn is the Church which receives every kind of man. The inn keeper is every ruler of the Church, every bishop and successor of the apostles. And the two pence are the Old and New Testaments, which minister healing to the sick.

Verse 29, "At Jesus' feet". Probably both Martha and Mary were waiting at tables, but whereas Martha occupied herself at offering dish after dish, and so was cumbered with much serving; Mary spent much time sitting at the feet of Jesus and listening to what He was saying, when Martha complained that Mary allowed her to do all the work. Jesus said that He was quite content with a single dish and that both sisters would honor Him more by attending to what He said, than by giving Him an elaborate dinner.
