

PLAZA AMATEUR CONTEST WINNERS TO BROADCAST OVER KRBC, ABILENE

The top raters of the Plaza's Amateur Contest will represent Baird on the 'Know Your West Texas' program over KRBC, Abilene, through arrangements made by Josh Barrett, manager of KRBC, with Billy Morrow, manager of the Plaza.

The winners' pictures will be run in the Abilene Reporter before the broadcast and pictures of different sections of the town will also be printed. Every effort will be made to turn the contest into a booster enterprise for civic betterment of Baird, as the radio program being drawn up by Morrow will include a talk by a prominent professional man in this city to give the highlights of business, social and civic life of the town.

The Plaza extends an invitation to all clubs and departments of the city to compile material to be included in this program, that will depict the purpose and accomplishments of their organizations.

The contest will be held at the theatre on Friday, December 4, and those that wish to enter must come to the theatre Saturday morning, Nov. 28 at 10:00 a. m. to be classified and to be given instructions.

The judges selected for the contest are Gene Heard, program director of KRBC, Wally Akin, manager of the Paramount Theatre, Abilene and Judge B. L. Russell of Baird. They will sit in separate sections of the house and will hand their ballots in immediately after the contest so that the prizes may be awarded the same night.

Baird Students At Home Thanksgiving

Baird students, who are attending college, came home to spend the Thanksgiving holidays are:

Misses Catherine James, Kay McCoy, Polly Rumph, Shelia Jones and Bland Bounds, Texas Tech; Bee Hickman, Daniel Baker; Randall Jackson, Texas University; Ruth Ray Ida Louise Fetterly, North Texas Teachers College; Bobbie Griggs, C. I. A.; Cora Mae Mayes, Edith Lewis Simmons; Mary Jo Hart, A. C. C. Weldon Bryant, Martha Scoggins McMurtry and Clifton Hill, Texas University.

Rupert Jackson Jr., who is teaching in Hamlin high school, is at home for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Supt., Harold Haley of Stanton public school and Mrs. Haley are at home for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Former Resident Of Admiral Died Thurs.

Joe McAdoo, a former resident of Admiral died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ada Butler near Gorman Thursday Nov. 12th. Funeral services were held Friday at the Antioch church and burial made in the cemetery nearby.

Mr. McAdoo is survived by his wife, five daughters and three sons. The daughters are Mrs. Ada Butler, Gorman; Mrs. Cecil Walls, Oklahoma; Mrs. Lee Robinson, Jal. N. M.; Mrs. L. Foster, Ft. Worth; Mrs. Roscoe Surlis, Washington, D. C. The sons are Walter and Virgil McAdoo, Amarillo and Will McAdoo, Abilene. The McAdoo family lived for a number of years at Admiral where many friends will regret to learn of his death.

Wednesday Club

The Wednesday Club will meet December 2 with Mrs. Bessie Short. The following program on Archibald Mac Leish will be given.

- Archibald Mac Leish
- (1) His Life and Works
 - (2) The Hamlet of A. Mac Leish—Mrs. White
- "Conquistador"—Mrs. Blackburn
- Readings:
- (1) 'Not Marble Nor the Gilded Monuments'
 - (2) 'Burying Ground by the Tiles'
 - (3) 'Ars Poetica'
- Mrs. Ivey

Mrs. Waller McBride and Mrs. Joe McBride of Oplin, were in Baird Friday of last week.

Man Hijacked In Box Car At Clyde

John P. Magess, of Oklahoma City was attacked and hijacked by a transient from Durant, Okla., while the two were riding in a freight car early Wednesday morning as the train was going through Clyde.

The Durant man attacked Magess choked him, beat him with a wine bottle, robbed him of his money, and then fled, after the two men, supposedly buddies, had ridden a freight together from Las Cruces, N. M., where they had been picking cotton for a month, according to Magess.

After beating and robbing Magess the man jumped from the moving train and up until noon yesterday Sheriff Edwards and Deputy Nordyke had found no trace of the fugitive.

Mrs. Nancy Hale Of Putnam Succumbs

Funeral for Mrs. Nancy Hale, 80, for many years a resident of Putnam, were held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the Methodist church, with the Rev. G. C. Williams, pastor, officiating. Burial was made in the Putnam cemetery, beside the grave of her husband, James A. Hale, who died in 1909.

Mrs. Hale, who came to Putnam in 1904 and resided there until recently, died Monday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Bob Skinner, in Gustine.

Mrs. Hale was born in Tyler in May, 1856. She was married to James A. Hale, in 1877. They had three children born to them, two of whom survive—Mrs. Skinner of Gustine and Mrs. Jammie Edmondson of El Paso. A brother, Robert Biffle of California, also survives.

Mrs. Hale made her home in Putnam with Y. A. Orr, a son-in-law, since the death of Mrs. Orr, the former Caddie Hale in 1904. Mrs. Orr is also buried at Putnam.

Griggs Hospital News

L. C. Duncan who has been a patient suffering from injuries received when hurt at the R. D. Williams ranch resulting in concussion of the brain was able to leave the hospital Tuesday going to the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Duncan at the Cutbirth ranch near Cross Plains.

Mrs. Rich Goddard of Oplin entered the hospital Tuesday suffering from lobar pneumonia.

Mrs. L. C. Gardner of Eula was a tonsilectomy patient Tuesday.

Miss Vera McCollum who had major surgery two weeks ago was able to be moved to her home at Clyde Tuesday. Miss McCollum is head of the English department in Baird high school.

Bob Beck who suffered a cerebral hemorrhage ten days ago is improving.

Miss Mandie Faye Monroe of Teague was a medical patient Friday and Saturday.

S. E. Thomas of Waco who had major surgery last week was moved to the home of his sister, Mrs. Culpepper.

Louis Autrie, who was injured in a fall from a train in the Railroad yards here was able to be moved from the hospital a few days ago. John Laman was a patient Tuesday for treatment in a car accident.

Mrs. W. B. Griggs and Mrs. Louis Hall, patients for some weeks, continue to improve.

H. W. Ross who has been seriously ill for several days remains in a serious condition.

Mrs. Frank Bearden left Wednesday for Dallas where she will join her mother, Mrs. C. B. Holmes, in a family reunion of her mother, Mrs. Gussie Surlis' family, the other members of the family being Mr. and Mrs. Russell Surlis of Dallas at whose home the reunion will be held beginning on Thanksgiving day, and Mrs. Miller Oliver of Marathon.

Rev. Willis P. Gerhart of Abilene was in Baird Tuesday.

W.T.S.T.C. Band To Give Concert Here Saturday Night

The Wednesday Club is sponsoring a band concert by the West Texas State Teachers College Band of Canyon under the directorship of C. E. Strain, former director of the Baird Firemen's Band.

The concert will be given at the high school auditorium Saturday night, Nov. 28 at 8 o'clock.

An admission of only 10 cents will be charged, the proceeds to be added to the County Library fund.

Mr. Strain lived in Baird for a number of years and under his directorship Baird had one of the best bands we have had.

The Canyon band has been visiting the Centennial and will be enroute home Saturday.

Father's Night Program December 3rd.

All patrons of the Baird public schools are urged to attend the annual Father's Night program on the evening of Thursday Dec. 3 at 7:30 at the high school auditorium.

There is no charge for this opportunity to hear a well-known educator, Dr. R. A. Collins of Hardin-Simmons University, who will speak on "Opportunity for our children in parent education."

Other numbers on the program will include two selections by the high school band and two by the Junior Girls Quartette.

A social hour will conclude the evening's program.

Garden Club

The Garden club will meet Dec. 1 at the court house at 9 a. m. John Dressen of Abilene will lecture on civic work and cultivation of flowers. Everyone is invited to come.

Notice Of C. C. C. Enrollment

There will be another enrollment of boys for the CCC Camps during the month of January, according to information just released by C. J. Sweeney, District Administrator of the Texas Relief Commission, with headquarters at Abilene:

To be able to give the War Department information as to the numbers of boys that will be available, it is requested that all who desire to immediately call at their County Relief or Welfare office and leave their names and addresses. Reports on the number of men available must be sent to Washington on Nov. 30, although applications will be taken until Dec. 21. However, some idea must be had as to just how many will be ready to leave when the time comes. This will possibly be the last opportunity for boys to make application for this training and it is hoped that all who have a desire to attend will lose no time in registering with the least possible delay.

The following Callahan county boys are now serving in the CCC camps some in West Texas and some in California. These boys went into the service in October and all are seemingly well pleased with their work: Eugene J. Northcutt, Vincent M. Woodard and Jack Crawford of Baird; W. Edward Boon, Willie D. Martin, W. Burriss Irvin, Jr., Joshua Wheeler, J. T. Magness, Jr. and Fred J. Coulter of Cross Plains; Gordon I. Purvis, Lannie Earl Lissenbee, Everette J. Barron and Lawrence O. Thompson of Atwell; Clinton L. Ivey Gordon C. Pritchard of Clyde.

Several other Callahan boys are serving in different CCC camps.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Smedley and family and Miss Dolores Ryle visited the Centennial the past week end.

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS EDITION

The Star will issue a special Christmas Shopping edition on December 11th. This will give Baird merchants an opportunity to attract hundreds of additional Christmas Shoppers. Make this the biggest Christmas your store has ever had.

ADVERTISE IN THE STAR

R. P. Patty, Pioneer Resident of Callahan County, Died In Calif.

R. P. Patty, a pioneer resident of Baird died in Los Angeles, Oct. 31st, his death resulting from injuries received in an automobile accident several months before.

Bob Patty, as he was known to his friends, lived in Baird for a number of years. For some years he held a position with T. E. Powell who was engaged in the dry goods business. He had many friends among the pioneers of the county, many of whom are still here and will learn of his passing the divide with sorrow.

Mrs. Patty was the former Mary Elizabeth Lane, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. E. W. Lane, also early day residents of Baird.

A Tribute To The Memory of Robert Pettigrew Patty

It seemeth such a little way to me
Across to that strange country,
The beyond;
And yet, not strange, for it has grown to be
The home of those of whom I am so fond.
And so for me there is no death;
It is but crossing with abated breath,
A little strip of sea,
To find one's loved ones waiting on the shore
More beautiful, more precious than before.

Robert P. Patty was born in Macon, Miss. March 3rd. 1855. He passed into eternal life Oct. 31, 1936 in Los Angeles, California.

Mr. Patty was injured in an automobile accident while visiting in Los Angeles in Nov. 1935 and from that time until his death, was confined to his bed, preventing him from returning to Texas, the home he loved so much. He bore his suffering cheerfully and patiently, trusting in Him, who doeth all things well.

On Nov. 5th. he was laid to rest in Easthill cemetery at Ft. Stockton, Texas, beside a daughter, Margaret Patty Williamson.

Mr. Patty was a pioneer of the old West, having loved to talk of that "Home on the Range," when the West was young.

On October 21st. 1885 he was married to Miss Mary Elizabeth Lane of Baird, Texas. Fifty-one years of companionship was allotted to them.

For years he was engaged in the mercantile business in Big Spring. Since retiring about fifteen years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Patty had made their home in Ft. Stockton.

Robert P. Patty was one of Nature's Noblemen, generous and kind, a true friend, a devoted husband and father.

In early life he became a member of the Methodist church. "The Haven of Rest," the song he loved, was sung at his funeral.

We will meet him again in the morning at Jesus feet and with him will say:

I've anchored my soul in the
"Haven of Rest,"
I'll sail the wide seas no more;
The tempest may sweep o're the wild, stormy deep.
In Jesus I'm safe evermore.
Those who loved him best

District Court Will Adjourn Saturday

District court entered the fourth week of the fall term Monday when the grand jury was again called and after a half day session returned five additional indictments, two each against I. Griffin and Noel Griffin in connection with burglary of the Baird and Putnam gins. Deputies C. R. Nordyke and Bill Ray went to Vernon Wednesday to get the two men. One indictment was for statutory offence. The cases with several others are set for Friday.

In the case of Paul Mitchell vs. E. R. Hornbeck, suit for $35,000 damages result of injuries received by plaintiff the jury rendered a verdict in favor of the defendant.

H. W. ROSS SERIOUSLY ILL

H. W. Ross who has been a patient at the Griggs hospital for the past week suffering from heart complications, remains in a serious condition.

Mark Burnam of Putnam was in Baird Wednesday.

BEARS SHADE CLYDE BULLDOGS 127 IN ANNUAL TURKEY DAY GAME

John C. Crawford, Former Resident of Baird Died In California

John C. Crawford, a former resident of Baird, died at Burlingame, California Nov. 19th and was buried at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Crawford, who passed his 80 birthday Oct. 3rd came to Baird in the late 80's and worked for several years for the late Capt. J. L. Lea, who was then engaged in the grocery business. He was married in 1890 to Mrs. Emma Banks, a sister of G. W. Bawlus, who with a son and daughter Claude Crawford of Oakland and Mrs. Maude Johnson of San Benito, California, survive him. The family moved to California about 30 years ago.

BOX SUPPER AT ROWDEN

The Rowden school wishes to thank the public for its generous contribution that made our box supper quite a success. Through the splendid salesmanship of Messrs. John Miller and C. W. Roberson, the supper netted $24.00. The proceeds will be spent for school ground equipment.

MRS. J. W. LAWLER BURIED AT TECUMSEH FRIDAY

Mrs. J. W. Lawler, a former resident of Tecumseh died at Munday as, Thursday Nov. 19th. and the remains were brought back to Tecumseh cemetery for burial by the side of her husband who died several years ago. The burial services were held at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Willard Pearce of Oplin is a daughter of the deceased. She is also survived by three sons, Ernest, Roy and Estes Lawler of Tahoka.

MISS JENNIE HARRIS IN CHARGE OF OLD-AGE SUB-OFFICE HERE

Miss Jennie Harris who has been employed by the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission since last March, working in the district office at Abilene, is returning to Baird to handle investigations for Callahan county. She will be permanently located at Baird and her services will be available to all the old people of the county at all times. It is contemplated that a sub-office will be opened in Baird under the supervision of Miss Harris, at an early date. The district office, in placing Miss Harris in charge of the sub-office at Baird, felt that due to her experience in the handling of the affairs pertaining to the administering of old age assistance in this district and her long residence in the county, she is particularly fitted to carry on the work of this agency in this locality.

For the present Miss Harris will be found at the court house.

Miss Harris has an apartment in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Jones.

SINGING CONVENTION

The Callahan County Singing Convention will meet in a called session Sunday afternoon, Nov. 29th. at 2 o'clock at Belle Plain.

MASONIC MEETING

Baird Masonic Lodge will meet in regular session Saturday night, Nov. 28th. All members urged to attend. Visitors welcome.

Joe Mc Intosh, W. M.
John Simons, Secretary

BAIRD TEACHERS ATTENDING TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Supt. J. F. Boren, accompanied by Mrs. Boren, Truett M. Smith, Misses Melba Box, Olga L. Trammell, Bessie Pearce, Viola Boatwright, Dorothy Ward and Mrs. Bessie Short left yesterday for Ft. Worth to attend the Annual meeting of the Texas State Teachers' Association.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES

Rev. Willis P. Gerhart of Abilene will hold services at the Episcopal Chapel of the Lord's Prayer Sunday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. All cordially invited to attend the service.

Baird's Bears beat down a fighting Clyde eleven here yesterday 12-7 in their annual Turkey Day classic.

The Bears took the lead early in the first quarter after Chrisman completed a 4 yd. pass from Ashton and galloped 14 yds. for the score. Ashton's kick for the extra point was short. Not to be outdone, the Bulldogs retaliated with a score, Taylor plowing the center of the line that netted him 50 yds. and the touch down. Appleton bucked the line for the extra point. Chrisman completed the day's scoring with an 87 yd. sprint in the second period for his second score. Conversion from placement failed.

The Bulldogs outplayed the Baird boys most of the game but were unable to increase their end of the score.

Best ground gainers for Clyde were Appleton, Jackson and Taylor.

Gorman was outstanding in the Bear line, Chrisman in the backfield.

First downs were 7-6 for Clyde. From scrimmage Baird made only 39yds. to 95 for Clyde. Punt average for Clyde was 37yds. to 29 for the Bears.

Making it their third conference victory in a row the Baird Bears smothered Coach G. H. Jennings' Strawn Greyhounds 13-0 here Friday afternoon and ended their conference season.

It was little Grover Wiley's day throughout. The stocky halfback scored both Bear touchdowns, the first on a 7 yd. off tackle sprint in the second quarter and again in the 4th period on a 4 yd. left end sweep. He crossed the goal both times standing up. Making sure that the Bears wouldn't take the scoring lead early, the officials brought back a 47 yd. broken field run by Doyle Chrisman on the second play of the game. They presented the home boys with a 5 yd. penalty.

The Greyhounds never seriously threatened to score.

First downs were 13 to 9 for Baird. The Bears had an edge in scrimmage gains, 189 yds. to 156 for Strawn. Baird completed 4 passes for 47yds., Strawn one for 18 yds.

Kenney, quarterback, was the spark plug of the Greyhound attack. Captain Rucker, end, was outstanding in the visitors' line.

Ashton and Wiley were the stem-winders in the Bear backfield. Captain Gorman turned in a fine game at end.

Starting line-up for Strawn included Smith and Rucker, ends; Sharp and Richardson, tackles; Walko and Pruitt, guards; Carlyle, center; Kenney, quarterback; Mercer and Zimmicki, half backs and Supina, full.

At a meeting of the district committee at Cisco Monday night, the organization decided Moran should represent division 1 in a championship playoff with Olden.

Moran and Baird finished the division race tied in percentage, Moran having two conference victories and three ties against three wins, one defeat and one tie for Baird. The committee's vote was influenced by the fact that Moran was undefeated and that its team had beaten Baird.

Cubs Win From Putnam

The Baird Grammar School Cubs defeated Putnam's Panther Cats 19-0 at Putnam Wednesday. B. Griggs is awarded the laurels for his excellent playing.

Awards Made In Yard Beautification Contest

The following awards were made in the Yard Beautification Contest: Grand Prize, Mrs. Clyde White, $5.00; 2nd. Grand Prize, Mrs. Harry Ebert, $4.00; Northwest section, Mrs. Earl Hall, $3.00; 2nd prize, Mrs. J. F. Dyer, $2.00; Northeast: 1st. prize, Mrs. Frank Harp, $3.00; 2nd. prize, Mrs. B. L. Russell, Sr., $2.00; Southeast, 1st. prize, Mrs. O. E. Eastham, $3.00; 2nd. prize Mrs. J. H. Hammons, $2.00; Southwest: 1st. prize, Mrs. W. S. Hamlett, $3.00; 2nd prize, Mrs. W. T. Hensley, $2.00; Gulf Filling Station, $1.50.

Mr. and Mrs. Farris Bennett left Saturday for the Davis mountains on a deer hunt.

BRISBANE THIS WEEK

End of the Treaty
Millions for New Farms
Too Many Apologies
The Mirror Monocle

Chancellor Hitler has demolished the remaining fragments of the Versailles treaty, notifying the great powers that they may no longer control, as they have done since 1918, the principal rivers of Germany.

The Rhine, Elbe, Oder and Danube rivers, within German territory, now return to German control and France is content to ask other powers to join a protest. Mere protests amount to little in European diplomacy, as the world learned from the Ethiopian war.

That settles, finally, the Versailles treaty, a foolish effort to enslave a nation that made the emergence of this, or some other, Hitler inevitable.

Mr. Tugwell seeks an appropriation of five hundred million dollars to provide poverty-stricken farmers, now on worthless farms, with other land that will support them; also barns, houses, out-buildings. He thinks $50,000,000 a year for ten years would do the work, and plans to vacate 9,000,000 "worthless acres."

Anything that will diminish human misery is desirable, even though incompetency may be in part responsible for the trouble. In England, the government, guided by experts, is making excellent pasture lands of soil that was worthless. Our government might investigate that process.

General Markham, chief army engineer, advises putting an air base in the harbor of our Midway island, far away in the Pacific ocean. The War Department says, apologetically, that this would be a commercial development, although it might be useful for defense.

Why an apology? Nobody in Europe, Asia or Africa apologizes to us for building an air base, or asks our opinion about it.

The War department says there is no treaty obligation forbidding such an air base. If there were, what of it? Treaties can be cancelled, and should be when they are foolish or unjust—for further details, ask Hitler.

Germans are said to be wearing a new eyeglass called a "spy monocle." Arranged to look like the ordinary single eyeglass, the "spy monocle" is arranged with a mirror, permitting the wearer to look behind him and see if there is anybody listening to his conversation. German police eagerly discourage any one who suggests that the Nazi government is not perfect.

The opening of the Bay bridge, connecting San Francisco and Oakland, California, is important not only to California and the two united cities, but to the whole country.

This magnificent bridge, eliminating ferries on the bay that separates San Francisco and Oakland, is a magnificent accomplishment of engineering and public spirit.

Mr. Green's American Federation of Labor decides on a "fight to a showdown" with Mr. Lewis' "Committee for Industrial Organization," which wants to unionize all the 30,000,000 workers not yet organized, and seems to include taking over Mr. Green and his federation also.

Next on the program appears to be a big labor fight: Mr. Green is thoughtful, wise; Mr. Lewis is forceful, determined. The outcome cannot be predicted. The outside citizen will pray that there may not be too much interference with returning prosperity.

A greatly increased demand for tools shows that more men are getting jobs, and announcements of new wage increases, big and little, are many. Twenty-three more firms have announced better wages for 28,000 more workers.

An average increase of $130 a year, less than 50 cents a day, might seem unimportant, but it means one hundred and thirty million more dollars that 1,000,000 workers will have to spend, in a year. That is not unimportant.

England intends next time to devote her energy and strength to protecting herself.

Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, says England has no "commitments" like those of 1914, that would compel her to send troops to the continent if war should start. She will do as she pleases, which means that she will probably stay at home, busy with enemy airplanes, perhaps helping to finance friends on the continent, as she did in the Napoleonic wars, as she did before and since.

© King Features Syndicate, Inc. WNU Service.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Italy and Germany Recognize Insurgent Regime in Spain
—Anti-Communist Pact Angers Russia—Tugwell Resigns—President on Unemployment.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
© Western Newspaper Union.

MUSSOLINI and Hitler threw Europe into spasms of alarm by suddenly calling into session the ministerial councils of Italy and Germany and causing them to recognize formally the Fascist government of Gen. Francisco Franco as the legal government of war-torn Spain. It was taken for granted that Austria and Hungary would follow suit. Maj. Ramon Franco, brother of the Spanish insurgent chieftain, had been in Rome and probably informed Il Duce that the general, whose attacks on Madrid were meeting with unexpected resistance, might lose the war unless he were given active support by the nations that sympathized with his cause. Mussolini and Hitler did not immediately announce that they would quit the international agreement for intervention in Spain, but it was believed they would soon be shipping munitions to Franco's armies. They withdrew their diplomatic representatives from Madrid and arranged to send others to the rebel government.

Gen. Franco

Great Britain and Russia were stunned by the action of the two dictators and cabinet meetings were hurriedly called. The British are determined not to be drawn into the Communist-Fascist conflict but they believe that Italy and Germany, especially the former, have designs in the Mediterranean that would peril Britain's seaway to the Orient and are preparing to meet any such threat. Russia's reaction was awaited breathlessly, and the soviet government was being provoked still further by the fact that General Franco declared a blockade of the port of Barcelona, capital of the almost independent province of Catalonia. This move certainly was made to stop the landing of munitions and food from Russia destined for the Spanish loyalist forces. England, France and other nations were greatly concerned over the blockade, for the port is largely used by their shipping. The Spanish rebels have created a strongly fortified port at Palma on the island of Mallorca that can be used as a base for bombardment of Barcelona from the sea. Blockading vessels may be supplied by Portugal, which warned neutral shipping to avoid the Barcelona port, though Lisbon had not yet formally recognized Franco's government.

An almost humorous note came from Geneva where League of Nations observers asserted that the Italo-German recognition of the Spanish insurgents violated Article 10 of the covenant which demands that league members respect "territorial integrity and the existing political independence of all members of the league." They seem to have forgotten how the league abandoned Manchuria to Japan and Ethiopia to Italy not so long ago.

The Italian grand council, with Mussolini presiding, voted to support the Duce's policies by giving him more airplanes, more guns, more warships and more men. It was frankly stated that the reason for this was the threatening international situation. Italian opinion was that if France joined Russia in aiding the formation of a radical Spanish government with its capital at Barcelona—in event that Madrid fell to the Fascists—there would be great danger of general war.

COMPLICATING the already complex European situation and directly threatening war is the alleged fact that Germany and Japan have united to fight the spread of communism, and that their pact is expected to be adhered to by Italy and perhaps various central European nations. This is of course directed mainly against soviet Russia, and Moscow is actively aware of the menace. It is understood that the agreement provides that Germany and Japan shall keep strong military forces in East Prussia and Manchukuo respectively; that the two nations shall exchange military information and orders, and that in certain contingencies Germany shall supply Japan with war materials.

An immediate source of friction between Germany and Russia is the arrest of 23 Germans in Moscow and Leningrad under charges of plotting to steal secret military information, to wreck industrial plants and to kill government leaders. Berlin protested the arrests but the soviet officials replied that all formalities governing such cases had been observed and that several of the prisoners had confessed their guilt. The German propaganda ministry said the story of the German-Japanese agreement, which came from Moscow, was a "periodic lie" which this time was intended to sidetrack German protests against the arrests.

THAT sea level ship canal across Florida from the Atlantic to the Gulf, condemned by the army engineers' board as not justified, started by the New Deal and stopped when congress refused to appropriate more funds, probably will now be pushed on to completion. The army engineers, having been asked by the President for a re-visory report, have submitted one holding that the project would be justified "in the public interest"—an absolute reversal of opinion. The board also found that the canal would cost only $162,985,000, instead of $223,440,000, as estimated on December 30, 1933, when material costs were substantially lower than they now are. So far the sum of $5,400,000 has been spent on the project.

REXFORD GUY TUGWELL, known as the No. 1 brain-truster, has resigned from his post as undersecretary of agriculture and resettlement administrator and accepted the executive vice presidency of the American Molasses company, of which another brain-truster, Charles W. Taussig, is president, and a third, A. A. Berle, Jr., is a director. In accepting the resignation the President wrote to Mr. Tugwell: "Later on I fully expect to ask you to come back to render additional service." Mr. Tugwell will serve on a special committee of 38 just appointed by the President to study the farm tenancy problem. The new resettlement administrator is W. W. Alexander, who has been first assistant.

R. G. Tugwell

John G. Winant, who resigned as head of the social security board to take part in the Presidential election campaign, has resumed that position at the urgent request of Mr. Roosevelt and is directing the big task of enrolling the future old age pensioners.

SAILING from Charleston aboard the cruiser Indianapolis for Buenos Aires and the Pan-American peace conference, President Roosevelt directed the release of a statement in which he announced that the government will continue to spend money on a work relief program until July 1, 1938 at least. It is estimated that congress will be asked to appropriate as much as $1,500,000,000 for relief in the next session.

Although he professed himself gratified at the inroads upon unemployment by industry, the President commented upon the fact that private business has not yet absorbed vast masses of the unemployed and that millions of persons remain on the Works Progress administration pay roll and other governmental agencies.

Mr. Roosevelt declared it was "widely known" that many of the largest industries will not hire workers over forty years of age. To a large extent, he charged, this policy is responsible for the relatively large number of older workers on relief. And industry must expand opportunities for the hiring of unskilled workers, he said.

The mayors of the United States, in annual conference in Washington, were gratified by assurances from both Harold Ickes, head of the PWA, and Harry Hopkins, head of the WPA, that the administration will not cease its spending efforts to keep alive the emergency organizations intended to deal with the unemployment problem.

"I am convinced," Ickes said, "that the PWA should be made a permanent agency of government. It will expire June 30 next. On that date, many projects will not be completed. Necessarily, a law should be passed giving time within which to complete the tasks already undertaken."

Hopkins predicted the 1929 level of production would be reached next year. "Yet the end of our troubles seems a long way off," he remarked. "There were about 1,800,000 unemployed even at the 1929 peak, but next year, with the same volume of production, carefully prepared estimates indicate that there will still be some 6 1/2 to 7 millions unemployed."

FOR more than ten years the American government has been building monuments of the World War on French and Belgian battlefields and memorial chapels in the eight American military cemeteries in France, Belgium and England. This work is now completed and the American Battle Monuments commission, of which General Pershing is chairman, recommends that the structures be dedicated next July, twenty years after America's entry into the war. The approval of the President and congress is required.

Business Opens Money Drawers

Wage Boosts and Extra Dividends Herald Opening of Era of Prosperity

By EARL GODWIN

WASHINGTON.—Well, there was no more indication of this financial cloudburst than there was of the 29,000,000 Roosevelt popular vote. We all of us had an idea that big business would loosen up and spend its cash just as soon as it saw it was useless to try to put on a poor face and blame the New Deal for alleged hard times. In fact I gave you a hint of that in this column a few weeks ago—but did anybody dream that the leaders would open their cash drawers and scatter millions of extra dividends and increased wages as they have done?

This year will be the best dividend year the country has experienced since 1929, the boom year of the Hoover administration. Dividends this year will be approximately three billion dollars.

Wages have started upward in the steel and in many other industries and in certain specific corporations which refused any longer to keep down workmen's pay on the ground that "they didn't know what the government was going to do."

One of the most tremendous hand-outs is that of General Motors, whose head-man, Alfred Sloane, Jr., during the campaign, told his stockholders that Roosevelt "retarded recovery." Before the votes were all counted, Chairman Sloane announced an extra dividend to his stockholders and raised wages, declaring that the ten previous months were the best ever. Among those receiving this largess was one of the Dupont companies,—it got about $15,000,000 extra.

Probably the administration felt that this burst of news on industrial prosperity and cash distribution merited something agricultural. The Department of Agriculture has announced, therefore, that farm families will have more cash to spend on living costs next year. The smart boys in that department figure the American farmers' gross cash income from 1936 operations will be seven billion eight hundred fifty thousand dollars ($7,850,000,000). It would be interesting for farmers to check up and see what happens. The aforesaid smart economists say they believe farmers will have more cash for household operation, education, medical care, and clothes. Oddly enough, the upward trend in farm income which started in 1933, continued through this year in spite of the drouth. These things all go a long way to dispel the old Mark Hanna idea that prosperity and the Republican party go hand in hand.

WHO OWNS THE CARS?

Secretary of Commerce Roper tells me that the foundation of the automobile business in these United States are the folks with less than $2,000 a year. Would you have thought it? This country makes most of the world's motor cars; we have several times as many cars as all the rest of the world together and last year the whole world turned out 5,100,000 cars and we kept more than four-fifths of them. Three times as many automobiles here are owned by families under a thousand dollars a year income as those whose incomes goes over $3,000. We think of the big money folks having all the cars, but actually only ten per cent of America's motors are owned by families with more than $3,000 a year. These are facts from Secretary Roper's commerce department; and they are accurate. And that shows who pays the gasoline taxes, doesn't it? American car owners pay eight hundred million dollars a year in gas taxes; the biggest flood of sales taxes in the world. Actually, worked out to the limit every second of the day and night federal and state treasuries are getting $25.37 from gas taxes; a never ending stream of money from the lower income brackets. Out of every $3.50 paid to the average gas station a dollar is for taxes.

CUT OUT THE POMP

The city of Washington is in a state of excitement over President Roosevelt's apparent intention to do away with the pomp and pageantry of the inaugural ceremony and reduce the matter to Jeffersonian simplicity. There has been built up in this city an idea that a President cannot be inaugurated without an all-day parade and tremendous social events at night. The merchants reap a harvest; so also the hotels, especially those along the line of march. Faithful adherents of the President like to take part in the event and marching clubs are organized, coming here by expensive special trains from every state. The army contributes a regiment or two, the West Point and Annapolis cadets come along at great expense to the taxpayers and all in all inauguration bills mount to stupendous figures.

It was not always thus. Jefferson mounted a horse which loped up Pennsylvania avenue to the east front of the Capitol, where Jefferson son tied it to a post, went in, took the oath of office from the Chief Justice and rode back again, which is about the simplest oath-taking by any President except the kerosene lamp oath by Coolidge—administered by his father when they heard of the death of Harding.

I have an idea that Roosevelt plans something just as simple as Jefferson's. It would be just like Roosevelt to go back to first principles and reduce the inaugural ceremony merely to a ride to the Capitol, to take the oath and inform the people of his program in a second inaugural address as epochal as the famous Lincoln second inaugural.

Yet millions of New Dealers want to be here to celebrate. It may be that there will be a civic celebration to give these enthusiasts their chance to take part in an event they brought about with all their hearts.

COOL TO AAA

There seems to be marked coolness on the part of the administration toward the outlawed AAA; yet representatives of several hundred thousand farmers demand a re-enactment of the Agricultural Adjustment Act which went out the window when the Supreme Court cracked down. I haven't a very clear idea just yet as to what the administration wants, except that it promises strong federal control of crops with the object of removing that always-troublesome surplus which keeps down prices. The administration hasn't yet recovered from the Supreme Court shock and just doesn't want to go marching up the court house door only to get its face pushed in all over again by the same set of judges. This crop insurance idea, while not quite as productive of checks, seems to be good enough for the administration at the present time—and yet, I wouldn't risk too large a wager on it.

G. O. P. NOT DEAD

I am not one of those who believe the Republican party is dead. No organization with 17,000,000 voters is dead. It is no deader than the Democratic party of the old days which was a minority affair continuously from the Civil war days to the time of Cleveland, and after that to Wilson (who was a minority President himself first term); and after that to Roosevelt.

But now the Democratic party is a tremendous majority; not only in the electoral college, but in the senate and house and in a smaller way among the governors. There will be seventy-five Democrats and seventeen Republicans in the senate. Nothing quite like it since the Grant administration when the majority was the other way: 69 Republicans and 11 Democrats. The next house has 334 Democrats and 89 Republicans, who have only two more than is necessary to force a roll call vote. In this tremendous majority, which I believe will be almost entirely a pro-Roosevelt Democratic body, the President will be able to enact his perfected reform measures in the first two years of his second term.

Then what? Anything can happen. In a sense, the G. O. P. is better off than the Democratic party, because right now there really isn't any Democratic party. It is Roosevelt's Party.—Progressives, Liberals, youngsters, political adventurers, Crusaders, Good Neighbor Leaguers, and what not. They voted almost solidly in that 29,000,000 landslide for Roosevelt—not for the party. And there is no one right now who can carry on the Roosevelt idealism but Roosevelt. So, unless the Roosevelt party forces Roosevelt to do what even George Washington refused to do—accept a third term—there is going to be an interesting set of maneuvers by the second string Democrats to capture the next nomination.

Meantime, the Republicans have good leadership which they failed to utilize this time. They let political tricksters fool them into thinking they could pick an unknown and build him up by advertising. The Republicans have Senator McNary of Oregon; they have Vandenberg of Michigan. Both of these men lived through the Democratic landslide and anyone who can do that strikes me as being politically good.

I have heard that Henry Wallace, secretary of agriculture, is the administration's favorite. I do not know whether it is true or not—but if Henry Wallace is going to be put forward as a crown prince he will have his hands full, because if the next four years develops the same kind of political events that other second terms have developed, you will see the crown prince slaughtered by a field of ambitious contestants. Labor leaders are in for ambitious doings; you will see John Lewis, the shaggy haired leader of the Mine Workers pulling strings for bigger things than mere labor leadership. You will see, too, the LaFollette boys in Wisconsin strive for a place in national leadership; and there are leaders of a score of other elements in the Roosevelt army all of which will come rushing forward about two and a half years from now Roosevelt will attend to his job as President; and I think it will be difficult to detect him doing a thing that will look like a political move. I imagine though, that his close associates will see to it that leadership does not go to any conservative Democrat—like Byrd of Virginia.

© Western Newspaper Union.

Scottie Pup Mascot Livens Things Up!

Pattern 500E

Hoat, mon—here's a wee Scottie that every laddie or lassie would yearn to cuddle! How the youngsters will love and admire him for his gay plaid coat, yarn whiskers and soft figure. He's easily and quickly made, too—and stitched in bright, inexpensive cotton fabric, he's a real "scotch" treat! Why not send for the simple pattern today, and make Scottie for a jolly appropriate gift? In pattern 500E you will find a pattern for the dog; complete directions for making it, and material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 15 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) To the Sewing Circle, Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th Street, New York, N. Y.

Write plainly pattern number, your name and address.

Household Questions

If cinnamon toast is served frequently, it pays to mix some cinnamon and sugar and keep it in a shaker so that it can be used quickly.

To prevent the delivery boy from tracking dirt across the kitchen floor place a shelf at the back door on which he can place packages.

Before storing winter cabbage wrap each head in an old newspaper. This will keep the cabbage crisp and green much longer.

A teaspoon of granulated sugar added to the water in which turnips are boiled, removes the strong turnip taste some object to.

© Bell Syndicate. - WNU Service.

Now Ease Neuritis Pains Fast

For Amazingly Quick Relief Get Genuine Bayer Aspirin

If you suffer from pains of neuritis what you want is quick relief. Genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets give quick relief, for one reason, because they dissolve or disintegrate almost instantly they touch moisture. (Note illustration above.)

Hence—when you take a real Bayer Aspirin tablet it starts to dissolve almost as quickly as you swallow it. And thus is ready to start working almost instantly... headaches, neuralgia and auritis pains start easing almost at once.

That's why millions never ask for aspirin by the name aspirin alone when they buy, but always say "BAYER ASPIRIN" and see that they get it.

Try it. You'll say it's marvelous.

15c FOR A DOZEN
2 FULL DOZEN 25c
Virtually 1c a tablet

LOOK FOR THE BAYER CROSS

Three Foes
Nothing keeps us down like our own ignorance, laziness and folly.

TO KILL Screw Worms

Your money back if you don't like Cannon's Liniment. It kills screw worms, heals the wound and keeps flies away. Ask your dealer. (Adv.)

WNU-L 48-30

MORNING DISTRESS
is due to acid, upset stomach. Milsnia wafers (the original) quickly relieve acid stomach and give necessary elimination. Each wafer equals 4 teaspoonsful of milk of magnesia, 20c, 35c & 60c.

DEPUTY OF THE DEVIL

By BEN AMES WILLIAMS

Copyright, Ben Ames Williams.

WNU Service.

CHAPTER VI—Continued

It was hours after his wife's death before Doctor Greeding at last realized that he was free. Terror had ridden him hard, till he put on grief like a seemly garment. But at the end he came to sudden comprehension that he was loosed from the fetters that had bound him. His bonds were broken! He was untrammelled, free!

In a high exultation the man came back to the house at last. He came straight across the island through the shadowed woods. Yet if he had looked up, he might even then have seen, through the foliage above him, the unwinking stars.

Mrs. Greeding was buried in Cambridge, on Tuesday, in the afternoon. It was a hot, sunny July day, with no breeze to stir the heavy foliage of the trees that shaded the scene. Nancy would always remember, at some distance, the hiss and murmur of cars passing along the nearest street; the far whisper of the heedless world.

Dan and Mary Ann and Professor Carlisle and others were there. Among them, Ira Jerrell. Nancy did not at first discover him; not till they all turned away, and her eyes cleared, and she could look around. Then she saw him near her father, saw him clasp Doctor Greeding's hand. When presently she and her father were in the car again, Doctor Greeding said: "I asked Mr. Jerrell to drop in for a while, Nancy."

She nodded indifferently. They came home together, and she went for a moment to her room. Doctor Greeding stayed downstairs.

When she heard Jerrell arrive, heard their voices in the library, she descended and appeared in the open door, hatted and ready to depart. Doctor Greeding looked up in surprise.

"Going out, Nancy? Best stay with us."

She met Jerrell's eyes straightforwardly and frankly. "I won't be gone long," she said. "You've Mr. Jerrell for company."

She took the little roadster and drove rapidly, as though anxious to make her escape before something happened to detain her.

She was strongly drawn toward Dan—she felt this deep attraction more keenly than ever before; but also she was thrust toward him by some force behind her, by something intangible which her instinct had discovered in her father's mind. In his grief and loss she should have been drawn toward him to comfort him; but she recognized, honestly, that there was in her no genuine solicitude for him. Rather, her instinct bade her avoid him, avoid the neighborhood of his influence and control.

She found Mary Ann and Dan together, and Dan kissed her, and Mary Ann too. But Mary Ann with a wise understanding, said smilingly:

"Take him away somewhere, Nancy. You don't want me around, you two; and I've nowhere to go, and people may come in. Go along with you."

Nancy nodded. "Yes, I do want to be with Dan," she said.

Once they were alone, she was for the moment content; and without speaking, she drove out through Watertown and Waltham toward Lincoln.

He said, later: "I suppose you and your father will go back to the Lake soon."

"Not right away," she told him. "I won't go till he can. I wouldn't want to be there alone. Not with Mother—down here." Her tones were husky, she said: "Father starts his vacation next week-end. He may want me to go away somewhere with him; or he may want just to go to the Lake. He loves it there. I'll do whatever he wants."

Dan nodded. "It's a grand place," he assented.

"If we go up there, Dan," she decided, suddenly near panic at the thought of being alone with her father, "you must come up. I can't be alone with him. I'll miss Mother so."

He said doubtfully: "I've had about all the vacation I ought to take."

"I'll need you dreadfully, Dan," she said, and he cried: "God knows I'll need you, Nancy! Always!"

She turned off the highroad into a byway; the road degenerated till there were only wheel-ruts in the sand. They passed through an oak wood which closed like a screen behind them, and she stopped the car at last on a turfed slope, fragrant in the slanting sun. Below lay the marshes and the meandering river, and far away the wooded hills rose gently.

Nancy stopped the engine, and looked at Dan; and he leaned toward her, held her for a moment close and tenderly.

They descended from the car. On the firm turf, she lay at length, her arms across her eyes, in the full beat of the sun.

He sat down beside her. After a moment she looked up at him, and her eyes drew him down. He said, huskily: "Your lips are trembling."

"I'm not—trembling, or afraid, or doubtful any more, Dan," she whispered. "I know what I want."

His eyes were troubled. She covered her eyes with her arm again, and spoke slowly and carefully. "I won't argue with you, Dan, my dear," she said. "I've made up—our minds." Her lips smiled faintly.

"No need of going over the same ground again and again and again. Of course, we will wait—a little while, for Mother's sake. But waiting will be hard, and it mustn't be long, because the world is settled, for us. No matter what you think, you're going to marry me."

"We'll be deadly poor," he confessed. "I've nothing but my salary—never will have."

"Dan, my dear, you're so commercial," she reproached him whimsically. "A body'd think you were bent on marrying money."

He said laughing with a deep delight: "You're as obstinate as—"

"I'm not," she protested. "I'm not obstinate. It's only obstinate when you insist on doing the wrong thing; so you're the obstinate one!" Her arm reached up and drew him nearer. "Don't be so strong and stubborn, Dan."

He whispered, stammering and breathless: "Nancy, you'll have me—drunk with your sweetness, in a minute. Let me keep my head."

"I want you drunk and quite mad, and wholly irresponsible," she insisted. "I don't want you to keep your head." Her arms were tight around him. "Dan, Dan, I want you with me, to fight with me, to stand with me, to hold me."

"I am holding you, Nancy."

"Never let me go," she whispered. "Never let me go."

And she said: "I want it settled, finally, and absolutely, and always and forever, between us, Dan. Do you hear?" And she cried, a half sob in her tones: "Oh, it's only so that nothing can happen, so that I can stand up to Father, and so that I can cling fast to you, Dan. No matter what he says, or does. Her eyes questioned him "Dan, you mustn't argue, and find reasons, and think of obstacles, ever any more. Promise?"

He agreed helplessly: "Anything, Nancy. Yes. If you're sure."

"I want to count on you always."

"You can."

She said soberly: "This is as binding as anything any minister can ever say over us, Dan."

The sun was low, sinking swiftly now; and a light breeze began to blow, as though approaching dusk shepherded the hot afternoon air away before it. They stayed awhile, watching the purple flood that flowed across the marsh; and it grew cooler, and Nancy said at last, in a tone of surprise:

"Dan, my dear, I'm hungry!"

"It's dinner-time," he assented, laughing at her. "Why shouldn't

"I guessed that long ago," he said smilingly. "Young lovers are—transparent. I knew it, perhaps, before you did." He said gravely: "I think you know how much I wish happiness for you."

"Yes," she assented. "I think I do."

He smiled. "If Dan were not before me," he confessed, "I might have dreamed some absurd dreams myself, despite my age."

"I've never thought of you as old," she told him gently.

The intervening days till their departure for the Lake passed like leaves on the wind. Nancy noticed once or twice that her father read with a frowning attention the financial pages of the newspapers. She herself had no interest in such matters, but she spoke of it to him. "I thought you seemed worried," she remarked; but he answered irritably:

"I'm not. Please allow me to attend to my own affairs."

Yet as a matter of fact, Doctor Greeding, though he denied it to Nancy, was worried, and with cause. His reckless venturing had involved him more deeply than he could bear to contemplate; and in the end, in a sort of desperation, he went to Jerrell, telephoning for an appointment. "I want to discuss some investments with you," he explained.

When he came to the other's office, Jerrell greeted him with a smile. "Surprised me to have you phone," he confessed. "I didn't know you were interested in stocks."

Doctor Greeding hesitated. "Well, I'm not seriously," he declared. "But I did take a flyer in Cottons, as a result of some of our conversations. I notice they're not doing well, and I'm wondering whether to take my losses, or hang on."

He tried to laugh. "Matter of fact, I went in pretty deep."

Jerrell said gravely: "The whole market has been weak, and it's never wise to fight the market; so we've let Cottons sag, waiting for the turn." He tapped his desk with the end of his pen. "What is the extent of your commitments, Ned?"

Greeding hesitated; but in the end, with a sort of shame, he named the actual figure. Jerrell's astonishment showed in his eyes.

"Why?" she asked curiously. "I will, of course, if you think so, Dan. But why?"

"No man likes to find himself in the position of making love to an engaged girl," he explained. "It makes him ridiculous; and Jerrell's too much of a man for that."

"If he doesn't want to be ridiculous, he shouldn't make love to a girl half his age," she protested mischievously.

Dan insisted: "I like him, and respect him. Nancy, you do it."

She said demurely: "Who am I to oppose you, Dan, my dear? I'll do exactly as you say." She urged then, happily: "But let's not tell anyone else, till we're ready to be married the very next day!"

He nodded. "All right. But I'd like to shout it."

"I'd like to sing it, darling," she whispered. "Kiss me now." He said: "And good night. Tomorrow night, Dan?"

"All the tomorrows," he promised.

CHAPTER VII

Doctor Greeding decided that he would go to the Lake for his vacation, just as he had planned. He said to Nancy, "I think your mother would want us to," and he explained: "I shall do some work I've papers to prepare. Miss Carlisle can get the data together and bring the material up to me."

Nancy nodded, and he added: "She's a very capable girl, Nancy."

"Oh yes," she agreed. "Yes, Mary Ann's fine."

"I've never worked so well as since I took her on," he said. "She—" He spoke of details, till it occurred to Nancy, incredibly, that he protested overmuch. She said at last, faintly disquieted by his reiterations:

"You don't need to praise Mary Ann to me, Father."

He flushed, but then he laughed. "Fine," he said. "I'm glad you won't mind her being up there with us."

"I'll ask Dan too," she said. "So that I'll have some one to play with while you and she are working."

He hesitated. "I don't know whether that's—wise, Nancy. So soon after your mother's death."

She did not urge the point, assuming that when the time came, Doctor Greeding would be more complaisant.

She was, during these days, and despite the steady undercurrent of her aching grief, quietly happy and content, with a sense of security and peace in the certainty that she and Dan would never be parted. Her interview with Jerrell had been easier than she feared. He heard what she had to say without surprise.

"I guessed that long ago," he said smilingly. "Young lovers are—transparent. I knew it, perhaps, before you did." He said gravely: "I think you know how much I wish happiness for you."

"Yes," she assented. "I think I do."

He smiled. "If Dan were not before me," he confessed, "I might have dreamed some absurd dreams myself, despite my age."

"I've never thought of you as old," she told him gently.

The intervening days till their departure for the Lake passed like leaves on the wind. Nancy noticed once or twice that her father read with a frowning attention the financial pages of the newspapers. She herself had no interest in such matters, but she spoke of it to him. "I thought you seemed worried," she remarked; but he answered irritably:

"I'm not. Please allow me to attend to my own affairs."

Yet as a matter of fact, Doctor Greeding, though he denied it to Nancy, was worried, and with cause. His reckless venturing had involved him more deeply than he could bear to contemplate; and in the end, in a sort of desperation, he went to Jerrell, telephoning for an appointment. "I want to discuss some investments with you," he explained.

When he came to the other's office, Jerrell greeted him with a smile. "Surprised me to have you phone," he confessed. "I didn't know you were interested in stocks."

Doctor Greeding hesitated. "Well, I'm not seriously," he declared. "But I did take a flyer in Cottons, as a result of some of our conversations. I notice they're not doing well, and I'm wondering whether to take my losses, or hang on."

He tried to laugh. "Matter of fact, I went in pretty deep."

Jerrell said gravely: "The whole market has been weak, and it's never wise to fight the market; so we've let Cottons sag, waiting for the turn." He tapped his desk with the end of his pen. "What is the extent of your commitments, Ned?"

Greeding hesitated; but in the end, with a sort of shame, he named the actual figure. Jerrell's astonishment showed in his eyes.

"You should have asked my advice," he said irritably, "before this. What do your holdings average?" he asked; and when the other told him, he sat in silence for a while. Then he smiled, as though in decision, and relaxed in his chair. "Well," he said, "as a matter of fact, I expect Cottons will touch that figure this week, Ned. When it does, you'd better unload." He hesitated, then thrust the telephone toward Doctor Greeding. "Put in an order to sell at your price, G. T. C.," he directed.

Doctor Greeding took the phone; but he looked his doubts. "You're sure it won't go higher?" he asked.

The pen tapped more sharply. "Ned, man get out with a whole skin and consider yourself lucky," Jerrell bade; and there was something like scorn in his tones.

So Doctor Greeding called Paul Master and gave the order, then turned to Jerrell.

"You have put me heavily in your debt, Ira," he said slowly. "If I can ever repay you—if there's anything you want of mine—" And he suggested, not looking at the other man: "Why don't you come up to the Lake sometime in August? Nancy and I will be there. I have medical work to do with Miss Carlisle."

Jerrell smiled, shook his head. "You don't owe me anything, Ned," he said patiently. "And—neither does Nancy. But I may come."

That evening Doctor Greeding left the house after dinner. Mary Ann was at the office when he got there; and for two or three hours they worked together. Afterward he insisted on taking her home; and on the way, he said:

"I'm going to drop everything and head for the Lake as soon as possible. I'll want you to finish analyzing these cases, and bring the figures up to me. After I've had a few days' rest. Say next Friday?"

He saw hesitation in her, and he added swiftly: "I'll want you there for a few days; and perhaps Nancy can persuade you to stay on for a while, even after our job is done." She wished to demur; but before she could do so, he said hurriedly: "I'll need to work, this year, to keep from—thinking!"

She said, in quick comprehension: "Of course. I understand."

He thought, after he left her, that she had seemed almost ill at ease in his presence. Yet not unfriendly—rather, deeply sympathetic for the grief she thought he must be suffering.

But Doctor Greeding felt in fact no grief. That first wave of sorrow had come like a healing flood and passed, leaving him healed—and free!

Their first days at the Lake passed quietly. It had been decided between Dan and Nancy that he would come on Friday afternoon, with Mary Ann. Nancy had not told her father this arrangement. Without admitting it even to herself, she feared some objection on Doctor Greeding's part, and avoided the possibility by her silence.

Doctor Greeding expected Mary Ann's arrival by the evening train on Friday; and he spoke of it to Nancy at dinner Thursday night in such tones that she looked at him doubtfully, discovering something incredible and startling in his eyes.

She tried to put the thought aside. It could not be. And yet this unbelievable possibility suggested by her father's tone when he spoke of Mary Ann remained in her mind disturbingly, and her sleep that night was uneasy, shaken by shadows of formless dreams. She was awake to welcome dawn; and went early for a swim.

When she was dressed and downstairs again, her father still had not appeared, so she breakfasted alone.

Seeing Thomas, she asked him where her father was. Thomas said: "He had his breakfast and took his pistol up to the tennis-court, ma'am."

She went to join her father there and found him in a smiling humor. "Hallo, Nancy!" he called, as she approached. He was at the farther end of the court, affixing a paper target to the frame in that shuttered window in the batter-board. "Sleep well?" And before she could reply, he said: "I slept like a log. Feel better than I've felt for months. This is a grand place to rest, up here."

She caught his mood. "Then if you feel so well, I'll shoot you a match; and if I beat you, you'll have no alibis!"

He chuckled, returned toward her. "You never saw the day, Nancy," he retorted. His pistol, a long-barreled automatic of an European design, lay on the iron roller in a corner of the court. She picked it up, saw that it was loaded, and began to shoot.

Her shots, when she finished, were well grouped; and Doctor Greeding applauded her. "Good enough," he said. "But watch me now."

He set up another target, filled the magazine. He fired somewhat more rapidly than she had; and when he finished, went to fetch the target. They examined it together, and she had to concede defeat. Of her shots, three were scattered outside a six-inch circle; but his were all closely grouped.

They stayed there, thus engaged, until the luncheon-bell rang; and he beat her consistently, so that his good humor grew. At lunch he was as amiable as possible; and she pretended chagrin at her defeat, and challenged him to tennis in the afternoon. Her father accepted.

They did not begin immediately after lunch; but they were on the court when in midafternoon the phone rang. The telephone itself was in a closet behind the dining-room, but there was a clanging bell on the side veranda which could be heard for half the length of the island; and Nancy cried:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

But when she came back up the path, it was slowly, disappointment shadowing her eyes; she said:

"I'll have to go answer. There's probably no one in the house." She went running down the path.

Foreign Words and Phrases

- Alis volat propriis. (L.) She flies with her own wings. (Motto of Oregon.)
- Beaux yeux. (F.) Pretty eyes; feminine charms.
- Deus ex machina. (L.) The God from the machine; the person who unexpectedly saves the situation.
- En famille. (F.) Within the family circle; without ceremony.
- Flagrante bello. (L.) During hostilities.
- Hoch soll er leben! (Ger.) Long life to him!
- Ora e sempre. (It.) Now and always.
- Jettatura. (It.) The possession of the "evil eye"; the power of exerting a malign influence over an enemy.
- Coram populo. (L.) Publicly.
- L'etat, c'est moi. (F.) The state, I am the state. (A saying attributed to Louis XIV.)

Constipated 30 Years

"For thirty years I had stubborn constipation. Sometimes I did not go for four or five days. I also had awful gas bloating, headaches and pains in the back. Adierka helped right away. Now I eat sausage, bananas, pie, anything I want and never feel better. I sleep soundly all night and enjoy life." —Mrs. Mabel Schott.

If you are suffering from constipation, sleeplessness, sour stomach, and gas bloating, there is quick relief for you in Adierka. Many report action in thirty minutes after taking just one dose. Adierka gives complete action, cleaning your bowel tract where ordinary laxatives do not even reach.

Dr. H. L. Shoups, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleanliness, Adierka checks the growth of intestinal bacteria and colon bacilli."

Give your bowels a real cleansing with Adierka and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and stubborn constipation. Leading Druggists.

Practical Power
The knowledge which a man can use is the only real knowledge, the knowledge which has life growth in it, and converts itself into practical power. — James Anthony Froude.

CHECK THAT COUGH BEFORE IT GETS WORSE

Check it before it gets you down. Check it before others, maybe the children, catch it. Check it with FOLEY'S HONEY & TAR. This double-acting compound gives quick relief and speeds recovery. Soothes raw, irritated tissue; quickly allays tickling, hacking, spasmodic retching makes for a cough-free state. No habit-forming, stomach-upsetting drugs. Ideal for children, too. Don't let that cough due to a cold hang on! For quick relief and speeded recovery insist on FOLEY'S HONEY & TAR.

Work Is As Salt
Work is the very salt of life, not only preserving it from decay, but also giving it tone and flavor.—H. Black.

When Women Need Cardui

If you seem to have lost some of your strength you had for your favorite activities, or for your household work . . . and care less about your meals . . . and suffer severe discomfort at certain times . . . try Cardui!

Thousands and thousands of women say it has helped them. By increasing the appetite, improving digestion, Cardui helps you to get more nourishment. As strength returns, unnecessary functional aches, pains and nervousness just seem to go away.

Balking Hate
The way to keep from hating an inferior race is to keep ahead of it.

AND GET RELIEF FROM WATERY HEAD COLDS

Because of their "balanced medication," just two drops of Penetro Nose Drops help to open up your nose, soothe inflammation, let fresh air break through the watery mucus. Contains ephedrine and other approved medication. 25c, 50c, $1 bottles. Trial size 10c. For free sample of Penetro Nose Drops, write Dept. D3, Memphis, Tenn.

To relieve chest colds, rub with stainless, snow-white Penetro.

PENETRO NOSE DROPS

A PRODUCT OF FLOUGH INC., MEMPHIS - NEW YORK

NO DANDRUFF

She Uses Glover's!
She used to be a victim of Dandruff. But no more! Her secret is regular use of Glover's Name Brand Medicinal Soap for the shampoo. That's what YOU should be doing for YOUR hair. Ask your Hairdresser—she knows.

GLOVER'S
MANGE-MANGE

He Chuckled, Returning Toward Her. "You Never Saw the Day, Nancy," He Retorted.

"That was Dan. He and Mary Ann can't come till tomorrow. He's got to work tonight. They'll be here on the noon train."

She was engrossed in her own disappointment, but not too much so to see his sudden frown. "Dan?" he echoed. "Is he coming?"

"Yes," she said.

"I didn't know that!" he protested.

This, she recognized, was true; but she pretended a defensive surprise. "Why, we've talked about their both coming, right along," she urged.

He said slowly: "I told you, when you spoke of it, that I thought it best—furthermore, I'm sorry he is coming, just now. It's most inconvenient."

"Why?" she demanded.

"Mr. Jerrell is coming tomorrow," he explained. "He called up this morning to ask if he might, and I told him yes, by all means. I counted on you to entertain him. Mary Ann and I will be busy. You'd better tell Dan not to come, so that you'll be free for Mr. Jerrell."

She sought to make him smile. "But I'd much rather be with Dan," she pointed out, with a grimace.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

"Government of, By and for the People" Traced

THE BAIRD STAR

Issued every Friday, Baird, Texas

Entered as Second Class Matter, December 8, 1887, at the Post Office in Baird, Texas, under the Act of 1879.
Established by W. E. Gilliland, December 8, 1887
Baird, Texas

ELIZA GILLILAND
Editor and Publisher

HAYNIE GILLILAND
Associate Editor

Week Of Hits At Plaza Theatre

The Plaza is paying tribute to its patrons this week by bringing five big hits to its screen in one week.

The jubilee will open up with the screen's greatest human drama, "The Devil Is A Sissy." Starring in this picture are those juvenile players, Freddie Bartholomew, Jackie Cooper, and Mickie Rooney. They are supported in a big way by Ian Hunter, Peggy Conklin, and Katherine Alexander. It is a moving story of the city boys, living in the city streets, using fireplugs and light poles for bases in their baseball games, learning life in the maw of sprawling cities. In contrast with the life of these youngsters, the devil is a sissy. "The Devil Is A Sissy" is recommended for the enjoyment of both grown-ups and children.

Saturday ushers in the detective story of the week with the stirring "15 Maiden Lane." Dramatically revealing the secrets of the world's greatest jewelry center, a district guarded as carefully as the National Treasury against the hordes of thieves lured from all over the world. The story packs many thrills and the cast is packed with stars. Those included are Claire Trevor, Cesar Romero, Douglas Frawley, Lloyd Nolan, Lester Matthews and Robert McWade.

Beginning at the Saturday night preview and continuing through Monday is a chance for a romantic fling with the king and queen of captivating rhythm, for Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire are swinging into town in that brand new hit "Swing Time." One of Broadway's severest critics said, "When you talk yourself into seeing Swing Time, you are letting yourself in for a good time." A sensational solo dance in blackface by Fred and the presentation of the new ballroom craze, the Swing Waltz, some of the most gorgeous settings ever shown on the screen, a star spangled supporting cast, and a brand new type of story for Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers are among the attraction elements, plus six spanking new songs. Fred and Ginger are supported by Victor Moore, Helen Broderick, Eric Blore, Betty Furness and George Metaxa.

Tuesday brings back those whooping comedians, Charles Ruggles and Mary Boland in a story that will have you laying in the aisles before the last fadeout. The story is so different and the acting so superb, the picture has well earned the title of a hit. "Wives Never Know" will pep you up and make you forget your trouble for the rest of the week. In fact, it will get you good and set for—

Shirley Temple the singing, dancing, and dimpleing sweetheart of millions, young, old, and women over twenty five. Shirley with the greatest cast of her career bringing "Dimples," the grandest hit she has ever had. Frank Morgan, and the negro scream, Stepin Fetchit, bring out laughs that have been anchored for years, while Miss Temple furnishes finishing touches to your evening's enjoyment. There will be plenty of songs and dances, well mixed with a good strong story. You will agree with the newspaper that headlined, "It's Shirley's Wonder Show!" "Dimples" will be on the Plaza screen starting Wednesday, playing to a special kiddies' matinee and staying through Thursday night.

Delphian Club

The Delphian Club met with Mrs. E. C. Fulton as hostess. Fifteen members answered roll call with humorous quotations from Mark Twain. Mrs. Hickman was a guest.

A card of thanks was read from Edna Snow, thanking the club for her trip to the Centennial.

The following program was given:
Main facts in the life of Mark Twain—Mrs. Norrell

The Man That Corrupted Hadleyburg—Mrs. White

Mark Twain's Perfect Burlesque, "The Celebrated Frog of Colveras County"—Miss Moore

A discussion of Tom Sawyer and Huckelberry Finn, Mrs. Owen. This number was read by Mrs. Frank Bear den.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Haynie Gilliland.

STEADY WORK—GOOD PAY. RELIABLE MAN WANTED to call on farmers in Callahan County. No experience or capital needed. Write today. McNESS Co., Dept. S. Freeport, Illinois. 51-1t.

FOR SALE—Hand Crocheted White Bed Spread. Reasonable Price. See Miss Ona Belle Ivey, Baird. 51-tf.

I WANT TO LEASE 2 or 3 Sections of Ranch Land. J. F. Houston, Baird, Texas. 3 Blks West Main St. 51-1t.

FOR SALE—Bundle Hygere. Clyde Bagwell, 2 miles north of Eula. 51-1t

25 REGISTERED HEREFORD BULL CALVES for sale. R. E. Clark Putnam, Texas. 51-3t.

FOR SALE—A Delco Lighting Plant with Batteries and Radio; Aslo Burkett Pecan Trees at bargain prices. 51-2tp A. C. Forester, Clyde, Tex.

Mrs. Dolph Hodges and Mrs. Sarah Magill of Tecumseh were in Baird last Saturday.

WITH BAIRD BAPTISTS

It has been suggested that I have been making a mistake all the time in the caption of my notes. I have put it "With Baird Baptist" and it is suggested that it should have been

"With Baird Baptists" Well, I am putting it the latter way this time and if I have any better luck I will know I am doing well in the change. At any rate, we surely had a fine day last Sunday, one of the best, I think, for some time. Four fine grown people, the kind who help to carry on, joined our church by letter and it made our souls happy to have them come. I thank God for the privilege of working with people who love the Lord and want to do his will and are trying to do it. I had a lovely time at Dudley, a nice crowd and the Lord was with us and helped me to preach and the service was just fine.

Next Sunday I am giving the church here a treat. I know they will all be so glad for Brother Reed who is pastor of the church at Roby and I are exchanging pulpits. He will come here and preach and I will go to Roby and preach. He will have both the morning and evening hours and I want the people to come and hear him, give an audience. Any preacher deserves that. Brother Reed and Brother Scoggins were co-pastors at Roby for a long time and perhaps Brother Scoggins will bring his congregation over to hear his old time neighbor and yokefellow. I hope he can do so. It will be mighty fine. I was pastor of the Roby church in 1921 and 1922 and had such a good time that I am delighted with the opportunity of going back to visit with them. You know a preacher is always glad and happy when he can have lots of results. Well, in the 21 months I was pastor of that good church I baptized more than one hundred people and added enough to the church by letter and baptism to more than double the membership when I first went there. I was the last half time pastor, the next man was called for full time and ever since they have had a pastor living on the field for full time. Now I say again, dear people, do yourselves credit by the visitor next Sunday.

Praying God's blessings on both churches and both preachers I am your devoted friend.

Joe R. Mayes

GUARDIANSHIP NOTICE

Guardianship of Isabelle and John Otis Isenhower, NCM. No. 985.

To all persons interested in the above wards or their estate:

You are notified that I have on this, the 21 day of November 1936, filed with the Judge of the county court of Callahan County, Texas, an application for authority to make to F. B. Vonder Hoyo, as lessee, an oil, gas and mineral lease of that certain land in which said wards own a 1-2 undivided interest, to-wit: the West 80 acres of the South half and the West 40 acres of the North half of Survey No. 2273, TE&LCo., and that such application will be heard in the county court room in court house of such county on the 28th day of November, 1936.

Witness my hand, this the 21st day of November, 1936.

W. M. Isenhower, Jr.
Guardian

Non-Skid Spot Pad Trusses Satisfaction Guaranteed
Holmes Drug Company

I'M A NEW WOMAN THANKS TO PURSANG

Yes, Pursang contains elements of proven value, such as Organic Copper and Iron, which quickly aid nature in building rich, red corpuscles. When this happens, the appetite improves. Nervousness disappears. Energy and strength usually return. You feel like a new person. Get Pursang from your druggist.

OVER FIFTY YEARS OF DEPENDABLE BANKING SERVICE

The First National Bank, of Baird
Baird, Texas

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ritter of Tucson, Arizona were in Baird Tuesday enroute to New York where they will spend several weeks. Mrs. Ritter was the former Ida Lee Rawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Rawson, former residents of Belle Plain. Mr. and Mrs. Ritter expect to stop at Baird on their return trip home and visit for a few days with old friends.

* LEADING DOCTORS tell us that fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with a "common cold." America's Public Health Enemy Number One is the common cold germ! It strikes with such viciousness that sixty per cent of the population has three or more "colds" each year. A startling total of over two hundred million illnesses—many of which could be avoided!

Rx Name Lotta Sneezes
Address Stuffy House
Prevent Colds this Winter

- A well ventilated and adequately heated home is one of the best precautions against "colds".

Keep a window open slightly in each room to assure pure air.

Provide a comfortable and uniform temperature in every room.

Avoid sudden temperature changes. Don't "Huddle" in one or two rooms.

Heat your entire house for your health's sake.

—LONE STAR GAS SYSTEM

'In Business For Your Pleasure'
Friday-Saturday Matinee

SATURDAY NITE

$145.00
IS A LOT OF MONEY
And

Is A Lot Of Thrills And Laughs For A Quarter!

SATURDAY NITE PREVIEW
SUNDAY-MONDAY

TUESDAY
You Will Never Know When
$100.00
Will Be Handed You!!

WEDNESDAY - THURSDAY

Mickey Mouse in
'Pluto's Judgement Day'
Special Kids' Matinee Wednesday
3 P. M.

Friday December 4th is
AMATEUR NIGHT
$10 First Prize
$5 Second Prize
And an audition for Radio and Stage appearances for ALL
Contestants must come to the Plaza SATURDAY, NOV. 28 at 10 a. m.
for instructions.
DO NOT FAIL!

I WISH TO ENTER
The PLAZA'S Amateur Contest
Name _____
City _____
Age _____
Talent _____
It is understood that I am not obligated in any way, but wish to compete for BIG CASH PRIZES

Miss Cecil West and children of Big Spring came down Wednesday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. West's parents Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bowlus.

Mrs. W. A. Sikes of the Eula community, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Mann and little daughter, Billie Faye of Clyde were in Baird Friday.

Miss Ona Bell Ivey of Zephyr is visiting friends in Baird.

DOG LOST—Small red female wolf hound lost east of Baird.
Has name Tommie Windham, Op-lin, Texas. Tie up and phone me.
Tommie Windham, Oplin.

LOST—Upper set false teeth. Reward for return to me. Charlie Lones, Baird.

PIGS FOR SALE—Weaning pigs for sale. See or write John Hughes, St.
Rt. 2, Baird, Texas.

FOR SALE—320 acres good black land seven miles northeast Putnam.
180 acres, cultivation; two good sets improvements; well watered tanks; windmill, water piped in house; good cisterns; good barns; sheds; good grain bins. Oil income monthly $40.00
Price $45 per acre. See or write
MARK BURNAM, Rt. 1, Cisco.

SORE THROAT TONSILITIS Instantly relieved with Anesthesia Mop, the wonderful new sore throat remedy. A real mop that relieves pain and kills infection. Position relief guaranteed or money refunded by City
Pharmacy. 42-3-7

Heal Those Sore Gums

Even after pyorrhea has affected our stomach, kidneys and your genera health, LETO'S PYORRHEA REM-EDY, used as directed, can save you.
Dentists recommend it. Druggists return money if it fails. Holmes Drug

MAN'S HEART SKIPS BEATS—DUE TO GAS

W. L. Adams was bloated so with gas that his heart often missed beats after eating. Adierika rid him of all gas, and now he eats anything and feels fine. City Pharmacy No. 1.

WANTED: All Poultrymen in Baird Trade Territory to use M & L Mineral for worming your Chickens and Turkeys. A Flock treatment and a sure shot for worms, fully guaranteed.
Sold only at 33-1f Holmes Drug Co, Baird, Texas

NOTICE TO PUBLIC: No responsibility in any way is assumed by me for any purchases, debts, contracts or obligations made by M. B. MOON or any of his agents or associates.
Lloyd E. Cox.

checks
666 COLDS
and FEVER
Liquid, Tablets first day
Salve, Nose Drops Headache, 30 min.
Try "Rub-My-Tism"-Worlds Best Linctum

FREE! to sufferers of
STOMACH ULCERS HYPERACIDITY
Willard's Message of Relief PRICELESS INFORMATION for those suffering from STOMACH OR DUODENAL ULCERS, DUE TO HYPER-ACIDITY—POOR DIGESTION, ACID
DYSPEPSIA, SOUR STOMACH, CASI-NESS, HEARTBURN, CONSTIPATION, BAD BREATH, SLEEPLESSNESS OR HEADACHES, DUE TO EXCESS ACID.
Explains the marvelous Willard Trear- ment which is bringing amazing relief.
Sold on 15 days trial.
Holmes Drug Co., Baird
Windham's Drug Store, Oplin

Personal

Mrs. W. B. Atchison and Mrs. Haynie Gilliland left Wednesday for Austin to visit Judson Atchison.

Mrs. Helary Windham of Oplin is quite sick at the home of Rev. J. R.
Mayes. Her sister, Mrs. Joe Warren is attending her.

Mrs. Marvin Terry and children of
Ft. Worth are visiting Mr. and Mrs.
J. McLaughlen at their home west of Baird.

Mrs. J. M. Monroe and daughters,
Misses Jewell and Mandie Faye of Teague spent the past week end in Baird.

Misses Marian and Ruth Dyer and Miss Iva Nelle Bockman spent Sunday with Miss Adelle Bockman at Eula.

Mrs. Fred Sexton of Oklahoma
City is visiting her sister Mrs. Lee Champron. The ladies are spending the week in Baird.

Mrs. Homer Price and little son
T. R. left Thursday of last week for their home in Hobbs, N. M. T. R. is recovering from a severe illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Jones left Tuesday afternoon for Kress in response to a message that Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. Alex Williams, a former resident of the Midway community was seriously ill.

Mrs. Laura Smith who has been with her daughter, Mrs. M. B. Kline, who has been ill for some time, was taken suddenly ill Monday night with a hemorrhage of the lungs and is yet in a serious condition. Willie Robinson and other members of the family are at her bedside.

Miss Donna Carter, who is teaching in the Lindale public school came in yesterday morning to spend Thanksgiving with her grandmother
Mrs. Henry Lambert and family.

Dr. H. H. Ramsey, Abilene; Miss
Ella Moore Seale, Belle Plain; Mrs.
Dolph Hodges, Tecumseh; H. W.
Jones, Rt. 2 Clyde; Mrs. J. McLaugh-len, Baird; B. L. Boydston, Baird;
Mrs. J. O. Moore, St. Louis, Mo.;
Mrs. W. H. Green, Baird; W. A. Sikes
Rt. 2 Clyde have added their names to The Star's subscription honor roll the past week. Pay your subscription now and save 50 cents on each subscription.

WANT FAMILY WASHINGS 50c per bundle. Ironing, 35c per dozen.
6 Blks. West of Main St. on Highway
51-1f. Mrs. Hattie Reno.

ABILENE REPORTER-NEWS, delivered morning and evening. See C.
W. Conner

GROCERY SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY

- FLOUR, 48 lb. Sack $1.45
- SUGAR, 10 lb. 52c
- LARD, 4 lb. 49c
- PORK and BEANS, 4 Cans 25c
- TOMATOES, 4 Cans 25c

—Other Groceries At SPECIAL PRICES—
Full Line Fresh Fruits and Vegetables
We Buy Your CREAM—CHICKENS—EGGS
We Sell You Groceries Meats and Feed
—Your business always appreciated—

W. B. BARRETT & SON
Groceries, Market, Produce & Cream Station

"THANKS A MILLION"
FOR MORE THAN A MILLION

America has bought 1,130,000 Chevrolets during the past twelve months, thereby giving Chevrolet the greatest year in its history and the greatest measure of buyer preference it has ever enjoyed.

CHEVROLET The builders of Chevrolet are thankful for many things, but most of all for the warm friendship of the American people.

And so again at this Thanksgiving season we say, "Thank you, America," for you have given Chevrolet a measure of good-will without parallel in the annals of modern industry.

Consider, for a moment, all that you have done to inspire Chevrolet's appreciation during the past twelve months:

You have purchased 1,130,000 Chevrolets; you have made Chevrolet your favorite car for the seventh time in the past ten years; you have given Chevrolet strong preference in every section of the country; you have conferred this same high honor upon Chevrolet trucks by purchasing more than 205,000 commercial units; you have made 1936 the most successful year in all Chevrolet history.

And now, to climax these expressions of friendship, you are displaying even more marked preference for the new Chevrolet for 1937.

It is difficult to express adequate appreciation for gifts so great and so generous as these.

All we can say is, "Thanks a million" for more than a million cars in 1936; and all we can do is offer you the still finer Chevrolet of 1937 in return for the finest friendship ever bestowed upon any motor car manufacturer.

CHEVROLET MOTOR COMPANY, DETROIT, MICHIGAN

The Complete Car - Completely New
New CHEVROLET 1937

Priced as low as $480

Base at Dearborn Plant.
Tax, Delivery and Handling, Bumpers, Spare Tire and Accessories additional.

New models that give decidedly increased gasoline mileage

New and more beautiful body designs . . . all models same wheelbase, same body size.

NEW FORD V-8's

*The Brilliant '85"
The Thrifty '60"*

Base price of 85 h.p. De Luxe Ford
Touring Sedan shown above is $665.

● The 1937 Ford V-8's are here! . . . with sweeping improvements that mean finer performance, more comfort, and economy. Call on us today . . . See and drive America's most modern low-priced cars! YOUR FORD DEALER

SMOOTHER, QUIETER V-8 ENGINES!—
Now offered in two sizes.

EASY-ACTION SAFETY BRAKES!—Self-energizing operation. Greater stopping power, with easier, softer pedal action.

ALL-STEEL SAFETY BODIES!—Steel top, sides, floor, welded into a single all-steel unit. Rubber-mounted and fully insulated.

STILL FINER RIDING QUALITY!—Rear seat now 7 inches forward of axle.
ALSO!—Easier shockless steering—improved engine cooling—rich wood-grain finish on inside trim —smart new upholstery treatment in all models—huge new luggage compartments—clear-vision "V" windshields that open —Safety Glass throughout—more for your money to the last detail!

BUILT IN TEXAS BY TEXAS LABOR

AUTHORIZED FORD FINANCE PLANS
$25 a month, after usual down-payment, buys any model
1937 Ford V-8
car. Ask your Ford dealer about the easy payment plans of the Universal Credit Company.

EARL JOHNSON MOTOR COMPANY

Authorized Dealers

PHONE 218

BAIRD, TEXAS

GRIGGS HOSPITAL

X-Ray Laboratory and Special Diagnosis

DR. R. L. GRIGGS

Local Surgeon T. & P. Railway Co. Physician and Surgeon

DR. RAY COCKRELL Physician and Surgeon

Office Phone 340 BAIRD, TEXAS

TOM B. HADLEY

CHIROPRACTOR

14 Years' Practice in Baird Since August 15, 1922

Office: Three blocks east of Court House on Bankhead Highway

Phone 89

Otis Bowyer, Jr.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

REAGAN & BOWYER

1507 First National Bank Building

Phone 2-2066 DALLAS, TEXAS

Blanton, Blanton & Blanton

LAWYERS

Suite 710, Alexander Building Abilene, Texas

Albany National Bank Building Albany, Texas

THOMAS L. BLANTON

MATHEWS BLANTON

THOMAS L. BLANTON, Jr.

Wylie Funeral Home

AMBULANCE SERVICE

Lady Embalmer and Attendant

Flowers for All Occasions

Phone 65 or 225 BAIRD, TEXAS

L. L. BLACKBURN

LAWYER

BAIRD, TEXAS

Jackson Abstract Company

RUPERT JACKSON, Manager

BAIRD, TEXAS

OTIS BOWYER

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Office in Odd Fellows Building

BAIRD, TEXAS

Dr. M. C. McGowen

DENTIST X-RAY

Office, First State Bank Building

BAIRD, TEXAS

V. E. HILL

DENTIST

Office: Upstairs, Telephone Building

BAIRD, TEXAS

Dr. S. P. Rumph

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON

County Health Officer

Res. 143 —Phones— Office 63

If No Answer, Call 11

STAR DUST Movie • Radio

By VIRGINIA VALE

IT'S said that Fred Astaire has been much upset over the fact that his radio programs haven't come up to expectations. In fact, it's reported that he wanted to drop the whole thing—but just try to get out of a contract to broadcast, once you're in it! He's continuing—and if they'll just give him the right scripts to work with there's no reason why he shouldn't be tremendously successful.

You may recall that Maurice Chevalier felt that same way about his broadcasts—but they were popularly considered flops right to the last, if the opinion of the great American public that stayed home and listened to them counts for anything. Al Jolson was pretty unhappy about his first programs, but he gritted his teeth and went right on.

Clark Gable abandoned his New York vacation after three days of being almost torn apart by autograph seekers and enthusiastic fans, and Carole Lombard didn't even start for the East after hearing what had happened to him.

Clark Gable

Incidentally, during his brief stay in New York a girl who's part of the movie business there noticed a man on the street who looked very much like the famous Clark — face, figure, even clothes bore a strong resemblance. The only difficulty was that he was blacked up—she insists that the man was a white man who'd used burnt cork.

There's a new radio program on a coast-to-coast hookup that ought to interest everybody who has ideas for such programs. It was originated by Octavus Roy Cohen, the famous story writer, and it's called "Agony Column." It is based on letters from people who write in giving problems they want solved.

For instance, here's an example. A boy wrote in, saying that for years he had been searching for the perfect girl. He met her on a cruise. They didn't even tell their names—just used silly nicknames. But—the ship was the Morro Castle, which caught fire at sea two years ago, causing the loss of so many lives. He doesn't know whether she was saved or not. They were to tell their real names when they landed. So he doesn't even know her name. And he wants to find her.

If you hadn't realized how rapidly Robert Taylor has climbed the rungs of the ladder leading to movie popularity, just consider the fact that he has signed a new seven-year contract which will bring him $2,000 a week at first, and during the last two years will add $5,000 to his bank account each week. All this as the result of a year's work—for until a year or so ago he was just a minor player. Small wonder that ambitious youngsters want to go into the movie!

Ruth Chatterton's buying a new plane; she just can't get enough of flying when she pilots her own. Incidentally, doesn't she do a grand piece of work in "Dodsworth"? Never has she given a better performance. And of course it's an exceptionally good picture—the kind that makes audiences applaud when it turns out the way they want it to.

It's reported that James Cagney has had so much difficulty with his first picture made under his new affiliations that he'd be glad to bury the hatchet and go back to working for Warner Brothers.

Which brings up the fact that Bette Davis has shown that she can take it. After losing her legal fight with Warner Brothers and being forbidden to make pictures in England, she announced that she'd come home and go back to work as if there had never been any trouble.

ODDS AND ENDS: . . . Greta Garbo certainly has changed; she goes to parties occasionally weekdays. . . She may do a modern picture to follow "Camille," before she gets into costume for "Beloved," which is laid in the time of Napoleon. . . If you think Colonel Stoopnagle and Budd sound a bit breathless when they begin their broadcasts, remember that they've probably been practicing jig steps to Don Voorhees' music by way of warming up. . . Paramount plans to have Bing Crosby make pictures with plots, and sing just incidentally, from now on. . . At least one of the big motion picture companies has been signing up young actors and actresses on 30-day contracts—but paying them no money; just keeping them from signing with anyone else, while the company decides whether to use them or not.

© Western Newspaper Union.

JEALOUSY THE PITFALL OF THE MARRIED THIRTIES

You've grown away from me, Harold," she presently finds opportunity to say to him tremblingly. "Oh, yes you have; don't try to deny it! You never want to do anything with me any more."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS WHEN women speak of jealousy in marriage they usually think of that rather flattering and exciting condition of affairs when the adoring male smashes china and grinds his teeth while muttering: "You shan't dance with him again, you provoking little beauty, or I'll break every bone in your exquisite body!"

This is the jealousy of movies and novels. Many a wife of a quiet, reasonable, unjealous husband secretly wishes that something of this sort would break the calm of her domestic security. It might be rather fun to be married to a jealous brute for a while.

"He's insanely jealous!" reiterates the idiot girl in "June Moon" complacently. The audience suspects by this time that the man is completely done with her, but she goes on with her placid repetition. "He's insanely jealous!"

Women rather like to think their men are jealous; jealous in that exciting, dramatic way that is a tacit way of saying: "All the other men admire my wife. But not one of them can get her away from me!"

But this isn't real jealousy. This, like so many of the other things we take seriously when we are young and in love, is only one more mask held up before the deceitful face of Mother Nature. It is one more maneuver to make men and women attractive to each other. Courtship is full of these little deceptions; his sweetheart's stammer will enchant a man, her business inefficiencies amuse him, her tardiness seems to him just an indication that she is no more than a delightful baby. But in a wife, stammering and extravagance and tardiness somehow lose their charm.

And so with jealousy. A piquant sauce for the engagement, it proves much too hot a seasoning for the everyday fare of matrimony. It becomes tiresome, stupid, cumbersome, a continual annoyance—an unnecessary trial added to the real problems of life. The wives of jealous men carry a double burden—they have to give up much that would be pleasant and valuable in their lives; friendships, contacts, responsibilities, opportunities for self-expression and development must all be sacrificed. "Because you know how Harold is. It makes him perfectly WRETCHED to have me interested in anything but him."

But the husbands of jealous women have an even harder time. Women are more often jealous than men; they have more imagination when they are jealous, and they have more time to think about it. The result—or rather one result of this state of affairs—is the shoal of letters I receive from completely wretched wives.

Completely wretched because jealousy is really an insidious poison, actually affecting the body, causing a total upset of the digestive and eliminative functions and a sort of flurry of the brain. Women, seized by a jealous rage, temporarily go mad. They watch, listen, search for evidence in a sort of silent fury; everything the most innocent man does or says is construed into a damaging admission. The woman loses all her charm, all serenity, all reason. She defeats her own ends by making herself homely, dull, unattractive.

Even worse than this occasional burst of sex-jealousy is that more subtle form the green-eyed monster takes when a wife becomes jealous of her husband's life. Not of any other woman, particularly, not of his mother or sister or old-sweetheart friend; but of everything. This phase usually comes along in the thirties. A woman's life is full of physiological and psychological crises, and this is one of them. Having had everything her own way for thirty-five years, she feels a sudden lull in her affairs, and when she realizes that that lull has not come to her husband she resents the situation, and acute and sometimes fatal jealousy is the result.

Her household is running smoothly, her children are in schools, her life is bounded by a comfortable home, a car, a club, buying heavy clothes in autumn, light clothes in spring, making club reports and hospital calls, selecting Christmas presents and ordering dinners, growing older every minute—good heavens, how boring it all is! Her friends are all doing the same thing. There's no escape; the joy and glamour and excitement of life are over, and she is just that nice Mrs. Harold Baker whose little girls are finishing grammar school.

Profoundly discontent, she looks at her partner, that pleasant young Harold Baker that she met at Rhoda's fifteen years ago, and perceives, to her resentment, that he is just reaching the point when life is all pleasant and satisfying to him. The business that was for so many years a question of hard work and humiliations, is running more smoothly; Baker is one of our best men, Baker is the man for the promotion. The children, who used to cause such anxious consultations, whose coughs and measles and bumps and naughtiness broke in to so many plans by day and so many hours of sleep by night, are friendly little craft sailing their own waters now.

He plays good bridge, his golf at least provides endless hours of companionship with his kind in the open air, he goes on business trips, hunting, fishing week-ends. He goes to stag dinners at the club. Healthy and interested and busy, in his richest, most invigorated mood, he comes down to a pale, fretted wife at breakfast. He's going to lunch with Smith and clinch that order, he's going up with Jones to look at that new club site; they'll get a bite of dinner at the club. He hahas over the day's comic strip; he approves of the stock market; he has a little flirtation with his younger daughter, who ends it with an, "I love you, Dad," that sends him away humming.

His wife looks on at all this with a jaundiced eye. Stag dinners and lodge meetings and golf games and bridge clubs indeed!

"You've grown away from me, Harold," she presently finds opportunity to say to him tremblingly. "Oh, yes you have; don't deny it! You never want to do anything with me any more. I'm at home with the children, cooking and making beds—"

This goes on for a long time. It makes the man uncomfortable; he knows it isn't fair somehow, but he doesn't know what to do about it. It makes the woman even more miserable than she was, and, having manufactured the situation, she proceeds to enlarge upon it until she feels like an actual martyr because she is self-centered and jealous, and her husband happens to be a normal human being who has earned his freedom, earned his recreations and satisfactions, and is enjoying them.

The answer is that we women have to adjust ourselves to the changing conditions of our lives once in about every ten years. We have to examine our own souls severely, in the light of truth and common sense, and ask ourselves if we are behaving like women or like fools. We have to put gold into the bank of life before we can begin to draw upon it. No use, at thirty-three, to long to be the bride of twenty-three again, or the girl of thirteen, or the toddling baby of three. We have to go on!

What is that gold? Well, to some of us it seems more precious than ever the younger coin did. It is the gold of a ripely developed character, in the years that are the very bloom of womanhood. It is the gold of a life that sings; sings over garden work or the writing of poetry, sings over picnics with the dear brown, long-legged children who are growing up so fast; sings in contact with other lives—a mother's, sisters' friends' lives, and takes its part in helping them. Any woman, with the usual equipment of a child or two and a car and good neighbors, can become so busy that she will listen but abstractedly to her husband's planning; happy to be included when she is included, secretly a little grateful when she is left free for her own all-important activities.

Why admit to a man that you want more of his time and interest than it is natural for him to give you? Why have so little pride? Why acknowledge that your happiness depends upon someone else, that you are not equal to solving the problem that each one of us must eventually meet alone?

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Smiles

Candlesticks He—No two people ever think alike. She—Ah, but just wait until you see our wedding presents.

Oh the Wailing "And what if you did lose a six-pence on a horse?" "It's nae only mase! There's sax of us in it."

Yes, Where? Policeman—Pull up to the curb. Motorist—Yes, sir. Where is the nearest vacant one?—Atlanta Constitution.

Skip It! First Tramp—Is this town any good? Second Tramp—No, I'd say not! I had four jobs offered me in one day.

He's the Barrie Dorothy—But, Mother, why do you object to my becoming engaged? Is it because of my youth? Mother—Yes, he's hopeless. —Pathfinder.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv)

YOU CAN THROW CARDS IN HIS FACE ONCE TOO OFTEN

WHEN you have those awful cramps; when your nerves are all on edge—don't take it out on the man you love. Your husband can't possibly know how you feel for the simple reason that he is a man. A three-quarter wife may be no wife at all if she nags her husband seven days out of every month. For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three criticals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age." Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

Tolerable Fellow

There is a kind of likable self-made man who makes excuses for it.

Up in the Morning Feeling Fine!

The refreshing relief so many folks say they get by taking Black-Draught for constipation makes them enthusiastic about this famous pure-ly vegetable laxative. Black-Draught puts the digestive tract in better condition to act regularly every day, without your continually having to take medicine to move the bowels. Next time, be sure to try

BLACK-DRAUGHT A GOOD LAXATIVE

Firm Answer A short and firm answer gives one a rest from long annoyance.

RELIEF FROM PAIN & COLDS

The original Cellophane wrapped genuine pure aspirin. WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 10c St. Joseph GENUINE PURE ASPIRIN

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

The cows can stay outdoors all day In meadows green and sweet. They live in gorgeous scenery But all they do is eat. WNU Service.

WNU Service.

Dine In Comfort

For real pleasurable dining there's no substitute for the combination of good food, cooked to a delicious flavor. Courteous service. Drop in for lunch or meals.

QUALITY CAFE

ESTES & ESTES, Proprietors

SAM GILLILAND

BETTER

Sheet Metal and Plumbing

Sinks, Bath Tubs, Gas Stoves Electrical Wiring

BAIRD SEWER COMPANY OFFICE

ALL PATRONS OF THE BAIRD SEWER COMPANY ARE REQUESTED TO PAY THEIR SEWER BILLS AT THIS OFFICE

League Speeches

Speeches are translated at the League of Nations meetings in Geneva through the use of a speech translator. Wires connected with a microphone in front of the speaker carry his voice to expert translators, each of whom can translate the language used into a second language. These interpreters speak into telephones connected with earphones on delegates' desks. By turning a knob they can hear the language they understand.

How Many Pennies Your Child's Life?

Don't Try to "Save" on Home Remedies—Ask Your Doctor

There is one point, on which practically all doctors agree. That is: Don't give your child unknown remedies without asking your doctor first.

All mothers know this. But sometimes the instinct to save a few pennies by buying "something just as good" overcomes caution.

When it comes to the widely used children's remedy—"milk of magnesia"—many doctors for over half a century have said "PHILLIPS." For Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is the standard of the world. Safe for children.

Keep this in mind, and say "PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA" when you buy. Comes now, also in tablet form. Get the form you prefer. But see that what you get is labeled "Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia." 25¢ for a big box of the tablets at drug stores.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM:

Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

Fear, Hope and Care
Man must have some fears, hopes, and cares, for the coming morrow.—Schiller.

Miss REE LEEF says:

'CAPUDINE relieves HEADACHE quicker because it's liquid... already dissolved'

Strength in Adversity
If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is small.—Proverbs.

CHEST COLD HAD HIM IN AGONY

Found Amazing RELIEF from PAIN
No need to suffer agony of muscular aches and pains! Thousands report wonderful soothing relief with Hamlin's Wizard Oil. Just rub it on—rub it in. Acts quick. Relieves that terrible soreness. Loosens up stiff, aching muscles. Has a pleasant odor. Will not stain clothes. At all druggists.

HAMLIN'S WIZARD OIL
For MUSCULAR ACHES AND PAINS
Due to RHEUMATISM NEURALGIA LUMBAGO CHEST COLDS

Rid Yourself of Kidney Poisons

Do you suffer burning, scanty or too frequent urination; backache, headache, dizziness, loss of energy, leg pains, swellings and puffiness under the eyes? Are you tired, nervous—feel all unstrung and don't know what is wrong?

Then give some thought to your kidneys. Be sure they function properly for functional kidney disorder permits excess waste to stay in the blood, and to poison and upset the whole system.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They are recommended the world over. You can get the genuine, time-tested Doan's at any drug store.

DOAN'S PILLS

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, Dean of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. © Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for November 29 CHRISTIAN BROTHERHOOD

LESSON TEXT—Philemon 4-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—There is neither bond nor free...for ye all are one in Christ Jesus. Galatians 3:28.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul's Shortest Letter.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul's Shortest Letter.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Slave Becomes a Brother.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christ Transforming Social Relationships.

Letters are always interesting, and especially so when they bring good news. The brief epistle to Philemon is one of unusual charm. Paul writes to Philemon, a Christian brother in Colosse, to inform him that he is sending back to him Onesimus, who was apparently Philemon's brother (v. 16) but who had through misfortune and sin (vv. 18, 19) become a slave. Evidently, he had stolen from Philemon what he needed to enable him to run away, and had ultimately come to Rome.

Having reached this great city he no doubt was satisfied that he had placed himself beyond the reach of anyone who knew him. But he had reckoned without God, who not only knew where he was (see Ps. 139: 7-12) but also what he needed. He is brought into touch with the imprisoned apostle, Paul, and through his ministry the fugitive slave becomes a "brother beloved in the Lord" (v. 16). How marvelous is the grace of God, and how patiently he deals with those who attempt to flee even from his love!

Our study of this epistle centers around four great words.

I. Appreciation (vv. 4-8).
After an introductory word Paul speaks of his love for Philemon, his appreciation of the latter's hospitality, his fellowship, and his faith.

Is Paul flattering his friend in order that he may grant his request? Certainly not, but he is expressing his true feelings toward a faithful brother. We need a revival of Christian courtesy and appreciation of one another.

The man who thinks that he must show that he is true to Christ by treating others with boorish rudeness needs to learn a new lesson from the Lord himself, and from his Word.

II. Consideration (vv. 9-14).
Paul could have kept silent, and encouraged Onesimus to remain with him. He needed help (v. 13) but without the consent of Philemon he would not keep Onesimus (v. 14). At the same time he reminds Philemon very tactfully that he owes them both loving consideration.

We have here a striking illustration of the candor and considerate thoughtfulness which should characterize the dealings of Christians with one another. We need to put away careless trampling upon the rights of others in order that our work may go forward.

III. Brotherhood (vv. 15-16).
The fact of regeneration does not change a man's social status so far as the world is concerned, but within the circle of God's household he becomes a "brother beloved." Let us look less at the accidents of circumstance, education, or birth, which differ and rather magnify the family relationship, for all who are born again are brethren.

IV. Partnership (vv. 17-20).
Paul counted Philemon not only a benefactor and a brother, but a partner in the great enterprise of God on earth. Partners share both joys and sorrows, gains and losses. They stand by in the hour of need, they plan and labor, weep and rejoice together. One wonders what might be accomplished for Christ if all Christians would accord one another even the ordinary considerations of partnership.

It should be noted in closing that verses 17 and 18 present an illustration of the great doctrine of imputation. The wrong of Onesimus was to be charged to Paul, and Paul's standing with Philemon is the basis of his acceptance of Onesimus. Even so the righteousness of Christ is imputed to the believer, because our sins have been laid upon him. What a wonderful Saviour!

A Mother's Love
No language can express the power and beauty and heroism and majesty of a mother's love. It shrinks not where man cowers, and grows stronger where man faints, and over the wastes of worldly fortune sends the radiance of its quenchless fidelity like a star in heaven.—E. H. Chapin.

Spare Hours
Bind together your spare hours by the cord of some definite purpose, and you know not how much you may accomplish. Gather up the fragments of time, that nothing may be lost.—W. A. Taylor.

Humble Deeds
The humblest deeds, prompted by a pure and unselfish motive, measure larger in God's sight than apparently much greater deeds which are done to be seen of men and for the aggrandizement of self.—Gunn.

"The Man Who-O-O"
Tales and Traditions from American Political History
By FRANK E. HAGEN and ELMO SCOTT WATSON

A CANDIDATE "ANNOUNCES"
ON THE morning of April 4, 1900, the New York World printed what has been described as "one of the most curious announcements of a presidential candidacy ever made, one of the most naive declarations ever given out by any man who had even the briefest parts in American politics."

Admiral George Dewey, the "Hero of Manila," had given an interview in which he said in part: "If the American people want me for this high office, I shall be only too willing to serve them. Since studying this subject I am convinced that the office of the President is not such a very difficult one to fill, his duties being mainly to execute the laws of Congress. Should I be chosen for this exalted position I would execute the laws of Congress as faithfully as I have always executed the orders of my superior."

"Not such a difficult office to fill," indeed! That was a jolt to the hero-worshipping American public. Already it had begun to suspect that its idol had feet of clay. It had gone wild over his victory in the Philippines. Upon his return to America, it gave him the reception such as few conquering heroes had. It had built a triumphal arch in his honor in New York and had raised money to buy a house in Washington for him. Not long after his return, he had taken a second wife who was much younger than he was and he had deeded the gift house to her. That didn't sit so well with his worshippers, nor did the social ambitions of his new wife. Moreover, a matter of religious prejudice was injected into the gossip about the Deweys.

Dewey had been approached on the subject of being a candidate for President and had disclaimed any such ambition. But a "Stop Bryan!" element in the Democratic party had persisted in promoting his candidacy and at last he yielded to the temptation.

Then he made his amazing announcement and the public immediately turned against him. Where he had been previously praised, he was now ridiculed. His candidacy was generally characterized as the "climax to a series of unfortunate mistakes." As quickly as that candidacy had blossomed, it withered. America apparently would elect a military hero President, as witness William Henry Harrison, Zachary Taylor and Ulysses S. Grant. But, as for a naval hero,—George Dewey was the first, and so far, the last, to find out that a sea dog isn't wanted in the White House!

A STURDY CAMPAIGNER
THERE is a physical side to this business of campaigning for the presidency.

In the earlier days, candidates went personally into the hinterlands, making, not one-night stands but brief pauses interrupted to move on to a newer and perhaps more fertile field. It was a tremendous strain on them physically. Today, with improved travel accommodations and the help of radio, campaigning is not the arduous task of former years, but it has its moments.

William Jennings Bryan, torch bearer of extraordinary record in politics, doubtless is the man who proved the sturdiest campaigner of them all. And even he almost broke down.

Bryan was physically fit and energetic when he first stumped the country in 1896, bearing his cross of gold. He insisted on patronizing the local trains, riding in the day coaches at the outset of his tour.

In that campaign, Bryan delivered as many as 20 speeches a day, a great part of them from the rear of his slow-moving train. In Tennessee his throat began to balk. When this was known, many curatives were pressed upon him. One bottle of a remedy for hoarseness was tested by Benton McMillen of Tennessee and found to contain a caustic fluid which might have injured Bryan permanently.

It was toward the end of that campaign that Bryan began to approach exhaustion. He had completed a three-days' series of speeches in Chicago. Despite his splendid physique, the strain began to tell. He was scheduled to travel north of Chicago when his "loop" engagements were ended. But so trying had been the requirements of his tour that it was necessary to delay the start of the party for more than two hours.

Earliest Settlements
Newport and Portsmouth share with Providence the distinction of being the earliest settlements. After Roger Williams settled at Providence in 1639 another band of religious "outcasts" from Massachusetts, under the leadership of William Coddington and Anne Hutchinson, settled at Portsmouth in 1638. When dissension broke out in this colony William Coddington and a group moved on to Newport in 1639.

Lovely and Inexpensive

A MONG other things to be thankful for in this land of peace and plenty, think how pleasant it is to be able to procure such lovely patterns so conveniently and so inexpensively. No longer is style the perquisite of wealth alone; every woman can look and be at her best in any company, thanks to Sewing Circle patterns.

Pattern 1981, a youthful lounging or sleeping pajama, features a nobby, cutaway peplum and comfortably cut trousers. There is an easy yoke, a cleverly cut collar, and a choice of long or short sleeves. Why not make them twice in alternate materials? The size range, 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 (34 bust) requires 5 yards of 39 inch material.

Pattern 1852 fashions into an adorable little frock which will make small eyes dance and sparkle. Just eight pieces to the pattern, including the band and facings, you can run it up in a jiffy and have a perfect gift for your daughter. Send for it in size 2, 4, 6, or 8 years. Material selection—dimity or swiss or voile or crepe or gingham. Size 4 requires just 2 1-8 yds. of 35 or 39 inch.

Pattern 1970 is a comely and graceful morning or daytime frock for matron sizes, the sort that goes on in a hurry and wears well without a lot of fuss and bother. The jacket is softly feminine and the panelled skirt is cut along lines every larger woman appreciates. The collar and cuffs are in contrast, if you wish, and the selection of materials is practically unlimited. This lovely pattern is available in all of the following sizes—36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, and 52. Size 40 requires 4 3-8 yards of 35 or 39 inch fabric plus 3-4 yd. contrast.

Send for the Barbara Bell Fall Pattern Book containing 100 well-planned, easy-to-make patterns. Exclusive fashions for children, young women, and matrons. Send fifteen cents in coins for your copy.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., 367 W. Adams St., Chicago, Ill. Price of patterns, 15 cents (in coins) each. © Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Pattern 1352, a youthful lounging or sleeping pajama, features a nobby, cutaway peplum and comfortably cut trousers. There is an easy yoke, a cleverly cut collar, and a choice of long or short sleeves. Why not make them twice in alternate materials? The size range, 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 (34 bust) requires 5 yards of 39 inch material.

Pattern 1852 fashions into an adorable little frock which will make small eyes dance and sparkle. Just eight pieces to the pattern, including the band and facings, you can run it up in a jiffy and have a perfect gift for your daughter. Send for it in size 2, 4, 6, or 8 years. Material selection—dimity or swiss or voile or crepe or gingham. Size 4 requires just 2 1-8 yds. of 35 or 39 inch.

Pattern 1970 is a comely and graceful morning or daytime frock for matron sizes, the sort that goes on in a hurry and wears well without a lot of fuss and bother. The jacket is softly feminine and the panelled skirt is cut along lines every larger woman appreciates. The collar and cuffs are in contrast, if you wish, and the selection of materials is practically unlimited. This lovely pattern is available in all of the following sizes—36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, and 52. Size 40 requires 4 3-8 yards of 35 or 39 inch fabric plus 3-4 yd. contrast.

Send for the Barbara Bell Fall Pattern Book containing 100 well-planned, easy-to-make patterns. Exclusive fashions for children, young women, and matrons. Send fifteen cents in coins for your copy.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., 367 W. Adams St., Chicago, Ill. Price of patterns, 15 cents (in coins) each. © Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Movies Real to Savages

A dog actor made a hit with natives of Papua when they saw their first movie. It was a comedy and ended with a bull dog chasing a burglar all over the landscape. The natives, convinced the dog was real, promptly passed the hat and offered the cinema proprietor $25 for it.

Equanimity

TRY it for a day, I beseech you, to preserve yourself in an easy and cheerful frame of mind. Be but for one day, instead of a fire-worshiper of passion, the sun-worshiper of clear self possessions, and compare the day in which you have allowed it to grow up; and you will find your heart open to every good motive, your life strengthened, and your breast armed with a panoply against every trick of fate; truly you will wonder at your own improvement.—Richter.

Happiness should be shared.

FROM COAST-TO-COAST ...WOMEN PREFER THESE

FINER FLAVORED

Southern SOUPS

Please the menfolks in your family with this "different" kind of vegetable soup from the "Heart of Maryland." The land of terrapin and fried chicken!... the land of grand old Dixie recipes and wonderful Southern cooking! Phillips Delicious Southern Vegetable Soup is winning the country. It's chock-full of vegetables picked fresh from sunny Maryland gardens! It's savory with the just-right cooking and seasoning that Maryland cooks know how to give!

Get Phillips Delicious Vegetable Soup from your grocer tomorrow morning. Serve it for dinner—see your husband's smile of pleasure—hear him say, "the best I ever tasted!"

PHILLIPS Delicious SOUPS

VEGETABLE—AND 15 OTHER DELICIOUS KINDS!

Uncle Phil Says:

The Mark Stays

Gossip is like mud thrown against a clean wall; it may not stick but it leaves a mark. Things that "cannot be done" are done within the following twenty years.

Be natural, borrowed garments seldom fit well.

There are people who think they are observant, who can't tell you offhand what are the pictures on a one-dollar bill or a five-dollar bill.

Ability to Profit

There is sometimes much ability in knowing how to profit by good advice.

Silence is the wisest argument of the ignorant man and the wise man can frequently use it to advantage.

A girl's no-hope chest is one that begins to accumulate interest-bearing bonds.

THE ONLY COUGH DROP WHICH HELPS BUILD UP YOUR ALKALINE RESERVE
LU DEN'S
MENTHOL COUGH DROPS 5¢
ON THE AIR
Jimmie Fidler
WITH
HOT NEWS FROM HOLLYWOOD!
Tuesday 10:33 P. M., E. S. T., N. E. C. Red Network

Character First
"Safety first" is a good motto, except when character is involved.

Relieve reddened EYES
MORLINE
FOR EYES

Wordless Superiority
Some people can be effectively "superior" without saying a word.

DRESS HAIR EASILY
Rub a little pure, snow-white Moroline into your hair and see how neatly it stays in place. 10c size contains 3½ times as much as the 5c size. Get Moroline at your dealers.

MOROLINE
SNOW WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

REMEDIES
Neuritis and Rheumatic Sufferers. Guaranteed relief in 4 days or your money refunded at once. Send 41 to BOX 4, Louisville, Ky.

POULTRY
Baby Started Chick—Positively guaranteed—Hatched in Missouri, conditioned in Texas. Reasonable in price and ready for immediate shipment. Write or wire BARBER'S QUALITY STARTED CHICKS, 811 West Davis at Tyler, Dallas Texas.

Announcing

JONES DRY GOODS

ANNUAL SUPER EVENT--- GREAT

DEC. SALE

SALE OPENS FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 27

One Lot Fast Color Prints 9^c	One Lot Boys Suede Jackets 98^c	One Lot Extra Heavy 36in. Outing 10^c	One Lot PURE Silk Hose 47^c	THESE PRICES ARE FOR : CASH ONLY-Positively : NO CHARGES AND NO APPROVALS	One Lot Ladies' Fall Felt Hats 49^c	One Lot 35c Ringless Hose 27^c
-------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------------------------------------

- $2.95 Best Grade Sanforized
Khaki Suits
While They Last
$2.39
- Men's Moleskin
Pants
$1.59
- One Lot Men's
Work Shirts
46c
- One Lot Men's Dress Shirts
74c
- One Lot Ladies'
House Shoes
32c
- 400 Yards
Clark's O.N.T. Thread
8c
- One Lot Men's Winter
Union Suits
75c
- One Lot Men's Work Pants
Good Grade
85c
- One Lot New
Velveteens
58c Yd.

New Holiday Goods Just Arrived.
ALL REDUCED

GIFTS for HIM

Ties Suits
Hats
Hose
Shoes
Shirts
Scarfs
Gloves
Jackets
Pajamas
Sweaters
Bill Folds
Bath Robes
House Slippers
Underwear Sets
Supporters Sets
Handkerchief Sets

BARGAINS

GIFTS for HER

Hats
Hose
Gloves
Shoes
Robes
Coats
Towels
Purses
Dresses
Pajamas
Blankets
Brassiers
Bloomers
Scarf Sets
Linen Sets
Bed Spreads
Handkerchiefs

TOYS OF ALL KINDS AT REDUCED PRICES | GIFTS OF ALL KINDS AT REDUCED PRICES

- Humming Bird Full Fashion
Pure Silk Hose
$1.00 Grade 79c
$1.35 Grade 98c
$1.75 Grade $1.49
- $600.00 Stock To Choose From
- One Lot Men's
Suede Shirts
69c
- Boys' Best
Grade
Union Suits
48c
- One Lot
$1.00 Long
Sleeve Wash
DRESSES
69c
Sizes 14 to 52
- Best Grade
6 Oz. TICK
16c
- One Lot
Ladies'
OXFORDS
New Styles
$1.39
- One Lot
Children's BOOTS
$1.98
Broken Sizes
- DRESS PATTERNS
2 For
25c
- One Lot Men's Dress Socks
10c
- One Lot Boy's
Dress Pants
Reduced. New Patterns and Colors.
- $1.25 Newest
Patterns In Men's Dress Shirts
98c
- One Lot Men's OXFORDS
$1.88
- 3 Pounds
COTTON
36c
Heat Treated

BARGAINS IN OUR FALL AND WINTER DRESSES

One Lot $4.95—Sale $3.79

One Lot $6.95—Sale $4.98

One Lot $9.95—Sale $7.98

One Lot $12.95—Sale $8.98

One Lot $16.50—Sale $12.98

ALL LADIES' FALL COATS AT BARGAINS

One Lot $5.95 $4.89

One Lot $12.50 $8.79

One Lot $16.50 $13.89

One Lot $22.50 $16.79

New Shipment Spring Coats
Just Arrived.

All Men's Wool Dress Pants At REDUCED PRICES | One Lot Woolen Goods, 56 Inches Wide 89c

These Prices Are For CASH ONLY-Positively
NO CHARGES
AND NO APPROVALS

We now have one of the largest Shoe Stocks that has been in Baird for years; in fact; we are over-stocked. In order to reduce our stock we have slashed the prices. SHOES AT BARGAINS

Be Sure To See Our Bargains In MEN'S HATS
New Styles And Colors

WE SHOW THE NEW THINGS FIRST

ALL LADIES' HATS
Regardless Of Former Prices—
98c and $1.49
These Are REAL Bargains

JONES DRY GOODS

BAIRD, TEXAS