The Knox City Independent School District Vocational and Early Childhood Education Center

Former Ford Building Becomes Home Of Important Educational Programs

The recently remodeled Ford building on East Main Street will soon house three programs when school begins this year. The programs include the new Coordinated Vocational Academic Education Program, the Public School Kindergarten, and the Early Childhood Education Program. The building will carry the title of The Knox City Independent School District Vocational and Early Childhood Education Center.

Purchased in the spring of 1970, the building has been used for community activities such as the Lions Club Carnival, the local and County Junior Livestock Shows, and community agricultural meetings.

The remodeling of the front part of the large modern building was done by the most part with the utilization of Federal Education Funds. The renovation consisted of removing the large glass front and replacing it with a simulated cedar shingle. It has been carpeted with stain resistant floor covering, and the front sections have central heat and air. The former parts department will soon be reworked to provide classroom space for the Coordinated Vocational Academic Education Program. The former bookkeeper's office will serve as the material center for the vocational program, and the former shop area will serve as the laboratory for the vocational program. The shop area will be so arranged to permit the utilization of this area for activities such as the Junior Livestock Show. The former show room and remaining two rooms will be used to house the Kindergarten Program and the Early Childhood Education Program.

The facility, which contains 6,000 square feet of floor space, will be staffed by these teachers, and will be served at times by four supportive personnel.

The development of the facility was necessary in order to have laboratory and classroom space to house these educational activities, school officials said.

Eighth Graders Must Go To Band Rehearsal

Director Wesley Hays has asked that all eighth grade band students join the high school students for band rehearsals beginning next Monday, August 16, in the Band Hall. Rehearsals will be from 6:00 until 9:00 each evening Monday through Friday with two hours devoted to instruments and one hour of marching practice.

Last week's story stated that any eighth grader who would like to try out for the Greyhound Marching Band should attend rehearsals. However, the director said that it was not a matter of choice but of necessity that all eighth grade band students be present Monday. Percussion section is scheduled to meet this morning (Thursday) from 10:00 o'clock until noon and again from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. in the Band Hall.

Section rehearsals will be announced later, Mr. Hays said.

Greyhounds To Begin Workouts

The Knox City Greyhounds will begin their two-a-day workouts on Monday, August 16. The morning sessions will begin at 6:30 a.m. and the afternoon sessions will begin at 5:30 p.m.

The Greyhounds will take their physical examinations Friday afternoon, August 13, at the clinic beginning at 5:00 p.m. All boys must bring a urine specimen with them. This is a requirement and anyone who does not show will not be able to suit out Monday morning, Coach Charles Hibbitts said.

Cooperative Effort Provides Public School Kindergarten

The Knox City Independent School District and the Carney Rural High School will join efforts to provide public school kindergarten this coming year. The Knox City Independent School District held its first Public School Kindergarten Program this past school year. In compliance with Texas House Bill 240 and the Texas Education Agency policy, the Carney School has operated a kindergarten program since 1965.

The projected enrollment for the next few years indicates that even combining the enrollment of both districts that there would be only enough enrollment to utilize the ser-VICES of one teacher instead of two. Both districts by joining together will experience a very important saving in local cost for operation of the kindergarten program.

Marjorie Clonts who has taught the Carney Kindergarten for six years will be the joint kindergarten teacher. The classes will be held in the Knox City Independent School district's Early Childhood and Vocational Center in Knox City. All children who will be five years of age by September 1, 1971, and reside in either school district will be eligible to attend school.

Anderson Will Receive Degree

Jerry Don Anderson, son of Mrs. Freeman Deemer of Knox City, will be a candidate for the B.S. in Physical Education at graduation exercises to be held in the main auditorium at Tarleton State College Sunday, August 22, at 3 p.m. TSC registrar John Whiting has announced that 108 students will be candidates for graduation to conclude the second six weeks of the current summer session.

Tarleton's 72nd fall session is scheduled to begin with orientation for new students Wednesday, August 27. Classes for the fall semester will begin Monday, August 30.

KC Has Reading Pilot Program

Teachers in grades K through 3 will make use of a vital new reading program this year. The program, devised by Dr. Duggan of the University of Bridgeport, Bridgeport, Connecticut, makes use of many time tested methods in addition to several new and innovative techniques.

Mrs. Alice Finch, reading consultant for the region IX Media Center in Wichita Falls, will conduct In-Service training for teachers and will evaluate pupil progress to see if there is measurable improvement in learning to read by this method.

One of the major advantages of this program wherever it has been used has been the enjoyment and appreciation for reading which the program teaches. Many students for years have learned to read proficiently but have read only if forced to do so. Teachers, who have used the new method to be tried in Knox City this year, report that junior high and high school age children exposed to the program in earlier years continue to improve and to read large amounts of material for enjoyment.

The new method teaches sounds first rather than consonants. This is based on the fact that children from birth on first learn to utter vowel sounds. Many programs for reading have stressed consonants because of the consistent manner in which they are structured. The program also makes use of motor skills by having children act out the sounds and shapes of words, syllables and letters.

Since most of the methods are not radically new, no large amount of books or equipment are necessary for their use. The state adopted texts, which have been traditionally used, will continue to be used. No reading machines or other such devices will be purchased. The Pilot Program is simply a new slant of a proven program, which holds promise of making reading a joy rather than a chore for children.

Haskell-Knox Consortium For Special Ed Is Again Approved

The Haskell-Knox Plan A Consortium for Special Education originally funded by the Texas Education Agency in July 1970, will continue to provide free public education to eligible exceptional children between the ages of three and twenty-one.

In the first year, the Haskell-Knox Consortium was one of five Plan A designs in operation in the State of Texas. This coming year there will be twenty-five Plan A designs in the state. All schools in Texas will be on the Plan A design by 1976-77. The local Consortium is comprised of ten schools in Knox and Haskell Counties. Like most of West Texas, Haskell and Knox

Migrant Program Plans Completed

The Knox City Independent School District, joining with twelve other schools in the Abilene area, will again participate in the Coop Migrant Education Program. The program is directed and sponsored by Region XIV Education Service Center. The program is funded by a Federal grant and there is no local cost involved. This will be the third year the Knox City Independent School District has been in the program.

The program is designed as a supplementary educational program, with oral language development as the most significant objective. Mrs. Leonard Morgan is the instructor and Mrs. Idella Escobar is the aide. Both of these staff members will be in Lubbock August 16-17, attending the Second Annual West Texas Child Migrant Workshop.

KC Independent School Dist. To Offer New Vocational Program

This coming year the Knox City Independent School District will begin a new approach in preparing students for gainful employment. The Coordinated Vocational - Academic Education program to be offered is designed to provide students with vocational education leading to employment in jobs requiring skilled knowledge and training or prepare these students to enter advanced vocational programs before and after they complete their high school education.

The academic curriculum will depart from the traditional college preparatory training and will be especially designed to meet the students' needs. The student will acquire basic knowledge in the fields of math, science, English, and social studies. This dual phase of approach enables students enrolled to reach maximum personal development, including employment potential in the shortest possible time.

This year enrollment will be limited to thirty boys ages fourteen and up who are at least in the seventh grade. They will spend two consecutive hours each school day in the vocational laboratory, and the balance of each school day will be in modified academic and other elective courses. The preparatory shop or laboratory programs are fully accredited and carry one and one-half credits for each year in grades nine through twelve.

The unit is called Farm and Ranch General Mechanical Repair Cluster and will cover the following instructional areas: Arc and Acetylene Welding, Construction and Maintenance, Equipment Maintenance and Repair, and Fence Building and Repair.

Leonard Morgan is the instructor. Mr. Morgan has moved to Knox City from San Antonio. He is a certified agricultural teacher and has a wide range of experience in industry.

The program salary and operational cost is provided by the State of Texas and the Federal Government and is a bonus unit for the school in the same manner as Home-making and Vocational Agriculture. Also the state will pay fifty-six per cent of the laboratory equipment cost plus allowances for material, travel and operation.

The district plans to open a similar program, suitable for girls in 1972-73, school officials said.

FERN HODGE

Dist. 3 HD Agent Hodge To Retire

After 30 years with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, District 3 Home Demonstration Agent Fern Hodge will retire August 31. She has been headquartered at Vernon.

Her replacement will be Thelma Wirges, who is currently Wichita County Home Demonstration Agent. The announcement was made by Extension Director John E. Hutchison.

Miss Hodge was first employed in 1941 as the home demonstration agent in Martin County; and then moved to the same position in Wise County. Since 1949, she has supervised the youth and adult work of county home demonstration agents in the 22-county Rolling Plains district.

In making the announcement, Dr. Hutchison said that Miss Hodge has been dedicated and effective Extension person, sensitive to the needs of people. She has given excellent leadership to Extension educational programs, helping Texas families in her district reach higher levels of living, he continued.

The Home Demonstration Club organization has been particularly strong in her area, according to Dr. Hutchison.

A native of Graham in Young County, she received her B. S. degree in home economics from North Texas State University. Additional studies have been done at NTSU, the University of Arkansas, Texas Tech University, West Texas State University and Texas A&M University.

The retiring agent is a member of Epsilon Sigma Phi, honorary Extension society; the Texas and American Home Economics Associations; the Vernon Chamber of Commerce; and the Texas Agricultural Worker's Association. She is also an active member of the First United Methodist Church in Vernon.

In addition to her Extension employment, Miss Hodge taught four years in public schools. While she will continue to make her home in Vernon, Miss Hodge is also considering a return trip to Europe in the near future.

Miss Wirges, the new District 3 home demonstration agent, is a graduate of Polytechnic High School in Fort Worth.

Senior Rings Are Here

Senior rings are here. They will be given to the seniors, when they have paid the balance due on them to Brent Rallsback, following registration at 9:00 a. m. on Wednesday, August 18.

This year's ring is somewhat different to those of the previous years. Rings, like automobiles and clothes, change from year to year.

Several years ago, the Knox City School Board required that the rings be standardized and that changes be made only after careful consideration. This gives the school a tradition and prevents price changes and arguments each year in making ring selection. However, last year's junior and senior classes, acting through school administrators, received permission to do some updating on the ring style, at no change in price. The Board gave its approval and this year's seniors feel that they are continuing a tradition, but are also wearing better-looking rings than ever before.

Ring prices for girls are slightly over $31.00, while boys are two dollars higher. Balances will be approximately $21.00 for girls and $25.00 for boys.

Pocketbooks will be somewhat lighter but, 24 fingers will be considerably heavier.

Do your senior friends a favor, notice the heavier fingers and pay them a compliment.

MRS. BOBBY LYNN LEWIS
... nee Carol Jean Speck

Miss Carol Jean Speck Weds Bobby Lynn Lewis Saturday

Wedding vows were exchanged here Saturday evening in a formal ceremony at the Four-square Church between Miss Carol Jean Speck and Bobby Lynn Lewis. The bride's grandfather, the Rev. Floyd V. Bailey, who is also pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by his son, Floyd Bailey Jr. of Dallas.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Speck and Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Lewis, all of Knox City.

Two seven-branched candelabra entwined with greenery were flanked by pedestal baskets of pink gladioli, and the church windows held votive candles.

Organist Miss Kathi Kent presented traditional wedding music and pianist Mrs. Melvin A. Lowrey accompanied vocalists Mrs. David Hewitt and Miss Stacy Angle who sang "What the World Needs Now is Love" and "The Wedding Prayer" as the benediction.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of bridal satin with a lace overlay on the Empire bodice. Illusion lace formed full, long sleeves with deep satin cuffs, and the detachable chapel train of satin was accented with an overlay of lace matching that of the bodice.

Her cascade bouquet was of white carnations and pink roses.

Miss Pam Pack of Bridgeport was maid of honor. Her formal gown of hot pink peau de soie was designed with long full sleeves of mira mist. She carried a nosegay of white mums and pink rosebuds, and a Dior bow held her illusion veil. Bridesmaids were Misses Terri Whitten, Jody McKinney, Rolanda Stubbs, and Patricia Lewis, sister of the groom. Their gowns were identical to the honor attendant's and each carried a long stemmed white mum with pink ribbon streamers.

David Hewitt was best man, and groomsmen were Bobby Baker, Alan Orr and David and Danny Speck, brothers of the bride. Ushers were Joe Barnard, Mike Hewitt, and Gary Hewitt.

Danny and Troy Lewis, brothers of the groom, lighted candles. Todd Lewis, brother of the groom, was ringbearer, and Learn Elliott of Seymour was flower girl.

Wedding guests were registered by Miss Phyllis Elliott, and Miss Patti Lain presented each guest a souvenir scroll from the bride and groom.

The reception, hosted by the bride's parents, followed in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The houseparty consisted of members of the "Lydia Circle." The lace-covered serving table held a four-tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by the groom's grandmother, Mrs. C. E. Vaden of Seymour. Patti Lain handed out rice.

For going away, the new Mrs. Lewis chose a pink and beige pantsuit. Her corsage was of pink roses taken from the bridal bouquet.

After a wedding trip, the couple will make their home here where he is associated with his father at Lewis Paint and Body Shop, and Carol will be a senior at Knox City High School.

Parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal supper Friday night at Sheila's City Cafe. Tables were decorated with hot pink flowers.

Out of town guests registered from Abilene, Dallas, Bridgeport, Haskell, Seymour, Bryan, Rochester, Munday, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Kermit, and Brooksmith, Texas, Mansfield, Arkansas, and Los Angeles, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Clonts and Mrs. Gladys Waldrip recently exchanged houses.

The Clonts remodeled the kitchen area of the brick home located at 201 South 2nd, by building new cabinets and paneling the kitchen walls. They also built a utility area and carpeted two of the bedrooms. They are now at home in their new residence. Mrs. Waldrip also did some remodeling on the former Clonts residence at 400 South 2nd. She is now in the process of building a car port and the house has been re-painted and a new porch run. Gladys has been at home in her new location approximately two months.

This year the Knox City football program has grown to a total of between 50-60 players. Of course this includes 50 boys in the high school program and about 40 in the junior high program.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Nearly 200 measures affecting the health field were passed by the 62nd Session of the Texas Legislature, which demonstrated its interest in the health of all Texans during the 140 days it met.

One of the most significant, according to the Texas State Department of Health, was the compulsory immunization law for school children. The law provides that school children shall be immunized against certain dangerous childhood diseases. State Health Commissioner Dr. James E. Peavy said the new state law will have great impact on the immunization level of the school population and, eventually, all has been a lot of misunderstanding about this part of the program. We believe that the junior varsity team should be composed of players who are freshmen and sophomores, that are not quite ready to play varsity ball. These boys will benefit a great deal more by playing 10 full games than they would sitting on the bench and watching 10 full games.

In jr. high we split this program into 7th and 8th grade teams. Both teams play a full slate of games. This totals about 35 football games for the program which promises the spectators plenty of action this fall.

the population of Texas.

A companion bill to the compulsory immunization law provides that all day care centers and other child-caring institutions shall have compulsory immunizations.

A new hazardous products bill closely tracks federal legislation on the subject and gives TSDH authority to regulate labeling requirements on articles in commerce that may be hazardous, toxic, radioactive, or a danger to the health of the citizens of the state. This includes substances capable of producing a thermal or electrical shock, or containing glass that shatters easily.

The State Health Department was given authority to license all migrant labor camps in Texas to insure that they meet certain health and sanitation requirements.

Concern over the lack of sanitation facilities and the resulting health hazards caused the legislature to enact two bills regulating outdoor music festivals and other mass gatherings. Certain sanitation and licensing requirements must be met.

The Texas Air Control Board was given authority to require industry to seek a construction permit before a new plant or modifications to an existing plant is begun, so as not to conflict with air control regulations.

Several new laws were enacted dealing with the drug abuse problem in Texas. One requires TSDH to license and

KC School Lunch Program Provide Balanced Meals At Low Prices

The Knox City School lunch program will continue to provide excellent food at the very lowest possible prices for the 1971-72 school term. Children's plates will continue to be priced at 30 cents and adults at 40 cents. Obviously, at these prices, the program cannot offer second helpings on high priced meats, but there is no limit to the amount of milk a child may have and usually there are some second helpings of vegetables, bread and sometimes desserts, school officials said.

The program is in the business of feeding children balanced, wholesome meals so as not to make a profit. In fact, the state and federal governments, in paying a large share of the program, specify that it must not make money for the school.

Free and reduced priced lunches are offered to families of low income or to those who have experienced unusual hardships. All persons who receive welfare assistance from the Texas Department of Public Welfare are eligible for free lunches for their children without making application. New more liberal income standards for this year's program make it necessary for other families who meet the income or hardship standards to re-apply for free or reduced price lunches, even though they received them during the past school year.

When pupils register for school, a letter explaining the free and reduced price lunch program will be sent home by the children along with an application for the free and reduced price lunches. Families who do not receive welfare assistance, but who wish to participate in the program may fill out the application and return it to Principal John McLaughery. If, after application, a family feels that they have not been given proper consideration in the cost of their children's lunches, they may appeal to Supt. W. R. Baker and may have whom-ever they choose to help them by meeting with Supt. Baker

News For Home Sewers

NEW YORK (ED) — Home sewers should be alerted to some of the special products that are now available to make home sewing more successful. These include:

- 100% Polyester thread cotton-covered polyester thread which will eliminate seam puckering when sewing polyester double knits and permanent press fabrics. These are very strong threads.
- Special ball-point needles which make it easier to sew with knit fabrics.
- Lightweight, nonwoven, washable interfacing designed especially for use with polyester knits.

Another innovation is a convenient way of supplying care and sewing instructions along with the purchased fabric. A new narrow, continuous tape printed with care and sewing instructions is now available on fabrics containing Calanese fibers. The paper strip of tape is inserted along the fold of the fabric as it is wound on the bolt. In this way, no matter how small an amount of fabric is purchased in the retail store, at least one complete set of instructions will be cut with the fabric.

Home sewers should also watch for special tips in the form of leaflets and pamphlets prepared by manufacturers of textile and sewing products. Many are distributed free of charge.
