Rochester Fire Destroys Four Businesses Thursday

An explosion in Berryman's Service Station and Garage about 2:45 a.m. last Thursday, July 8, started a blaze that completely destroyed four business establishments in Rochester.

Volunteer fire departments from Knox City, Haskell, and Rochester fought the fire for over three hours before bringing it under control about 6:00 a.m. Approximately 40 men were involved in extinguishing the blaze.

C. W. Berryman's Service Station and Garage, Ruby's Beauty Parlor, and a barber shop operated by Claude Norman were a total loss, as was Acree Oil Company owned by Edward K. Acree.

The beauty parlor and barber shop were located in a building owned by Berryman.

KC Fire Chief Drew Holcomb reported that the oil drums at the service station exploded and threw flames and debris 130 to 150 feet in the air. Firemen were concerned with other large tanks in the area and kept a steady stream of water on them to keep them from going up.

Berryman estimated his losses at between $50,000 to $60,000. Asked if he planned to rebuild, he said "I'll do something, but right now I don't know what. I'll have to do something, I've got too many kids to feed."

Acree guessed his losses to be in the vicinity of $25,000 to $30,000, but added he was fairly well covered by insurance and would be back in business.

Norman, who lives in Rule, is Rochester's only barber and plans to go back in business. He was uninsured and lost about $1000 worth of equipment.

Mrs. Ruby Watkins of Knox City lost everything in her beauty shop, but says there is no reason why she can't open another shop as she still has her customers.

Miraculously no one was injured and there was no wind which could have spread the fire through the whole business district and perhaps ignited the petroleum tanks of the wholesale dealer.

Social security benefits were being paid to residents of Knox County at a rate of $111,000.00 a month at the close of 1970, Wayne Klipping, social security manager in Vernon, said today.

A benefit increase signed into law by President Nixon on March 17 raises the monthly rate of payment by 10 percent for most of the 1.75 Social Security beneficiaries in Knox County, Klipping added. A small number of beneficiaries over age 72 who are not receiving regular social security case benefits received a 5 percent increase.

The increased benefits amounts were made effective back in January 1, 1971. First checks in the new monthly rate reached beneficiaries on June 3, Klipping said.

Of the social security beneficiaries living in Knox County, 944 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 304 are receiving benefits as the survivors of workers who have died, and 96 are getting benefits as disabled workers or their dependents.

Grass Is Nature's Pollution Control

Grass is one of the most effective pollution control and air conditioning devices that nature has to offer.

"One acre of grass releases about 2,400 gallons of water on a summer day through evaporation and transpiration," according to Arche Leib, head of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service office in Knox City.

"This much evaporation equals the cooling effect of a 70-ton air conditioner," Leib continued. "And grass is ideal for erosion control, beautification, and animal forage."

Leib said grasses vary widely within individual species. There may be dozens of strains of side-oats grama, for example, growing within an area of only a few counties. These variations are caused by differences in climate, soils, elevation and other factors.

SCS conducts a constant search for superior strains of grasses and other plants, Leib said.

"What we're looking for are strains of grasses that will help solve some specific environmental problems," Leib explained. "In Texas, we need grasses that will thrive on several droughty soils; cool season plants that will extend the grazing season; and plants that will provide forage for livestock while also providing better food and cover for more kinds of wildlife."

Leib added that conservationists also need salt tolerant grasses that will grow on a wide variety of problem sites, forbs and woody plants useful to wildlife and livestock that can be planted in range seeding mixtures, and water-tolerant plants that will curb wave action on earthen dams.

To help coordinate the search for better plants, SCS operates 20 plant materials centers in the United States. One is located in Texas at Knox City. Scientists at these centers grow and evaluate plants from all over the world to help find strains that will solve specific problems.

The most recent grass selected and put into use by SCS plant materials work in Texas is Selection 75 Kleingrass. Released in 1965, the plant is a leafy, highly palatable grass that is now being grown widely in Central Texas. It is used mostly in tame pastures where high rates of fertilizer are used.

Kleingrass is being grown successfully on several farms in Knox County. One of these is the J. E. Hunter farm located between Knox City and Munday.

TOP COTTON YIELDS
"Better cotton yields for profits and markets" in 1971 is the theme for an all out Belt-wide campaign to aid the cotton industry.

Fred C. Elliot, Extension cotton specialist, said the objective is to increase cotton yields to the maximum profitable level, using recommended practices for each producing area to increase producer income. In view of the present situation, he added, a major goal is to stabilize the current competitive position of the fiber crop and build a base for market expansion.

Elliot noted for five consecutive years, more cotton has been sold than produced and it now appears the carryover by the end of July will be no more than four and a quarter to four and a half million bales, the lowest in 20 years. The same situation exists worldwide, he said.

Although no ruinous shortage has yet developed, the uncertainty about next season's supply has already affected the cotton market, he said. Some mills, he noted, because of the uncertainty of adequate supplies of cotton, are shifting to blends rather than continuing to use 100 per cent cotton despite the strong demand for all-cotton fabrics. This shift is being made to conserve cotton supplies.

The strong demand for denims, corduroys, print-cloths and cotton knits over the last year or so has caused a turnaround in the outlook for cotton and we cannot afford to lose the gains made, emphasized Elliott. The strong demand affords a real opportunity for grower profit.

Since cotton is now planted, the increase in production must come from better management, including insect and weed control, cultural practices, wise use of irrigation and improved harvesting methods, the specialist said. Too, he noted, ground-soaking general rains over the state would give a real boost to cotton production prospects.

BEEF CATTLE SHORTCOURSE
Texas A & M University will host its 21st Annual Beef Cattle Short Course August 16-17 at the Memorial Student Center on the Texas A & M Campus. The theme for the program is "Improving Reproductive Efficiency in Beef Cattle." Information will feature subjects on breeding heifers, feeding programs for breeding animals and calving difficulties. Reports on studies in calving and calf performance in exotic cattle will also be made.

SCREWORM SITUATION
The first screwworm case ever to be recorded in Arkansas was confirmed June 29 from a larvae sample collected in Miller County, near Texarkana on the Texas-Arkansas line. Just across the line in Texas, Bowie County had its second case of screwworms confirmed within a week on July 1. A team of state and federal livestock inspectors is collecting samples and spraying herds in the areas with infestations. Officials of the eradication program urge stockmen to send a sample of any worms found in animal wounds to the Mission Lab for positive identification.

MR. AND MRS. LEE SNALLUM

Benjamin Couple To Be Honored On Golden Anniversary July 18

A reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Lee Snallum on their 50th wedding anniversary will be hosted by the couple's eight children from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. Sunday, July 18, 1971, at their home in Benjamin. preacher came out with Bible in hand. They did not have their attendants "stand up" for them; they "sat down" with them. Grace and Lee moved to Benjamin, via covered wagon in September of 1921 to work on a farm for Mr. Eckert. In their 50 years of married life, they moved from Benjamin to Olney, Bryson, and Weatherford but came back to Benjamin to settle and raise their family. Four of their eight children were born in Benjamin; however they all were raised there. Lee worked for the old Chevrolet house for a time and also the Texas Highway Department. In 1946, he built the Phillips 66 Service Station he now operates. He has been very active in all civic affairs in Benjamin for many years, serving on the draft board. He also served as Justice of the Peace and is a member of the Lions Club. He very appropriately served as "Tail Twister" for the Lions Club since he has such a keen sense of humor. Grace has also been very active in community affairs being a member of the Home Demonstration Club, the Sorosis Club, and the P. T. A. She counted that she had spent 32 years in P. T. A. work with all eight of her children. She feels as though she was a permanent fixture for many years. Her house was and is open at all times to all of her children's friends. She stated that when the kids were growing up, she never knew if she was cooking for her regular 10 or 20, but she was always prepared. She also remembers that there was no "wash and wear" in those days and she always had at least two "bushel baskets" of sprinkled down clothes each week. She says that she can iron "kackies" in her sleep today. Grace and Lee are both members of the First Christian Church of Benjamin. They have 21 grandchildren and six great grandchildren and express how fortunate and rewarding their lives have been with this great abundance of loved ones.

sure she is not teaching anymore. Mrs. Bewley related that her brother, Charley of Marshall, subscribes to the Herald (Incidentally, we received his renewal that same day and he did not even say 'howdy'), reads it, passes it on to her, she reads it and passes it on to her sister, Mrs. Ann Prade in El Paso, she reads it, and passes it on to the wife of the superintendent of schools there (who, by the way is a former Rochester girl). Mr. Bewley remarked that he thought there should be several subscriptions there instead of the 'passing on' bit, but even though we are always happy to sell a subscription, this is what we call 'really getting the good' out of something. Surely nice to have had the Bewleys by the office and we hope they will come back again and stay longer.

SEE GIANTS PLAY
Mrs. LaVerne Thompson and Ray were in Houston recently to see the Giants play the Astros in the Astrodome. Ray was happy that the Giants came out victors. They also visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Favor and then went on to Galveston to Sea-A-Rama.

WOMEN AT KNOX CITY Workshop as they work on refinishing their furniture.

WOMEN AT TRUSCOTT workshop as they work on refinishing their furniture.

HD Members Refinish Furniture

Six Knox City Home Demonstration Club members and two 4-H'ers participated in a furniture refinishing workshop held at the Kennel June 21-25, from 1:00 to 5:00 each afternoon. At the workshop held at the Truscott community building June 28-July 2 from 1:30 - 5:30 there were six Truscott Home Demonstration Club members, three non-club members, six 4-H'ers, and two Gilliland Home Demonstration Club members. Each person brought a piece of furniture which they worked on all week. There was much rubbing and scrubbing during the process. Several of the women wished they had chosen a different piece to work on because there were so many layers of old paint they thought they were spending all week trying to remove the old finish. After the piece was started the home demonstration agent would not let them change. Some of the women had been asked to give their piece away after the workshop but they all decided to keep it since there was much work to getting it done. After several days of work, a daughter came to help her mother and couldn't find the piece of furniture looks so much. Several because it had changed its of the women have other pieces they will be refinishing at home now that they have started.

Those participating in the Knox City workshop were Mmes. O. B. McElroy, Jim Laster, R. B. Hendrix, Bill Smith, Clyde Bouldin, Dale

Pitts, and Patty Pitts and Lanette Bouldin. Attending the Truscott workshop were Mmes. R.C. Daniel, Tommy Westbrook, Marie Gillespie, Elmo Shaw, Mattie Bullion, W. R. Owens, Marion Chowning, Patty Alexander, and 4-H'ers Christy Shaw, Tracy Shaw, Rhonda Westbrook, Renee Westbrook, Brenda Greening, Bernedette Greening and Jimmy Daniel. The two women from Gilliland were Mmes. Arnold Navratil, and Emil Navratil. *****
