roximately 1500 American families.

The official government in Hanoi has refused to publish official lists of captured servicemen, or to allow them to correspond with their families. Several organizations and some military publications believe that a deluge of protest letters addressed to various embassies and newspapers might sway the attitude in Hanoi. It is suggested that these letters should be non-political, without malice, simply stating that the writer wants to protest the lack of communication between our prisoners and their families, and the lack of proper food and medical treatment.

A letter of this type should be written on airmail paper and envelope, which will weigh approximately 1/2 ounce. The amount of postage necessary is listed with each enclosed address.

I ask that you consider this matter for a future editorial. Surely our military friends would recognize our letter writing as compassion in action. Since these letters can do no harm, is it not worth the chance that they might do some good? Thank you very much.

Path To Legislature Was Challenge To Bill Heatly

By PAUL TIMMONS
Political Editor

It may have been slow hitchhiking that landed Bill Heatly in the Texas Legislature.

It may have been an angry reply to a college president, or perhaps just a friendly question by a stranger at a lunch counter.

However he came to be in the legislature, the country lawyer from Paducah, who would rather be a country lawyer than anything he can think of, has been recognized as one of the leaders of the legislature for most of the 16 years since he was first elected.

He is completing his fifth term as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. Never before had anyone held the chairmanship more than three terms, but, then, Bill Heatly has a way of getting things done.

Appointments to the appropriations committee generally go to veteran members of the legislature but Heatly was appointed in his freshman year. Except for the 1961-62 term he has been on the appropriations committee since. In his second term he was chairman of the State Affairs Committee, the most important policy-making group in the House. This is another appointment generally reserved for an old hand.

When the legislature created the Legislative Audit Committee in 1959, Heatly was named to that committee and has been a member since, except for the 1961-62 term. This committee is made up of the lieutenant governor, speaker of the House, two senators and two representatives. It is authorized to check on expenditures of all state agencies to determine whether the intent of the legislature is being followed in daily operations.

How did the country lawyer come so quickly to such prominence?

Perhaps it was because of a decision he made when he was first elected in 1954.

"I felt that to serve my district best it was vital that I become involved in the larger issues of state government and that I become acquainted with the broader state problems and try to help to solve them," he says.

But, about that hitchhiking.

That was along in September of 1931 and young Heatly (W. S. Jr.) had set out from the family farm in Limestone County - east of Waco - to go to Lubbock to enroll in Texas Tech. Not that he could afford to go to college but he had a promise of sorts from Pete Cawthon, then head football coach at Tech.

In the spring of 1930 one of the first coaching clinics in the nation was held at Texas Tech, and the coach at Mart took Heatly along as one of the players. (The fall before, Bill had quarterbacked the Mart High School team to 15 straight victories and a regional championship.)

"If you can get here, come to school this fall," Cawthon said.

It was 15 months later that Bill decided to go to Tech.

"I packed my clothes in a 'please don't rain' suitcase and started hitchhiking to Lubbock. The first day I got as far as Decatur. I got a room at the hotel for 75 cents and went down to the coffee shop and ordered the merchants lunch for 25 cents.

"A man sat down beside me and asked if I had come to Decatur to go to college.

"What college?" I asked.
"Decatur Baptist College," replied the stranger, who was the football coach at the college.

Heatly attended Decatur Baptist College and was quarterback of the football team. Then he moved to Baylor University where he was graduated from law school in 1936.

The confrontation with a college president was at Baylor when Heatly turned up with no money, for his final year of law school.

Enrollment procedures called for a student having his enrollment card stamped by the cashier before he signed up for classes, unless the card was signed by the president of the college.

Heatly went to see the president, Pat Neff, former governor of Texas.

"Why don't your parents mortgage the farm and raise the money so you can finish

REP. BILL HEATLY college," Neff asked. Heatly was infuriated. "If that's the way it is, I can go back to that cultivator I left when I came here," he said.

Then he added: "But if I can stay in school nine more months - and do 12 months work, which I am eligible to do - I will have the same initials after my name that you have after yours."

Today, Heatly says that it seemed like 10 minutes that the former governor sat and looked at him. Then he signed the card.

Heatly graduated the next spring. He had completed a six-year course in five years.

He was employed as an attorney in Dallas and Beaumont and then opened his law office in Wichita Falls, where he also was in the oil business, operating a drilling rig.

It was in Wichita Falls that he married Jonnie Green Hawkins.

In 1947, Mr. and Mrs. Heatly and their two older boys moved to Paducah. The younger son is a native of Paducah. The older boys, Gene and Bill, are now practicing attorneys. Gene is county attorney at Vernon and Bill is associated with his father in the law office in Paducah. The younger son, William Stanford Heatly III, known as Stan, is a business student at the University of Texas.

There are now four grandchildren, two boys and two girls.

In 1954, Heatly ran for the legislature and was elected. The 80th District then had four counties. Now it covers nine counties. After redistricting next year it will be even bigger.

The most influential member of the Texas legislature enjoys being a country lawyer and intends to go on being a country lawyer.

"The country lawyer is like the family physician - he takes care of whatever comes along," Heatly says.

"He serves as a marriage counselor and a domestic relations counselor. He is a financial adviser.

"He discourages divorce but if the marriage cannot be salvaged he handles the divorce proceedings.

"He practices adoption law. He draws wills and handles state matters. He writes deeds and contracts.

"He is involved in every phase of life."

But Bill Heatly is involved in other ways, too. Since his arrival in Paducah he has been city attorney, member of the executive board of the Northwest Texas Area of the Boy Scouts, president of the Lions Club, member of the Knights of Pythias Lodge, charter member of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, chairman of the board of elders of the First Christian Church and chairman of the church's building committee.

He owns an abstract business and runs about 300 cows in a ranching operation in Dickens and Cottle counties.

If he had a hobby it is helping young people to find part-time jobs so they can further

Miss Bryant And Bill Cornett Married In Chapel Ceremony

Bowman Chapel of the First United Methodist in Lubbock was the setting for the Friday evening, September 4 wedding of Miss Sherri Lynn Bryant and William Holly (Bill) Cornett. Vows were exchanged before a setting of altar vases filled with white gladioli and pink and orchid asters flanked by gold candelabra burning white cathedral tapers. Satin bows and white aisle cloth marked the pews.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bryant of Dalhart and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cornett of Knox City.

Leon Burkham, Church of Christ minister, officiated at the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Martin Hayhurst, organist, and Miss Euna Harbert, soloist, provided traditional wedding music.

Mrs. Jerry Hatfield of Mount Vernon, Missouri, twin sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the groom's sister, Gail, was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of purple crepe accented at the Empire waist with pearl entwined braid. Pearls also trimmed the mandarin collars and the garlands of purple crepe leaves which held their orchid veils. They carried traditional bouquet of orchid and pink asters interspersed with gypsophila and miniature English ivy.

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of silk faced peau and re-embroidered Alencon lace fashioned with A-line skirt and Empire bodice. Beaded lace appliques adorned the bodice, long tapered sleeves and detachable train. Jewel encrusted roses held her tiered veil of French illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, gypsophila, and miniature English ivy.

Sim Hanson of Seagraves carried the wedding rings to the altar on a pillow covered in white lace and satin.

Rex Iran Rash of Abilene was best man and groomsmen was Larry James Farr of Hermleigh.

Ushers were Andy Kerr of Lubbock, Steve Rivers of Elgin, and Jerry Hatfield of Mount Vernon, Missouri.

Mrs. Bryant chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of petal pink alaskine with jeweled button trim. Her hat was a matching Dior bow and her corsage was of gardenias.

Mrs. Cornett was dressed in powder blue crepe. A floral hat in the same matching blue adorned her head and her corsage also was of gardenias.

Members of the houseparty at the reception held in the church parlor included Misses Roxanne Hall, Lana Bell, Peggy Hudgins, Kim and Kay Hanson, and Mandy and Lydia Lankford. Also Meses. Paul Hall, Forrest Roberson, Fred Finch and Alice Knight.

The bride's table was draped with a doeskin cloth edged in Maderia lace. White tapers in antique silver candelabra flanked displays of pink, orchid and purple asters and gypsophila. English ivy and asters encircled the punch bowl and three tiered wedding cake.

The bride was wearing a mauve wool suit with matching accessories when the couple left for a wedding trip.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Villa Inn in Lubbock on Thursday evening.

The bride is a graduate of Dalhart High School and holds a BS degree in education from Texas Tech University. She was a member of Sigma Alpha Eta honorary speech society and is presently speech pathologist in the Lubbock Public Schools.

Cornett is a graduate of Knox City High School and holds a degree in agricultural economics from Tech. He was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity and Alpha Zeta honorary agricultural society. He is employed by Agri-facts Informatin Systems in Lubbock, where the couple will reside.

MRS. DENNIS LEE DUKE
... FORMERLY Miss Pamela Ann Roberts

Miss Pam Roberts Is Wed To Dennis Duke Saturday Evening

Candelabra flanked by large baskets of white gladioli interspersed with pink carnations formed the altar setting for the Saturday evening, September 5 wedding of Miss Pamela Ann Roberts and Dennis Lee Duke at 8 o'clock in the First United Methodist Church of Benjamin.

The bride, presented for marriage by her father, chose a cage gown of lace over Peau de sole with long tapered sleeves of lace. Seed pearls adorned the scooped neckline and modified chapel train. Her veil of candlelight illusion was held in place by a cluster of jeweled leaves and she carried white carnations entwined with lemon leaves.

Mrs. Fred McGreger of Wichita Falls, her sister's matron of honor, wore a formal gown of hot pink satin fashioned in Empire design. She carried a nosegay of white mums.

James Duke of Throckmorton was his brother's best man and ushers were the bride's brothers, Ken Roberts of Beaufort, South Carolina, and Don Roberts.

Sherry and Randy Duke of Throckmorton lighted candles. Misses Donna Railsback, Glenna Fenoglio, Georgann Higgins, Diane Fenoglio, and Kathy Milson assisted at the wedding reception which followed the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents.

After their wedding trip the couple will reside in Denver, Colorado.

The bride was valedictorian of her graduating class at Benjamin Rural High School and has attended Midwestern University in Wichita Falls.

Duke, valedictorian of his BHS graduating class also, will attend school in Denver. He was high school all-district football end and served his class as president for four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Duke hosted a rehearsal party in their home.

Thinking Of A New Typewriter? Here is a fine gift for your teenager.

Think back and you'll probably remember a bunch of "fun" gifts. You know—the surfboard, stereo, fiberglass ski syndrome.

Well, right now it's back-to-school time. And once again your high school or college student has to buck the toughest, most competitive schooling this country has ever devised.

Why not give a gift that can help?

For instance, a Smith-Corona® Electric Portable. Because here's what happens once a student learns to type:

He can write at least twice as fast.

His spelling can improve. (A typed word that's misspelled stands out like a flare.)

His creative thinking is stimulated.

And a quiet little miracle called Organization usually takes place.

Smith-Corona®
The gift that helps.

A Smith-Corona can make a real difference to your teenager. We know because we've already helped quite a few. (4 out of every 5 electric portables in America are Smith-Corona.)

Stop by your local dealer and look over our five models of electric portables.

Frankly, a Smith-Corona isn't a gift that'll help a teenager have fun.

It's simply a gift that'll help.

here cannot be forgotten. The bright, endless summers are over for this guy. Back to the cold, dark, damp weather of wintertime on the Mainland. Gone are the swaying coconut trees and gently blowing trade winds. It's back to the leafless - seemingly lifeless - mesquite trees, creaking under the onslaught of the Texas Blue Norther. I'll leave behind the evergreen carpets of grass beneath my bare feet, only to discover the hard, dry Texas grass turned brown by the Indian summer temperatures. Every day in Alohaland is a great day for golf, but at home there are the occasional impossible days. I'll miss the sudden showers falling from a seemingly cloudless sky. But I'll be back to the country of the flashing and rumbling of a wild West Texas thunderstorm.

Awww! From the barrens of downtown Honolulu. No more "beautiful" flower children in their dingy Levi's and braless dresses, reaching out and asking for some "spare change". To west Texas where Levi's are washed - at least occasionally - where most people get out and work because they have to, and where most of the girls look truly feminine. Some of those Hawaiian-Chinese-Japanese-Filipina-Portuguese girls are gorgeous examples of beauty, but for me the West Texas round-eyed gals are fantastic enough.

What will the Islands be like in a decade? The population already stands at above 800,000 folks and is growing in leaps and bounds. The building boom has let up only slightly from its goal of totally converting Waikiki into a veritable concrete jungle. If there are 800,000 people there MUST be 500,000 cars, with very few places to park them. A "middle income" family in Hawaii needs an annual income of $12,000 if they want to live in the middle income style. That's opposed to Austin's $8,432!

According to the Honolulu Advertiser, organized crime has been in the process of establishing a firm foothold in Hawaii, mostly in gambling and prostitution interests. Waikiki is a mecca for street walkers who proposition tourists, or pull a knife on them.

No more grass shacks on Oahu, whaling speers at Lahaina, Maui, or non-tourist hukilaua (net fishing) at Lale. It's turned into a tourist trap and that's very bad! There are still the cockfights at Waianae, glue-sniffers in Honolulu, and dope raids at Sunset Beach.

Hopefully, there'll always be the almost unspoiled scenic spots like the Nuuanu Pali lookout, Waimea Canyon on Kauai, and the black sand beach on Hawaii. The surf will always be on all the islands. The beauty of tropical plants should always be here; and the beautiful Hawaiian sun will set every evening in a blaze of glory. It has set for the last time for me.

Those bikinis have shaken - and shaken me - for the final times, too! (Sigh!)
With very much to look forward to...

Coaches' Comments
By The Coaching Staff

We can safely say that everyone in Knox City is aware of the recent rating which the Abilene Reporter gave the KC Greyhounds. We believe that we can uphold this but realize that we are going to have to play opponents on skill and not ratings. We are going to give our supreme effort to every game and play them one at a time.

Last week we were very pleased with our defense and felt as though this was a great improvement over the previous week. We scored twice and the Eagles failed to score.

The 'Hounds still need some improvement on offense, our timing must be better, and we must avoid those penalties from the 20-yard line and on in.

We expect a good game with the Steers and hope to see all of our fans at Rochester Friday night.

"That I may know Him and the power of His resurrection and the fellowship of His suffering, being made conformable unto His death." Phil. 3:10.

As we study the third chapter of Philipians we can feel that the great cry and deep longing of the heart of the apostle Paul is the desperate need of your life and mine.

He said, "That I may know Him . . ." To really know Jesus and be like Him, to experience His mighty power in our lives, this is our need! This is the longing of our hearts, that we might be victorious over sin and the pressures of the day in which we live.

We need to remember our weakness and accept His invitation to come as we are, with our sin, believing He will forgive and give us strength and peace.

He has said, "Come unto me and I will give you rest."

Senior Class News

By GWEN ANGLE

Our magazine sales are going to continue through Friday, September 11. We still have a lot of magazines that need to be sold so we are planning a drive for Tuesday night.

Our rings still aren't here and we may be college freshmen before we get them. I think they are coming by Pony Express!

The Hounds will play Rochester next Friday, there. Our class is selling names to go on the back of the football program. This costs only one dollar and it will surely help the 'Hounds win!

Junior Class News

By JAN LANKFORD

So far everything is running smoothly, except for Typing I class, where a few of us have invented some new words on our typewriters.

We juniors want to congratulate the 'Hounds on their performance last Friday night and wish them luck in their scrimmage with Holliday this Friday night. The junior boys who are playing football are: Brent Rallsback, Alan Orr, Charlie Lieb, Victor Gonzales, Jackie Gentry, Tony Hernandez, Ivan Logsdon, and Kenny Woodall. Good luck, 'HOUNDS!!!

Sophomore Class News

By DEBBIE WALL

"We're the best, as you can see, Senior Class of '73." This year's spirit has already started up and is going strong. Competition begins soon for the "Spirit Stick." I am sure the sophomore will get it!

If you saw the game Friday night with Throckmorton, you know why the 'Hounds are rated No. 1! There are several sophomores playing football this year. They are: Dean Bouldin, Larry Calloway, Ricky Calloway, Greg Clonts, Jay Eaton, Leslie Fitzgerald, Rob Harrison, Roland Marton, David McGaughy, Phillip Newton, Bobby Reeves, Rudy Espinoza, David Ivie, and Leonard Rodriguez. They're going a great job, aren't they?

By the way, if you folks see some sophomores still riding around with their parents, you'll know it's because there are quite a few of us still without our licenses. It won't be long, though!

Don't you forget "WE'RE the best as you can see; Senior Class of '73."

Freshman Class News

By DENISE GRINDSTAFF

With school underway, now the freshmen, along with everyone else, are beginning to join things such as FHA, FFA, FTA, and choir.

Diane Clonts and Mike Lankford are the representatives from our class to be on the Annual Staff. Congratulations!

Last weekend was a long one, luckily we didn't have to come back to school until Tuesday. It was omitted last week in the news, but the sponsor for the freshman class is Coach Stillabower.

Greenhand News

By RANDY PACK

In Ag, everybody has to say the FFA creed which is five paragraphs long and every paragraph starts with "I believe." The last five people who say the creed have to buy the rest of the class an ice cream supper.

We have to pay our dues of $5.00 before we are able to receive our Greenhand Degree.

In receiving the degree, we also have to have a supervised project such as a pig, lamb, or calf. We have to feed it and take care of it ourselves and if we make fifty dollars off our project we get the Greenhand Chapter Farmer Award. A lot of work has to be done in the future, but everyone is sure he can make it.

Homemaking II

By PATTY PITTS

In our Homemaking class we elected officers and assigned programs the first day. Elected as president was Becky Swain, as vice president was Debbie Wall, as secretary was Doris Howell, and as reporter was Patty Pitts. Our class began to feel more like a class when Mrs. Newton gave the Home Experience Plan sheets out to us and began assigning oral reports.

Greyhound News

By MIKE NEWTON

We Hounds are indeed grateful for the turnout given us at the Throckmorton game. We appreciate the towels and the soap. We got off to a slow start but finally got going. I am writing this Friday morning so I don't know the results of our scrimmage with Holliday. Last week they beat a AAA or 3A team from Fort Worth so we are in for a tough game. Thanks again for coming out. The Hounds will try to represent you well.

Pep Club News

By ALICE MARTINEZ

The Pep Club has decided on their uniforms for this year. It seems as if they will be looking nice, so watch for them. Greyhound pins are being sold by the Pep Club. If anyone wishes to purchase one of these pins, contact any Pep Club member. The cheerleaders and Pep Club are still working on the cheers and chants so they can be ready for the first big game.

Choir News

By GWEN ANGLE

Friday morning the Knox City High School Choir elected new choir officers. They are president, Rogers Lankford; vice president, Charlie Lieb; secretary-treasurer, Brent Rallsback; and reporter, Gwen Angle.

We are working on easy songs from last year so that the freshmen can get acquainted with them. Some of these songs are: Darlin', I'll Walk With God, He, This Noble Task, You'll Never Walk Alone, Tumbin' Tumbleweeds, and Stodola Pumpa.

We currently have forty-eight choir members. Our director is Mrs. Melvin A. Lowrey.

Eighth Grade News

By STACY ANGLE

Last Tuesday the eighth grade class elected officers. They are: Joe Huff, president, Eddie Johnson, vice-president, Debbie Reese, secretary-treasurer, and Stacy Angle, reporter.

New students are Shirley Lerma and Donald Ray Swearingen.

Our teachers this year are Mrs. Kenneth Lankford, Mrs. Renella Watson, Mrs. Virginia Casey, Mr. Charles Hibbits, Mr. Jimmy Rogers, Mr. Jerry Lowrey, Mr. Wes Hays, and Mr. John McGaughy.

The first Junior High football game will be September twenty-fourth with Crowell here.

Seventh Grade News

By MANDY LANKFORD

Wednesday the seventh grade elected officers. The following officers were chosen: Mark Howell, president; Ray Thompson, vice-president; Melinda Hewitt, secretary-treasurer; Mandy Lankford, reporter; Mrs. Casey, sponsor. We have forty-two students and two new students: Dale Bloxham from Abilene and Vonnie Beth Elm more from O'Brien. We are enjoying our first year in Junior High.

Jr. High Band News

By STACY ANGLE

The Knox City Junior High Band recently elected Kary Kent, president, Temi Baker, vice-president, Delacy Bate-man, secretary, Jimmy Helms, treasurer, and Stacy Angle, reporter. Wes Hays is band director.

The band is working on several marches for pep rallies and plans to attend the Cisco Junior Music Festival in Cisco later this year. Band challenges will begin Tuesday and suits will also be issued on Tuesday.

This year the Greyup band has forty-one members and the names of new members will appear in next week's paper.

This year twirlers are Timi Graham, seventh grader, and Gayle Tankersley, Kary Kent, and Stacy Angle, eighth graders. Kary and Stacy were re-elected this year.

Farm and Ranch News

By Herman Collier

AGRICULTURE NO WEAKLING INDUSTRY

Agriculture comprises the largest single market for labor and industry. Agriculture employs five million people, more than the combined employment in transportation, public utilities, auto manufacturing and the steel industry. It is a $50 billion customer of the American economy. Farmers spend more than $4.8 billion annually over $4 billion for transportation for their crops and livestock. Agriculture has an incredible record of performance but they need backing from their urban friends to help get their fair share of national income.

SPECIALIST MAKES SUGGESTIONS ON COTTON HARVEST

Cotton farmers should make proper preparations and exercise recommended safety precautions for the use of cotton defoliants and desiccants or defoliants should be thoroughly cleaned to remove sticky residues left by liquid insecticides and should be carefully calibrated before use in order to obtain a uniform application.

The basis for the control program on farm chemicals is to prevent undue risk from residues of the chemicals in the raw agricultural product, Elliott noted.

"With proper use there is little or no danger of polluting lakes or streams with either desiccants or defoliants since they are applied at very low rates and during very dry periods," Elliott explained. "Most desiccant and defoliant residues also have very short lives."

Defoliants prepare cotton for machine picking. There are chlorate and organophosphorus
