1969 KC Greyhounds Make All-District

WAYNE JAMES

The 1969 Greyhound football team placed four players on the II-A All-District first team and two KC 'Hounds were named to the second team.

Knox City High School junior Max Spencer was named All-District offensive tackle on the first team. The 178 pound Greyhound is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Spencer.

Mike Newton, 178 pound Greyhound quarterback was selected All-District defensive linebacker. A KCHS junior, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Laymon Newton.

Also named on defense were Joe Barnard and Charlie Lieb, Barnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Barnard Jr. was named All-District guard and is a senior at KCHS where he played center for the 'Hounds.

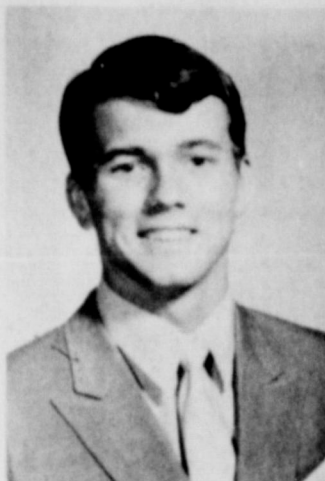

Lieb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arche Lieb was selected All-District end. He is a sophomore student at KC High where he plays fullback for the Greyhounds.

Coaches in the district met in Wichita Falls this week to make the team selections. Each coach elects players from his team and presents them for voting. Six or seven boys are nominated for each position and coaches are not allowed to vote for their own players. The honor goes to the boy with the most votes.

Coach Charles Hibbitts explained that making the All-District team is quite an accomplishment and something each player could be proud of for many years to come.

Knox City Greyhounds who were named to the second All-District team were Rogers Lankford and Wayne James.

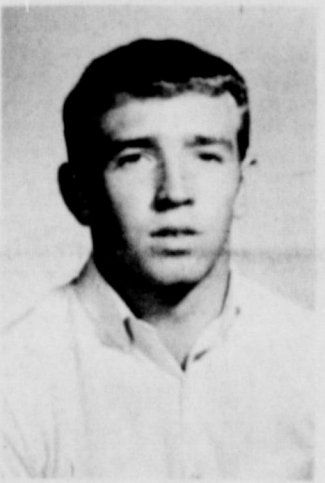

Lankford, a 145 pound junior was selected for offensive end. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lankford, James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin James was named second team All-District guard. He was a senior at KCHS before transferring to Weatherford High School following the close of the season.

State Health Dept. Awards Citation To James Hewitt

AUSTIN--An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to James Hewitt, water superintendent for the City of Knox City.

Signed by the State Health Commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water Utilities Association, the certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed an examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers.

State law requires that at least one operator per shift be certified for competency by health department engineers, but many operators seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to increase their efficiency as key public servants to their community and state.

The engineers said the attainment is evidence of Hewitt's efforts to better prepare himself for the duties of his profession.

Expansion Planned Technical Meeting Held At Local Plant Center

State Resource Conservationists and Plant Material Specialists from Texas and Oklahoma met at the James E. "Bud" Smith Plant Materials Center here December 3 and 4. Purpose of the meeting was to formulate the annual plan of operation for 1970 and make seed allocations for seed produced at the Plant Materials Center during the 1969 crop year.

Notes taken during the fall agronomy and range specialist meeting were used to determine production plots for the 1970 crop year. They also designated numbered accessions to be increased for seed production. They set up guidelines for advanced evaluation of rod row plants with potential for use in improving range and pasture land, critical area stabilization, structure stabilization, beautification, wildlife habitat and food plantings.

The seed allocation consisted of dividing the 1969 seed production between Oklahoma and Texas. The seed will be used for field evaluation trials on land owned by cooperators of Soil and Water Conservation Districts in the two states. There were 56 numbered varieties allocated. Where a plant of the same species is in use, commercial seed will be made available for comparison in field trials.

A new phase was also added to the operations here at the Knox City center, according to Jake Garrison, local PMC manager. Plants will be propagated at the center for use in structure stabilization and wave action control in watershed projects. The center will be reimbursed by watershed project funds in the two states.

Officials present for the meeting included W. C. Young, SCS Regional Plant Materials Specialist of Fort Worth; C. A. Richenthin, State Resource Conservationist of Temple; M. D. Gamble, State Resource Conservationist for Oklahoma of Stillwater, Okla.; Arnold G. Davis, Plant Materials Specialist of Temple; Bob Lippert, Plant Materials Specialist for Oklahoma of Manhattan, Kansas; and James E. Smith Jr., Emeritus Plant Materials Specialist of San Antonio.

Mrs. Joe Reeder Holds $100 Ticket At Saturday Drawing

Mrs. Joe Reeder Jr. was the lucky grandprize winner Saturday in the Christmas Shoppers' Bonanza Drawing held here at the former Perry Brothers location. Her lucky number, 026541, was from City Hardware and the first and only ticket drawn for the $100 prize.

Ticket numbers 036559, 04-5684, 039321, and 036189 were drawn before winner Rosie Ledesma claimed the $50 prize with ticket No. 030089 from Lowrey's.

No one claimed ticket No. 017062 for the third prize of $25. The hopper churned once more and Little Alex Espinoza drew E. N (Doc) Montandon's winning ticket No. 039257, also from Lowrey's.

The suspense mounted as little Alex drew again for the fourth prize of $25. He drew No. 041071 and no one responded, he drew No. 040047 from "M" System and Mrs. E. L. Faulk announced that she was holding the corresponding ticket stub.

All prizes are in the form of cash certificates and are in one dollar script form, redeemable at any participating store.

The Christmas Shoppers Bonanza is sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce and is an attempt of the merchants to express their appreciation to shoppers for their patronage throughout the year as well as during the holiday season.

The next cash drawing will be held Saturday afternoon, December 13 at 3 o'clock at the same location when four winners will again be awarded cash prizes for their lucky ticket numbers. Be sure to shop at the following businesses where you will receive a ticket with each $3 purchase.

Mr. and Mrs. McHam moved to Knox City with their three daughters, Betty Gale, Christell, and Bobby Lee, from Bowte in 1954, when McHam was transferred here by Conoco Oil Company with whom he has been employed for the past 25 years.

Betty Gale, who is now Mrs. Jack Hamilton and the mother of four of Mr. and Mrs. McHam's nine grandchildren lives in Benjamin and helps her parents in the store, part time.

Christell, Mrs. Bill Magnus is making her home in Killeen and Mrs. Lorain Johnson, Bobby Lee, and her family live in Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. McHam appreciate your business and invite you to shop with them during this holiday season. Mrs. McHam said that it is the patronage of their friends and customers which has helped them to grow and to stay in business here, and they would like to take this opportunity to wish each of you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Railroad Assn. Pays To County $10,993 In Taxes

Current annual taxes paid to the various government agencies by Texas railroads in Knox County totaled $10,993, it is announced by the Texas Railroad Association.

That amount was the county's share of the nearly $11,000,000 the railroads paid in Texas on their own right of way and other property.

The biggest railroad contribution was to the school systems throughout the state. Large sums were also distributed to city, village and county governments and for road and bridge funds.

In addition, of course, was the large total in taxes the more than 30,000 railroad employees in Texas contributed on their own property. The vast majority of rail workers, many of whom live in Knox County, own their own homes.

"We are very pleased that nearly half of the taxes paid by the railroads in Texas go to support the schools," said Walter Caven, general counsel of the Texas Railroad Association. "The future of our country depends to a great extent upon the education of our youth," he said.

"Recognizing this need for education, many of the railroads operating in Texas also continue to make scholarships available to a large number of students every year."

Shoppers Warned To Beware Of Auto Thieves

Dallas - Christmas shoppers should take every precaution to protect their packages and automobiles from thieves, warns the National Automobile Theft Bureau.

C. C. Benson, manager of the southwestern division of the NATB, said that Christmas shoppers who leave their cars unlocked and packages in the back seat are leaving an open invitation to thieves of all kinds.

"Car thieves frequently prowl shopping centers and other such areas where shoppers are likely to leave cars unlocked and keys in ignitions while they run inside stores to make quick purchases," said Mr. Benson.

During the holiday season the thief not only has more cars to pick from, but often can find a car filled with packages. Thus, he can get two birds with the same stone - the car and the packages - and have an early Christmas, observed the NATB official.

Mr. Benson said shoppers should lock all packages in the trunks of their cars when the automobiles are unoccupied. Over 60 per cent of the cars stolen had been left unlocked and over half of these were left with keys in the ignition.

Streams In Desert Places
BY OZELLE STEPHENS
"Give ear, O Lord unto my prayer; attend to the voice of my supplication." Ps. 86:6
Prayer should be made with joyous expectation, especially at Christmas time. Christmas should be a special time of prayer. For prayer helps us open our hearts, it helps us to envision more clearly the true meaning of Christmas. There is great expectation and great joy in Christmas that comes through prayer. Prayer is the open door; it brings about a knowing that needs no questioning or directing, for it is the fullness that fills the soul.
At this Christmas time let our minds be filled with praise and thanksgiving of the son of God, who brings us peace and joy. Believe as David when he prayed unto God to give ear unto his prayers and they were answered.

CITY TO MAKE NEW DUMP GROUND

At their monthly meeting last Thursday night, the O'Brien City Council voted to make a city dumping ground north of town on the city property near the sewer plant.

The dump ground will be for O'Brien residents only. Trash will be dumped into a bulldozed open pit, burned periodically, and the pit covered when full. No dead animals or car bodies would be left at the grounds.

When the dumping grounds are ready for use, the date will be announced in this paper.

City council members include Charles Casillas, Chris Jimenez, Paul Wessel, Don Whitley, Johnny Reid, Mayor L. A. Covey and Water Supt. Ikie Ray.

BASKETBALL TEAMS PLACE IN TOURNEYS

All four O'Brien basketball teams placed in tournaments last weekend. Coach Johnston's high school girls placed second in the Benjamin tourney and the local boys team placed third.

The junior high boys brought home the first place trophy from the Paint Creek tournament and the girls won second. Their coach is C. H. Underwood.

The O'Brien Invitation tournament begins this week, from Dec. 11-13 with games beginning at 2:15 p.m. Thursday. O'Brien will play its first games against Benjamin at 7:45 and 9 p.m. Thursday night.

Teams entered are Noodle, Woodson, Paint Creek, Goree, Benjamin, Old Glory, Rochester and O'Brien.

Guests included Kerrie Johnston, Angela Reid, Melissa and Kimberly Whitley, Christine Jimenez, and Charla and Greg Thorn. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. SS News

Nearly 10 million of the 25 million social security beneficiaries are kept out of poverty because they are drawing cash benefits, according to Mr. Carl Beisner social security representative.

Only about a fourth of the beneficiaries have income sufficient to keep them above the poverty level without social security benefits, he added. Going a step further, about 7.5 million beneficiaries, while still below the poverty level, are primarily dependent upon social security.

Back in the early history of the program, Mr. Beisner explained, few people had pension rights of any kind and few had continuing income protection for their families in case of death or disability. But today 25 million people are receiving cash benefits each month.

After a third of a century, the descendants of those who created the Nation's social security program have gone the full cycle: from being protected as children, to protecting their own children under the program currently. Today's men and women in their early 30's could well be identified as the social security generation. Like the Social Security Act, its members were born during the Great Depression.

Mr. Beisner noted that in one short generation, social security has changed the face of America. People who would otherwise be among our most economically vulnerable - the aged, the widows and orphans, and the disabled - have income they can count on month after month as a matter of right.

"It is a matter of pride with us," he explained, "that the rights to social security benefits is a legal right enforceable in the courts. The social security system as we have it today, with all the need there is for improvement, is a tremendously successful program. It has the enthusiastic acceptance of the vast majority of Americans: it touches the life of every one."

Some 180,000 widows will receive larger checks from the VA in January 1970 under a law signed in October 1969.

Trouble Shooting Contest Is Set For June 15, 16, 17

DETROIT - Dates for the National Finals of the 22nd annual Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest have been set for June 15, 16 and 17 at the famed "500" Speedway in Indianapolis. Glenn E. White, general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, announced.

This will be the third consecutive year that the national championships of this award-winning youth event have been held in Indianapolis.

"The 1969 Trouble Shooting Contest was the most successful we have ever had," White said, "and we expect 1970 to be even better."

A record 206 of the nation's top auto mechanic students, representing 1,925 high schools and colleges in all 50 states, competed in the 1969 National Finals for $125,000 worth of scholarships and prizes.

John H. Moore, Jr., national manager of the Trouble Shooting Contest, said he anticipates participation at both the high school and post-high school levels to increase even more next year.

It is expected that more than 2,000 high schools and colleges with a total auto shop enrollment of more than 150,000 students will take part in the 1970 contest.

The post-high school classification was added to the contest in 1969. Moore explained that this allows junior colleges, community colleges, vocational training centers, etc. which

"Melanie Meddles" By Melanie Whitley

My younger sister, a college sophomore, came home for the weekend with her boyfriend and a sparkling engagement ring. "Did you get it at Zale's?" Mama asked. "No," grinned my sister, "We're not through playing around yet."

Here's a fact I didn't know until recently which surprised me and I thought a lot of other young mothers might be interested in knowing, and it comes straight from the doctor's mouth: Don't clean your children's ears with cotton swabs, they push more wax back into the ear than they get out. If you can't get it with a washcloth, don't worry about it.

I know that winter is fast approaching because every load of wash is blessed with a shredded kleenex that I forgot to remove from some pocket.

Are you one of those people who are forever volunteering to help out and do things? Later you wonder how your calendar got in such shape with maybe a dental appointment, a school meeting and one of your children's birthdays all scheduled on the day you usually go to the beauty shop. Well, I am and do and do wonder, I painted myself a three word message after one of those hectic weeks that was a result of too much volunteering. This little sign is hung right in the line of eyesight as I sit at the telephone and may prove to be a lifesaver in the future. It says No! No! No!

In the November Good Housekeeping magazine was a very interesting article "the ac-

IDENT THAT SAVED FIVE LIVES." In this time of Spanish influence in furniture, homes and the use of native pottery for decorating and food serving, it might be good for more people to be aware of the danger related in this article.

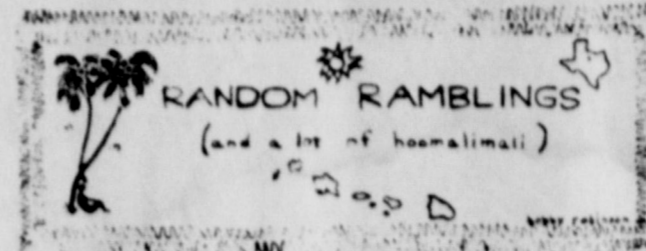

A doctor, his wife and three older children developed stomach aches, loss of appetite and became lethargic. Only the baby still on the bottle escaped these symptoms.

The family was discovered to be anemic, much to the embarrassment of the father. Tests showed that the whole family was being slowly poisoned from some mysterious source. The father checked their home for lead pipes, lead paint and finally discovered the villain was a pottery pitcher that a friend had brought from Mexico. Lead was used some way in the glazing of the pottery and the family was drinking that lead each morning with their orange juice.

This poisoning was a freak accident, but nevertheless it could happen when I finished reading it I poured out the ice water we usually keep in the refrigerator in a pottery pitcher.

So look through your cabinets for pieces of pottery, be safe and pot an ivy in them.

FROM LOUISIANA Miss Janelle Bullard, teacher in Shreveport, Louisiana, spent the Thanksgiving holidays here with her aunt and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Brown. While she was here, the group made a trip into Old Mexico for sight-seeing.

It's not too hard for a mall-hini (newcomer) to the 50th State to get confused by the names of some of the towns, schools, families, and highways which can be found over here in paradise.

On the way out here from the airport after my arrival a year ago I was amused by the strange names on the highway signs - like Waianae, Wahiawa, Nana-kuli, Makakilo, and Makaha.

That '68 football season was funny, too, especially when the announcers on TV started rattling off the high school scores: Punahou 6, Kahuku 0; Waipahu 8, Kailua 6; Lualualei 21, Leilehua 6; or Kaimuki 37, Damien 12.

The names of the roads and highways of Hawaii were hard to pronounce. Kamehameha, Likelike Highway, and the Lunalillo Freeway.

Names of beaches, parks, and villages on the north shore are tongue-twisters: KAAAWA, PUNALUU, PUPUKEA, AND MOKULEIA.

Now, with the new phone book scheduled to arrive soon, a story appeared in the Honolulu Advertiser on November 25, focusing on the number of listings each name has. Hot in the running for top honors are the Lees with 1,144 and the Wongs with 907 listings. Third

Do giant food companies read the letters which consumers send them? In most cases, each is carefully read by a consumer service or public relations department, and then forwarded to the proper person. Letters usually run from enraged complaints to rapturous praise, and all are given close attention.

Occasionally, letters of a different nature amaze and amuse company executives.

Recently, for example, the makers of Hawaiian Punch, a canned and frozen beverage blend of seven natural fruit juices, carried a consumer offer on each can of punch: A spritely little cartoon character named "Punchy" enlivens the punch television commercials, and the company offered a stuffed pillow-like version of Punchy for $1 and 3 can labels. Although the company was prepared for the flood of requests it received, it was unprepared for the outpouring of sentiment which accompanied the orders.

A youngster from Canton, Ohio, wrote, "Please rush me my Punchy. My teddy bear needs to retire." A young lady from Sioux City, Iowa, wrote, "Please send my Punchy. I love your punch. It makes me big and strong like my daddy. I am 24 years old." A New Canaan, Conn. boy, who addressed his letter to the "Punchy People," said, "I think it is a pretty good gimmick, and I am one of your faithful punch drinkers, so be sure to send a good one."

If you'd like your own 12-inch stuffed Punchy, and a chance to express yourself, simply send $1.00, three labels of any flavor 46-oz. can of Hawaiian Punch and your note to: Punchy, c/o Hawaiian Punch, P. O. Box 66369, AMF O'Hare Field, Chicago, Illinois 60666.

Harker said agriculture is interested in remote sensing because the system has demonstrated that it can identify crops over a large area, detect crop diseases, and show different soil types and moisture conditions.

A&M's Remote Sensing Center, established last fall to coordinate research and academic programs in the remote sensing field, is directed by Dr. J. W. Rouse, Jr.

The conference begins with general discussions, such as an introduction to remote sensing, environmental management, and the role of reconnaissance in recreational area management.

Further details on the conference can be had by writing to Harker in care of the Remote Sensing Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

An important but often overlooked tax requirement is the one requiring you to change your dependency exemption claim with your employer when you lose a dependent. Most taxpayers are very diligent about claiming the new baby as a dependent. But when the daughter gets married, Dad often forgets to follow the law and drop her from his W-4 exemptions (provided, of course, she is no longer a dependent, or that he doesn't get an extra dependent.) If a member of your family dies or leaves your household, the law requires you to promptly change your W-4. There is an option for you to drop exemptions in order to get your withholding tax balance out and pay all of your tax bill in lieu of filing an estimated tax return. But this option only works one way. You can't claim all of your withholding back by adding on exemptions and then balance the account at the end of the year. The law requires you to pay all you owe as you go. If you pay more, as most people do, you'll get a refund. So, Dad, if you didn't gain a son, go see Personnell and drop the daughter.

Pollution Attacked

During 1968, the petroleum industry spent a record $382 million in its continuing efforts to help clean up the nation's air and water.

Friday, December 5, the Knox County Home Demonstration Council held its annual Christmas party in the Assembly Room of the courthouse. Mrs. Helen Banks, Home Service Advisor for Lone Star Gas Company in Wichita Falls, gave a very enjoyable program on Christmas gift ideas. Following a decorated dish luncheon was a devotional presented by members of the Munday H. D. Club. The 1970 council officers were then installed with a ceremony led by Mrs. Marie Gillespie, Truscott. New officers are Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, president; Mrs. A. L. Roden, vice-president; Mrs. Homer Martin, secretary; Mrs. J. R. Brown, treasurer; Mrs. W. O. Corder, THDA chairman; Mrs. Emil Navratil, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Dale Phillips, reporter.

Following the installation ceremony a drawing was held for Christmas presents. The Benjamin Club provided very lovely table decorations and the Christmas tree. All who attended agreed that the entire day was enjoyable.

Our Knox County 4-H Gold Star Boy and Girl will be honored along with the other Gold Star winners in the District, on December 13, at a luncheon in Vernon. The Knox County winners this year are Cynthia Partridge of Munday, and Glenn Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Herring, of Rhineland. These young people are to be congratulated for their honors and for a job well done.

Whether as gifts, desserts or snacks, old-fashioned fruit cake is one sign of Christmas. Research has improved preservation of fruits and flavors to fill the cakes. For best quality, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, suggests fresh high quality glazed fruit be purchased.

To cut cake costs, add raisins, currents or prunes for part of the glazed fruit, she says. But too many raisins and currents may give the cake a bitter flavor.

Assorted, ready-cut glazed fruits are available to save cost and time.

Christmas Cookie Shortcuts

'Tis the season for mother to bake cookies and for kids to munch them. The gingerbreadman and sugary confections that delight the family can be more fun than drudgery for mom if she uses baking shortcuts and modern time-savers.

Always whip up several batches of cookies at the same time. You'll save stooping and reaching because all the ingredients will be out on the counter at once. While one recipe bakes, you can mix up the next. After popping the last dozen in the oven, you can start cleaning up.

Does the recipe call for greased cookie sheets? Cut time and shortening by using a Kleenex paper towel with a small piece of margarine or butter and greasing in circles on the pan where you will lay the cookies.

Every woman who has ever rolled cookies to cut knows how tough the dough gets after she works it in flour. Next time, mix half flour and half powdered sugar and sprinkle the mixture on your pastry cloth or dough board. The cookies will roll easier and faster, and the little bit of sugar absorbed prevents toughening by flour and handling.

When mixing dough too, you'll want paper towels handy just in case the phone or doorbell rings. If it does, wrap your hand with towels, and you can open the door or lift the receiver without making a sticky mess.

After you bake, cool cookies thoroughly on several layers of paper towels. The towels will absorb excess moisture quickly, and you won't have a messy cooling rack to wash up.

When cookies are completely cool, line the cookie jar with more towels. Stack the cookies in the jar, placing another towel on top. Made of two layers bonded together for extra absorbency, Kleenex towels will keep your cookies crisp and crunchy until the last crumb is gone.

With the cookie project over, the lots of goodies hidden away on kitchen shelves, a quick wipe-up with damp paper towels will make counter tops and tables neat again.

Try a few shortcuts and time-saver paper towels this holiday season, and you'll find it easier to best cookie-baking bother.

Doily Tree for Holidays

If you fancy tradition, but are tired of the usual blinking lights, tinsel and ornaments you may want to make your own Christmas tree.

An unusual tree can be made with paper doilies, and other materials purchased from a variety store at relatively small cost. The framework for the tree is chicken wire and a broom handle anchored in a porcelain container filled with polished stones.

The paper doilies are easily inserted in the chicken wire openings, and can be highlighted dramatically by bunches of blue bachelor buttons tied with red and white ribbons or by other types of bouquets or ornaments.

Use your imagination!

United-DeSoto, Chicago wall-covering manufacturer, suggests that the doily tree makes an excellent accent for traditional furnishings. Also, it will provide a pleasant contrast from brightly lit outside decorations, or as a second tree in the library or recreation room.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

With winter weather coming on, motorists will have to be more watchful.

More fatal traffic accidents occur during darkness--especially during the evening from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m.--than during the daylight hours, reports the Texas State Department of Health.

This sobering fact should be kept in mind by motorists during winter when the hours of daylight are shorter, streets may be wet or icy, and fog and frost on windows may cloud a motorist's visibility. Better control of the car, reduction of speed and increased alertness are very necessary.

The State Health Department and National Safety Council advise motorists to drive defensively and to:

- Pull into traffic more cautiously than in daytime.
- Pass with care, making sure you have enough passing room.
- Never trust your judgment in estimating speed of an approaching car by its headlights.
- Stay well behind the car ahead of you and watch for his signals.
- Watch for oncoming drivers who may be out of their lanes.
- Be alert for vehicles stopped on the roadway with poor or no lights.
- Alert other drivers with flares or lights if your car becomes disabled, and get it off the road.
- Don't over-drive your headlights. At 60 miles an hour it will take you about 370 feet to stop. Yet, you see only about 200 feet ahead.
- Put on directional signals well in advance of turning.
- Don't use parking lights when in motion.
- Make adjustments for bad weather, which further reduces your vision.
- Keep your windshield and windows clean, inside and out. In night driving the glare of oncoming headlights diffused against the film may blind you or make you fail to see unlighted objects.
- If an approaching driver fails to dim his lights, don't keep your bright lights on also. Slow down, dim your lights and keep your eyes on the shoulder of the road or the lane edge to guide you.

Hightower Seeks To Abolish The Common Law Marriage

Senator Jack Hightower announced Saturday that he will introduce legislation at the next session of the Texas Legislature to abolish common law marriages in this state. Senator Hightower said: "Although Texas has recognized common law marriage for 130 years the reasons for such recognition have long ceased to exist. In the early days of the frontier preachers and judges were hard to find, therefore common law marriages were a fact of life." "A birth certificate or some type of satisfactory evidence of the lawful age of the applicants should be required before the issuance of a license," the Senator stated.

Vehicle Inspection Slow; Inspection Stations Listed

AUSTIN--Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today that motor vehicle inspections in Texas are running almost 30% behind the inspection rate at this time last year.

"Unless the inspection rate increases, there are going to be some awfully long lines at inspection stations prior to the April 15 deadline," Speir said.

During the year which ended August 31, some 6.3 million vehicles were inspected in Texas. Since September 1, only 538,000 have received the required inspection.

The State Motor Vehicle Inspection Act was amended by the Legislature to provide that inspection stickers issued after September 1 will expire 12 months from the date of issue. However, the law requires that all motor vehicles display a new sticker before April 15, 1970.

Speir noted that the new stickers are being placed on the driver's side of the windshield and contain a number tab showing the month of expiration. The old stickers are on the passenger or right-hand side and have no number tab.

GRAZING DISTRIBUTION

Proper grazing distribution and the degree of forage utilization are factors often overlooked by ranchers in their range management program.

Stocking rates may be correct for the ranch, but if grazing is not properly distributed, some areas may be overused while others remain almost untouched. This means maximum net returns are not being received from the management program.

Now, at the end of the growing season, is the time to look over your range and see how you are doing with your distribution and utilization.

Are areas near water heavily used, while the far corners of the pastures stand unused? Is your salt supply near the water source? The solution to this problem is to place the salt in areas that have been underutilized. Moving salting locations several times during the year will increase grass utilization in the out-of-the-way places.

Research has shown that salt should be considered as a distribution tool rather than as a nutrient.

The degree of utilization during the growing season is often too high. Numerous experiments throughout Texas have shown that a rancher can expect greater returns from moderate than either heavy or light grazing.

A good rule-of-thumb is to "take half and leave half" of the current year's growth. If this sounds wasteful, remember that the same grass blades which feed livestock or wildlife must also feed the plant and store sufficient food material for early growth next spring.

A&M SETS REMOTE SENSING CONFERENCE

Agricultural use of a new survey device which uses remote sensing techniques will be among subjects to be discussed during an upcoming meeting here.

The session is Texas A & M University's first annual Remote Sensing Conference for Recreation and Resource Administrators Dec. 9-10 in the Ramada Inn.

George R. Harker of A&M's new Remote Sensing Center, conference coordinator, defined remote sensing as identifying something from a distance through instrument readings of energy given off by an object.
