Wants 1934 American Flight into Stratosphere

Professor Auguste Piccard, noted Belgian scientist who went ten miles into the stratosphere, is now in America for a lecture tour. He thinks an ascension in his metal ball should be made at a northern latitude during 1935 because of our proximity to the magnetic pole, thus better able to study the cosmic ray. He says it will not be necessary to again make the trip, but only direct the work. Prof. Piccard was greeted at New York by his twin brother, Jean Piccard, of Hamilton, Delaware.

PROSS HITCHCOCK HAS A VERY WONDERFUL COW

Pross Hitchcock, now has a "some" cow. A caller happened in at Mr. Hitchcock's about 9:00 o'clock Sunday night as he was coming in with a big bucket of milk. On asking why he was milking at that hour of the night, Mrs. Hitchcock replied that he had already milked three times that day and said he was supplying three families with milk and if milk kept accumulating he would have to dig a ditch to keep the milk drained off and the best thing, says Mrs. Hitchcock, "the cow sucks herself and he saves the field." FORMER KNOX, CLERK GIBB NOW DEMONSTRATES AGENT

BIBLE STUDY FOR M. E. CHURCH FOR JAN. 29th

Matthew 7.
 Verses 1-5: On the habit of condemning others. (Luke 6:37-42). Luke's account is a little fuller on this question. Our Lord condemns all forms of censoriousness. He calls censorious people hypocrites. He says that they are worse than the people they criticize. They are worse because they lack love. Judge not. See Rom. 2:1. Unkind and frivolous criticism is what is meant. Judgment as a serious and solemn act, not forbidden by Christ. It is indeed and often the Christian's duty to judge and to severely condemn things which the world never thinks of judging. Ch. 18, 15-17. Cor. 5:12; 2 Tim. 4:2.

"Note" is a small dry twig or stalk. Here it stands for a relatively small fault. "The beam" is the great roof beam of the house, something a thousand times larger than the eye itself. Here it stands for "wants of love" the most monstrous, under Christ's law, of all vices.

Verse 6 means that we should not give those things in our lives that are pure and holy and precious to us to the world, or mix them with worldly things. "Ask, seek, knock" a climax of increasing urgency. We are to wrestle with God in prayer, as Jacob wrestled. "Bread" stone, fish, serpent. A stone is like a loaf and a serpent is like a fish. The idea is that God will not mock an earnest supplicant, by appearing to answer his prayers in Lord looks back to what He has given him something, though apparently good, is really noxious.

Verse 12. The Golden Rule. There been saying in Chapter 5 about the fulfilling the law, and sums up His teaching on the whole subject with this important and practical maxim. As originally spoken it probably formed part of our Lord's utterances upon the law, as it still does in St. Luke 6:44. Rabbi Hillel says: "What is hateful to thyself that do not thou to another." Tobias says: "What thou thyself hatest do thou to no man." Confucius is reported to have said: "Do not to others what you would not wish done to yourself." All these are able sayings but they fall far short of Christ's Golden Rule, which means not only a yield injuring your neighbor, but do him all the good you can. They simply forbid injuries. Christ commands benevolence.

The broad way and the narrow way. See Luke 13: 24-27. Although it is a blessed thing to be a Christian it is not easy. The Christian journey is along the narrow way of self-denial, discipline and mortification, perhaps of contempt and perfection, but the end of it is life. Much easier is the broad way of indulgence, selfish pride and ambition, but the end of it is death. How many choose death rather than life.

Verses 15-20. Our Lord warns us to beware of false prophets. This is one warning that our age should heed probably as much as any other warning that He has given us. Watch for their real fruits. The indications are that you cannot tell them from their dress.

Verses 24-27. The true foundation of all permanent spiritual buildings is Jesus Christ. The rock represents Christ, the sand represents things of a worldly nature. Let us build on Christ, the solid rock.

Be sure and be at Sunday school. Mr. and Mrs. Pross Hitchcock's baby who has been ill for the past two weeks, is some better, it was reported Wednesday.

MOVEMENT IS STARTED THIS WEEK

Knox City will probably have a first class baseball park and grand stand soon if the plans of several local citizens work out.

Among those interested in putting the project over are Henry White and Ed Shaver, who are seeking the people's co-operation in the matter.

Knox City has always had an excellent baseball team and especially so in the last few years. There is better material here this year for a good club than there has been for some time, it is said. And the fans are looking forward to some real fast games this summer.

If you enjoy this sport, there is no other way that you could help get the games here better than to co-operate in this new park and grand stand movement. Let's build this stand.

C. C. HOGE, LOYD DAVIS VICTIMS OF KANGAROO COURT HERE WEDNESDAY

Buying the best drinks in town for all members of the jury was the penalty assessed C. C. Hoge and Loyd Davis Wednesday evening when Henry White was tried on a charge of having missed a regular meeting of the Knox City Fire Department. Messrs. Davis and Hoge were attorney and witness, respectively. Mr. White was exonerated.

Judge T. W. Templeton served as judge for the court and attorney Loyd Davis, prosecuting lawyer; the Honorable Roy Smith, Ed Shaver and Bill Clonts, of the firm of Clonts, Shaver and Smith, attorneys, represented the defendant. However due to some allegation brought against the Honorable Mr. Clonts, he was made to divide his time between the prosecution and defense counsels, serving on one side a while, and then on the other.

Eloquence flowed like gas from a gusher when the final pleas were made to the jury, composed of the six most unqualified persons who could be found in the court room. Witnesses were accused of being loop-legged and of unbalanced and irrational minds, among other things. G. T. Hardberger was sheriff in the case and arrested, it seemed, all the witnesses he could.

Anyway, we are glad they didn't decide to "hang" the jury, for prefer our own kind of neckties.

The city hall was crowded with spectators, who were all sworn in as witnesses and declared they would tell anything but the truth.

Some Knox In Our Brain

BY S. E. S.

Before the population had time to protect themselves, every editor in Knox County had swarmed the city of Benjamin Monday afternoon. This editor, accompanied by Mac Sweeney, went up to the capital to buy some license for his gas buggy so he could have the privilege of paying out his hard-earned dough for the operation of same during 1933. Lo, and behold, we hadn't more than landed until we ran across our friend J. A. Kennedy, of the Munday Times, and he said that E. L. Covey of the Gorce Advocate was there with him. Then we went over to the Benjamin Post office and found both of the Bisbee boys there on the job. So every editor of the county was present and one newspaper man, Mac Sweeney.

Some thought that the beautiful sunshine had this "coming out" effect on the newspaper men, but really, we believe that tax-paying had more to do with this swarm of journalistic talent Monday.

The farmers are sure beginning to turn their heads. And they sure gave a splendid season in the ground for that kind of work. This fresh plowed land sure has a pleasant odor to our nostrils. When the beautiful spring sunshine begins to come out and warm the earth, the birds begin to sing their songs and farmers begin to turn their soil, it just gives a fellow a feeling to want to get out in the open and enjoy the beauty of nature. With the season in the ground, farmers of Knox county have every hope to make as good a crop as was gathered here in 1932, and that is saying a lot, because that was the largest crop that had been gathered here in many years. Some of the local farmers are still holding cotton for 1932 and the year before. So if they don't make a bale this year they can just call off enough to carry them thru the year and never feel the difference. This is indeed a fortunate situation, and a condition that has not existed in many places, especially during this depression.

By the close of 1933 things will be back on their feet and going and we will be forgetting the trying times we passed through. That is the belief of many local people as well as men of national prominence who are in a position to know the nation's true state. We all seem to be feeling better about business and have a degree of optimism that has not existed generally for some time. Well, here's to 1933, the turning point of the tide. May we all see prosperity, not as it was in the past years, but sound and sane prosperity that will abide with us through the ages and keep us ever from such a panic as we feel are now emerging. Do your bit to help this return. Take advantage of every vague indication of opportunity and follow it to the end. Forget the disappointments that it might hold for you and think of the wonderful possibilities it may give. Give it every chance to produce for you before you give it up.

There is a saying that "All is for the best." This may hold true in connection with this so-called "depression" that we believe is passing. Many experiences have been gained through the chase that has existed in America and the world over. Experiences that could have not been gained through any other means. A lot of folks can be thankful for the depression, as untrue as that statement may seem. Many a home has been saved through the loss of wealth, many lives have been made happier by the coming of this financial stepdown, but for the loved ones that have been returned to their homes and separated from the loved ones that were beginning to take

ON LEAVING PEOPLE

Jesus loved to be in the crowd. Apparently he attended all the feasts at Jerusalem not merely as religious festivals but because all the folks were there and he had an all-embracing fondness for folks. We err if we think of him as a social outsider. To be sure it was the 'poor' who 'loved him gladly,' and most of his close disciples were men and women of the lower classes. But there was a time when he was quite the favorite in Jerusalem. The story of his days is dotted with these phrases: "A certain ruler desired him that he should eat with him" "They desired him greatly to remain and he abode two days" "Even after he had denounced the Pharisees as 'hypocrites' and 'children of the devil,' even when the clouds of disapproval were gathering for the final storm, they still could not resist the charm of his presence, nor the stimulation of his talk.

No other public character ever had a more interesting list of friends. It ran from the top of the social ladder to the bottom. The demagogue, the member of the supreme court, had too big a stake in a social order to dare to be a disciple, but he was friendly all the way through, and notably so the end. A well-known rich man, the owner of an estate on the Mount of Olives, threw it open to Jesus gladly as a place of retirement and rest. When he needed a room for the last supper with his friends he had only to send a messenger ahead and ask for it. The request was enough. And in the last sad hours, when the hatred of his enemies had completed its work and his body hung lifeless from the cross it was a rich man named Joseph—a rich man who would have sunk into oblivion like the other men of all the ages except for this one great act of friendship—who begged the authorities for his body, and having prepared it for burial laid it in a private tomb.

Such were his associates among the socially select. What sort of people made up the rest of his circle? All sorts. Pharisees, fishermen, merchants and tax collectors; culti-the first and foremost place in their lives, entwining them like a spider's web, which would eventually have snatched them from those by whom they were loved. Even though many have really suffered from this disaster, a large number have been made happier. Some wealthy people did not know what true happiness was until they were made poorer. They thought that money was all. They found that money was only a small part that it takes to make real happiness. So let us see the trying times for all they have brought us—the good, as well as the bad.

vated women and outcast women; soldiers, lawyers, beggars, lepers, publicans and sinners. What a spectacle they must have presented trailing after him through the streets. But Jesus loved it all—the pressure of the crowd, the clash of wits, the eating and the after-dinner talk. When he was criticized because he enjoyed it so much and because his disciples did not fast and go about with gloomy looks, he gave an answer that throws a wonderful light upon his own conception of his mission.

"Do the friends of the bridegroom fast while the bridegroom is still with them?" he demanded. "Not a bit of it; they enjoy every moment of his stay. I am the bridegroom; these are my hours of celebration. Let my friends be happy with me for the little while that we are together. There will be plenty of time for solemn thoughts after I am gone.

Mother of 7—Still Young

THE woman who gives her organs the right stimulant need not worry about growing old. Her system doesn't stagnate; her face doesn't age. She has the health and "pep" that come from a lively liver and strong, active bowels.

When you're sluggish and the system needs help, don't take a lot of "patent medicines." There's a famous doctor's prescription for just such cases, and every druggist keeps this standard preparation. It is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. Just ask for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Take a little every day or so, until every organ in your body feels the big improvement.

The next time you have a bilious headache, or feel all bound-up, take this delicious syrup instead of the usual cathartic. You'll be rid of all that poisonous waste, and you haven't weakened the bowels. You'll have a better appetite, and feel better in every way. The constant use of cathartics is often the cause of a sallow complexion and lines in the face. And so unnecessary!

Would you like to break yourself of the cathartic habit? At the same time building health and vigor that protects you from frequent sick spells, headaches, and colds? Get a big bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin today. Use often enough to avoid those attacks of constipation. When you feel weak and run-down or a coated tongue or bad breath warns you the bowels need to be stimulated. Give it to children instead of strong laxatives that sap their strength. It isn't expensive.

Better Lighting Will Ease Your Budget Worries

There are budgets that really will work... budgets that will show how to bring expenses within income! But they weren't created at a dark and gloomy desk... they were the result of calm and intelligent analysis under the cheering atmosphere of good light.

It's surprising what a difference adequate lighting makes!... Troubles take on a less terrifying aspect when subjected to the clear, eye-stimulating brilliance of the modern electric light. It's not only much easier to work, but the absence of eye-strain keeps your mind clear and alert.

Next time you sit down to plot out the month's expenses, or to write a letter, be sure your light is adequate. You'll find the difference amazing!

A trained employee will be happy to inspect your home-lighting arrangements. There's no obligation, of course... and chances are that a simple rearrangement of your present fixtures, or adjustments giving you adequate sized lamps where they're needed, will be all that's necessary.

THE JUNIOR PLAY, "THE RED STEP-CHILD"

HAVING A GOOD TIME

Having a good time is one of the outstanding things in a youth's life. A young girl or a young boy is to have a good time regardless of anything else. That is very vital to their lives, to the life they will live. Parents should prepare to give them a good time in the right way.

Several years ago in our own high school it was decided there should be more school night parties because they might take the students' minds from their studies. A student would not be on his school all the time given if there were parties. It is not supposed to be parties and teachers, hadn't you know that the boys and girls go to our school had been to party in your home than to not go where they are, when they are home nights? We rather think would. If so, why don't you open your homes for the young people of the town, give them a place to come to, to have a good time and relax them. Give them more parties, create games at these entertainments which the boys and girls like and enjoy. Some games are boring.

Think about this more, it's going to be cheaper in the long run. Take more time to entertain these boys and girls, for in a short while they will be leaders of this town. Most should be given them.

—Addie Short

THE SHORT TO LEAVE FOR ARIZONA SOON

The entire student body and especially the members of the Junior class are regretting the fact that one of its well-loved and prominent members, Addie Short, is soon to leave for Gila Bend, Arizona. Addie attended this school for the past two years, beginning in the first year with most of the present members of the Junior class. In the summer of 1931 she attended Sul Ross College at Alpine, Texas.

Addie has been an active worker in her class, especially in the newspaper work. She acted as class reporter from the sixth through the eighth grades. Her work was always done efficiently and well, and the cooperation and energy expended that minor capacity won for her the position of Editor-in-Chief of The Kennel this year. We are proud of Addie. The work she has done to date has been splendid and she has made The Kennel a wonderful success this year.

Indeed, we are sorry to lose our associate and friend, but we realize that our loss is another's gain. Addie, we wish you prosperity and happiness in your new home.

R. D.

NEW EDITOR-IN-CHIEF IS ELECTED FOR KENNEL

A business meeting on Jan. 22, the Junior class elected Eadie Mae Leaverton as the new Editor-in-Chief of The Kennel. She has had experience in journalism and we are glad to have chosen a capable person to fill the vacancy. The former Editor-in-Chief, Addie Short, will offer loyal support and cooperation to the new Editor-in-Chief.

JUNIOR PLAY IN PROGRESS

The Junior class has selected its play "The Red Headed Step-Child." This play has been highly recommended and promises to be the most outstanding feature of the season, so don't miss it. The Junior class has the reputation of being the peppiest class in high school. They always finish what they begin and make it "go over with a bang!" So watch for "The Redheaded Step-Child!"

IMPROVEMENT UNDER WAY

The library has ordered a new Webster's dictionary so the students will have a better opportunity to speak and spell correctly. Nothing could be more useful, as the other dictionaries are completely outdated.

The General Science room was converted into a repair shop Monday morning. All chairs that needed repairing were worked over. This was badly needed because some of the chairs were completely unjointed.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Warren and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hamm spent Sunday in Merkel.

Mrs. R. P. Boyd, mother of Russell Boyd, has moved to San Antonio. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd accompanied her, returning home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Youngblood left last Friday for Georgia where they will attend to business.

SOPHOMORE DEBATE

Friday, Jan. 20, the history II class devoted their class period to debating the subject Resolved: That the French revolution did more for the betterment of social conditions than the industrial revolution.

Although the subject was rather advanced, a very interesting argument took place. The class was organized into two divisions, negative and affirmative. The negative won the debate 4 to 3.

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

The thoughts of the students of Knox City high are dwelling on the county meet. It is the aim of the students, as it always has been, to be victorious at the meet.

Miss Park and the debaters have begun work—Monday look out! From the number of entries in the various divisions, it seems that there will be much competition in our school. Watch for further announcements.

SPEECH CONTEST

Few changes have been made in the rules governing the Extemporaneous Speech contest of the University Interscholastic League, according to Mr. Travis B. Dean, who has been elected director of the event in this county.

The most important change is in the sources for the extemporaneous speech topics. The News Reviews, published by Mcmillan Company, is listed, but advice from the State office states that this publication has been suspended and is therefore unavailable. Uncle Sam's Diary is added to the list this year and will be found to be a newsy weekly containing a running account of political and government news in Washington and the publication is sent free to any school in the league on request. The old stand-by, The Review of Reviews, appears again on this year's list. Specific topics for this contest will appear each month in the Interscholastic Leaguer, a year's subscription to which is given free of charge to any teacher who has this work in charge in any member-school. Don't fail to write to the state office and get your name on the Leaguer mailing list if you have charge of this contest for your school.

Valuable training is offered in this contest for pupils who wish to acquire facility in public speaking. Schools are urged to begin preparation for this contest at once, as the longer the period of preparation, the more the chance of success and the more educational value is secured, and the larger the number of pupils will be benefitted.

JUNIOR BASKETBALL

The junior basketball game scored a victory over Munday Friday 14-4. Early in the first quarter the K. C. pups took the lead and were out in lead the entire game. The teamwork of the boys was good and with more practice will offer a fair trial for county tournament.

BASKET BALL NEWS

High school basket ball girls defeated the Seymour girls at Goree gym Tuesday, Jan. 17. The score was 28-16. Everyone played very hard. The Seymour girls are real sports, if you don't believe me, just play them. Although we had some trouble, we enjoyed the game.

SEVENTH GRADE PARTY

January 20, Valentines were seen hanging in the windows of Marilyn Edwards' home. That night at seven o'clock, laughter and merriment were being carried on. Games were being played and valentines awarded. All the seventh grade were present, including their teachers, Mrs. Otis Cash and Miss Annie Mae Freeman. The refreshments were hot chocolate, heart-shaped cookies and small candies. The party was enjoyed and we hope to have another very soon.

WHY HAVE FIRE DRILLS

(Beat theme from the fourth grade).

We should have fire drills in school because we will get in a habit of getting out in order. We do not push in line but stay in our places. When we go fast we go carefully for we might knock someone down. Another might fall over the one that is trying to get up. When we go carefully we are unlikely to fall. We will save time and maybe someone's life will be saved by being careful.

We should not get excited but remember orders. If we get excited we might fall down or get our clothes soiled. We could not stop walking but would have to go on. The wind would make the flames bigger.

Teachers are advising their pupils to "burn their midnight oil" this week and next and the students seem to be abiding by the advice. Those mid-term exams are horrible. Don't be surprised if the electric bill is unusually high this month.

J. A. Wilson was a Lubbock visitor last week.

R. C. Hackfield is ill with flu this week.

Mrs. Clyde Grissom of Haskell was in Knox City for treatment this week.

ROUGH to your finger

ROUGH IN YOUR STOMACH

It's easy to say they're all alike—and hard to prove they are NOT. Dissolve a genuine Bayer Aspirin tablet in water, pour it off, feel the fine powder that coats the glass. Do this with some other tablet; see what coarse particles are left! They feel as sharp as sand, even to your finger. How must they affect those delicate membranes which line your throat—your stomach? For immediate relief from headaches, colds, sore throat, neuralgia of neuritis, lumbago, rheumatism, there's nothing like Bayer Aspirin. It cannot depress the heart.

60 cents* of every gas bill goes for TAXES

IN the course of a single year, MORE THAN TWO AND THREE-QUARTER MILLION gas bills are rendered to customers of the Lone Star Gas System. It requires 60c for each and every one of these bills to pay the numerous TAXES levied against the fuel service of this dependable System for the production, transportation and distribution of natural gas.

This money comes from the pockets of the gas consumers, and adds to the cost of gas service. The company acts as an agency for the collection of this tax money from its customers, and has no control over this item of expense which is a part of the rate you pay for natural gas.

That first early hat should never be a problem because, if nothing else, it can be colorful and it can be gay. The designers are holding to this rule for Spring and in addition are offering the small hat with distinctive characteristics which assures smartness for every face and every figure.

One outstanding characteristic of

The new spring hats is that every thing is worn with forward and slightly tilted. They have a matching trim, navy blue or red faced with plaids which match the accompanying scarfs.

Also there is the small hat, a mandarin toque of navy with white embroidery... matching navy white.

The flower trim includes brackets, zigzags and zigzags. These of course are for later wear. High-lighted straps are numerous in every showing.

THE DANGERS OF MODERATE DRINKING

By Richard C. Cabot, M. D., for many years chief of staff of the Massachusetts General Hospital and Professor of Medicine in Harvard University. (Printed by request of Knox County Prohibition organization.)

Forty years ago I was almost an ignorant about alcohol as most Wets appear to be today. I supposed it could stimulate the circulation and the brain, and so help to pull a man through pneumonia or typhoid. It took years of watching its effects in those and other germ diseases to teach me, as experience has now taught almost all intelligent physicians, that alcohol does harm and not good in infectious diseases.

We used to think that moderate drinking—"temperance" as the Wets call it—did no harm. Now we know that it is responsible for an enormous loss of life through automobile accidents on our streets. One cocktail is enough to impair the dexterity and quickness of hand and foot, to spoil the man's judgment about speeds and distances, on which safe driving depends.
