Knox Citizens to Vote on Water District Tuesday

Whether or not Knox City will be in the North Central Texas Municipal Water District will be decided next Tuesday, June 17, when qualified voters will ballot on the proposal.

Similar elections will be held in the other six towns in the proposed district. The Knox City election will be held at the American Legion Hall, with P. C. Lowrey as election judge.

Voting for confirmation, it has been pointed out, does not permanently bind any community to the district. Each community will have other opportunities to withdraw from the project, without cost, in two later elections.

Anyone who could vote in a city election will be eligible to vote Tuesday. In later elections, however, each voter must be a resident taxpayer.

If all seven towns confirm organization of the water district, plans are to construct a 52,000-acre-foot lake on Miller Creek, east of Munday. The lake would furnish an ample supply of potable water for the seven towns, anticipating more than 100% increase in population, well beyond the year 2100.

Cost of the entire project, including dam, filtration plant, pipelines to each town, and booster stations, is estimated at approximately $6.5 million. The district would vote a bond issue in that amount.

It is estimated that sale of water by the district to member towns would pay 75 percent of the cost. An ad valorem tax of 60 cents per $100 valuation would be levied from 1959 to 1965, and after that the tax would decrease each year until eliminated in 1989. The 60 cent tax, however, would be on conditions about two and a half times the renditions used by the cities, making the tax paid to the water district about equal the tax paid the city.

Property in the district would be appraised and equalized, and the tax in each town would be the same. Cost of water delivered to the storage tank of each town would also be the same, regardless of distance from the lake.

Water would be sold by the district to each member town at 30 cents per 1,000 gallons. Each city would in turn set its own water rate.

A copy of the engineer's report, a schedule of the financing and other pertinent information is on file at the city hall, and available to any interested citizen.

City Council Takes No Stand On Water District Confirmation

Mayor Otis Harbert said Wednesday the city council will take no official stand on the proposed water district to be voted on Tuesday, leaving the decision up to the voters.

He added, however, that the council is interested in voters thoroughly understanding the proposal.

Harbert said the council is unable at this time to say what the water rate would be if obtained from the proposed lake. Maintenance of lines and other costs of operating the city must be paid from water and sewer revenues, he said, since taxes go for interest and sinking funds to retire the city's bonded indebtedness.

If the city elects to purchase water from the district, the mayor said, it would have to abandon its wells and purchase all its water from the district. A minimum amount would be set up that the city would have to purchase. And since the entire financing of the project is set up on the basis of a steady increase in population and water consumption, he pointed out, if water consumption should decrease the rates would have to be adjusted to make up the difference.

On the other hand, Harbert said, while the city now has ample water, there is no way to determine how long it will last. The lake would undoubtedly furnish a long-lasting supply of good water, "and it is up to the voters to say if the insurance is worth the cost."

Rural Mail Carrier To Retire After 38 Years Service

Grady McLain will retire June 30 after 38 years as rural route mail carrier out of the Foard City and Knox City postoffices, it was announced this week by Jeff Graham, postmaster.

Mr. and Mrs. McLain and their four-year old son, Jerry, moved to Crowell during the week end. He has been on annual leave the past six weeks.

McLain has been carrying the mail on rural route No. 1 since April 1, 1955. Prior to coming to the Knox City office, he was rural carrier out of Foard City office for 35 years. The Foard City office was closed in March, 1955.

Rural route No. 1 is being served by Otis Harbert, McLain's substitute carrier.

Thos. D. Humphrey Funeral at Dallas

Thomas D. Humphrey, Sr., Dallas oilman who was active in Knox County oil exploration, died Tuesday in Baylor Hospital, Dallas, after a lengthy illness.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Brewer Funeral Home in Dallas.

His company sold its Knox County production, but still had holdings in neighboring counties.

Surviving are his wife and two sons, T. D. Jr. and Robert C., all of Dallas; a daughter, Mrs. Helen Newman of Tyler; and three sisters, Mrs. Annie Dunlap of Abilene, Mrs. Kyle Grimes of Stamford and Mrs. Lee Bollin of Temple.

New Brazos Bridge Open for Traffic

The new Brazos river bridge at Rhineland has been accepted by the Highway Department and is now open for traffic, H. T. Cunningham of Munday, residing engineer, said.

This is a modern bridge and is 24 feet wide and 800 feet long. It has no weight limit and is built well above high water. Some traffic was routed over the bridge before the approaches had been surfaced.

The old bridge, all except the piers, are being taken down by the county. The Lone Star Gas Co. will suspend their gas lines over the river on the piers. Approaches to the old bridge are being obliterated.

Cunningham also announced the opening of the farm to market road which connects Highway 277 to the Munday-Knox City highway about six miles east of Knox City.

The highway department will soon begin construction of 5.574 miles of farm to market road south of Goree to connect with the farm to market road from Munday to Throckmorton.

Knox City Girls Attend Girls State

Charlotte Cornett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Cornett, and Margie Paul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Paul, left Tuesday for Austin where they will be Girls State representatives.

Both juniors in high school, the girls will join other girls from all over the state for a week of concentrated study of the workings of the government, and in recreational activities.

Girls State is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary and Miss Cornett and Miss Paul represent the local unit.

The girls were selected on their character, leadership, scholarship, and personality.

They were guests Tuesday night of Mrs. Cornett's brother and his family who live in Austin.

Rev. Walter Driver, Methodist pastor here the past four years, stands in front of the parsonage which he almost completed, lacking only finishing the inside. Driver was appointed pastor of the First Methodist Church in Roscoe and he and Mrs. Driver moved there last Thursday. The parsonage here was started three years ago, and the pastor did about 85 percent of the work. It contains 2,000 square feet of floor space, plus the carport and storage. The house has three bedrooms, each 16x12, a 24x14 living room, and a den. It has cost only $5,000 so far, Driver said.

Hoge said there will be no speaker at the banquet this year. Instead, an entertainment program will be presented by local talent following the dedication ceremonies and installation of new officers.

Tickets are on sale now and may be purchased at Hoge's Pharmacy.

The public was invited to purchase tickets which are priced at $1.50 each.

Little League Results

The R.A.'s, the Tigers and the Braves are tied for the lead in Little League play with two wins and one loss each, while the Cards occupy the cellar with three losses.

Last Thursday night the Braves beat the Tigers, getting 10 runs on two hits off of Tiger pitchers Marion, Logan and Montandon. The Tigers got two runs on five hits off of Braves pitcher Jerry Wilcox.

The Braves and Tigers, who had tied in their first game Tuesday night, played again Saturday night to break the tie. The game lasted only one inning, with the Tigers scoring one run on three hits and the Braves going scoreless.

The R.A.'s scored 16 runs on 11 hits off of Shaver and Glenn Thursday night to beat the Cards 16-3. The Cards got four hits off of pitcher Riost of the R.A.'s.

Tuesday night the Tigers came from behind to upset the R.A.'s, 8-6. The winners got 4 hits off of R. A. pitcher Reeves, while Logan, Montandon and White of the Tigers allowed five hits.

The Braves coasted to a 18-5 victory over the Cards, getting 10 hits off Averitt, Joe Reyes, Tankersley and Jim Reyes. Wilcox and Brooks of the Braves allowed four hits.

Tonight (Thursday) the R.A.'s will meet the Tigers again at 6:15 and the Braves and Cards will play at 8:00.

Sammy White, Little League president, said this week a pony league has been formed, under the management of Bob Bailey. The team of 13 and 14-year-olds will be coached by Ted Darland, new Knox City athletic coach who moved here recently from Grandfield, Okla.

About 20 boys have signed up for the team, which will play a schedule with teams from three neighboring towns. The schedule and player roster will be published next week.

The Little League baseball season got off to a good start Tuesday night of last week, and increasing interest is being shown in the games, according to Sammy White, League president. In this picture Empire Bill Anderson watches a close play at home plate in the first game between the Cards and R.A.'s.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEXAS. — Texas Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools is working toward getting a gold star when an economy-minded Legislature hits Austin next year.

Launching a new tight-purse policy, the Board voted to prohibit superintendents of individual state institutions from (1) using leftover funds without Board permission and (2) making any expenditure of more than $1,000, without Board approval.

Sometimes individual hospitals develop surplus funds resulting from smaller patient loads than had been expected, or other reduced costs. New rule puts an end to no-strings-attached spending of such surpluses. These lapsed funds could amount to as much as one million dollars, according to Board Member W. G. Kirklin of Odessa.

NOT ME — Likelihood that someone may draw the "black bean" of new state taxes has group after group telling the State Tax Study Commission how overburdened they are already.

A spokesman for the Texas Motor Bus Association told the Commission taxes on that industry are heavy and discriminatory. He said many smaller lines were having to go out of business.

A representative of retired people asked tax relief for people living on pensions.

"We are no longer concerned with saving the goose that lays the golden eggs. Our goose was cooked when we lost our ability to work and earn," said W. B. Wood of Port Arthur.

On behalf of the Texas Association for Tax Relief for Texans over 65, Wood asked for tax exemption for the first $3,000 of property owned by oldsters. He also opposed a sales tax.

Discrimination is charged because the law applies to wholesalers but not to producers who sell only the output of their own flocks. Suit also objects to the provision that makes violations a criminal offense and the requirement that eggs kept under refrigeration for 30 days or more be labeled "cold storage eggs."

REPUBLICAN — Texas Supreme Court is considering the question of whether a former Democratic candidate is entitled to a position on the Republican primary ballot.

Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor leader and one time Democratic candidate for the Legislature attempted to file against Texas' only Republican congressman, Bruce Alger. He called himself a "Stevenson Republican," an apparent parody of Eisenhower Democratic.

A lower court ruled that Cantrell, as a member of one party, was not entitled to seek nomination in another party's primary. Cantrell appealed to the high court.

Since there is usually one nominee for each office, Republican primaries do not ordinarily attract a heavy vote. It is widely assumed that many Republicans cross party lines to vote in Democratic primaries where most state offices are decided.

Cantrell's candidacy is generally interpreted as a move to force Republicans to stay in their own primary.

Streams In Desert Places

By Ozelle Stephens

"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."—(Prov. 23:7)

We often find ourselves in Desert Places of confusion because of our thinking. But when love controls the thoughts, the heart is filled with peace. Joy is the strength of the soul. The measure of a man is the size of his thoughts. When the mind is enlarged with the thoughts of God's divine love, mercy, grace, and understanding, then true love is returned unto him. Peace and harmony is given in a bountiful measure. So fill your mind with the love of God that your thoughts will reach out like great arms of comforting strength to those in need. Trust Him who is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think.

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I never like to start the day's work afore I know what's going on in the world. Everything is so tied up with everything else that a feller has got to be careful. A election in Greece can cause a slump in the market on Wall Street, or a street fight in Egypt may call for an emergency meeting of the Cabinet in Washington. Things is so close knit in the world that I don't want to start plowing up the weeds in one of my fields if it's going to effect somebody in France the wrong way. I'm willing to postpone my plowing 'till next year if the signs ain't right in East Berlin. That's the reason I like to git my paper in the morning so's I can sorter plan and lay out the day's work in a manner that won't hurt nobody.

The papers has been full of good stuff all week. Fer instant, I saw last night a feller in dental school in Georgia is working on a power-drive tooth brush. I laid awake all night wondering if it'd have handles on it and you walked behind it, or if you could jump on it and ride. Along about daylight I figured it out that you could use it in a rocking chair. A great peace come overme and I fell off to sleep.

I see where Congress has set aside eight million dollars and and told the Air Force to "explore in the vicinity of the moon." Looks to me like they could git closer than that, fer eight million. I don't see why they didn't make it 10 million and order 'em to hit it on the nose. After all, what's more million to them men?

Let me tell you what I saved when I drove a new Plymouth... then bought one

Just like a lot of other people, I was putting off buying a new car... even though we sure needed one. Then I found out what my Plymouth dealer was offering in the way of low prices and really big trades.

Mister, when I saw what I saved I knew there was no use putting off any longer! Got more for my old car than I believed possible. (Plymouth dealers need used cars and can sell all they get!) Got a terrifically low price on the new Plymouth... and choice of models besides... hard-tops, sedans, convertibles, wagons.

And I saved a cool $140 on the ride alone! Plymouth's top-luxury ride, Torsion-Aire Ride, is standard at no extra cost, while you have to pay up to $140 for the top ride competing "low-price 3" cars.

What's more, I got the car that proved it can save gasoline, by winning the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. My car with Silver Dart Styling that is so far ahead right now it will still be worth more when I trade. With the kind of easy handling that makes every minute of driving a downright thrill! The stamina to stand up without sagging adjustments and big repairs... a car as much better as it is better looking!

Any wonder I quit waiting? Take my tip... get your Plymouth bargain right now.

Morgan - Grubble Vows Are Exchanged

Miss Carlene Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morgan, became the bride of Jerry Leon Grubble in rites read Sunday, June 1, in the Gillespie Baptist Church. The Rev. Mart Hardin, minister of the O'Brien Baptist Church, read the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle fashioned with a crescent neckline. The nylon tulle skirt was partially covered with an overlay of Chantilly lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a lace cap studded with iridescents and pearls. She carried a white Bible which belonged to her social club at McMurry College. The Bible was topped with a white orchid.

Mrs. Jimmy Morgan, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an ice blue brocade cotton sheath fashioned with a blue chiffon sash and an oval neckline. Her picture hat was made of net and trimmed with a satin bow. She carried a white lace fan covered with blue and white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss O'Lysia Bowden of Hart and Miss Patsy Carlson of Eunice, N. M. Their dresses and accessories were identical to that of the matron of honor.

Lewis Grubble served as his son's best man. Groomsmen were Phillip Conaway of Colorado City and Don Kidd of Ralls. Dairy Foods Are Featured at Annual 4-H Round-Up

COLLEGE STATION — Dairy foods demonstrations stole their share of the spotlight at the State 4-H Roundup this year. That's only fair since, June is Dairy Month, and dairy foods are such an important item in the diet.

On Wednesday, June 11, 66 skilled 4-H demonstrators, all winners in their respective county and district contests, gave 24 team demonstrations and 21 individual demonstrations—each featuring a different dairy dish. Delicious milk drinks of all kinds, cheese dips, salads and main dishes, and desserts, such as cheese cake and ice cream, were quickly prepared by the girls. Demonstrators were scored on their own poise and skill, and on the nutrition information given in the demonstration, as well as on the actual appearance, taste and appeal of their product, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists.

More important than this one day show, and the awards and recognition involved, is the value of the training and information 4-H girls get in working up demonstrations and giving them locally in their own clubs and county. Contestants at 4-H Roundup must be at least 14 years old, but the 9-year-olds can participate and practice in their club and county activities.

Information on dairy foods and recipes for many new and different dairy dishes can be obtained from your local county home demonstration agent's office.

Cattle Sales Are Back to Normal

FORT WORTH—The livestock business all across the United States swung into a normal marketing pattern for the first time this year, with the opening of the summer marketing season and the start of June.

In the previous five months of 1958 below normal numbers of cattle and calves have been sold, and this has resulted in some warnings from government statisticians. These experts feared the buildup in cattle numbers was being too rapid, and warned that the light selling was kiting prices which might later result in an unduly sharp downward adjustment.

However, with the summer sun hastening the harvest all over the southern parts of the Great Plains, and field work advancing in the Cornbelt, cattle numbers at the markets soared to surpass the previous week and also the same interval a year earlier.

Cows were still in small numbers at all markets, however, yearling steers and feeder heifers were numerous in stocker-cattle centers. Cornbelt markets reported payment of finished cattle was heavy, indicating the heaviest out-movement of fat steers and heifers of the season.

Prices wavered at all points, but downward adjustments were no more than a normal seasonal dip in prices, according to most observers at Fort Worth. The likelihood of serious price impairment was considered still remote.

Talk of "high" cattle prices found little agreement among Fort Worth marketmen, who pointed out that livestock prices have been "catching up with" the rest of the economy following the low prices during the late drought.

Bill Wilson and daughter, Joan, of Rising Star visited Knox City friends Saturday. The family formerly lived here and Joan is a 1957 graduate of Knox City High School. She is now employed by the telephone company in Rising Star.

Mrs. London of Throckmorton is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Annel Waldrip, and Mr. Waldrip.

Caution Advised in Using Insecticides

COLLEGE STATION — Don't fail to follow manufacturer's directions when handling and using highly toxic insecticides. Extension Entomologists warn F. M. Fuller and C. F. Garner. They point out that weather conditions continue to favor heavy insect infestations and this means farmers will be handling materials which kill bugs as well as humans.

Insecticide injury to man is most common through oral and respiratory intake or by skin absorption. Continued exposure even to lower insecticide concentrations with no regard to safety measures, can result in accumulation of chemicals in the body and may cause eventual tissue or organic injury, say the specialists.

Many phosphorus compounds, such as parathion, methyl parathion, EPN, TEPP, demeton, Diazinon, Phosdin, Thimet and Guthion are extremely poisonous and must be handled with care. Many phosphorus insecticides are more poisonous to warm-blooded animals than most other chemicals used for insect control, say the specialists.

Since phosphorus insecticides tend to reduce the cholinesterase enzyme, entomologists advise regular handlers of such materials to have cholinesterase tests at 10-day intervals while working with the material. Laborers can provide information on such tests.

It's a good idea to change clothing immediately following a highly toxic insecticide treatment, say the specialists. Do not enter a field for three days after it has been treated, say the specialists. Wear gloves and laundered protective clothing during handling, and wash if a toxic insecticide is on the skin or clothing after a thorough bath and change of clothes, they advise.

Other pointers to include the use of respirators; protection of eyes, nose, mouth and livestock from sprays or dusts, store chemicals away from children; responsible people, forms of feed and readable labels on containers and have first aid kit and antidotes available in case they are needed.

YEAR 'ROUND AIR CONDITIONER

Scientists have known for years that enough natural heat exists in outdoor air, even in the coldest weather, to heat every home in the world. If this heat could be extracted, concentrated... and brought indoors—what a solution to everyone's heating problem!

But that's just what a summer air conditioner does in reverse. It extracts and concentrates indoor heat and moves it outdoors.

The All Electric Heat Pump Air Conditioner is an air conditioner that can reverse itself automatically to cool heat as needed to maintain indoor comfort at an even level. An improved reverse-cycle valve, sensitive to indoor temperature changes of even a few degrees, switches from cooling to heating and back again automatically... to maintain the comfort level at which you set the thermostat.

COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC

The Electric Heat Pump is completely automatic. During changeable weather, even if it is within the hour, the Heat Pump will switch from heating to cooling and or back again as the temperature changes require.

You do not need to change the temperature dial, you just set the thermostat for the temperature you desire and forget it. The Electric Heat Pump is the ONLY completely automatic air conditioner.

H-D Notes . . .

Miss S. C. Kinsey, County Home Demonstration Agent

The latest method for canning vegetables is a one-step cold-pack method.

Directions are simple . . . As an example, take snap beans. Begin by washing all pint or quart jars in hot soapy water and rinse well. It is not necessary to sterilize jars since the pressure canner must be used in canning all non-acid vegetables.

Use only fresh, young, tender beans. The bean should just be beginning to form in the pod. Wash thoroughly, trim ends and cut into 1-inch pieces.

Thus far there is nothing different from the old method of canning snap beans. Now you will note that the fill is different.

Pack raw beans tightly into clean jars to 1/2 inch of the top. Cover with boiling water, again leaving 1/2 inch space at the top of the jar. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt to pints and 1 teaspoon to quarts.

Close jar with two-piece lid and place it in the pressure canner. Exhaust canner for 10 minutes, close petcock and process at 10 pounds pressure—pint jars 20 minutes, quart jars 25 minutes. Remove canner from heat, let pressure return to zero and remove the jars.

This new one-step method can also be used for canning fresh lima beans, carrots, cream style corn, whole kernel corn, black-eye peas and summer squash.

For further information check with me at the courthouse in Benjamin. You may also wish to ask for a copy of B-194, "Home Canning—Fruits and Vegetables."

Fertilized Pastures Give Best Returns

COLLEGE STATION—“Cows were standing knee deep in grass and starving to death” is an expression often used to describe many Texas pastures.

This “starvation” is due to the fact that the grass does not contain enough minerals for good growth because of low mineral soils, points out Bill Bennett, director of the Texas A and M. College Soil Testing Laboratory.

Several minerals necessary for good growth are often deficient but the main ones are calcium, phosphorus and potassium, says Bennett.

Calcium can be applied in the form of limestone, he points out. Money spent for limestone is one of the best investments a livestock man can make if the soil is deficient in calcium, and it can be applied anytime during the year.

Phosphorus and potassium can be supplied in the form of chemical fertilizers, says Bennett. Common grades, such as 3-10-5 or 10-20-10, can be used advantageously in supplying the phosphorus and potassium which is needed for good growth of high quality forage and for good livestock gains.

The quality of lime and fertilizer needed to supply these necessary nutrients is variable, depending on the soil, notes Bennett. He suggests a soil test for determining this quantity. The spring sampling rush is over, and soil samples that are taken now can be processed in a very short time and returned in plenty of time for the limestone and fertilizer to be applied this spring to take advantage of the spring rainfall and good growing conditions.

Bennett suggests contacting the local county agent for information on taking a soil sample and submitting it for testing.

Judge and Mrs. L. M. Williams transacted business in Dallas this week.

SETTING HIS LOOP on a fleet brahma calf, the roper prepares to throw away the slack and dismount. Already the horse, in immediate response to the cowboy's subtle signal with the rope, is gathering his feet for the dime-sized stop. Carried in his teeth is the cowboy's pigging string, a short length of rope he'll use to tie the legs of the roped calf. A race against time, calf roping depends on remarkable teamwork between the cowboy and his horse. Most of the nation's top rodeo contenders will perform at the Santa Rosa Roundup in Vernon, Texas, June 25-28.

AG COMMISSIONER URGES CAUTION IN USE OF HERBICIDES

Extreme caution in the use of weed killers on the farm or ranch was urged today by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Some 4,000 acres of cotton were recently damaged severely in the Coastal Bend where 2, 4-D and 2, 4,5-T were used to kill weeds in nearby rice fields. The incident resulted in the banning of the chemicals in that area until crops were harvested.

Brides Reminded To Change Name On Social Security

June brides who plan to continue working need to do something more than sign the marriage application and slip on the ring, according to Erton F. Tate, Wichita Falls, Texas, social security office manager. They also need to change their names on their social security records.

“Any woman who changes her name should be sure to submit a change of records card to us”, he said, “so that her new name may be tied in with our records under her previous name.”

Records may be changed by calling at the social security office at the Post Office in Wichita Falls, or by requesting a change of record card from that office by mail.

“It's a very simple procedure,” Tate added. “But it's one of those little things that mean so much. Future benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance system will be based on the work record, and that record cannot be complete and up-to-date in all respects unless the ladies remember to change their names on our records when they get married.”

Mr. and Mrs. Claudale Barnard recently moved from town to their home on the farm. Their house in town has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Tidwell, teachers in the local high school.

Miss Martha Jane Jones of Houston came in Tuesday night to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones. She plans to be here two weeks.

Mrs. Carl Gage and Helen Beth of Stamford visited Knox City friends one day last week. The Gages have bought a drive-in grocery in Stamford. They formerly owned grocery stores in Knox City and Munday.

Mrs. Carl Shelton and daughters are spending this week in Lefors visiting her parents.

Commissioner White reminded farmers and ranchers that hormone-type herbicides are excellent for weed control but they can be dangerous to surrounding broadleaf plants. The chemical spray can be carried long distances by wind, damaging and sometimes destroying cotton and other crops in the vicinity.

The recent ban on herbicides in an area of the Coastal Bend was the first time such action had been necessary there in five years. “We have had so few cases of mis-handling of the chemicals that people are apt to forget how potent they really are on susceptible crops”, said White.

Even a small leak in spraying equipment being towed down the highway has been known to damage crops for miles down both sides of the road. The chemicals of hormone type spur the plant to such rapid growth that they literally “grow themselves to death” in a few days time.

White pointed out that many Texas counties are regulated by the state Herbicide Law which requires permits if more than ten acres of land are sprayed during any one year. Those applying herbicides commercially must be bonded in addition to having a permit.

Proper use of the chemicals can achieve excellent results in weed control, said White. However, anyone who has not had previous experience with weed killers is advised to hire a reliable commercial firm to treat the land.

Sharon Reese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Reese of Altus, Okla., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Reese.

Mrs. Charles Reese and daughters are spending this week in Millsap with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mitchell. Mr. Reese carried them Monday.

Hoyt Lovelace came in last week to spend the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lovelace. Hoyt was a freshman student at John Tarleton.

Mrs. Henry L. White visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Cobb, near Haskell Monday.

Farmers to Make Important Decision In June 20 Vote

COLLEGE STATION—Texas wheat farmers will help to make an important decision when they vote June 20 in the national wheat marketing quota referendum, Searcy M. Ferguson, chairman State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

If the quotas are not approved by at least two-thirds of those voting, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support. The price-support rate would be about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 percent of parity, as provided by Chairman Ferguson. Out of wheat marketing and acreage allotments only in commercial States—those with more than 25,000 acres has an allotment of acres for the 1959 wheat crop.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum are those who will be affected by the referendum if they become effective. Farmers who will have 50 percent or less of wheat for grain in 1959 and those taking part in the wheat program are to cast ballots in the referendum. The quota referendum on June 20.
