C Of C Continues Work Toward Community Clinic

Plans are taking shape now for the Chamber of Commerce's Community Clinic to be held here Thursday November 9 with six one-hour sessions being presented.

The purpose of this Community Clinic, according to Bruce Campbell, Jr., president of the local Chamber, is an appeal to the citizens of the area to share the responsibility of developing a sound, practical program for the betterment of our community. Mr. Campbell said that it would be from the discussions and suggestions during these six one-hour sessions that would help determine the future program of activities of the local C. of C. He emphasized the fact that the decisions recommended during this Clinic could well influence the community we live in 5 to 10 years from now. Even though the Chamber has carried on an active program of worthwhile activities and has seen many programs to a successful conclusion, officials are still conscious of the need to plan for our future.

Representatives of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Wichita Falls Chamber are helping to promote the Clinic here. The sessions have been planned to include the interests of many, and six local moderators include Otis Smith who will speak to the Seniors at the High School at 8:30 a.m.; Mrs. Zena Wall, Women's Division at 9:45 a.m.; at The Woman's Club; Charles Lankford, Employees' at the Masonic Hall at 11 a.m.; Bob Harrison, Merchants at 2:30 p.m.; at the Masonic Hall; Floyd Bailey, Professional at the High School at 4 p.m.; and Sammy White, Agriculture at the American Legion Hall at 7:30 p.m.

American Legion Veterans Ask Voters' Support Nov. 11

The members of the Teague-Carpenter American Legion Post No. 229 are campaigning to Get Out the Vote on Saturday, November 11, Veterans Day, in order to approve the amendment authorizing the State to issue $400,000,000 in bonds to revitalize the Veterans Land Program. The issue will be on the ballot at a special election to be held that day.

In addition to eligibility for World War II and Korean servicemen, the new amendment will also take in the ex-servicemen of the present Vietnam War. In addition, those out-of-state citizens of Texas who have been living in Texas for five or more years would be made eligible. The bill also increases from $7,500 to $10,000 the maximum loan available.

Numerous veterans have not had the opportunity to purchase a piece of the land they fought to preserve, and they should be afforded this opportunity.

Twice in recent years the voters of Texas have turned down similar amendments. There was no reason for it, as the Land Program has not cost the taxpayers one cent - rather the money is loaned to veterans who pay a low rate of interest and as a result the State has wound up making money, according to Legion statistics. It does not raise anyone's taxes - it helps only those who participate in it - it hurts no one. Therefore, there is no logical reason to turn down this amendment.

Five other amendments will be on the ballot - none of which seems to be controversial. They are SJR 6 authorizing counties to pay medical, doctor and hospital bills of county law enforcement officers injured in line of duty; HJR 12 providing for a $74,000,000 parks development fund bond issue; HJR 3 allowing counties to put tax money in one general fund; HJR 27 permitting state officers and employees to hold other non-elective positions under the state or U.S. governments where there is no conflict of interests and where the state might actually benefit; HJR 37 allowing cities and other units within hospital districts to levy taxes for participation in mental health and mental retardation community centers.

It should be easy to remember - Veterans Day, November 11 to get out and vote for the Veterans Land Amendment.

Funeral Held Wed. For J. A. "Red" Kilgore, 60

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, November 1 for John Alfred "Red" Kilgore, 60, at the First Baptist Church in Benjamin with the Rev. K. E. Woolley, pastor, officiating. Interment was in the Benjamin Cemetery under the direction of Smith Funeral Home of Knox City.

Mr. Kilgore died at 11 a.m. Monday, October 30, at his cafe in Benjamin of an apparent heart attack. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace W. C. Glenn.

Born May 10, 1907, at Weinert, he moved to Munday as a child and attended public school there. He had lived in Benjamin for the past 45 years. He and his wife have operated a restaurant there for the past 32 years.

Mr. Kilgore married Gladys Oretta Brown on December 18, 1935, in Vera.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Nelda Faye Brewster of Oklahoma City; one son, Jerry Allen Kilgore of Omaha, Neb.; 2 sisters, Gladys Humphrey of Tulsa and Leola Isbell of Benjamin; one brother, Lloyd Kilgore of Lubbock; and 3 grandchildren.

Pallbearers were H. C. Stone, Leroy West, W. L. Cartwright, Dutch Benson, Rex Patterson, Clarence Clowers, W. M. Hertel, and Billy Ben Benson.

Absentee Voting Continues Thru Monday, Nov. 6

Texas vote November 11 on six more proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Each and all are vitally important. Citizens should inform themselves of the issues involved and vote their opinions.

The Abilene Reporter-News has called attention to voters that the election is on Saturday, which will involve several major football games over the state, and which also is opening day of deer hunting season.

The prospect is, therefore, that many people who would want to vote will be out of town on election day. That's what absentee voting is for. It began last week and will continue through Monday, Nov. 6. Knox County voters may cast their absentee ballots in the County Clerk's office at Benjamin.

The Reporter-News believes that one of the amendments, No. 5 on the ballot, which provides for the issuance of $75 million in general obligation bonds to finance land acquisition and development of new state parks and recreational areas is a necessary proposal deserving of passage. The Reporter-News states that we are already in the midst of a boom in recreation and an increase in leisure time. The affluent society, as well as a shorter work week, give people more time to spend as they please. Many, fortunately, please to spend it outdoors in various pursuits, and this calls for provision of more parks at every level - city, state and national.

Amendment No. 5, if approved, would provide $75 million in funds to buy and develop new state park land, and do better by the state parks already in existence, including Abilene State Park.

If passed, the state would charge entrance fees to state parks to help pay off the bonds. In the unlikely event that these revenues were not enough to cover principal and interest, the difference would come from tax funds.

Upland Cotton Program For 1968 Announced

Provisions of the 1968-crop upland cotton program include only a few changes from the 1967 program, according to Arnold J. Navratil, Chairman, Knox Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. The complete program will be available if farmers approve marketing quotas for the crop in a referendum to be held early in December.

Principal changes from the 1967 cotton program are:

(1) Farmers who take part in the program - and thus qualify as cooperators - may divert as little as 5 percent of the regular farm allotment. (This represents a reduction from the basic 12.5 percent reduction under the 1967 program.) The payment rate will be 10.76 cents per pound on the projected yield.

(2) The payment rate for voluntary diversion (up to additional 30 percent of the allotment) has been reduced to 6 cents per pound on the projected yield.

(3) The rules for measuring cotton planted in a skip-row pattern have been changed to those rules used from 1962 through 1965.

(4) Price-support payments will be made at 12.24 cents per pound, compared with 11.53 cents under the 1967 program. This payment will be made on the projected yield of the acreage planted to cotton but not in excess of the farm's domestic allotment (65 percent of the regular allotment).

Under a quota program, price-support loans will also be available to participants in the diversion program. These will be based on a national average loan rate of 20.25 cents per pound for Middling-1-inch cotton at average location, the same loan rate in effect for the 1967 upland cotton crop.

"Small-farm" provisions will again be in effect in 1968 so growers on farms with a cotton allotment of not more than 10 acres or on which the projected production is not more than 3,600 pounds may receive program benefits without reducing their acreage. Where acreage is voluntarily diverted on such farms, however, an additional diversion payment for such acreage will be made at the rate applicable to voluntary diversion. Farms from which any acreage is released for reappointment will not be eligible for small-farm benefits.

Helicopters To Aid Texas DPS

Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today that the DPS had acquired two leased helicopters to be used in enforcement work and rescue activities.

"The helicopters will be used to observe high volume stretches of major highways," Garrison stated, "and will aid in directing patrol units to areas where increased enforcement activity is necessary."

"It is also possible to accomplish routine traffic patrol with the aircraft. We will have the helicopters working in conjunction with units on the ground to handle such violations as speed law infractions, passing in no-passing zones, right-of-way violations, running stop signs, and other violations."

Garrison said the helicopters could also see service if needed in conducting manhunts or for rescue work in disaster areas or where searches are being conducted for lost persons.

The aircraft will be assigned over the state on a rotating basis, being used as needed in the various patrol districts. In addition to the enforcement work, experiments and research will be conducted to determine practical application of such craft in various other law enforcement programs.

The Department has trained pilots assigned to flying the helicopters. A Highway Patrolman will ride in each helicopter as an observer and to communicate violator information to the ground units for appropriate action.

"We haven't yet seen the mechanical class results but on some other it appears that man and machine are doing a much better job of agreeing this year than last," Stenholm said. "As more and more of these records come in, the value of unified and coordinated programs sponsored by farmers should be self evident."

BY MAGGI

This Spring a sight to behold at the Trade Shows were the umbrellas. Lacquer Red, Poetic White, Hot Pink, Bedouin Stripes... in shapes that ranged from bell to pagoda to tiny flat discs like Japanese sunshades. They were fringed, tasselled, fluted, scalloped, ruffled, till a man from Mars

It wasn't until the reign of Queen Anne, when noblemen took to gadding around on foot, that women made the umbrella part of their wardrobe, and it began evolving toward its present role of glamorous guardian of female splendor. If present trends continue, it won't be long before fashion-conscious women, aided by the technology of color and fabric, will have usurped the title of the ancient Siamese king, and become "mistress of the twenty-four umbrellas"—but not a single white elephant among them.

TEXAS MARCH OF DIMES LEADERS

A football and an airplane have more than just a passing meaning for this youngster and the two men with him. The boy, 4-year-old Kerry Browder of Garland, Tex., is a victim of birth defects, and the football and airplane symbolize the professions of the two prominent men who'll head the 1968 March of Dimes campaign to fight birth defects in Texas and the Southern region. They are Clint W. Murchison Jr., left, owner of the Dallas Cowboys, and Harding Lawrence, president of the Dallas-based Braniff International Airways. Murchison has been named Texas chairman of the March of Dimes and Lawrence chairman for a 12-state region, including Texas. The March of Dimes will be conducted Jan. 1-31 with all proceeds financing a research, treatment and education program against birth defects. Kerry, who was born with a one-fatal gastro-intestinal defect, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jon Browder of 3505 Plaza Park, Garland.

Officials Of Area Invited To U.S. Chamber Meet

Joe Wolverton, President of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce announced today, "that Wichita Falls has been selected by the U. S. Chamber as the site for their program Modernizing Local Government". The November 16 meeting will be the first time the program has been presented at the community level and our area is quite fortunate to have been chosen.

"Modernizing Local Government" is a project developed by the National Chamber at the request of and in cooperation with national associations dealing in local government related activities. Among these are the National League of Cities, the National Association of Counties, the United States Conference of Mayors, the National Municipal League, the International City Managers' Association, the Council of State Governments, the National School Boards Association, and the Advisory Commission on Inter-governmental Relations.

Every elected official of our area's municipal and county governments as well as their administrative heads are invited as well as chamber and civic leaders, the news media and the area's state legislators - of course Oklahoma is included.

the following areas: technique, interpretation, stage presence, musicianship, memorization, rhythm, phrasing, pedaling, and impression of total performance.

Prizes from the Mrs. T. Smith McCorkle Piano Educational Fund of the Texas Girls' Choir follows:

First Place - Winner will appear as guest soloist on the Texas Girls' Choir Concert, May 3, 1968 in Will Rogers Auditorium; receive a Trophy and $25.00 Educational check.

Second Place - Trophy and $10.00 Educational check.

Third Place - Trophy and $5.00 Educational check.

Fourth and Fifth Place - Honorable Mention Ribbon.

All Contestants will receive Certificate of Recognition.

Teachers or girls may receive Forms and information for entry by sending a request to: Texas Girls' Choir, State Piano Contest 1968, 3341 Edith Lane, Fort Worth, Texas 76117.

Wolverton expressed the hope "that every local government representative in the area can attend so that our 28 county area of interest can "get the jump" on the rest of the country in developing local governments. Our area could then be looked to as an example of aggressive leadership and progressive communities", he said.

The Chamber of Commerce President, reported that "Ivan Elmer, formerly Assistant General Manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce and now a staff executive with the National Chamber has been assigned to head their Modernizing Local Government program. This factor plus the interest of our Executive Vice President Jim Harwell in strengthening the area, is responsible for our obtaining this - the first of many such meetings to be held throughout the U. S.", Wolverton said.

Former Texas Governor, Allan Shivers, currently President of the U. S. Chamber is enthusiastic about the program. He points out that, "there is a compelling need for businessmen to apply their special talents and other resources to the modernization of state and local government structures as one means of attacking today's urgent and growing social problems and improving our communities. Competition among communities for economic growth lends urgency to government reform. Local leadership has been - and continues to be - the traditional and typically American force behind most of our civic spirit."

"Modernizing Local Government may very well be the greatest step we can take to update the forces that determine the quality of the environment in which people live and work", Wolverton said.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

Over the years Internal Revenue Service continues to have problems with pranksters and unscrupulous individuals who pose as either Revenue Officers or Revenue Agents. On occasion these people extort money on the pretense of satisfying unpaid taxes. Internal Revenue has a simple answer to this problem. Ask the Internal Revenue man for his Commission or identification. If he does not have identification you are not required to discuss anything with him, and you should notify the Internal Revenue Service.

More than one out of every four gallons of U.S. major oil products is made in Texas refineries.

RPCG Reports New Varieties Of Cotton Prove Successful

Would you believe a 46 acre Rolling Plains dryland cotton patch, planted in an every row pattern, that makes 402 pounds of 1 inch and longer cotton per acre with a selling price of 21.22 cents per pound? When you add the price support payment of 11.53¢, the cotton was actually worth 32.75¢ per pound.

Would you believe a 39 acre dryland cotton patch, again planted every row that makes 290 pounds of 1 1/32 inch and longer cotton (actually 90% was 1 1/16 staple)? This cotton value last Friday was 22.59¢ per pound. Add an 11.53¢ price support and you have 34.12 total value per pound.

"These are the first of hopefully many success stories made by Rolling Plains farmers who have experimented this year with some of the newer varieties of cotton" said Charles Stenholm, executive vice president of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers. "The first example was in Vernon and the latter was at Stamford. The pessimistic among us have said you can't raise long staple under dryland conditions", continued Stenholm, "and in some respect they are right. You haven't been able to raise some of the longer staples successfully in the Rolling Plains in the past. But there are "new" varieties that our seed breeders are coming up with that we can and will raise this year, next year and in the most distant future."

"These new varieties will meet our every need to keep Rolling Plains cotton industry profitable and on an expanding price and production level!" Stenholm optimistically declared. "Can't never won a football game. Can't never made a successful farmer either", said Stenholm. "There are a lot of things farmers can do to make their cotton allotment more profitable. Choice of variety is just one of many. And it appears that Rolling Plains cotton farmers will have several varieties to choose from next year that offer a lot of promise. These first success stories are a part of an overall quality evaluation program being carried out in the Rolling Plains.

"What is more encouraging is that the above results are based on green card evaluations

FROM OHIO

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Smith last week were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith, and Mrs. Iva Linkinhoker, all of Urbana, Ohio. The group was making a trip through the west.

Mrs. Linkinhoker remained in the Smith home for an extended visit.

The rank of fleet admiral in the U. S. Navy was established December 14, 1944. The following day Ernest J. King, William D. Leahy and Chester W. Nimitz were appointed to that rank.

Nov. Plentiful Include Turkey

What's November to you? It could be time of Thanksgiving, homecomings and holidays.

And it could also be a time to sharpen up your food buying. Take a quick glance at what is available in the way of plentiful foods. Turkeys are a featured item this month, says the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Other plentiful foods include broilers, pork, potatoes, grape juice and dry split peas.

November turkey marketings are expected to run about 4 percent above the same month last year, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Storage stocks are well above a year ago. You'll find just the right size turkey for your family—whether the occasion is Thanksgiving or Sunday dinner.

Look for lots of broilers, too. The price should be "right" on these family pleasers.

Pork moving under federal inspection increased 9 percent during September, and averaged 11 percent above 1966. So add ham to your Thanksgiving menu.

Although down slightly from last year's record crop, potato production for this fall should be around 12 percent above average. Needless to say—there'll be plenty of potatoes!

Grape juice supplies have risen to the largest in 12 years. What a time to enjoy this favorite fruit drink.

Production of dry edible peas is estimated at 11 percent above last year. And what a perfect time November is for tasty split pea soup.

SS Benefits For Widows

Widows, age 60 or over, who are receiving social security benefits and remarry, may now continue to receive benefits. Social security benefits for widows have been extended to include those that remarry after the death of their husband.

Edwin Draughon of the Social Security Administration office in Vernon explained that the amount of the remarried widow's benefit is one-half of the retirement benefit of the former husband. Should the remarried widow be entitled to a higher benefit on her present husband, the larger amount would be paid.

Prior to the 1965 Social Security Amendments widow's benefits were terminated upon remarriage. The new rule now remedies this hardship situation and allows those widows that desire to remarry to do so without losing all of their monthly social security benefit.

If you desire more information about continuation of widow's benefit after remarriage, you should contact the Vernon social security office located at 1728 Fannin Street or meet with the Social Security Representative who comes to the City Hall in Monday on Thursday, November 2nd and 16th at 9:00 a.m.

The value of property saved by the U. S. Coast Guard last year amounted to three times the sum allotted to the Coast Guard for its operation during the same period.

Speed . . . The Most Deadly Mono-Killer On The Highways

Today's front page, TV, and radio headlines scream about the most deadly mono-killer on the road today—SPEED in the operation of a motor vehicle. There is little doubt that speed figures in more than 90% of all motor vehicle accidents. Therefore, the odds are against you if you allow yourself to get caught off guard by this mono-killer.

Highway accident statistics are dispassionate things. They tell their story without emotion, without dramatic overtones, yet with an impartiality. And always their story is the same: It's speed that kills and maims. Year after year the record is plain. It's written in the cold factual reports of thousands of accidents, in the words of drivers who survive—"I couldn't stop in time," or "I didn't see him until it was too late," or "The other car was coming faster than I figured."

Yet, still the pleas grow for higher speed limits. Sometimes these appeals find support when charges against flagrant violators of traffic laws are thrown out of court. At such moments there's always speculation among the public on whether speed limits are too low, or even necessary at all. But the people who raise such questions are seldom those who know the inside story about traffic tolls. Nor have they considered a few essential factors which give answer to the driver who proclaims "If the road is clear, I can head all-out for the horizon," or maybe "the wild blue yonder" would be more fitting. Here are some factors which we, at any rate, will do well to think about. There is no complete safety at any speed. Even standing still has its potential hazards. At any speed the danger of mechanical failure is always present. A tire may blow out, the steering mechanism may fall, brakes may not hold—or a hundred other things can go wrong. However, at normal speeds the chance of a serious accident is relatively small. But as speeds go higher, so the danger factor increases. The real danger of excessive speeding lies in the increased severity, rather than the increased frequency of accidents. The probability of death to car occupants increases in geometrical proportion to the increase in speed. This means that the occupant of a car traveling 40 miles per hour has not twice but four times as many chances of death in case of an accident as an occupant of a car traveling at 20 miles per hour.

Violation of speed limits is a symbol of general indifference to traffic requirements generally. And in their minds, as well as in their driving habits, an accident proneness is being created.

It's wrong to regard an occasional infringement of speed limits as unimportant from the view point of law breaking. To dismiss this kind of traffic violation with a shrug is like saying a robber is not guilty because he only found two dollars in the till.

Yet, of the many careless driving habits which lead to the terrific price paid annually in death, injury and property damage for the use of the motor vehicle, speeding over the limits and too fast for existing conditions continues to rank as the most devastating. The fact is, that in spite of repeated warnings and in face of the great number of speeding accidents, drivers still believe they can get away with this practice. They feel "it can't happen to me." It can! The habitual speeder is traveling on very thin ice.

Credit Plays A Vital Role

More than half the families in the United States currently have some form of personal debt, not including mortgage payments, considered to be the same as rent.

This use of credit plays a vital role in the country's economy. Properly used, it enables many people to get necessary home equipment, cars, make vital home repairs and pay costs of education, when they would be unable to pay cash, says Joy Arrington, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Each family must decide how much debt it can afford if it wants to take out loans, buy on installment plans or use revolving charge accounts. Most authorities generally advise that a family should not use more than 15 percent of its after tax (disposable) income to pay installment debts (excluding mortgage payments).

Some families manage more effectively than others and never permit themselves to get into trouble with excessive borrowing. They usually have some familiarity with the credit on credit costs and know where the lowest interest rates can be found. In addition, they make their good credit ratings so that they can use these resources when necessary.

This key to wise credit-buying is to find out the true cost of the money borrowed, Miss Arrington says. Sales and loan contracts should be read carefully and questions asked if there is any doubt about the terms or charges.

The cost of a loan can be figured in dollar costs, the actual amount you spend for the loan, or in true annual interest. To get dollar costs, simply add the down payment, any trade-in allowance and monthly payments, according to the Extension specialist. The difference between this total and the selling price of the item is the amount paid in borrowing charges.

True annual interest is the rate charged on money in your possession for a full year. If you borrow $100 at 6 percent true interest, after one year you would pay back $106.

GAIL OSBORN

Women and girls who sew will be interested to know that the Pattern Fashion Industry will introduce new sizing standards on patterns for 1968 dated patterns. Charts of measurements and sizing will be in the pattern catalogs starting with the January issues. These changes are a step to make pattern sizing more closely correspond to standard ready-to-wear sizing. Look for information in the stores November 1, 1967. Men's and boys' sizing will not be changed.

Grocery shoppers who are confused when buying packaged goods that come in different sizes and prices, might want to order a shoppers' helper dial which can be carried in the purse. This guide calculates cost per ounce for you so you know whether the giant economy size is really less expensive or not. It costs ten cents and can be ordered through the home demonstration agent.

USDA November Plentiful Foods List Feature: turkey, pork, broiler-fryers, potatoes, dry split peas, grape juice.

November delivers what summer promised - another bountiful harvest.

How this abundance of food underscores the meaning of the Thanksgiving season in a world where more than half of the people go to bed hungry every night.

That royal bird - the turkey - reigns with pomp and power this month not only because he is the traditional favorite for Thanksgiving, but because he rates the crown of plenty bestowed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, King Turkey is flanked this November by two more plentiful meats - broilers and pork.

Concord grape juice seldom makes the plentiful list but this year's harvest ran about four per cent above average with the excess being marketed mostly as juice. Stocks are nearly a third larger than last year and the largest in the past 12 years.

The late summer crop of potatoes is competing with the big fall crop for a longer period than usual, so look forward to favorable potato prices. The fall potato crop is only slightly down from last year's record, and 12 per cent above average.

Dry split pea supplies reflect a crop 12 percent larger than a year ago.

Potatoes are an excellent source of food energy. They contain many minerals and are an important source of Vitamin C, little of which is lost if the potatoes are properly cooked. They also have some protein. For best nutrition potatoes come to dinner with their jackets on. This preserves the natural vitamins. Of the two ways of cooking in their jackets, boiling conserves more vitamins. If you must peel them, do so just before they're cooked. Never soak them.

When you buy potatoes, look for clean, uniform-sized ones that are free from cuts, decayed spots and have only a few shallow eyes. Sunburned potatoes have spots of greenish flesh which may create a bitter taste.

If you buy several pounds at one time, store in a cool, dark, moist and well ventilated place. Buy the right kind for a particular occasion. For example, mealy potatoes are best for baking and mashing. Waxy ones hold their shape better, so they're best for salads and for creaming.

FOOD AND NUTRITION NOTES

Fall brings sweet potatoes to the market place. The best ones look fresh, plump, medium-sized and firm. Buy just the amount you can use in a short time because they are not cured.

Good breakfasts and good school grades go hand in hand. A child who habitually skips breakfast often has a lower mental alertness and letdown in energy.

Ice cream packed in ordinary waxed-cardboard cartons will keep quality longer in a home freezer if the cartons are wrapped in heavy aluminum foil, say U. S. Department of Agriculture food specialists. Also, make sure the freezer is holding a temperature of 0 degrees or below.

Cool autumn mornings call for pork. Whether it be sausage, ham or chops - there's nothing quite like the fragrance of frying pork to set the taste buds tingling.

As you may have guessed, pork holds its own place in the annals of history. It has been an important food since early times. The Egyptians were raising hogs for food as far back as 3400 B. C. and the Chinese raised them as early as 2900 B. C.

Naturally the early American colonists brought pigs with them from Spain, France, England and Holland. In a few years wild hogs roamed the woods, feeding on acorns, nuts and roots.

They became so numerous in Colonial Virginia that they were a nuisance to the plantations. When settlers migrated westward, they took pigs along and let them forage for feed in the wilderness.

Pork continues to hold its position as one of the leading meats eaten in the United States. Because of its versatility and wide flavor range, you can easily plan pork into every meal of the day.

And, in case you're wondering about supplies, production has increased during the past few months, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. For instance, quantities of pork federally inspected during the last three weeks of August picked up about 11 percent over the same period last year.

Too, "on-the-hoof" prices of hogs have shown a gradual 2¢ a pound decline from the last week in August to the first week in October, reports the Consumer and Marketing Service.

When the family demands something special on these fall mornings, rely on pork for a real taste-pleaser.

Are you "spooked" for a menu topic for Halloween? If it's the dessert that has you hewed, forget it! Nothing could be better - or more appropriate - than pumpkin pie.

Remember, though, that the traditional jack-o'-lantern and tempting pumpkin pie shouldn't come from the same pumpkin, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Usually the meat of the size pumpkin you prefer for carving is too stringy and tough for a tasty pie filling. You'll want the "pie" pumpkins for eating.

Biggest members of the pumpkin varieties grow to over 18 inches in diameter and weigh 60 to 75 pounds at maturity. They have an orange-salmon skin with thick flesh of bright yellow color. What jack-o'-lanterns they make!

What do you look for when buying pumpkins? These members of the squash family should be heavy for their size and free of blemishes. The rind should be hard. Bruised or otherwise injured pumpkins should be examined for evidence of decay that may have penetrated the flesh.

Pumpkin can also be used in your menus just as squash. Try it with a fresh pork roast. Boil pieces the size of apple halves in as little water as possible until tender. Then cook with the roast during the last 15 minutes it's in the oven.

The pilgrims, following the custom of the Indians, made a pumpkin cornbread. Use your favorite cornbread recipe, adding bits of boiled pumpkin.

You should have no problem finding just the right jack-o'-lantern and "pie" pumpkin this year. Market news offices of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service have been reporting arrivals at southwest markets for the past several weeks.

If you would like to share your favorite recipe with newspaper readers, or if you are looking for a recipe, send that information to Mrs. Gail K. Osborn, Home Demonstration Agent, P. O. Box 22, Benjamin.

Senior News

BY VELVET VERHALEN
 The Seniors are having a Halloween Masquerade Party this Tuesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Graham. The Senior who best disguises his or her identity will win a prize.

The basketball girls are having their first scrimmage game, this Wednesday at Benjamin. I hope we win, although it is more or less just a practice game.

This week we play the Holiday Eagles there. On Friday, November 10, the Hounds play Paducah here for the Homecoming game. The Peg Club girls will be selling mums to raise money for the Football Banquet, so when one of the girls comes around taking orders, be sure to buy a mum!

Junior News

BY LOU ANN MCGAUGHEY
 Ever since school started the band has been practicing for marching contest which is to be November 7. These last few weeks they have really been busy having practices after school and at night. The community, as well as our school, should be very proud of our band. We should also appreciate the hard work and long hours that Mr. Arnett and all the members put out to be a winning band.

Good luck next Tuesday. Another group that deserves the support and loyalty of our school is our football team. A school cannot have a winning team every year, but whether they win or lose, the boys need all the support and backing their school and community can give them.

It may be easy to sit on the sidelines and make remarks and criticize the team, but it is a lot different when you are out on the field representing a school.

Our boys go through a lot of bumps and bruises, and the coaches spend lots of their time working with the boys; I think the least we can do is give them all the support we can.

Friday night our boys play Holliday there. See you at the game!

Band News

BY PAM WALDRIP
 Tuesday, November 7, will be a big day for many of the students in high school, for that is the day the band goes to Wichita Falls to enter the Interscholastic League Marching Contest. We hope to perfect the show, and place the finishing touches on it this week, so we shall definitely be prepared for our performance as the time draws near. Most of all, we hope to live up to the expectations that everyone bestows upon us and receive a rating that will cause us all to breathe a sign of relief.

The Majorettes will also be quite anxious that day, as we shall enter twirling contest in Barwise Gym.

We encourage all the ones who can to join us that day, and travel with us to Wichita Falls as we try again in a most important event of the year's activities in obtaining our goal of Sweepstakes.

FHA News

BY SUE BATEMAN
 The Knox City FHA met on October 23, 1967, in the high school library. Diane Thomas, president, presided.

The meeting was turned over to Donna Rallsback, who was chairman of this month's program, which was on Health.

Mrs. Wayne McKinney spoke. Gayle Campbell then presented the devotional.

Diane then asked for nominations for our Chapter Mothers. The nominees were Mrs. Charles Reese, Mrs. Vic Thomas, Mrs. John Egenbacher, and Mrs. C. H. Cornett. Mrs. Cornett and Mrs. Thomas were elected.

The meeting then adjourned and refreshments were served. The Knox City FHA Chapter would also like to thank everyone who supported our Bake Sale, Saturday, THANKS LOADS!

Freshman FHA News

BY EMMY JONES
 The Freshman homemaking class, at the moment, is working very hard on its Junior Degrees. I think we are doing pretty well, but you would have to ask our teacher about that.

During this week we are learning how to card for our kitchens. They are looking pretty good. We hope!

The Freshmen attended the FHA meeting on Monday and listened attentively to a speech given by Mrs. Wayne McKinney.

Greenhand FFA News

BY SAM TANKERSLEY
 We are still studying Parliamentary Procedure for contest, November 18, at Olney, Texas. We elected a new treasurer to replace Richard Castillas, who recently moved to Hobbs, N. M. Our new treasurer is Dan Feemster. Wednesday, October 25, Mr. Burkham left for Houston for the State Teachers Convention and returned Sunday.

Sports

BY JOE REEDER
 The Greyhounds won last Friday night. That is the Throckmorton Greyhounds won. From the start the Throckmorton team was ahead. When the game ended, the score was 38-0.

This week the Knox City Greyhounds play Holliday at Holliday. Please come to support the Greyhounds in this district game!

Eighth Grade News

BY CAROL SPECK
 Last Tuesday night, we played Rochester and won. This Monday night (Oct. 30) we will play Crowell. This will be our last game, unless the Greyhounds bring home a victory. Everyone has his hopes up very high. Please come with us to cheer our boys on to victory. Go

FHA Bake Sale Saturday Is Complete Sellout

The Knox City Future Homemakers of America sponsored a bake sale Saturday morning in three downtown locations, "M" System Food Stores, the Postoffice, and Bob's Super Save.

Applicants May Sign Up Now For Medical Insurance

Edwin Draughton, manager of social security in Vernon, reports, "Many older people are asking these days: 'Now that I've been given another chance to sign up for the doctor bill insurance part of medicare, will somebody tell me whether this is a good buy?'"

Mr. Draughton explained that those persons who were 65 or older in 1965 could enroll for the voluntary medical insurance part of the program in any of the last three months of 1965 or the first five months of 1966. Those who reached 65 after 1965 have the three months before the month they were 65, that month, and the three months thereafter to get this protection for themselves.

Now, as provided by law, those who originally turned it down have an opportunity to reconsider their earlier decision. Then, if they decide to sign up, they may do so at any time in the last three months of 1967 and the first three months of 1968.

Medical insurance helps pay doctor bills and other medical services not covered under the hospital insurance part of medicare. Services of doctors are covered no matter where received—in their offices, the home, or in a hospital. Up to 100 home health visits a year by nurses and other health workers are also covered, as are laboratory tests and various other medical services and goods, he explained.

"As to whether it is a 'good buy,'" I can only point out that the older person pays only half of the premium costs, with the Government paying the other half. This has been $3 monthly for each since the program started, and will continue in this amount, at least through March 1968. As provided by law, studies point on as to whether the present rate will have to be increased, and by how much," he said. The premium rate for 1968 and 1969 will be announced before January, he noted.

Finally, he gave a few examples of how medicare has helped people who have the protection of both parts of the program.

WORTH TALKING ABOUT

"In the economic area we need a more complete understanding of what free competitive enterprise means—how it works and what it contributes. We need to appreciate that industry and the community—all of us—share a mutuality of interests. When a business grows and prospers, the community profits. I need hardly emphasize that a business will not prosper unless its earnings permit the reinvestment of funds to underwrite its growth and to keep its facilities modern."

I can do all things in him that strengthened me. —(Phil. 4:13)

To meet the challenges of the day successfully the most important words to say are "we can." The success of the day depends not on circumstances but on attitude. Our attitude must be one of faith rather than fear. We can! These words can become a part of us—for through the power of God, we can!

This 7-day-old pig's stomach is exactly this size

The little dry feed it to fill this tiny "fuel tank" must be LOADED with POWER

It takes mighty little pig starter and sow's milk to fill the "fuel tank" of a week-old pig. Yet, it must provide quick energy, fast growth and protection against disease. It must contain all vital nutrients sow's milk may lack—and in just the right balance. Most important of all, pigs must like it. No matter how great a pig starter may be, all is lost if pigs won't eat it.

Pigs love Purina starters—Baby Pig Chow, Early Weaning Chow, Pig Starters. And Purina starters offer "built-in" livability, plus grow-and-go power to bounce pigs off to a fast, thrifty start. Keeps 'em going, too. Fed Purina all the way, hogs have raced to market weight in five months (often less) and make pork for remarkably low cost.

Folks around here are finding out... Pigs start, grow, finish fast on Purina. Call us soon and order Purina Hog Chow.

 I have flown through Peace and War, Strife and Prosperity, and amidst it all I have been respected.
 My Red Stripes—symbolize the blood spilled in defense of this glorious nation.
 My White Stripes—signify the burning tears shed by Americans who lost their sons.

H. D. WORKSHOP DIRECTED BY MRS. WATSON

The Truscott Home Demonstration Club met at the Community House Thursday, Oct. 26, for a decoupage workshop directed by Mrs. Abe Watson of Knox City.

Mrs. Watson told the members and guests that any kind of picture and any kind of wood can be used for decoupage. "I've gotten some of my best weathered wood from the Truscott dumpground," she laughed. She said the rings from metal drink cans can be gilded and nailed on so that only the ring shows above the picture, as an effective substitute for expensive brass picture rings.

She showed several pictures she has done. Mrs. Watson suggested that a picture should first be sprayed on the front with spray varnish or plastic spray, dried, and then sprayed on the back. This allows colors to bleed front to back rather than vice versa. After another frontal spraying the picture edges are ready to be torn. The edges should be torn from the top of the picture to the back for the best effect. Sometimes the edges might be left straight or burned, according to the picture.

The picture is then ready to be pasted on wood which has been prepared with one coat of varnish or paint. Mrs. Watson suggests wallpaper paste or a mixture of two parts water to one part glue. The picture should be placed on the wood and then rolled with a rolling pin to get rid of air pockets. If air pockets do form later a pin prick can be made and the white glue solution forced in and the picture pressed down in that place.

In discussing various ways of finishing Mrs. Watson mentioned the "Progressive Farmer" article on the subject, which she preserved by decoupage it.

Mrs. Watson gave a decoupage as a door prize which was won by Mrs. Harold Barry. The club presented Mrs. Watson a set of towels.

Mrs. W. M. Rake presided at the business meeting preceding the workshop. Six members and four guests heard a report on the "Opportunities for Low Income Families" program held in Knox City. Mrs. Jack W. Brown was hostess.

COTTONSTALK DESTRUCTION URGED

All cotton producers are urged to shred and plow under all cotton stalks soon after harvest.

Pink bollworms and cotton boll weevil continue to feed in cotton fields after harvest building up fat reserves to enter diapause. Although the pink bollworm did not create a real economic problem in most Rolling Plains fields this year, trash counts show sufficient numbers in late fall indicating all possible steps should be taken to cut down the numbers to go through the winter. Boll weevil population, of course has been high since summer.

Stalk destruction by flail type shredders will kill many of the larvae and pupae, and plowing under this debris will kill even more of the larvae. Many cotton producers in Knox County have indicated the need for all cotton stalks to be destroyed soon after harvesting.

TEXAS GRAIN STOCKS DOWN

October 1 stocks of wheat, grain sorghum, corn, oats, barley and rye - are below a year earlier, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Holding of corn and grain sorghum exclude the 1967 crop, while wheat, oats, barley and rye include the current year crop.

Wheat shows 2 percent less than a year ago. This is the lowest stocks on hand at this time since 1951.

Old crop grain sorghum stocks are estimated to be 49 percent below last year's stocks. This is the lowest carryover of old grain since 1957.

Stocks of old corn is estimated to be 16 percent below last year's level. This is the lowest carry over since 1945. Oat holdings are estimated to be 40 percent under last year, the lowest since 1945.

Barley holdings are less than one-third of last year's holding, the lowest since 1951.

Rye is considered the lowest since 1946.

The total grain holdings for the United States looks like this. Wheat stocks on October 1 were 9 percent more than a year ago, but otherwise the smallest October holdings since 1953. Stocks of the four feed grains are showing 10 percent less than a year ago, and 40 percent below the average.

INSECT AND DISEASE CONTROL CONFERENCE

The sixth annual conference will be held Nov. 7-8 in Texas A&M University's Memorial Student Center. Research results and control recommendations for insects and diseases covering a wide variety of crops and livestock will be covered. Co-chairmen for the conference are John G. Thomas, Extension entomologist and Dr. Wendell Horne, Extension Plant pathologist. They said the program should be of vital interest to agricultural producers as well as those who supply and apply agricultural chemicals.

USDA ANNOUNCES PRINTING OF 1967 YEARBOOK

"Outdoors USA" is the title of the 1967 Yearbook of Agriculture which was to be published on October 26 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The volume is a handbook on the conservation and wise use of natural resources, a guide to the American outdoors with its great recreation potential, and a primer of natural beauty. The yearbook tells its story largely in terms of people.

Most of its authors are specialists of the Department of Agriculture but chapters were also prepared by university faculty members, outdoor writers, and officials of other government agencies.

In the foreword, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman writes that the Department is "moving forward with bold new actions to restore, conserve, and wisely use our natural heritage and maintain it for future generations."

The volume is designed for all Americans - citizens concerned about conservation of natural resources, hunters and fishermen, family campers, all who are concerned with the quality of the total environment, children eager to learn about the great outdoors, and farmers interested in further study of recreation enterprises as a part of their income producing activities.

Senators and Congressmen have limited numbers of copies of the Yearbook for distribution to their constituents. Copies are available from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402 for $2.75 per copy. They are not available from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Life is like a grindstone. Whether it wears a man down or polishes him up depends upon the kind of stuff he's made of."—Charles Cunningham, The Notchitoches (La.) Times.

"A man of vision can see good in folks where nobody else can see it."—Linda McDowell, Scotland Neck (N.C.) Commonwealth.

"If you are willing to admit you were wrong yesterday then you are a lot smarter today than you were yesterday."—Dale Holdridge, The Langford (S.D.) Bugle.

Texas oil and gas dollars paid for 28% of state cost of public education; 55% of state cost of teacher retirement, old-age assistance, blind assistance, and aid to dependent children (1966).

Self Examination Urged By The Cancer Society

Over 26,000 women die from breast cancer every year - many of them needlessly. Statistics show that 82% of all breast cancers will be free of any evidence of the disease after five years if discovered while still localized and treated properly.

A state-wide public education program is being conducted by the Texas Medical Association and the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society to stress the importance of self-examination in detecting breast cancer.

Women should learn how to examine their breasts and do it regularly once a month. They may have their own doctor show them how, or they can learn from the American Cancer Society film, "Breast Self-Examination". Over three hundred special "open showings" of this film have been scheduled during November in several areas of the state, and according to the ACS, other showings are being planned for every month during 1968.

Most breast lumps or changes are not cancer, but only a doctor can tell. Time is an important factor in treating cancer, however, since cancers usually begin in one spot and chances of cure are best if treatment begins before the disease grows and spreads to other parts of the body.

There are other forms of cancer of the breast that can be cured if detected early and treated properly. Most cancer in women is not difficult for a doctor to find, so a thorough checkup every year is important. Women should also learn to recognize the seven danger signals that may mean cancer: 1) Unusual bleeding or discharge, 2) A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere, 3) A sore that does not heal, 4) Change in bowel or bladder habits, 5) Hoarseness or cough, 6) Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing, and 7) Change in a wart or mole.

These signals don't always mean cancer, of course, but any one of them should mean an immediate visit to a doctor.

Orphans Of Vets May Get Grant

Effective October 1, the maximum age limit for sons and daughters of veterans entitled to Veterans Administration educational financial assistance was raised from 23 to 26. The liberalization is provided in a new law signed by the President last August 31.

Eligible for this help under the War Orphans Educational assistance program are the sons and daughters of veterans who died or were permanently and totally disabled as the result of a service-connected injury or illness.

They may receive from the VA up to $130 a month for 36 months of approved time college or vocational training. Lesser grants are for three-quarters or half training.

While an 18 to 26 age limit generally applies, a young person may begin school before 18 and, in certain instances, continue after age 26.

Marriage is not a bar to the benefit.

Generally, benefits under the program are for students enrolling in colleges, universities and technical schools. Below college-level courses may be taken only in schools which offer specialized training that will fit a student for a vocational goal.

A person entitled to assistance under this program who is handicapped by a physical or mental disability may receive specialized training.

Specific information on eligibility, how to apply, specialized training, schools, educational costs and related matters may be obtained from a VA office
