Teams Tie in Play Off

ANOTHER GAME SET FOR FRIDAY

One of the most thrilling games of the year was that last Friday played on the Munday diamond between Knox and Goree as the last game of the play-off for first half. With one swell game to the credit of each team the two met in combat on the Munday field, each feeling his luck and ability for the day.

With a large crowd present and sending out yells for their favoring team, Knox and Goree went in the last game of the play-off. The first three innings went off at a rapid rate of speed. Then Hill made a home run, knocking the ball so far out that Goree almost failed to find it.

At a very tense moment for the locals in the fourth inning, Parker Denton came to the front with a good fly catch, a clever throw and a double play.

The fifth inning came in good for Goree when the first man up hit a double, however good playing for the locals saw this man out before he reached home. Goree managed to score once in the 5th making the score 2 to 5 favoring the locals.

More excitement came in the seventh when, with two men on bases, Moore banged out a home run. This tied the score.

In the ninth both scored one still keeping the tie which stayed through the eleventh inning.

Due to darkness and the threaten- ing rain which did not come, the teams agreed to call the game and arranged for another to play off the tie on Friday, July 31 at Munday.

Woody Hodges and Sam White arrived home Wednesday morning from a trip to Athens for a load of peaches. Woody had the peaches and was selling them fast.

They report the cotton around Dal- las as being about like his here; no cotton at Athens but fruit which was going fast. Woody and Sam say they drove out to the orchard, from where they were to buy peaches, early Tues- day morning, thinking they would get loaded early and drive home by night. Twelve trucks were ahead of them at that early hour and their truck was not filled until the middle of the afternoon.

Sam says there were plenty of watermelons there and cheap. He bought a large Tom Watson for a dime.

Free, Pre-School Clinic Here Aug. 4

Mrs. T. S. Edwards, representa- tive of the Parent-Teacher-Associ- ation, announced Thursday that there would be a FREE pre-school clinic here next Tuesday, August the 4th in the school building at eight thirty o'clock. A complete physical exam- ination, without charge, will be given to all children up to six years of age. The local doctors and nurses with Dr. Stover and the district nurse will be in charge. It is hoped that every parent with a child under six years of age will take advantage of this marvelous opportunity.

QUADRUPLE BIRTHDAY DINNER

Sunday a most enjoyable quad- ruple dinner was partaken of by Mrs. J. W. Ham, Miss Alta Ham and Alvin Ham and Mr. Casey Jones. The four had birthdays Saturday, Sunday and Monday so by compromising they spread a bountiful dinner Sunday in the Ham home.

This dinner breaks the record for Knox City. Joint and tripple dinners have been given, but this is the first quadruple dinner that has ever been reported to the Herald.

Mrs. Allee White of Hattiesberg Mississippi, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Led- low of Newton Miss. and Mrs. Sam Hampton of Goree were guests of Mr. M. R. Jones this week. Mrs. White and Mr. Jones are sister and brother and had not seen each other for thirty-one years. Their arrival here has meant a happy reunion for all the relatives.

Herald Has a Birthday

Wednesday, July the 29, the Knox County Herald added another year to its life, making a total of 29 years that the Herald has gone to press and reached it readers full of home town news.

As a celebration of this occasion we are offering ten free subscrip- tions to the first ten men or women who bring his birthday story into the office. One year free, with only the asking.

Olvia Ham and Guy Glenn motored to Iowa Park Sunday.

Rochester Man Is Hi-Jacked

T. B. Bagwell of Rochester not only suffered the loss of twenty dol- lars Monday morning about two o'clock but also the effect of a severe blow on the head. After robbing him of his money, the hi-jackers hit Mr. Bagwell in the head, knocking him out for some three hours.

CATCH 'EM AT LAKE KEMP

Wednesday morning Grady Bened- ict and his two fishing companions, Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Kinsler, dis- played 27 fish, all a nice size, which they caught at lake Kemp, Tuesday night. Two of the larger ones, which weighed five and one half pounds, served as the feature of attraction for several interesting picture made in front of the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Price Stevenson of Truscott came down Tuesday to see Mr. and Mrs. Benedict. The two men, with Mr. Kinsler of Sweetwater, drove to the lake Tuesday morning but had their best luck that night.

Youngblood's Car Stolen

Mr. S. E. Youngblood's 28' Ford Roadster was stolen Monday night from its parking spot at the house. It was taken between the hours 11: 30 and 3:30. Wednesday afternoon no trace of its whereabouts was learned.

The same night Mack Sweeney had his spare tire, rim and all stolen from the back of his car, while Z. A. Ham- mock's car was stripped of every- thing obtainable except the tires. Even the gas was drained out.

About the same time twenty five chickens were stolen from Mr. Parr. He lives west of town.

It seemed that the dirty work of stealing has started and it is most beneficial to everyone to protect their possessions.

Hill is to cold for a thief.

Lynn Waldrip received treatment at the hospital Wednesday morning for a gasp in the head which he received while cutting wood. The ax, when raised for a stroke at the wood hung on the clothes lines and came down on Lynn's head. The cut was not severe and he is expected to get along nicely.

Mrs. Henry Jones and Mrs. O. L. Jamison spent Monday in Abilene.

K C Defeats Rhineland

FASTEST AND NICEST GAME OF THE SEASON

Edwards was in good form Sun- day allowing only two singles to de- feat Rhineland in a score of 5 to 2. This game was witnessed by a large crowd, although the quietest game of the year.

Leo Kuehler, Rhineland player, was hurt in the work-out but receiv- ed emergency treatment and was able to play; although he did not occupy his usual place behind the plate, he did a robbing job in center field, "just running "permiskolucky" from right to left field and picking hits from hither to yon.

Commodore Smith, of the locals was banging hits like wise Denton and Red Edwards, the pitcher. The sensational part of the game for the locals was centered around the se- cond base when Milford grabbed a hot one and hopped the runner at first.

But speaking of grabbing a hot one reminds us of that Titanic piece made by Skipper Shaver last Fri- day at Munday in the eleventh in- ning tie game with Goree.

The play-Goree was at bat, bases full and two outs, score tied, when Coffman sent a grounder bullet proof between first and second base well, anyway, Shaver ran as hard as possible then jumped, head on, and stretched his lengthy form and "whey", out of the dust he came to a sitting position and threw out the runner a first. "Say, talk about pulling the game out of the fire," but that catch looked like a million dol- lar play and Eddie did it for noth- ing.

J. M. Lee Buried Here

Mr. J. M. Lee, age 61 years and a pioneer of Knox county, was buried here Friday of last week.

Mr. Lee died Thursday night about ten o'clock. Funeral services were held Friday at his home by the Reverend Mann and interment was made in the Odd Fellow Cemetery.

Mr. Lee came to Knox City twenty two years ago. He has lived here during those years, being a pioneer of the county. His death came after several months illness, the last three of which he was confined to his bed. He is survived by his widow and five children all of whom attended him during the last days of his illness and were present for the last services for his earthly body. The children are three boys and two girls, namely; Dewey and R. E. Lee of Knox City, Mrs. Bagled, also her daughter, of Clayton New Mexico, Mr. Noah Lee and Mrs. Groves her daughter of San Angelo. Other out of town relatives present were Mr. Price and family of Paducah, a brother, of Mr. Lee.

The deceased was a member of the Knox City Methodist Church. Reverend Mann, pastor of this church, was out of town at the time of Mr. Lee's death but upon being called, he drove home from San Saba and conducted the funeral services, returning Friday night to his family in San Saba.

A PREACHER'S FARWELL

Probably it is an old story, but anyway it is full of logic. A preacher had been greatly discouraged and had sought a new field of labor. He happened to have a friend in the governor, to whom he appealed, and not in vain. He got a political job. In taking leave of his flock he said: "Brothers and sisters, I must say good-bye. "I don't think God loves you, because none of you ever die. "I don't think you love each other, because none of you ever get married. "I don't think you love me because you have not paid my salary. Your donations are moldy fruit and wormy apples—and by their fruits ye shall know them. "I am going to a better place. I am going to be chaplain of the penitentiary. "Where I go ye can not come, but I go to prepare a place for you and may the good Lord have mercy upon you. Good-bye."

A MAN'S JOB

A man's job is his best friend. It clothes and feeds his wife and children, pays the rent, and supplies them with the wherewith to develop and become cultivated. The least a man can do in return is to love his job. It is like a garden that thrives on love. It will one day flower into fruit worthwhile, for him and his to enjoy. If you ask any successful man work; indeed, he loves it. His whole road, he will tell you that first and foremost it is because he likes his work; indeed, he loves it. His whole heart and soul are wrapped up in it.

He walks his work, he talks his work; he is entirely inseparable from his work; that is the way every man worth his salt ought to be if he wants to make of his work his and make of himself what he wants to be. —Capper.

Miss Mary Hope Newsome returned home Monday night from Fort Worth where she spent several days with relatives.

Mr. J. H. Lanier and daughter Alyne of Crowell visited his mother, Mrs. M. E. Lanier, and other relatives here this week.

TRULY GREAT

By William H. Davies
My walls outside must have some flowers.
My walls within must have some books;
A house that's small; a garden large,
And in it lety nooks.

A little gold that's sure each week,
That comes not from my living kind,
But from a dead man in his grave,
Who cannot change his mind.
A lovely wife, and gentle, too;
Contented that no eyes but mine
Can see her many charms, nor voice
To call her beauty thine.

Where she would in that stone cage
Live,
A self-made prisoner, with me;
While many a wild bird sang around
On gate, on bush, on tree.

And she sometimes to answer them,
In her far sweeter voice than all;
Till birds, that loved to look on leaves,
Will doat on a stone wall.

With this small house, this garden large,
This little gold, this lovely mate,
With health in body, peace in heart
Show me a man more great.

HYER POEM ON TEXAS PRINTED

Julien C. Hyer, Fort Worth, who has just been elected president of the Lions Club International, has an original poem in the current number of The Texas Outlook, magazine of the Texas State Teachers Association. It is called "Texas, Wonderful Texas."

The poem follows:
'Tis a land, blood-bought, and by pioneers braved,
Texas, Wonderful Texas!
O'er which the bright flags of six nations have waived,
Texas, Wonderful Texas!
The lilies of France and the banners of Spain,
Texas, Wonderful Texas!
The Mexican eagles o'er mountains and plain,
The Republic's Lone Emblem, the Confederate Bars,
Then, last and forever, the Stripes
and the Stars,
Texas, Wonderful Texas!

Her sons have gone forth to do battle for right,
From Texas Wonderful Texas
Their blades have flashed out in Lib-erty's fight,
For Texas, Wonderful Texas,
From the Alamo's glory to the bloody Argonne,
From Gettysburg's plains to the heights of San Juan,
In the wake of the flag her lads followed on,
No cowards among them have ever been born,
In Texas, Wonderful Texas!

The welcome is hearty, with arms opened wide,
To Texas, Wonderful Texas!
A chance to the stranger shall never be denied,
In Texas, Wonderful Texas,
Though her children may wander afar from her ways, Thought to exile condemned they shall live out their days, Yet, once they've been kissed by the sun's warming rays, They'll never be content till again
they shall gaze,
On Texas Wonderful Texas.

As a toast to the land of My heart's delight,
To the rosy, white roses and blue bonnets bright,
Oh Texas, Wonderful Texas,
May her who-dowered patriots never be quite,
From her shores and Grand to her Pauzanche line,
From her purple-sage West to her tail-enders pine,
Oh Heaven itself be just one-half as fine,
As Texas, Wonderful Texas.

SPOTLIGHTS

I went to see Frank Craven's play
"That's Gratitude." After the show Mrs. Craven and Grantland Rice took me up to Frank's apartment. Other friends dropped in, and presently Frank himself—arrived genuine, whimsical, modest, totally unspoiled.

Seeing him in his own home made it easier to understand his success.
When he writes a play he just picks a situation out of an ordinary American home, and then he walks on the stage and is himself.

On the way home another thought struck me.

He is the author of the play, and his name is printed on the program and written in front of the theatre in electric lights.

Yet it is a play without a star.
At least five other characters are just as important as he is. He is on the stage no more than they are,
and they are given just as many good lines.

He might have written the piece so as to monopolize the spot light, and it might have been a success or it might have been a flop. But being the sort of chap he is, he is content to be in the background a good share of the time. His royalties will reward his good sense.

Years ago Cameron McKenzie wrote a short story entitled, "The Man Who Was It." The story told of a business that had been making good profits for many years. The president took life easy. He played golf, travelled in Europe, and let the boys assume responsibility.

After his death a young and very efficient executive was brought in who decided that everything needed tightening up. When the purchasing agent was about to sign a big contract the new Boss jumped into the negotiations himself. When the sales manager had a large order to close, the Boss said: "I'll pack my bag and go with you." When the production manager made plans for rearranging the plant, the Boss revised his plans. He worked about twenty hours a day, and was always criticizing his predecessor who had "seemed to work so little.

The result was that his associates, being robbed of both responsibility and credit, lay back and let him do it. He worked himself into a nervous breakdown, and the business went on the rocks.

I am told that the Jesuits had this motto: "A great deal of good can be done in the world if one is not too careful who gets the credit."

Wise leaders recognize this golden principle and profit by it. The foolish hog the spotlight, and frequently go to smash.

We are glad to state that G. F.
Hardberger has subscribed for the Herald this week to be sent to his daughter, Mrs. Darnell, in Texico
New Mexico.

Lynn Hammock spent the first of the week in bed. He ran high fever and was pretty sick, but is better as this paper goes to press.

Chester Elliott, who has been here on his vacation from his work in Lubbock, spent the past weekend visiting with a friend who lives east of Dallas.

Mr. Roy Smith and Mr. W. F. Jones made a trip to Corsicana over the weekend returning home with Mrs.
Smith and children.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Waldrip and daughter, Ruel left Knox City Monday for Buffalo Gap fishing. They were gone several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Cubine of Me-Lain spent the past weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L.
N. Bridges.

Miss Grace Orsburn, who is attending Tech in Lubbock this summer, spent the past weekend here with her parents.

Mrs. Dennie Davis, Mrs. McLarry and Mrs. George motored to Wichita Falls Monday where Mrs. George caught the train for her home in Dallas.

THIS AND THAT

By Jimeny

It seems that Shorty Youngblood planned on a little trip to Oklahoma this week but missed his car.

However, Shorty can't be bothered with such a slight loss as a Ford car. He went right on to Okla.

That seems to be placing a great deal of confidence in the chief of police.

We see that Lloyd Waldrip is carrying a pretty badly damaged flag on this week, the result of having it down on it.

There must have been a catch somewhere.

And we are reminded here of an error in the last Herald regarding a small statement made about Lloyd Waldrip.

As a matter of fact, it was not Lloyd Waldrip who met with so much success as having been given two cents in his alms asking at the drug store a while back. It was Lloyd Davis.

We were just wondering if Lloyd Davis will need any help in the expenditure of the money.

It is no doubt remembered by readers hereof that a few weeks back the Herald carried an article headed "If the Editor Told the Truth".

It is also remembered that, according to the article mentioned, news stories would often read differently to what they do, if the editor told the truth.

Well, our readers, we are guessing are beginning to hink that the editor is going to tell the truth, after reading a certain article published two weeks ago. It read like this, "Mrs. S. J. Clonts and Ray Willis entertained their friends etc".

Can you imagine it? The social was given by Mrs. S. M. Clonts and Mrs. Ray Willis.

And so much for that. Wouldn't this be a grand old world if no one ever made errors?

Say, you have heard the one about the man who drove his car to town and forgot to take it home? Walked home and left the car parked in front of his store?

Well, here is one still better. This dignified business man and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, locked the door to his store and forgot to take the keys out. Drove off and spent the following day on the river fishing.

You know what happened? Well, just ask Orland Jamston, he can tell you just how it all turned out for him on the fifth of July, following his most enjoyable fourth.

And we're not saying just where we got this information, but Orland, no doubt, can guess.

We have long been aware of the fact that one way of standing in well with the preacher during the Revelal Meeting is to have him in for dinner and feed him plenty of fried chicken.

But it seems that the Chevrolet dealer has managed for another way of gaining favor.

Although Jimmie was not in church Tuesday he received a handsome bouquet from the preacher, Reverend Whatley, for an act of kindness shown the preacher.

In helping others, extending deeds of kindness, we never know to whom they are given, nor the doubtless number of people who are benefitted by one act.

Even as Christ said, "In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it to me".

Mrs. E. Q. Warren motored to Merkel last Saturday taking Miss Warren, who spent two or three weeks here, to her home.

Today and Tomorrow

Latin, so that a traveler could find someone with whom he could converse. Gradually French began to supplant Latin, and in Europe today French is the tongue spoken by the more cultured people of all nations. English is probably more widely spoken than any single language, and the study of English is now compulsory in the upper grades of the common schools in probably three-quarters of the nations of the world.

Nevertheless, no person has a right to call himself an educated man unless he has a working knowledge of Latin, which is still the international language of scientists.

CASE
Anna Case, the opera singer who has just married Clarence Mackey, head of the Postal Telegraph and Commercial Cable System, has long been known in musical circles as perhaps the most generous of singers of the first rank in her attitude toward ambitious young musicians. For years Miss Case has given not only lessons in singing at her own expense, but free board and lodging in her large apartment in the West Fifties to a number of young women whose musical talents she deemed worth cultivating.

Her marriage to Mr. Mackey is the culmination of a romance of several years standing. As he is one of the wealthiest men in America it is to be expected that Miss Case will now be able to do a great deal more for young singers even than she has done before.

THOSE EUROPEAN DEBTS
The principle impression which the international financial conferences make upon us is that the United States is for the first time since he war years which our country's position in taking the part in international of the world's wealthier and most pronounced from Washington that it officially representing the United States in the Conference on International Debts our Secretary of State Mr. Stimson, and our Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Mellon, will take no part in the political aspects of the European situation.

It is very difficult to see how they can keep out of it. International Debts are necessarily involved in politics. When a nation owes money the method whereby that debt is to be paid has to be decided in the long run by the politicians of that nation, precisely as the method of paying the interests on town or school district bonds and amortizing the principal has to be determined in the long run by the politicians of the town or the school district.

International debts are just like all other public debts, in that the promise of politicians to pay them are not always based upon the ability of the town, county, state or nation to pay. That seems to be Germany's case. She owes more than she can pay, but she has given very good evidence of desire and willingness to pay.

All reports from Germany are that the people there are working harder and longer hours than anywhere else in the world and are living on next to nothing in the effort to pay the heavy taxes which the national debt requires. Even doing the best they can the country cannot meet its obligations. The old-fashioned way of meeting a situation like that was for the creditor nations to send an army into the country to take possession of it. The modern way is for all of the nations to whom Germany owes money to get together, as they are doing in London, and try to figure a way out based upon Germany's proved and actual ability to pay, just as in private business a committee of creditors might work out a plan to enable a debtor to meet his obligations gradually.

THESE five women, representing the rural homemakers of Texas, will comprise the fourth group to receive the title of Master Farm Homemaker conferred annually by THE FARMER'S WIFE, national farm women's magazine of St. Paul, Minn., in co-operation with the Extension Service of the A. & M. College of Texas.

College Station, Texas, July 27 Five outstanding Texas farm women will be honored as winners of the Texas Master Farm Homemaker title for 1931 on the opening day of the twenty-second annual Farmers' Short Course at the Texas A. & M. College July 27. The following have just been announced as winners of the title for this year: Mrs. Noah Stagg, Weatherford; Mrs. Herman Schulze, Kerrville; Mrs. Edgar Lumpkin, Buffalo Springs; Mrs. A. R. Hanna, Floryada; Mrs. J. P. Impson, Beville.

national farm women's magazine of St. Paul, Minn., with the cooperation of the Extension Service of the college. Judging committee to select the winners was named by Miss Mildred Horton, state home demonstration agent of the Extension Service. Presentation of trophies will be made by Miss Oriane Johnson of the farm publication.

With the recognition of this year's group, the number of farm women in Texas accorded the master farm homemaker title will reach twenty. Such recognition ceremonies are held in twenty states. Since the farm women's magazine and cooperating colleges of agriculture began naming master farm homemakers four years ago, 362 names have gone on the roll. The groups in each state have been formed into guilds. In selecting the winners a careful study is made of their answers to more than 500 questions concerning their homemaking records. Emphasis is placed on how well the homemaker managed with funds at her disposal rather than on the costliness of the farm home equipment.

Born 84 years ago and reared in the community in which she now lives, Mrs. Stagg has taken an active part in the development of her community from a wild, sparsely settled section to one with good schools, churches and community organizations. One of her present interests is a community library project being promoted by the literary society of which she is a member. She has a family of six children who are leaders in their communities.

"The function of a home is to make a place of security for ourselves and our children," says Mrs. Lumpkin. She has two daughters and one son. Besides caring for her family affairs, Mrs. Lumpkin finds time to can fruit and vegetables and to raise turkeys and chickens for market. Earnings for the year totaled $518.

Mrs. Schulze is a member of three organizations and holds office in each. She has two sons and a daughter. The daughter is attending college, one son is a research chemist, the other a farmer. Raising garden plants helped Mrs. Schulze earn $175 the past year.

Mrs. Hanna, mother of five daughters and two sons, is vice president of the Floyd County Federation of Women's Clubs. She teaches in Sunday School and is active in parent-teacher association work.

Mrs. Impson is actively interested in community affairs also. She is secretary-treasurer of local home demonstration club which just now has as its main project the building of a community house. She is the mother of two daughters.

AVERAGE HEAD WAITER MAKES $10,000 YEARLY

Just an average head waiter in a big New York hotel has a better job than the average business man. Statistics gathered for the American Magazine indicates that the head waiter is in a position to make about $10,000 a year, probably more. How large are his tips? A canvass of head waiters shows that they frequently get tips of five to ten dollars. A millionaire who eats frequently at a hotel near the Grand Central Station is very finicky about his oyster stew. When it is exactly right, he leaves a ten dollar bill with the head waiter. In addition to his generous tip for the reason for his making it served him. Many head waiters prefer the less immediate profits derived from inside information on the stock market.

Demanded and Delivered

High standards make higher demands. Electric power put the kerosene lamp out of business. And then the small isolated power plant itself gave way to the transmission line, which brought power from a larger and more efficient power plant.

High standards in electric power service set high standards in community living. The small, isolated plant has gone the way of the kerosene lamp.

Furnishing this high-quality service to 120 cities and towns in West Texas, the "Land of Opportunity," the West Texas Utilities Company has brought metropolitan service to rural customers, small communities, progressive towns and thriving cities throughout this vast empire.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

Only TRUTHFUL TIRE ADVERTISING WINS!

WHEN we advertised the fact that Firestone was furnishing us complete lines of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires that not only met the price but beat the quality and construction of every grade of special brand tires sold by mail order houses and others, the mail order houses made vigorous protests to Better Business Bureaus and made demands upon newspapers not to accept Firestone or our advertising.

We cannot blame them for they did not want car owners to know that they could get, at no more cost, a better tire made by a leading manufacturer, bearing his name and guarantee plus our guarantee and our service.

When car owners awakened to this fact, they came to us, compared the sections we had cut from Firestone Tires and special brand mail order tires, and were astounded at the Extra Values we were giving.

As a result, our business increased so fast that it took us four hours a day and four tires in April, May and June period in the history of our business.

In our advertising comparisons involving labor you cannot verify except neither do we make construction or price based comparisons such as first line tire or third line tire—comparisons to confuse actual values and service statements and compare verify for yourself in purchase the tire.

Come in today and get extra quality and extra Firestone Tires.

*When the National Better Business Bureau realized that their Bulletin No. 634 was being taken advantage of by some advertisers they issued a Bulletin dated July 10th as follows:

"In our Bulletin No. 634 entitled 'Definitions of Terms Used in the Tire Industry' we published definitions of First Line—Second Line—Third Line—Heavy Duty and Super Heavy Duty Tires.

"Our definitions pointed out, 'Although each manufacturer's or distributor's first line tire may represent his best standard size 4 or 6 ply tire, there is not necessarily any equality of competitive first line tires as to materials, workmanship or price.' This interpretation also applies to all lines of tires.

"We therefore recommend that advertising to the consumer shall avoid the use of these terms for the purpose of comparing competitive products."

*A "Special Brand" Tire is made by a manufacturer for distributors such as Mail Order houses, oil companies and others, under a name that does not identify the tire manufacturer to the public, usually because he builds his "best quality" tires under his own name. Firestone puts his name on every tire he makes.

Double Guarantee—Every tire manufactured by Firestone bears the name Firestone and carries Firestone's unlimited guarantee and ours. You are doubly protected.
