CHURCH OF CHRIST

Bro. Wilburn Hill of Sunset delivered two high instructive and worthwhile discourses last Sunday on the subjects of Hope and Sin. Our hearts were made glad by the response of one noble soul to the Gospel invitation at the morning service, and the baptismal services were attended to at the close of the evening service. The church is thankful for the seeming increase of interest that is being manifested of late, and we are sure that it is a source of encouragement to Bro. Hill. We are glad to state that our crowds are growing steadily from Sunday to Sunday, and we wish to cordially invite all who can and will to be present next Sunday, especially the young people. Bro. Hill will be back one week from Sunday to fill his regular appointment.

ROOSEVELT IS SHOT AT

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Charles E. Dunn
The Growth of the Kingdom
Lesson for February 19th. Mark 4:21-34.

Golden Text: Isaiah 11:9.
Our lesson deals with the spread of Christianity, an expansion that Jesus described in terms of the Kingdom of God. This divine Realm is future, and is to come by the direct, miraculous action of God. But the forces promoting it, as the lesson makes clear, are even now present. This truth the Master makes evident in two gracious little parables.

The first is the parable of the seed that is cast into the ground and mysteriously springs up by itself into lovely grain. The sower does not need to worry after the seed is cast. He can relax with an easy mind knowing that nature will aid of her own accord. But when the corn is ripe, he must act.

Now you and I can wait when we have sown our seed. We can allow the influences we have set in motion to slowly fructify. We can trust in God to finish what we have begun. But when the harvest in due time appears, then we must act.

The second is the parable of the tiny mustard seed that becomes a powerful tree, shooting out great branches as a restful, shady lodging-place for the birds. What Jesus means, of course, is that you cannot judge the success of God's Kingdom by its humble start. The Cause of God, though inconspicuous at first, is certain. It has the latent capacity of the mustard seed to become a mighty tree, steadfast, hospitable, solid, a continuing joy.

This homely parable is a symbol of the amazing growth of the Christian movement. Launched by an obscure Galilean who was cruelly crucified, it quickly expanded into a world-wide society to which both Rome and the barbarians who conquered her paid deference. And at the present time it is estimated that the disciples of Christ now equal, if they do not exceed, a third of the human family.

According to Thursday morning news dispatch, President-Elect Roosevelt escaped injury when a gunman fired into his party Wednesday night. Mayor Cermak of Chicago was perhaps fatally injured during the shooting, it is said.

Others were struck by flying bullets. The would-be assassin was taken into custody immediately.

The shooting occurred at Miami, Florida.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

The one heroic figure in our national hall of fame, whose memory transcends all partisanship and sectionalism, is that of George Washington. It will be many years before any other great American soldier or statesman becomes such a figure of national honor. Indeed, we doubt whether, even after the lapse of ages, our nation will ever have produced another character commanding such universal respect and esteem.

Yet Washington in his lifetime was the target for abuse and vilification such as few Presidents since his day have had to bear. A British traveler and author, writing in 1795, told how many men refused to drink to the President's health at the celebration of his birthday. When Washington retired to private life at the end of his second term as President, one of the foremost of the newspapers then in existence declared that this was a time for public rejoicing. For the man who is the source of all the misfortunes of our country is this day reduced to a level with his fellow citizens and is no longer possessed of a power to multiply evils upon the United States. If ever a nation was deceived by a man the American nation has been deceived by Washington.

Very few men in high place escape such calumny. There is something in human nature which reverts to the idea that one man is superior to others. But it did not take the American people long to realize that in George Washington they had had a leader who was probably the only man who could have successfully led the revolt against British domination and established our nation on an independent basis so sound that the foundations laid by him have never been seriously shaken.

The wisdom of Washington's warnings and admonitions to the young Republic of which he was the first President become more and more clearly apparent as time goes on. Particularly at this time we are impressed with his warning to the young nation to avoid entangling alliances with Europe. That was no intended, of course, as an admonition to detach America from the rest of the world; it was rather an admonition that we should maintain friendly relations with all nations and not be allied with some in opposition to others. We think this an opportune time to remind our political leaders and the people of America again of Washington's warning against foreign entanglements.

DEATH ON WHEELS

Three hundred and twenty five thousand Americans have been killed in motor car accidents in the past fifteen years. That is more than the total number of American soldiers who were killed in the Great War. Last year, according to carefully compiled statistics kept by the Travelers Insurance company, there were twenty-nine thousand motor vehicle deaths. This is a reduction from the thirty-three thousand five hundred deaths from this cause in 1931, but it must be remembered that there were a great many fewer cars on the road last year than there were the year before. Every death of this kind is a senseless, useless waste of life for no good purpose.

It is not enough to say that fatal accidents are the fault of careless drivers; the situation calls for some way of insuring against careless drivers. The situation calls for a rigid examination into his or her ability to drive carefully, and then to enforce strictly the laws of bidding any unlicensed driver to sit behind a steering wheel and punishing the licensed driver for any accident which causes injury to persons or property. In the half dozen states in which such laws and regulations exist the proportion of automobile accidents is lower than anywhere else.

Automobile drivers are not a way at fault. While 44 percent of the persons killed by automobiles last year were pedestrians who were struck by cars, nearly half of those were killed by their own carelessness, either in crossing streets against signals, crossing diagonally between street intersections, or stepping out into traffic from behind parked cars.

The price of a cut of cherry pie....

When dining out the meal is usually tapered off with a cut of pie... it's the natural thing to do. Besides, 10 cents is not big money to satisfy a sweet tooth—unless you have stopped to reckon with the purchasing power of a penny.

For this same dime you spend for cherry pie, you can cook 10 good dinners with natural gas; or heat enough water for 20 baths; or operate a gas refrigerator for more than three days. By simple comparisons you will agree that natural gas service is the cheapest thing you buy or use.

CHANGES IN SCHEDULE

With the beginning of a new semester many changes have been made in the schedule. Economics replaced civics and advanced arithmetic replaced solid geometry. H. E. I changed their course of study from foods to clothing and Home Economics II changed from clothing to foods. The English classes that were studying grammar began a course of literature, classes changed to study grammar this term.

SENIOR BOYS' BASKETBALL

The senior boys basketball team ended their successful season last Saturday at the Knox County Interscholastic League basketball meet. Knox City has done exceedingly well this year and we were fortunate to win the greater per cent of our games. Among the teams Knox City played this year were: Seymour 30, Knox City 45; Sunset 6, Knox City 26; Vera 35, Knox City 45. Several games with O'Brien of which we won all but a very few, and last but not least, Munday. Knox City played two games with Munday and won one.

Knox City also attended an invitation tournament at Aspermont where we showed pretty good playing to much superior teams.

At the Tournament Saturday Knox City drew our close neighbor, Sunset, for the first game and promptly sent them to the showers with a score of 49 to 9 with Sunset on the bottom. We then advanced to the semi-finals and met Truscott where we were defeated 25 to 24 in a hard fought game. Truscott and Goree then played off the finals and Goree won 36 to 25, thereby winning the county championship.

Knox City has hopes for some kind of a gymnasium next year and this will place us equal in opportunity with Goree and Munday. Several of Knox City's boys will play again next year and we hope for a good team. The Senior boys will start working out for track soon and we plan to win the county again this year.

Roger Hammeck

JUNIOR BOYS

The Junior boys basketball team was defeated by Goree in the game for county championship of Knox county.

The Junior team met the county champions on their own court and fought from whistle to whistle to gain control of the score but it was to no avail. Goree was the better team THAT morning.

SENIOR GIRLS

Saturday night, Feb. 11, the Knox City basketball girls closed one of the most successful seasons of recent years. The girls played 14 games winning 12, losing only 4.

At this time the outlook for next year is the best. Marie Dunlap, guard for the past two years, is the only player that the school will lose through graduation. Captain Faye Hyde, one of the two best forwards in the county, has two more years to play. To play with her for the next two years we have: Maxine Shaver, who was injured in the first game of the tournament, a blow that the team, through hard fighting was unable to overcome. In center we have O'Via Daniel and Irene Holland. As guards Ruth Darr, Rhea Whorton and Evelyn Matthews will be hard to beat. Other players will be Estell Whorton, Ora Sharp, Pauline King, Yvonne Jamison and possibly other players will be added to the team.

GIRLS BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

Friday afternoon, Feb. 10 at one o'clock the girls' basketball team went to Goree to play their first game of the tournament. Their first opponent was Truscott. Our girls defeated Truscott with the score 53-1. Saturday, Feb. 11, at two-thirty o'clock the basket ball girls left Knox City to play the second game of the tournament. Their opponent this time was Vera. Vera was a few points behind when the whistle blew. The score this time was 35-24.

Now for the finals! The next and last game was played at eight with Goree. The first quarter began with Knox City in the lead, but one of our star guards, Marie Dunlap, fouled out. Marie was replaced by another one of our guards, Rhea Whorton. At the end of the third quarter the score was 18-18. Knox City still had hope. Then came Goree's luck when they began to score. When the game ended the score was 36-18 in favor of Goree. Much to their disappointment, the Knox City team took the defeat like the good sports throughout the tournament.

Knox has high hopes of winning championship in next year's tournament.—Captain Faye Hyde.

HOW FAITHFUL BECAME CONTENTED

Barbara trudged bravely onward in the face of a screeching snow blizzard. The wind which surged unmercifully against her slender form had seemed to whisper, "Turn back!" until the words had become a deafening roar in her ears. The sleet and snow beat against her face unheeded, threatening to blind her straining eyes from the object which she sought. It was cold, miserably cold! Though her tiny hands were encased in woolen mittens, they were aching and almost numb. Quite frequently she stumbled, and twice she had fallen over some unseen object covered by the ever deepening blanket of snow. She turned her back to the hissing wind for an instant in an effort to brush the offending snow from her lashes. Wheeling quickly, she tried to get her bearings, but in vain! The treacherous white blanket had long since obscured the narrow path, and there was no familiar landmark in sight. An uneasy feeling of discouragement and despair surged over her momentarily, and a faint moan escaped her lips. Then memory that had seemingly lain dormant, flooded back with doubled intensity; she saw again her father's blanched face, contorted in its awful agony, his eyes glazed, his voice raving, crazed with pain. The impulse to turn back was immersed entirely in the tide as it swept all barriers before it.

"Oh, God, I must go on!" The tortured prayer and supplication ended in an agonized wail. The only answer was a hollow echo of her words, and a fresh gust of wind which threatened to carry her back by its sheer force. She staggered, regained her balance, and forced her way on through the deepening drifts. Fifteen minutes later a dark object loomed before her eyes. She tried to make her way toward it, but all feeling seemed to have left her body. The only thing that filled her mind was the fact that she was alone. Stumbling over some unseen object, the temptation to succumb to her desire was too great and she made no effort to rise.

This spring coat with its becoming girlish lines is a model that should be quite popular this season. The caracul collar and cuff-tipped sleeves give that poster contrast when the coat is of carrot-red angora-finished woolen with metal button trim. The hips are extremely flat. The slenderness is emphasized by the wrapped treatment and it is a coat that gives the youthful figure height. For quieter tone, a grey rough crepe silk affords another basic color scheme for now and Spring.

The sleeves tell their own story. The slightly dropped shoulder, the muted fullness tapering of to a medium-fitted forearm is quite chic. The pleated fullness at the shoulder is very precise and smart.

THE KENNEL

Several new students have been enrolled this week, namely, Iris Coates, Elva Rose, Maggie Faye Yarbrough and the old "stand by" Letton Huntsman. Maggie Faye was formerly a student of Muleshoe high school and Elva Rose is from Breckinridge. Iris Coates attended O'Brien high school last year.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

EDWARD decided one day to be a HUNTSMAN. He was detained at the PARK to hear a boy from HOUSTON playing a CORNETT. While there he met a DEAN from a university in HOLLAND, a FARRIER whom he knew well, a WILSON who NEWSOME ENGLISH, a GLOVER, a TAYLOR and a READER. After talking with each of them he continued on his way. He glanced upward and noticed that heavy rain CLOUD was gathering, so decided to wait until a more desirable day to hunt. Evidently his dog wanted to go home too because he began to HOWL. On his way home he found a nest of baby ROBBINS that were chirping and chivering with cold. For the weather by this time had turned RAINY and the wind was very SHARP. He took the cold little ROBBINS home with him and put the nest on the ARMSTRONG lineoleum in the corner next to the WALL where it was warm. They seemed to be ill, but EDWARD had HOPE of their recovery in a SHORT time. Then EDWARD went out on the porch to rest in the HAMMOCK and there dropped off to sleep to have ANOTHER dream of his day's adventure.

THE END OF A PERFECT DAY

I reached the school house early. The doors were open wide. And Mr. Guy stood there smiling and saying,

"Pupils, please come inside." Miss Park came for Algebra. She bowed and shook her head.

"Oh, don't stop talking." Is what she really said.

"Physics?" said Mr. Cloud "Please don't study any more." Just tear your books to pieces.

And throw 'em on the floor." Mr. Dean began our history.

"Now what do you think he said?" "If you have read a single topic, I'll crack you on the head."

"Class we'll have no English." Mrs. Finley said with glee; "Well pass around the chewing gum. And you'll all have a leech on me. Yes, truly it was perfect.

If only there wasn't an end; But lo, just at that moment
