

News of Baird PEOPLE & THINGS By E. M.

MOST EVERYONE IN Baird was proud of the fine showing the Bears made against the Albany Lions in the mud at the Baird stadium Friday night. You seldom see a game played under worse conditions. There were lakes of water and fields of mud that both teams had to contend with. It got to a point that it was hard to tell Bears from Lions and backs from linemen. There are a few Baird fans and a lot of Lion fans who say that the mud was a factor in the fine showing of the Bears, but it rained on both sides of the scrimmage line. Usually rain and muddy field benefits the heaviest team, and Albany outweighed the Bears between 20 and 30 pounds per man Friday night. It was a job well done, and the Bears are worthy of praise. The game officials praised the hard and the gentlemanly play of the Bears.

A LOT OF Baird people stayed at home Friday night — in fact there were more Albany fans at the game than Baird fans. A large delegation of Clyde fans came over and we saw people we knew from Abilene, Moran, Cisco, Cross Plains and Ranger watching the contest. Rev. White of the First Methodist Church gave the invocation. Fans missed the half-time performance of both bands. The powers that be decided it was a bit muddy for the customary halftime ceremonies. Gene Eby has been the Baird Bear for the season and has done a good job. He is dressed in the Bear costume at all the games, and does a pretty mean twist. Albany has a Lion costume which one of the students wears. It looked a little bedraggled Friday night. It gets a lot of use. Pinkie Black was at the game without a coat, but he went home at the half to get one. The extra bleachers, furnished by an ardent Albany fan, were in place and were a lot of help. He has promised to leave them over here for the final game of the season with Ranger Friday night.

WE'VE HAD A LOT OF favorable comment on our suggestion last week that it was high time we did something about rebuilding the school gym and adding to the facilities at the football stadium, and the game at the gym Tuesday night and the football game Friday night helped prove the point. Tuesday night, at the first basketball game, the gym was packed. You can imagine what the crowds will be — or would be if we had adequate facilities — as the season progresses and the Baird girls continue to play as they did in the opening game. Seems that it is high time the school board reopened the issue. It was discussed by the board some months ago, but no action was taken. It will probably take a bond issue to do all that is needed, but the people of Baird usually come through when something is needed for the improvement of the community or the schools.

GOOD NEWS TO BAIRD people is that the efforts of the Baird Chamber of Commerce and a special committee appointed by the CoC, have paid off in the securing of a doctor for the community. An agreement was reached Saturday with Dr. Ernest Vernezobre of San Antonio for the doctor and his family to move to Baird soon after December 1, and for him to begin practice about December 15. Some weeks ago the CoC committee purchased a building for use as a clinic, and arrangements have been made to begin remodeling work on the building this week. A lot of Baird people have spent a lot of time on the project and the people owe them a rousing thanks. The Vernezobres have an interesting back-

Area Native To Seek Court Post

Judge Jack Pope, brother of Bill Pope who operates a farm in Eastland County and a ranch in Callahan County, today announced his candidacy for the Supreme Court seat being vacated by Judge Frank Culver who is retiring. Pope made the announcement at the end of a scheduled speech to the Nueces County Bar Association in Corpus Christi.

Judge Pope grew up in Abilene attending both public schools and Abilene Christian College there; he took his law degree from The University of Texas in 1937.

Pope is a graduate of the University of Texas Law School and started his general law practice in Corpus Christi; he also managed the Highway Transportation Company, a bus line which operated between Houston, Corpus Christi and San Antonio, in the late 30's. He served in the U. S. Navy during World War II.

Appointed to the judgeship in the 94th District Court in 1948, Judge Pope was elected to a full term. In 1950, he was elected over three opponents to the Court of Civil Appeals in San Antonio, to which he has twice been reelected without opposition.

Judge Pope and his wife, Allene (a graduate of the University of Texas), have two sons, Jackson and Allen. Jackson is a graduate of Abilene Christian College, now doing graduate work at Hardin-Simmons University. Allen is a student at The University of Texas.

Pope brings 18 years of judicial experience to the race for Supreme Court. He was 33 when he began serving as a judge; his present court served more than two-million Texans with one of the heaviest dockets in the state. The report of the Civil Judicial Council shows that this court was the most economical-

BAIRD TO END SEASON FRIDAY NIGHT WITH RANGER; LOSE TO ALBANY 14-6

A fighting bunch of Baird Bears came within a hair of upsetting the apple cart Friday night as they held the top ranked Albany Lions to a 14-6 win before a capacity crowd at the Baird Stadium.

The game was played in a sea of mud. A 1½ inch rain Friday morning left the field water-logged and the footing uncertain as the two teams squared off in a game which was thrilling from the starting whistle to the final play. Albany, picked by most prognosticators to win the state championship this year in Class 1-A, had to put up a battle to ward off a defeat at the hands of a steady plugging bunch of Bears. The Bears went into the game averaging 27½ pounds per man lighter than their Shackelford County opponents in the forward wall and 21 pounds per man lighter in the backfield.

They held the favored Lions scoreless in the first quarter but gave up touchdowns in the second and third stanzas which spelled a win for the visitors. Charles Brewster, 201 pound sophomore fullback who defected from Moran to Albany at the beginning of his freshman year, broke the scoring ice two minutes deep in the second quarter when he broke loose on a slant and went 39 yards to paydirt. Brewster was the big gun in the Albany offense Friday night. He accounted for 175 of his teams 241 rushing yards. The try for points failed and that wound up the scoring for the half.

The mud covered Bears came out after the intermission with a determined effort to show the Lions that they were not "kings of the jungle." They received the kickoff opening the second half and drove to the Albany nine yard line where a fourth down attempt fell a foot short and the ball changed hands. The drive started at the Baird 36 after Wally Harris was hit at that spot to end a 26 yard kick return. Tally Windham personally accounted for 39 of those yards and passed to Steve Stanley for 16 more.

The Lions made it 14-0 late in the third quarter when fleet footed Gary Hise scored from the eight and Brewster plunged over for the two points after. The scoring drive began at the Baird nine yard line and was highlighted by a 53 yard scamper by Hise. It was about his only contribution to the Albany win.

Baird's tally came early in the fourth quarter and was set up on a fumble recovery at the Albany 21 by Bruce Bell, his second for the evening. Windham juggled the ball most of the way on the drive and carried it in for the score from the one yard line. The try for point was stopped short of the goal and the two team wrote "finis" to the scoring for the evening. A drive by Albany was stopped late in the game when Ed Ault dived on a Brewster fumble, and the Lions returned the favor by stopping a Baird drive in the waning minutes on a pass interception by Hise.

It was a team effort on the part of the Bears. Individual stars were hard to find. Windham was Baird's leading ground gainer as the lighter backs were unable to cope with the swampy conditions. Steve Stanley stood out on defense in the secondary as he stopped two possible scores with diving stops of Albany hopefuls. He almost broke loose for a touchdown on the kick following Albany's first tally. He took the ball on his own goal line, and the safety man brought him down some 45 yards later.

Bruce Bell played the best game of his career. He recovered two stray balls and hit like a 200 pounder as he stopped runner after runner at the scrimmage line. He had ample help from Ed Ault, Mac McIntosh, Danny Ross, Doug Jaggars, Thomas Robbins and Pat McKinnon.

Backfield standouts were numerous on both offense and defense. Coming in for praise were Tommy Barton, Harris, Eddie Childers, Windham, Stanley, Freddie Alexander and Maxie Gordon.

The victory Friday night assured the Lions of being the representative of District 10-A in the state playoffs. They have to meet Cross Plains Friday night, but the winless Buffaloes are expected to give them no trouble. They will probably meet Goldthwaite in the bi-district game.

Friday night of this week at the Bear's Den, the Bears and the Ranger Bulldogs will be playing for second place in the district. Each team has lost only to Albany in the conference chase. Game time Friday night will be 7:30 o'clock. It will conclude the 1963 season for both the Bears and the Bulldogs and a good following of fans will be on hand to help conclude the season.

The Bulldogs have a strong passing attack and are only a little less effective on the ground. It has the earmarks of being a topnotch contest. All of the Bears survived the mud battle Friday night in good shape and should be in top form for the visiting Bulldogs who last week came from behind to down a good Eastland Maverick team 16-14.

Statistics of the Baird-Albany game were as follows:

BAIRD	ALBANY
8	first downs	14
79	yards rushing	241
9	passes attempted	4
3	for 46 passing yardage	2 for 27
0	passes intercepted by	1
4	for 32 punts - average	0
2	for 20 penalties	12 for 90
2	fumbles lost	5

CHEVROLET
Which type Chevrolet pickup do you need?

Chevrolet now makes four different types, each with its own distinct advantages. Whichever one you buy will be a lot more truck than your money bought the last time!

FLEETSIDE. Based on sales, the best liked pickup in the world. Outstanding feature is its large body extending clear out over the wheels. Two body sizes. Two wheelbases. Best riding truck, by far, with coil springs all around and independent front suspension. Cab and body have double-wall construction. Chevrolet Fleetside—best for all-around use.

STEPSIDE. Has flat interior body walls and convenient side steps between cab and rear fenders. Comes in same two sizes as the Fleetside plus one bigger size. Big model has heavier frame, 4-speed transmission and leaf-spring rear suspension for maximum payloads. Standard engine is 230-cu.-in. Six. A 292 Six or 283 V8 is available at extra cost.

RAMPside. Nobody else makes a pickup exactly like this one with a ramp at the side. The ramp makes loading easy because of its 16-inch rise. Truck also has a conventional tailgate. Body and frame-floor assembly are very rigid because they are welded together. Has larger 95-hp air-cooled engine this year. Independent coil spring suspension all around.

EL CAMINO. If you want a pickup as good looking as any car on the road, this is the one! It can work hard, and look like a million dollars doing it—the only pickup in the world with Body by Fisher! You can order an El Camino as plain or as fancy as you wish: bucket seats, air conditioning, 4-speed transmission, power brakes are some of its extra-cost options.

What can this modern gas range do that a comparable electric model can't? Plenty!

Even women who cook on electric ranges admit they don't have the controllability that gas gives you. When you turn the gas flame "on", it's "on" instantly... turn it "off", it's "off" instantly. There's no hangover-heat to cause boil-overs and no pot-shuffling necessary with gas. Another gas exclusive is smokeless broiling—the flame eats up smoke so you can keep the broiler door closed. This means a cooler, smoke-free kitchen—only with gas! How about flame-kissed flavor for steaks and burgers? Only a gas flame does it. But the big plus is economy... natural gas is so inexpensive you can cook four meals for the price of one. See the beautiful new automatic gas ranges now on sale at Gas Appliance Dealers and Lone Star Gas!

Union Usuals
And Unusuals
By Veda Yarbrough

Hi neighbor. Well we had a pretty good rain last Friday, I got one and half inches here at home. The John Mcs got about two inches, so did several others around our way. It was a real nice rain, settled this dirt for a while and really helped the grain.

Fay and Emmitt Wood of Cisco had dinner with me Sunday. We attended the funeral services for Mr. Floyd Pool in Moran Sunday afternoon. Most everyone out this way attended the funeral for Mr. Pool. He passed away Friday night in Graham Hospital in Cisco. He had been a patient for about three weeks, it was a shock to hear of his passing. Everyone knew Mr. Floyd Pool, he was the banker in Moran a long time. Our deepest sympathy to all the family.

I spent Friday night in Cisco with Fay and Emmitt Wood, came home Saturday afternoon.

D. A. Yarbrough visited with me a while Thursday morning. Ardis Yarbrough and wife of Arizona visited a while Saturday with D. A. Yarbrough, came by to see me and I was gone. So sorry I missed seeing them. Seems like I am always gone at the wrong time.

Lynn Tatom visited with the Mark Burnams Saturday night.

Last Monday evening, Nov. 4, Mark and Ollie Burnam honored their daughter, Gayle, with a birthday dinner. Guests were Bill, Retha and Nevin Brown of Abilene and James Isenhower of Putnam, it was Gayle's 19th birthday. It doesn't seem possible she is that old. They grow up so quick.

John and Roma McIntyre were

In Abilene Saturday afternoon shopping.

I went to the Moran Luncheon last Wed., was good to see the Moran people again, been a few weeks since I had been there. Good to see Mrs. Olen Elliott, looks so good, she said she and Mr. Elliott were going to Vernon soon to a family reunion. Good to see Mrs. Elsie Anderson of Abilene at the luncheon, she is looking good also, saw Mr. Dick Penning of Abilene. Dick use to be our mail carrier when we lived on Moran Rt. 2. Today is a holiday, Nov. 11th, no mail today which makes it seem long. Say do you have your flag out today? I forgot to put mine up till noon.

Leonard and Myrtle Alvey visited Burette and Johnny May Ramsey Monday night, think they are playing 42 or 84 and I think Burette and Leonard beat the gals.

Good morning, this is Tuesday and we have a real cold norther, think it got here about six, but I don't really know because I was still asleep.

Mr. Bill Pressley of Corpus Christi spent Friday night with the John McIntyres. Guess I had better get busy so be good till I see you next week, bye, bye.

(Held Over From Last Week)

Last week there were reports of light frost in and around our area. The beautiful flower beds, (I mean those that have been watered) were thought enough of that the quilts and blankets were brought out and spread over them for protection, but the temperature didn't drop quite as low as expected.

When you see the water haulers, and prospects for more you may know that this is a dry country.

L. V. Harris has turned the electricity off from the well that has normally supplied them with water for household use.

We certainly hate to see cold weather come on during a drought such as we have now, for many reasons, but for one, there is usually more sickness in dry winters than when there is lots of rain and snow.

It was a very nice Homecoming Saturday at the Clyde High School. I saw several people I hadn't seen in years and years, and one couple was Mr. and Mrs. Olaf South, Sweetwater. Mrs. South is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Minix who lived in the Denton Valley Community several years. A very nice family I must say, and I will always remember Mr. Minix as a very wonderful Sunday School teacher. May I send a hello, to those Minix girls who I didn't get to see.

Mr. and Mrs. Hulon Crawford and little girls of Abilene, visited his brother, Dale, and family in Cross Plains Sunday and they came by our place late in the afternoon.

QUICKIE LESSONS IN GRAMMAR
By Lloyd D. Huff

One of the basic rules of grammar states that a verb must agree with its subject in number and person; but one place in particular where most people forget this agreement rule is in examples like the following:

She is one of those women who ARE always cheerful.

Tom is one of the delegates who HAVE BEEN CHOSEN.

Milk is one of those foods which APPEAR to agree with most people.

This is one of the pictures that WERE PLACED in the Hall of Fame.

Don't be tempted to make the verb singular in agreement with "one." The subjects of the dependent clauses above are who, which, and that; and they in turn have as their antecedents the plural words immediately preceding them; hence the subjects of those dependent clauses are plural and need a plural verb.

Oh — but look at the change when "only" slips in:

She is the ONLY one of those women who IS always cheerful (the rest are gloomy).

Tom is the ONLY one of the delegates who HAS BEEN CHOSEN (the other delegates were disqualified).

Milk is the ONLY one of the foods which APPEARS to agree with most people (there is some disagreement about the other foods).

This is the ONLY one of the pictures that WAS PLACED in the Hall of Fame (the other pictures weren't good enough).

Makes sense, doesn't it? Do you have a grammar problem? Please write Lloyd D. Huff at McMurry College or in care of this newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Caldwell visited last week with their relatives in Hurst, Garland, McKinney and Pilot Point. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Long in Fort Worth.

Confederate Markers Placed On Courthouse Lawn By Committee

A Confederate Memorial Information Marker for Camp Pecan was erected last week in Baird on the Courthouse Square according to John Ben Sheperd of Odessa, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. The marker will stand on the Callahan County Courthouse lawn.

Camp Pecan, a Civil War camp of the Texas Frontier Regiment, was located 21 miles southeast of Baird. It was established in 1862 as one of a line of posts a day's horseback ride apart. The number of men guarding the frontier were few. Trouble came from all directions with Indian threats and raids from the West and plundering renegades and deserters from the East. Food, supplies, clothing and horses were constantly scarce, but in spite of all these obstacles, these Confederates managed to effectively hold the frontier line of settlement.

Confederate Memorial Information Markers are erected by the State Building Commission. The TSHSC researches the subject and writes inscriptions.

Members of the State Building Commission are Governor John Connally, Attorney General Waggoner Carr and Honorable E. E. McAdams, chairman of the Board of Control.

The Camp Pecan marker is to be Texas pink granite, stands five feet high, and has the Texas star and wreath incised at the top. Placed in the public squares and along highways, these stones are designed to inform the public and contain comprehensive historical information. One-hundred and ninety-three markers have been approved this year.

This marker is part of a comprehensive program to observe the Civil War Centennial. Markers designate location of battles, Indian raids, frontier forts, coastal fortifications, sites of manufacturing and supply, sites where distinguished units were mustered in, as well as graves, structures and homes of men associated with the period and counties named for prominent Texas Confederates.

Callahan County Historical Survey Committee was responsible for the placing of the monument. The Committee is also gathering information on the county's part in the Civil War — soldiers' letters and diaries and minutes of Commissioners Courts. This material will be placed in individual county folders in the State Archives.

The week of April 20-26, 1964, has been set aside as Texas Civil War Appreciation Week — a time for civic clubs and school programs dealing with the war. The 110 historical museums in Texas will be asked to feature Civil War exhibits. Nine Seminars are being held this year throughout the state, to encourage discussion and interest and to plan the program.

Centennial awards of merit are given each year to the authors and publishers of outstanding books on Texas in the Civil War.

The commemoration program is being planned by the Civil War Advisory Committee of the TSHSC.

"The Texas program is not designed to refigure the Civil War but to honor the brave men who gave their lives for what they thought was right," Sheperd said. "We cannot bury this part of our history by saying nothing happened in Texas between 1861-1865."

THE COSTLY SEARCH FOR ENERGY

AN AVERAGE OIL OR GAS WELL REACHES ABOUT 4,000 FEET INTO THE EARTH AND COSTS MORE THAN $62,000 TO DRILL. IN LESS ACCESSIBLE AREAS, COSTS GO HIGHER. A TYPICAL OFFSHORE WELL FOR INSTANCE, COSTS NEARLY $400,000.

YET REGARDLESS OF THE COST, REGARDLESS OF THE DEPTH (WELLS OF 15,000 FEET ARE NOT UNCOMMON) THERE'S NO GUARANTEE OF FINDING OIL OR GAS. IN FACT THE DEEPEST WELL EVER DRILLED IN THE UNITED STATES COST AN ESTIMATED $3,000,000 AND EXCEEDED 25,000 FEET, NEARLY 5 MILES... AND IT WAS A DRY HOLE!

DESPITE SUCH RISKS, THE SEARCH FOR OIL AND GAS MUST GO ON TO MEET AMERICA'S GROWING THIRST FOR LOW COST ENERGY.

The Belle Plaine Story

By Jean Williams

(Editors note: Mrs. Jean Williams of Lubbock is in the process of writing a historical book on the history of Belle Plaine and the Belle Plaine and Callahan County area. Mrs. Williams has spent considerable time in the area collecting material for her authentic story of the early life in Belle Plaine and the county. She has granted permission to the Baird Star to publish the first eight chapters of her book, and the first chapter follows. We regret that space will not allow the entire eight chapters to be published at one time.)

CHAPTER 1

A passel of ox-wagons loaded with household goods, patient mothers and imaginative children who expected Indians to swarm around the train at any minute preceded the bellowing herd of longhorns being driven from Pilot Point in Denton County to the almost unpopulated county of Callahan on the frontier of Texas in 1876.

The buffalo hunters and the few Indians who happened upon the train would look, rub their eyes in disbelief and look again before acknowledging the "Howdy" given by the two men riding ahead of the wagons.

John and Clabe Merchant who claimed to have been the first white twins born under the flag of the Republic of Texas in 1836 were used to this reaction by strangers because even their relatives and kinsin cousins accompanying them would occasionally get them mixed up.

The families who followed in the train were putting their trust in Clabe Merchant's judgment of the lands in Callahan and the possibilities of prosperity for all of them by leaving their home in Denton county and coming with him to the unpopulated land on the frontier.

Merchant had returned to Denton county after the war to find the business he had started before the war in shambles. He would not let reconstruction or hard times break his spirit. He kept his wife and family from starvation while he learned the cattle business.

When Dodge City opened as a cattle shipping point in 1869, he signed as trail boss for a herd of Denton county cattle which he would drive through Indian Territory to the new rail point in Kansas.

He persuaded his friends and relatives to go along and help him drive the herd. Merchant pointed on a star, backed it up with a prayer. Faith and determination took he and his men safely to their destination and brought them home with the first hard money they had seen in years. Since then, their trust in him was unquestioned, his advice never doubted.

Clabe, John and Henry Merchant along with Jasper McCoy, John and Jim Flores, Henry Akin and George Stratton first brought cattle to Callahan in the spring of '74.

Merchant, his twin and their younger cousin Jasper settled on land located on the south prong of the Pecan Bayou and named their spread for the year they came. John Flores chose land on the north prong while Crutchfield, Stratton and Akin picked sites in between.

Then the Merchants and John Flores returned to Denton county to make preparations to return with their families while McCoy, Akin, Harry Merchant and Stratton stayed with the herd. When they returned in the spring of '76 they were joined by a close knit group of friends and relatives who had decided to help them settle this new land.

John Flores found he had a neighbor to the north, Reverend T. J. Austin and his family from Colin county, who had settled on the Bayou at a place which would become known as "Austin's Hole".

A family named Witten had been earlier settlers in the county pulled up stakes and sold their lands to A. A. Hart and his family when they moved from Palo Pinto county some time before the Merchants had first brought their cattle to the Bayou.

The Hart's brought a number of cowhands with them, one of these men, Sebe Barnes, later killed at Round Rock with Sam Bass in 1878, strawbucked the construction of their ranch house which was dubbed the "Double Log Cabin" and would become a county landmark.

Major T. G. Anderson of Jefferson, Texas, purchased land in the southeast part of the county which he named Eagle Cove for the eagle sighted flying overhead when he and his sons had arrived.

The house he built for his son-in-law Captain John Trent of Tennessee, who was migrating to Texas, boasted solid doors and floors of wood and glass windows gave the place a most civilized look.

North and west of the Anderson-Trent spread, three sons of Doctor John Windham of Brown county, veterans with Sibley and Green during the war, Tod, Cal and Tom Windham moved their cattle to the foot of Tecumseh Peak where they set up headquarters in a picket house with buffalo hides for a roof.

Captain Jeff Malby of the Texas Rangers, between maintaining order on the frontier and having skirmishes with the Comanches, took time to gather cowboys from his ranch in Burnett county and move his cattle and horses to the foot of Spring Gap Mountain in the eastern part of the county. A log cabin served as bunk house for the men till he brought his family in '76.

The Shaw family started a sheep ranch in the north east part of the county near the Eastland county line. Mrs. Annie Wilson, her sons John and Mack came from Missouri to settle west of Shaw's and later T. B. Hadley would settle north and west of them nearer the Shackelford county line.

Dust raised by the buffalo herds as they made an unsuccessful try to evade the hunters that pursued and slaughtered them was almost the only blot on the clear blue sky overhead. Game was plentiful, antelope, deer and wild turkey provided food as well as sport. Mahair Creek, Pecan Bayou and other smaller streams had good clear water which were well stocked with fish. Clumps of berries abounded throughout the county and were to be had for the picking.

The lush high grass that grew in the county was a beautiful sight to the cattleman for as far as the eye could see. Trees that were around the Bayou and Mahair in the small rolling mountains which comprised the Callahan County Divide supplied the first building materials until lumber could be freighted from Fort Worth.

A few cattlemen from the east and southern parts of Texas were beginning to drive their herds from Coleman county on the south, following Pecan Bayou till it forked, then north to Mahair Creek and out of the county to Fort Griffith on what was to become known as the Western Cattle Trail.

Survey crews of the Army were camped in the eastern part of the county while they were plotting the route the military telegraph line from Fort Comanche in Coleman county would follow to Fort Griffith in Shackelford county.

Callahan not organized, was attached to Eastland county which handled any legal disputes or litigations at the county seat established there.

It was not until Colonel Randall McKenzie had defeated the Comanche in Palo Duro Canyon in November 1876 that the real threat of the Indian was over, the frontier would be considered safe, that the less venturesome of the settlers would come to make Callahan County their home.

Post Office Helps On Livestock Count

Rural mail carriers from the Baird Post office will leave some livestock survey cards along their routes beginning November 15.

"Information reported on these cards is used to set the yearly inventory of livestock and poultry on Texas farms," Postmaster Gilbreath explained.

Rural carriers distribute the cards at random in boxes along their routes.

"This means that not every box will get a card," Mr. Gilbreath said. "For this reason it's important for everyone who gets a card to return it filled out so that USDA can get a true sample of the State's livestock holdings."

Carriers assisting with the Survey are: Terrell Williams, Route 1; L. C. Gillit, Star Route 1 and Mrs. J. W. Burks, Star Route 2.

Facts and figures secured in this survey are the basis for Texas and National pig crop report and inventories of livestock and poultry on farms as of the first of the year. Stockmen and many others use this information in making business decisions.

Survey results will be widely distributed through Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service releases, newspapers, farm magazines, radio and television.

member of the board of directors of the Clearfork Soil Conservation District for many years. For more than 20 years, Mr. Pool was a member of the Shackelford County School Board and was a booster of better schools. He was connected with the Moran National Bank for a number of years, and during the depression years, he and the late C. B. Snyder, Sr., father of C. B. Snyder and James Snyder of Baird saved the bank from closing. He was a community leader, a county leader and an area leader, and he will be missed.
