NUMBER 23

Massed Chorus Postponed to April 27

The Joint Massed Chorus Meet of Knox County Schools with Baylor County originally scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, April 21st was postponed until Monday evening at 5:30, April 27th. The program will begin promptly at five-thirty with an hours concert of band, orchestra, accordion ensemble, rhythm band, and specialty numbers. At 6:30 the primary, senior, and junior choruses will sing in the order named. They will sing the songs learned by their respective groups, and as soon as they have sung, they will be massed to sing the Texas Cowboy songs.

The meet will be held at the Narrows, five miles east of Benjamin on the Seymour road.

All of the schools of Knox County and most of those of Baylor County will be represented; in some instances 100 per cent. It will be the outstanding school event of the year, and will be attended by many out-of-county visitors.

Historically, the Narrows is especially significant in the early development of this section of the state. It was here that the Texas Rangers headed by Sul Ross engaged the Indians in a battle and pursued them across the country to the rough country in the Croton Brakes.

The Highway Department has consented to aid the schools in taking care of the traffic. Parking facilities and guides will be provided.

Remember the time and place: 5:30 at the Narrows five miles east of Benjamin on the Seymour road.

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

A Mistake in Identity

By IRVIN S. COBB

IN THE town where I was reared there was a barroom known as the Bleeding Heart Saloon. Among its regular patrons was a brawny individual six feet, four inches long and correspondingly broad, who answered to the pet name of Red Hoss. Red Hoss posed as a bad man.

One night a packet on her way south landed at our town. Among her deck passengers was a small yellow man, a professional prize fighter from up North.

He climbed the wharf and entered the Bleeding Heart and called for a jolt of sloc gin. He was in the act of paying for the drink with the top flap of a delectably fat roll of bills when the swinging doors were thrust asunder and in stalked Red Hoss.

Lurching slightly, he swung round up to the bar and gripped a huge soiled paw on the lapel of the little man's coat.

"Say, listen, pussan," he stated. "You better turn dat bundle of soft money over to me, an' I'll give you back whut part of it I thinks you should have fur yo'self."

"Who is you, may I ast?" inquired the visiting nobleman.

"You better ast!" growled Red Hoss. "Finding out who I is meks yo chances fur livin' longer all de brighter ef you aims to stay around dese parts. I'ae de town bully, tha's who!"

Then Red Hoss swung with a huge fist for the little man's jaw. The pugilist ducked and came up expertly with a short arm jab which landed exactly on the point of Red Hoss' chin. There was a jar as a large inert body struck the floor.

Three minutes later Red Hoss slowly and dizzily roused himself. Dazed, he sat up, holding his aching head on with both hands. The little man stood at the bar blowing softly upon the knuckles of his right hand.

"Mister," quavered Red Hoss, "who is you?"

"Me?" said the stranger, "Oh, I is merely the pussan you thought wou wuz w'en you come in yere."

Highway 16 Now Under Construction

Work began last Friday on Highway 16 which runs from the Haskell county line to intersect highway 24 at Benjamin.

A committee of one from Knox City Chamber of Commerce Joe Everton, Ben Austin last week and secured appointment with the Highway Department for an authorized construction contract. The committee consists of J. M. Waldrip, S. M. Clonts, L. Jamison and H. L. White. These men left Knox City Sunday and returned home Tuesday. They accepted the road built by the state that is to be an experiment, in preference to building the new highway to be an experiment proposition of the state and if it works out as planned it will be an excellent driving road for from 3 to 7 years. It will be maintained by the state and work actually began on building the grade last week.

Although this type of road is not what Knox City wanted, it promises to be better than nothing, and certainly not be worse than what is now answering the purpose of a highway. The highway department anticipates having the road completed by the first of August.

FOURSQUARE GOSPEL CHURCH

Crowell to Celebrate 45 Birthday

Crowell, April 22.—Plans for the Anniversary Jubilee in observance of Foard County's forty-fifth birthday to be celebrated here Monday and Tuesday, April 27 and 28, are rapidly nearing completion.

Beginning early in the morning of the first day of the celebration, bombs will be exploded periodically to announce officially the opening of the Forty-fifth Anniversary Jubilee.

Most of the morning of the opening day will be devoted to registration of Foard County's pioneers and other visitors. At noon the old-time cowboys will be given an old-fashioned chuck wagon dinner.

Pioneer Parade

A huge pioneer parade will be the feature of the Monday afternoon program. The parade is scheduled to start at 1 p. m.

At 3 o'clock the first of a four performance rodeo will be staged in the Crowell High School football stadium by Herman Greening and Max Johnson, widely known cattlemen of West Texas.

Street dancing and square dancing will take place following the rodeo performance of both days and nights.

A memorial service for Foard's pioneers which will honor both the living and dead will be held in the Crowell Methodist Church on the morning of the second day. An appropriate unveiling ceremony for Cynthia Ann Parker, famous character of Texas and local history, and Robert J. Foard, the man for whom the county was named, has been arranged, if the markers arrive in time for the celebration.

Rodeo performances in the afternoon and night of Tuesday April 28, will conclude the celebration of Foard County's Forty-fifth Anniversary Jubilee.

BURNED BARBECUE GETS QUICK RESPONSE

A pan of burned barbecue and a great deal of smoke Tuesday night ushered nightwatchman Finley to the telephone which in turn brought Lloyd Waldrip to town with double quick action in his old model T.

Mr. Finley, in making his rounds over town, noticed smoke in the Red and White Store. The building seemed to be full of smoke. He telephoned Mr. Waldrip and Lloyd, looking about for the quickest way of getting to town, crawled into the model T and went bumping, bouncing, groaning down the street. Upon seeing his store full of smoke he braced himself for the worse and made for the front door. Finally the lock was unfastened and both Lloyd and Horace were "knocked flat" with the odor of burned meat. The fire had been left under the barbecue pan and all was burned to a crisp.

Deed to lots comprising the City Park has been made and turned over to the city of Knox City. The ground is now the property of the city and any complaints concerning the park are to be made to city officials. The city is the legal owner of the park and has the right and responsibility of keeping the grounds up.

The donation was made by the Knox City Base Ball Association, which Association has long since ceased to function. Back "in the good old days", the 20ties, Knox City owned one of the best base ball teams in the west. But with the changes brought about with the years, the base ball ground has also changed and is readily on the way to becoming one of the prettiest small town parks in the west.

Up to day most all improvements made in the park have been the work of the Christian Womens Association; but since the ground has become the property of the city, it is believed that more interest will be shown and consequently more improvements made.

Some Bible enthusiasts created no little excitement in town Wednesday afternoon. More men gathered to hear the argument than attend any regular church service in a local church on Sunday.

YOUR RECORD

You are writing your record As you live every day. Be careful, for you can Only once pass this way.

If you're writing it clean, If you're leaving no stain, You are one of the immortals Whatever your name.

If you're making it inky, By not living right, You are writing a record You can never make white.

If you're all you're giving To your every day work, You are writing a record That will brand you a shirk.

If you're not giving your best As you write on each page You're writing a record That will shame your old age.

If the pages now written Are soiled with sin, From this very minute A new record begin.

You can't change a black spot To the whiteness of snow, But you can make atonement Before all your years go.

You may not be a scholar, You may be unknown to fame, But you can write a record That will honor your name.

You can write a white record If you'll lean on the rod, The power that will strengthen Prayer to Almighty God.

The "Personal Touch" In Taxes

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Senators of the Republic

Newspaper-reading Americans are learning the names of a lot of unfamiliar taxes these days.
Capital-stock Tax. Undistributed Corporation Reserve Tax. Tonnage Tax. Manufacturers' Excise Tax. Communications Tax. Insurance Tax—those are just a few of the titles with which a tax-conscious Congress is crowding the headlines.

What do they all mean? Let the experts explain. The important fact is that whatever their titles, whenever they are supposed to hit—we, the people, pay the final bill.

Not directly, of course—but in the natural course of events. As economists explain, the industries and other producers at whom such levies ostensibly are aimed must raise the tax money somehow. How? The obvious method is to add it to the price of their products—of the things which the average worker and his wife and children need and must buy.

That's why we are told there's a hidden tax in every railroad fare we pay, in every market basket we carry, in every rent bill we meet, in every suit we wear, in every phone call we make, in every mile we drive.

That's why heavy taxes, wherever aimed, boost the cost of living for every worker and consumer—for the overwhelming majority of American families. That's why, regardless of titles, such taxes retain what writers call the "personal touch."

Trick names for taxes can obscure these facts, but they cannot lower the H. C. L. That must be achieved by reducing waste in government—which makes heavy taxes necessary.

Have your winter coats and dresses cleaned now and placed in moth proof bags.

Congress Faces a Dual Responsibility

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Senators of the Republic

As members of Congress reconvene at Washington, America is hearing many familiar promises of economy in government.
Let's hope our legislators mean it this time. Let's hope they remember that the staggering debts piled up by government must be paid out of our earnings and our savings; that what they do to the public budget affects our family budget as well.

Let's hope that, unlike New Year resolutions, the promises will be fulfilled. It's time they were. For today, as a result of reckless spending by our federal, state and local governments, a public debt of more than fifty billion dollars has been written up for us, the workers and the earners of the United States, to pay.

Fifty billion dollars! That's a lot of money. And it will take a lot of taxes to pay it off. The interest and service charges alone cost us billions every year. It's one of the reasons why five out of every twenty-five dollars of the national income—which means the money earned by the American people—is consumed by taxes. And unless the economists are wrong, a lot of the bills which these taxes are straining to meet will be handed down as a grim legacy to our children and our grandchildren.

But you can't blame it all on Congress. The politician's penchant for squandering the people's money has extended to states and cities and smaller units as well. More than twenty billion of our fifty-billion-dollar public debt is in fact charged against state and local governments.

We pay for that, too—if not directly, then in higher rents and in heavier bills for food, clothing and other necessities, all camouflaged as "hidden taxes."

Only a large dose of the frequently omitted economy in government can lighten the load. Only an escape from the billonitis complex of the past few years can help.

Today our Senators and Representatives at Washington can do their part because of the importance of the present session, the eyes of the entire nation are upon them as never before. If they keep their promises and apply the brakes instead of the accelerator to public spending they will not only ease our burdens but will set an example for state and local politicians to follow. They face a double and a serious responsibility.

Let's hope they meet it squarely—not only with our own relief in mind, but to assure the security and prosperity of America.

The Wink Band really boosted mind, I know that it is only visionary Knox City in Big Springs. We think they are a swell bunch.

THE POET'S CORNER

I saw a man
He wasn't there again today
I wonder where that man could be?

Spring is here I gladly state,
'Twasn't early, 'twasn't late
Where it came from I don't know
But when it's got to go, it's got to go.

There was a young girl from the West
Walking down stairs she did detest,
So she slid down the rail
Until stopped by a nail
And you can imagine the rest.

Here's to old Kentucky
The state where I was born
Where the corn is full of kernels,
An the Colonel's full of corn.

I didn't write these poems,
They weren't made in my hand
I meant to but I didn't
I copied them instead.

AN IDEAL

Webster explains ideal by saying, "A mental conception or an individual regard as the standard of perfection." Is there a human being in this world of ours, that doesn't hold an ideal in his mind, above the other common things which pass through his brain? I do perhaps I am what one would call an idealist, for I hold the doctrine of idealism in my mind, I know that it is only visionary only something existing in one's imagination, and yet—I am strongly exultant that I have the faculty to form ideals, for it seems to keep me apart and above other poor mortals who have not such a power. I am afraid that most people are blinding themselves by thinking that they are an idealist or something of the same nature when in reality they merely idealize some person or thing, which means to make perfect or ideal but in God's above. So why try to step out of our power and into a stronger one—it was not destined to be so. For me—I am content to be just one more idealist among many to have my own thoughts, to have a world quite undiscovered by the rest of humanity.

SENIOR CALENDER

Easter morning, the Senior Class found itself in Oklahoma watching a very impressive Easter Pageant in the hills out from Lawton. Those who attended the services were filled with a peace-loving attitude as an airplane wrote "Peace on Earth" across the heavens.

The Senior Class will visit Hardin-Simmons, Senior Day which is next Saturday, April 25th. Senior Day is an annual event at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene and is the day when the Senior Classes on the surrounding territory are invited to be the University's guests.

"Most of a certainty" the Seniors are looking forward to the Junior Play which immediately proceeds the Junior-Senior Banquet, the Commemoration program, and the Baccalaureate Exercises. We must also have Senior Week and Senior Day and Senior This and Senior That. But, it is lots of fun! And all in all, we as Seniors think it is grand to be a Senior of dear old Knox City High School.

JOKES

Henry Jeans Jones: (to his best girl friend): "Something has been growing on me for months."

Doris Elaine Clonts: (looking at his hair): "So I see, why don't you have it cut?"

Billy Dean Davis: "How long could a person live without brains?"

Marjorie Clark: "Let's see; how old are you?"

Marjorie Propps: "It's been half an hour since I ordered that turtle soup."

Gerald Averitt: "Yes, but you know how turtles are."

Dorothy Warren: "I dreamed, married the most handsome man in the world."

Dickie Mullins: "were we happy?"

Pauline Silman: "If you tell a boy anything it goes in one ear and out the other."

A. D. May: "Yes, and if you tell a girl any thing, it goes in both ears and out her mouth."

Nella Shaver: "How is it that you spell 'bank' with a capital letter?"

Paul Hoge: "Well, father told me that a bank is no good unless it has a large capital."

TRACK MEN GO TO DISTRICT MEET

The Track boys of K. C. H. S. went to Breckenridge Saturday April 18, to endeavor to get a few points for Knox City. They arrived there a little late, thus missing some of the events however, they entered the remaining. The first one to enter was Edward Coker. He entered the discus throwing. We feel sure Eddie would have got first place, but he could not throw the discus far enough so he did not place. We are proud of the fact that he did his best however. The next one to enter was Lee Roy Sibley who entered the half-mile race. Regardless of the fact that Lee Roy did not win, he put up a good race. Next, Lloyd Huntsman ran the 440 yard dash. Lloyd did not have a chance because he had the out side track and there were about sixteen running. The last thing entered was the mile. This was won by Odie Roper. He came in fourth. We think this was excellent.

The four boys who entered track are all seniors and they wish the future track boys of Knox City success in their events.

BAND RETURNS FROM WEST TEXAS HIGH SCHOOL BAND CONTEST

The Knox City High School band returned last Saturday night after having spent a very enjoyable time in Big Springs where the West Texas High School Band Contest was held.

The city of Big Springs had planned for five hundred guests, but had to take care of fifteen hundred, therefore, our local band had no little difficulty in finding lodging for the party of thirty-nine.

All members of the band and others who accompanied the band on the trip report a very enjoyable time.

Due to conflicting events, it was impossible for either of the elected Drum Majors to go, so Mary Leone Hoge substituted as Drum-Major.

BARKS

It seems that everyone in the band had a perfect time at Big Springs even Billy Favor broke over and gave the girls a break.

I hear that Mary Leone Hoge was an excellent drum-major to have been informed on such short notice.

Be sure and see the Junior play "Chintz Cottage" Friday night.

And are we being rushed here at the last of school? Everyone dashes everywhere looking haggard and exasperated, they must be following the old proverb—"Don't put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today."

James Ray says that a "spanking" doesn't hurt much—well not too badly anyway.

Someone asked if R. T. Land liked girls?

Well, well! The very latest. The Munday football captain is wearing the picture of a Greyhound on his tie clasp!

LOVELY COLORS AND A GRAND ALL-AROUND HERB

"I learned that Basil was purple and green," said Mrs. Marion Jones of the Hefner H. D. C. while eating some of the foods prepared at the regular meeting of the Hefner H. D. C. on "Spices and Herbs", in Mrs. S. G. Hampton's home, Goree, Tuesday April 7th at 2:30 p. m. "Too, I learned that Basil is a small plant, very spicy and one of the best all-around herbs."

INDISPENSIBLE PARSLEY

"I never knew so much about Parsley," said Mrs. E. T. Whittemere at the all-day meeting of the Munday H. D. C. in Mrs. C. E. Bolander's home, Friday April 10 which began at 10:00 a. m. "Parsley is indispensable, can be used as a border plant for a circular herb garden, is the best known of all garden herbs, should be well picked to prevent rotting. It does not take kindly to transplanting, but is fine for kitchen window culture. Incidentally, Parsley is said to be a sure cure for halitosis, but that point was not proved, so I can not guarantee it."

KEEP THE AIR (HEIR) OUT

"I shall remember at least one sentence of the Home Agent's demonstration on "Spices and Herbs", said Mrs. T. T. Wright of the Benjamin H. D. C. after the meeting of the H. D. C. Women in regular session in the assembly room of the Court House, Monday, April 13th at 3 p. m. "Buy your spices in air-tight packages and keep the covers tightly closed."

OLD SPICES ARE LIKE YESTERDAY'S NEWSPAPER DEAD

"I guess I know what might be the matter with a great number of ginger-breads and spiced peaches," said Mrs. O. M. Olson of the Gilliland H. D. C. at the regular meeting with the Home Agent on Wednesday, April 1st, at 2:30 p. m. in Mrs. C. W. Miller's new home. "I learned that old spices are like yesterday's newspaper. And if your ginger bread has not been up to par, if your pickled peaches are flat and uninteresting, the answer probably is on your spice shelf. If the cinnamon is stale and the allspice was bought eons ago, if the cloves are pale and wrinkled caricatures of their former large, smooth selves, throw them out."

CONVEINE

"Have your herb garden near the house where the herbs will be easy to gather and be easy to water," said Mrs. L. L. Womble, president of the sunset H. D. C. at the regular meeting of the club, Tuesday, April 14th, at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. R. M. Almonrode. I believe a 10 x 12 foot bed is large enough for the family herb garden."

HERBS ASK SO LITTLE

Herbs ask so little and give so much," said Mrs. Clyde Yost of the New Hope H. D. C. at the meeting where Spices and Herbs were discussed, Thursday, April 9th and 2:30 p. m. in Miss Mayosie Yost's home. All they ask is a fairly good soil and plenty of sunshine."

PALATABLE COOKING

The idea of a cooking appliance able to turn out a savory dinner without the aid of an expert cook has intrigued engineers for many years. But not until today's modern gas range has success crowned their work.

In all divisions of cookery—top burner, broiling and oven—the modern gas range introduces new and higher standards of cooking performance. With its accurate control of cooking heat, its insulated oven, its simmer burners, anyone can prepare a dinner done to a queen's taste.

So see these new ranges. There's a model to fit your family needs. And once you learn how easy one is to use, how economical to operate, how easy to buy... you'll see the wisdom of modernizing with a new gas range.
