Junior College Discussion Heard In Haskell Monday

With Dr. Robert Clinton, assistant commissioner for junior colleges, as consultant, a meeting of the area junior college steering committee and interested citizens was held Monday evening in Felker's Restaurant in Haskell.

Despite rain, about 25 persons including representatives from Gilliland, Benjamin, Haskell, Knox City, Old Glory and Munday were on hand for the junior college education conference.

"Community junior colleges are educational institutions designed to provide technical, occupational programs for some, lower division college courses for others, and means for all citizens to continue their education or attain new occupational skills," Dr. Clinton said.

"There is definitely a need for a Junior College in Region 28 which consists of Cottle, King, Stonewall, Foard, Knox, Haskell, Wilbarger, Hardeman, Wichita, Baylor, Archer and Clay Counties," Dr. Clinton said.

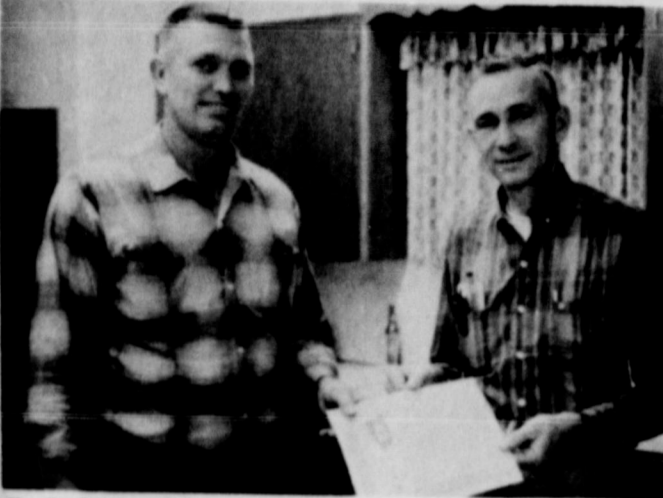

Mrs. Burkett, of Haskell, who heads the area junior college steering committee, represented this area at a meeting of the coordinating staff in Austin recently, at which time the proposed policy statements concerning the development of the junior college system of Texas were discussed.

Mrs. Burkett made a verbal and written statement for the proposals for community colleges.

Knox City Reaches Goal At Bloodmobile Visit Thurs.

Knox Citizens were very responsive to the plea to donate blood last Thursday during the Bloodmobile visit to the first Methodist Church's Fellowship Hall.

Knox County Blood Bank chairman, Kenneth Crownover, reported that 83 persons offered to give blood, and that 64 were accepted. The K. C. quota was 63 pints for this visit.

Paul Hoge and R. P. Barnard Jr. received certificates as 5-gallon donors.

Receiving 2-gallon certificates were Jesse Smith of Munday and Kenneth Crownover.

One-gallon donors included Doug Meiner, Mrs. Bruce Campbell Jr., Monty Penman, Herbert Bellinghausen, Bob Harrison, Paul Wissell of O'Brien, and Tom Richardson.

Mr. Crownover expressed his thanks to the Methodist women who prepared and served refreshments to the donors, to the members of the 1946 Study Club who assisted in registration, to the workers in O'Brien, Benjamin, Truscott, Gilliland, and Knox City for their calls and personal contacts, to Lyndol Cypert, Knox County Hospital administrator, for his work being responsible for the nurses who assisted, and most of all to the many donors, even though some were unable to give.

Replacements were made for Randy Tapp of Gilliland and also for Henry Jones of Knox City. Both men have received blood recently. Also, Herman Egenbacher was in need of blood Thursday night and Friday, and it was available, thanks to the splendid turnout to the Bloodmobile, Mr. Crownover said.

"Although Haskell has been placed in region 28, along with eleven other counties, the ground work which Mrs. Burkett and her Junior College Steering Committee has done the past three years in the four neighboring counties, will be of great value to the Junior College project," the guest speaker said.

Smith Named President, Knox County Local TFU

Edward Smith was elected president of the Knox County Local of the Texas Farmers Union at the charter meeting of Knox County farmers held January 25 in the Munday High School Cafeteria. District Director Joe Rankin of Ralls, Texas, was guest speaker and officially certified Knox County as qualified to receive the charter from Texas Farmers Union.

The Knox County Local is a part of District 3 bounded on the north by Hall, Childress, Hardeman, and Wilbarger Counties and bounded on the south by Fisher, Taylor, and Callahan Counties (19 counties). Knox county is the geographical center of District 3 making the Knox County Local an ideal focal point of District activity.

The charter meeting had two main purposes: (1) To inform the individual farmer of the policies and benefits of Texas Farmers Union, and (2) To organize the Knox County farmers into the Knox County Local of Texas Farmers Union. With the official certification by Joe Rankin, District Director, the following officers were elected:

President, Edward Smith; 1st vice president, C. J. Reese; 2nd vice president, J. L. Stodghill; secretary, Sammy White.

According to Mr. Smith, president, the charter meeting served as a kick-off for an intensive membership drive in an effort to enlist every Knox County farmer in the Knox County Local of Texas Farmers Union. The first qualification for membership is to be a farmer or rancher. Membership also includes voting privileges for the wife and children of ages 16 to 21. Anyone desiring further information regarding membership should contact any of the officers of the Knox County Local.

State Field Representatives Bryan C. Handley and M. L. Collins are new in Knox County to aid the newly organized Knox County Local in its first membership promotion and to generally strengthen the local organization. Mr. Handley is permanently assigned to District 3 and in this position will continue to coordinate the efforts of all local organizations surrounding Knox County.

Mr. Handley and Mr. Collins were agreed that the chartering of the Knox County Local will better the position of the Knox County farmer. Texas Farmers Union endeavors to bridge between the family farmer with his special problems and Washington, D. C., where Farm Programs originate.

Through the local organization, the farmer is encouraged to take part in farm related political activities on all levels, and is provided with detailed information regarding pending legislation and notified of the proper times and the most effective means of contacting representatives who vote on legislation. Texas Farmers Union is raising the income of the family farmer, and bettering his chance of a fair return on his investment.

A meeting of the local officers is scheduled for the near future to plan meetings and activities of the Knox County Local. The membership will be notified well in advance of all meetings.

HENRY M. JONES

Jones Honored at Club Meeting

Henry M. Jones, and his brothers and sisters in 1906 from Purdon, Texas, near Corsicana. He worked first in the drug store owned by Ezell Brothers in 1908. While in high school, he also worked as night telephone operator, and he could probably write a book about his experiences during this time.

After graduation from Knox City High School in 1914, he worked for a time for T. P. Frizzell Sr. in his drug store, and later he and Rufus McLain bought out Dr. Culver's drug store (located where Lowrey's Department Store now stands) in 1917. During World War I, as Mr. Jones was licensed by the State Board of Pharmacy in January, 1918, the store was closed for a time while the owners served in the U. S. Army.

After the war, the store was moved to the present location of the Jones Drug Store and reopened under the name of the Orient Drug Store. The name was changed to Jones Drug about 1938 when Mr. Jones became the sole owner of the store. Mr. Jones and his son, Henry J. Jones continue to operate the store.

How The Republican Emblem Came Into Existence

BY PETE BEECHER
Thomas Nast, the great illustrator and caricaturist that created the donkey as the Democratic party symbol in 1870, was also the creator of the elephant as a symbol for the Republican Party.

The Republican elephant was born in the following manner. In the spring of 1874, the year after General Grant had entered upon his second term as President, the old New York Herald came out with an editorial raising the false cry of "Caesarism" against the popular soldier-President. Grant was represented as a Caesar plotting to overthrow the unwritten law against a third term and to make himself a dictator.

Despite the untruth of the charge, the Democrat Party promptly picked it up and turned it into a party shibboleth. Designed not so much as a serious attack on Grant as it was for a newspaper sensation to increase circulation in an off-year, what started as a Herald publicity stunt nevertheless succeeded in distorting the political situation, and frightening even some Republicans away from the party fold.

At approximately the same time, the New York Herald concocted another story to increase its circulation. This was the famous Central Park Menagerie scare of 1874 - another successful hoax.

One summer morning there appeared in the Herald a tale to the effect that the animals in the zoo had broken loose and were roaming about in the wilds of Central Park in search of prey. Great excitement naturally ensued until the falsity of the story was revealed. Here was the seed for a cartoon by Thomas Nast, who immediately saw the opportunity for a public lesson in the coincidence of the two false cries both raised by the same paper, the Herald.

Nast's cartoon first appeared in the November 7, 1874 issue of Harper's Weekly. The object of Nast's caricature was to impress on the public mind the folly and danger of the Democrat cry of "Caesarism." The cartoon portrayed a donkey, dressed in a lion's skin, roaming about in the forest and amusing himself by frightening all the foolish animals he met within his wanderings. The animals, of course, represented various newspapers, States and issues. One was the New York Tribune, another the Democrat Party. A third, the elephant, was labeled the Republican vote - not the Party, but the vote.

The symbol of the elephant was used because among its characteristics are cleverness and unworldliness; easily controlled until aroused, the elephant is yet unmanageable when frightened. Here were all of the characteristics of the Republican vote about to be shown in the coming election - the cry of "Caesarism" about to panic the Republican vote away from the Republican candidates.

The fitness of the illustration was apparent - the elephant had come to stay as the emblem of Republicanism. What started as a symbol of the Republican vote came to stand for the Republican Party.

The Democrats choose to regard the elephant as a pompous slow-moving creature, timid, docile and essentially conservative, whereas the Republicans stress its size, dignity, strength and intelligence. (Democrat Party History in Next Week's Issue.)

Streams In Desert Places

BY OZELLE STEPHENS

Divine guidance is promised to the obedient. He leadeth in pleasant paths; "He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters." (Ps. 23:2). In making decisions of which we are called upon to make each day we have these promises in Ps. 25:9: "The meek will be guided in judgment; and the meek will he teach his way. Even unto the end of life." (Ps. 48:14). "For this God is our God forever and ever; he will be your guide even unto death." By wise counsel the Lord will guide you in a straight path and afterwards receive you to glory. By the still small voice your ear shall hear a word behind you saying, "This is the way, walk ye in it. When ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left." (Isa. 30:21).

MISS PIERCE SHOWER HONOREE

Miss Rosemary Pierce, bride-elect of Bobby Cox, was honored with a shower Saturday January 27, in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Royce Cox of Roaring Springs registered guests and Cathy Carlisle of Lubbock served from a table covered with rose pink and white lace. Pink flowers were arranged on the table. Cake squares, pink punch and mints, in cups topped with wedding bells, were served.

In the receiving line with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. L. W. Pierce of Grand Prairie and her sister, Joyce Pierce, the soon-to-be groom's mother, Mrs. A. A. Cox, and his grandmother, Mrs. Tommie Duncan of Anson.

About seventy-five guests registered during the shower. Hostesses were Mrs. Paul Wissel and Mrs. John L. Grindstaff, Sr.

The wedding will be Saturday, February 10, at 3 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Grand Prairie.

NEW PASTOR, FAMILY ARRIVE IN O'BRIEN

The W. A. Park family arrived in O'Brien last Tuesday, with the hustle and bustle giving the parsonage a good homey look.

Brother Park and his wife, Judy, are both natives of southwest Texas, coming from Crystal City. They were in this area before when he served at Gilliland Baptist Church. He has also been pastor at the Union Baptist Church in Cisco and the Fargo Baptist Church, most recently.

He received his B. A. from Howard Payne College in Brownwood in 1962 and graduated from the Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth in 1965.

Mr. and Mrs. Park have two children, Lucinda Kay, 22 mo. old and William Brown, 4 years old.

Welcome to O'Brien.

WALDRIP HD CLUB MEETS WITH NEW PRESIDENT

Members of the Waldrip Home Demonstration Club met last Thursday under the leadership of Carol Godsey, new president. Yearbooks were filled out and plans made for the coming year.

Yearly THDA dues and year-book fees were collected. The women voted to donate food for a needy family. One member, Annette Hester, resigned and the club accepted one new member, Linda Reeves of Knox City.

Hostesses were Mrs. Godsey and Eva Covey.

4-H COMMITTEES APPOINTED

Last week at the 4-H Club meeting, Mary Adkins, president, appointed two committees to take care of club business. Wayne Rowan, Billy Baker, Carmen Conn and Temi Baker were named to decide on a new name for the club.

The committee to decide on money-making projects for the club were Jean Hester, Billy Baker, Vickie Hester and Steve Figueroa.

Jerry Brothers accompanied Jimmy Howell, vocational ag teacher at O'Brien, to the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show, and his animal placed 14th in the Hampshire Swine division in which there were 30 entries.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Brothers.

In a fire about 7 a.m. Tuesday, 7 little pigs were killed at the Alex Godsey farm six miles west of O'Brien. The pig barn houses about 100 pigs and also some feed. It was believed that a heat lamp might have caused the fire. Twenty feet of the south wall of the barn was burned, but Mr. Godsey was able to extinguish the fire himself.

HERE AND THERE

The Ernest Harris family of Fort Worth visited the Alex Godseys and their three boys.

Mrs. Truett Hester, Jean Carol and Vickie Sue and Jean Burnison of Munday carried Terry Hester back to Cisco Jr. College Sunday.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ford Waldrip Sunday were her three sisters, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips of Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. Rube Richards of Vera, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Webb of Ballinger.

"Melanie Meddles" By Melanie Whitley

Here are a few household hints for you ladies. A woman asked me the other day how my bacon turned out so nice looking. I owe it all to Mrs. Charles Silk, my homemaking teacher — put the bacon in when the skillet is still cold and heat only to a medium temperature (my electric skillet says 300 degrees) and keep pouring off the grease while it cooks.

If you have a fruit pie that is a couple of days old and nobody is interested in it any more just set the pie plate in a big skillet of water or over a pan of water and heat the water to steaming while you eat your meal. Then the pie will be juicy again, hot enough to melt ice cream and good as new.

My mother read somewhere to put some pieces of sponge in the bottom of a flower pot when potting a plant and it would absorb the extra water and save it for when the plant needed it. She tried it and reports this ivy is doing best of all her plants.

If you hang a bed sheet on the clothes line pinned by the edges instead of folding it over the line, you can fold it up as you take it from the line.

Now I don't want you men to feel cheated just because I devoted this much space to the ladies. So here are a few words of interests for you: cars, golf, money, women.

I have two beefs this week. One is about beef — round steak that the butchers don't trim before it is tenderized. When I try to separate the lean from the fat it goes to pieces and so do I.

The other is about price changes on boxes of food (sorry grocers, this is your week). If I bought a box of powdered sugar last week for 19¢ and this week the 19 is rubbed out and 23¢ stamped on, I still need the sugar, but it's mighty aggravating and I may shop at another store next week. If prices dogo up, it seems as though all the boxes on the shelf could still be sold for the original price and the new price stamped on the next case. (Couldn't you?)

Care For Eyes Early

A child doesn't know how well he should see. If things appear blurred or "double", he may think they are supposed to look that way.

This makes it difficult for parents to detect eye problems in children at a time when it is most important to catch and correct them, says Jennie Kitching, Extension family life specialist with Texas A&M University.

For clues, Miss Kitching suggests the ABC's for children's vision: A - appearance, B - behavior, and C - complaints.

Appearance: watch for drooping eyelids, crossed eyes, inflamed or watery eyes; recurring styes and red-rimmed, encrusted or swollen eyelids. Behavior: Note if your child rubs his eyes excessively, tilts his head, develops poor eye-hand coordination, blinks more than usual, loses interest in a favorite pastime requiring close vision, holds books close to his eyes, stumbles over objects, doesn't do as well as usual in school, or seeks the chair closest to the TV.

Complaints: Listen for comments about eyes itching, burning or feeling scratchy; inability to see well; dizziness; headaches and nausea following close eye work; blurred or double vision.

Unfortunately, in some cases none of these is obvious, making eye defects harder to detect.

What can be done about it? Eye tests in school catch many eye problems. But Miss Kitching recommends that every child should have an eye examination for visual acuity before his fifth birthday. If the doctor does not perform the test as part of the routine checkup, parents should request it.

Finding eye problems in children will help their school work as well as preventing more serious defects. Half of all blindness is preventable.

The Father is in me and I am in the Father. — (John 10:38)

You are the place where God shines through. As you relax and trust in God to carry out His divine plan through you, as you begin right where you are to let Him express Himself through you as love, peace, and faith in the good, everything in our life will begin to respond to your changed attitude. In our oneness with God you have all that it takes to live successfully. Make a new beginning with God today. He needs you to shine through and to work through.

"Farm Bureau Membership" Week In Texas

Governor John Connally has designated the week of Jan. 29 - Feb. 4 as "Farm Bureau Membership Week" in Texas.

The period officially kicks off the Texas Farm Bureau's state-wide 1968 drive for new members. The TFB, now fourth largest state Farm Bureau in the nation, with 104,553 member families, has a goal of 112,000 members for 1968.

In his proclamation, the Governor paid tribute to the productivity of today's farmer and rancher, saying that our high standard of living is, in part, due to agricultural efficiency.

Here are excerpts from his proclamation:

"Agriculture is vital to the economic well-being of this State and Nation. About 40 percent of all Texans depend upon agriculture, either directly or indirectly, for their livelihood.

"Operating under a system of freedom, and possessing know-how and the latest in technology, the American farmer is the producing marvel of the world. Because of this, the average family spends less than one-fifth of its income for food. Americans enjoy the highest standard of living the world has ever known, in part, because of the farmer's efficiency.

"Farmers and ranchers, through their organized efforts, have sought a voice in State affairs in order to secure social, economic, and educational improvements for those who make their living from the soil."
